Read and Believe Kampus Klatter

Out of the many romances which sprang up over the Christmas holidays, Dorothy N. and Math seem to think theirs is the best. Of course, we have no way of knowing but, well we'll see. And speaking of holiday romances—it seems that Onieta and James R. still seem to find each others company very pleasant. How about it, Onieta?

Although the news hasn't leaked out yet, many of these gay seniorias have been presented with the most charming sweetheart bracelets. Now come on girls, what about it?

What's Dorothy W. got that gets him? We wonder—well, anyway, James Rufus seems to think she has plenty!

Boy! what luck some people have! We hear that June lead that dashing Peter Pitz around during the holidays. Is that right, June?

Well, it seems that Curly Joe (Tom Ed) has at last made up his mind! It seems that he has picked Fausteena, this time. Lucky girl!

Looks as if Morris has lost out with Mary, but Margie is doing her best to heal his wounded heart.

Billy T. has again deserted these pretty high school co-eds for one of the ex-students. He's a heartbreaker all right!

Nice going Skeet! We feel that you have made a very good choice in picking Estelle. Not many people have that good fortune, Skeet, so you'd better stick to it.

What's this we hear about Jr. and Suzy being engaged? We don't know, but it seems possible.

We wonder what that was James was carrying under his arm the other day? Of course, we could ask Bernice Ruth but she might think we were just a little too nosy.

My, this Green and Pharis romance is going to town! Nice going, Betty, we all can't have him. (A certain senior says that she won't have him long).

Edna Mae still looks longingly down Roaring Springs way. Wonder which of these boys are so lucky?

Algie always rushes to his classes, hoping to find a seat by Ruth E. We notice he usually succeeds too.

Charles seems to be determined to get one of the Archer sisters. First it's Billy Joe. Now, he has been trying to sit with Imogene. Make up your mind, Charles—

Grade School News

The third grade has Claudia Sain as a newcomer to the class. Everyone enjoyed the holidays and is glad to be back in school. The class is learning its times table in arithmetic.

New pupils that enrolled are Alton Castleberry, sixth grade; Jayce Castleberry, seventh grade; and Pauline Glass, eighth grade.

The art class has been studying designs of snow flakes since we have had some snow this year.

The whole grammar school is learning new patriotic songs.

Everyone must keep those six weeks exams in mind, for they are not far off. Until I see everyone again, the reporter says happy landings and study hard.

"HEY FRESHMAN!"

Yeah, kids, that's me. And believe it or not, I have learned to say, "Yes, ma'm" so meekly that it amazes even me!

Not that I'm still feeling sorry for our poor Fish, by any means. Why it's the Freshmen who must hold a merry goose chase in the morning. If they happen to get up at five minutes till seven, (when at such times everything should be within arm's reach in order to arrive at breakfast on time—7 o'clock sharp), because the favorite pair of shoes are nowhere to be found, as well as that certain hair ribbon and the matching belt to a dress—nowhere to be found because an upper-classman came in just before you were quite awake and said she wanted to borrow, please. The Freshmen are the ones who must bear the strain of remembering who's an Upper and who isn't, so that there will be no forgetting of manners—

I went up to a certain person during the first part of school and said, "Freshman! C'me and help me; why aren't you busy too? Are you a privileged character around here? The answer and accompanying chuckle will forever ring in my ears.

"Why, no; I am Miss Boyd of the business ad-department. Oh, I say, are you ill? Your face has a peculiar greenish flush."

Always,
Just an "Ex"

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

This was my first visit to an insane asylum! As a newspaper reporter I had been in several queer places, but this was the first time I had ever been ordered to write a story on the inmates of an asylum. As I followed the attendant through the building, there was one little fellow who caught my attention by his actions. I watched him as he would seem to pick up something from the floor of his cell, take it over to the corner, and fit it onto something with an imaginary tool. Not satisfied with the way it fit, although I couldn't see anything at all in the corner, the little man

Hitler's Women Spies Called Cleverest Secret Agents

HITLER'S New Order calls for blitzkrieg technique in spies as well as warfare. To accomplish this end the women who have served as der Führer's cleverest secret agents no longer conform to the Mata Hari pattern.

