TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The years have staked their memories to graze far beyond the waving needgrass of many springs since I last watched the tall rider dig his boot heels in the cool sand. The towering cottonwood above us on that tranquil summer day, has been uprooted by the river and the brands he traced with his finger, have not been recorded on this year. His face was wrinkled leather, his heart a nugget of gold and his laughter was a kind of music that kept on playing after he was gone. Born in a simple creed, I used to think he prayed for rain when the teeth of gyp was in the water and bawling cattle milled about empty windmill tanks. His humor was a part of his life. Like good horses, a good saddle and plenty of beef hanging on the chuck-wagon. His pranks had an original quality which never offended his friends and his good nature accepted rebuffs with the same deep pleasure. If there is laughter in paradise, when I shall hear it. He will add a dropping a capsule of genuine in my coffee and face me with record of placing a peckle-burr under his saddle blanket.

Keeping their grim secret, the bleak New Mexico hills will finally erase slight scars the homesteader left. Wilting weeds grew amid the once-plowed grass in the little field. The door was swinging on the lean-to back porch. Rats had cut away at the floor and a few cans of food and left holes in the dust-covered bed. Wood was piled against the wall by the bachelor stove which still contained ashes of its last fire. Outside, the skeleton of a cow lay in the alkali lot with its gate still closed. Rusting hoops had fallen off a crumbling water barrel near the fence.

Rising like a white bubble in a cloudy sky, the moon floated in the basin of stars until a clean wind had rinsed the clouds away. Mindless and silent the prairie was like a thick silver fog between the horizon and extending to the portal of time.

There was a breathlessness about the moment as if it bore aloft the sound might desert. Then the cry rose, not from the prairie but from the depths of the sky. It was the pleading of an estrayed soul, the grating of worlds in agony on the river from passing boats on the river. The earth shuddered as if a spear of light lanced the horizon. The land frenzied, then advanced. The crashing of the brush of space and rattled with futility, tossing the screen into oblivion. Another scream flooded the sky: like a demon falling. A shy wind swept the last crumb of noise away.

One word spoken when the heart is grieved may live thru a lifetime, one flower may bloom in a thousand thoughts, a memory may echo always in memory, one kiss may suffice eternally.

One good healthy mistake has more value than a vault filled with untried resolutions.

Faith is the first essential of success. It is the seed from which eternal roots are sprouted.

World Remembers Sacrifices Of Fighters On V-J Day

ONE YEAR AGO YESTERDAY (August 14) the broken Japanese military machine asked for peace from nations it had vowed to subdue, thus ending the second phase of the world's mightiest war. Matador joined with the other cities of the nation in observing the war's end with the flying of flags (The official treaty was not signed until September 2, 1945) the (top) official Navy photograph above shows the grim landing on the volcanic sand of Iwo Jima, one of the silent monuments to American valor and sacrifice. Second photo (lower left) shows Marines in actual combat. Vital factor in the war's termination was the atomic bomb (lower right). It may end all war or remain as a threat to civilization's annihilation.

Closing of Quail Season To be Talked

Motley County may have a closed quail season this year, according to J. R. Emmons, county agent. At least, Emmons is calling a meeting of the landowners and other interested persons at 8 p. m. Thursday, August 22, in the district courtroom to discuss the matter. Emmons said that he was calling the meeting at the request of several landowners who have declared that quails were fewer this year in the county than they ever had been. Another reason for the possible closing of the season is to counter the hazard of prairie fires, which have increased with the current dry spell. The quail season in Motley county opens December 1 and closes January 16. In the event the landowners decide to close this next season, the legislature will have to approve the action. The meeting is being called on the 22nd so that the matter may be taken up if the legislature meets in a special session, Emmons said.

A member of the state game association, to be named later, will attend the meeting, according to Emmons. The meeting will be under the sponsorship of the Motley County Game Management Association.

Motley County has 19 deputy game wardens. Gus Bird is president of the game association, and Cecil Fox, Spur, is the district game warden.

Fite said that he fell approximately 10 feet to the ground. He was brought to Stanley Clinic in a McDonald Ambulance.

Hollowell Says Nation Is Riding on "Blood Money"

"We are having great national prosperity... money is everywhere and for everything, but it is 'blood money', bought at the price of war," declared Evangelist Howard H. Hollowell of Midland, looking at the many unfulfilled pews in the Methodist church Sunday evening. Hollowell is conducting a two-

TUCC Men To Visit Matador Wednesday

Two representatives of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission will be at the District Courtroom in Matador from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. to accept claims from unemployed civilians and veterans. The two representatives hold conferences in Matador every other Wednesday, and claimants may file applications with them regardless of where previous claims have been filed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simpson left Sunday on a fishing trip to Creed, Colorado.

Cowboys Battle Prairie Blaze

Fire swept between a quarter and a half section of land in the Matador pasture between Matador and Roaring Springs Tuesday. The only damage wrought by the blaze was to grass and shinnery, according to an account by Judge Henry Pipkin. Cause of the fire was undetermined, although ranch officers theorized that a live cigarette may have set the blaze. Cowboys on the range battled the fire and had it under control in a short time. Wednesday, the State Highway Department issued an appeal for persons to be careful in throwing down cigarettes and matches. The department cited two prairie fires which were started Tuesday and Wednesday in Parker County (Weatherford) and further declared that persons responsible for such fires would be prosecuted.

