Whiteflat Reunion Joins Friends From Near And Far

by Nora Belle Dunning

A fair crowd turned out for the Whiteflat Reunion. There were 63 registering. J.C. and Arlene Murphy traveled the farthest distance, and the oldest Whiteflat School Ex was Connie Ross McWilliams Browning. Novelle Griggs Buchanan was home for the first time in over 62 years.

A good noon meal was enjoyed by all. Just before the business meeting, Troy Perkins surprised me with a beautiful wood clock with a plaque stating it was for my 20 years of getting our reunion together. He made me want to cry, I didn't deserve it.

Stuart Dixon was elected President for 1995 to April 1996. C.D. Garrison, Vice-President; Nora Belle Dunning, Secretary/Treasurer; Luther Green, leader of Whiteflat Cemetery.

Local Women Provide Much Needed Health Service To County's Elderly

by Emily Roy

NOTE: The following article is made possible by a grant provided by the Reader's Digest Foundation.

Deb Jones, Daphne Meredith, and Kim Woolsey provide a service that many people are finding to be a necessary part of health care. They are home health care providers.

Home health care allows for patients to be cared for in the comfort and security of their own home, and helps keep the patients' costs down by cutting out doctors' fees and hospital stays, they said.

Jones, a registered nurse, Meredith, a licensed vocational nurse and Woolsey, a health care aide, all live in Motley County and are employed by Total Home Health Care of Lubbock. They work mostly in the county but also cover some of the surrounding areas, they said.

"This is a much needed service in this area, because many people don't have family members around to help," Woolsey said.

Woolsey has been in home health care for three years and is responsible for everyday tasks such as preparation of meals, baths and checking vital signs.

Through the company they can handle almost any kind of home health care people need from equipment, chemotherapy, physical therapy and counseling, to everyday tasks, they said.

We can act as a liaison between patient and doctor, can clarify a doctor's instructions, and give instructions on medications, Jones said.

Jones worked in a hospital for 13 years, and has been a home health nurse for five years. She is responsible for case management and evaluation, but helps with other duties if needed.

"It's a different place, more one-on-one with the patients," Jones said.

All three women enjoy working with people and have family members who have also been in the nursing profession, they said. They have monthly meetings where they set goals for their patients.

"We try to keep them at home, out of the hospital," Meredith said.

Meredith has been in home health for two years, and is responsible for monitoring of patients and carries out such duties as monthly blood checks, helps with medication, and I.V. therapy.

Some of the patients are short term, but most of them are long term, Woolsey said. Depending on the level of care required they are only allowed so much time to visit their patients, Meredith said.

They are regulated by their company and the state health board, who makes yearly inspections, in addition to any regulations made by Medicare or private insurance companies, Jones said. They also meet inservice requirements every year to maintain their licenses, they said.

One of them always tries to be available for their patients. And they also try to teach family members how to care for the patients themselves, Jones said.

There are many different fields and you can go anywhere and find a job. You also work any and all hours, Meredith said.

All three women agree that the program has grown considerably since they began working in home health care, and they find their career very rewarding.

"It's the best job I've ever had," Jones said.

Two Plainview Teens Injured In One-Vehicle Accident

Two Plainview teens were injured Saturday, April 1, at approximately 10 p.m. when their 1984 Ford Ranger pickup rolled three times on FM 94 northeast of Matador.

According to DPS trooper, A. Pereda, the teens, age 16 and 17, were traveling west on the road when they approached the curve and ran off the roadway. When they attempted to come back on the roadway the driver over corrected causing the vehicle to flip and roll over three times.

The 17 year was conveyed by Motley County Ambulance to Methodist Hospital in Plainview. The 16 year old was airlifted to UMC Hospital in Lubbock, where he was listed in critical condition at last report.

Both teens were wearing their seatbelts.

Easter Sunrise Service Planned

An Easter Sunrise Service is being planned for all denominations at the Roaring Springs Ranch Club Chapel on Resurrection Sunday, April 16 at sunrise, approximately 7 a.m.

Plan to come and be blessed. Everyone is invited.

