committee have all plans complete for the informal program tonight. A "covered dish" banquet has been termed a Scotch treat affair, where each visiting couple contributes one or more "covered dishes" of food for the banquet table. Each Lion member is expected to escort his wife, sweetheart, sister, mother or friend to the meeting.

Sooner Kicks Wife Out Of Automobile Here Early Monday

Realizing that only two more days remained in which to fill out income tax forms, Sheriff H. H. Courtney was not greatly impressed when informed that an insane man had kicked his wife out of an automobile on Highway 70 early Monday. However, Sheriff Courtney investigated the report and found an aged couple, who declared they were from Oklahoma, engaged in a family affray. The woman tearfully explained that her husband had kicked her out of the automobile. She told Sheriff Courtney that her husband had been suffering from mental disorder and that she had hoped a little trip through the Panhandle would improve his condition.

Physical examination of the man disclosed him to be mentally unbalanced. A sedative was administered to produce drowsiness, that the man would not be dangerous, and the woman advised to drive back toward her home as rapidly as possible. The man's age was estimated at about 70 years. Their names were not disclosed.

TRIBUNE PASSES TENTH BIRTHDAY

Ten years ago Tuesday, March 14, the goodwill, name, subscription list and advertising of the Motley County News was purchased from G. C. Mitchell and the Matador Tribune assumed responsibility for publishing a county-seat weekly newspaper. The Motley County News name was absorbed by the Tribune. None of the present equipment was involved in the deal with Mr. Mitchell, altho the Babcock newspaper and a few other items were later acquired.

The Tribune purchased a new linotype and other needed equipment during 1934. The firm then consisted of a partnership of Howard Hamilton and Douglas Meador. The new enterprise floundered very close to bankruptcy during the drouth of 1934. The present publisher purchased Mr. Hamilton's "interest in the indebtedness" before the rains came in 1935.

During the period the plant has been almost completely re-equipped, and is recognized as one of the most modern small newspaper and commercial printing plants in the Panhandle. Paid circulation of the combined two newspapers in 1934 was less than one third of the present Tribune's paid circulation. The Tribune has won state and national distinction for articles appearing in its columns.

The Tribune conceived and born during the depression, has mirrored the sorrows, joys and dreams of the people of Motley county through one of the most distressing periods of the country's history. Since the advent of war it has become somewhat of a cooperative institution, for which it has a just pride. In passing this tenth milestone, the publisher desires to pay this tribute to readers and advertisers: The greatest asset the Tribune has today, or ever hopes to possess, is its friends.

Boy Scouts Hold Regular Meeting

Regular meeting of local Troop 60 of the American Boy Scouts was held at the hut Tuesday evening, March 14. Four visitors and 21 members were present.

After several games were played the troop was called into business session and Scribe W. Johnson explained the point system, which required full uniform and the scout being well-groomed.

James Garth was elected a leader and Bobby Harp selected bugle boy. Volunteers will meet Thursday after school to complete painting the metal trash bar, which will be placed on streets of Matador to aid in a campaign to keep the business section in a more attractive condition.

The troop joined scout E. Johnson in celebrating his birthday. His mother served refreshments of sandwiches and cake.

SING SONG TO MEET

Girard sing song (Dickens club) will meet at Duncan church, Sunday, March 19th 8 p. m., according to an announcement received by the Tribune from B. D. Clifton, president. Cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend.

Ens. T. E. Long Is Victim Of Crash

Man Jailed For Drunken-Driving

Cecil Lebow, about 30, operator of a junk yard in Plainview, was arrested and placed in jail here Saturday, after he had struck an automobile belonging to Gene Perkins and hit a truck across the highway belonging to Ed Jameson. A drunken-driving charge was filed against him. It is declared that damage to the Perkins' automobile may be in the neighborhood of $500. Damage to Mr. Jameson's truck was slight. Lebow was driving a Ford truck, accompanied by his father-in-law.

In Judge W. R. Cammack's court Monday, he pleaded guilty to the charge and admitted it was his second offense. He was fined $70.50 and his commercial operator's driving license revoked for one year.

Victory Gardens To Be Urged In Issue Of Tribune

Extra space in March 23rd issue of the Tribune will be devoted to Victory gardens, sponsored by Miss Lois Jo Bentley, county home demonstration agent. Various home demonstration clubs in the county have requested the Tribune to aid in the drive to create more interest in Victory gardens and advertising slanted toward that angle will be solicited. Miss Bentley has designated March 20th through the 25th as spring Victory garden week.

County Agent J. R. Emmons will also contribute articles on Victory gardens adaptable to this area of Texas.

