

Polish Refugees Under Constant Fire From German Air Raiders

(Editor's Note: The following dispatch was sent to Budapest and filed from there at 11:55 a. m. today—4:55 a. m. CST.)

By DANIEL DE LUCE
SNIATYN, Poland (At the Rumanian Border), Sept. 14 (Time of writing unknown)—(P)—Wearied refugees, trudging along the main highways of southeastern Poland today, reported they were under continual fire of German planes using bombs and machine-guns.

The area was an actual or potential target of the swarming aerial invaders.

It was estimated at least 100,000 Poles, moving mostly toward the Rumanian frontier, were fleeing Poland's war-swept zones. With communications disrupted, making accuracy impossible, it was estimated civilian casualties in scattered towns and byways averaged at least a hundred daily.

shattered railroad lines—and tangled bodies of men, women and children.

The frontier itself was not safe until one actually crossed into Rumania. Zaleskiycki, on the Polish side, already has been raked with aerial fire and the Sniatyn railroad station on the frontier was photographed by two low-flying bombers which dove within 500 feet of the ground, calmly ignoring rifle fire from the station roof.

truck piled high with parcels from the British and French consulates.

(Lwow is about 150 miles northeast of Sniatyn by railroad.) We were subjected to air raids all day along the dusty chucked road toward Sniatyn. Nearly every village we passed through had been bombed. Outside the picturesque village of Trembowla we dove into the shelter of an apple orchard while two German bombers swooped over the railway station.

later when we passed through the main street of the town we saw bombs had struck peasant houses on each side, missing the railroad station by 100 yards. Five bodies were lying under a half-fallen tree.

(Editor's note: The following dispatch was sent by Daniel De Luce by courier and telegraph to Budapest and filed from Budapest.)
LWOW, Poland, Sept. 14, 5 a. m. CST, Sept. 13 (P)—Regardless of whether the slowly retreating Polish army is able to stem the German advance, this city of 216,000 population is doomed.

Bombed from the air for 14 days and battered by artillery during the past week, Lwow is a giant torch. A red glow, cast over the city by flames from burning oil refineries, makes a grim mockery of air raid precautions. Other fires are burning in many sections of the city. Shattered aqueducts have emptied the reservoir from which Lwow draws its water supply and efforts to quench the flames with sand are pitifully ineffective.

danger of plague and the horror of bombing attacks have reduced the remaining residents to a state of panic. Over all hovers the fear the Germans may enter the city at any moment.

The panic is particularly acute among the Jewish community, which numbers approximately 100,000. In shell-scarred synagogues, the Jews began their New Year celebration by offering up prayers for rain which they hoped might halt the march of the German army.

Britain Renews Warning On Civilian Raids

Chamberlain Says German Bombings Will Strengthen Empire's Attack

LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons today that if Germany bombed civilians in Poland it would strengthen the resolve of Britain and her allies to "ensure the menace we are now fighting is finally removed."

The prime minister reiterated the statement yesterday by Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax that Britain would claim a free hand to take "appropriate action" if Germany bombed civilians.

Referring to an official German statement that severe measures would be taken to crush civilian resistance in Poland he said:

"His Majesty's government have noted this announcement, which in the face of it is in flat contradiction of the German chancellor's recent statement to the Reichstag when he disclaimed any desire to make war on women and children.

"The restrictions we—like the French—have imposed on the operations of our own forces were based upon the condition of similar restraint being observed by our opponents; and His Majesty's government must, of course, hold themselves free, if such restraint is not in fact observed, to take such action as they may deem appropriate.

"But I wish to add that whatever be the lengths to which others may go His Majesty's government will never resort to deliberate attack on women, children and other civilians for purposes of mere terrorism.

"In the meantime, it must be remembered that our strategy and tactics must at all stages be governed by one consideration and one

French Forces Closing In On Key To Saar

German Artillery Is Giving Attackers Plenty Trouble

PARIS, Sept. 14 (AP)—French forces, supported by thousands of newly landed British troops, were reported today to be closing in from three sides on Saarbruecken, industrial center of the rich Saar basin.

Seizure of the city, the reports indicated, was considered vital to give the French a jumping off point for a wider attack against the heavily fortified Siegfried line.

Indications the Poles were being hard pressed by concentrated German artillery fire came in an official war communique.

"Strong action by heavy enemy artillery on heights south of Saarbruecken," the communique read.

Reich troops previously were reported moving heavily, long ranges into the battle areas. The position of the firing batteries and the intensity of the shelling were not disclosed.

German reinforcements were reported massing behind Saarbruecken to forestall a direct French attack and occupation of the Saar capital.

Heavy fighting was reported near Hornbach as the French troops pushed eastward.

Rain hampered operations along the 100-mile front between the Moselle and Rhine rivers, but military dispatches spoke of "substantial gains."

The French government declared officially there already are "several hundred thousand" British troops now in France. Officials said, however, the British "Unit of the British Army, however, were observed moving toward the front.

Polish mingled with the troops as they helmed for brief rest periods.

Reports of fighting in the Saar basin said the advance had almost removed the French frontier town of Sarreguemines from the range of German artillery.

The dispatch said French shell-fire had caused the German army to start removal of its Saar headquarters from Saarbruecken.

The latest advances were said to have been accompanied by the heaviest aerial fighting on the western front to date. Dogfights over the lines, French sources said, resulted in destruction of three German planes and "one or two" French.

On operations on the western front the communique said "stronger French forces than hitherto" advanced toward German outposts between Saarbruecken and Hornbach, but were "stopped by mine fields and German defense fire."

On the eastern front, the communique said, German armies yesterday closed their ring about Warsaw through advances east of the city.

It added that near Radom, some 90 miles south of Warsaw, "60,000" prisoners were taken, among

POLISH PORT OF GDYNIA SURRENDERS; WARSAW'S PLIGHT GROWS CRITICAL

Three Major Maneuvers Underway

Nazis Report Capture Of Many Prisoners As Drive Goes On

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Surrender of the Polish port of Gdynia after a two-weeks' siege was announced today and Germany's eastern army was reported to have made new advances in drives against Warsaw and two other key Polish objectives.

Fighting continues. A communique telling of fall of Gdynia, which had been cut off almost since the outbreak of hostilities Sept. 1, said German troops entered the city at 10:15 a. m. (3:15 a. m. CST).

"The Polish commandant surrendered the city," it continued. "North of Gdynia fighting is still going on."

A communique which told of advances in Poland said 65,000 prisoners had been captured and "showed the eastern forces to be continuing on three main manoeuvres:

1. Encircling Warsaw completely.

2. Cutting off Lublin from Lwow to prevent such government officials as may still be at Lublin from reaching the south; and

3. Advancing with East Prussian divisions upon Brzesk (Brest-Litovsk) 110 miles east of Warsaw.

Earlier today a commentary which usually presents the German foreign office opinion attributed to President Roosevelt, in his interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine, an attitude "unfair and unchivalrous, to say nothing of being unneutral."

Coincidentally, publication of a German contraband law was seen by observers as a warning to indicate that German submarines would do their utmost legitimately to prevent food and war materials from reaching Britain and France.

On operations on the western front the communique said "stronger French forces than hitherto" advanced toward German outposts between Saarbruecken and Hornbach, but were "stopped by mine fields and German defense fire."

On the eastern front, the communique said, German armies yesterday closed their ring about Warsaw through advances east of the city.

It added that near Radom, some 90 miles south of Warsaw, "60,000" prisoners were taken, among

Autumn Rains Are Cheering To Defenders

Death And Desolation In Capital; Officials Have Fled

BUDAPEST, Sept. 14 (AP)—Heavy autumn rains for which all Poland has been praying in the hope they would hamper Germany's motorized forces were reported today to have begun falling in the vicinity of Warsaw during the night.

City in Ruins. The Warsaw correspondent of the Posti Hirlap wrote today that there was much rejoicing among people in the besieged city.

Warsaw, still holding out against repeated German thrusts, was a city half in ruins today, its plight rendered serious by a growing food shortage and severed communication lines.

Radio broadcasts pictured scenes of death and desolation at a prolonged bombardment by land and air forces continued.