Gone is the category of spies whose activity was based on their "social graces". The women who helped effect Hitler's entrance into the now occupied territories of Europe are the very opposite of the Hollywood spy with long eyelashes, long cigaret holder and elegant gowns. How Hitler's women spies have changed, how they go about their treacherous work is disclosed by foreign journalist Hans Habe in the February issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

Best trained of all Hitler's women spies, Habe writes, is Countess Henriette Kessler. Before engaging in military espionage she made her living as a school teacher, dress designer, salesgirl and writer. Her appearance is that of typical forty-year-old working woman, yet through clever forgery she was able to get full assistance of the French navy to go about her work.

Even more typical of the new type of political spy is twenty-seven-year-old Countess Maria Roedern. In outward appearance, Habe reports, she belies the popular idea of a Mata Hari. Blond, with tow-colored, almost invisible eyebrows, this woman agent was stout and homely even at twenty.

HATS AND COIFFURES
The long hair-do is going out, and shorter, more softly waved hair is the new style, according to leading New York hairdressers. Hats and coiffures are now designed to complement each other.

HOW TO KEEP POULTRY
"Fast-frozen" poultry should be kept frozen in the refrigerator until ready for use, and then allowed to thaw in the refrigerator or at room temperature before cooking.

What a Girl!

Everything looked wilted and forlorn on that hot, quiet day in June. Eleanor and I had gone to the beach at Sandy Cove that day and had ambled off to some shade trees by ourselves. The sand felt cool and soothing between our toes, and the trees protected us from the blazing sun.

Eleanor was of rather a quiet nature, but very likeable when you became well acquainted with her. She was of medium height with a very pretty face and figure. Taking everything into considera-

SERVICE in a pinch

MAYBE you've got a boy helping to do the job "over there." He's a fine lad... a brave one, too. It's a big job he's got.

And you're certain—and we're certain—that when all real Americans concentrate their efforts on production of supplies and actual fighting equipment, and insist upon discontinuing the enormous non-defense spending spree by non-productive political agencies, then this fine, brave soldier boy will get the job done.

That means there remains a truly big job to be done here at home. Everybody left behind must help.

Our own special job—this company's—it twofold: First—we must provide the light and power needed by army camps, air training schools, and defense industries in this West Texas country. Second—we must continue serving your home and business, doing all this in an economical manner so that we may also continue contributing all possible tax support direct for defense purposes.

We must conserve copper, rubber and automobiles. Our cars and trucks were reduced from 334 in 1931 to 235 in 1941. With further reduction now, many will do double duty in order to take care of the public's electric service requirements over a 45,000-square-mile area.

These vehicles, in 1941, traveled a total of 3,506,872 miles, or 140 times around the globe! Many of them have been rebuilt, and now will be rebuilt several times.

With a shortage of tires, cars and trucks, the job of maintaining the same type of good service in 1942 will be an increasingly hard task. It will require more maintenance and rebuilding throughout. This, we will continue to do, making replacement parts in our own repair shop, if necessary, to maintain the continuity of service to you.

We do not expect to be late in rendering any of the services you have come to expect of us. But, if there is delay, remember, please, that speed is being sacrificed at home so that the boys "over there" may have more and better fighting equipment.

Pied Pipers BY MRS. J. M.

Since most New Year's Resolutions are parented on impulse and seem destined only for an ignominious ending, the thought occurs that the beginning of a New Year isn't the proper time for noble overtures toward reform at all. Rather, the anniversary of one's birth is the proper season for self-analysis and scenery-shifting.

On this momentous occasion therefore, which has rolled around with monotonous regularity since the year nine, we take inventory.