Livestock For Rodeo Purchased

Purchase of calves for roping contests during the two-day free rodeo of the annual Motley-Dickens counties Old Settlers Association meeting to be held at Roaring Springs August 22-23, is already under way. John Russell and Mervin Green, managers of the rodeo, announced the purchase of 75 calves for the contests. Mr. Russell declared that because of the high prices of livestock, he expected the cost of sufficient rodeo cattle for the affair to be in the neighborhood of $7,000. The meeting next week will be the 24th annual celebration of the association. It will be held at the Pioneer Pavilion just north of the Roaring Springs school.

Pioneer Parade Thursday

Starting with the annual Pioneer parade (no mechanical powered vehicle will be allowed to enter), the program moves rapidly to the memorial service at 11:00 a. m. when tribute will be paid to pioneers deceased during the past year. Basket lunch will be held at noon and the first-day program will open at 2 p. m. Henry Teague, Roaring Springs school superintendent will make the welcoming address with a response by C. L. Sone, pioneer of Canyon. Principal speaker will be Charles E. Combs, pioneer attorney of Stamford.

Program for the second day will be arranged by Mrs. G. E. Hamilton of Matador and Mrs. Billy Cooper of Roaring Springs but has not been announced, according to president C. C. Haile. Mr. Haile said a dance would be conducted at the pavilion tonight with the entire benefits being directed to paying the expense of the rodeo.

A colt show will be held at 10 a. m. on Thursday, sponsored by W. E. Burleson and A. C. Cross. The display will be an open class type, with yearlings and sucking colts featured. Entrance fees of $2 per colt should be sent to W. E. Burleson, Lockney Route, Quitaque, before August 22.

Schoolward Trek To Begin Sept. 2

Kids To Register Aug. 29-Sept. 2nd; New Grade School Principal Appointed

Officials of the Matador Rural High School district let loose a flurry of official pre-school business this week as their youthful charges began their last two weeks of summer freedom. Included in the administrative acts was the setting of the fall term's registration schedule, the hiring of a new principal and approval of some proposed material improvements.

Matador seniors will register at the school between 10 a. m. and 12 noon on Thursday, August 29; and the juniors will register between 1:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. on the same day. Sophomores will check in at 1 p. m. the next day, and the freshmen will follow the sophs at 3 p. m. Grade school students will sign up sometime Monday morning, September 2.

Roaring Springs School To Begin Fall Term Aug. 26

Roaring Springs students will make their annual fall school term pilgrimage at 9 a. m. Monday, August 26—one week earlier than will the students of Matador.

At that time, Roaring Springs will begin its 1946-1947 school term in earnest, complete with opening exercises in the gymnasium and a full day schedule of classes. The first day, as well as the following, will terminate at 4 p. m.

This year the gymnasium will not be used for classrooms, according to Henry Teague superintendent. This is because of the two new buildings which are now under construction, he declared.

The most recent building, a 24 by 32 building purchased from the Flomont school district, was torn down by 43 residents of Roaring Springs on August 9 and will be used as two classrooms west of high school and (Continued On Back Page)

Iceman Pinned In

Minor Upheavals Caused By Ice-Hungry Customers

A critical shortage of ice is causing minor upheavals in Motley and adjoining counties, officials of the Leon Ice Company here have declared.

One driver of the company reported an incident in which he was "blocked in" by automobiles in Spur as he was attempting to unload ice at a substation there. In other instances persons have used tow sacks to gather up the "snow" which ice companies sweep from the floors of their plants.

The 22-ton capacity ice plant here has been making two trips each night to fill calls in Amarillo, according to Earl Laughlin manager.

Cause of the shortage was laid to the hot weather by company officials. Laughlin said that the plant here was producing as much ice as it ever had, but that the torrid weather has resulted in an unusually heavy demand. The straining demand, he said, would probably be relaxed sometime in mid-September.

It was at Spur that an ice truck driven by Roy Simpson was pinned in between the automobiles of residents who had come to meet his shipment. Simpson was allowed room to drive up to the ice plant, but the customers feared that they would lose their place in the lengthy line of cars if they gave way to let the truck out. The sheriff of Spur forged an exit (Continued On Back Page)

Nineteen Return From Carlsbad

Eleven members of the 1945 Freshman class of Matador high school and eight other vacationers, Sunday returned from a trip to Carlsbad Caverns. The group was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Peg Spray.

The trip, which was begun last Friday, was the result of a long standing promise of the Sprays. Not all of the class was able to go.

Besides touring the Caverns, the group gave swimming parties, went motor-boat riding and had other amusements.

Those who went were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis E. Martin, Billy Ray Neighbors, Jack Sorge, Dan Tilson, Don Wason, Joy Martin, Rosemary and Jolene Bloodworth, Patti Pipkin, June Spray, Barbara Spray, Gwendolyn and Rita Wilkinson, Marcia Ann Gilbert, Royella Browning and Frances Casey.