Most Polish government officials long since have fled the city. Eleven of them, headed by Eugen Kwiatkowski, vice premier and finance minister, were reported last night to have crossed the southern Polish border into Rumania.

Describing the situation in Warsaw in a broadcast from the capital, Captain Wladyslaw Polenski of the Polish air force said the entire Praga district was in ruins and that many bodies—some of women and children—lay in the shell-scarred streets.

"Many people were killed inside churches where they had sought safety," he said. "Others died in cemeteries where tombstones were smashed and bodies scattered about."

Polenski declared the Germans had used incendiary bombs and had "shelled and machine-gunned panicky crowds which had taken refuge in fields outside the city limits."

"Hospitals were pitiful sights during the air raids," the broadcaster said.

A staff officer who broadcast a description of fighting in the suburbs said roads were "blocked with smashed lorries, cars, dead soldiers, women and children."

"Bombs explode constantly amid crowds of people running away," he said. "Coyers of water spurt skyward when mains are damaged by earth-shaking explosions. Tanks rumble into view spitting fire. Soldiers and women attack the modern monsters with bunched hand grenades."

Charges of speeding were lodged in justice court Thursday against E. C. Cortell, a Florida resident, in connection with a car crash near Sand Springs, six miles east of Big Spring, Wednesday afternoon.

William C. Strange, Janan, Magnolia Oil company employe, was treated at the Big Spring hospital for minor injuries and dismissed.

State highway officers, who filed the speeding charge, said Cortell was driving westward when an approaching car turned in at a Sand Springs station. Cortell apparently braked his car to avoid a collision and skidded to the other side of the road to contact the Strange car, which was close behind the one which turned in.

WOODALL REELECTED FARM-LOAN HEAD

Arthur Woodall has been re-elected president of the Big Spring National Farm Loan association for another year, it was announced Thursday.

Directors also retained Ira J. Driver as secretary-treasurer of the organization and returned Walter Robinson as vice president. Other members of the board are C. E. Anderson, C. E. Edwards, and M. E. Edwards. Annual stockholders meeting was held last week.

Congress May Have Lengthy Session To Check Policies

PUMP WATER FROM SQUALUS FOR REMOVAL OF 26 BODIES

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 14 (AP)—A navy yard fire engine pumped water from the after-section of the salvaged submarine Squalus today while officials pressed preparations for removal of her 26 dead, possibly before sundown.

Meanwhile, salvage workers accompanied by Harold C. Preble, civilian naval architect, who was one of the 33 rescued after the Squalus sank May 23, surveyed the dry forward compartments of the battered, rusted craft as she lay at a wharf.

Initial efforts failed to open the after-battery compartment door, which was slammed against the rushing water as the Squalus sank, saving the lives of a majority of her crew.

The naval board of inquiry, which adjourned its investigation into the sinking in 240 feet of water 15 miles off shore, plans to convene tomorrow.

Anti-Profitteering Legislation Considered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Senatorial foes of President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the arms embargo served notice today they would try to hold congress in Washington continuously, after it convenes in special session next Thursday, to keep check on the administration's foreign policy.

At the same time, demands from some senate and house members for legislation against "war profiteering" indicated congress might not confine itself at the special session to action on the administration's suggestions for revision of the neutrality act.

Some legislators said President Roosevelt himself might recommend laws to curb profit-taking on commodities. There was talk also he might ask an appropriation of $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 to expand and expedite the national defense program.

Senator Clark (D-Mo.), a critic of the administration's foreign policies, sounded the opposition keynote with a declaration he hoped "congress remains in session as long as the emergency proclaimed by the president exists."

The regular session begins next January 3 and, if the special session extends throughout this year, congress will be in almost continuous session at least until next spring.

Senator Borah (R-Isho), who has opposed repeal of the arms embargo on the grounds such a step would lead the country into war, will make an initial speech against the administration's program over the radio (NBC Blue network) at 8:30 o'clock (CST) tonight.

Senator Nye (R-ND) also told reporters he felt congress ought to be on hand for any emergency that might arise.

The special session was called by President Roosevelt yesterday to begin at noon next Thursday.

MISHAPS COME IN PAIRS ON THE 13TH

September 13th was an unlucky day in the home of Fred Kiser, Coahoma. Early in the morning Kiser, Texas & Pacific section foreman at Coahoma, was accidently hit on the head by a mallet in the hand of a Mexican section worker, and had several stitches taken to close the wound. While he was recuperating at his home, his young son, Fred Eugene, aged 12, jumped from the balcony while at play in the family yard Wednesday afternoon, sustaining a badly broken ankle. He was brought to the Big Spring hospital for treatment.

Lease Signed For Airport

Mayor R. V. Jones was authorized by the city commission Wednesday evening to sign a contract with American Airlines, Inc. for a 10-year lease agreement on facilities of the municipal airport.

The contract which the commission approved was one submitted by the company with only minor revisions. Approval by the airline would close the deal.

Highpoints of the lease agreement is its 10-year term instead of the annual basis employed heretofore, a monthly rental of $100 instead of $50 paid currently, and conditions under which the contract could be terminated.

American Airlines agreed to pay $50 per month for use of the terminal building provided the city would furnish heat and lights for the entire building. The company will continue to pay for fuel.

Rural Dinner This Evening

An attendance of around 125 was anticipated at Center Point this evening at 7:30 o'clock when the series of community good will dinners is resumed.

At noon Thursday 54 local men had made reservations for 57 tickets and it appeared that perhaps as many as 60 might leave the chamber of commerce office at 7 p. m. for Center Point.

Mrs. Glen Cantrell, in charge of arrangements for the affair, predicted that there would be from 60 to 75 men present from the community. They will be the guests of Big Spring business and professional men.

Joe Pond will preside and Dr. W. B. Hardy will serve as master of ceremonies. Entertainment will be furnished by the Dix Bros. String Band, the Melody Mads trio of Marie Baird, Beatrice Peck and Juanita Cook, an accordion number by Marie Baird, a vocal selection by James Underwood with Mrs. Anne Gibson Houser at the piano, and sleight-of-hand tricks by Rev. A. L. Haley of Colorado City. Martelle McDonald will deliver a brief address, the only one scheduled for the evening.

Salvation Army Advisory Board To Meet Friday

Meeting of the Salvation Army advisory board, to map plans for a finance campaign, has been called for 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in the directors room of the First National bank. Board members will confer with R. L. Portwood, special campaign director. He urged full attendance at the meeting, so that a comprehensive drive may be mapped to meet the Army's operating budget for the next year.

Members of the board include R. T. Piner, chairman; R. R. McEwen, Cliff Wiley, Joe Ogden, G. H. Hayward, J. H. Grease, E. V. Spencer, Bob Whiskey, and Mrs. J. H. Parrott.

Warning Given On U.S. Rights

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—The American government served notice today to the warring nations, today that it "reserves all rights of the United States and its nationals under international law," and will take appropriate measures when these rights are violated.

Secretary Hull issued a formal statement declaring: "The government of the United States has not abandoned any of its rights as a neutral under international law."

He detailed the various steps taken through American legislation such as restrictions of travel on belligerent vessels, loans and credits to belligerents, and said:

"These restrictive measures do not and cannot constitute a modification of the principle of international law but rather they require nationals of the United States to forego, until the exercise of certain rights under those principles."

Hull added:

"The principles of international law as regards neutrals and belligerents have evolved through the centuries. While belligerents have frequently departed from these principles on one pretext or another, and have endeavored to justify their action on various grounds, the principles still subsist."

"This government, adhering as it does to these principles, reserves all rights of the United States and its nationals under international law and will adopt such measures as may seem most practical and prudent when those rights are violated by any of the belligerents."

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14 (AP)—Passengers and crew of a Pan-American airliner arriving today from Mexico City said there is a widespread rumor in Mexico that the missing German liner Bremen is hiding in the Mexican port of Progreso.

Progresso is a remote port at the northern end of the Yucatan peninsula on the Gulf of Mexico.

RESIGNS

HUGH DUBBERLY

District Clerk Resigns Post

District Judge Cecil C. Collings Thursday announced the resignation of Hugh Dubberly as district clerk and the appointment of W. S. Morrison to serve out the unexpired term.

