Govt. Funds Rushed Into Drouth Area

Preparations Made To Care For 200,000 Families Immediately

WASHINGTON, July 10. (UP)—Government relief officials, acting under "rush" orders from President Roosevelt, today pushed distribution of millions of dollars among more than 1,000,000 persons rendered destitute by drouth-caused crop failures.

WPA and resettlement administration, officials pooled resources in an effort to alleviate distress among the worst stricken areas. More than 200,000 families were to be cared for immediately.

Acting AAA Administrator J. B. Hutson estimated nearly 5,000,000 individuals were directly affected by the drouth.

WPA officials plan to have 25,000 destitute family-heads at work on emergency projects—well-digging, farm-to-market roads, and water conservation plans—by tonight, earning an average of $15 per week.

Resettlement administration officials announced allocation of $380,000 for distribution as emergency grants through six stricken states, and laid plans to put into immediate effect a broad drouth relief program as soon as President Roosevelt allocates money to resettlement.

Assistant WPA Administrator Aubrey Williams, acting in the absence of Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, said his organization's relief efforts would be concentrated in the northwest spring wheat belt for the present—the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming and Minnesota.

Williams said persons given employment will be kept on WPA rolls until snow will make work impossible, in hope they will be able to accumulate a surplus to carry them through until next spring. More men will be added to the projects, he said, until at least 55,000 are employed.

The resettlement administration's $393,000 emergency allocation was distributed as follows: North Dakota, $125,000; South Dakota, $150,000; Kansas, $50,000; Nebraska, $20,000; Montana, $35,000; and Wyoming, $13,000.

Unemployed employables, held off of WPA rolls by decreasing quotas for the past several months, may be re-certified now under a slight increase in quota given the district.

While it appeared problematical just how many could be returned to the rolls, it was apparent that several who are in need would be certified if they apply through NRS.

As the first WPA period neared its end, it became necessary to shave quotas, and as workers found other employment they were dropped from the rolls, and barred from returning. The new set up calls for shorter hours on projects and consequently more men. To meet this condition, the district was given a slight raise in labor quota.

Some additional trucks and a d team will be hired for WPA projects at a prevailing rate for the type of equipment and on a rotating basis provided the owner of the truck or team is the driver. Relief certification is not a necessary qualification for employment.

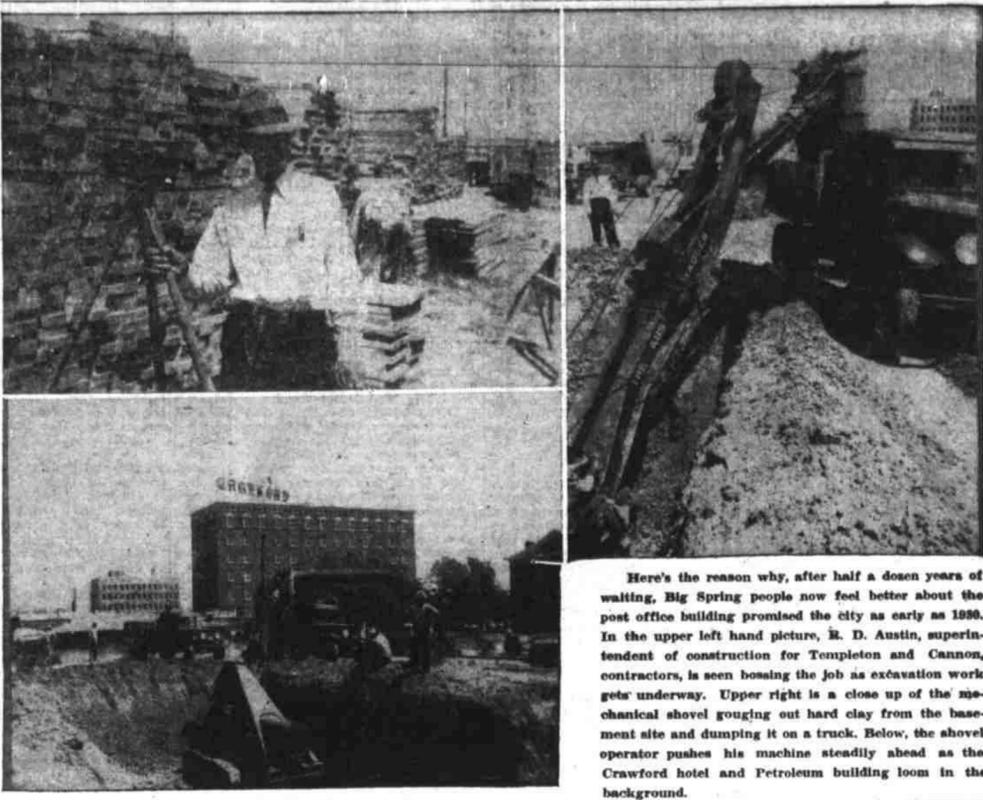

J. A. Pruitt, director of operations, will handle the hiring of trucks and teams, R. H. McNew, district director, said.

He said the program submitted to him contains many comparatively small projects, and that he hopes to begin approving projects within a week.

WASHINGTON, July 10. (UP)—President Roosevelt said today that 50 million dollars of public works projects submitted to him had been held up to determine how many workers could be taken off relief.

He said that would be one factor in making allocations. The chief executive added that the PWA was checking on projects to see how many workers had been removed from the relief rolls.

AS WORK PROGRESSES ON NEW POSTOFFICE BUILDING

Here's the reason why, after half a dozen years of waiting, Big Spring people now feel better about the post office building promised the city as early as 1930. In the upper left hand picture, R. D. Austin, superintendent of construction for Tompleton and Cannon, contractors, is seen bosing the job as excavation work gets underway. Upper right is a close up of the mechanical shovel gouging out hard clay from the basement site and dumping it on a truck. Below, the shovel operator pushes his machine steadily ahead as the Crawford Hotel and Petroleum building loom in the background.

ETHIOPIANS CAPTURE POINT ON RAILROAD

PARIS, July 10. (AP)—Ethiopians have taken complete possession of Mojojo, 30 miles southeast of Addis Ababa, the newspaper L'Oeuvre reported here today.