Electricity Eases Farmstead Chores

EXTENSION of electricity to farms has made a new productive tool available to agriculture, according to nationally-circulated Cooper's Farmer. Electricity offers ways to mechanize many farmstead chores, reduce human labor, lower operating costs and promote better homes, which adds up to more satisfactory living.

Since most of the appliances required for modern conveniences are cool summertime cream, which reduces churning time by one-fourth.

An important function of rural electricity is to supply life-protecting heat for young pigs. Carl Barton exhibits one of the 7 brooders he built as a vocational agriculture project in Livingston County, Ill.

operated by electricity, its employment in production makes it a dual-purpose tool, in which one use facilitates another, points out the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families.

Typical of electricity at work is the task performed by a small circular saw in cutting material for the poultry house on George Middleton's farm in Kane County, Illinois.

One of the recent developments in labor-saving appliances is the charming attachment which Mrs. Henry Sidentop, of Livingston County, Ill., uses on her washing machine. Ice cubes made in her refrigerator go into the clothes tub to

The Provident Potato

Plushiest buy of the season is the potato. It's plentiful. It's popular. It has menu adaptability. And there is a nutritional gold mine in each tuber.

Recent research reveals that potatoes contain vitamin C, some of the B vitamins, iron, and phosphorus. All of which makes the plain-Jane potato a Cinderella among the nutritional stars of the food family.

The old notion that potatoes padded the flesh is a bogey-tale, too. It's the butter and gravy ladled over the spuds that puts on the modest fellow containing less calories than two slices of enriched white bread.

Moreover, potatoes can pinch hit for other foods now needed vitally in feeding Europe. For potatoes go in bread, puddings, pancakes, soups, fish cakes, casseroles, meat pie toppings, stews. So let's do our share to eat up the two bushels of potatoes each man, woman, and child is asked to consume this year. Here's a starter:

Sour Cream Potato Soup

To—
5 cups boiling water
add—
3 cups cubed potatoes
1 medium onion, whole
1 teaspoon salt
2 peppercorns
1 bay leaf

Cook until potatoes are tender. Combine mixing well, then add to above mixture—1 cup sour cream
3 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons prepared mustard.

Add—
3 tablespoons butter or 2 strips chopped bacon and drippings.

Potato Spinach Pancakes

Combine, mixing well—
1½ cups finely chopped raw spinach
2 cups cold mashed potatoes
¼ cup flour
¼ to ½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon 57 sauce
2 egg yolks, well beaten.

Fold in—
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Drop by tablespoons on greased hot griddle and spread. Cook over low heat.

AAA FARM NEWS

BY MARVIN ALLEN
Motley County AAA
Administrative Officer
(EDITOR'S NOTE: There is a news story on every farm and ranch, each farmer and rancher has, at one time, discovered better way of completing a chore. Or perhaps some "freak" accident has turned up, maybe 100 chicks were raised instead of an expected 50. Beginning with this issue of the Tribune, the writer of this column is sending out an appeal for such events in an effort to keep his readers informed on the latest shortcuts and "home remedies". Mail your contributions to Mr. Marvin Allen, AAA office, Matador, Texas.)

COTTON LOSSES:

Last Friday the insured cotton producers of Motley County made over $14,000.00. How? Well it was like this—to date 203 claims have been approved by Motley County Cotton Insurance Adjusters which represents claims for well over one million pounds of M 15/16 cotton. Last Friday cotton went up 140 points and since the Federal Crop Insurance program gives the producers the advantage of an increase in prices, this increase means over the above stated figures will soon be in the pockets of the producers of this county who took advantage of the insurance program. The losses approved to date will mean over 400 thousand dollars to the producers of Motley County who believe as the AAA office so often has stated "Crop Insurance is the only means by which a farmer has a guarantee of an annual income. Government support prices are no good whatsoever if a farmer does not have the commodity on which the support price is offered to be able to take advantage of these support prices." The signing of a crop insurance contract guarantees the signed to be able to take advantage of the high farm prices or the government support prices if desired.

To all wheat producers: If you desire insurance on your 1947 crop you must sign an application before August 31. No application can be signed or accepted after that date. Come by the AAA office the next time you are in Matador and let us explain fully the provisions of the program. We do not try to sell crop insurance—for we believe that crop insurance will easily sell itself. We are here to explain the provisions of the program to all who are interested. If you have never seeded wheat before and intend to seed wheat this fall, you can obtain insurance also. You are not left out of the program just because you are seeding wheat for the first time this year. Our time is your time—if you are interested and desire information in regard to the Crop Insurance program. Please keep in mind August 31 is the last day for signing a wheat insurance application on your 1947 wheat crop.

WINTER LEGUMES:

We promised information in regard to the Winter Legume practice as soon as such information was received. To date no further information is on hand. However, requests are still being received and orders taken for phosphate and Austrain Winter peas. We can make no promise as to receiving any more super-phosphate within the next month or so but can say that plenty of Austrain Winter peas will be available in the county within the next week or so. Mr. S. J. Braselton of Roaring Springs will be the vendor for these Winter Legume seed. The seed will cost $6.25 per 100 pound bag and the AAA will pay $5.00 per hundred of this cost—which will be an "out of pocket" cost to the producer of $1.25 per hundred. The AAA recommends 15 pounds per acre if seeded in regular width rows, 30 pounds per acre planted with grain drill. We believe the latter part of September is the best time of the year to plant Austrain winter peas provided we receive enough moisture about that time to plant on.

