

Amerada Stakes Wildcat West of Whiteflat

CONFIDENTIAL whispers of a new wildcat oil test in the foot hills west of Whiteflat Tuesday broke into open conversation on the streets of Matador when the Matador Petroleum Corporation had staked a well on the D. I. W. Birnie ranch about 14 miles northwest of town.

In an interview, affable Ralph Phillips, district superintendent for the oil company said: "We have staked the location on Mr. Birnie's ranch and drilling will start as soon as possible. We have some details with regard to roads and water which must be worked out but they should not cause much delay." Asked how deep the test well would go, Mr. Phillips declared: "It will probably be 7,000 feet. We will contract the drilling immediately to an independent drilling firm. Twelve to 15 men will be regularly employed during the time the rig is in operation."

Mr. Phillips' home is in Longview. Other members of the organization in Matador Tuesday were L. A. Pettyjohn, district material supervisor, also of Longview, and R. M. Moss of Vernon. "We have a large block of land leased in the vicinity of the test" Mr. Phillips declared. He declined to estimate the number of acres under Amerada lease but offered to show a Tribune reporter a map of the corporation's holdings in the area (it has been unofficially estimated that Amerada has in the neighborhood of half a million acres under lease in this territory.) Mr. Phillips said he would probably dig a well as a water supply altho two good earth tanks are on the ranch. "The tanks are almost too far away," he said, "to provide our test with needed water."

Interesting observation of "curbstone oilmen" is that the test is near a former oil test drilled almost a quarter of a century ago. Many believe the log of the former well may have shown formations which were of sufficient interest to locate the test which was staked Tuesday.

REVIVAL CLOSES
A revival meeting, held at the Roaring Springs Baptist Church, closed last Sunday night. Rev. Clifford Potts of Matador, preached for the meeting.

RETURNS HOME
Elmer Stearns, vice-president of First State Bank, returned home Tuesday night after a three-week vacation spent in Illinois and Minnesota.

Latimer Is New Legion Commander

Lloyd Latimer, young veteran of World War II and a member of the Matador city council, Monday evening was elected commander of the Fleming Post American Legion, relieving past commander Marvin Patton. Howard Traweck also a veteran of World War II and Motley county attorney, was named post adjutant.

During the meeting Commander Patton presented L. M. Cox, commander of Motley County Memorial chapter of Veterans of Foreign Wars, with a check for $3,494.35 as the VFW post's share in the two-way division of the veterans' memorial fund collected through public subscription near the end of the war.

Plans were outlined by the Legion to use the post's share of the fund to remodel and enlarge the present Legion hall. A committee will probably meet this week to further consider the improvements.

A movement was started to re-activate the organization's sponsorship of Matador East Mound cemetery care, jointly with the Matador Lions club. A committee was appointed to study the needs of the cemetery support and meet with the Lions committee in working out plans for a fund campaign. Present problem is to raise sufficient funds to pay a substantial salary to caretaker E. B. Chambliss who at present is receiving slightly over $30 per month for the excellent care he is giving the burial grounds.

Support of the Tribune was elicited to ask residents of the area who have loved-ones buried in East Mound, to authorize First State bank cashier Randall Whitworth to check on their accounts for regular monthly contributions. Average amount paid monthly by present contributors is $1 and $2.

It was pointed out that East Mound cemetery is one of the most attractive cemeteries in West Texas, due to the ceaseless efforts of Mr. Chambliss. The small pittance paid him is unworthy of a prosperous and progressive community, and is a mere token of the value of his services, it was pointed out.

Roping Match Is Again Scheduled

The roping match which was scheduled for last Tuesday night was rained out, and will be held instead, Sunday, September 17, at 2:00 p. m. according to an announcement by Jinks Wilson.

The match will be held at the Roaring Springs pioneer arena, and title contenders will be Alvis Townley and Harold Felts of Paducah, against Odell Blackwell of McAdoo and Bobby Bird of Jayton.

Approvals Issued For Cover Crops

Local PMA office will issue approvals for winter cover crops it was announced this week. Payment rate for Austrian winter peas is $3.50 per 100 pound, hairy vetch is $12 per 100 lbs., and common vetch is $7 per 100 pounds. Farmers who inoculate cover crop seed, applying 200 pounds 20% super-phosphate per acre and carries out the proper seeding rate, may earn payment if a good stand is not obtained. Phosphate may be omitted and payment will be made if a good growth and stand is obtained.

Five will earn a payment rate of $2 per acre on land which is subject to wind erosion. Cover crops must not be overgrazed and must be turned under as green manure. Approvals must be obtained at the PMA office before starting practices. Sale slips and seed tags are also required at the office.