The court said that Dubberly's resignation would be effective Friday in accordance with his wishes so that he might enter private business at Las Vegas, N. M. Dubberly has an oil bulk station agency there.

Several individuals had applied for the appointment, according to Judge Collings, who added that most of them intended to seek an elective term in 1940. Morrison will not be a candidate for election to the office. Another factor was that Morrison has had much experience in the office, a quality required since court is in the midst of a session.

In accepting the appointment, Morrison assured the citizens of an effort to continue efficient operation of the office and said that he would not be a candidate for the office of district clerk.

Dubberly was appointed to the position of clerk on Nov. 23, 1931, to succeed his father, O. Dubberly, who two days before had, with Mrs. Dubberly, been fatally injured in a car mishap near Sweetwater. Hugh Dubberly was given his first elective term in 1932 and was re-elected in 1934, 1936 and 1938.

"In leaving the office of district clerk of Howard county," said Dubberly in a statement with him

Another Ship Is Torpedoed

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—The crew of the British freighter Vancouver City, torpedoed early today off the south coast of Ireland, was rescued by a Netherlands tanker and an airplane. The U. S. liner President Roosevelt radioed today.

"Crew picked up by Dutch tanker assisted by airplane. Rescuing course," the message said.

The President Roosevelt proceeded to the rescue from a point 25 miles away after the freighter sent out a "come rescue" message.

The 4,955-ton vessel, enroute from Colon in the Canal Zone to England, was owned by the Reardon Smith Line, Ltd. and was in the England-South Pacific trade.

TANKER IN DISTRESS

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—The United States liner Manhattan today radioed she had turned from her course to rescue the crew of the British tanker British Influence.

No position was given for the tanker.

The British Influence, a ship of 4,481 gross tons, was in the India-England trade.

Commodore A. B. Randall, master of the Manhattan which left New York last Saturday, did not give further details in his first message, nor did he say what had happened to the tanker.

The New York office said that by now the Manhattan should be about 300 miles off the Irish coast.

Look At The Calendar-It's Oyster Time

Here's a combination that should please oyster-lovers; juicy blue-points teamed with sausages in a scalloped treat.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE AP Feature Service Writer

The year has rolled around again to those months the gourmets love—the "R" months, the oyster months.

Oysters have been cherished for centuries, but cooks still are finding new and more succulent ways to prepare them. Here are just a few of the modern recipes to help you start the season right.

OYSTERS BENEDICT—Broil or saute thin slices of smoked ham; drain the drippings into another pan and cook selected oysters in that for 5 minutes. Quickly transfer the oysters to the top of the ham, arranging on a serving platter. Cover with Hollandaise or a thick, cream sauce. Garnish with thin strips of pimientos and parsley sprigs.

DEVELOPED OYSTERS—Delicious for luncheon or supper. Cook 2 cups of oysters in 5 tablespoons of bacon fat for 4 minutes. Chop the oysters and mix them with 1-4 cup each of chopped onions, celery and green pepper, browned 3 minutes in 3 tablespoons of butter. Mix in 2 tablespoons of flour and 1 1-2 cups tomato juice. Season with salt and paprika. Cook slowly until thick and serve atop hot buttered toast, rice or noodles.

OYSTER CUTLETS—Make a very thick savory white sauce, blend in equal parts of oysters, cooked

SCALLOPED OYSTERS AND SAUSAGES (Serves Four To Six) 1 package (1-2 lb.) sausages 1 1-2 to 2 cups rolled cracker crumbs (unsalted) 1-2 teaspoon salt 1-8 teaspoon pepper 1 pint bluepoint (medium-sized) oysters 1-4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce 1-2 cup milk

Separate sausages and pierce them with fork. Combine cracker crumbs, salt and pepper, tossing lightly to mix. Sprinkle half in bottom of shallow buttered baking dish. Arrange oysters on crumbs. Add Worcestershire to milk and pour over contents of dish. Sprinkle remaining crumbs on top. Arrange sausages on top of oysters. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until sausages are cooked and crumbs are browned. Serve at once.

OYSTERS CASSEROLE—Cook the oysters a little in butter and then mix them into a thick, cheese sauce. Pour over cooked noodles in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs, bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven.

OYSTER PIE—Just mix oysters with a creamy sauce, pour into a shallow baking dish, cover with pastry and bake 20 minutes—until the crust is done.

Growing Wartime Controls Change Everyday Life For Londoners

By DREW MIDDLETON
LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Day by day the number of government "controls" grows and the long arm of Whitehall reaches into the simplest homes as Britain arrays her food, gasoline and a score of other necessities for war.

Here is an average day in the life of an average Londoner:

He gets up early mainly because the nightly blackout sends him to bed early. He sees his children off to school before he leaves for work, their gas masks slung over their shoulders.

He lives in the suburbs and so his wife used to drive him to the train in their tiny car each morning. Gasoline rationing hasn't started yet but even so they aren't using their cars. Gas, about 40 cents a gallon in peace time, will be even higher in wartime.

So the average Londoner walks to the train, his gas mask bumping against his hip.

In town, he walks from the station to the office. He used to take a bus or subway. But now the service is restricted.

His business day isn't the same either. He's an air raid warden for his building and he has to attend a conference with other wardens.

Even the building has changed. Sandbags are piled up to the second story and the windows are covered with cellophane or crisscrossed with tape to prevent shattering.

This average man used to get a big lunch each day at a Strand restaurant. The retail price is the same but restaurants, buying wholesale, now have to pay 10 per cent more. The lunch is light.

When this Londoner gets home his wife is putting curtains over the windows for the blackout. It's an expensive job. Ten yards of the black cloth costs the equivalent of about three dollars.

While his wife prepares supper, or man works in the garden. His evening newspaper tells him, "Dig for victory!" He dutifully plants vegetables in his handkerchief-sized plot.

He comes in to dinner. No beef. His wife found she had to order it before 9 o'clock in the morning and didn't make it. She goes down the list. Tongue is up. Ham is up. Eggs are up. The grocer says it isn't his fault. He has to pay more, too.

Our man sits up after his wife has gone to bed and figures things out: Food costs more, gas mask containers for four cost a bit, new winter clothes for the wife and children.

Moreover, our Londoner may be called upon to the colors.

He looks out at the searchlights stabbing the sky and then goes to bed—in the dark.

PLAN AIR RESERVE BASE AT SANTONE

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Mayor Maury Maverick said yesterday concentration of a U. S. army air corps reserve unit at Stinson field, municipal airport, is the aim of a plan to purchase additional land to provide hangar space.

The unit now has hangar space at Brooks field. Maverick said the plan, if developed, would entail erection of steel hangars by the federal government to house 16 air corps planes to be used by reserve pilots in San Antonio, Houston, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Laredo and other South Texas towns.

FORMER MAGNOLIA OFFICIAL EXPIRES

DALLAS, Sept. 14 (AP)—Eugene Philip Angus, 61, retired vice-president of Magnolia Petroleum Co., died at his home here yesterday.

His father was Capt. A. Angus, Texas railroad and oil man who helped pioneer the first development at Corsicana in the 90's.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

City Of Green Bubbles, Forest Of Human Trees Among Marvels Of Oz

"WIZARD OF OZ" characters, to be seen in the Technicolor fantasy Sunday and Monday at the Ritz theatre, include the tin woodman, the cowardly lion, the wizard himself, Dorothy the little girl who had such a strange experience; and the scarecrow. The players are Jack Haley, Bert Lahr, Frank Morgan, Judy Garland and Ray Bolger.

A city of great green bubbles which serve as houses, a forest of flexible trees which reach out with their branches as though they were human arms, and fantastic fields with giant flowers which move like humans, are among the fan-tastic scenes which taxed the ingenuity of skilled Hollywood technicians and are among the settings in "The Wizard of Oz," filmization of the L. Frank Baum fantasy, which plays at the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday.

One of the most elaborate sets represents the Emerald City, home of the fabled wizard in the picture. It represents great hollow emeralds amid tall emerald spires. A glass-like compound was worked out by the studio chemists, colored emerald green, and under the play of lighting effects presented dazzling and iridescent surfaces for the Technicolor in which the picture was made.

