

Lifer's Case Political Affair?

Gallogly's Attorneys Talk Of 'Pressure' In Georgia

AUSTIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—Attorneys fighting extradition of Richard Gray Gallogly, Georgia fugitive, today reassured "stiff politics" in Georgia had blocked clemency for the life term which fled with his pretty blond wife, Vera, to Texas.

As the hearing was renewed before Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, business man holding his first political office, State Senator Jesse Martin of Fort Worth said he would introduce positive proof that John Boykin, solicitor general for Fulton (Atlanta) county had made a "deal" whereby Gallogly would be released after a few years if he pleaded guilty to a murder charge.

As he prepared to introduce records of a clemency hearing before Georgia Governor E. D. Rivers, Martin turned to Attorney General Arnall of Georgia and said: "I understand Governor Talmadge (former governor) is going to run against Governor Rivers." "No," asserted Arnall.

"It is common talk over there, isn't it?" Martin asked. "No, under our constitution it can't be done," the law officer snapped.

Martin, chief of counsel for the escape, said testimony also would show that Governor Talmadge had said Gallogly, who has served 11 years, should have been released "but that he couldn't do it because of political pressure."

As Martin began introducing records of a clemency hearing held by Governor Rivers, Arnall reminded him the hearing had not been completed because Gallogly had withdrawn his application before his escape.

In addition to their claim of political maneuvering, Gallogly's counsel were building their case around testimony to show his return to Georgia would mean possible death.

Martin introduced a statement by Dr. Shelly Davis of Atlanta stating the prisoner had lost 25 to 30 pounds in less than a year and had a low grade fever suggesting a tubercular process.

Other statements by Dr. R. H. McDonald, Dr. Calhoun McDonald and O. C. Gibson said Gallogly would need a "proper diet, rest and sunshine."

The pallid fugitive previously told Governor O'Daniel he feared punishment for his escape would include work in a Georgia prison camp.

COLLINS HOME IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire inflicted serious damage on the Alfred R. Collins home on E. Park street early Tuesday.

Apparently originating in a closet space, the blaze damaged one bedroom seriously and smoke damage was general throughout the house.

Heavy smoke hampered firemen in combatting flames but they succeeded in quickly bringing them under control. No estimates of the loss were immediately available.

New Kitchen Uses Taught

A modern woman would not think of equipping her home with coal-oil lamps or wood cook stoves, yet some women are serving today meals that were in vogue when oil lamps and wood stoves were considered modern conveniences.

In an effort to increase efficiency in both food preparation and equipment, The Herald will sponsor the Happy Home cooking school here Oct. 23, 24, and 25, at the municipal auditorium under direction of Mrs. Arreva D. French, noted southern home economist and lecturer, who appeared here last year with the school. Admission is free.

Mrs. French will give new menus to show how a balanced meal is planned and what every healthy home should serve to keep the family physically fit for modern living.

Another feature will be the discussion of marketing and new recipes. How to arrange the kitchen to save labor and make the task of each meal easier, is another subject. Mrs. French will lecture on "How to save money, to save work, and to make each day's tasks lighter are more topics which will be discussed."

Mrs. French suggests that women and men, who are also invited, bring notebooks to jot down recipes and notes to refer to later.

Another feature of the school will be the Question Box where the audience may place questions on any subject or phase of home-management and which Mrs. French will answer from knowledge gained by long study in her field.

Prizes will be awarded and special displays will be set up by local merchants to demonstrate the newest in equipment.

They met in Stockholm for this picture when King Gustav celebrated his 80th birthday last year.

Warns Against Hike In Crude Production

AUSTIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—Charles F. Roeser of Fort Worth, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, speaking at the monthly statewide prorator hearing, today counseled against increases in oil production based on expectation of early demand as a result of the war.

He said studies by the association indicated crude production for the next 90 days for all the country should average 3,900,000 barrels daily.

"The present demand," said Roeser, "is not a national authority on petroleum economics."

"In my judgment, the allies have not yet established such a convoy system as to offset losses. Perhaps by spring this will have been done and there will be an increase in export demand."

"The next prorator order should consider this situation."

In the last five months the nation's crude stocks have been reduced 45,000,000 barrels, Roeser went on.

He had been invited to speak by the railroad commission, regulator of the industry in Texas.

Operators and attorneys attending the hearing were fewer than usual, and Chairman Lon A. Hendon of the commission interpreted this as indication Texas oil men were satisfied with conditions.

Roeser said crude stocks now were at an economic level below which they should not go.

Stripper Well Owners Confer

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17 (AP)—Jake Hammon, president of the National Stripper Well association, today warned stripper well owners of the United States their position still is a precarious one and that the price of their existence in the oil industry will be eternal vigilance.

More than 100 stripper well owners from many states of the Union convened here for the second annual meeting of the national association.

Stripper well owners were present from Kansas, Oklahoma, New York and Kentucky at the early sessions. The monthly Texas statewide prorator hearing being held at Austin cut heavily into the ranks of the Texas stripper well owners who usually attend the meeting.

President Hamon warned stripper well owners they must not become discouraged because the million had not been reached in the industry, and that they must not weaken in their fight to improve the lot of the owners of the small wells.

"We have no recourse against our rising costs of labor and materials. Taxes we can and must resist, as these are at a confiscatory level now. We must elect good men to state offices and help them to be good public servants after they are elected," Hamon said. He particularly advised a renewed fight against over-production of oil with its tremendous waste in the various oil states.

Hamon said the marginal well laws in Texas, which once were looked upon as a safeguard for the small producer, now may become a Frankenstein. He made no recommendation as to the association's future course on this subject.

Hamon, in suggesting a future program for the association, said that ratable taking an equity between pools must remain on the agenda of the association.

The association will continue its fight for wider spacing between wells in new pools as they are discovered.

LOCAL RED CROSS DIRECTORS WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

Directors of the Howard-Glasscock county chapter of the American Red Cross will convene at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday to perfect plans for the annual roll call.

Previously, it had been announced by chapter officials that the tentative date for starting the membership campaign would be Nov. 7. The chapter this year has been assigned a quota in excess of 2,000 members.

French Claim Nazi Drive Checked

Hitler Men On Offensive, Enter French Territory

PARIS, Oct. 17 (AP)—A smashing offensive along a 20-mile sector east of the Saar river has broken down, the French reported today, in the face of devastating Maginot Line fire.