It is an AAA requirement that all seed be properly inoculated with fresh inoculants. Inoculant will be available at the same place you purchase your seed.

If further information is desired, come to the AAA office. We would be glad to explain all the advantages of the AAA program to each and every producer in Motley County. Farm lands as well as grass lands of Motley County need vast improvements and can be vastly improved over a period of years. The Government through the AAA program desires this be done by rendering financial aid to those that are interested enough in their land to seek help.

Fixing Up the Farm

by BURTON WILLIAMS

Life in Old Buildings

REPLACING old buildings that are worn out is one of the necessary and costly steps many farmers will have to take. Few farmers, however, can afford the luxury of discarding sound structures that can be repaired and remodeled economically.

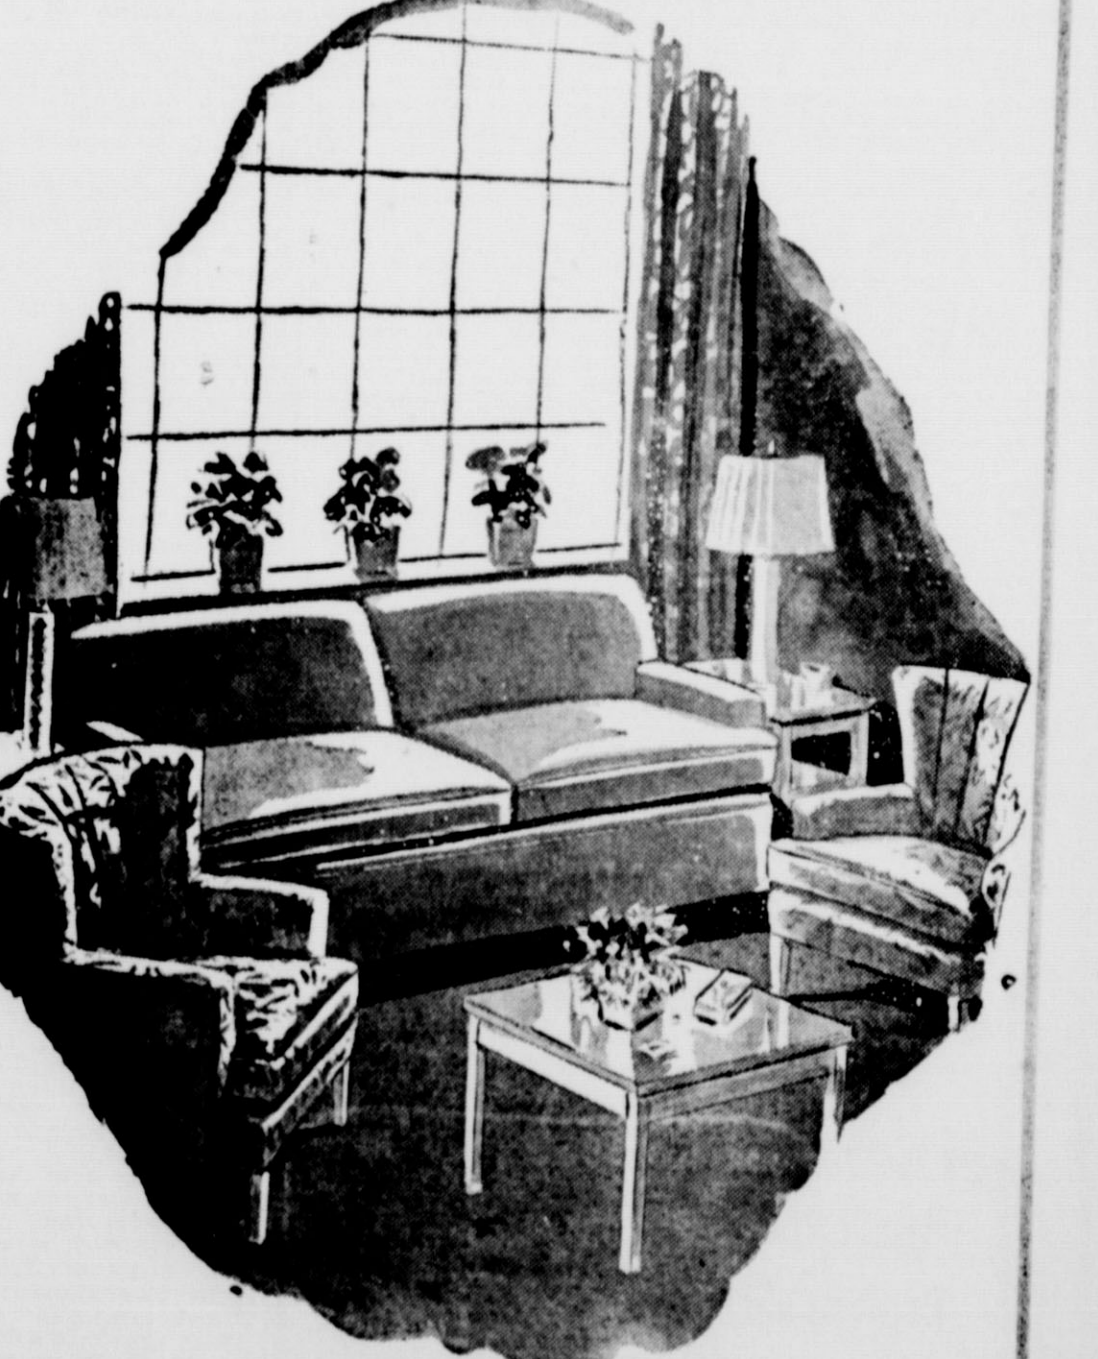

Improved remodeling techniques and modern building materials have made it possible to do wonders in restoring old buildings, both inside and out. The cost usually is much less than for a new structure.