LOCAL ARTIST PAINTS MURAL — Wynona Gilbreath commissioned June Keltz to paint the mural of Jesus ascending into heaven for the First United Methodist Church in Matador. June stated, "It was important to her that the characterization should evolve out of her own mind and brush - not another's conception of His likeness." The work was completed in approximately four weeks. The mural is on the west wall of the Ford Memorial Chapel at the church.

HOME HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS — Daphne Meredith, LVN; Deb Jones, RN; and Kim Woolsey, Health Care Aide.

Rev. Felton Gilmore To Preach At First Baptist Church

Rev. Felton Gilmore will preach during the morning and evening worship services Sunday, April 9, at First Baptist Church, Matador. Bro. Gilmore, who is coming in view of a call as pastor to the Matador church, is currently Associate Pastor of First Baptist Church, Palo Pinto, and is a student at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, where he will graduate in May.

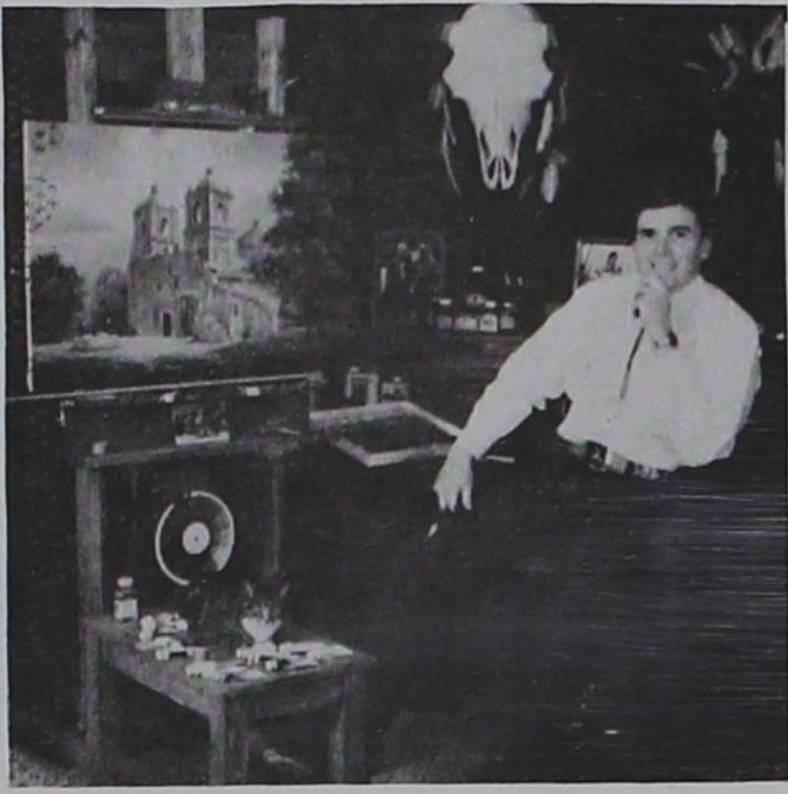

On Saturday evening, church members are invited to meet the Gilmores in the home of Larry and Donna Hoyle from 7:00 until 8:30 p.m. Bro. Gilmore and his wife, Ginger, have two daughters, Mylinda, 10, and Mylissa, 5.

There will also be a covered dish meal at the church on Sunday at noon. (The church will provide meat, and members are asked to bring vegetables, salads, and desserts.

Following the evening service, the church will vote on whether or not to extend the call to Bro. Gilmore as pastor. The evening service will be at 6:00 p.m. this week only.

Bank Exhibit Features Western Heritage

Terry Keltz in his studio.