At least six German divisions were known to have taken part in the offensive yesterday in two attacks, one of which carried 100 yards in French territory, military dispatches said.

Allied army authorities estimated the strength of each division to be at least 10,000 men.

"Our fire stopped the enemy," the French general staff announced after explaining advanced French outpost had been drawn back to prepared defensive positions in the face of the advancing Germans.

Military advisers said the German army threw a full division of more than 10,000 men into its first assault yesterday morning on a four-mile sector in the Moselle river valley. This thrust pushed forward a mile and a half, then across the border 100 yards into the French village of Apach, near the Luxembourg border.

Blocked by a curtain of French artillery and machine-gun fire, the Germans halted north of Apach.

The second attack, said French dispatches, put five German divisions into action yesterday afternoon on a 20-mile sector east of the Saar river.

There the German advance was said to have been stopped on "the line foreseen," still within German territory and well in advance of the main Maginot line.

This was described as the largest and most bitterly fought action of the war on the western front thus far.

The Nazis drove hard across no-man's-land in the Saar attack in the wake of an artillery barrage without the protection of tanks.

French artillery fire shattered the German drive, causing heavy losses, dispatches said.

In anticipation of the German thrust, a war communique added, the French command had decided more than 15 days ago to order

Says Hitler Alone Made War Decision

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Sir Neville Henderson's final report on his ambassadorship to Berlin, made public tonight in an official white paper, said he believed Field Marshal Goering would have preferred a peaceful solution, but that "it was Hitler's decision which alone counted."

Sir Neville added he believed Joachim Von Ribbentrop, foreign minister and former ambassador to London, was regarded by Hitler as "a second Bismarck, a conviction which Ribbentrop probably shared to the full."

Supplementing the extensive blue book issued September 23, tonight's white paper gave Sir Neville's impressions of the influences which he said led Hitler to war.

BILLINGS DUE TO GET FREEDOM TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17 (AP)—Governor Culbert L. Olson returns to Sacramento today to put the official seal on a release order expected to make Warren K. Billings a free man early this afternoon, after 23 years incarceration.

Billings, with Tom Mooney, was convicted of murder for the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing in 1916.

The governor commuted Billings' life sentence to time served yesterday, upon recommendation by a majority of the state supreme court.

TRAINING VESSEL IS DAMAGED BY BOMBS IN SECOND ATTACK

U-Boat Evaded Scapa Flow Defenses To Send The Royal Oak To The Bottom

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The British admiralty tonight disclosed that the second German air attack of the day was carried out over the Orkney Islands, location of the Scapa Flow naval base, shortly after noon today.

The formations of Nazi raiders, six planes in one and four in the other, made the second attack, which followed an earlier raid in which the training ship Iron Duke was damaged in Scapa Flow bay.

One German raider was reported by the admiralty to have been destroyed.

No damage was done by the attackers, said the admiralty communique.

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—German bombers damaged the British naval training ship Iron Duke in a raid at Scapa Flow today, the government announced, and also disclosed that the battleship Royal Oak was sunk in the same harbor by a German submarine last Saturday.

Lord Chatfield, minister for defense coordination, told the house of lords that about four enemy planes participated in the raid today at Scapa Flow, Orkney Island naval base where German crews scuttled the German fleet after the World war.

Two bombs fell near the Iron Duke, an old battleship which had been converted into a training vessel, Lord Chatfield said. She was damaged, but there were no casualties.

Prime Minister Chamberlain made a statement in the house of commons identical with Lord Chatfield's and Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, also told of developing warfare at sea.

Today's raid, the government spokesman said, occurred at 10:30 a. m. (3:30 a. m. C.S.T.) with four German planes taking part. One German plane was shot down in flames and another probably damaged, Chatfield said.

Mystery How Defenses Were Penetrated

Chatfield said it was still a matter of conjecture how the submarine penetrated the defenses of Scapa Flow harbor to attack the Royal Oak. He said the entry must be considered a remarkable exploit of professional skill and daring.

Lord Chatfield said it appeared that the submarine fired two starboard torpedoes at the Royal Oak, of which only one hit, striking the bow. The muffled explosion was first attributed to internal causes and the ship's store of inflammables was flooded on the basis of the first conjecture.

He added that about 20 minutes later the submarine fired three or four torpedoes and these, striking in quick succession, caused the warship to capsize and sink.

The Royal Oak, he said, was lying at the extreme end of the harbor and therefore many officers and men drowned before a rescue could be organized.

16 Lives Lost In Monday's Aid Raid

The German air raid today was the second in two days on British naval centers. In yesterday's raid at the Firth of Forth near Edinburgh, Scotland, 16 lives were lost, 45 men were injured and from four to seven German warplanes were reported unofficially to have been brought down.

Today's alert "take no chances" action of the civil defenses was in sharp contrast with yesterday's sensational and deadly engagement of British air and coastal forces in Scotland with German planes, during which warning devices were silent.

The British admiralty reported the bombers then had slightly damaged the 9,100-ton cruiser Southampton, and sunk an admiral's barge and a minesweeper (ship's boat) moored alongside.

The admiralty said the Southampton, first British warship admittedly struck by German air raiders since the start of the war, was "ready for sea."

The hit on the Southampton, it was said was a glancing blow on the bow scored by a dive bomber. Two other war vessels, the cruiser

Confer Here On Roll Call

Representatives of five county chapters of the American Red Cross sat around the conference table here Tuesday with field representatives of the organization—R. T. Bridge and C. E. Heaton—to lay the groundwork for the annual Red Cross roll call which opens on Nov. 11, Armistice Day, to continue until Thanksgiving.

The meeting was presided over by Shine Phillips, chairman of the Howard-Glasscock chapter, and Bridge led in general discussion on best methods of advertising, organizing workers, districting towns and other elements involved in a successful enrollment campaign.

Roll call chairmen and others reported on plans going forward in their towns, reviewed campaign methods used last year, and exchanged ideas on making the roll call a bigger success than ever this year.

