TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

While beauty may be in the eye of the beholder, the ability to require no special qualification for immediate recognition.

Standing over his last, the maker's skilled fingers had created a masterpiece that were a joy to owners. It was an unschooled man, his knowledge was so great that only life could have been a tutor. His poverty would have been pathetic except for his kindness and his wealth of laughter; he wore a smile like a blaster for his soul. If silver chains are ringing on the golden days of eternity, they are set to boots fashioned by his hands; boots into which a little of his heart had gone.

My thoughts keep returning to Memphis by the moving sea of the Mississippi. I liked the famous Peabody hotel from the first instant my eyes caught its splendor and measured the gorgeous lobby. In the maze of memory I was unable to depart from the same door twice in a session, but found all four equally interesting. The most unusual feature of the unguarded palace is the fountain in the lobby where five ducks swim with the lack of concern that only ducks possess. I was impressed by the influence the ducks might have on guests holding the spirit cup too long and too often; their presence, perhaps, caused many to turn to the more plentiful beverage of water. I studied the aqueous fowls with deep concern and decided the surroundings were no more unusual to them than to me.

While street is not a street. It is an avenue, and, except for the famous song which bears its name, would have remained just another thoroughfare through which life moves, heavy with its hopes, dreams and fears.

Colorful and a part of the charm of the friendly city, was the grey-haired negro, riding on the spring seat of his one-horse team, singing, as he bounced over the cobblestones. The wagon was partly filled with corn and the deep, rich voice announced that he was for sale.

The air of Memphis is sweet and pungent with spicy odors. Good food is plentiful and inexpensive. There is little rush on the crowded streets; the pace of the slow-moving river has been inherited by the City.

Twenty years have mellowed the beauty of a Memphis fountain which was erected in 1863, and which is to cast its shadows upon the park which it adorns. The trees were swelling on the Magdalen trees and green blades of grass had pushed their way through the carpet of brown leaves. Leaning on the fountain were a handsome, well-dressed young man watched the falling water. There was a sadness in his dark eyes that spoke of a ache which finds no comfort except in solitude. Generations hurt with love must have passed on the same rail and reached the fountain. Others thought him must have come to the park in the clean light of a morning to let time heal the scars of hasty words and broken promises.

Light had buried the little under piles of darkness and the remote street lights seemed futile as they reined against the winter sun. Somewhere in the low ebb of buildings was the newspaper shop which without an owner. There again in the thought. Small newspapers are like children that are to be

GERTRUDE NELSON IS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TREASURER

The Tribune is authorized to announce the candidacy of Mrs. Gertrude Nelson for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on July 27.

Mrs. Nelson is well-known over the county, and needs no introduction to the voters, having made her home here, with the exception of a few years, for most of her life. For a number of years she has held responsible positions in this community.

In making her announcement, Mrs. Nelson stated, "I believe that I am capable and qualified to fill the office of County Treasurer of Motley County, and will appreciate the vote and support of everyone during my campaign. Although I have never held public office, I have had experience in business administration, which I feel will enable me to handle the affairs of this office in a satisfactory manner, if elected.

"I pledge to the voters of Motley County, my time and energy in fulfilling the duty of office, if you should see fit to elect me your County Treasurer, and in such a manner as to warrant your confidence."

Law Breakers Are Fined And Jailed

Justice ruled with an iron hand Saturday as law offenders and traffic violators were arrested and fined by Boy Scout officials, representing the "law". One miscreant chose to serve a jail term rather than pay a fine.

Four colored boys were fined for spitting on the sidewalks. Charged with stealing a bicycle and concealing it in the courthouse, Fred Bourland entered a plea of "not guilty", but lost this case in court before "Judge" Don Wason, was convicted and paid a fine. Three ex-convicts, Norman Harp, Raldo James and McElton Skaggs were among those arrested and paying fines for traffic violations. Garner Sarge, new candy salesman here, resisted arrest for traffic offense, and served his term in jail.

These and many others "paid off" to the tune of $121.45, all of which goes into the scout treasury.

SCHOOL CONDUCTS CAMPAIGN FOR AMARILLO TIMES

A campaign is being conducted by the students of Matador High School to secure subscriptions to the Amarillo Times.