Importance of home gardens is greater this year than ever before. Every article of food produced in the garden is both an economic and patriotic effort towards winning the war, since food may yet be the "secret weapon" which will decide the final victory and "write the peace." One garden could contribute very little to winning the war, but millions of victory gardens present a different picture. It represents a titanic amount of additional, healthful food produced and conserved so that the food which these millions of tables might have required, can be diverted to our men in uniform and our fighting allies.

Frank Hallford Seeks Office Of City Secretary

The Tribune is authorized to announce the name of J. F. (Frank) Hallford for the office of City Secretary, subject to the action of the Matador City election to be held April 4.

Mr. Hallford needs no introduction to the voters of his home community, having made his home here for twenty-five years. He has worked for the county about seven years, in road work and other phases of construction.

In making his announcement to run for public office, Mr. Hallford pledges his full-time support to the performance of his duties if elected.

"The vote and support of everyone will be greatly appreciated," he declared. "and I sincerely pledge my untiring efforts to fulfill the duties of the office to the satisfaction of all those who vote for me, in event I am placed in office."

Mrs. P. M. Gibble of Wichita, Kansas, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Alsop here.

OPA PRICE PANEL TO BEGIN STORE SURVEYS MONDAY

A drive to mobilize price control forces among retailers and consumers in Motley county will begin Monday, March 20, under the direction of the price panel of the county War Price and Rationing Board, price chairman C. W. Giesecke has announced. Local representatives will conduct a store survey of all food stores in the county.

Basic purpose of the store survey is to obtain better compliance with price control regulations, by helping dealers to understand the necessary requirements, Mr. Giesecke, declared. It will also serve to protect storekeepers and their customers from black market competition.

A second check beginning April 3 will determine whether storekeepers have corrected their errors. If found "out of line" during this second check, they must meet with rationing board officials. Deliberate violations will be referred to the OPA district office for immediate enforcement action, the statement declared.

In the first survey, ten "popular market-basket" foods will be checked for selling and ceiling prices. Rationing board representatives will visit 15 stores in the county to assist storekeepers by explaining the regulations and to aid in sign display and price list display, and to compare the retailer's selling prices with the OPA ceilings.

Registrants Again Warned To Report Changes In Work

Motley county registrants employed in agriculture or other work granting essential deferment are warned to notify their draft board immediately of any change in employment or address, by Ralph Stapleton, chairman of the Motley county draft board. "It is important to notify your draft board immediately of any change in employment," Mr. Stapleton, said, "and a registrant becomes delinquent when the board is not informed."

"A number of registrants engaged in farm work believe they may make changes to other farms and other addresses without the necessity of notifying the board. This is a mistake. Any change in farm work, altho employment may be at the same address, must be reported to the board. Any change in work or address must be reported to the board."

Algie Groves of Childress, visited his family here over the week-end.

Red Cross Goal Is Uncertain

With reports incomplete yesterday afternoon, B. F. Tunnell, chairman of the Motley county Red Cross War Fund drive, said that only the most energetic efforts by the soliciting force would result in putting the drive over the top during the three remaining days. "We have outlined a plan to contact every adult in the county, in this, the most important drive for funds ever to be conducted by the Red Cross," Mr. Tunnell, declared. "Never has the need been so great or so close to us personally, as it is in this call."

"It is unthinkable that Motley county will fail in this cause. It is imperative that everyone live up to his or her full obligation. Those who have not been solicited are asked to leave contributions at the First State Bank where the amount will be credited to the community where the donor is resident."

Soldiers Appreciate Red Cross

Lt. Bert Ezzell, former principal of the Matador High school, now with the armed forces in England, says in a letter to the Tribune, "I would like to recommend the Red Cross over here. They are really a help to the boys in every way they can. They provide billets for boys on pass or furlough and we can always find some American coffee, cokes and an American cooked meal (through the Red Cross)."

Feeds Prisoners Of War

Mrs. Ruby Webb, wife of Sgt. Ruby Webb who bailed out of his plane over Austria and became a German prisoner of war in December, has recently received a letter from her husband, declaring "We receive food and supplies through the Red Cross. If it were not for the Red Cross we would starve."

Incomplete returns show over $1,200 has been collected in Matador, but reports from other communities have not been received. The county quota is $2,700.