Registered for the conference include Bridge, Heaton, Phillips; J. H. Greene, roll call chairman; and Mrs. Charles Koerber, vice chairman, of Big Spring; Mrs. R. T. Waddell, roll call chairman and Mrs. A. B. Koch, secretary, Odessa; Mrs. J. H. Haley, chapter chairman, Midland; Hobart K. McDowell, roll call chairman and John D. Logan, publicity chairman, San Angelo; and Dr. W. B. May, chaplain, and Joe W. Jackson, roll call chairman, Colorado City.

U-Boat Crew Honored For Daring Raid

Berlin Has Photos To Show Damage At Firth Of Forth

BERLIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—Commander Prien and the crew of his submarine which sank the British battleship Royal Oak Saturday and claimed to have torpedoed the battle cruiser Repulse were awarded iron crosses today for their exploits.

It was announced that they had arrived today at an unnamed harbor.

Proof Of Damage

Britain's first lord of the admiralty, authorized sources said, would "in such form as the German supreme high command thinks desirable"

BERLIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—Scapa Flow bay, important British naval base north of Scotland, was attacked by German raiders for the second time today as part of what officials called a series of lightning attacks to bring Britain to her knees.

Today's raid was by bombing planes. Saturday a submarine sank the battleship Royal Oak in the same bay which is a base for British warships operating in the North Sea.

"After a week or ten days of this uninterrupted attacking Britain will see what is left of her fleet," one highly-placed person said tonight.

able" be acquainted with photographs of bombing activity in the Firth of Forth taken yesterday by German fliers.

These sources tauntingly asked whether the first lord, Winston Churchill, would dare deny the extent of the damage inflicted in the light of the documentary proof said to be in German possession.

The assertion that such photographs existed came shortly after the supreme high command announced that French troops had retired from the main part of German territory they had occupied outside the Siegfried line since the first weeks of the war.

This western front development was not regarded here as important news, however. German sources have emphasized consistently that the French merely entered two or three little "fingers" of German territory.

D.N.B. (official German news agency) quoted Commander Prien as saying he succeeded in entering the Bay of Scapa Flow off the north coast of Scotland, where the

Sen. Walsh Defending Arms Ban

Says Embargo Repeal Means War At Front Door

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) told his colleagues today that repeal of the arms embargo might bring the European war "right to our front door" with submarines and warplanes operating off this country's coast to sink munition-laden ships.

The Massachusetts senator, chairman of the naval affairs committee, took the floor at the opening of the twelfth day's debate on administration neutrality legislation to urge that this country's efforts be directed toward building up its armed strength and preserving its strict neutrality.

Walsh described the administration bill as a form of "pretended" neutrality which he said would aid England and France by making arms available to them, and would arouse the enmity of Germany, which he argued would be denied those same arms.

"It means convoys and battles off our coasts, unrestricted submarine warfare, the sinking of American ships by mistake. It means bringing the European war right to our front door."

"History is repeating itself. The days of 1917 are being reenacted. The draft law is already prepared. The blanks for the casualty lists are ready. The government, finance, industry—all are in a war state of mind—ready to accept the inevitable."

Meanwhile, Senator Pittman (D-Nebr.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, told reporters an agreement had not yet been reached on proposed relaxation of the measure's prohibition against American ships traveling to belligerent ports. A meeting of interested members of the foreign relations committee is expected this week to work out modified shipping restrictions.

Administration lieutenants were preparing, meanwhile, to follow their removal of the 90-day credit clause from the senate neutrality bill with a compromise on the measure's stringent shipping provisions.

The two changes, they said, should eliminate much opposition and bring the bill to a vote not later than Oct. 28.

The legislation as originally drafted would prohibit American ships and citizens from visiting warring nations and their possessions. There have been protests that such a restriction would curtail sharply the operations of the American merchant marine.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The resignation of Elmer F. Andrews as wage-hour demonstrator to be succeeded by Colonel Philip Fleming of the army engineers was announced today by the White House.

Andrews' resignation was effective yesterday. He will pin the staff of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Fleming, who is now serving as district engineer for the army at St. Paul, Minn., will be detailed to the secretary of the labor. She will assign him to be assistant to an acting wage-hour administrator who, until Fleming is ready technically to take full charge, will head the agency.

Stephen Early, a presidential secretary, said congress would be called to change the statutes to permit Fleming to become ultimately the administrator of the wage-hour division. He will, however, have full charge of wage-hour work, even though technically, he will be subordinate to the acting administrator for a time.

The Teaching Of Safety

By comparison with the world inhabited by our immediate ancestors, we live a highly complex and dangerous life. Where they had to watch for hostile Indians or an occasional man-killing animal, we take our lives in our hands every time we step into the street or get behind the wheel of an automobile for a short trip up the road.

So today's child is in need of more and more instruction in the art of being safe—for safety is an art and can be taught, just the same as any other human achievement.

For that reason we are glad to see that the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers has decided to make the week of October 30-November 4 school safety week, in cooperation with the safety week proclaimed by Governor O'Daniel.

Already some schools are giving instructions in traffic safety, with appropriate credits. This course should be taught in one or more grades in all the schools of Texas, followed by instruction in safe driving for students of high school age.

But the need for safety instruction is not confined to the subject of traffic. It should include a broad field covering every activity of life. The schools already have fire prevention instruction and a few have life-saving courses. There are good as far as they go, but what is needed is a general course covering all phases of accident prevention.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—The old rag man, the umbrella man, the organ-grinder with his monkey, the push-cart man—especially the pushcart hound—like Horatio Alger heroes, are being systematically driven from the streets. "Pictureque but a nuisance," is the way Commissioner of Markets Morgan sums them up.

It is Commissioner Morgan who sneered at public sentiment—and rightly so—when the peddlers were driven from Paddy's Market some time ago. Paddy's Market for 50 years was the heaven of pushcarts, on Ninth avenue between 38th and 42nd streets.

That status of an early, great American in Washington has Alexander Hamilton's head, but Atlas' body. In Jefferson City, Mo., he is a Centaur. In New York he is George Washington in stone. He even graces the battle fields of France, being the dominant figure in the Marne Memorial.

The story of the week concerns four Harlem lads and Jimmy Shields, the singer, who came upon them simultaneously with a cop. They were throwing the dice on a street corner. "But we weren't shooting craps," one small lad protested. "No, no," boomed the cop. "What were you doing?"

Why not move New Year's Day ahead of Christmas so that we could make our good resolutions before buying all those presents.—Times Tribune.