By occupation of that center, the Ethiopians cut the railroad connection between the capital city and Djibouti, French Somaliland, the paper declared.

The news account said one of two armored trains which left Addis Ababa for Mojojo was derailed and that the second was forced to return after escaping an attack in which many Italian soldiers were killed.

CUERO, July 10. (AP)—Five convicts headed by Mac Swain, member of the notorious Charley Frazier gang, escaped the DeWitt county jail here today, Swain using a "gun" fashioned from soap to force the jail janitor to open the cell.

Swain freed John Mitchell, Joe Snyder, Eli Nobles, and Theo Garcia, convicted on various charges and under sentences ranging from three to 10 years. The men fled on foot.

Swain, captured recently after escaping the state prison farm, was brought here and tried for automobile theft. He was given five years.

HUNTSVILLE, July 10.—Roy Curry, life term murderer and robber, escaped from the central prison farm at Sugarland late yesterday and was being sought in the vicinity of Conroe after having commandeered two automobiles in his dash for freedom.

Warden W. W. Wald was informed that the convict jumped in a car with a man, his wife and baby near Stafford, Texas, and forced them to drive him to a point near Conroe.

There, Wald said, the automobile asked the convict to take the baby's bottle into a store to be filled with milk. The convict complied with the request and the driver of the car hurriedly notified officers.

Meanwhile, the escaped convict commandeered a second automobile in which two women were riding and forced them to drive him several miles from Conroe. There he left the car and fled through dense underbrush.

Britain Will Spend More On Armament

Ten Million Added To Fund For National Defense

LONDON, July 10. (UP)—Accelerating its armaments program, the British government today appropriated nearly $10,000,000 to be spent on national defense this year.

The total national defense budget for the year was brought to $941,018,500, with newly announced supplementary estimates for the three fighting services totaling $85,263,500.

More than half of the supplementary appropriation was required for the air force. Provision was made also for ordnance factories.

The new supplementary estimates provided $58,500,000 for the air force, $33,000,000 for the navy and $1,468,500 for the army's royal ordnance factories.

These new expenditures will be added to $791,255,000 provided for defense in Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain's budget and to $51,500,000 for supplementary naval estimates sanctioned by parliament two months ago.

The government stated that additional money for the air force, as provided in today's supplementary estimates, is needed wholly to implement the policy in connection with air defense requirements.

In a statement accompanying the new estimates Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, recalled that a previous white paper said it was necessary to expedite new naval construction at a more rapid rate than in recent years in order to render the navy capable of fulfilling its functions under all circumstances.

Additional expenditures for the army include $6,200,000 for special measures in connection with the Mediterranean situation created by the Italo-Ethiopian war and $25,000,000 for the prevailing Palestine emergency.

WASHINGTON, July 10. (UP)—The drouth began to reach the pocketbook of the American housewife today. The increase in commodity prices at the corner grocery was not great, but the threat of a sharp upturn in the cost of table necessities is real and imminent.

Grocers in virtually all of 15 cities where a United Press survey was made agreed that food prices are increasing, but they said the rise is seasonal and cannot be laid to the drouth. All warned, however, that the full effect of the blight a blazing sun and searing wind is laying over the country will be noticed soon in counter prices.

Already it is noted in the vegetable markets, where a scarcity of

Three Are Put To Death At Texas Prison

One Faces Firing Squad In Utah, Another Dies In Gas Chamber

(By the Associated Press) The law in four states took the lives of six murderers last night and today, by firing squad, lethal gas chamber and electric chair.

Delbert Green was trussed in a chair at Salt Lake City and shot by a squad of riflemen for the slaying of his wife, her mother and foster-father.

Frank Rascon died in the gas chamber at Florence, Ariz., for the murder of a fellow ranch worker. Three Die In Texas

The electric chair at Huntsville claimed the life of Grady Warren, sentenced in a holdup slaying; and Mack and Oscar Brown, negro brothers convicted in a murder.

John Collins, who married after his conviction, was electrocuted at Sing Sing prison, Ossining, New York, for a tavern holdup slaying. Green went to his death in Utah after a last-minute appeal for a stay of execution.

Twice in his six-year fight for life reprieves had saved him on the eve of execution, so yesterday he sought another stay. He penned a letter which was carried to Gov. Henry H. Blood, but the governor took no action.

Writes Note "If by letting the state of Utah take my life would bring back my loved ones I would gladly say go ahead," wrote the 28-year-old convict, who in 1930 killed his girl-wife, her mother and her foster-father in a jealous rage.

"But this can't be. And I do not to this day remember firing a single shot..." In the Huntsville penitentiary, a man who had won a stay of execution saw Grady Warren and the two negroes walk to their death. He was Glenn Warren, who alternately was gay and somber as he considered a 21-day reprieve granted yesterday by Governor Allred, with its stern promise of no further interference after that lapse.

Grady Warren was sentenced to death for the slaying of E. C. Brown near Tyler on New Year's eve 1933. He was said to have beaten Brown over the head repeatedly with an iron bolt.

The first conviction was reversed and a second trial was held in Up-ton county. The Brown brothers were convicted of a brutal murder at Edna a year ago. They were said to have lured Byron Belchner, filling station operator, from his station with the pretext they wanted him to repair their automobile, and to have robbed and murdered him.

HATTIESBURG, Miss., July 10. (AP)—A home motion picture film caught fire from a lighted cigarette and brought death to three children here today. Four others were seriously burned.

The film was ignited during an amateur show. Twenty youngsters were around the machine when it caught fire. The blaze spread quickly to the clothing of the nearest children.

The dead were Raymond Kahler, 6; Marvin Massengale, 7; and Bobby Fisher, 6.

State Official Is Killed In 7-Story Plunge At Tyler

John Pope Leaps From Hotel Room While Bed Is Afire

TYLER, July 10. (AP)—John Q. Pope, Jr., assistant attorney general of Texas, fell to his death today from his seventh-floor hotel room after authorities decided a burning cigaret ignited his bed, impelling his plunge out of the window.

It was believed that Pope fell asleep with a cigaret in his hand, that the bed caught fire and the flames awoke him, and that before he realized what he was doing he jumped through the window.