Local Poultryman Advances Project To Improve Flocks

Cost of feeding and raising quality chickens is less than inferior grades. Upon this simple, proven fact, Lewis Newman, local poultryman and expert on poultry raising, is devoting his life to the improvement of the quality of poultry in the state and particularly Motley county. At present Mr. Newman is projecting a plan to increase the interest of vocational agriculture students, Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members in his White Leghorn Breeding flock. He has mailed hundreds of letters and forms to agriculture teachers and leaders

Record Number Of Servicemen Begin Receiving Tribune

Yesterday the Tribune placed the largest number of servicemen names on its subscription list in any single week to begin receiving weekly copies of the home newspaper. A total of 25 new names and changes in addresses were made on stencils. More Tribunes are going overseas than ever before and most address changes are new APO addresses for servicemen who have recently been transferred to active battle fronts. Last week the Tribune received national recognition in "Publishers Auxiliary" a publisher's newspaper with 15,000 circulation, for its plan of sending gratis newspapers to men in the armed service. Tribune Editor Douglas Meador took issue with an Idaho publisher who declared it a "practical impossibility" to send the home paper to boys in service. The Tribune's answer was published in top, lead position on the front page of the Auxiliary and gave a full account of the plan which has been proven successful. Numerous letters from other publishers throughout the nation requesting more details have been received during the past week. The following unsolicited contributions have been received since last publication in support of the plan for sending the home paper to every man in uniform from Motley county, for which the Tribune extends sincere appreciation: Mrs. Lula Carpenter (Babbitt, Nevada) $1, Mrs. H. D. Marshall (Roaring Springs) 50c, Emmett Lawrence $3, Willis Cooper (Roaring Springs) $3, Ben Edwards $2, J. R. Garrett (Flomot) $1, E. E. Terry $2, Mrs. I. R. Browning (Whiteflat) $1.

Matador Parents Are Responsible For Delinquency Problems Declare Youth

That the parents of Matador are to be held responsible for delinquency problems which might arise in this community, was the outlying theme of a round-table discussion conducted by six students before the Matador Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday afternoon, March 10, in the library of the grade building.

These young people, pupils in Sociology class taught by Mrs. Chas. Keith, in one of the most unique and interesting programs ever presented before the organization, used as their subject, "Why Parents are to Blame for Delinquency". Participating in the discussion were Frances Seigler, Dorothy Nelson, Joyce Norrid, Donald Reeves, Don Paul Keith and George Doss.

The discussion, led by Miss Seigler, was opened with the question, "What is wrong with our parents", and "Why are parents blamed for most all juvenile delinquency?" The answers to these questions and many others concerning this subject were given by the students in a very frank and straight-forward manner, and expressed their true feelings about this vital subject.

Parents Lack Interest

According to these students, the parents of Matador lack interest in their young people; they do not provide entertainment because they do not want their floors and furniture ruined.

Parents are more interested in entertaining for themselves, and the parents who do take an interest in the affairs of the youth of the community, do not get the cooperation they deserve, the youth asserted.

Too many parents, they further pointed out, leave the directing of young people's organizations in the church and schools, to the pastor or to leaders without children.

The high school boys and girls should not be the subject of conversation or gossip for spending their leisure hours in the drug stores and cafes, visiting and playing juke boxes, they declared, since there aren't any other places provided for recreation.

Seemingly, the boys of this community have received better backing than the girls have in youth activities.

One of the strongest points advanced was that the adults of this community do not set an example of good behavior for the youth of the town, and they all agreed that Matador can develop a serious juvenile delinquency problem if the parents of the community continue to be indifferent and selfish toward the idea of entertainment for the young people.

Mrs. Tilson Presides

Included on the program was a vocal solo by Miss Elwanda Martin.

To The Prospective Supervisor:—

A question of fundamental importance to the future stability of a disturbed nation is the type of ideals animated from the personality of its youth.

Due to personal experience in the agricultural field I am particularly interested in the promotion of a balanced agriculture among the rural families, and have devoted more than six years effort, study, and research about the possibility of a poultry flock as a paying unit in their operation of a diversified live stock farm.

The chick growing contest offered to Vocational Students, Future Farmers of America, and to 4-H Club Members is only the first step in a plan (to begin when economic conditions indicate a favorable time after the war) to select a number of young men who are agriculturally minded and graduates of high school, permit them to obtain a college agricultural education suitable for their purpose by the sale of chicks from my breeding flocks, and also collect enough initial capital in the same way to buy a small farm through the Federal Land Bank, and organize a rural family co-operative for diversified live-stock farming composed only of such members, but with hope of improvement through future generations as a service to humanity.

Please let me hear from you in the business reply envelope which requires no postage. A comment on the agriculture situation as it relates to poultry in your community would be appreciated.

If your schedule permits a further study of poultry an order of chicks for an entry to the contest may conveniently be placed on the inclosed order blank.

The student who won the first prize purchased 100 chicks in April and reported $32.19 net returns on his project at the close of one year in time.

Yours very truly,

Lewis Newman

T. E. LONG IS...

There is no hope held for them. Since all the islands around here are friendly, Lt. Baker was as T. E. a clean living man and since they both were two of the best pilots in the squadron something dreadful must have gone wrong.