After the disbelievers are tossed into concentration camps, you can fool all of the people all of the time.—Chicago News.

Life's Darkest Moment

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wees

Chapter Seven FEMININE CURIOSITY "I thought I left nothing in the house," said Mrs. Murchison. "Just this book," Tuck said. "I didn't think the book was important—perhaps it had belonged to you, ma'am. But it had in it a lovely carved ivory bridge pencil for a marker, and I thought you might not like to lose it."

"Then I'm glad I found it," Tuck said. "The woman looked up. 'Where have you found it?' she said tensely. 'It is never out of his hand.' 'I found it in the little drawer just under the leaf for the typewriter—in the big desk in the study, Mrs. Murchison,' Tuck replied. 'I am sorry if your husband has been searching for it.'"

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Special precautions taken to safeguard the White House and Congress a few weeks ago probably will be wiped out soon.

Soon after the outbreak of war in Europe the congressional galleries were closed to the public, except to persons having cards of admission issued by members. The Capitol was closed Sundays, the White House grounds were shut to tourists and extra police were stationed all around.

To a lot of folks it seemed as if the government were trying to impress upon Washington the nearness of the European war so that opponents of embargo repeal could not talk so freely of its being somebody else's war, and not ours.

He thing backfired to a degree. Attorney General Frank Murphy had to deny half a dozen times that he had any part in the order closing the Capitol. The President, too, was asked why the Capitol galleries were closed. That appeared to be an indirect way of asking him why all the special precautions about the White House.

The President tossed such questions aside, but presently the extra safeguards about the White House were lifted.

Actually almost anybody who wants a card to enter the congressional galleries can get one. There hasn't been much evidence that special precautions were necessary. The galleries have been extraordinarily well behaved.

Once Mayor LaGuardia of New York, while a member of the House, helped disarm an excited galleryite brandishing a pistol. Another time a woman was ejected from the gallery for nursing her baby there.

Neither house has been subjected to such occurrences during the neutrality debate. People just sit and listen.

One of the most perplexed members of the House during this debate is Representative Haveron of California. The special session came right in the heat of the San Francisco campaign in which Haveron is seeking to be elected mayor to succeed Mayor Rossi, who is after another four-year term. Being mayor of San Francisco is often a long-time job. Mayor Rossi held the post 20 years and went to the governorship. Mayor Rossi has been there nine years and hopes to continue.

Haveron expects to "commute" by air 3,000 miles for a speech or two before election day in November, but doesn't know for sure what the public reaction will be to his leaving his post as Representative. Actually he is as free as a spring bird, because the House won't get a chance at the neutrality bill for days and days, not until the senate finishes with it.

And don't forget that we are pretty lucky that the Americas lie north and south, instead of east and west. If the lanky double continent stretched as a one way, Orientals would swarm all over Yalagonia and we would have a mess of a time saving Canada from some foreign power (other than the British empire).

Don't go until we tell you how Senator Connally of Texas tried to give Noah Webster, the long-dead writer of dictionaries, a vote in the senate Foreign Relations committee.

While the neutrality bill was being written a dispute arose over use of the word "revoked." Senators Pittman of Nevada and Thomas of Utah stood together, Connally alone. Solemnly he arose from the table, consulted the dictionary, then said: "If I can vote Noah Webster's proxy I can tie you, two to two."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—To me the most interesting single room in Hollywood is upstairs front in a pretty, substantial Beverly Hills house. Jean Hersholt built the house 18 years ago, and he still lives there.

That intriguing single room is Jean's library. In future, whenever I hear cracks about "a star and his book," I'm going to speak up about Jean.

It's not a vast room, probably no bigger than 14 by 18 feet. In it is Jean's big desk, by the front window. There are solid, pale rose-upholstered chairs and couches, and here and there a plaque or a scroll or an autographed picture testifying to some of the owner's film achievements or friendships; and a big globe (outdated as all of them are today, but still interesting). Personal mementoes of all sorts are there, and family photographs, including the new daughter-in-law, Oma Massen (a bit of "Honeymoon in Bali"). On two walls, above the bookshelves, are murals of Danish legends.

But all around—and everywhere—are books. Interesting books, rare books, priceless books. There isn't another collection of first editions like Jean Hersholt's in Hollywood.

Shelves line all four walls. There is nothing forbidding about the looks of them, either, which makes them different from the bookcases of many an avid collector. Jean Hersholt does not keep his treasures under glass, or sealed. Instead of "burying" them under sealed wrappings, he has individual cases, resembling volumes, made to order. A large "volume" marked "Master Humphrey's Clock" by Charles Dickens opens to reveal a stack of yellowed pamphlets, in proper order, which constituted the first edition of the Dickens book now known as "Barnaby Rudge." Hersholt has first of everything that Dickens wrote—and shelves of firsts by Hans Christian Andersen.

There is no volume in that room that is not a first—and his collecting taste is catholic. There are volumes of Walt Whitman, of Mark Twain, of Boswell's Life of Johnson, of Herman Melville (of "Moby Dick" under its original English title, "The Whale") of Stephen Crane—and such minor items as "Helen's Babies," worth a mere $25 today but sentimentally valuable. Jean's friend Hugh Walpole fills two and a half shelves, and Jean has the only Walpole manuscript, "The Duchess of Wrexhe," at large.

There is John Steinbeck, represented by everything he ever wrote—because Jean started collecting him before the Steinbeck vogue and was able to obtain brochures, pamphlets, and lesser items. There is a rare hand-illuminated medieval prayer book, and a folio of Shakespeare, and a single page from a Gutenberg Bible—a beautiful page on which the printing is clearer than many modern works can boast.

Books are a hobby—rather a "joy"—with Jean, and they're also an investment. He started collecting a long time ago, when he was a boy in Denmark. The investment angle probably occurred to him when a set of Dickens he had brought from Denmark netted him enough to tide over a period of starvation in early picture days.

Travel has been so broadening to visitors in Europe this summer that even the Atlantic seems wide.—Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

The Effects Of Liquor Cannot Be Repealed

THE TWIN BALLOTS Along in November when chill was the weather, Two ballots were cast in a box together: They nestled up close like Brother to Brother— You couldn't tell one of the votes from the other.

