Ernest C. Shearer Is Author Of Book

A book by Ernest C. Shearer of Houston, son-in-law of Mr.
and Mrs. Harry Campbell, is off
the press and receiving favorable comment in releases over the country.

Released in December, 1951,
the book, "Robert Potter: Remarkable North Carolinian and Texan" deals with a most unusual character—a contemporary of Andrew Jackson and Sam Houston who had many of the characteristics which made them great.

"Potter was a picturesque character, and Dr. Shearer has captured the spirit of the man.
This book is a valuable addition to the written history of Texas", said Harry M. Johnston in the Houston Post, while William A.
Devin, Chief Justice, State of North Carolina Supreme Court, Raleigh, declared: "He (Potter)
was indeed a remarkable figure with most astounding contrasts in a career that reached across the continent. You have made a good job in your arrangement of the material available."

The book may be ordered from The University of Houston
Bookstore, 3801 Cullen Blvd., Houston 4, Texas or direct from the author, Ernest C. Shearer,
Box 295, University of Houston, Houston 4, Texas. The book also may be obtained from a number of leading bookstores.

Mrs. Shearer is the former Erin Campbell of Matador.

Pied Pinions
 BY MRS. M.

So much to write about this week, we hardly know where to start.

LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD DEPT: Just heard this week that a script written by Thomas Sanders has been accepted for this year's Tech Varsity Show. Don't know the name of the production or any details. Do happen to know that Thomas has had the idea for a plot in the back of his mind for the past two years.

Thomas was reared here; he is the son of Mrs. Edith Sanders of Lubbock, and the grandson of Mrs. Harrison Williams of this place. He has dabbled in Little Theatre activities in Lubbock and had a supporting part in one of the play's last year. He is a senior at Tech.

Tribune, Matador, Motley County, Texas, Thursday, March 6, 1952

Seriously, we're all proud of those Sanders kids. Margaret is still with the Lubbock National Bank, while continuing her studies at Tech, where she is a junior.

In conversation with Mrs. Dick Davis (former Mary Higgins), we learned that her mother, who has been visiting the past several months in the Davis home at Duncan, Okla., and also with another daughter, Mrs. Clay Gilbert of Ardmore, has had a recent attack of measles!

Seems like everytime Mrs. Higgins is around anyone who has the measles, she takes 'em too, and has had about six cases during her lifetime. Believe it was granddaughter Linda from whom she caught the last case.

Some folks are still sort of confused about Mrs. Higgins' status, and think that she and Bro. Bob Jameson are married. However, Mrs. Jameson's name was Mrs. W. J. (or Minnie) Higgins, while the other Mrs. Higgins' name was Mrs. W. Y. (or Nellie). Incidentally, although bearing the same name they were not related, except through their children Mrs. W. Y. Higgins' daughter, Nellie Rhea, married Mrs. W. J. Higgins' son, Clay Gilbert, which of course, explains why some folks are still sort of confused.

Always enjoy attending Lions meeting. Gives us a feeling of importance, to be representing the press in the absence of the Mr. who, the last two times the club has met, has been "enjoying" poor health.

Flu had him down this week, so

Dads' Day Olympics Staged At Hockaday
 Dr. J. S. Stanley, 1325 Eubank was one of 200 fathers honored at the Hockaday School in Dallas, on Friday, Feb. 29 at the traditional "Dads' Day" on the campus.

Dr. Stanley's daughter, Ruth Marie, is a member of the Second Form. During the week's of preparation for Dads' Day, she worked on the committee in charge of making crowns for the fathers.

Athletic, or semi-athletic, events were on the program for the fathers after they were welcomed to the school at 2:30 p. m. "Hockaday Olympics" were similar to a circus, with fathers doing the major performances. The man who totaled up the most points during the afternoon was declared Hockaday Olympic champion. Also featured was a Sadie Hawkins Day race. The traditional formal banquet was held at 7 p. m. in the school dining room.

Dr. Stanley was accompanied to Dallas by Mrs. Stanley and their other daughter, Kay.

The assembly program staged by high school students in the school auditorium, was enlightening to those of us who have been out of school, to these many years. We especially enjoyed the style show staged by girls in the homemaking department. They looked like fashion plate models, in their pretty spring and summer frocks, dressed up with accessories. Mrs. A. L. Fair is their instructor.