One of the modern materials which has come into wide use in modernizing interiors of all types of farm service buildings is asbestos cement board. This material, made in 4 x 8 foot sheets, covers large areas rapidly and reduces the number of joints. It makes a permanent interior lining that is fire-proof, weather-proof and easy to clean, thus promoting safety, comfort and sanitation. Asbestos board is equally adapted for use as exterior siding in remodeling old farm buildings. It is proof against rats, termites, rot and rust and requires no painting or preservative treatment.

Asbestos board is recommended for lining and re-siding dairy, hog and poultry structures, grain bins, garages, utility sheds and other buildings.

Allan Shivers Is People's Favorite

Senator Allan Shivers, in thanking the voters of Texas for the heavy lead they gave him in the July primary to make him the favorite candidate for lieutenant governor, also warned citizens that attempts will be made by "scheming minority pressure groups" to defeat him in the August 24 run-off.

The Jefferson County legislature, lawyer and farmer, pointed with pride to the overwhelming support which he received in his present home county and in the county where he was reared to manhood. Shivers a World War II combat war veteran (the only veteran in this race) polled approximately 75 per cent of the votes in Jefferson County, his present home, and was a 25 to 1 favorite over his runoff opponent in Tyler County, where he spent his youth. Senator Shivers led his runoff opponent by approximately 100,000 votes in Texas.

"I am deeply grateful for the confidence the people of Texas have shown in me and the progressive program for Texas which I advocate," Shivers said. "I shall strive even harder to work for the welfare of Texas."

"Because I represent the masses of the people, there will be those in the runoff campaign who will conspire to defeat me," Shivers predicted. "I will not be swayed by these radical, minority groups—the C.I.O. noise-makers in particular. My opponent is welcome to the support which they are giving him. I will continue to fight for the right and welfare and progress of our people who make up the backbone of Texas."

We are doing our best to see that you get your new car as quickly as possible

We want to thank our customers and prospective customers for your friendly patience while awaiting your new Chevrolets.

We know it is a hardship to wait for needed transportation; but we believe you will understand that we, and Chevrolet, are as eager to deliver cars as you are to obtain them. Unfortunately, production so far this year is far under expectations. Chevrolet Motor Division sums up the situation thus:

"Even though our rate of production normally exceeds that of any other manufacturer, we have been able to build, up to July 1, only 12.4 per cent as many cars as we had built up to that date in 1941. Production is still far below normal, because of frequent shortages of essential materials and parts. Strike after strike at the plants of our suppliers has seriously impeded our progress toward full production, and the cumulative effect severely hampers every manufacturing and assembly plant. In June we were able to build only 29.2 per cent as many cars as we produced in the same month in 1941."

While production is restricted, so—in proportion—are shipments of cars to us. As production increases, we are assured of getting our proportionate share of the total—and as quickly as cars are received we will speed deliveries to our customers

Eggs Make the Meal

For its weight and size the egg packs an unparalleled punch. It is a veritable vitamin pill. It is Croesus-rich in the minerals that matter. Its proteins are top-flight, being the same body building kind as meats. As a cooking aid the egg is literally unrivalled. Eggs go everywhere in every meal. They make up the backbone of breakfast; they lend richness to a fine dessert. They are all things to all cooking.

But today's best use, with a plentiful egg supply the bonanza item in the fickle food market, is as a main-course substitute for meat. Whipped up and enriched with vegetables, eggs make a suitable omelet for supper. Mixed with potatoes and onions in a casserole, the egg becomes a one-dish meal. Baked on a mound of beans in the hollow of a bun, eggs are hefty, meatless eating. Here's how:

Walter W. Keahey Takes California Bride In New Jersey Rites August 2.

Miss Helen Lorraine Stowell, daughter of Mrs. Helen Mellman of Los Angeles, California, became the bride of Walter Warren Keahey of Roaring Springs, Texas, on Friday, August 2, in a ceremony performed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pelham Clinton Wilmerding, of Watchung, New Jersey. The Rev. Ronald Ost, pastor of the Wilson Memorial Church, Watchung, officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Wilmerding. Her only attendant was Mrs. Billy M. Keahey, the former Elizabeth Wilmerding, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. John H. Queeney of Scituate, Massachusetts, was the best man.

The bride wore a street length dress of gray-blue gaberdine and a corsage of white orchids. The matron of honor wore a street length dress of pink and black silk. Mrs. Henry Walter Keahey, mother of the bridegroom, wore a street length dress of black linen and a corsage of gardenias.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Wilmerding home, which was decorated with white gladioli, gardenias and laurel branches.