They were both rum votes And sanctioned the license plan. But one was cast by a cunning old brewer And one by a Sunday school man.

The Sunday School man no man could be truer; Kept busy all summer denouncing the brewer. But his fervor cooled off with the change of the weather, And late in the autumn they voted together.

The Sunday School man had always been noted For fighting saloons—except when he voted. He piled up his prayers with a holy perfection— Then knocked them all down on the day of election.

The cunning old brewer was cheerful and mellow; Said he, "I admire that Sunday School fellow; He's true to his church—to his party he's truer, He talks for the Lord, but he votes for the brewer." (Submitted by and published at the request of the local W.T.C.U.)

ELECTRIFICATION PROJECTS PLANNED

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17 (AP)—The secretary of agriculture, it was learned today, is gathering all available data on water falls throughout the republic to carry on a vast presidential project for the complete electrification of the nation.

President Cardenas' project calls for establishment of light and power plants in all towns, especially in the rural districts.

HYGIENE LECTURES

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17 (AP)—A sanitary brigade will be sent on a tour through several Mexican states to give public lectures on hygiene, the health department announced today.

The states scheduled to be visited are: Morelos, Guerrero, Mexico, Puebla, Tlaxcala, Hidalgo, San Luis Potosi, Tamaulipas, Guanajuato, Queretaro, Michoacan, Jalisco, Sinaloa, Nayarit, Chihuahua and Aguas Calientes.

Pittsburgh Rated Leading Grid Eleven Of Nation

THE SPORTS PARADE

BY HANK HART

Seemingly it has been especially difficult for youths of Texas and Southwestern colleges to rate All-America football consideration but since the practice first started stars of this states' smaller schools have gained more than their share of support on the Little All-America, a grid eleven composed of performers from schools of limited size.

Herschel "Red" Ramsey, ex-Texas Tech great, created plenty of interest three seasons ago when, a candidate for the "big" team, he landed a slot on the "little" eleven. In reality Tech is one of the largest schools in the country but sports authorities considered the institution a small school by the schedule the Raiders had been assigned.

Since, the Matadors have gained recognition as a big college and its players are no longer eligible to compete for berths on the "little" team.

The state offers other prizes, however. Take, for instance, Bulldog Turner, the Hardin-Simmons man-mountain who gained such a good reputation on the coast recently. Turner, a center, appears to be a lead-pipe cinch for a first string berth what with the backing the coast papers will give him.

Then there's Ken Heine-man, Texas Mine quarterback, who may be handicapped by the Diggers' mediocre record, and Foster Watkins, West Texas State's great pass-flipping quarterback who boasts one of the best records for completions.

And don't overlook Ed Strouquist, Abilene Christian's wing who rated a place on the A. P.'s second string last fall.

There are many more, probably too many, since all cannot be recognized but the equipment that the state has to offer at the present time bids fair to carry on the tradition of the sector.

Bill Cup, the Gainesville high school grid team's captain this year, is a cousin to the local scrapper, Bob Stinnett. Cup is due to lead the Gainesville team farther in the state races than it has ever progressed before.

When Stinnett played football at Gainesville his mentor was Ed Henning, former Sweetwater coach and at present chief tutor at Tyler high. His running mate was Larry Priddy, the present Sweetwater coach.

Texas A. and M. gridgers, flushed at the new successes of the Aggies and confident that Homer Norton is equipped with the real McCoy this year, are singing over a freshman find who is due to make plenty of noise in conference circles beginning next year.

He's Jerry Templeton, an ace back from Billy Patterson's home town, Hillsboro.

His forte is passing and the reports circulating are that he is every bit as good as Patterson.

The Farmers landed the state's 638 prize back in Willie Japalac,

OKLAHOMA 3RD, TEXAS A & M NINTH

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Pittsburgh's Panthers, the team supposed to be demoralized, deflated and demoted from top-flight national ranking this season, was given No. 1 position today in the first Associated Press gridiron poll of the season.

Victor over Washington, West Virginia and Duke this season, Pitt again is riding high in the esteem of the public and of the 102 experts who contributed their ballot to this inaugural election. Though the Panthers were outgained by untried Tennessee, 24 to 15, in number of first-place votes, they gained enough support all along the line to get a total of 709 points.

This put Pitt, only Eastern eleven to crash the first ten, in front by 79 points over Notre Dame, which also has won three games but took them all by the narrowest margins. The Irish, with 16 votes as No. 1 team, were followed in order by Oklahoma, tied but unbeaten; Tulane, Southeastern conference power plant; Tennessee, which gets first trial by fire against Alabama Saturday; Michigan, Southern California, Bama, Texas A. and M., and Ohio State.

The standing of the teams (points figured on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis, first-place votes in parentheses):

1—Pittsburgh (19)	709
2—Notre Dame (16)	630
3—Oklahoma (9)	538
4—Tulane (13)	523
5—Tennessee (24)	512

Corsicana 11 Again Rising To Heights

Pierce Has New Bob Wilson In 141-Pound Spencer

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

CORSICANA, Oct. 17 (AP)—The flying feet of Wally Spencer beat a rhythm of championship hopes today for Corsicana high school.

This 141-pound broken field wizard, hailed as Corsicana's best since the immortal Bobby Wilson, is the boy they expect to lead the Tigers out of the football wilderness.

A rabbit in an open field, a fine passer, punter and blocker, Spencer heads the most imposing army of gridgers Corsicana has known since the 1932 team crashed to the heights.

Down here they say this team is the best offensive unit they've had since the state championship 1932 outfit. It's one fault is defense, but with boys like Spencer to carry the mail the opposition is generally too busy trying to stop the Tiger scoring to do enough of their own.

Corsicana was heralded as among the state's best before the season started. It is one of the few teams to live up to advance expectations. Unbeaten and untied and with speed to burn, Corsicana now looks toward next week and the annual battle with Waco.

Waco is rolling in a fashion to remind the old timers of the great teams of the twenties when Paul Tyson's Tigers were riding one of the greatest winning surges in interscholastic league history.

The Corsicana team this season averages about 168 pounds to the man. It boasts in Felo Prewitt, 180-pound center, one of the finest pivot men in Corsicana history.

And those tackles! Each weighs over 230 pounds: Flyer 220 and Andrews 217.

The backfield is light and fast with Spencer leading the way and with Bill Gathright just behind him.

