Cattle Truck Is Wrecked; Driver Seriously Hurt

(By George M. Conner)

Fred Dozier, 29, of Fort Worth, former resident of Falls, was critically injured at noon Wednesday when a cattle truck he was driving overturned five miles south of Roaring Springs.

With Dozier was an unidentified youth of about 12-years-of-age, who fled the scene before officers arrived.

Dozier, according to his account, swerved his truck in an effort to avoid collision with an automobile being driven by N. M. Freudenrich, a farmer of Roaring Springs.

The truck driver was pinned beneath his truck and onlookers had to jack up the two-ton vehicle to extricate him. A cow had fallen from the 30-foot trailer and had landed across Dozier's chest. In all, about 20 head of cattle were in the trailer. Five of the cattle were injured.

Among the first to arrive at the scene of the accident was Lt. Louise Rigby, Army Nurse, who accompanied Dozier in a McDonald ambulance to the Stanley Clinic in Matador. Norman Priest was the ambulance driver.

Dozier was enroute to Channing with a load of cattle belonging to Paul Braddock of Afton. The truck is one of two hauling vans owned by Paul Batemen of Glenn.

Dozier's injuries were described as critical by clinic officials. They include head, chest, hip and possible internal wounds.

Mrs. Dozier, a clerk in the Hereford Hotel in Fort Worth, was notified shortly after the accident and immediately left for Matador. Dozier's father, of Amarillo, was also enroute to Matador after being notified Wednesday.

Deputy Sheriff John Stotts of Matador and Sheriff Fred Christopher of Dickens County were the investigating officers. The officers declared that the scene of the accident was a few yards over the Dickens county line.

Tax Value Of Lands Not Equal

Out-of-proportion differences in property tax evaluations between State and County accounts and the evaluations as set up by Matador's school district taxation program, were cited this week by the city's school authorities.

Under the school's evaluation program, property in the Matador district is valued at $2,700,000, while the State and County tabulate the same property at $1,200,000. If the proposed consolidation is voted in by county residents on June 29, the $1,500,000 difference will be whittled down and the tax burden will be spread more evenly among Motley's citizens, the school officials declared.

Differences in the values of farm land under the two systems was also pointed out by the school authorities. The school district tags the lands at $40-$52 per acre, and the State and County's evaluation is $10-$16 per acre.

Provided the consolidation proposal goes through, future tax evaluation of property will be based along State and County standards, according to advocates of the rural school system. Results of the June 29 election will determine whether Matador and Flomot will attain the rural high school status as well as determined whether the Bird district will join the Roaring Springs rural high school unit.

Whiteflat, Fairview and Barton will join Matador if the proposed consolidation is affirmed, and the Flomot district will be joined by Whitestar, Polley and Montgomery. Bus transportation will be furnished to the students in outlying districts once the consolidation becomes effective.

It Seems Like Yesterday

It seems like yesterday that Nancy was playing with dolls. Now she's pushing her own baby carriage. Yes, there've been a lot of changes in the last fifteen years—most of them so gradual we hardly noticed them at all.

Nancy didn't grow up all at once. A tooth at a time—a curl at a time—an inch at a time—and suddenly a little kid sister was Mrs. Joe Jones, mother of Joe, Junior.

Like Nancy, the use of electricity has grown a lot in the last fifteen years. But the price of electricity has been going down steadily. You may not have noticed it because your bill may be about the same—but how many appliances have you added to your home since 1931? Actually, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money now as then.

Keeping electric service plentiful and cheap through years of rising costs was not easy. That today's electricity is at its very lowest price in history is a tribute to the hard work and experience of the men and women in the industry, and to its sound business management.

MATURE DRIVERS WARNED
 Forty per cent of Detroit's traffic accidents in April involved drivers between the ages of 30 and 49 years, Ed Hedner, director of service and mechanical department of the Chevrolet division, General Motors Corporation, has advised.

"These figures are a departure from the current trend of a lowering of the age group associated with highway accidents and point to a pertinent reminder to the more mature motorist," Hedner said.

Drug Hoarding Is Dangerous, Health Officer Advises

There are many persons who naturally hoard anything and everything including old clothes boxes, and other useless articles, some of which constitute no greater danger than a possible fire hazard, but a very real danger is present when this tendency is applied to hoarding old medicine in any form.

Most medicine finds itself in the home through a doctor's prescribing it for some specific illness. For the sake of safety, left-over medicines should be destroyed immediately when they have fulfilled their purpose and never be stored in the medicine cabinet for future unprescribed use in case of another illness, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Self-medication with the use of left-over drugs which were of great benefit to some previous illness can sometimes turn a simple ailment into a very serious condition of actual poisoning," Dr. Cox said. "This is particularly true of the indiscriminate use of sulfa drugs which have been prescribed for some previous specific condition.