"The search was continued all night and all the next day, but nothing was found. I can say truthfully that it all happened so quick that, thank God, it was merciful.

"A very beautiful memorial service was held. The squadron had a plaque printed with the names of all in the crew. A small cross was formed with colored shells, surrounded by a white picket fence. Someone even planted flowers and there are two trees planted on either end. Pictures were taken of the ceremony. The Chaplain made a very impressive ceremony in his talk he mentioned, "Greater Love hath no man than he lay down his life for his friends."

"Ensign Casper and I went through T. E.'s clothes and personal belongings, packing them, then they will be shipped on home. We saved a few items which we will send on to you personally which we thought you would want for their sentimental significance. These were his bible, bill-fold, flight log book, his aviator ring, pictures, flight certificate and identification.

"T. E. was the best friend that I have ever had. He was the cleanest living, best-liked man in our whole squadron. I consider this as a great personal loss and I know that mere words are not enough to portray the esteem held for him by everyone that has had the privilege of coming in contact with him.

"If there is anything more you would like to know or anything at all I could do for you please let me know. I'm sure Casper and I both would welcome the opportunity of doing something for you. "If you would like we will come to see you on our return to the states—to bring you some of the pictures, souvenirs, etc. that T. E. had picked up that will not pass the censorship regulations.

"Everyone in the squadron joins me in sending personal regards and our most sincere sympathy. Please call on me if there is anything at all I can do."

Ensign Long was born at Groves, King County, Texas October 26, 1917. He moved with his parents to Roaring Springs where he spent most of his life. He was converted to the Baptist church in his early teens. He graduated from the Roaring Springs high school, class of '34 and attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock, for two years. He enlisted in the Navy Air Corps on June 17, 1942 at Grand Prairie. He received his basic training at Grand Prairie and received his wings as a bomber pilot at Corpus Christi about a year ago. He was sent to Sanford, Florida to remain until June 1943 and then transferred to Alameda, California. He sailed for Hawaii and overseas service on November 14, 1943.

Church Leader Is Scheduled Sunday

H. P. Clemons, associational president of the Floyd Baptist Brotherhood, is scheduled to speak at the Roaring Springs Baptist church at 11 a. m. Sunday, March 19, according to an announcement by Rev. S. W. Badgett, pastor. All men of the church are urged to hear Mr. Clemons. Rev. Badgett will conduct the 8 p. m. evening services.

Beginning Sunday, a three-course Sunday school study course will be conducted regularly each Sunday. The general public is extended a cordial invitation to attend services.

MILL IRON BUYS PRIZE BULLS AT NATIONAL SHOW

Still building on his great herd of registered Hereford cattle, Lafayette M. Hughes recently paid $32,500 for the reserve grand champions and the first prize junior bulls shown at the famous National Western Stock show in Denver. These bulls will be delivered to the Mill Iron Ranch early in April.

It is another evidence of the fact that the Mill Iron intends to spare no expense in building a herd that will appeal to commercial cattlemen by providing quality, quick maturing and uniform herd bulls that will sell at a reasonable price.

This consistent type-breeding program has already brought credit to Mill Iron. Following the trail set by Colorado Domino 697, whose offsprings have already brought fame to Mill Iron breeding, there have gone hundreds of daughters of "Colorado Type" bloodlines established by Dominator, Dandy Domino 2, Mischief Mixer 28, and developed by their great descendants. On the Cottonwood, and other units of the Mill Iron located in Collingsworth, Hall and Cottle Counties, they have acclimated themselves, carried their blocky usable cattle-man's type of cattle into their adopted country.

Twelve out of the 15 Reserve Grand Champions and first prize junior bulls at the 1944 Denver show were sired by Colorado Domino E 10; but the significant fact that cattlemen are noting is that several of the herd bulls now in service on the Mill Iron were sired by this same outstanding bull.

The Mill Iron breeding is a skillful mating and crossing of two great cattle families—the Domino Family and the Beau Mischief family. The combination has given far better results than if the line had been confined to Domino and Beau Mischief alone. But the proof of the pudding is in the eating and Mill Iron bulls have lived up to their reputation even when used on commercial herds; for their get has been remarkably uniform—producing a Hereford that was sturdy on the range and smooth and fast maturing in the feedlot.

Many cattlemen believe that Mr. Hughes' decision to sell these quality bulls at prices that would appeal to commercial cattlemen is one that will eventually make the

Mr. Newman's White Leghorn Breeding flock embraces some of the finest White Leghorn chickens in the world, produced under ideal care and brought up to a high standard of perfection. Last April one student purchased 100 of his breeding flock baby chicks and realized a net profit of $32.19 from his investment. Reproduction of a letter which Mr. Newman is mailing 2,000 supervisors is reprinted elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune.
