Club's History Is One Of Service

Dist. Governor Charles Dean is Principal Speaker at Lions Anniversary Meeting

Sponsoring of the local Boy Scouts Troop, the city park, and various school activities, including basketball tournaments and luncheon entertainment to honor students; supplying glasses for 35 students and contributing materially toward operation expenses for a student; sending Christmas greetings to men in the armed forces; sponsoring and aiding in bond drives, and promoting funds for a memorial to be erected in honor of the county's servicemen, are only a few of the community services rendered by Matador Lions Club. Latest project which the club is sponsoring, is the purchase of an iron lung to be county-owned.

This data was revealed in a review of the history of the organization by Elmer Stearns, at Lion's Ladies Night and birthday anniversary celebration held Tuesday night on the back lawn of Henry Pipkin's residence, declared by all who attended, to be the most enjoyable affair ever staged by the organization.

Honor Guests Present

Guests of honor were District Governor Charles Dean, and Lion Joe Murrell of Plainview, first Boss Lion of the Matador club. A telegram of congratulations was read from the club's first secretary, Capt. E. M. Rice, of Camp Swift, Texas.

Reminiscent chuckles were heard over the group, as Lion Stearns recounted, from early club minutes, various entertainments which included a circus and parade, and many enjoyable Ladies Night programs.

Several key members were called on to name the Lions whom they had procured for club membership, and Tailtwater Doug Pitts declared he had been framed, when he had to pay a fine in "folding money" after it developed that the members he named, were on record as being Lion Henry Ford's members.

After quantities of barbecued chicken, gravy, potatoes, tomatoes, peaches, cookies and coffee had been consumed by Lions and their Lioness guests, Boss Lion Rufus Emmons opened the program by presenting Lion Joe Murrell, who initiated into the membership, a new member, D. C. Bradley, by presenting him the Lion's button and credentials.

Dean Appoints Emmons

District Governor Dean, who addressed the group in his dynamic manner, preceded his remarks by announcing the appointment of Lion Rufus Emmons as Group Chairman of this group, of District 2-T. Humor, patriotism and Lionism combined to make Governor Dean's talk an enjoyable highlight of the evening's program.

Other out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harpole, Mrs. Joe Murrell of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Handley, Mrs. Howard Trawock and Miss Beulah Patton of Paducah; and Douglas Meador, Morton.

24 Charter Members

Of the club's original roster, nine are still members, being: W. W. Clements, C. M. Glenn, L. C. Harp, Henry Pipkin, D. E. Pitts, Elmer Stearns, A. C. Tra-week, J. R. Whitworth and Harry Willett. Other charter members were: Gail C. Bradley, G. S. Craven, Jno. K. Crews, R. A. Day, H. C. Eargle, Farris Fish, H. W. Gilbreath, W. P. Graves, Lee Guthrie, J. N. Murrell, M. P. Leaming, E. M. Rice, (See CLUB'S HISTORY page 4)

NATION TO RETURN TO OLD TIME SOON

War-time will be abolished as of Sept. 30, Congress leaders have decided.

"Fast" time will end at 2 a. m. on that date, which is on Sunday, and clocks will be turned back one hour. They were advanced an hour on January 20, 1942, as a war measure, intended to increase daylight hours of production and to save fuel, light and power.

BOYS CONTINUE TO APPRECIATE PAPER

Boys in uniform still appreciate the home-town paper, as evidence by personal calls to the Tribune office to express thanks in person, three this week being Cpl. John B. Simpson, just home from Germany, Cpl. Maldon Simpson, home from the Philippines, and S/Sgt. Glenn Woodruff, recently returned from Germany.

Written thanks were received from Pfc. K. J. Clifton, who writes from Camp Campbell, Ky., "I have just received two copies of the Tribune; although they were old ones, I still enjoyed reading them. They were sent to my old address, so I am sending in my present one and hoping that I don't have to miss another issue of the best home-town paper in Texas. Thanks a million for the paper."

Joining the boys in expressing thanks to friends and neighbors who aid in sending the paper to them, the Tribune extends appreciation for the following unsolicited contributions: A. M. Harmon (Roaring Springs) $1; D. E. Pitts $4; Cooper Ozborn, $5.

Daily changes in address are being authorized by government post offices, and it would be greatly appreciated if families and boys would keep the Tribune notified of all changes in address. In many instances, the Tribune is still going to an overseas address long after the boy has returned to the states, but failed to notify the editors of the change.

Tribune Presents New Appearance

Although few of our readers may have noticed the change, the Tribune presented quite a different appearance last week, through a "face-lifting" treatment.

A new font of type, known as the "Opticon" has replaced the old "excelsior" type which has been in use the past 12 years. The new type is declared to be one of the most popular faces for legibility, in use today.