The almost-human trees which grasp at Judy Garland, Ray Bolger, Jack Haley and Bert Lahr are marvels of ingenuity. Constructed of rubber, each of fifty trees in the central group was governed by twelve separate wire controls operated by technicians offstage.

One of the baffling mechanical problems was that of the "flying monkeys," large enough to pick up principals and fly with them. Men in fantastically colored monkey suits played the monkeys. The giant flowers appear in the Land of the Munchkins, played by mid-gets in colorful make-up. The mid-gets emerge from the flowers in opening sequences. To take full advantage of color photography, all costumes were in brilliant and contrasting hues in fantastic design. The settings are also fantastic in their tints.

Cold Storage Lockers

The Wichita Times reports editorially on construction of a cold storage locker plant at Vernon, calling it the first of its type in that part of the state.

The cold storage locker plant idea has come under study of some Big Spring civic leaders, who recently inspected one in operation at Mesquite, Dallas county.

Cold storage facilities have been beyond the means of most farmers, since even the smallest feasible unit is rather costly. Under the locker plan, facilities sufficient to serve a large number of farmers are provided, with each member or patron furnishing his own locker-compartment.

The farmer who wishes to do his own butchering of beef can store the entire carcass in his locker, using it according to his family's needs.

The Vernon plant, as well as those elsewhere, should be observed, with a view to wider adoption of the plan. Local people familiar with the program assert the belief a similar plant would be of great benefit to Big Spring and Howard county people.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—Contests are old things. They hail winners and runners-up and there's a hail-storm of ballyhoo. There are, also, the also-rans.

Jesse Laskey's radio contest, for the latest demonstration, Alice Eden (which is her new screen name) was the girl who won that. She's a beauty, and she may get places. But there was an also-ran named Monetta Darnell, and RKO, which had first call on the contestants, didn't sign her.

Monetta, when RKO finally said no and didn't bother with its option on her, was free to sign elsewhere. Monetta was taken immediately by 20th Century-Fox, which liked her looks. They put her into the leading feminine role in a picture nobody expected to be much—"Elna Maxwell's Hotel for Women."

More amazing still, if I've pieced my dates together correctly, is the fact that she's not quite 16 years old—and has enough poise to play, quite satisfactorily, the girl of 19 the studio would have you believe she is.

She'll be playing opposite Tyrone Power—an other quick riser-from-obscure—in "Daytime Wife." Come to think of it, this is being a great year for the launching of those badly-needed "new faces" on the screen. Darnell is one definite stunner possibility, who can do no worse than this side of stardom than take a topflight leading lady's spot.

If the movie fans don't go for little Gloria Jean ("The Under-Pup") then I'm sure their tastes have changed since Deanna Durbin first showed. I personally can't work up much enthusiasm over Linda Ware, but maybe it's my fault. A lot of people think Paramount has a winner there.

Keep your eye and ear on Dennis Morgan, too, in a little picture called "State Cop." It may not be a super-colossal, but Morgan's singing is a treat to hear.

Out of nowhere came a girl named Helen Gilbert to Metro (if we must be literal, out of the studio or showbiz) to do a fine job in the last Hardy Family film, and properly piloted, she can do a repeat. The Metro lot has some glamor girls, not exactly newcomers, who may pay dividends: Lana Turner is prominent among them.

RKO, if I claim nothing, may have a winner in Maureen O'Hara, the Laughton leading lady in "Hunchback of Notre Dame." And Sigrid Gurie, for the Universal lot, may surprise in "Rio."

Another to watch is Jane Bryan, the Warner ingenue who has been clicking constantly against stiff competition, and who is opposite Paul Muni in "We Are Not Alone."

Even if only a couple of these youngsters make the final cut to stardom, Hollywood will have had an unusually good year.

How To Torture Your Wife

THE INTERVIEW (1939 N.Y. TRIBUNE INC.)

After A Man's Heart

by JEAN RANDALL

Chapter Nine

GEORGE'S STORY As the Hunts drove off, Tim was very white and his big hands were shaking.

"It's true," he said presently. "Every word of it's true, Buff! Now you know the kind of person I am!" He rose to his feet and went upstairs before she could answer.

Buff sat where she was for a long time. She heard Webby stirring in the kitchen and thought vaguely that a good dinner would help the entire household; but above every other sensation, she was conscious of pity for Tim Cordias.

The bald little story had held him in a grip which had been underlined and made acute by the look of suffering on Tim's face.

After a time she went into the kitchen. Mrs. Webb was furiously busy. Something gave off savory odors from the big range oven, a double boiler simmered on top. The fat housekeeper was creaming butter and sugar in a bowl.

"A nice state you left my kitchen in, Miss Luff!" she said severely. "And if the stuff that was left on the table is a sample of what you gave those poor Hunts to eat, I don't wonder they left Lumbago! I suppose you and Mr. Tim had your reasons, and after all, I'm getting paid to do what I'm told; but layin' in bed without good nourishment didn't do any good, and I should say it hadn't helped you either, by the looks of you."

Buff wandered about for another hour. When she heard the sound of a car approaching she stroiled down to meet it. George Weekes stopped and grunted at her.

"Here again," says she. "Wonder how much longer that guy is going to keep on coming. It happens I'm extra glad to see you today." Her tone was sober. "And I'd like to talk to you before you see Tim. Suppose you drive under those pines and let's confer a bit. Okay?"

"And then some," he agreed heartily. He steered his car under the clump of trees which marked the boundary of the ranch. "Tim not so well, or is it these Hunts he called me about?"

"Both, in a way. The Hunts left right after lunch—a fleeting smile touched her mouth at the recollection of that meal—but not before the daughter had—had spilled the beans about Tim."

"He frowned. 'How'd you mean—spilled the beans?' She told him briefly of Maude May's accusations. 'Tim said it was all true, and more. They he shut himself up in his room. I think you'd better tell me all about it, George.'"

"I suppose so. Poor old Tim! Where shall I begin?" "With—the girl, Iris DeMuth, isn't that her name?"

might not have come from her mine."

He nodded his appreciation. "Good point! Naturally the same idea occurred to Tim and me. So he went up himself and took some specimens from the mine to assay. You know silver ore exists in veins, and if a bit were taken from the vein itself even an expert couldn't tell whether it contained silver until he had assayed it. Tim brought home a tidy lot—"

"Wait a minute. Did she go along—show him where to get the bits he took?"

"An Accomplice "Tim wasn't born yesterday, my dear. He took his specimens where and how he chose to. The thing is, he had to go to Idaho Springs before he could test them. Was gone ten days, in fact."

"Go on," she bade him. "When he got back, he went to work on the ore. It was darned good. We were all excited about it. Iris and Tim and I. She—did I tell you that before all this developed she and Tim had fallen head over heels in love with each other?"

"No, you neglected that interesting item," she said dryly. "However, I inferred as much. Proceed."

"She said the more land we owned, the more interested the company would be. So we—"

"You didn't just take the company on trust?"

"No, it's a bona fide development firm. We sent along specimens for their own man to assay. But after Tim had come back—keep that in mind, Buff—from Idaho Springs!"

"And the specimens he had taken from the mine?"

He sighed gustily. "You've put your finger on the rotten spot in the scheme. Iris, of course, had access to Tim's office while he was gone. Not much of an office; just the little outer room, and then the laboratory. No secret about anything. She drifted in and out whenever she pleased. What she did was to substitute ore containing genuine silver for the stuff Tim had taken from her mine. Same size and about the same shape. After ten days, and of course having no suspicions whatever—I hadn't either, if it comes to that!—I never ought of that!—I never occurred to him they were not the same. It sounds screwy but any mining engineer will tell you how easily it could be done if the whole thing seemed open and above-board. Being in a mining country, you see, and assaying ore being all in the day's work, weren't looking for any funny business. So—"

"Where did she get the other specimens—the ones with silver in 'em?"

"She had an accomplice," was the grim answer. "Guy named Latahaw. Owned a mine that petered out, had some left some of the ore he'd taken from it. Anyhow the whole proposition looked so good that Tim and I took our money and bought up as much land as we could; not only surface rights, you know, but the whole business."

worth Iris' while to play Tim for a sucker."