Coach Johnnie Pierce admits he has a good team. He doesn't claim it's a championship outfit.

But, says Paul Moore, local sports writer, if Corsicana gets outside the district it will go places.

Of course, there's still that little matter of Waco. And after that there'll be that little matter of taking care of Cleburne.

Meyer Worries Over Injuries And Farmers

By The Associated Press
Only the Texas Christian Horned Frogs, who face the redoubtable Texas Aggies Saturday, worried over injuries today as Southwest conference teams drove for another week end of hard games.

Four Frog first stringers definitely were out and several others were ailing. Logan Ware and Jack Odle, backfield aces, headed the injury list.

The Aggies, on the other hand, were at top strength. Bert Selman and Bill Haner missed practice yesterday at Rice but were due back today as the Owls prepped for Sam Houston State.

Matty Bell, Southern Methodist coach, worried over the mental attitude of his Mustangs who play Marquette Saturday. He said his charges were in good enough physical condition.

Backfield ace Kay Eakin was injured in the Baylor game last week but was not due to be out of the line-up for Arkansas against Texas.

BUCKY WALTERS IS NAMED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

"Birdcage"

Beats Out John Mize For The Honors

By JUDSON BAILEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Corralling 303 of a possible 336 points, William Henry (Bucky) Walters, Jr., the prodigious pitching star of the Cincinnati Reds, today was named the most valuable player in the National league.

His selection, more or less expected, was made by a committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America and entitled him to a trophy offered by The Sporting News.

The 29-year-old righthander, whose talent for years was buried under a bushel while he masqueraded as an infielder, led both major leagues in victories with 27 during the regular campaign and was instrumental in lifting the Reds to a pennant in his first full season with the club.

He appeared in 39 games, starting and finishing 31 of them and losing only 11.

The selection of Walters on 18 first place nominations, five seconds and a fifth among the 24 writers in eight National league cities participating kept the award in the Cincinnati family circle. Last year big Ernie (Schnozle) Lombardi, Walters' battery mate and then leading hitter of the league, was named.

Second place this year went to Johnny Mize, the St. Louis Cardinals' slugger first baseman who won the hitting championship. He received 178 points.

Four points behind him was Paul Derringer, Cincinnati's strong-armed veteran who pitched the Reds to 25 victories and lost but seven during the red-hot senior circuit race.

Another Cincinnati hero, Frank (Buck) McCormick, the durable first baseman who led the league in runs batted in, rated 159 points and fourth place.

The only other player to get more than 100 votes was Pitcher Curt Davis, the workhorse of the St. Louis Cardinals, who was given 106.

James Roberson (Jimmy) Brown, the Cards' classy infielder, carded 99 points.

TOURNEY WILL BE A ONE-DAY AFFAIR

Qualifying scores for the Forsan Invitational Golf tournament, a one day meeting set for Sunday, Oct. 22, must be in by Wednesday night, the tournament committee announced this morning.

Players may shoot for the medal score over any West Texas course. Entrance fee is $1.

If the elements are favorable a large field is expected to compete, including a representative Big Spring delegation.

Pairings will be published in an early edition of The Daily Herald. A free barbecue will be served to all entrants Sunday at the Forsan school, it has been announced.

Players wishing to enter may contact H. Williams, Sam Rust, Guy Rainey or Blacky Hines, all of Forsan.

MEXICAN STATES ARE AFFECTED BY ELECTRIC STRIKE

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17 (AP)—Residents of five Mexican states looked today to the federal labor department to settle an electrical strike which has affected them for three days.

The strike was declared Saturday against three subsidiaries of the electric bond and share company. The states affected by the strike are Veracruz, Puebla, Tlaxcala, Hidalgo and part of Mexico.

After hearing allegations from strikers and employers' representatives the federal labor board of conciliation was slated today to decide on the legality of the strike.

NO SECRETS AT PAN AMERICAN CONFERENCE

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17 (AP)—General Eduardo Hay, secretary of foreign relations, assured Mexicans today that all resolutions adopted at the Pan American conference at Panama are written in "open documents" and that "no secret stipulation or compromise affecting Mexico exists which cannot be publicly announced."

Secretary Hay promised to make known the resolutions adopted by Mexico after reporting to President Lazaro Cardenas on the results of the conference.

Yearlings Card Lubbock Game

Howard Schwarzenbach's Yearlings, junior high school football eleven, will invade Lubbock Thursday, Oct. 26th, for a game with the Lubbock juniors high team.

The Yearlings met the Lubbock team last season and went down in defeat.

QUALIFYING BEGINS
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 17 (AP)—Qualifying rounds began today in the annual senior golf tournament of the Texas golf association.

Ernest L. Brown of San Antonio was on hand to defend his championship.

Match play starts tomorrow.

Baylor had Jack Wilson, sophomore backfield star, and Robert Nelson, giant center, out of practice yesterday due to charley horses. The remainder of the squad came out of the Arkansas game in good shape.

The Texas Longhorns came out of their scrap with Oklahoma without injury.

Tilden, Vines Win On Coast

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Oct. 17 (AP)—The stage was set today for Fred Perry, defending champion, to make the first defense of his national professional tennis singles championship today.

Perry, seeded No. 1, was paired with Billy Doeg of San Francisco. Three other seeded entries moved into the second round with ease yesterday. Bill Tilden, No. 3, disposed of Dave Gillam of Pasadena, Calif., 6-0, 6-2, 6-0. Ellsworth Vines, No. 2, defeated Ray Meston, Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0. Ben Goeha-koff of Beverly Hills, No. 8, turned back Bruce Ainsely of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Richard Barnes, No. 5, and Vincent Bruchas of New York moved up when opponents defaulted.

LONGHORNS PREPARE FOR LAMESA AERIAL ATTACK

Helen Harb Low In Open

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Whitney Harb, professional golf star from Long Island, N. Y., who captured medalist honors in the annual Texas women's open tournament here, was matched against Miss Virginia Ratledge of Dallas in the first round of match play today.

Miss Harb shot two below women's par yesterday to lead the field with a 75, one stroke ahead of Miss Kathryn Hemphill of Greenboro, S. C. Miss Betty Jameson, the national champion, had a 78.