Neck Broken His body struck a porch of the hotel, breaking his neck. Accompanied by Mrs. Patricia Pope, his bride of seven months, Pope, 29, left Austin for Tyler yesterday. His wife stopped in Temple to visit relatives and he came on here.

Pope was to have represented the state in a law suit set to begin Monday.

He had been serving under Attorney-General William McCraw.

Distribution Of Commodities Is Being Continued

With a staff cut to three persons, the state relief commission is still carrying on the work of distributing commodities to unemployed.

All monetary aid to relief constituents are discontinued as of June 30, leaving the task of caring for these destitute up to local communities seeking for such aid as the state commission can give in the form of commodities.

Mrs. Ora Wood, district director for the commission, said the policy of the commission has not been definitely outlined since the change of July 1.

Commodities are actually distributed by WPA, she pointed out, but the work is still handled through the commission.

The district staff now consists of Mrs. Wood, her assistant, and a case worker stationed in Lamesa.

Milburn McCarty, Eastland, vice president, and Bauden will explain the exhibits and McCarty, chairman of the exhibit board of control, will present the displays to Mayor Jarvis, president of the WTCC. Jarvis then will present them to the board of control of the frontier show.

McCarty will preside at a West Texas banquet that night at the Fort Worth club.

Bauden and McCarty, in letters sent to directors, said: "Our exhibit, portraying our major resources, telling our unbelievable stories of development and possibilities and advertising our cities and counties, is, we believe, the one and only answer to Mrs. Roosevelt's very pertinent question on what is being done to show Texas development and resources. Our exhibits, motion pictures, souvenir booklets, together with the Will Rogers living room display, have a potential worth to West Texas of hundreds of thousands of dollars."

Mrs. and Mrs. Hilo Hatch and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parks are visiting in California for two weeks.

'Safety Lane' Tests Slated In B'Spring

Highway Dept. Caravan Will Be In City On July 27 And 28

A schedule of "safety lane" tests of automobiles in West Texas, under direction of the courtesy caravan of the Texas highway department, lists July 27 and 28 as the dates for Big Spring. The first safety tests for the district will begin next Tuesday, July 14, in Edinger, and will continue in ten other cities and towns, concluding in Albany on August 19. Captain S. O. Hamm of the state highway patrol is in charge of tests in this district.

The purpose of the safety lane tests, a part of a statewide educational courtesy program being conducted by the department of public safety, through the highway department, is to make the motorist "safety conscious," and to stress the fact that an automobile free from defects not only makes it safer for the driver, but for other motorists also. The safety tests are not compulsory.

Checked In 60 Seconds Similar tests, in the experimental stage, were conducted in West Texas last year. Since that time, tests have been speeded up, so that now a car goes through the safety lane in 60 seconds, and is checked for brakes, muffler, lights, horn, steering, and windshield wiper. Pink stickers are put on cars found to be defective on any of these points, while a blue sticker signifies that a car passed the inspection in every detail.

A cream colored courtesy car will be furnished by the highway department, with radio and loud-speaker equipment, to use in connection with the work. Local highway patrolmen and traffic officers will assist in giving the tests.

Dates for the tests in this district besides Big Spring are as follows:

- Ballinger, July 14-15. Coleman, July 17-18. Brownwood, July 21-22. Abilene, August 10, 11 and 12. Sweetwater, August 14-15. Stamford, August 17-18. Anson, August 19. Colorado, August 21-22. Cisco, August 24-25. Breckenridge, August 26-27. Albany, August 29.

BIG SOVIAL Ted Cox, former Tulase coach and now of Oklahoma A. & M., visited friends here yesterday and made a point of seeing the Flowers boys. Cox has had an eye on Bob Flowers for several years and is also interested in Sam. He stopped here last year on his way to the Texas Tech coaching school. He is being taking part in a coaching school at Stillwater, Okla., and left this morning for the west coast. Dr. M. H. Bennett and Ted Cox are great friends.

COX BRANDED Bob Flowers as a fine college football prospect after coaching him for the all-star high school football game played in Dallas last year.

OILERS CARD GAME WITH AMHERST INDEPENDENTS

PAYNE TO CHUNK FOR REFINERS

(By HANK HART) Bouncing one of the best aggregations in the Panhandle, having lost only two games in 14 starts, the Amherst Independents will attempt to mark up their thirteenth victory of the year Sunday at the expense of the Big Spring Oilers.

It will be heavy-hitting Payne's job to stop the North Texans.

The Amherst contingent will have the advantage of playing in their own ballpark and will have the ace of their pitching corps, "Lefty" Hambright, to chunk at the local batters.

Hambright joined the Amherst team after the Odessa Broncs disbanded and has been doing quite well as an Amherst pitcher. The sight of the grandstand and the fence around the Amherst park may give the locals a bit of stage fright as they have become accustomed to playing in the wide open spaces, but Skipper Henning and his crew shouldn't have much trouble running into fences. Last season 16,300,000 square inches of fair territory... Bud Parmelee, St. Louis Cardinals' pitcher, attributes his improved work this season to his abstinence from coffee and tobacco... Washington To The Races

BALTIMORE, July 10. (UP)—Judging from newly-discovered evidence, the horse racing fever gripped Marylanders almost from the beginning of the colony, many years before the revolutionary war. A silver bowl presented to the Baltimore museum of art proves beyond doubt that the kingly pastime flourished at Annapolis in the early 1700's. The piece of silver was wrought by John Inch as a trophy for a subscription race run "4-May 1743" at the Colonial Center of Society and Culture.

ITALY BATTLES PESTILENCE AS FIRST TASK IN CARVING MODERN ETHIOPIAN COLONY

ADDIS ABABA, July 10. (UP)—The early prediction that tropical diseases and climatic conditions would make the Italian armies impotent while Ethiopians thrived under conditions to which they were accustomed has proved wrong. The reverse has in fact been true.

Prof. Aldo Castellani, medical inspector general of the Italian army, discoverer of tetra vaccine and expert on tropical diseases, told the United Press that "the health of the Italian army today is as good as it was a year ago when first mobilized."