The new bold-face, or small head-line face used with the Opticon, is Memphis bold.

Wage Ceiling Is Set For Cotton Picking

Wage ceiling of two dollars twenty-five cents for picking and one dollar thirty-five cents for pulling per one hundred pounds of seed cotton, has been recommended and approved, J. R. Emmons, County Agricultural Agent, has been advised in

Brands Must Be Renewed

All cattle owners are urged by Bob Echols, director of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, to re-record their brands before October 1, 1945 if they desire to continue using their present brand.

House Bill 170, passed by the 1943 Texas Legislature, provided that all marks and brands in the State of Texas must be re-recorded before October 1, 1945. Two years time was given so that soldiers would be able to make provisions to have this done.

Relatives and friends of boys in the service should investigate and see that these brands are re-recorded for the boys.

All livestock owners are cautioned to re-record their marks and brands before the deadline. The legal owner of a brand or mark has a preferential right to record such brand or mark if it is done before October 1, 1945. If such preferential right is not exercised before that date, the right to re-record that brand is forfeited and such brand shall be subject to registration by any person, and the first person to record the brand or mark after October 1, 1945, shall be the owner of the brand.

The 1943 Legislature amended the 1943 brand bill and provided that the words brand or mark as used in the 1943 brand law, shall be changed to brands or marks, thus clearing up considerable misunderstanding about whether or not a person could record more than one brand. The amendment states definitely that any legal owner of a brand may have and own and record one or more brands.

"Livestock owners will do well to take immediate steps to have their brands or marks re-recorded, keeping in mind that it must be done before October 1, 1945, and that one person can record one or more brands in his name", Mr. Echols declared.

wearing a rose in her hair, she shed her head and laughed, dry, cold night the lame light by his lonely light and the letter which elected to defeat. He had worn garments of his dreams they remained only as tatters, fabrics that possessed charm nor comfort, and the candle of hope sputtered, charred tallow. Wearily, he pulled the toe of his right shoe under the knee of his lame leg. He looked at the sole of the boot and traced the with his finger. He picked up the letter and read it again, slowly wrote a paragraph wide margin below the addressed an envelope and weighed the hour when he had whispered to his dear heart and his lips shaped the words of gratitude. It was these attended moments success was born on a float-ship of wreckage from his ship of ambition. Much of history of man's progress is written with thoughts that come before him while he is in pain from the blows of easy success is temporary failure.

Specialized apothecary through the centuries, it was known that a drug recently offered churns at a price.

Another summer dies in the feverish earth the skies grow cool and when swept clear of clouds, it is the season for my mother would proudly stand on a hill in the distance and survey the boundries of her little world. Sometimes I feel that she could see farther than the tranquil autumn horizon. The view must be more magnificent when she looks back from eternity.

Footprints in the sandy sand dunes to the right and frequently retreating short toes from the inevitable painful path to school. Rights are left by these like those left by men women in more adult years. Courses, like those left by children in shifting sands of small import. Subsequent generations will be born and their temporal tracks, and waters will change sands but they will remain the brief passages of a life, endowed with whatever may be contained in their tears and the sublime unshared will of tomorrow.

There was thick tobacco smoke and the stench of cheap beer in the lowceiling room where the two miners stood and drank at empty glasses on either side of a partly-filled bottle. Their eyes were glassy and red, bulged from the pupils. A dirty piece of currency was placed on the counter and they looked again from the bottle. Length they staggered a little, departed, shook hands at the door, and each went a separate way. Slaves of a master to whom they had surrendered precious freedom, they were left to the unlocked cells of the drunkards sleep.

In the rose and star-dust, the wild geese were flying this morning. Harbingers of a new day, they cried an ancient message to the drowsy world. Summer was like a feeble old man after they had passed, and there was open mockery of the perishing strength of the winds when the sun was a month. Even the seasons passed with reluctance.

In the silvery ice of an autumn moon, the night was a time of sublime beauty. Glow-worms on the rim of splendor, the light of a city reflected on the darkness. Cars moved like candles of love being lit at the altar of ecstasy.

King, husband of Mrs. Martha Dell King, Matador, has been promoted from technician fourth grade to staff sergeant in recognition of proven ability with an artillery battalion. Sgt. King is a member of Maj. Gen. Paul J. Mueller's 81st Infantry "Wildcat" Division, which last fall wrested the Palau and other Western Caroline Islands from the Japs.

ABOARD THE TRANSPORT GRIMES IN TOKYO BAY (Delayed) Special to the Tribune—Noble W. Smith, seaman, first class, of Matador, sailed into Tokyo Bay aboard this ship and landed the first occupation forces on the conquered soil of Japan.