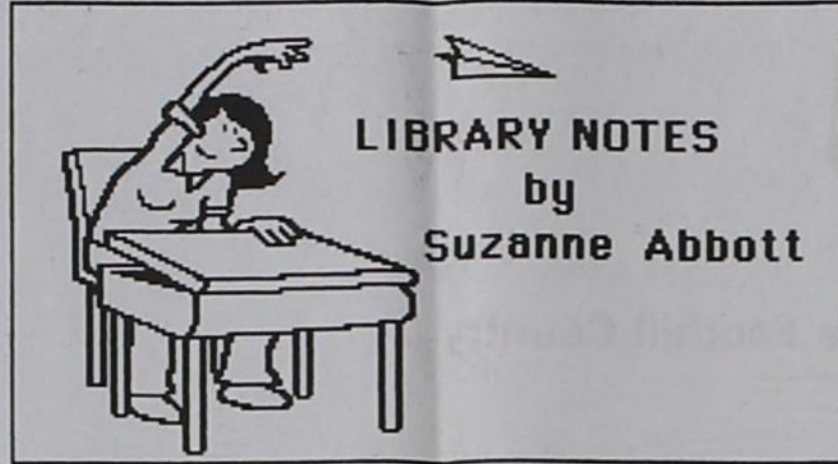

Plains National Bank, Lubbock, hosted an exhibit of art by Montana sculptor Jay Contway and Lubbock painter, Terry Keltz last week.

Terry Keltz is a native of Matador. He is the son of Bennie and June Keltz. His studio is located within an old movie theater in Slaton. Built around 1917, it has been renovated to accommodate multimedia armamentarium.

Keltz has studied under various artists, including Dalhart Windberg. "I once asked Windberg what he felt was the premiere component necessary for a painter to become successful. Expecting a lengthy expository response from this great artist, I was somewhat surprised when he smiled and laughingly said, 'Paint good paintings!' This simple but profound statement has become my goal as a painter and keeps me challenged to strive for excellence," said Keltz.

His paintings can be found in private and corporate collections through Texas and New Mexico. Keltz is administrator of Medical Arts Clinic in Lubbock.

An Important Message for WTU Customers

Recently you may have read or heard about a plan proposing "competition and choice in the generation of electricity" with the implication that everyone's electric bill would go down if that happens. If you think that sounds too good to be true, you're right.

A handful of unregulated power producers is promoting a scheme that would allow them to sell power at retail directly to consumers. They want you to believe that's competition and that it would lower everyone's electric bill. In reality, their goal is to sell power to large industrial customers at low rates which will be eventually subsidized by smaller consumers. They are not interested in assuming an obligation to serve anybody.

At West Texas Utilities Company, we achieve success with a tradition of low rates, reliability, community involvement and dedication to superior customer service. The electric industry is changing. Deregulation, expanding customer expectation, new technologies and other dynamic forces are having a profound effect on our business, but the strong commitment to our customers and communities remains.

Contrary to the self-serving efforts of a few special interest groups, the state's electric utilities have proposed legislation to increase competition in a way that will benefit all consumers. The proposal would open the wholesale generation market to all who want to participate, thus allowing every consumer to benefit from the least costly sources of power. Unlike the unregulated power producers' scheme, no consumers or group of consumers would face higher rates so a few could pay less.

WTU has been a provider of electrical service for some 80 years. Our involvement with and commitment to the communities we serve are stronger than ever. Our lower-than-average rates in Texas have been stable for years. We take our obligation to provide the best possible service to each and every one of our customers very seriously. Always have, always will! If you would like more information on this very important issue, please call or come by any WTU office.

One of the great temptations of our day is that we forget or deny our dependence upon God, relying instead upon our own cleverness and power.

A modern parable tells of a spider who spun a large, intricate, beautiful web which he suspended by a single thread. As time went on he added to and perfected the web.

Then one day as he was going around its outer circumference he came upon the all-important strand by which it hung. He had forgotten both the origin of the strand and its importance so he snipped it off. At once his whole little world collapsed.

Modern man is like that when he serves his ties to God and imagines himself to be self-sufficient. God is always the source of our strength and our security.

The Psalmist long ago encouraged the people of his generation and of ours to acknowledge our dependence upon God, saying "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits"

Letter to the Editor

Who owns the land that the City Park is on?

Everytime that the Ladies Clubs have worked on improvements and such it has been torn up.

We need a night watchman worse than a city park to be vandalized.

Anytime the City Council and the Commissioners approve money for the City Park instead of salary for a night watchman, then it is my opinion that they have lost their minds.