It is at this time that one can sit and ponder the whys and wherefores of existence. We believe the answer to the first is found in this little story which we read the other day: A famous professor gave a lecture at the

be in the offing, even as in previous eras, and already manufacturers are advertising innovations, one of which is a new type home. No longer will the housewife be obliged to wait her plight of having to sit at home with nothing but the four walls to look at all day long, for the newly-introduced homes are round. Just a matter of rounding out the corners, so to speak.

As an added inducement, one would not be forced to remain in the same locality the rest of one's life, for the new homes can be erected or taken down in a few hours and moved to a new spot. This would have certain other advantages too. Think how easy it would be, if you got mad at your neighbor, just to fold up your little teepee, and like the Arabs, steal (or stalk) off to a new home-site.

We have been told that home is where the heart is, but even so, somewhere in the background is associated the idea of permanency as a symbol of the rooted homelife which tends to build a community.

WOMEN ARE URGED TO AID IN TIRE CONSERVATION

Women of Motley county are urged to aid in the conservation of automobile and tire use in a special bulletin this week by the local defense council, and released by Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, assistant regional director of the 5th Civilian Defense Region. The Motley county defense council is composed of County Judge W. R. Cammack and Mayors G. T. Edwards of Matador and Glenn Dobbins of Roaring Springs.

The bulletin contains the following suggestions: In families where more than one car is owned to transport various members to his or her employment, only one car be used. The same procedure is urged in instances of social meetings.

Suggestion is made that all pleasure trips be abandoned and that the healthful exercise of walking again become popular.

Housewives can contribute by making grocery purchases and doing their marketing for the family twice a week instead of every day. It is suggested that where homes are located close to market, that the housewife employ the method used in many countries of taking her market basket to the store for food supplies. Housewives will find it convenient to make a list of their needs and avoid the necessity of a return trip.

Remember that rapid driving produces greater friction and reduces the endurance of tires. Watch your speed at all times. Sudden stopping and starting, spinning the wheels and grazing the curb when parking also cause abnormal wear on tires.

A patient and friendly understanding of the situation is urged in which patriots can help relieve the problems of those who serve the public, by withholding criticisms when customary services must be reduced.

TEXAS BAPTISTS PROTEST CHANGE

Texas Baptists, in a statement signed by five of their outstanding leaders, asked the United States Congress "not to amend the present Social Security Law in any way which would result in governmental infringement upon their religious freedom."

Red Cross Call to Service

YOUR RED CROSS NEEDS YOU!

The dramatic poster by James Montgomery Flagg is the first war poster of the new World War. It is an appeal for a $50,000,000 American war relief fund to feed, shelter, clothe and give medical aid to American men, women and children bombed by the enemy. It is an appeal for funds to provide comforts for our American Army and Navy, and for welfare work for our troops at home and abroad, and their families on the home front. President Roosevelt asks you to give. Your dollars will serve humanity. Give through your local Red Cross Chapter.

With mothers needed for defense work or being drawn into industrial activities, this training program will provide a volunteer group capable through a background of information regarding the normal development and every day care of the child to care for groups of children adequately.

The courses as now under consideration will be made available to anyone with time, ability, willingness to work, and a sincere interest in making a contribution to the growth, development, and welfare of the child.

Doctor Cox indicated that final details of subject matter would be referred to the Texas Inter-professional Commission on Child Growth and development which is made up of outstanding physicians, dentists, nurses, educators, welfare workers, and others in order to assure that the best resources of the state can be brought to bear on planning.

"We recognize," said Doctor Cox, "that the Health Department is but a part in the whole picture of growth and development, and we will need aid and guidance from the general groups listed as well as nutritionists, home economists, day nursery and nursery school workers, as well as volunteers, but we must provide a unified plan to safeguard our children in any situation."

The wood duck is strictly a North American species and principally a bird of the United States. Sales of cattle and calves in 1940 brought $100,120,000. Texas ranchers and farmers in 1940 brought $100,120,000. Receipts for hogs were $16,710,000 and for sheep $12,896,000.