"But—but—I don't see why that should have floored Tim so completely! Even if his bank account was wiped out, it was only money—his money—"

"And mine," he reminded her. "Quite a bit of mine, as it happened. My own fault, of course, but Tim took it hard because he thought he should have locked up the ore—or made another series of tests, or something. Also, there was Iris. He thought she was heaven's gift to him, d'you see? And the publicity. The papers got hold of it, and it made quite an interesting story: lovely adventures, trusting expert, clever substitution of ore—you'd have to live in these parts to understand what thrilling reading it was."

"Tim Cracked Up "What became of Iris?" "Did a fade-out, of course; as soon as the land was bought and the deeds recorded. Oh, yes, and she left a note for Tim, too. She couldn't resist telling him how she'd worked the deal. Now you have the whole story."

"Not quite, I think," said Buff. "What happened then?" "Nothing. Tim slugged away as usual. Business dropped off, of course, and that didn't add to his hilarity. Everything gone at one fell swoop: his bank account and mine, his faith in women, something of his professional prestige. Not all of it, as a matter of fact, though he thinks so. I wanted to move on where we wouldn't encounter knowing grins wherever we went; or at the very least, I wanted old Tim to take a vacation somewhere until the whole thing blew over. He wouldn't. He swore he'd stick it out right there; build up his reputation again—"

"He wouldn't," the girl said. "He darn' near did. People knew him—trusted him. The trick didn't do us as much damage as you might think. But Tim cracked up after a while and the doctors ordered him away. He wouldn't go; not, at least, until he'd measured

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Military strategists here say Italy stayed out of the war because Germany asked her to—for these reasons.

1. Through Italy's Po river valley and the Brenner pass, France and England would have a route into German Austria. With Italy neutral, this road is closed.

2. With Italy as an active ally, Germany might have to send a large German army into Italy to protect the Po river route.

3. As a neutral, Italy can be a source of supply to Germany—for a time at least.

Italy also could give valid reasons for staying out. Italy would go into the war only for what she could get out of it. And win or lose, she could not get out of it all she would have to put into it.

ON THE SPOT First off, Italy would become one of the first battlegrounds of the war. A French army would certainly sweep down the Alps toward the Po valley. It is a hard place for Italy to defend. The rich industrial section of north Italy would be the objective of the French and British bombing planes from the first hours of the war. Italian planes, in return, would have a much longer route to reach French industrial centers for retaliation.

Italy would be besieged at sea as well, and on that front Germany could offer her no aid, as Germany's fleet would be bottled up in the Baltic by a small portion of the British fleet. The rest would be available to take Italy's surface fleet out of play early in the war, although her submarines would continue to be a serious menace.

Almost at once, Italy might lose her North African colonies, because with the British fleet likely to control the Mediterranean she could not send reinforcements. Rich Libya might fall to French and British forces attacking on both sides. Ethiopia, cut off from all directions, might again be ruled by Haile Selassie.

Just how rich a source of supply Italy turns out to be depends in large part on how strict the British choose to make their blockade—and that probably will be strict enough if they follow World war patterns.

In those days England put all Germany's neighbors on strict rations. For a time it was rich business for Holland, Norway, Denmark and Sweden to buy large quantities of lard, wheat, coffee, steel and other war essentials and ship them on into Germany at war prices. Then came the British rationing. England allowed these neighbor countries to import only the amount they needed for themselves. All else was diverted to England.

WHICH WAY?

It was strictly illegal in the light of international law. And it would be strictly illegal to cut Italy off from the same business. But certainly England won't change her plans in that respect. Italy could still be of some aid, but not very much. She has almost no raw material resources of her own.

Further, it is generally suspected here that Italy, as in the last war, will stay out until it is pretty definitely decided which side has the best chances.

France and England undoubtedly will put the heat on Italy to make her decide, without too much delay, which way she is going to jump. There is no place for an important neutral in the middle of a mess like a European war.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—The early days of this war are unfolding in New York like the closing pages of an Ernest Hemingway novel. In Hemingway novels people do a lot of walking around and indulge in a lot of spontaneous conversation.

The other night I climbed into an elevator and was on my way to the 20th floor of a hotel. On the way up I said to the operator, a man of about 50: "What do you think about the war?"

That was a mistake. He turned on me and began gesturing excitedly. "There will be no war. Germany will stop it. If England and France would let Germany alone there would be no trouble." He said ten times this much in half the time it has taken you to read this little. He had me backed into a corner. I didn't know whether he would hit me or not.

Ten minutes later I came down in the elevator, unfortunately, with the same man, but I did not mention the war, or anything else. Outside I met a couple of people I knew with several I didn't know, arguing on a curb. It was Russia this, and France that, and Mr. Chamberlain the other. Not a one of them but knew the exact tactics to pursue to win the war. Each of them knew exactly why one side or the other would lose. A taxi driver, a total stranger, leaned out of his cab and yelled, "You're all nuts, and so is everybody nuts, me too," and drove on. His radio was blasting out a barrage of news reports from Warsaw.

In the book stores it is hard to get copies of books by the war correspondents—"Days of Our Years," or "Inside Als," for instance. Although the books aren't there, the clerks can tell you how the war should be fought, and anything else that you want to know.

At dinner this evening, I met a young French officer who had dragged his uniform out of the trunk, and was on his way back to rejoin his regiment. He was a reservist, a lieutenant, and has been in this country four years with the exception of annual visits to get in his "service" periods. During dinner he made one remark that lodged in my memory. "The French people," he said, "no longer think of the Germans in the same vein that the war is remembered. We feel sorry for the German people. But we shall soon be fighting them, and the fighting will be all the more terrible. We do not underestimate the strength or the courage of the Germans. They are great fighters. But in the end of course we and our allies will win."

Later he departed for Canada, and soon will be on the high seas.

I would say that New Yorkers have clung more to their radios and read more newspapers in the last few weeks than in the last six months. But there is no suggestion of the surge of "feeling" that formerly characterized this, and other countries, in moments of extreme crisis. The war here has the horrible, impersonal feeling that New York usually reserves for its individuals, giving everyone a talking point. As a rule strangers rarely address one another here. But now they fall on each other's necks and exclaim: "What do you think about the war?"

When two dog wardens came to seize an unlicensed dog belonging to James Clegg of Cleveland, he demanded to see their driving licenses and, finding they had none, had them arrested. Man bites dog-catchers.

A sparrow entered a railroad mail car at Buffalo, N. Y., and rode to Washington. As yet it has not been determined what the sparrow expects to obtain from the government.

Echoes, Sidelights On The War

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—British charges that Germany was trying or intended trying to find submarine bases in Central and South America were denounced in a communique today as a "clumsy attempt to create panic among Latin-American nations."

The German communique said: "It must be stated once again that Germany has no political or military ambitions of any nature in North, Central or South America."

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—A man with an excellent connection with the German navy reported today that the liner Bremen, Germany's most costly passenger vessel, had been sailed to Murmansk, Russia.

He said the $20,000,000 ship, after leaving New York without passengers about 36 hours before Germany started her campaign in Poland, took the most northerly course possible, entering the Arctic ocean from the Atlantic and then proceeding to Kola Bay, where Murmansk is situated.

LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy said today the list of "Americans known missing" now placed at 80 by London shipping circles, by the liner Athenia sinking probably would be issued from Washington.

The London shipping figure was considerably higher than first estimates. (The last report of the total number missing was 128 Americans and foreigners. This was given Sept. 7.)

The American ambassador said a rigidly checked list of those proved to be on the sailing list and not on any survivors list already had been sent to Washington.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Pope Pius XII told the new Belgian ambassador to the Holy See today he would continue to seek every occasion to conclude "a peace honorable to everyone."

The pontiff declared this to be his intention in an address replying to Ambassador Odrian Novevich after receiving the latter's credentials.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—A high administration official revealed today that for more than a year agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have been receiving intensive secret training in the technique of uncovering espionage, sabotage and subversive activities.

At the same time it was stated the FBI has thrown its counter-espionage machine into high gear during the past two weeks of war in Europe.

MOSCOW, Sept. 14 (AP)—Soviet Russia today accused Polish war planes of "frequent violations" of her western frontier.