The proceeds of the movement will be used to purchase new athletic equipment for the Matador Matadors.

The support and cooperation of the community will be greatly appreciated by the school.

Due to the acute shortage of newsprint, very few daily papers are being offered to new subscribers. The Amarillo Times still accepts new subscriptions. The Times is a tabloid daily paper, and carries features and comics by well-known authors and artists.

Norman Lipham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lipham, received special recognition at the Father-Son banquet last Thursday, for an act of heroism which last summer saved the life of W. E. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Russell.

Norther Brings Snow

Shirt-sleeved denizens of Matador, enjoying 60-degree weather Tuesday took to their coats late in the evening as the north wind led go with an icy blast of rain which subsided during the night, only to return with a snow flurry early Wednesday. ## Parents-Children Meetings Aid Better Understanding

TWO annual meetings held in Matador last week will long serve as an agent to cement a better understanding between fathers and sons and mothers and daughters. Ninth annual Father-Son banquet sponsored by the Matador Lions Club, Thursday night and the eighth annual Mother-Daughter banquet, sponsored by the Matador Parent-Teacher association, Friday night, broke previous records in attendance and interest. Outstanding speakers in youth work, Cal Farley of Amarillo, and Mrs. H. F. Godeke of Lubbock, made the feature addresses on programs of the respective meetings. Acclaim of both parents and their boys and girls attest to the outstanding success of the meetings, which have grown year by year.

Mrs. Godeke Tells Of Women's Place In Building Future

Centering her address around the theme, "The Family Builds The Future", Mrs. H. F. Godeke of Lubbock, prominent leader in Federated clubs and Parent-Teacher organizations, traced the heritage of womanhood thru traditions of the past as she spoke to the mothers and daughters at their banquet Friday night, with reference to their part in building the future.

With a Biblical foundation for her remarks, Mrs. Godeke pointed to the fact that it is woman's place to preserve the family and lift the race. She suggested that happiness in the home was a most important factor, and that work, cooperation, discipline and training were essential toward creating a happy home.

Since war has weakened the bonds of many homes, Mrs. Godeke admonished her listeners that women must reconstruct the family, restore security and reinforce peace for posterity's sake.

Mrs. Godeke was introduced to the group by Mrs. J. L. Adams, of Crosbyton, president

Farley's Hand Is Called By Sooner Who Resents Talk

Cal Farley of Amarillo, one of the nation's outstanding leaders in boys work, plunged into trouble soon after he started his address in the Baptist church basement Thursday night. He began by making disparaging remarks about the state of Oklahoma and people from Oklahoma, and backed by Dory Getton, an ex-wrestler, challenged anyone to take exceptions to what he was saying. Far back in the crowded banquet room, a white-faced man arose and accepted the challenge to his home state. Excited words passed and the stranger started towards the speaker. For Ah—a capitalist!

Now—it's just a penny in a piggy bank. But soon his piggy will be full. Then the pennies will be taken to a real saving bank.

The bank will put his pennies to work. Some of these pennies almost certainly will be invested in electric utility securities. Financial institutions, including insurance companies, prefer such securities because sound, thrifty business management has made them a steady, dependable investment—as dependable as electric service itself.

So, the little boy has a personal stake in the electric service industry. Practically every American has—millions of people as direct stockholders, other millions of citizens as savings depositors and life insurance owners.

This is the American private initiative economic system. It's called capitalism. It's a good system. It helped make America great. It produced to save the world. It had more electric power in service than all sources of electric power of all enemy countries combined. And it will continue to open doors of opportunity for all little boys and girls with piggy banks.

New Idea In Trench Silos

College Station—Hay bales will buttress the 1945 silage crop of a Childress County ranchman.

J. M. Crews had planned to concrete the sides of his six trench silos which are located on sandy soil. But forms not being available he sought the advice of County Agricultural Agent V. E. Hafner for another method of housing. Taking the most convenient material, they walled in an above-ground space with baled hay, and through October Mr. Crews had placed 300 tons into this space. Hafner says he will have about 1,000 tons by the end of the season.