Ethiopians are now going to receive the same medical and prophylactic advantages which the Italian army enjoyed, but more than that, the power of government is placed behind missions and mission hospitals in an effort to bring health and cleanliness to this nation.

Sanitation Force Created
Prof. Castellani has made plans for sanitation and hospitalization in Addis Ababa. The plans are being placed in operation by Viceroy Graziani. Civil department of sanitation has been created, with an obstetric office, laboratory and veterinary officer. Free ambulance service and free wards for both Europeans and natives have been established, and wards for infectious cases have been set apart.

Of all the foreign hospitals in the city only the United Presbyterian and American Loper Hospital were permitted to continue independent activity. This is in recognition of their excellent organization and a token of friendship for America.

The correspondent recalls what he had seen and heard of the Ethiopian army. He remembers sick, starved wretches who struggled through Addis on their way home. At least 20 per cent were sick or wounded, while many of the others could scarcely plod along. They told tales of suffering, saying that thousands were lying along the road completely exhausted and dying. Of the sick, more than half were suffering from dysentery. Many of these died within a week.

Scurvy Constantly Feared
At one time in Addis Ababa everyone who could was squeezing limes for juice to relieve the scurvy that was sweeping the southern army. Epidemics of smallpox crippled Mulu Gueta's army while on the way north. The hospital at Dessale was overcrowded with pneumonia cases—the disease contracted while sleeping blankets on the cold, high plateaus with their bitter night winds. Women and children by the thousands went with the armies. Only a few returned. Soldiers said diseases had finished them.

The dread typhus traveled from camp to camp, claiming its victims in the course of a few days. Malaria and relapsing fever were common. Red Cross doctors vainly strove to meet the need, but could only serve small areas. Sickness, cold, hunger, and Italians—these defeated the Ethiopian army.

Prof. Castellani's tale of health precautions and success of measures taken is in striking contrast to the tale of Ethiopian misery.

Lemons Rationed to Armies
He said, "there was not a single case of scurvy in the Italian armies north or south, because we gave them lemons regularly. In the Ogaden the men received a lemon every two days and in the north two in a week."

Malaria was held in check by giving each soldier three quinine tablets daily. There were few cases, but the disease was always under control.

Malaria has been the scourge of white armies fighting in the tropics. This was the first major tropical campaign where effectiveness was not reduced by it. American and British forces in the Spanish-American and Boer wars was unknown in Italian camps due to the use of tetra vaccine.

Camps Kept Sanitary
Dysentery, which ravaged the Ethiopian forces, sparing neither natives, Red Cross doctors or journalists, was rare among the Italians. "We had not a single case of death from dysentery," declared Prof. Castellani. Health officers policed the Italian camps and enforced rules for sanitation.

In addition there were less than six cases of relapsing fever; there was no cholera plague or leprosy.

Parole Plan Defended By Gov. Allred

Clemencies Always Have Been Granted On Merit Alone, He Asserts

PALESTINE, July 10.—Under the "clemency-by-merit-only" policy of the Allred administration, not a single one of the 956 men granted paroles or pardons has committed a serious crime since his release warranting re-imprisonment, Governor James V. Allred asserted here Thursday night.

"I believe the state can make successful investments in humanity by the careful exercise of the power of parole," he said. "The governor's review of the record on his pardon and parole policy was given during a speech on the Anderson county courthouse lawn."

Much of the credit for the success of the Allred policy was given to the voluntary parole board system, which was inaugurated by him and whose convict rehabilitation work has attracted national attention.

"As a candidate for governor two years ago I told people I believed in a liberal clemency policy," Governor Allred said, "but I also promised them that clemency would be based upon merit and merit alone."

"I am proud of the record I have made in this respect. I have granted eight full pardons, 49 conditional pardons and 899 general paroles, a total of 956 clemencies."

"I am happy to report to you that under this merit system not a single one of the men to whom I have extended clemency has committed a serious offense since his release." Practically all of the clemencies granted by Allred were based on recommendations of the board of pardon advisers, the governor said. He explained the operations of the volunteer parole board system and the work it is doing.

"When I went in as governor I found that the state had no method of dealing with men who were granted conditional clemency, no system of keeping check on their whereabouts, no system of manifesting any concern in them," he said. "Small wonder it is that under such a lack of system men unable to find jobs shortly returned to crime."

"I am proud of the voluntary parole boards I have inaugurated in nearly every county in Texas, whereby outstanding citizens have been drafted for service. When a convict is granted a parole under this administration he is ordered to report to one of these parole boards at such times and places as the members may see fit to direct. He parole is subject to revocation at the governor's discretion."

Oldster Who Married Young Girl May Have Earned More Pension

AUSTIN, July 10. (UP)—Oscar Crawford, 66-year-old Colorado county farmer, who recently married Lydia Havermann, 16, may have increased his income by so doing, or he may have lost it entirely.

Crawford married Miss Havermann in Columbus on the day that he received his first old age assistance check from the state. The check was for $13.

"There is a possibility that his pension check may be increased," Orville S. Carpenter, old age assistance director, said here. "Since he is married he now shares his property with his wife. Thus his income is only half as much."

This is the first of such cases to arise since distribution of the checks was begun July 1. Section two of the old age assistance act provides, however, that he can receive assistance only if he "has no wife able to furnish him adequate support." The word adequate is not defined.

STANTON, O. (UP)—An old bell in the Stanton school will continue to summon pupils to the classrooms despite the protests of citizens who said the peal disturbed their rest. The school board sided with another group of residents that the bell should be kept for "sentimental reasons."

Stocks Enlarged And Re-Arranged By Piggy-Wiggly Firm

Addition of new equipment and enlargement of stocks to make the establishment one of the outstanding food markets in West Texas has been announced by the local Piggy-Wiggly store at 419 Main street.

Newly-installed equipment includes a refrigeration unit in the market department, one of the most modern such devices available. It is a double-staged display refrigerator with circulating air apparatus to insure sanitation and preservation of all meats and foods.

All lines of merchandise have been expanded to make the store's stocks complete, and fixtures have been installed and re-arranged to make the interior more attractive and of greater convenience to customers.

Complete lines of fruits and vegetables are maintained in the vegetable department. The store has two trucks supplying it with products from the Texas, markets and one from the California and Arizona markets. Deliveries are made each week.