The bride served during the war as a corporal in the U. S. Marine Corps Women's Reserve. Mr. Keahey, who was a dive-bomber pilot in the Pacific with the Marine Air Corps, was also recently discharged. Prior to the war, he was graduated from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Tex. He was reared at Roaring Springs and is the son of Mrs. Henry Walter Keahey and the late Mr. Keahey.

Following the reception, the couple left by car for Chillicothe, Missouri, where they will make their residence while Mr. Keahey attends school.

Nobody Cares

What a Bachelor Thinks!

He is soured and selfish. He has grown a shell around his heart and callouses have attached themselves to his soul. He becomes miserly and begrudges the money he pays for taxes; he has no children to educate. These are only a few of the things that have been said about me since I first voiced my opposition to the proposed $40,000 bond issue to build a new Roaring Springs school building. I have been accused of everything from cow-theft to arson but principally I have been accused with intention of destroying the community of Roaring Springs. Some of my friends have told me that I am a fool. Some of my enemies have been less kind.

It is true that I have no children to educate, but it is not true that I begrudge the money I pay for taxes, especially school taxes. I am one of the most ignorant and uneducated men in Motley county. I can do little more than write my name. My heart goes out to boys and girls that must fight their ways in this world with no more education than I possess. I want the boys and girls of Motley county to have the very best education that money can buy. I want them to have a high school that has every advantage that the best schools in larger cities offer. I want them to have vocational agriculture, vocational arts, shop work and speech arts so that they will have equal chances with other boys and girls over the nation.

Last year 65 high school students were enrolled at Roaring Springs, 127 at Matador and 73 at Flomot. The cost of teachers and administration for these three high schools was in the neighborhood of $30,000 in addition to operation expense. It is estimated that average daily attendance at the three schools was about 210 students. We are spending enough money to have one of the best schools in the state but losing most of it because we are trying to maintain three schools instead of one. I am not smart and I have no education, but I know the solution to this problem and you know the solution.

It is not my fault or your fault that mechanized farming has changed the entire school picture and that the change is still under way. Roaring Springs high school had 147 enrolled in 1936, and 65 in 1946. What will it have in 1956? We can not stop changing conditions; we can only prepare for and arrest their consequences. Regardless of our desires, can we afford to spend this amount on new facilities to educate five dozen students? We can not evade the fact that Motley county had ten schools ten years ago and that only four exist today. If we vote the $40,000 bonds and spend the $12,000 insurance money on a new building we will incur with interest obligations, a building costing at least $77,000. It will be antiquated before it is paid for in 30 years. It will require $9,000 per year to staff this school. The cost in 30 years will be in the neighborhood of $350,000. The cost of transportation for 50 or 75 students over eight miles of pavement is small in comparison.

To me Roaring Springs schools are on hallowed ground. For 16 years I have fought for a livelihood on the sandy, shinnery acres that comprise much of the south of Motley county. Somehow I have managed to pay my taxes and there has been a pride in my simple heart every time I passed the school grounds, in the knowledge that I have had a part in maintaining the facilities for education that it offers. Roaring Springs is my community and I have always spent what little money I have to spend with its business firms. I don't want to lose the high school, but more important than my pride is the education of boys and girls now in our community; boys and girls yet unborn.

What happens to me is not important. I have missed my chance of an education and the years in front of me can hold little. I have never done anything worthwhile; a sandy-land farmer raising a few hogs never has a monument raised in his memory. I do not worry about what my taxes will cost. I don't want to save a penny. I want better education for the boys and girls and there is only one solution. I want our boys and girls to receive more value for the high school dollars that are being spent and there is only one solution. We must face the facts.

I am certain that the proposed new school building will not increase the present tax costs, but it will not provide a better school nor will it offer any improvement in the future. We could have a great, modern school that would give the children of this county the very best that modern education offers and we could do it without voting an extra dime of indebtedness.

I hold no bitterness toward anyone and I know that the most important factor in the progress of a community or a county, is harmony. I want the communities of Motley county to cooperate because each needs the other. Roaring Springs is my town and it will continue to be my town regardless of whether or not the school bonds are voted. I believe if we look into the faces of little boys and girls who look to us for an education that we will forget our prides and prejudices, our narrow differences and desires for personal gain, to unite in a solid movement for their future welfare. I do not believe we will vote on them a tax-burden that their children's children will be paying, simply because we lack the vision to reckon with the present situation.