A Tass (official news agency) communique said Soviet fliers had forced down two Polish planes and their crews, totaling 15 men, were being detained.

The communique accused "the violators of trying to penetrate our territory."

LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP)—An air raid alarm was sounded today at Southend-On-Sea, at the mouth of the Thames, but the ministry of information said it was a false alarm "due to an electrical defect."

BUDAPEST, Sept. 14 (AP)—Neutral nations in southeastern Europe watched Italy, Soviet Russia and Germany today for any move which might draw them into the war now raging at the Balkans' front door.

Many government leaders feel continuation of southeastern Europe's aloofness in the conflict and peace among the Balkan states depend on what courses are pursued within the next few weeks by the three powers.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 14 (AP)—The German envoy to the Hague, Count Zech von Burkersroda, told Netherlands Foreign Minister Eelco N. Van Kleffens today the German government would pay indemnity for a Netherlands naval plane shot down off the North Sea coast.

Netherlands officials said the plane was shot down in Netherlands territorial waters. The fliers were rescued by a German warplane.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 14 (AP)—

"The war has frugal Danish housewives fretting. With the heaviest fruit harvest in recent years, import restrictions make it impossible to obtain enough sugar for making preserves. Much of the fruit is rotting."

ROME, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Bologna newspaper Il Resto Del Carlino asserted today Italy in her present neutrality was pursuing the policy of the Rome-Berlin axis.

The newspaper, regarded as an important fascist organ, predicted flatly Germany would win the war, and added: "And in the hour of passage of power between the old plutocracies and the young totalitarian states Rome will take the place which belongs to it."

The article was regarded as the most outspoken to appear in the fascist press since the war began.

The newspaper said: "Italy has not entered the war because Il Duce sees further than anyone and is very jealous of our blood and our gold."

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Warring Europe's neutral northern states, faced with the pressing necessity of protecting winter supplies, are seeking a means to maintain import and export trade without dangerously offending the belligerents.

What the neutrals would like to do already has been expressed by Finland's Foreign Minister Elias Erkko, who said his country would try to maintain trade relations with warring nations "on an identical basis favoring neither side."

Meeting Called At Garden City On Stock Problems

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 14 (AP)—The important question of range feeding, as well as other livestock feeding problems, will be discussed at a meeting in the Glasscock county courthouse at 10 a. m. Sept. 22, said V. G. Young, county agent.

George W. Barnes, Texas A.&M. Extension Service beef cattle specialist, will be the principal speaker.

Young looked upon the meeting as an important one for ranchers because there is considerable waste in range feeding, either in actual loss of feed or in feeding non-essentials.

In addition to ranchers, 4-H club and FFA boys will hear Barnes talk. J. D. Prewitt, district agent, is accompanying Barnes on the tour. They will appear in Big Spring the afternoon of the same day.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE WAR DEVELOPMENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Writer

The position of Poland's badly hammered armies today must be described as desperate.

The Polish main line of defense appeared from incomplete and sometimes contradictory claims to be crumbling in several vital spots.

The epic defense of Warsaw was continuing after a solid week of bloody battle with an advancing force which was well-nigh overwhelming in all departments excepting courage and the willingness to die for country.

But the Germans announced they had swept down on the east side of the capital and surrounded the beleaguered city. This meant a definite smashing of the Polish main defenses to the northeast.

The line also was reported penetrated some seventy miles southeast of Warsaw on the Vistula near Debiln and 45 miles below that point in the Kraak region, while the German drive in the Lwow (Lemberg) area was proceeding like a steam roller.

An Associated Press war correspondent reported yesterday from Lwow that "so fast is the German advance moving that none can tell where it will be at the end of the afternoon. Behind the front conditions are chaotic."

The plight of the Poles in this region would seem reminiscent of the great German push against the British front in the World war in the spring of 1918. There was one time when the Germans were coming through so fast on the Somme that even the British general headquarters couldn't keep track of its retreating troops at all times.

In the western theatre there has been little change. The French continue to maneuver for what presumably presages an attack on the Siegfried Line proper. The Germans this morning were turning their heavy artillery on the French.

British in France
The really outstanding news from this front was the announcement several hundred thousand British troops had been landed safely in France and were on their way to the fighting line.

And now about this much debated question as to why neither the Anglo-French brotherhood nor the Germans have employed their widely advertised bombing planes against each other to any great extent.

From the German standpoint the paramount reason for not raiding either England or France presumably is Hitler's policy of refusing to assume the offensive against them. He insists his war is with Poland.

Then there is another aspect. It is virtually impossible to carry out extensive raids against military objectives without endangering the lives of civilians. It is only a few days ago, at the outbreak of the war, that all the countries involved agreed not to bomb civilians.

Who'll Be First?
The bombing of civilians in territory where actual fighting wasn't in progress certainly would raise a mighty roar of protest from the world at large. The bombing of London or Paris or Berlin, for instance, assuredly would bring a throaty cry of "atrocious" from many quarters.

Hunters Line Up On Dove Front

Sportsmen were due to give ammunition dealers the good old rush today in preparation for the opening of dove season here Friday.

Sales of shells were rather spotted through Wednesday, but some dealers noted a pick up in business toward the end of the day's business. There was a reasonable amount of gun plugging, repairs, etc.

Dealers in hunters supplies had not received their copies of hunting laws Thursday, but laws governing dove hunting were said to be virtually unchanged.

The big limit remains at 15 birds in a day. Pump and automatic guns must have plugs so that not more than two shells can be kept in the magazine and one in the barrel.

Hunters were reminded by officials that shooting from or across public roads is forbidden as is rallying game or birds from a machine. It will be recalled that last year several local men were fined heavily and had their hunting licenses revoked for infractions of these laws.

Another common but good piece of advice was to secure permission—written permission if possible—of the landowner before hunting on any tract of land, and especially on game demonstration preserve areas.

A final warning came from old heads at the game—be careful of that "unloaded" gun.

District 3-AA Committee To Meet Saturday

Annual business session of the interscholastic league District 3-AA executive committee is scheduled for Saturday noon in Big Spring. Supt. W. C. Blankenship of the local schools is chairman, and C. H. Kenley, San Angelo high school principal, is secretary.

Schools in the district are Odessa, Midland, Lamesa, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Abilene and San Angelo.

Routine matters in connection with the start of the grid season will be up for discussion, and Blankenship said there was nothing in sight except for ordinary topics. There have been reports that some question may be raised on the eligibility status of some of the Odessa griders, but whether any protest will develop was a matter of speculation.

Stiff Games On Card For Many Teams

Sweetwater-Brownwood Tilt Feature For West Texas

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Staff

"Breathers" are fast disappearing from the schedule of Texas schoolboy football teams.

A 37-game card that brings more than half the class AA teams into action this week shows many of the clubs are no longer picking "soft spots" and that their pre-conference tilts are fully as hard as those they'll play when they start the championship drive.

At Sweetwater

Standout tilts on the schedule line Brownwood, a favorite in District 9, playing at Sweetwater, rated the top club in the Oil Belt; the highly-ranked Riverside outfit from Fort Worth engaging Longview, the East Texas power; the powerful Amarillo Sandles going to Fort Worth to dedicate a new stadium with Paschal, and last season's sensations—Masonic Home—showing if it's true about what they say of the Masons' weakness by tackling the big boys of District 2—the Wichita Falls Coyotes.

Other feature games match Olney, highly rated in Wichita Falls district, with Gainesville, a co-favorite in District 5, and Bryan testing the vaunted Beaumont power in a game between Central and South Texas ranking teams.

At Brownwood, the Fort Worth district, tackles a tough assignment at Odessa of the Oil Belt.

There are 20 interdistrict games and three intercounty tilts, the latter sending El Paso High to Las Cruces, N. M., Texarkana entertaining Gurdon, Ark., and Port Arthur playing Lake Charles, La.

Schedule

This week's schedule by districts:

1—Friday: North Side (Fort Worth) at Lubbock, Berger at Shamrock.

2—Friday: Chillicothe at Quanah, Pampa at Vernon, Masonic Home (Fort Worth) at Wichita Falls.

3—Friday: Mineral Wells at Big Spring, Fort Worth Tech at Lamesa, Poly (Fort Worth) at Odessa, Brownwood at Sweetwater, Saturday, Jacksonville at Marshall.