The market equipment is of the latest type, and the store handles only U. S. inspected quality meats, fish and poultry. The grocery stock is complete, with nationally-advertised products featured throughout.

Centennial Body Has No Power Over 'Peep Shows,' Says Thomas

DALLAS, July 10 (UP)—Cullen F. Thomas, president of the Texas Centennial commission, shied at expressing his views Thursday on "peep shows" of the Texas Centennial exposition on the claim that the commission "has no more to do with them than the man in the moon."

The commission, Thomas said, probably will appoint a board of censors some time in the future, but he referred inquiries to Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul, who, he said, will submit the names of five appointees for the censorship board.

"However," Thomas added, "the censorship board, when appointed, will have supervision only over sculptured figures and monuments in the hall of state, the Federal Centennial building and the negro life building on the central exposition grounds."

"It will have no more to do with shows on the midway or at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial than the man in the moon. Matters such as that are within the pro-

Oil Workers Wages Boost Home Trade

Texas Benefits By 136 Million A Year From Employees' Income

By H. J. STRUTH, Petroleum Economist

Eighty-five cents out of every dollar earned by 134,000 Texas oil workers is spent at home for the necessities of life, according to facts just released by the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association of Texas. Since payrolls in the Texas oil industry aggregate $160,000,000 annually, this means that the merchants of the state reap an annual income from oil company employees and their families which aggregates about $136,000,000, or at the rate of $11,333,000 per month.

Oil workers, like all other Texas citizens, follow the normal course of existence found practically everywhere in America. They work hard, live in a modern manner and strive to lay away a certain portion of their earnings in savings accounts for the building of a home and old-age security. In line with average American experience, the Texas oil worker manages to save about 15 cents out of every dollar he earns. This means that Texas banks and building and loan companies receive annual deposits from this one group alone amounting to $24,000,000. The balance of the oil workers' income, $136,000,000, is spent in the state for subsistence of their families.

The food bill of Texas oil workers aggregates $35,200,000 a year. In the purchase of meats, groceries, fruits and vegetables, dairy products and other items on the nutrition bill, 22 cents out of every dollar paid in salaries and wages by the oil companies is spent for food. Another heavy item in the oil worker's budget is money spent in restaurants, drug stores, movie shows, cigars, cigarettes, candy, etc. This releases another $30,400,000 in Texas, or nearly 19 cents out of every dollar received by the oil workers.

Department stores of Texas take in about $16,000,000 a year from families of the oil workers for the purchase of clothing, toilet articles and other necessities and luxuries. This item takes about 10 cents out of every dollar in the Texas payroll. The landlords of Texas receive for house rents 15 cents of the oil workers' dollar, or a total of $24,000,000 a year. The gas, electric light, water and telephone companies send monthly service bills to Texas oil workers, the payment of which aggregates $11,500,000 a year, or seven cents of each payroll dollar.

The doctors and dentists of Texas collect $6,400,000 a year from these oil industry employees, who normally spend four cents of each

Quick, Easily Prepared Dishes Catch Busy Housewife's Eye

By MARTHA LOGAN

During the summer, the modern housewife is faced with the problem of serving appetizing and nourishing meals which take a minimum amount of time for preparation. No matter how much one enjoys cooking, thoughts of hours in a hot kitchen on a mid-summer morning are none too pleasant. So the oven comes to the housemaker's aid. With a little careful planning, the entire meal—except for a fresh salad and a cold beverage—may be cooked in the oven. A well insulated oven gives off little heat in the kitchen.

Souffles are one of our most delicious oven meat dishes. And they are easily prepared, too. One of the important factors in the production of a successful souffle is the baking. It is not at all difficult if one remembers two things. First—set the pan or casserole containing the souffle in a pan of hot water. The water should be as deep in the pan as the souffle is in the casserole. This insures evenness in baking by preventing the outside of the souffle from becoming too dry before the center is cooked.

The second thing to remember is to use a moderate oven, about 350 degrees F. Even a meat souffle contains a number of eggs so we know that if the body of the souffle is to be tender, it must be cooked at a moderate temperature.

Perhaps we should add a third point to our "Don'ts for Souffles." Be certain that the souffle is done before you take it from the oven. A souffle, like a custard, is done when an inserted silver knife comes out clean. It will take from 25 to 45 minutes to bake a souffle depending upon its size.

To be its best, a souffle should be served as soon as it is removed from the oven. Having the directions for baking well in mind, the next step is to make the souffle itself. Here is a recipe for a meat souffle that is delicious:

2 tablespoons butter, 2 to 3 tablespoons flour, 1-2 cup milk, scalded, 1-2 teaspoon salt, Few grains cayenne, 2 cups chopped cooked meat, 3 eggs.

Make a white sauce of the first five ingredients. Add meat and remove from the fire. Add the yolks of eggs beaten until lemon colored. Cool mixture. Cut and fold in whites of eggs beaten dry. Pour into a greased casserole and place the casserole in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Bake until an inserted knife comes out clean.

Simple, isn't it? You see, souffles really aren't a bit difficult and don't deserve any reputation for being so. Any kind of cooked meat may be used for the souffle. Or a combination of meats may be used. Leftovers may be disguised in souffles in a manner which will delight the entire family.

Dried Beef a Boon For emergency meals as well as hurry-up meals—for example, those meals you prepare in 30 minutes after an afternoon of bridge from which you just couldn't break away—dried beef always seems to fill the bill. The fact that dried beef has been dried and smoked makes it easy to keep on hand, and then, too, it is a concentrated form of protein. Meat protein, you know, is very necessary in the family diet for it builds up the tissue, which is constantly being broken down by every-day activities, and the meat protein also promotes the growth of the children.

There are many ways to serve dried beef, some of which you no doubt know. But here are several recipes, some of them old-time favorites and some of them new and different. Have you ever tried browning the dried beef in a little butter before adding it to a white sauce or whatever recipe you are making? Try it sometime and you'll be delighted with the great improvement in flavor.