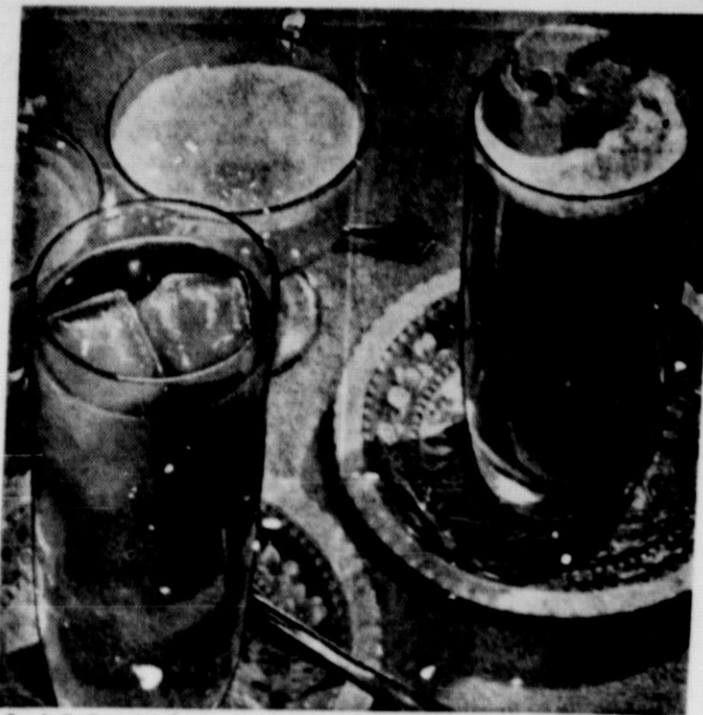

This space has been bought and paid for by me at regular rates because I feel that other tax-payers may be caused to see our high school position as I see it. Anyway,

Nobody cares what a bachelor thinks

A Long Cool Summer Drink

Iced-Coffee drinks are versatile and easy to prepare. Plain iced coffee, shown at left, is tops if you pour fresh hot coffee over the ice cubes. Brew it double-strength by using twice the usual amount of coffee or half the usual amount of water.

Also excellent is home-made coffee soda. Make a syrup by blending 1 1/2 cups cooled black coffee with 1/2 cup light corn syrup. Add 1/2 cup light cream. Mix well and pour into 4 tall glasses. Add coffee ice cream and fill with sparkling water.

Here also is a tested recipe for the coffee ice cream.

1 cup double strength cold coffee
1/2 cup light cream
1/2 cup cold water

The Five-Month-Old Mite Rises in the World

Another month slips by—the baby is now five months old. He is growing by leaps and bounds. His sleeping hours are reduced to 12 or 16 daily. No longer is he satisfied with the passivism of former months. His wakeful hours are increased so upon him that he is an individual, he is learning life is fun. He begins to rise up in the world literally, for he attempts to sit up by pulling himself forward. This pleases him—life is more exciting than when he lay flat on his back. Slowly it dawned upon him that he is an individual. As such he begins to make certain demands for his care and comfort. The smart parents will take their cue at this time to enjoy him. For their pleasure he will giggle and laugh should aim, he'll think he's exercising. Gradually introduce him to new forms of feeding behavior when he shows tendencies in those directions. This is an opportune time to use a cup for his orange juice. Don't be discouraged if the spoon on his chin surpasses the trickiest down his throat. He will soon catch on to his idea. Then, too, this eager-eater begins to tell you when he's had enough solids by ejecting them with his tongue.

If he has no allergy complications, his menu has become quite varied including, carrot, spinach, juice or other Vitamin C source, Vitamin D in the form of fish-liver oils or concentrates, and the taste-appealing, commercially strained foods—broccoli, cauliflower, peas, carrots, vegetable soup, tomato soup, strained fruits as prunes, peaches, applesauce, apricots and applesauce and apple prune pudding. Then there are other varieties which are added as his appetite grows.

No doubt cereal is a favorite food with him now. For convenience, palatability and nutritious richness pre-cooked cereal food takes all honors. It requires no fuss nor formula until the proper consistency. Presto! a light and fluffy cereal smooth in texture is the result. A special flaking and toasting process brings out the nut-like flavor of the combined wheat, oats and corn. As extra aids to maintain the baby's body growth, the pre-cooked cereal food contains wheat germ, fat-free milk solids, vitamin B complex, calcium and phosphorus.

Have you taken the baby to the doctor for his regular monthly examination? By now the baby's prenatal iron supply is getting low. The physician may decide, at this time, that egg yolk and strained liver and liver soup are "musts" to replenish this iron.

Division two years later, and remained in this position until he became a vice president of National Tube in 1936. Mr. Goble is well known throughout the Texas oil fields because of his production experience and in his later contacts as vice president in charge of sales for National Tube Company.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bishop left Tuesday of last week for a vacation trip to Pagosa Springs, Colorado.

Children Should Be Vaccinated Before School

"From a health standpoint children are not ready to enter school until they have been successfully vaccinated against smallpox," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, reminds parents who expect to enroll their youngsters in September. "Many school districts make vaccination an entrance requirement, and children who have never been vaccinated, and also those vaccinated in babyhood, should be taken to the physician for vaccination now, so that the scar will be well healed before school opens.

Immunization against diphtheria is also strongly recommended for further protection. Parents are urged to have their children protected from diphtheria by immunization with toxoid. Children who had this protection in infancy should receive a booster dose before entering school in order to maintain immunity at a high level. "These two types of protection against disease should be considered 'musts' for pre-school children," Dr. Cox declared. "Any other immunizations that the physician may recommend will, of course, provide additional health security."

In addition to this protection against specific communicable diseases each child getting ready to enter school should also receive a complete physical examination by his private physician or at the nearest clinic. Any treatment or correction of defects advised by the doctor should be undertaken immediately in order that the child may enter school in the best possible physical condition.