When we told the wife that the next time we married we'd get a woman who was easily pleased, she informed us that that was the only kind we could get.

"It is wise to use medicines as indicated for the illness for which they are prescribed by your doctor, and when they are no longer needed, destroy the remaining medicine immediately," Dr. Cox said. "Even if you expect a return of the same condition at some future date, it would be better to obtain new medicine if the condition recurs than to retain this old medicine in the cabinet and subject members of your family to the danger of using it unwisely."

County AAA Group Returns From Trip To King's Ranch

Three members of the Motley County AAA committee and their administrative officer last Friday returned from a trip to King's Ranch in Kingsville where they obtained data pertaining to experimentation with superphosphate compounds on pastures.

Those making the trip were Marvin Allen, administrative officer, Roy P. Burleson, both of Matador, W. L. McWilliams of Whiteflat, and L. A. Washington of Flomot.

Work with superphosphate has been carried on at the ranch for 14 years. The results were observed by 85 other AAA state and county officials. The trip was the first to the ranch for Motley County's AAA committee.

Theory of the superphosphate experiments is that growing plants are replenishing their native phosphate content by the superphosphate solution.

DDT Oils Can Harm Cattle, Is Advice To County Agent

Oil solutions of DDT, the miracle insect-killing drug, can be harmful to livestock, Charles A. King Jr., acting extension entomologist of the Texas A&M extension service, has advised J. R. Emmons, county agent.

Only water sprays of wettable DDT powder have proven harmless to animals and research has revealed harmful effects when the powder is mixed in oils, emulsions and xylene, King said. In support of King's statement, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has declared that "Oil sprays should not be used on animals."

Also to be avoided is the use of oil sprays on buildings, the entomologist advised. The buildings sprayed with oil solutions of DDT are rendered inflammable and livestock may be come infected by rubbing against structures sprayed with the oil solution, King said.

DDT oil solutions have been used by the Dallas Bureau of Entomology without harmful effects, although unusual care was exercised in its application, King said.

"At the present time our recommendation on the use of DDT for hornfly and lice control is that of the wettable powder," the entomologist advised. "This does not mean we are condemning the oils, but we are not in a position at this time to recommend them as is the case of wettable powder."

IF YOU BELIEVE IN EQUAL TAXATION...

As a citizen of Motley county you are interested in good schools because good schools add to the value of every parcel of property in the county; good schools provide an educated and progressive citizenship. Good schools are a responsibility of the people and that responsibility should rest equally on the wealthy and poor, and on those with children and those without children. Every child has a right to education.

During the past 20 years a vast change has taken place in this entire area and there has been a shift of populations to the cities which has resulted in a great decrease in school scholastics. The number has dropped from over 2,000 to less than 1,000, yet the expense of educating 1,000 children is greater now than was the expense of educating 2,000 children 20 years ago. School plants must be maintained, paid for and operated at a constantly increasing cost. Small schools have turned their students to the larger communities.

The result has been a greater burden to property owners in some districts with a reduction in taxes in other districts. The unequal situation has grown so great that property owners in some districts are paying three to ten times as much taxes as those in neighboring districts.

This election has been called to give the people an opportunity to correct the unequal tax problem, to provide better financed and more substantial schools in the county. It is an attempt to place all school taxes in the county on equal basis and to provide equal school facilities to every child in the county. A vote for grouping and annexation will mean that you want good schools for the children in your community and that you want to pay your part of the school tax -- no more and no less. It will mean that you want your neighbor to have good schools for his children but that he will also pay his share of the school tax -- no more and no less.

The approval of grouping and annexation will bring Motley county schools to a higher level, providing modern school bus transportation to the more remote districts and giving the children exactly the same advantages as if they lived across the street from the school campus. It will provide more money to retire plant obligations, to pay good teachers fair salaries and to operate fewer and better schools.

In fairness to your neighbors and friends, in fairness to the children of Motley county, vote for equal taxation. Consider how you would feel toward the plan if your property was located in a district which is paying three to ten times the amount of taxes you are paying. This entire movement has no other purpose other than fairness to all tax-payers and a sincere desire to improve and modernize the county's school systems. It has been neglected a long time and has cost many citizens thousands of dollars in taxes more than their just share and responsibility. Pay your share, no more and no less -- vote "For."

GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE "FOR" GROUPING AND ANNEXATION SATURDAY, JUNE 29th