Noodles With Dried Beef Cook one-half pound of noodles until tender in boiling salted water. Drain. Blend one tablespoon of flour and one tablespoon of butter and add one and one-half cups of milk. Cook until it thickens slightly. Add one-quarter teaspoon of paprika, one-quarter teaspoon of celery salt and one egg, well beaten. Stir into this one-quarter pound of finely chopped dried beef. Bake in a casserole 20 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.).

Scalloped Potatoes With Dried Beef Put into a buttered baking dish alternate layers of potatoes, sliced very thin, and dried beef pulled into small pieces. Season to taste. Add milk until nearly covered. Bake in a moderate oven until potatoes are tender.

Dried Beef Cutlets Mix two parts of mashed potato to with one part of finely chopped dried beef to which has been added a little salt pork or bacon. Add one beaten egg. Season to taste. Shape into cutlets and saute or dip in crumbs, egg and crumbs, and fry in deep fat.

Dried Beef in Cheese Sauce Rice Ring 1-2 cup uncooked rice, 3 eggs, 1-4 cup milk or cream, 1 cup medium white sauce, 1-4 pound dried beef, 1 cup cooked celery or peas, 1-2 cup American cheese (grated).

Cook rice in salted water until tender. Drain. Beat eggs, add milk and rice and beat. Pour into a well-buttered ring mold, set the mold in hot water in a moderate oven for 30 minutes.

Add the dried beef and the vegetable to the white sauce. Heat thoroughly. Add the cheese and stir well until the cheese is melted. Unmold the rice ring and fill the center with the dried beef mixture. Serve in patty shells.

Creamed Dried Beef and Waffles Melt one-half cup of butter in a sauce pan. Add a one-quarter pound package of dried beef, torn or cut into pieces. Frizzle the dried beef for a few minutes in the butter, then add six tablespoons of flour. Remove from the stove and mix. Gradually add four cups (one quart) of milk and return to stove. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Season if necessary. Serve hot on crisp waffles.

Creamed Celery With Dried Beef Cut two stalks of celery into small pieces. Boil in salted water until tender. Drain if necessary. To two cups of celery add one cup of white sauce and to this add two ounces of dried beef, shredded. Serve in patty shells.

Creamed Eggs and Dried Beef 1-4 cup dried beef, 4 hard cooked eggs, 2 tablespoons fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk.

1-2 teaspoon onion juice, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 6 slices hot buttered toast. Remove shells from eggs and cut into slices. Melt fat in a saucepan and add flour. Stir until well blended and add milk—gradually, stirring all the time. Bring to a boil and boil one minute; add onion juice and pepper. Separate dried beef into pieces and add with eggs to the cream sauce. Cook until the eggs are heated through and serve hot on buttered toast.

Dried Beef and Egg Sandwiches 5 hard cooked eggs, 1 cup dried beef, chopped fine, 3-4 cup salad dressing, 3 small sweet pickles. Grind eggs, dried beef and pickles in meat grinder. Mix well together, add salad dressing to form a paste of the right consistency to spread. Serve on whole wheat toast, as either open or closed sandwiches.

CREAM CHEESE DESSERTS One man who lived years ago and who has left a book well known to those of us who are interested in the epicurean in foods, said many things in his famous "Physiology of Taste," one of which is that "The discovery of a new dish does more for the happiness of the human race than the discovery of a new star." How about that? Do you agree? Which does your family enjoy more, the consumption of a delicious dish that you have tried (successfully) for the first time, or the news that somewhere a few "trillion miles away a new star exists?" Well, whichever we value the more, certain it is that we homemakers can't go out hunting new stars. Heaven knows we don't even have much time for star-gazing. Our exploring is frequently confined to looking into the corners for dust and into recipe books for something new to eat. Now, finding such thrills no one, unless it's a vacuum cleaner, but finding and trying new recipes is great fun and leads to many extremely pleasant discoveries.

Of all the courses at a meal, none is more intriguing than dessert and to surprise the family with a new dessert, to make them guess what is coming or what is in this surprise concoction adds pleasure to any meal. Cheese or cream dishes for dessert are a bit out of the ordinary for many of you, I imagine, that's why I recommend these cream cheese desserts:

Chiffon Cream Cake 1 package zwieback (rolled into crumbs), 1-2 cup melted butter, 1-4 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 2 tablespoons gelatin, 1-2 cup cold water, 3 eggs, beaten separately, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cup cold water, 3 1-2 packages cream cheese, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla, 1 lemon, juice and grated rind, 1-2 cup whipping cream.

Blend thoroughly zwieback, 1-2 cup melted butter, 1-2 cup of sugar, and cinnamon. Put one-half of this mixture on the bottom of a baking pan. Soften gelatin with 1-2 cup of water. Cook beaten egg yolks, 1-2 cup of sugar, and 1-2 cup of water in double boiler for 5 minutes. Add softened gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add cream cheese (which has been creamed until soft), salt, vanilla, and lemon. Beat until smooth. Add the cream, which has been whipped, and fold in stiffly beaten whites. Pour on crumbs in pan. Put remaining half of crumbs on top. Chill in ice box.

Cream Cheese Cookies 2 1-2 packages cream cheese, 1 cup shortening or 1-2 cup shortening and 1-2 cup butter, blended, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 teaspoon almond extract, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 1-2 cups sifted flour.

Mix all of the above ingredients well. Place in refrigerator over night or for several hours. Roll out and cut 1-8 inch thick with cookie cutter. Combine 1-3 cup of sugar, 1 cup of chopped nuts, and 4 teaspoons of cinnamon. Mix thoroughly and sprinkle on top of cookies. Press down lightly and bake in moderate oven until crisp.

Frozen Fruit Salad 1 cup shredded pineapple, drained, 4 packages powdered sugar, 1 package cream cheese, 1 cup mayonnaise, 1 cup whipped cream, 10 maraschino cherries. Drain pineapple and combine with sugar. Cream the cheese and make a smooth mixture with the mayonnaise. Fold in the whipped cream and cherries out in small pieces. Add to pineapple and freeze. Serve with mayonnaise and sprinkle with chopped walnuts.

Gingerbread Supreme 1-2 cup shortening, 1-2 cup sugar, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1 cup molasses, 2 3-4 cups general purpose flour, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 1-2 teaspoons soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cut hot water.