"Lip Service To God"

"We must fight the unseen enemies of man with unseen power," Rev. Hollowell declared, "and the apathy towards religion must be changed if we are to avert still greater consequences in the future. At present, we, as a nation, merely pay lip service to God . . . we need more family altars and fewer cocktail bars. I have no fear of the atomic bomb but I fear man's use of it. . . I have no fear of the future but I fear for the future of man."

Singing is under the leadership of Rev. Arch Gipson of Floydada. A cordial invitation is extended everyone to attend the meeting.

north of the cafeteria building. The building formerly was the Montgomery school house.

Operation of the Roaring Springs school lunchroom will also be in full swing on the 15th day. The school board has decided to serve lunches at a 15-cent charge.

Only one vacancy will be current in the high school faculty, according to Superintendent Henry Teague. That missing spot will be a teacher for the home making courses.

Other teachers will be Mrs. Joe Lancaster, first grade; Mrs. Lem Miller, second grade; Miss Bessie Mae Smiley, third grade; Mrs. Maggie Keahey, Miss Gladys Peck and Miss Freda Keahey, intermediate department; and J. P. Cooper, Miss Bessie Medlen, Henry Teague, and Mrs. Virginia Jackson will be the high school faculty members. Mrs. Sammie Laughlin will be the music teacher and Mrs. Mable Barrett, colored, will teach in the Roaring Springs colored school.

for the blocked-in truck, Simpson declared Simpson then came back to Matador and took another shipment of ice to the town.

Other reports of the deliverymen have described "mile-long" lines of automobiles following their trucks. Also, out-of-county residents have come to Matador to insure their purchase of the rare item.

Other towns, like Vernon, have rationed their customers to 25 pounds of ice per day. There has been no rationing of ice program outlined for the Matador district, according to ice plant officials.

Daily trips are made by the ice company trucks to points nearby and throughout the surrounding counties. Each trip consists of the delivery of 9,000 pounds of ice, but customers often fail to obtain ice, company officials said. Of the towns served by the ice company, Dickens is particularly short on ice, Laughlin declared.

the assistant coach's slot for two years. He left for the Navy from Matador, where he became physical education instructor for the naval pre-flight school at Ames, Iowa, for two years. After the assignment at Ames, Thomas received his commission and served in the Pacific area until his discharge last fall.

As for Matador's chances of a championship team, Thomas declared in a telephone conversation with school officials that Matador had good material and a good chance of fetching in its first crown since 1935.

School Bus Rules

Four school buses, including one new vehicle, will transport students from the rural districts to the high school. One bus will make the old Barton route and will also pick up students in Whiteflat and along the highway in that direction.

Another bus will run the route west of Whiteflat and another will go east of Whiteflat. The fourth bus will take in the Fairview community, including the eastern part of Matador.

In general, the buses will go by homes of the students if good roads are available. Cattle guards must be provided, and mesquites must be cleared away, according to school authorities. Another provision is that the vehicles will not wait for a student at his residence.

Cattle guards must be provided for so that time will not be wasted in opening fence gates, the school officials said. Good roads must be provided for so that undue wear will not befall the newly renovated buses. Otherwise, the vehicles will not be routed off the main roads.

New Improvements

Among the new improvements at the school will be recent work on the lunchroom system under P.T.A. and now aided by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A more supple diet will be provided now that the department of agriculture has indicated acceptance of the school system's lunchroom program and increased enrollment, according to school officials.

As for the material equipment of the lunchroom, a new food warming steam table and a new nine-foot refrigerator has been purchased. These additions, plus the recent purchase of 150 divided plates, will make the lunchroom one of the best equipped in the state, the school officials said.

Four veterans of World War II will be on the Matador teaching staff this year. Besides Percival, the new grade school principal, and Thomas, the new coach, other veterans to be on the faculty will be Vance Gilbreath, principal of the high school, and Superintendent Bert Ezzell.

Word was brought to Matador late Wednesday, advising of the death of Ed Guess, 52, former Matador resident, Saturday night at 10:30, at Ada, Oklahoma, where he had been making his home the past three years.

Mr. Guess had been ill for about three weeks and was bedfast in a hospital at Ada, for ten days prior to his death, which was attributed to high blood pressure and dropsy.

Funeral services were held in the Cragburn funeral home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and burial made in the cemetery at Ada.

Mr. Guess was born at Colbert, Oklahoma, and lived most of his early life in that state. He made his home at Floydada before moving to Matador. N. Redd, stopped in Matador Wednesday evening en route to their home in Floydada, after attending the funeral.

Roaring Springs Is Only Unbeaten Team In Baseball League

Midway and Spur lost their 1000 standings this week and only Roaring Springs remained unbeaten in the second half of the Dickens-Motley baseball league.

In Sunday's games, Roaring Springs beat Midway 12-2; Spur dropped its first game to Afton, 8-7, and Dickens snowed Whiteflat 25-1.

Next Sunday's games call for Dickens and Afton to be on the Afton Diamond; Spur and Roaring Springs to be at Roaring Springs; and Midway and Whiteflat to be at Whiteflat.

Today, Roaring Springs holds the first place slot. Spur and Midway are tied for second place. Dickens and Afton are tied for the third notch, and Whiteflat, a team which has not won a single game in the entire schedule, sits resting on the bottom rung.