4—Thursday: Fabens at Austin (El Paso); Friday: Plainview at Bowie (El Paso), El Paso High at Las Cruces, N. M., Ranger at Teleta.

5—Friday: Olney at Gainesville, Sulphur Springs at Denison.

6—Friday: Sherman at Greenville, Corsicana at Highland Park (Dallas), Athens at McKinney.

7—Friday: Amarillo at Paschal (Fort Worth); Saturday: Childers at Arlington Heights (Fort Worth).

8—No games scheduled.

9—Friday: Cisco at Weatherford.

10—Friday: Denton at Hillsboro, Ennis at Waxahatchie.

11—Friday: Gurdon, Ark., at Texarkana, Riverside (Fort Worth) at Longview, Jacksonville at Marshall.

12—Friday: Grapeland at Palestine, Corsicana State Home at Nacogdoches, Carthage at Henderson.

13—No games.

14—Friday: Lake Charles, La., at Port Arthur, Bryan at Beaumont; Saturday: St. Anthony (Beaumont) vs. South Park (Beaumont).

15—Friday: Georgetown at Harlandale (San Antonio), Lockhart at Austin.

16—Upper bracket: Friday, Kingsville at Aransas Pass; lower brackets: Friday: Donna at San Benito.

Los Angeles Youngster A New Net Star

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Wally Van Horn, a tall, grinning boy from the California tennis incubator, has everybody at Forest Hills saying he will be the next great champion of the courts—perhaps no later than next year.

By a great champion, they mean one like Tilden, Vines and Budge. Wally, who turned 19 only six days ago, looked like the makings of that kind of champion yesterday in swatting Elwood Cooke out of the big tournament in four sets.

Cooke was a Wimbledon finalist this year, good enough to carry Bobby Riggs to five sets, and he wasn't off his game yesterday.

The Los Angeles kid's quarter-final opponent tomorrow will be Wayne Sabin of Portland, who scored a surprising victory yesterday over Adrian Quist of Australia.

The general opinion was that yesterday's series of upsets, eliminating Quist, Cooke and Frankie Parker, the three top-seeded men in the lower bracket, had gone a long way toward giving the title to Riggs.

Bobby figured to win fairly easily today over Harry Hopman, 33-year-old Australian, and his semi-final opponent will be either Don McNeill of Oklahoma City or Joe Hunt of Annapolis, who met today.

If today's two women's quarter-finals, champion Alice Marble faced Ruth Hanford of England, and Dorothy Bundy of Route 2, Calif., played Virginia Wolfenden of San Francisco.

Baylor Looks To Wilson To Fill Patterson's Job

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

WACO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Muscle-Jack Wilson, a sophomore with cren power and a Bill Patterson pichen delivery, is the little item so necessary to make Baylor fans forget.

Fellowies like Bill Patterson just don't leave football teams without causing rehabilitation plans of Red Cross emergency proportions.

To Coach Morley Jennings, the Wilson boy, 200 pounds of cast iron, could be the antidote for all Patterson-worries.

"Big, active and fast, Wilson looks like a fine back. We are counting on his passing and he's a good kicker, although he just started that the past winter. He is a good blocker and defensive man."

"How good will he be? I couldn't say. You just can't count too heavily on sophomore passers."

Wilson's case is a bit different, however. The six foot, curly-haired handmade kid has had a year's experience with Paris junior college in addition to his freshman pounding, with Baylor last fall. His ripping scrimmage play is just a little more than a sophomore usually shows and his passing rang the bell.

More Ammunition

If Wilson isn't enough, there's more ammunition at hand. Dwight Parke, a slender-legged lad from a long line of Baylor athletes is a passing, kicking and running tail-back whose only handicap is weight—about 150 pounds. His scrimmage work has been satisfactory and he was a freshman favorite.

"Fast and shifty and a good passer—but he's another sophomore," warned Jennings.

Parke will alternate with Wilson at the tailback slot. Quarterbacking in the starting lineup will be handled by Fred Graham, 387-pound senior letterman, while Jimmy Witt, in marvelous condition and heavier after a summer of semi-pro baseball, is due for the starting wingback position.

Big Milton Merks, 190-pound letterman fullback, returns to that job.

Boyd Gone

Synonymous with Patterson's name last fall was that of Sam Boyd, all end who earned all-conference honors and all-American mention. His loss hurt. The end situation isn't too bright, even though letterman Sherman Barnes and W. J. Wimpee are back.

"One of our problems, in addition to passing and quarterbacking will be the end," said Jennings.

Behind Barnes and Wimpee come three juniors, Lummus, Lucas and Griffin, but Ernest Marshall, a big junior college transfer, may slip into the lineup.

Three senior tackles are returning, Bennett Edwards, Frank Marx and Louis Robinson. Jack Anderson, a junior squadman, could push them all aside for a starting post.

Guards are practically no worry, what with Leonard Akin and Bob Griffin, senior veterans, back on duty, sensational Pat Minkler, a sophomore, and juniors Willis and Haley, around.

One of the league's best centers, Robert Nelson, who ranked right behind Kl Aldrich last fall, makes the pivot position secure and Hoy Williams, giant veteran, is still around to pester Nelson for the job.

Five sophomore backfield boys are likely to play some football. Last them as Harry Touche, Louis Sell, Weidon Bigony, Ed Hickman and Hugh Pennell. Squadman W. J. Grumbles is running with the first backfield bunch and Malcolm Luder, senior letterman, could lend his speed to the offense.

"We'll be dangerous on the ground. And if we should happen to get good passing—we'll, we could be a little more dangerous," concluded Jennings.

(Tomorrow: Southern Methodist.

Unknowns Cop All The Honors In Natl. Amateur

CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (AP)—No matter what happens today in the third and fourth round matches of the 43rd National Amateur golf championship (and anything can happen in this one, it seems) you can lay it on the line no favorites will be eliminated.

A bunch of guys named "Joe" cut a wide swath through the field of 64 qualifiers yesterday, and the talent toll was terrific.

Ushered to the sidelines in the most dazzling series of upsets in years were the defending champion; two others who had won the amateur; a former national open king; the tourney medalist; a former British amateur champ; four former rulers of the public links, and four who have won the national collegiate laurels.

The boys still in there fighting come from everywhere.

The sprinkling of "big names" still in the running included Harry Todd of Dallas, western amateur

Ciney's Lead Kept Intact, Dodgers Fall

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

The best news Cincinnati has had since the Ohio river stopped rising during its last flood was the two-hit pitching performance just unfurled by Gene (Junior) Thompson.

Thompson shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers 3-0 yesterday for the first victory. The Reds have negotiated in more than three weeks with any pitcher other than Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer.

If the 21-year-old righthander is now able to take a regular and effective turn on the mound, some of the Reds' troubles are solved.

The triumph preserved Cincinnati's 3-1-2 game lead over the pennantless St. Louis Cardinals, who noosed out the Phillies 10-9.

The Chicago Cubs strengthened their grip on third with a 10-4 blast against the Boston Bees.

The New York Giants split a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Harry Gumbert coming up with a spectacular two-hit contribution to take the opener 2-1, and the Buccaneers winning the nightcap 7-4.

Bobby Fuller led the Cleveland Indians to a 9-4 decision over the world champion Yankees for a sweep of the two-game series.

The Boston Red Sox took advantage of the opportunity to chop another nick in New York's American League lead by taming the Detroit Tigers 1 to 0 behind Lefty Grove, who allowed only four hits.

The Chicago White Sox took both ends of a doubleheader from the Washington Senators. The first went 11 innings to a 2-1 score and the second was called at 4-2 in the eighth because of darkness.

The St. Louis Browns walloped the Philadelphia Athletics 13-3.

Nova Favored By 5-9 Odds

By SID FEDER

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14 (AP)—The odds-layers established Lou Nova a 5 to 9 favorite today to thump Tony Galento soundly Friday night, and a lot of the customary "short-enders" immediately wondered why.

Nova himself, underdog in the last three tilts that "made" him

Locals To Get Initial Test Friday Eve

Strength Of Mineral Wells Outfit Is A Question Mark

With only 12 days of practice behind them, the Big Spring high school Steers will test their mettle in the season's curtain raiser here Friday at 8 p. m. against the Mineral Wells Resorsters.