Cream shortening and sugar, add eggs and molasses. Sift dry ingredients together three times. Add alternately with one cup of hot water to the creamed mixture. Beat well. Bake in two 9-inch cake pans for about 30 minutes at 375 degrees F. Spread cream cheese filling between the layers.

Cream Cheese Filling 2 3-oz. packages cream cheese, 1-3 cup thin cream, 1-2 cup pecans, chopped, 3-4 cup raisins or date, chopped.

Chapter 45 NEW YEAR

Dirk said, "He came because he was going back. Back to Texas."

"I know," she answered. "He wanted to see me, thinking it was the last time. It was the last time. The strange thing was, I had always known when he was happy and well. A sort of happiness always came to me, too. I had this happiness—no, it was more a kind of peace—that night. Not just because I had about decided to tell Rupert and believed he would help, but because something told me Roddie was safe."

"You see, I was feeling Roddie's quiet mood. He had resolved to go home, to give himself up. He was at peace. And so was I."

"I was lying in bed, reading. You know, after Rupert came home—after the nurses left, and I was taking care of him—the door between our rooms stayed open. Only that I might care for him. Only that I might hear the little bell when he touched it. Even that was seldom enough."

"It was open that night, and I could see that Rupert's light was burning. Not the light beside his bed, but the one on his desk. I wondered at this. Everything was so still. I thought, 'He's asleep with his light burning. I must put it out.'"

"I went quietly to the door, not wanting to wake him, and I saw him sitting at his desk, writing. He didn't see me, and I stood there thinking how white and strong his profile looked against the lamp, and how black his hair was. Once he stopped to think, and I thought he was going to turn around. But he went on writing."

"And then suddenly he looked at me. Not at me—at something beyond me. I turned instantly, and saw some one in the shadow near the bed. I screamed, though I knew it was Roddie. It was so sudden, so unexpected. Rupert had seen Roddie in the long mirror, and Roddie hadn't seen Rupert at all. "I don't know what Rupert thought, I only know that he was there. The pistol must have been beside him, for it was in his hand."

"Roddie was so quick, so terribly quick. I think Rupert fired first. Oh, Dirk, I know Rupert fired first. Roddie said so. It was the last thing I ever heard him say. He didn't tell me he was hurt. I told him he must go. For my sake, he must go... as if he had been a thief. I told him Rupert would be all right. I would let him know."

"Where had he got the pistol? Over and over I ask myself that. It must have been one of Torrobin's. Perhaps the one that Torrobin had stolen from him... Dirk? About Roddie, I mean, when the case was closed. What was the report?"

"Death at the hands of persons unknown," Dirk answered. "He would have wanted it like that."

"And he never knew," she said, "that Rupert was gone. You let him go in peace, not knowing. He knows now, perhaps... Do you think things are different there?"

"I don't know what I think. I know only that Rupert would have done that night, even if Roddie hadn't come. He would have gotten up, and closed the door... and gone."

"Oh, Roddie!" she cried, her face against Dirk's breast. "Roddie... Roddie..."

She was quiet at last in his arms. From the seat in the bay-window they looked out at the world, white and still under the moon.

Dirk said, "Do you know what day this is?"

No. She had forgotten time. He knew that she didn't know. Roddie had died on Christmas Eve. He was glad that she would never know.

"It's New Year's," he said. "At midnight all the bells are going to ring, so you needn't go to sleep. My father told me that when he was a child they used all to light brand-new candles when the bells began to ring. They thought it brought them luck to carry a lighted candle into the future. Thought that, carrying a light, you'd scare off everything dark and unfriendly, and everything that loved the light would see it through your window, and come and follow you. I've always thought I'd like to do that—light a new candle when the bells begin on New Year's, but I've always been doing something hilarious instead."

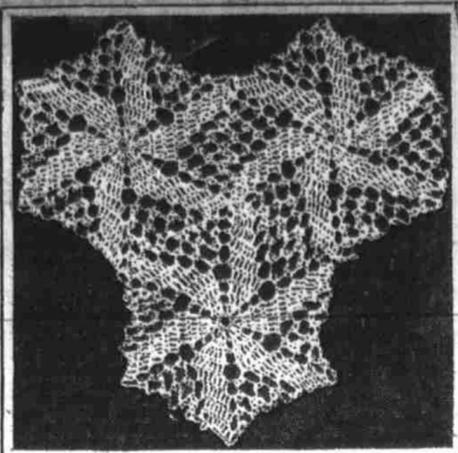

She looked at the snow.

"I'd love to light a candle tonight," she said.

And he,

"There's a fire in the library

SHARP GAIN SHOWN IN SALES OF NEW CARS

AUSTIN, July 10.—Sales of new automobiles in Texas during June rose sharply both over the preceding month and the like month last year, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. Reports from fifteen representative Texas counties show a total of 8,226 sales, an increase of 33 per cent over May and 64 per cent over June, 1935. Aggregate sales in these counties during the first half year were 38,751, an increase of 23 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

It is pointed out that the percentage increase in sales of the lowest price group during June over the two comparable periods was greater than the percentage increase of all groups combined. For many months past, the lowest price group had been making relatively the poorest showing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Duvall and son, Ralph, and grandson, Gene Kennedy, left this morning by automobile for Dallas where they will visit relatives and attend the Centennial exposition.

Bridge Luncheon Given Thursday At Rogers Home

Mrs. Lee Rogers was hostess Thursday morning for bridge at her home, which was followed by luncheon.

Local guests were Meses. Obie Bristow, Wilburn Barcus, Bill Tate, Ralph Rix, Robert Currie, and Adolph Swartz.

Mrs. Jewel Watson and Mrs. Ray Lewis of El Paso and Mrs. Bill Creighton of Lamesa, who have been guests of Dr. and Mrs. Lee Rogers, have returned to their respective homes.

Two Western Stars Combine Talents In Picture At Lyric

Two outstanding western stars, one still active in picture production and the other a pioneer of action melodrama, are teamed in the outdoor drama booked at the Lyric theater Friday and Saturday. The picture is "The Last Outlaw," and the stars are Hoot Gibson, popular player, and the oldtimer, Harry Carey.