Hole-In-One Golf Trophies Received

Several gifts and trophies have been received recently by Marvin Patton as courtesy awards for having made a hole-in-one several weeks ago while playing golf at Plainview.

Among the gifts was a Hole-In-One Medal from the United States Rubber Company, who manufacture golf balls, and a carton of Life Savers from that company, who declare that they made 5,000,000,000 of them last year... not on the golf course but in candy Life Savers.

Mr. Patton will also receive a case for the golf ball which was used in the lucky shot.

DEATH CLAIMS BILL RUSHING

Funeral services for William I. Rushing, Jr., 24, were held here Monday afternoon, September 11, at 3:00 o'clock at the Church of Christ, and interment made in Matador East Mound cemetery under direction of McDonald Funeral Home.

Untimely death of the young man, Saturday night at Shamrock General Hospital, Shamrock, came as a shock to his many friends in this and adjoining communities. Death resulted from a kidney disease which had confined him to the hospital for only one week.

Born and reared at Matador, Rushing was making his home at Wheeler, where he was employed as Administrative Officer of P.M.A. He had held a position with the local P.M.A. until going to Wheeler about two years ago.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Darla, 18 months old; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Rushing, Sr.; five brothers and three sisters, being Leonard, employed in the Philippine Islands; Elwood, with Creole Petroleum Corp., in Venezuela; Albert of Hale Center, Bob of Paducah; Odell Latham, of Estelita; Mrs. Jessie Ivey and Mrs. Annie Belle Wagener, both of Abilene and Mrs. Ruth Lee, of Post.

William Ira Rushing, Jr., was born at Matador, January 28, 1926 and died September 9, 1950 at the age of 24 years, 7 months, 11 days. He was married to Miss Dorothy Jean Casey, in March, 1948, at Matador, and to his mother was born one child. At the age of sixteen he was converted and became a member of the Church of Christ. He was an outstanding young man in every respect, and numbered his friends by those who knew him best as Bill.

His former minister at Wheeler, B. M. Litton, now of Memphis, preached the funeral sermon and was assisted in the service by Ernest Grizzard of Wheeler, present Church of Christ minister.

Loans Available For Grain Storage

Loans are available through the local PMA to build grain storage on the farm, it was announced this week. Payment is made for 85 percent of construction cost or 45¢ per bushel, whichever is cheaper. Repayment is made in five yearly installments at 4% starting January 1, 1951.

It is pointed out that loan support is frequently far above the open market price. At present farm-stored grain sorghum is $1.80 per cwt. while the open market price is $1.60.

The Thacker brothers drove to Dallas where they departed August 31 by plane for New Orleans, and thence across the Gulf to Guatemala City. After spending five days in the Central America republic they returned by Mexico City for a two-day visit and thence back to Houston and Dallas.

Mr. Emmons said he mailed 233 letters requesting the information of individual blood types to be used in case of an emergency, and received 110 replies.

He declared he has filed 52 type A, 11 type B, 44 type O and three colored, A, B/P, and O.

Copies of the findings have been sent to Traweck Hospital, Stanley Hospital Clinic, First State Bank, James Mond, Flomot community and S. J. Braselton, Roaring Springs.

Big Truck Is Wrecked

A big transcontinental west-bound truck, loaded with government goods, went into a skid on Teepee creek hill about 4 a. m. this morning and rolled to a stop only a few feet from the east bank of Teepee creek.

Lady Luck was riding with the driver who crawled out of the cab unscathed, surveyed the monster wheels sticking into the foggy sky, and began attempting to stop a car and get information into Matador so that his company would be notified. Rules prohibited his leaving the truck until officers arrived. A corner of the truck was broken open, revealing cases of heaters and appliances.

Health Department Portable Unit To Be Here Three Days

GROWING INTEREST is being manifest in Motley county's opportunity to receive services of the Texas State Health Department's portable x-ray unit, for free tuberculosis examinations. A meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the District Court room here was attended by 55 representatives of various county communities and organizations. Charles H. Hoover, representative of the Texas State Department of Health made the principal address, in which he outlined the most practical methods to interest citizens of the county in the importance of the free service.

Mr. Hoover was introduced by County Agent Rufus Emmons, who is general chairman of the work. Mr. Hoover paid high tribute to the interest being shown in Motley county to conduct a successful campaign. He said that in no county he has visited had more people attended the preliminary meeting.

"Today you people were actually waiting on me," he declared. Mr. Hoover was eating a late lunch at 2 p. m., the hour set for the meeting to start.