When the school is broken into and some of the businesses, churches and several homes while people are on vacation then maybe somebody will wake up. Allsup's has been lucky, look at the situation out there. The people that work out there are brave people. I am sure each night they felt safer with a night watchman on duty, even though he was roving and his hours very short.

We felt so strong about having a watchman that we started a petition and at the present time about 200 people have signed it. It will be presented to the council at their next meeting.

Walt and Ava

"Ruin. Pillage, plunder and rob," so say the governing bodies of this, the small town of Matador.

When shadows grow long and darkness slips upon us, "Take from us, pillage, plunder and rob," so say the governing bodies.

In the eerie darkness after midnight, when the hours are fraught with danger 'neath the black night, the earth opens up and loosens from its depths, vile, depraved, creatures of the night. And here in Matador, the powers that be, have granted these lechers of the night, free reign.

"Pillage, plunder and rob. Jump from the darkest shadows'. Attack. Take what you will, the city is yours."

"Wreck havoc, destroy, terrorize....creatures of the night. We bare ourselves open to you. We kneel down before you and give you, our town." Yes, once again, so the governing bodies.

Urging onward, the elements; that feast upon the dark, that all is good in Matador. All is safe for the weak, the nefarious, to come out and play.

Play with your tools of destruction. Dance with the demons through our streets, because we have no one for to watch over us while we sleep.

And to the stranger who has lost his way, there is no one for you. Not in Matador. When the stranger reaches out a troubled and frightened hand for guidance to assist him home, he is turned away. Cast, the wayward stranger is, into a fate unknown. Sent to his fate by the governing bodies, while his family worries frantically at home with terrible concern.

To the night watchman, who depends on his salary for morsels of food and modest clothing. A warm fire at night to stave away the ravaging cold fingers of winter. He is told, "A park is more important, you see. Can't you see, understand?" So say the ELECTED officials of, our town.

With the thought in mind that money, or lack thereof, obliterated a much needed position in town, it is best to look at all possibilities, options, before arriving at such a sweeping conclusion. One distinct possibility that arises, or leaps to mind, is that of piling all of the commissioners' together in a pile and extracting an equal amount from each county paycheck, thus ending said dilemma.

The amount would be minimal at best. This way, the one hundred dollars in question, could be met with great ease, painless ease. After all there is a quote, or figure, of a mere 0.07 cents. Far better for a few to suffer a trifle inconvenience that everyone suffer needlessly. One family suffering far more than just a little. Someone who does earn his wage.

Other options. One other option, too, is that of "Term Limits". Something that all voters have the power to wield, with great might, and right, at every election. These lofty public positions that council members", Mayor and commissioners' are so enamored with, can be taken away almost effortlessly, and deservedly so. When making such a radical decision, without consulting the very people for whom their political welfare depends on, let the ax fall where it may.

"Term Limits". The memories of youth are fond, fun, full of life. In those memories reside memories of days gone by frolicking through the City Park. A place where native growth was in abundance: grassburrs. A wealth of them.

Something as certain as death and taxes, the grassburrs lay just below the surface. Patiently awaiting for water and cultivation so to flourish into full, annoying life. Only a super human effort, and cost, could forever more remove the wicked weed from its evil domain. True, this feat could be accomplished, but the aesthetic value of a park is nonexistent, superseded in comparison to the needs' of the people. The type of needs' which necessitate the presence of a night watchman. The renovation of the City Park, and the subsequent upkeep, is greatly overshadowed by the absolute necessity of a night watchman. This is an absolute. The City and County officials need to re-evaluate said decision.

"Term Limits". With the City Council in mind, something else weighs heavily against them. "INSURANCE. HEALTH INSURANCE. GET YOUR FREEEEE, HEALTH INSURANCE." Belly up at the City Council table and gold is doled out in great quantities. Golden health insurance, free to all members. WHAT ... A PERK. A good place for a fat cut. If this information is incorrect, I stand corrected. If not, it is of vital interest ... no, it is of supreme importance, to know how much the citizens' of Matador are paying, with their taxes, for this perk. The cost per year, per member should become common knowledge.