A few hours before General of the Army Douglas MacArthur's triumphant arrival at Atsugi airfield, the Grimes landed a contingent of Marines on the beach at Futtsu Saki, on the eastern shore of Tokyo Bay, after moving past the silenced Jap batteries of 16-inch guns.

The Grimes, flagship for Transport Division 60, previously had participated in some of the major Pacific operations, including Ie Shima and Okinawa. On her first important mission, she braved shore gun fire to evacuate troops from Two Jima.

David Yandell, Aviation Ordnance Third Class, who is training to become a U. S. Naval aircrewman, graduated last week as an honor student from aerial gunners school, Jacksonville, Florida, according to a special release to the Tribune from the U. S. Naval Air Station there.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Yandell, Matador, the 18-year-old bluejacket previously completed a course at aviation ordnance school at Norman, Okla. He is next scheduled for operational training as ordnance gunner in Navy planes at Jacksonville, after which he will receive his aircrewman's wings. He enlisted in the Navy October 15, 1944.

Cpl. William Colston, who has been stationed at Sacramento, California, writes to give an A.P.O. address in care of the postmaster, San Francisco.

HEADQUARTERS, 13th AIR FORCE, PHILIPPINES (Special to the Tribune)—Corporal Paul A. Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Nichols, Roaring Springs, has completed more than 28 months overseas with the Lightning Lancers Squadron of Brigadier General Earl W. Barnes' 13th Air Force Fighter Command. He is an automobile mechanic with his unit.

Corporal Nichols entered service July 18, 1942, and since April 9, 1943, has been with the famed "Jungle Air Force" Squadron whose fliers have blasted the Nips from Guadalcanal through the Philippines to the French-Indo China coast. He holds the Asiatic-Pacific campaign ribbon with six battle stars and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with one star.

A 1941 graduate of Roaring Springs High School, Corporal Nichols was employed on a civilian construction project before entering the service.

A column, "Friends and Texas" written by Captain Jasper C. Massegee, Chaplain in the European theatre of operations, appearing in the publication "Carry On" dated July 20, 1945 contained mention of Pfc. John T. Smelser, in the following manner:

"The ETO is nearer home to me than Wisconsin was when I was stationed at Camp McCoy in that state during 1944. At least being assigned to the original TO Division makes me feel nearer to Texas since my first few days here have renewed a number of old friendships and acquaintances.

"The assignment came on my mother's birthday, July 11. Imagine my happy surprise when Pfc. John T. Smelser of Matador, Texas, came into the office and said that he 'saw something strangely familiar in my face' and decided to find out what that 'something' was. It gave me the chance of a lifetime to tell him all — nearly all about my birth at the outbreak of World War 1, just eight miles west of his hometown at Whiteflat. He recalled that he knew my grandparents on my mother's side. He knew me as a kid trying to learn horseback riding 'out there in the west'."

New address for Cpl. Loyd Latimer, 1807761, is P.O. L-36, 4051 St. AAF. B.U. Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas. He was sent there from Fresno, California recently.

New A.P.O. was furnished last week for Cpl. Lindell Cooper, whose mail goes in care of the New York Postmaster, and also for Sgt. Ruel R. Skinner.

Mrs. V. J. Skaggs left recently for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Harold Allen and family, at Gulfport, Miss.

SAYS SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE:

Inspite Victory Used Fat Saving Must Go On!

Every woman in America should know that our country continues to face a serious fat shortage. And victory over Japan won't solve the problem immediately. We must keep on saving used fats in our kitchens!

If you have any thought that saving used fats is one of those wartime chores we can drop, now that Victory is here, please consider these facts and tell them to your neighbors.

America still needs salvaged fats. Not even at the peak of our war effort, when fats were required for mountains of shells and bombs and medicines, in addition to the ever-present need for soap, were our needs for salvaging fat greater than now. Our stocks have been drained by four long years of war, and there isn't enough on hand to meet all requirements.

Don't let "Victory psychosis" blind you to this national need! If housewives stop saving fats now, the shortage will become even more critical.

Don't let a single drop of used fats go to waste! Little trimmings of fat left on the platter at the table, scraps left on plates, and even the skimmings of soups and gravies are important. It is the consistent saving of even these small amounts that counts.

Don't turn in fats that can be re-used! But some fats, such as those rendered from lamb and mutton, are not suitable for re-use. Put them immediately in the salvage can. And, with other fats, after you've got all cooking good out of them, there is always a little left. No matter how little it is, save it.

Your butcher will still give you 4¢ and 2 red points for every pound you turn in. Save consistently—save every drop you can—every day—until Uncle Sam says the job is done.