The silage placed between the hay-bale walls is not covered as is the practice with feed stored in under-ground trenches. Mr. Crews believes that spoilage will be less this way than if the silage were covered by dirt, Hafner says.

Feed Date For Submitting To State: November, December

The A.A.A. office reminds producers that February 28 is the final date for reporting all evidence of sales made during October, November and December, 1940. All evidence of sales for January, February and March, 1941 are not eligible for payment until April 1, 1941. ### Food: Ministry Gets

The Food Ministry should be partly proud of their first Church of Christ which has appeared before several town and committee, giving excellent conditions of service, clean and popular soup. The organization certainly gave an excellent performance at Memphis on Monday morning. It is good that the girls will be called upon for a program of the A.A.A. community meetings and also at Farm Bureau meetings. These responsible for the existence of this splendid organization are to be commended.

TIPS FOR THE COOK

Graves should be well cooked and seasoned to be tasty.

Best cottage and sliced apples cooked together make a palatable dish.

Suppose the juice of a lemon over the plaster of steak and onion and notice the improved flavor.

Substitute milk instead of water when making your tart. Let it grow and see if you are not pleased with the change.

A pint of vanilla or peach ice cream may be divided into four or five portions and give the plain sliced peaches a festive air for company.

Farley's Hand . . .

a few moments it appeared that the usual tranquil annual father-son banquet was going to be marred. It soon developed that the angry "Sooner" was Sam Hunter, or "Stuttering Sam", star of Mr. Farley's daily radio show, "planted" in the audience. The crowd relaxed and laughed.

Mr. Farley told of his experience with "Boy's Ranch" at Old Tascosa, which was recently filmed by MGM into a motion picture, at a profit of $10,000 to the internationally-known organization. He said the best way to reach boys is to teach them to cooperate with others. Boy's ranch is composed of boys who are underprivileged and who have had trouble with the law.

Boy's Ranch was started eight years ago by a group of Amarillo business men headed by Mr. Farley. Through donations of land and cattle, it now has a property value of $200,000, maintains its own school, teachers and coach. Sales of 3,200 last year were $8,000 and the ranch's irrigated land. During the month of October an average of four boys per day were turned away from the ranch because of the need of room and care. Boys from nine states and Canada are located on the ranch and being restored to their places in society. Albuquerque, New Mexico has started a Boys Ranch for the entire state. Mr. Farley declared.

Interesting Program
Following the "chuck-wagon" banquet, the well-planned program developed rapidly with Scout Norman Spray as Master of Ceremonies, songs led by J. R. Whitworth and invocation by Rev. H. G. Verner. Address of welcome was made by Boss Lion J. R. Emmons and Scout benediction was led by district Scout executive G. M. Unger of Lubbock.

Piano music was furnished during the banquet by Harry Lee Morris.
Mr. Unger, introduced by Scout Billy Ray Neighbors, conferred special recognition on Norman Lipham for having saved the life of W. E. Russell last summer.
A. G. Reader, also a Lubbock Scout executive accompanied Mr. Unger here, and Judge Henry Bishop of Amarillo, former pioneer Motley county resident, accompanied Mr. Farley's group here for the banquet.

Mrs. Keith Toastmistress

Musical entertainment during the banquet was furnished by Mrs. G. E. Hamilton, Sue Lancaster, Shirley Estes, Earlene Laughlin, Dorothy Woodruff, Frances Schweitzer, Betty Price, and Jolene Bloodworth. Also appearing on the program, impromptu, was a solo by Mrs. William R. Adams, accompanied by Mrs. J. L. Adams at the piano.

The delicious banquet menu consisted of chicken salad, potato salad, Harvard beets, spiced apples, rolls, pie a la mode, cocoa, and coffee.

estate. Exploration, mountain climbing and rock rolling were among activities enjoyed by the boys. Each scout prepared his noon meal, or was a member of a party who, together, prepared the meal. All scouts were free to explore in any direction they chose, only requirement being that each have one or more buddies accompany him.
"We are indebted to the superintendent and principals of the Matador schools in releasing the boys from their studies so they might attend the hike", Mr. Hamilton declared.