The Motley County Music Festival is something of which every citizen of the county should be proud. Each community was well represented at the program Tuesday night, and Mrs. L. D. Wilkerson deserves much praise for the work she is doing among the young people.

We thought it was cute how they put Flomot on the map, with the blue dot showing the exact location in the north part of the county!

RETURNS HOME
 Mrs. Doug (Chloe) Meador returned home Sunday from Clovis, N. M., where she recently underwent major surgery and visited during recuperation with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lebow. They accompanied Mrs. Meador to Plainview Sunday, where they visited William Earl Briscoe (son and brother of Mesdames Meador and Lebow) and his family. James Meador met his mother there, and accompanied her to her home here.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

They Do "Give A Hoot" For Easy

Easy Roberts finally got rid of the noisy pigeons that used to whoop it up under his eaves.

He must have tried a dozen ways to scare them off. But no matter what he did, they would be right back cooing by his window the next morning.

Then Easy thought of an old stuffed owl he had in his attic. He propped it on the roof so all the pigeons could see it. They left... and three hoot owls have taken their place. Easy swears the hooting is even worse than the cooing of the pigeons.

From where I sit, quite often a "bright idea" will turn out to be "not so bright" after all. That's why we should never be too cocksure of our ideas and opinions—but always try to keep an open mind. I believe a refreshing glass of beer is the best thirst-quencher—you may believe differently. But who's to say one's right and the other is wrong? Let's just practice tolerance. It'll save a lot of hootin' and hollerin'.

Bridal Shower In Edwards Home Honors Mrs. Bobby Lee York, Nee Shirley Estes

A miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Bobby Lee York, the former Shirley Estes, was given Tuesday night, Feb. 26, in the home of Mrs. J. E. Edwards, with Mesdames G. E. Hamilton, Ben Keltz, H. H. Schweitzer, Freddie Welling and Forrest Campbell sharing hostess duties.

Mrs. Robert Darsey, sister of the bride, registered the guests in the bride's book, while another sister, Mrs. W. N. Pipkin, presided at the silver coffee service.

The bride's book, made by Mrs. Hamilton, was covered with silver brocade, and fashioned heart-shaped with the couple's names embossed on the cover. White satin ribbons were used for tiny roseettes and streamers.

The refreshment table was laid with a linen cloth, centered with a heart frame, covered with pink net, at the base of which was a miniature bridal couple. On either side was a blue crystal cornucopia, spilling pink and white carnations. These were flanked by pink tapers in silver holders. Blue crystal plates complimented the motif, and cake squares were decorated with blue roseettes. Bell shaped mints were served with the refreshments.

Guests were from Roaring Springs and Matador, and also present were the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Bert Estes, former Matador residents, now of Clarendon, Texas.

Married At Clovis

The couple was married Friday, February 15, at Clovis, N. M., at the home of Dr. Stone, pastor of the First Baptist church, who officiated. Accompanying them and serving as their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Ed James of Roaring Springs. For her marriage, the bride wore a wine and grey suit with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Following the ceremony, the couple drove to Raton, N. M., for their wedding trip.

Mrs. York was born and reared in Matador, and moved with her parents to Plainview, where she graduated from high school in 1950. She attended Texas Technological college, Lubbock, the following year.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. York of Roaring Springs. He was reared in that community and following his graduation from high school in 1950, he enlisted in the Army Air Force, receiving his training at Long Beach, Calif. He is on embarkation leave and sailed for overseas duty during this past week-end.

14-H Club Week Proclaimed Governor Shivers For March 1-9

Large Station, March 9, are observing National 4-H Club Week. Governor Shivers put the spotlight on the 116,979 4-H members of the nation this week when he issued a proclamation designating this period as 4-H Week in the nation.

Doing and as they gain experience, each becomes better equipped to serve as a loyal citizen. Present day 4-H programs are not limited to the production of better crops and livestock nor to better ways of doing the jobs in the home but include actual participation in studies and programs with international significance. Their International Farm Youth Exchange program is an example.

In addition to their regular demonstrations, Texas 4-H members last year received training in fire and accident prevention, health, recreation, leadership, conservation and various judging contests. They believe in hard work. They attend county and district camps, state and national meetings and are usually well represented at the major livestock shows of the nation. Their income from demonstrations and the value of the things they own amounts to several million dollars annually, say the state leaders.