From this amount a monthly total can be deducted. In that amount, bearing in mind the astronomical cost of health insurance, a wide margin, most assuredly exist, for the continuation of a night watchman's position. Apparently, City Council is under the uniform understanding that their elected positions to free health insurance outweighs the citizens' desire for some type of protection.

"Term Limits". The "Fire Boys". The fire boys are the unsung heroes' of the county, bar none. At any hour, day or night, in weather most foul, they are called upon to disrupt their own lives and tend to someone's hour of desperate need. And without free health insurance. Yet, it has become suggested to call upon them once again, free of charge, presumably so, to patrol the streets. Nay.

"Term Limits".

After reading over these words, it brings to mind a timeless, age old poem. The last of which reads as follows: "If we should ever disagree...here's to me."

Cap Rock Telephone To Purchase GTE Lines

Spur -- Cap Rock Telephone Cooperative, Inc. and GTE have executed a definitive agreement for Cap Rock to purchase 600 access lines in the Turkey and Quitaque exchanges.

Cap Rock and GTE are filing for state and federal regulatory approvals, which could take several months. A late 1995 closing date is anticipated. Cap Rock will begin operating the Turkey and Quitaque exchanges after closing.

Cap Rock Telephone currently owns and operates ten local exchanges from its headquarters in Spur, Texas. Cap Rock serves over 2500 access lines in eleven counties from the Caprock in West Texas through the Rolling Plains, covering 4800 square miles of farms, ranches, small communities and area towns. Cap Rock provides customers modern telecommunications through advanced digital switching equipment, equal access for long-distance carriers and a variety of custom calling features.

Tom Quaintance, GTE's Director - Acquisitions, described this effort as a "win-win" for GTE, as well as for the buyer. "The organization purchasing these exchanges can grow in their market place with these nearby exchanges. As the seller, GTE will be able to focus on areas of Texas where its presence is larger" he said. "The buyer shares GTE's strong commitment to customer service, employees and communities."

Late last summer Cap Rock purchased the exchanges of Dickens, Matador, Paducah and Roaring Springs from GTE.

Final closing is expected in the near future.

"We are very excited about this announcement," states Jim Whitefield, Executive Vice-President and General Manager. "We have been working with GTE for the past several months to add the Turkey and Quitaque exchanges to our service."

Mr. Whitefield also said, "The addition of these communities and customers to our system will prove to be a real benefit to all of our customers. With these additional customers, we will be able to take advantage of certain 'economies of scale' to provide additional services to all customers. With today's rapidly developing technology, we can be more efficient and responsive to our customers' needs." "As the Telecommunications industry moves into the era of the "Super Information Highway" across the nation, our goal is for the customers of Cap Rock Telephone to enjoy the same technological benefits as those persons residing in urban areas."

GTE Telephone Operations is the largest U.S.-based local telephone company, providing voice, data and video products and services through more than 22 million access lines in portions of the United States, Canada, South America, the Caribbean and the Pacific. Based in Irving, Texas, it had total revenues of $15.9 billion in 1994. Its parent organization, GTE Corp., is the fourth-largest publicly owned telecommunications company in the world.

Justin Calvert

In district play, Calvert a 6-1 post led the team in field goal percentage at 46%, hitting 116 of 254 attempts; inside the 3 point line, he was 54% of his two pointers hitting 107 of 200 attempts; averaged 6 rebounds a game and averaged 13 points a game. In the Caprock game, he had a season high of 23 points and five offensive boards.

Calvert, a 16 year old southpaw, said trying to stop players able to shoot from the left side is not easy for players around the area. He was one of the players Dumas looked to in order to bring the basketball up the court. As an underclassman, it didn't bother Calvert going up against older players.

Dumas High School basketball coach, Norm Reuther said Calvert had potential galore in his second year in high school level. If he continues to improve in the next two years, he'll really be a player.

Justin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvia Calvert of Dumas, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Calvert and great-grandson of Mrs. Viola Calvert of Flomot.

The boys 1-4A All-District Basketball teams were announced earlier this month and a Dumas Demon sophomore, Justin Calvert led the way on the second team.