Coach Pat Murphy put the lads through a prolonged drill Wednesday and prepared a light workout for today. He frankly did not know what to expect when the two teams take the field.

First of all there was the question of how his boys will look although the opportunity for observing work of players in hard scrimmage has been limited, there appears to be a higher degree of enthusiasm and seriousness of purpose than was the case this time last year.

Murphy's second worry is Mineral Wells. "I don't know a thing about them," he confessed. "I don't even know what (formation) they run from. Sometimes I think it's probably just as well not to know so much."

Starters

Here's the way the starting backfield may stack up: Bobby "Pepper" Martin, quarterback; D. R. "Moser" Gurtman and Harold "Lef" Bethell, halfbacks; and Owen Brummett, fullback. Sure to see plenty of service is Johnny Miller, who has been calling signals for the second string. He's probably the most consistent kicker Murphy has. Another who likely will break into the game is Pete Presley, a "dark horse" candidate.

Probable starters in the line include Skeeter Davis and Bobby Savage at ends, Winslett Nance and Douglas Pyle at tackles, Bill Fletcher and Hal Battle at guards, and Paul Kasch at center.

The line is more experienced than the forward wall of last year. Savage, Nance, Fletcher, Battle and Kasch were all regulars and Pyle saw plenty of service. Ulysses Hall may work part of time on one of the terminals. McWade McDaniel and other hefties may crash in for a trial at tackle.

In New Stadium

Spectators will have their first opportunity to witness a game from the new high school stadium at the northwest corner of Highland park in the eastern part of town. The sweet stand, seating little more than 2,310 persons, is entirely complete.

Ticket prices are unchanged, with general admission costing 50 cents and reserve seats 75 cents. The student body will occupy sections one and two, three and four will be reserved, and five and six will be for general admission ticket holders.

Officials for the game will be A. B. "Bugs" Morris (A. M.), Tom Cole (A. C. C.) and J. Jernagan (H. S. U.).

Service Clubs Will Clash In Charity Game

One week from tonight, Lions and A. B. C. club members will lumber stiff joints for sweet charity as they engage in a baseball game at the Baron park.

Net proceeds of the affair will be split, the Lions applying their part to their 4-H club building project and the A.B.C. unit using its share for boys and girls work.

Virgil Smith, who starred in donkey baseball games and who claims to be even better in the real hard ball game, will head up the Lions forces. Assisting him are such notable sluggers and flashy fielders as B. J. McDaniel, C. L. Rowe and Harold P. Steek.

Admitting that he had excess power, Smith kept the wraps on the rest of his team and indicated it would be later in the week before he would begin divulging his first string.

To combat the menace of Smith's managerial tactics, the ABC club has named Doyle Vaughn as skipper of its contingent. He will depend upon such talent as C. O. "Throw-em-and-duck" Nalley, Roy Reeder, Worth Feidig, C. Y. Clinkscapes, Fowler Fathion, George Thomas, E. K. Heater and Eugene Thomas.

On learning of the game, R. L. Piner, one of the founders of the Rotary-Kiwanis clash last year, immediately challenged the winner. Members of the Lions club, however, were loathe to consider it seriously for they felt Piner did not know that they were playing with a hard ball.

Rains Needed For Fall And Winter Pasturage

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Range conditions and prospects were generally more favorable on September 1 but rains were needed to insure fall and winter feeds, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today.

The report, from the office of the agricultural statistician, indicated poor conditions were limited to a small area in south Central Texas and small local areas elsewhere. August rains were spotted although some counties received more than normal precipitation.

The condition of all ranges on September 1 was 78 per cent of normal, one point above a month ago and four above the 10-year average September 1 condition.

Cattle were in good flesh at 82 per cent of normal and calves made good growth. Sheep were reported at 85 per cent of normal and goats at 85 per cent of normal.

FOOD SUPPLIES OF U. S. PLENTIFUL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Like a housewife taking stock of her pantry shelves, Uncle Sam surveyed his larder today and reported indications that supplies of most food products were substantially above those of recent years.

An agriculture department inventory showed more plentiful supplies of these products were indicated than in 1936-37 and the average year during the 1925-29 period.

At the same time, Secretary Wallace indicated the administration would not be displeased with a 20 per cent increase in farm prices, provided the rise was caused by "sound consumer demand" and not "speculative activity."

GARNERS LEAVING UVALDE WEDNESDAY

UVALDE, Sept. 14 (AP)—Vice President John Nance Garner, declining comment on the forthcoming special session of congress, said he would reach Washington in time for a conference of congressional leaders with the president next Wednesday.

He and Mrs. Garner will leave Uvalde Sunday.

Mrs. J. B. Williams of Dallas is here for a two-week visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Trus.

Says Disease Can Be Eliminated By Process Of Selective Breeding

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14 (AP)—War and disease can be eliminated from the lives of human beings, one of the nation's outstanding experts on heredity declared today.

Dr. Maud Slye, of Chicago, who for 25 years has been experimenting with mice in the study of cancer and other disease, declared the human race could be developed to the highest point in history if man would apply the same knowledge to human beings that is now applied in the development of disease-resistant animals in the laboratory.

There is no great difference between human and animal reactions, she told the American Congress of Obstetrics and Gynecology last night.

"By selective breeding it is possible to lengthen very greatly the span of vital life," she said, "and the elimination of pneumonia, heart disease, Bright's disease and cancer could be attained in humans just as it has been accomplished in mice."

A study of heredity records should precede the granting of a marriage license, Dr. Slye believes, to prevent, if possible, the marriage of two persons having an ancestry of feeble-mindedness or cancerous grandparents.

Clown Goose, With Circus Coming Here, Knows His Musical Cues

Paul Wenzel and Samson, his clown goose, funmakers with the big Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus.

Samson, the Goose, one of the scores of dumb creature comics frolicking with the 100 clowns in the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus, coming to Big Spring on Monday, Sept. 25, is a musical bird, for he knows the many numbers of the big show band.

Samson's master, Paul Wenzel, may lose track of time and miss the cue for his entrance, but not so Samson. He begins to squawk and yank Paul's trouser leg when the music in the big top indicates that it is time for Wenzel to get in and get funny. It seems that Samson is also a pretty independent bird, and he does just about as he pleases when off duty, strutting around the men's dressing room in a very cocksure fashion, hissing when the conduct of certain trouper meets his disapproval. Wenzel has only one complaint about Samson the Goose. "He will not bathe," explains Paul. "Fact is, he hates water, and, when I try to toss him into a lake or a river, he will zoom upward and fly clear. Samson won't even venture outside the dressing tent when it rains."

There are all sorts of animals and fowls assisting the clowns of The Greatest Show on Earth in their lugh-skits and walkarounds—creatures that soon sense they are the objects of attention and thereupon begin to feel important. Although there is little or no temperament among the 800 famous performers with the Big Show, there is enough among the dumb creature comics to equip an Italian opera company.

Performances of magnitude and grandeur will commence at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. with the epochal and magnificent world's fair spectacle designed by Charles Le Maire. The doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. for the public inspection of the world's largest traveling menagerie.

Millions May Be Asked For US Defense

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—The administration is considering asking congress to appropriate $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 at its coming special session to expand and expedite the huge national defense program, officials said today. Many lawmakers, even some who forecast strong opposition to President Roosevelt's proposals to revise the neutrality law, predicted congress would approve additional defense funds. The $1,800,000,000 defense program was approved last spring by overwhelming majorities in both house and senate.

There were no indications additional funds would be asked for the additional army expansion recommended by Gen. John J. Pershing in a statement yesterday. Pershing suggested the regular army be increased by an additional 45,000 men and the national guard nearly doubled to attain its full peace-time strength of 425,000. Months will be required, officials said, to recruit and train all the additions the president ordered. Extra funds would be required to accelerate some of the munitions, aircraft and other procurement programs which congress approved for the war department. The $300,000,000 expansion of the army air corps and several other parts of the defense program were laid out on a two-year basis. The manufacture of army planes already is being expedited voluntarily by manufacturers.