The story deals with one of the last of the "bad men" in the western country and how he is finally brought to justice by means of blazing guns.

Tom Tyler, another western player of note, is in the supporting cast, and the romantic interest is furnished by Margaret Callahan.

"The Last Outlaw" is filled with thrilling episodes of gun and hand-to-hand battles typical of adventurous western pictures.

"That's what we'll do, then. Happy old Bowie, down with the sun and the caotus."

His hand pressed hers. A whistle had begun, a distant silver cry, piercing the night. And now the world was filled with a clamor of bells and sidens and carillons, while close at hand the old clock began to chime.

They lit the two red candles.

New Guns For Coast Defense

Long-Range Pieces To Be Installed In The Pacific Area

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10. (UP) The Pacific Coast's defense soon is to be augmented by the installation of four new 16-inch guns, according to announcement of Major Gen. George S. Simonds, new commander of the 9th Corps Area.

With a range of nearly 30 miles at sea, the new guns always will have the job—if they ever have one—of firing at invisible targets. Just as a matter of practice, it is expected that the gun crews will be given precisely that opportunity by shooting at invisible targets at that distance.

Installation of the massive pieces of ordnance will give San Francisco the ultimate in protection from invasion by a foreign fleet.

Gunners, stationed beside the huge guns—called 16-inch rifles in army parlance—can bombard enemy ships with projectiles weighing more than a ton while the vessels are far beyond the range of vision of observers on the coast.

The guns were built as part of the army's policy of expanding fighting units and stiffening coast defenses, approved by the last congress.

While 80 or 90 men will be used to fire each gun, double that number is needed for range-finding and other details of firing at an unseen target. In time of war, army officials state, 200 men would be assigned to each gun.

The huge concrete and steel gun carriages or bases will be set up north and south of the Golden Gate. Two will be erected at Fort Funston and two at Tennessee Point in Marin county, on the opposite of the Golden Gate from San Francisco.

The guns measure 66 2-3 feet in length. They recently were completed at one of the navy arsenals and were checked and fired at the Aberdeen proving grounds at Aberdeen, Washington.

Work on preparing the concrete bases for the guns has begun.

Paul Muni Appears At Ritz In "The Story Of Louis Pasteur"

Hailed by reviewers and public alike as the greatest of a series of great biographical films that have come out of Hollywood in recent months is "The Life of Louis Pasteur," which is the Ritz theater's attraction for Friday and Saturday.

Paul Muni, among the most capable of screen actors, has the title role, and is said to win high honors for his characterization of the famed French scientist. Appearing with him are Josephine Hutchinson, Donald Woods, Tom Brown, Anita Louise and others.

"The Story of Louis Pasteur" follows closely the authentic incidents in the life of the noted biological chemist and pathologist who was responsible for many of the scientific advancements of his time. Pasteur's life itself was dramatic enough that little change had to be made to make his biography suitable for dramatic presentation. The story deals with his discoveries in the field of science and how other scientists and physicians of his day scorned his work, almost to the extent of driving him from his profession. It tells also how the world later came to realize the value of Pasteur's discoveries and how it honored his work.

A romance is woven into the story, with Tom Brown and Anita Louise appearing as the lovers.

Supporting cast includes Eugene Pallette, Dick Foran, Carol Hughes, Catherine Doucet, Craig Reynolds, Ivan Lebedeff, G. B. Huntley, Jr., Hobart Cavanaugh, Henry O'Neill and Eddie Acuff.

Temple Crowd Hears Hunter
Flays Allred For 'Delay' In Paying Old Age Pensions

TEMPLE, July 10.—Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls, candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in the approaching democratic primaries, Friday night spoke in the interest of his candidacy to a crowd of several hundred Bell county citizens on the courthouse lawn, flaying the record of James V. Allred, present governor; attacking the delaying of the payment of old age pensions; criticizing the failure of the governor to devise means to pay the pension and for meaning to grab the highway department, and charging that Governor Allred had not kept his campaign promises.

In the beginning of his remarks, Hunter declared that he had the governor's race won two years ago "until the money trust raised its head and struck us down." He charged Allred with a slush fund, raised from special interests, furnished big radio hookups and purchased newspaper advertising, and distributed huge quantities of printed literature with workers by the thousands.

He charged Allred with negligence in office in the old age pension situation and that he had built up a political machine with 682 henchmen in the old age assistance department and in the liquor control commission who are campaigning for Allred at the expense of the old people and the taxpayers.

Hunter outlined that a one per cent gross income tax with exemptions up to and including $6,000,000 a year, would pay the pensions and retire indebtedness. He said one per cent tax on the utilities and large corporations would care for medical expenses.

He charged Allred with being a tool of big interests who financed his campaign, and refused to him as the "ribbon-cutting governor" who makes all the picnics, festivals, bathing shows, etc.

54 cents, is a four cent hike over that of a month ago.
Bacon prices were up in eight cities. Dallas topped the rise with a 7-cent hike to 42 cents a pound. But in Boston the price was 35 cents, two cents less than on June 1. Round steak was mostly unchanged in price and lower in some places.
Eggs and butter prices have spiraled upward and milk probably will follow unless rains restore pasturage. Potatoes generally were cheaper today than six weeks ago, due to the new crop, but it is short and a rise is anticipated.
Sugar has shown an increase of a few cents on 10-pound lots—it's the canning season—but grocers said there was no cause for a rise of sugar prices except in sympathy with a general trend.
The Dun & Bradstreet food index went to $2.76 on July 7, a 10-cent rise from the preceding week and a new high since Jan. 7. The 10-cent gain was the greatest for a single week since April, 1935.

FORT WORTH, July 10. (UP)—Except for a few "odds and ends" Fort Worth's $5,000,000 Frontier Centennial show is ready for opening July 18, General Manager John B. Davis said today.

Davis predicted an attendance of "between four and six million" persons before the closing date—Nov. 29. It could "break even" financially with an attendance of 2,000,000, he added.

He told Bethell he had boarded the bus at Long Beach and was bound for Lake Charles, La. Besides his personal belongings, he had $85 in cash and two $50 bonus bonds on his person.

Friday he insisted on remaining in jail.