"You must advertise to the people that they owe it to their families, associates and themselves to take these x-rays," he declared. "Tell them the service is absolutely free, paid for by the state of Texas. It is paid for by their taxes and is not a part of any plan or scheme, except to improve the health and prolong the lives of Texas citizens. We are especially interested in three classes," Mr. Hoover declared.

"We want all the colored people because we know they have more active tuberculosis and we want all the Latin-Americans because tests prove they are also victims of tuberculosis. Then we want the old people. Our x-ray pictures frequently discover tumors, heart ailments and lung cancer in addition to tuberculosis. If discovered in time through x-rays, these ailments may be controlled to prevent fatal consequences.

"You must advertise that we have nothing to sell. Tell them that whatever the x-rays disclose, will be known only to the person examined and his family physician. Reports are usually made in about ten days. Those free from TB symptoms will receive a card telling them that no symptoms were found. Others will be notified to consult their physician and the physician will also be notified of any dangerous symptom.

"Some question has been asked with regard to time required to make the x-ray picture. In a case of necessity we could make an x-ray picture in 30 seconds. Usually it requires about two minutes. It is not necessary to remove clothing, except perhaps to remove a heavy fur coat or overcoat. Pictures are made in a standing position. We are not allowed to make x-ray pictures of anyone under the age of 15 years.

"But we want everyone over the age of 15. People from neighboring counties may have the service. Transits or visitors from other states or countries are invited to take the tests. We do not turn down anyone except those under the age limit.

"Many people have a great fear of tuberculosis," Mr. Hoover said, "and they do not want (continued on back page)

Season Now For Change

Texas Lakes Turn Over Each Year; Aquatic Biologist Explains Reason

BY KEN HARPER

AUSTIN, Sept. 9—Any day now, Lake Travis will turn over. Like other Texas lakes already have done that, and the rest will soon follow.

That's the prediction of Kenneth C. Jurgens, aquatic biologist stationed at Mansfield Dam, chief aquatic biologist for the state game commission.

A wind or hail storm could start the turnover or it could come gradually. This phenomenon is marked by bits of floating debris from the bottom, a strange acid odor, and big blue fish floating helplessly on the surface.

Then soon comes the annual late bass run on Lake Travis because of this sequence. Central Texas fishermen—without understanding this quick of nature—have been waiting anxiously for Travis to turn over.

Through the courtesy of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, here is presented a preview of a magazine article to appear this fall in "Texas Game and Fish."

Here's what Jurgens has to say: "The most frequent question we have been asked recently is: 'What makes a lake turn over?'"

Rhythmic Breathing
This turnover is part of the cycle of rhythmic breathing of large bodies of water in the temperate zones. In the process every particle of water in the big lake gives up waste products and takes on oxygen. To explain the turnover, it is necessary to outline what happens to a deep body of water in the annual cycle.

In the winter and early spring, from top to bottom, water in a lake basin is uniformly the same temperature. It is in constant circulation caused by the force of the seasonal high winds. Also, air temperatures are lower than water temperatures.

Then as the weather gets warmer and the high winds die away, air temperatures rise and in doing so warm the surface layer. Because warm water is lighter than cold water, the surface water remains at the top. When that has happened, nothing short of a storm would be strong enough to mix the warm water on top with the cold water below.

At that point what we call "thermal stratification" has begun. Thus, instead of a body of water the same temperature from top to bottom, there then exists a layer of warm water at the surface and a larger layer of colder water below it. The warm water remains on top and is in continuous circulation through it. It is constantly mixed by the wind and keeps full of oxygen. The lower, colder levels no longer circulate and are cut off from a source of oxygen by the blanket of warm water above.

Slowly Lose Oxygen
These lower levels slowly lose their supply of oxygen. Fish breathe up the oxygen as do the other water organisms. Dead organic matter continuously settles to the bottom and in decay also burns up oxygen.

By the end of summer there are two distinctly different zones. The bottom is cold, stagnant and nearly, if not completely, depleted of oxygen. It is also full of toxic decomposition gases. On the other hand, the surface layer is warm and, since it remains in constant circulation and in contact with the air, full of oxygen.

With the coming of cooler temperatures toward late summer and early fall, the surface water starts cooling. As the water on the extreme top layer cools, it sinks to the level at which there is other water of the same temperature. This process continues until the entire lake is either the same temperature or a strong wind comes and mixes the surface water with the water below. When this happens, the entire lake goes into complete circulation and the lake is said to turn over.

When the lake first begins this fall turnover, there is a characteristically foul odor to the water. This smell is caused by the toxic decomposition gases which are present in the water. As water from the bottom reaches the surface and comes into contact with the air, there is an exchange of gases. Decomposition gases are released to the air and the water takes on a fresh supply of oxygen from the atmosphere.