Proper Shoe Care Is Aid To Service

COLLEGE STATION — With this nation rolling up its sleeves for a victory effort, clothing must last as well as tires and automobiles. That goes for shoes, too, and the way to give shoes a long life is to polish them. Polishing shoes feeds the leather, makes it pliable, and protects it.

Many shoes come to an early end because they get wet and aren't properly dried, says Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Shoes should be dried slowly, never in a hot place like an oven, or in front of an open fire.

This is the right way to dry shoes: First, wash off all mud with a damp cloth and wipe the surface as dry as possible. Oil the shoes lightly all over with castor oil. Rub it in well. Then stuff the shoes with crumpled paper or with oats to help keep their shape and absorb moisture. Set shoes in a moderately warm place for several hours or overnight. Polish them when they're dry.

Waterproofing helps protect shoes, but it does not take the place of overshoes or rubber boots for walking in water, slushy snow, or soft mud. Here is a good mixture for waterproofing: 8 ounces of natural wool grease, 4 ounces of dark petroleum jelly or vaseline, and 4 ounces of paraffin wax.

Melt all three ingredients in a shallow rectangular pan such as a bread tin, as large as the sole of the shoe. Let the shoe stand about 15 minutes in enough of this waterproofing mixture to cover the sole and become saturated with the grease.

"Don't have the grease hotter than the hand can bear," Mrs. Barnes warns, "and don't let the rubber heels get in the grease."

Day Dreaming Not Unnatural, Says Harvard Psychiatrist

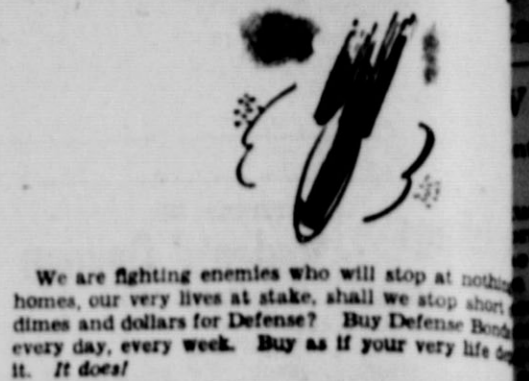

BOSTON, Dec. 20.—Dr. Merrill Moore, Harvard psychiatrist, cautioned parents today against ridiculing a child for day-dreaming. "It is natural for the child to have day dreams," he said in a WAAB radio address sponsored by the Massachusetts Medical Society and the State Department of Public Health.

"Don't laugh at him, or you may kill the goose that lays the golden egg. At some time or other in childhood, every girl is Cinderella or Snow White and every boy is George Washington or the Dutch lad who held his finger in the hole in the dyke."

Raise Spring Vegetables To Help Win War

"Grow vegetables and serve your country at the same time" is the advice of the Office of Civilian Defense consumer experts to every American housewife. And if you don't have a plot of land to plant, then accomplish the same end by not wasting any food stuff you buy at the market. Ten million people in England are relying upon us to supply their food requirements. Only by the wise use of our supplies can we send them the 3,000,000 cans of vegetables 250,000 tons of fruit, and the 500,000,000 dozen eggs and the 18,000,000 pounds of poultry, which we have agreed to ship to England.