Miss Harb's opponent in the opening round today carded a 95. Miss Hemphill met Mrs. H. V. Cardona of Fort Worth, who also had a 95.

Other first round matches included: Miss Jo Hansen, Paris, vs. Miss Ed Dell Worz, Fort Smith, Ark.; Mrs. E. R. Hury, San Antonio, vs. Mrs. W. T. Blafford, Dallas; Miss Betty Jameson, San Antonio, vs. Mrs. Vincent Hoesche, Dallas.

Mrs. Dan Chandler, Dallas, vs. Mrs. Al Mortenson, Dallas; Miss Elizabeth Hicks, Long Beach, Calif., vs. Mrs. B. E. Godfrey, Fort Worth; Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, Fort Worth, vs. Mrs. P. K. French, Fort Worth.

Gartman Back, Pressley Is Ineligible

Harrassed by injuries, the Big Spring high school football squad suffered new casualties Monday afternoon when it was learned that Pete Pressley, junior halfback, had been declared scholastically ineligible.

Pressley, one of the best prospects of the current corps, has played but little to date but Mentor Pat Murphy was counting heavily on him for future wars.

Murphy said that Horace Bostick, second string right halfback who was injured in practice two weeks ago, would not be ready before the Midland game October 27.

D. R. Gartman, rugged left half who missed the Austin game last week, reported for practice Monday afternoon, his leg, injured in the Odessa game, in good running order. Gartman, one of the team's best blockers, was due to see a lot of action against Lamesa here this weekend.

Murphy was scheduled to send his charges through a heavy scrimmage drill in the Highland park stadium this afternoon. He is expected to devote plenty of time toward pass defense since that has been the Tornados' favorite weapon to date.

The Bovines must be prepared to stop the dangerous triple threat, Jackie Vaughn, 170-pounder, who almost turned the tide of battle against Odessa last week.

Shorthorn Game May Have To Be Cancelled

The Shorthorns, Big Spring high school reserve football squad, went through a lengthy scrimmage with the Midland second stringers Monday afternoon in the Highland Park stadium but chances of playing the scheduled game with Sweetwater Oct. 19 grew remote.

Four of the players were declared scholastically ineligible and officials may be forced to cancel the game due to lack of reserve strength.

Bang Tails To Run For Supreme Title

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17 (AP)—The owner of four stellar performers on American tracks this year agreed today to send their speedsters into competition November 1 for the "horse of the year" title and the comparatively small purse of $12,000.

It will be Challeon, Kayak 11, Cravat and Isolator when the contenders for the crown go to the post in Pimlico's 1939 "special" over the mile and three-sixteenths route, a distance favored by all four.

TO NEW JOB

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Pittsburgh baseball club announced today Johnny Gooch had been released as coach and immediately reapointed scout for the National league Pirates in the South.

Nearly $12,000,000 was paid last year to Texas telephone people

Into pay envelopes for Texas telephone people last year went nearly 12 million dollars—wages to operators, to linemen and repairmen, to others in the far-flung brigade of Texas telephone people.

The largest item in the cost of furnishing telephone service in Texas is the wages paid to the 9,700 men and women who make Texas telephones talk. Of every dollar it cost last year to furnish telephone service in Texas, more than 40 cents went for wages. Nearly 12 million dollars' worth of human energy and skill went into your telephone service in Texas last year . . . to the people who furnish you fast, accurate, and dependable telephone service . . . yet the cost of a telephone in your home is only a few pennies a day.

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE INSIST ON CONCRETE for all streets

MANY accidents on the streets are caused by pavements that are bumpy, raveled, slippery when wet, difficult to clean, obscure at night. These accidents can be prevented by paving with concrete which:

1. Reduces skidding in all weather
2. Has high visibility at night
3. Keeps a true and even surface, free from bumps
4. Drains and dries quickly; no pockets of standing water or mud
5. Encourages traffic to use the full street width—passing is easier

Concrete costs less to build than any other pavement of equal load carrying capacity—costs far less to maintain—cuts motoring costs.

Don't be satisfied with less than clean, safe, enduring concrete on your streets.

Gallogly testimony by prison guards to the effect Gallogly suffered a beating with a poker and was subject to other instances of asserted brutal treatment.

He declared 18 members of jurist which had tried Gallogly had signed petitions after the trials requesting Gallogly be freed.

He introduced a newspaper front page headline which read "Gallogly Takes Life Term to Save (George) Harsh From Chair" and presented evidence intended to show the Harsh family had paid $50,000 damages to relatives of persons killed by Gallogly's companion.

On rebuttal, Attorney General Ellis Arnall of Georgia, declared a search he conducted of the records of the Texas secretary of state's office showed no evidence that an extradition request by Texas officials had not been honored by the governor of Georgia, as claimed by Gallogly's representatives.

"As to claimed cruel treatment of Gallogly," Arnall said, "I present the following affidavits.

He then read asserted statements from prison guards and others relating that the escapee had received "unusually good treatment," that he was permitted visitors at any time, that he frequently would be taken to hotels and permitted intervals of freedom.

In an attempt to refute Gallogly's testimony he had received unfair treatment, Arnall read numerous affidavits from prison guards and others detailing what they said were unusual privileges given the prisoner, including a visit to a night club, use of whiskey and possession of a sawed-off shotgun.

One, by M. M. Carrig, guard at Effingham county prison, said Gallogly had a radio, made use of the warden's ice box where he kept his food, and took frequent trips to Atlanta.

Carrig's statement said he had seen the prisoner under the influence of liquor.

BISHOP HOLT IS A VISITOR IN CITY Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, Dallas, en route to the New Mexico conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, was breakfast guest of Rev. J. O. Haynes, pastor of the First Methodist church, here Tuesday morning.

He had recently completed a conference in Missouri, where he was doing special duty. There he was faced with the problem of merging churches in keeping with the unification of Methodism earlier in the year. In turn this necessitated the finding of places for the ministers unassigned due to the combining of churches.

TODAY AND WEDNESDAY

Another Fine Anniversary Hit!

A HARD-HITTING NEW STAR TEAM!

Youth Talent In Ritz Film

Song and dance, pathos and drama, form the background for the first co-starring appearance of Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland in "Babes in Arms," which plays Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz as one of the anniversary week offerings.

Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney do a blackface skit as part of the entertainment in "Babes in Arms."