According to Jurgens, that's what's in the offing on Lake Travis and all other big Texas lakes.

Rheumatic Fever Cause Remains Mystery To Medics

While the specific cause of rheumatic fever has not been discovered, several factors associated with it and its onset and recurrence are now generally recognized, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Rheumatic fever is serious because it may affect the heart. Age is important. Rheumatic fever usually begins in childhood at about 5 or 6, although adults may have it. There is a susceptibility to the disease which causes rheumatic fever to be more common in some families than in others. The other factors which may favor its onset, combined with an individual's susceptibility, are frequent chilling, damp or over crowded living quarters and a poor diet.

The early signs and symptoms may be slight. Some of them, which may occur singly or in combination are: failure to gain weight, poor appetite, pallor, repeated nosebleeds, low persistent fever, and frequent complaints of pain in the arms, legs or abdomen. These symptoms do not necessarily mean that a child has rheumatic fever, but they do indicate that he is below par and should be examined by a physician and his advice followed.

The more characteristic signs include painful, inflamed joints. The child may be irritable without good reason, cry easily, or develop other nervous habits. It is vitally important to spare the heart unnecessary work for as long as the disease is active and for a period of convalescence afterwards. A child with rheumatic fever should remain in bed until, in the physician's opinion, it is safe for him to get up.

Autoists Who 'Never Grew up' Blamed for Most Accidents

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 9—The Pennsylvania Medical Society blames most traffic accidents on drivers who "never grew up."

Marion Gleason, a research assistant at the University of Rochester, N. Y., pinpoints the types and their behavior patterns in the society's journal as follows:

1. The person who hasn't outgrown the childhood conviction that his wants come first. He wants the middle of the road, blows horns at intersections, and insists on double parking.

2. The person who was taught as a child to obey without thinking. He automatically obeys signals of other drivers regardless of the situation confronting him.

3. The pampered type. Frequently a well-groomed and charming woman who flutters her eyelashes at policemen when caught parked at a fire plug or

INCAS PREFER POVERTY. HOLD ON TO OIL RIGHTS
LIMA, Peru, Sept. 9—It seems the Incas just aren't interested in wealth any longer. These Indians of Peru, whose fabulous gold hoards lured the Conquistadores from Spain and so led to the dissolution of their primitive empire four centuries ago, seem to have learned a lesson. The poverty-stricken Indians who are their remaining descendants now inhabit a region deemed to them in the neighborhood of Iquitos—where an important oil field has just been discovered.

But it seems the Indians won't sell mineral rights to the white man; not even for the millions that have been offered them.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Patton of Hale Center and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Patton and sons, Neal, Gordon and Gaines of Kress, visited over the week-end in the M. L. Patton home.

when passing a red light. She ties up traffic and occasionally causes crashes.

4. This type was bullied by older brothers or sisters and is among the most dangerous drivers. He takes his resentments out by banging cars when parking, sideswiping others and tearing madly down the highway.

5. The overprotected or dominated child. As soon as they get behind the wheel, they've got to take needless chances to prove their independence.

6. The child who got away with murder. Sometimes his me-first attitude leads him to committing highway homicide.

7. The child who had to settle for second-best. On the road he's got to prove to himself that his car is faster than any other.

Use Of School Bus Brings Education To Texas Children

346,175. Only children living two or more miles from their school are provided transportation.

A total of 25,212 more pupils were carried by school buses during the last scholastic year than during the 1948-49 term. The increase was partly due to the consolidation of more school districts and more districts qualifying for state aid, but most of it was caused by increased enrollment. Nearly 5 per cent more children were in the public schools last year than in 1948-49. Transportation increased only 6 per cent. The nearly 6,000 buses in use throughout the state are valued at $17,492,869, according to a survey recently completed by L. H. Griffin, state school director of administration services.

His survey also disclosed that one-fourth of the school buses should be replaced with new ones. School buses are expected to give satisfactory, economical and safe service for five years.

This is Your Paper
Censorship Is Dangerous

By William R. Nelson

CENSORSHIP is an action Americans resist so aggressively it has not even been imposed by law in time of war. Whenever some misguided attempt is made, whether against press, movies or radio, it is quickly squelched by aroused public opinion. Yet there are other attempts which fail only because of the knowledge, tact or courage of a home town newspaper editor.

Every newspaper has frequently to resist minor efforts at censorship. They are resisted because editors know that a minor success today can become a major one tomorrow.

It is a gaily enough, very few who participate in these minor instances fully realize what they are doing. Having the best of intentions, they fail to see the danger inherent in their actions.