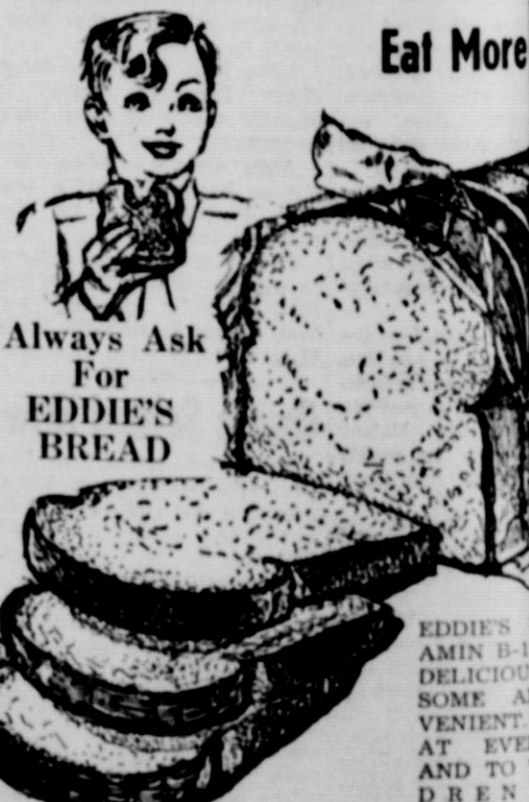

Not only must the housewife guard against wasting food, she must see that there is no waste in anything. Don't throw away scrap material. Don't use the telephone unnecessarily. Don't use light that isn't needed. Don't throw away old papers. And, above all, don't squander time and energy listening to and spreading unfounded rumors from the warfront.

Farm Record Books Are Now Essential

Need of adequate farm business "tools" resulted in the purchase during the first six months of 1941 of more Texas Farm Record books than in the 12 months of any previous year, says Tyrus R. Timms, economist in farm management of the A. & M. College Extension Service. In addition to the Texas Farm Record book for keeping systematically the records during 1942, the Extension Service now has available two companion "tools". These are a budget form, "Farm or ranch and home production plan," of value in planning farm operations for 1942, and a summary form, "farm business analysis sheet," for summarizing and analyzing the farm business at the end of the coming year. Timms finds reasons for the increased demand for the Texas Farm Record book in the fact that

Drug Discovery By Nazi Doctor May Whip Axis

DALLAS — Sulfanilamide, a powdered drug discovered by a German, is helping the United States beat the Axis.

The drug was discovered by a man who was scheduled to receive the Nobel prize in 1939, Dr. Robert J. Reeves of Duke University's medical school told the Dallas Baylor Medical Alumni Association annual civic meeting recently.

"But war came and this man did not get his honor," Dr. Reeves said. "His derivatives later were patented and developed in this country."

"We probably are winning the war with this German discovery. It will save an untold number of soldier lives. Pneumonia is a killer whose death rate has dropped tremendously since the advent of sulfanilamide compounds."

Registrants Over 28 To Receive New Classification

Under recently amended regulations no distinction is made in classifying registrants over twenty-eight years of age and registrants under twenty-eight years of age, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, said today.

Prior to the declaration of war, men over twenty-eight had been placed in Class I-H by reason of age and were not subject to induction. Under new regulations, this classification no longer exists and all local boards have been instructed to reopen immediately all cases of I-H registrants and to place each registrant in the class found by the board to be proper under current regulations, without regard to age.

Likewise, registrants now in class IV-E-H, who are conscientious objectors to combatant and noncombatant service, but were deferred by reason of age, will now be eligible for immediate orders to report for work of national importance, provided they otherwise qualify under current regulations.

All such registrants, General Page said, will receive written notice of reclassification. "I want to take this opportunity again to caution all registrants, regardless of his classification, to keep in touch with their local boards and to notify them immediately of any change of address," General Page said. "A registrant becomes liable to severe penalties provided by the Selective Service Act for delinquents if he fails to notify his local board promptly of any change of address."

General Page also emphasized that registrants who are expecting to be called into a branch of the armed forces to which they have made application should notify their local boards and report all developments in connection therewith. This, he said, will enable the local board to cooperate with the registrant in his particular ambition to serve his country.

Auto Stickers On Sale This Month

WASHINGTON—The Treasury said Thursday that the new automobile tax stickers would go on sale in postoffices and federal revenue offices throughout the country January 12th.

The first sticker, which every private automobile or truck will have to carry after Feb. 1 will cost $2.09 and will be good until July 1, when new stickers will be sold at the annual rate of $5 each. Other stickers at varying costs will be sold for all other types of motor vehicles and motor boats.