Based on the Broadway musical success of a couple of seasons ago, the story deals with the era when vaudeville passed out of the entertainment picture. When the old-time headliners were up against it, their kids came to the rescue, bringing with them a modern viewpoint and a talent that was inborn. It is a natural structure for a picture which boasts the greatest collection of song, dance and acting performers since the memorable "Great Ziegfeld." In addition to the stellar Rooney-Garland team, the cast features Charles Winninger, Guy Kibbee, June Preisler, Grace Hayes, Betty Jaynes, Douglas McPhail, Rand Brooks, Leni Lynn, John Sheffield, remembered as "Tarzan, Jr." in "Tarzan Finds a Son!", and some 200 supporting players.

Cast as the son of a famous "two-day" team in a period marked by the passing of vaudeville, Mickey leads the children of the despairing troupers in a fight to keep out of the country farm. Desperation and the amazing talents of the youngsters enable the kids to fight their way right to the very Broadway from which a fickle public has driven their dads and mothers. A puppy love romance between Judy and Mickey is threatened momentarily by June Preisler, playing a former screen baby star who has both the looks and the money needed to stage Mickey's show.

To Face Trial At Odessa

ODESSA, Oct. 17 (AP)—Isabelle Messner, 22, fugitive from a New Jersey reformatory, may go on trial in December on a charge of murdering Buford Armstrong, former baseball player. County Attorney O. E. Geron said she had signed a statement that she shot Armstrong March 31 in self defense after he had attempted to attack her. Armstrong's body was found in a tourist cabin. The girl was brought here Sunday from St. Louis. Bond was set at $5,000. Lloyd Fisher, prosecuting attorney from Flemington, N. J., asked for her after Texas is through with her. Fisher, en route to the west coast, came here from St. Louis where requisition papers were not in order for her return to New Jersey.

Geron said she told St. Louis officers she obtained the gun used in the killing from two Mexicans, who killed two women from California. She said she admitted the statement was a ruse to get Texas officers to claim her before she was sent back to New Jersey to serve the balance of an eight year term. "I'll take my life before I'll go back to New Jersey," she told Tony Slaughter, newspaper reporter. "I'm glad to get back in Texas and I'd rather give my life to Texas than the electric chair that return there."

Russo-Turk Parleys Are Suspended

MOSCOW, Oct. 17 (AP)—The protracted negotiations between Soviet Russia and Turkey came to at least a temporary halt today with the announced intention of Turkey's Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu to leave Moscow tonight. Saracoglu has been in Moscow nearly a month discussing with Soviet leaders problems in connection with the Black Sea and its outlet, the Dardanelles. Coincident with the announcement of Saracoglu's leaving was the appearance of an article in the government newspaper Ivestia which asserted Britain and France could not establish an effective sea blockade against Germany because of the economic aid the reich would receive from Russia and Italy. Meanwhile reports here told of an increasing flood of Jewish refugees from German-occupied Poland, pouring into adjoining Polish territory now held by the Russians. The report said scattered remnants of the Polish army still were fighting a guerrilla campaign in eastern Poland, hiding in woods and marshes and wearing uniforms of Soviet soldiers they had killed in ambush. There were numerous unofficial reports of the stream of Jewish refugees from the German side of the new boundary, estimated already to total 500,000 to 1,000,000. Russians here say the Red army is receiving the Jews cordially and providing work for them. The native population, however, is said to be fearful of Nazi spies among the refugees and to be receiving them with suspicion.

INCREASE SHOWN IN CRUDE OIL OUTPUT

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 17 (AP)—Crude oil production in the United States increased 269,510 barrels daily to 3,685,948 for the week ended Oct. 14, the Oil and Gas Journal said today. Illinois and Michigan reported declines. Illinois production was down 12,615 to 320,100, and Michigan was off 4,891 to 63,001. The flow of Oklahoma wells increased 22,925 to 425,350; East Texas, 98,258 to 492,848, with all of Texas up 201,210 to 1,457,093; Louisiana, 11,106 to 264,180; California, 16,750 to 627,750; Kansas, 20,050 to 164,125; eastern fields, 1,750 to 101,000, and the Rocky Mountain Area, 1,820 to 83,990.

Dies Group Requesting More Funds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Declaring that it had important information affecting national defense, the Dies committee has decided to ask the house for "ample funds" to continue its investigation of un-American activities for another year. "Due to the international situation the committee has hundreds of important leads which cannot be developed until it is given more time and funds," a committee statement said last night. The committee, created in 1938 with Rep. Dies (D-Tex) as its head, was extended for a year by the house last winter and was given $126,000. The committee announcement said that those members present at last night's closed meeting voted unanimously for renewal of the authorization. Among those present were Representatives Voorhis (D-Mass) who had voted in the house against continuing the investigation. They were not members of the committee at the time. The committee said it was reluctantly informed that "many important witnesses," previously reluctant to testify, would be willing "in the course of the year to disclose far-reaching information with regard to subversive activities, propaganda and espionage." The committee added that it thought the renewal should be voted at the present special session.

Why Let Yourself Get Constipated?

Why endure those dull headachy days due to constipation, plus the inevitable trips to the medicine chest, if you can avoid both by getting at the cause of the trouble? If your constipation, like that of millions, is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, the "better way" is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran. This crunchy toasted breakfast cereal is the ounce of prevention that's worth a pound of emergency relief. It helps you not only to get regular but to keep regular, day after day and month after month, by the pleasant means you ever knew. Eat Kellogg's All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Ward Week Sale To Make Extra Jobs In Big Spring Store

E. M. Conley, manager of the Montgomery Ward store, announced today that he was adding to the store's selling force in preparation for the Ward Week sale, which begins Wednesday, October 18th. "Ward Week is our biggest sale every year," Conley commented, "and business in Big Spring has been so good during the past few months that we are looking forward to our greatest Ward Week yet. In fact, we're expecting such crowds of shoppers that we are putting on extra salespeople to provide the best possible service for our customers."

Ward Week is a semi-annual event in which Montgomery Ward stores all over the country participate. Ward store managers plan months ahead, and then cooperate in buying and shipping the merchandise from factories. This mass buying enables the stores to effect economies that are reflected in lower prices. Conley stated that his Ward Week prices will be the lowest of the season, with special values in every department.