Whenever a "request" is made that a newspaper omit facts concerning a public matter, censorship is being attempted.

Even a spat between neighbors becomes a matter in which the public is entitled to the facts, if the services of police or a court are required. Police and courts belong to the public which authorizes and pays for them, and how their services are employed is of concern to the public.

There are instances, of course, where private rights outweigh those of the public, and the editor is justified in suppressing such news. There are other instances, also, where good taste may dictate that an item be omitted. But, whatever the fine points involved, it is the editor's judgement which should prevail.

Honesty or Coercion? Newspaper editors do not resent honestly intended requests to overlook incidents where there is doubt that the public interest outweighs the private rights. They do resent them if accompanied by coercion in whatever form.

The editor is expert in such matters as public right to news. He is the best judge of whether or not public interests outweigh those of individuals or organizations involved. His judgment should be accepted without resentment. Censorship is a dangerous force, too dangerous to set in motion, no matter how innocently it may be employed.

ROARING SPRINGS, TEXAS

Pied 'Piniess
BY MRS. M.

Have you ever backed your car over a tiny kitten, and looked up just in time to see the small, furry body rolling and kicking from the driveway, with pitiful cries of anguish issuing from its dying throat? We hope you never do.

While we are not particularly cat-lovers, we would not care to be branded a cat-killer, although there are times when we wish we knew of some guiltless way of abolishing several animals that stalk our premises.

Our present house cat is a handsome black and white half-pedigree Persian. Since we never got around to the matter of christening him, he still answers to the call of "Kitty". He is an excellent example of third-generation heredity, since he is dead-ringer for his grandmother, Barbara, who died of a disease described as feline distemper. We think our cat is unusually smart because he displays such signs of outstanding intelligence, (which our friends tell us are nothing out of the ordinary).

For instance, he knows he isn't allowed to sharpen his claws on the living-room rug, and when he catches him doing so, he runs as fast as he can to the kitchen, where he just let him claw the old carpet to shreds, we could have a word with him.

For no reason in particular, he happens to remember a remark made by a charming woman who lived at Matador at the time of our marriage. She said (referring to us) "Poor girl, she doesn't know what she is getting into" (if she but knew). At any rate, this leads us to the observation that marriage is the initiation ceremony into an organization of members and souls. After the awakening, the pledges stand by, waiting to greet with compassion, the new candidates for membership.

A card reached us this week from Virginia Willie, which she mailed at Amsterdam, Holland, with this notation, "... we flew over to Copenhagen, Denmark, to Amsterdam, today, (Sept. 7). Have been out on the canals for two hours this afternoon." Her sister, Hazel Donovan, has received several cards and letters describing the many interesting places the group with which Virginia is traveling has visited.

Also continue to receive those nice "get-well" cards and messages. Again want to say that I appreciate every one of them. One comes from out Morton-way from Hattie B. Spotts, who was so nice to us when Mr. M. published the Morton Tribune several years ago. Our ego went up several degrees when we read her note, because it included this: "... Have thought several times that I would drop you a note and tell you how much I do love your column, but as usual I am kept pretty busy. I do enjoy it tho and tell Douglas it is crowding "Trail Dust" these days."

Aside from a weak shoulder, guess we are improving as well as could be expected. Thing that is worrying us as much as anything else, is a pair of bi-focals which have us seeing double most of the time.

Tribune, Matador, Matley County, Texas, Thursday, Sept. 14, 1950

New Dishwasher Has Whirling Water Tower

There's a "big squirt" in this new, automatic dishwasher. It's a Jet Tower that throws powerful sprays of water from every angle. The machine is said to save two-thirds of the time housewives normally spend cleaning up after meals. Dishes need not be pre-rinsed; the water used is booster heated and the jets are so directed that they clean dishes, glassware, silverware and pans with a shearing action. The washing and rinsing cycle takes less than 10 minutes.

County Trapper Is Thinning Coyotes

Lewis McDonough, local trapper, placed third out of 40 trappers in Lubbock District, in number of coyotes caught or killed in 1949-50.

Out of a total of 8547 coyotes and bobcats killed, McDonough trapped 533, which is 18 below the top man in Hartley county, where the county has employed a trapper for the first time.

It is quite evident that Mr. McDonough is thinning the coyotes for in 1946 when he was employed by the county, he caught about 1100 coyotes and bobcats. During the three months of April, May and June, McDonough caught 77 coyote pups and 43 grown coyotes, for a total of 120.

In 1946 the county agent had many farmers and ranchers requesting that Mr. McDonough be contacted and come to their place to catch coyotes that were giving them trouble. Now, requests may average one a month.