The Treasury at first is going to ask motorists to go to postoffices or revenue offices and buy stickers on their own initiative. A record will be kept of those who pay and will be compared with registration lists to find out how many persons will have to be reminded of the new tax, which was enacted by Congress last Fall.

The first sticker will be a green revenue stamp showing a Liberty Bell design.

The Treasury said that because these stamps have an actual value, they will be sold only for cash or money orders or certified checks. No personal checks will be accepted.

FARMERS URGED TO ELIMINATE WASTE IN PRODUCTION

Appeal is made to Motley county farmers to help along the nation's war effort by eliminating food waste and by producing only farm crops of unquestioned quality.

The appeal comes from H. C. Darger, coordinator of the National Cream Quality Program, Chicago.

Mr. Darger is immediately concerned with the waste involved in that portion of cream produced on farms which, because of a low standard of cleanliness or care in production or handling or perhaps infrequent marketing, is found on delivery to the creamery to be unfit for manufacturing into butter under the stringent federal food law regulations. Cream thus rejected represents a serious loss to the nation's nutrition as well as to the farmer's pocketbook. Mr. Darger estimates the loss to American farmers from unfit cream, including seizures of shipments of cream and butter and the loss from price differentials between cream and butter that grade, less than first quality, at $40,000,000 annually. This would indicate a loss to Texas farmers, who produce 1.9 per cent of the nation's butter output, of close to $760,000 a year, he figures.

According to Mr. Darger, there is no reason why any farmer should produce a poor grade of cream. Everything hinges on the care the cream receives on the farm and the frequency with which it is delivered to the butter-maker. The required sanitary precautions are easy and inexpensive for the average farmer to carry out. He can readily obtain any desired information from the state agricultural college or from the cream buyer or creamery with whom he does business. The little extra trouble involved in producing the best quality of cream not only makes available the maximum of protective food for the consumer but extra dollars as well as for the farmer exerting this extra care, he said. Farmers cooperating with the National Cream Quality Program are being asked to sign this pledge and to display a copy of it on their premises: "I BELIEVE it is my duty and that of everyone connected with the production, handling, and sale of food products, to use every care to insure that such products shall be made only from sound, clean ingredients. "I BELIEVE that the production of unfit milk and cream is an unnecessary, unpatriotic waste of food. "I BELIEVE that carefulness in the production and handling of milk and cream will conserve butterfat—food that is essential to the wellbeing of my fellow Americans. This carefulness includes: Washing and scalding my dairy utensils and separator with boiling water after each use; cooling my cream; delivering or shipping my cream often enough to insure its arrival at market in good condition. (Preferably twice a week in winter and three times in summer.) "I HAVE PLEDGED MYSELF TO DO MY PART IN PROTECTING AND CONSERVING AMERICAN FOOD."

Some timely words of caution on two problems pertaining to the production of cream at this season were issued by Mr. Darger. Do not keep cream on the farm too long even in cold weather, he states. If held too long, it is likely to develop old, rancid flavors. Cave or cellar may be of the right temperature for holding the cream, but if musty it will likely spoil the delicate

Marine Recruiting Office At Lubbock

Young men now have an opportunity to enlist in the United States Marine Corps at the newly opened recruiting office in room No. 19, Post Office building, Lubbock, Texas, for either a full four year term, or for "the duration of the emergency."

You need not be a physical giant or a mental genius to become a leatherneck, but you must be between the ages of 17 and 30, between the heights of 64 and 74 inches, white, single without dependents, and in fair physical condition. Minor defects such as bad teeth, bad tonsils, or other defects that can be corrected within one month will be taken care of after enlistment at the expense of the Corps. No birth certificate or high school record required.

Men accepted for enlistment at Lubbock will be sent at the expense of the Marine Corps to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma for final examination and enlistment, and will then be transferred to the Marine Corps Base, San Diego California for training. After training all branches of the Corps are open including duty aboard ship, Marine Air Corps, Paratroops, Artillery, Infantry, Infantry Engineers, and others.

For full information call at the recruiting station, or write asking for full information without obligation. Ask your Postmaster for further information on the famous "Leathernecks." The recruiting office in Lubbock is open from 8:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. daily including Sundays.

Every Fit Man May Be Called Into Service

CHICAGO—Every man fit to fight, no matter what job he now holds, must face the possibility of eventual service with the armed forces before the Axis is delivered a knockout blow.

This was the picture Lt. Col. Joseph F. Battley, chief of the liaison division of the office of undersecretary of war, gave draft occupational advisers from 11 states at a conference recently.

"The day is past when employers may compete with the army for physically fit men. That day ended with the treacherous assault on Pearl Harbor," he declared.

It is the responsibility of employers, aided by the government vocational training program, to fill war industry positions with women and men not acceptable to the army and navy, Col. Battley asserted, adding this warning: "Eventually the only labor supply may be women."

"Replacements must first be trained," he said. "Then should we reach the point where war production levels off and where sufficient time has been had to effect replacements, then Class 2-B men (deferred because of employment in war industry) will be scrutinized."

"A registrant's job must be essential to the national health, safety or interest," he went on, "for him to be placed in Class 2-A (deferred because of employment in nonessential war industries.) And to secure a renewal, the employer has the responsibility of demonstrating that every effort has been made to secure or train a replacement. Investigate each 2-A case and make sure that these requirements are met."

"It is no exaggeration when I tell you that you are to forget everything you ever knew about selective service and start anew. Don't quote to me the language of a single memorandum issued prior to December 7. They are out. Every last, single one of them is out—gone—forgotten. America is at war."

The U. S. Marines, a part of America's first contingent, landed in France on June 27, 1917, just two months after the U. S. entered World War I.

to secure or train a replacement. Investigate each 2-A case and make sure that these requirements are met.

"It is no exaggeration when I tell you that you are to forget everything you ever knew about selective service and start anew. Don't quote to me the language of a single memorandum issued prior to December 7. They are out. Every last, single one of them is out—gone—forgotten. America is at war."

More of Josh Billings' quaint wisdom: Nature never makes enny blunders; when she makes a phool, she means it.

When a man proves a literary failure, he generally sets up as a critic and—like the fox in the fable, who had lost his brush in a trap—can't see a nice, long tail without hankering to bob it.

It is but a step from zeal to bigotry but it is a step that is most generally taken.

Fame is climbing a greased pole to win a purse of $10 and spilling a suit of clothes worth $15.

A man who is good company for himself is always good company for others.

It is very difficult for me to tell why the lion should be so strong and the ant so weak, when one is nothing but a grate leafer and the other the very pattern of industry and thrift.

There is no pashun on the human heart that promises so much and pays so little as revenge.

Wandering through the North: On the main stem of Omaha, the sidewalks are on a level with the street—no step-down, which seems like a good idea. And there is a big clock on a corner that revolves (the clock, not the corner) even if you haven't had a drink; after two drinks, probably the corner revolves.

In Kansas City in the railroad station coffee shop, they charge a dime for a cup of coffee, even when served with an order of ham and eggs—and Missouri has a sales tax with tokens that represent a tenth of a cent and ones with a hole in the middle (like Chinese money) for half a cent.

Odd signs: A Minneapolis bakery is named the Hasty Tasty and a St. Paul tavern is called the Tip-Top Tap.

"Now that this country is at war, it is certain that the demands on the oil industry of this country will far exceed previous estimates," says an article in the Petroleum Engineer. "A well-planned, long-range program to increase its crude oil reserves, refining facilities, and its transportation and distribution systems is essential if the oil industry is to cope with the exigencies of a world-wide war."

And the Gulf Coast Refiners Association points out that the "necessity of continued operation of refineries at near-maximum capacity to meet the growing demand for gasoline and other products" shows the growing need "for increasing crude oil production in Texas."

Hash or stew made from plate beef is just as nutritious as hash made from porterhouse or sirloin. Barley is being mixed in rye and wheat flour to make it go farther in Sweden.