The members get assistance from their local leaders, parents,

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

WRONG SIGNATURE ON LEGAL PAPERS MAY COST TIME, MONEY

Should a married woman sign important documents with her own given name or use her husband's first name? Is "Junior" or "Senior" legally part of your name? Should you sign your middle name or initial? Is "Mr." or "Mrs." part of a legal signature? Lawyers find that people are often at a loss to know how to sign their names to legal documents. And, while signature discrepancies ultimately may be straightened out, the process can be expensive.

In legal effect, a name is used merely as one method of distinguishing one person from another. Under the Common Law, since very early times, a legal name has consisted of one Christian or given name, and one surname which is the family name. Generally, use of both such names is necessary for legal identification.

The law does not pay too much attention to the middle name or initial. However, although the use of the middle name or initial is not required, it is wise to use it since it may be important for identification in some cases.

According to attorneys, married women have more difficulty with their signatures than most other people. When a girl marries she, of course, takes her husband's surname. Thus Mary Lou Jones legally becomes Mary Lou Brown when she marries James E. Brown. But, in practice she usually does not stop there—she uses his full name as her own, signing herself as Mrs. James E. Brown, instead of Mrs. L. Brown (or Mary Lou Brown) which is correct.

Can this apparently minor error in Mrs. Brown's signature cause any trouble? Let us assume that the Browns decide to sell their home, which they have owned fifteen years, and move to Oregon. Five years pass, and their former home is now owned by George Smith, who has made a deal to sell it at a nice profit. In checking the title of the property, the name "Mrs. James E. Brown" turns up in Smith's abstract, as it appears on the deed by which James and Mary sold their home.

For the title to be clear, the land records must show that the Mrs. James E. Brown who sold the house and lot was the same identical person as the Mary L. Brown or Mrs. James E. Brown whose name appears on the deed conveying the property to the Browns many years before.

In order that the purchaser may be safe, lawyers and courts must not overlook the possibility that they may be two different persons. If so, the first Mrs. Brown may have died leaving heirs who have not yet relinquished their interest in the home. Other possibilities would present serious implications also.

THE LORD'S LINIMENT

One half pint of Faith, One half pint of Virtue.
One half pint of Knowledge, One half pint of Patience.
One half pint of Temperance, One half pint of Godliness, One half pint of Brotherly Kindness.
One half pint of Charity, One good resolution well shaken together three times a day with prayer will cure the Devils Rheumatism, Evil Eye, Blasphemy, Grumbling, Backbiting, Tobacco Habit, Deceit, Kills the Nerves Prejudice, and purifies the blood, and if we can get the worst man to use this, it will restore him back to manhood and Respect, Ability with God and Man. It will help him love his own wife and children better, and he will want to put them under the same care. It will affect the women the same. Now if we can get this Remedy used in the homes of this country it will Cause the Ladies to wear full dresses, and stop them from bobbing their hair, or their little girl's. And stop theatre going, Bridge parties, and keep them away from the swimming pools. Stop men's wives from joy riding with other men. It will cleanse your heart from corruption and present your soul blameless.

(Directions)

Shake well before using, rub until it affects the heart, keep this up 365 days a year, and if it don't cure you can bankrupt Heaven. You can get this Liniment from Jesus, 1 John 2:15. Love not the world neither the things that are in the world. If any man loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

Proof of identity in this case could involve tracing the Browns through several states, or other methods equally or more expensive and time consuming. While waiting for this proof, George Smith might lose his chance to take a profit. The intended purchaser may have to begin anew his search for a suitable family shelter. The Browns may be out time and money in correcting the discrepancy.

In this situation, the "minor" variation in Mary's signature has resulted in trouble for every one involved.

Preversely enough, other married women feel that their maiden surname is still legal and continue to use it. For instance, a wife may register her automobile in her maiden name instead of her married name. This is not in compliance with the law requiring a car to be registered in the name of the owner. Her maiden surname is gone for good, unless she is divorced and wants to resume the use of her maiden name. Then it may be returned to her by a court order.

The law does not consider "Junior" or "Senior" a significant part of the name, as regards identification. However, it will not be incorrect to add such terms to your signature, if you wish. Similarly, "Mr." or "Mrs." are not legally important or necessary.

Congress Ends 50-Card Penalty

WASHINGTON, March 3—A short-lived law which made the 50th postal card purchased cost 12 instead of 2 cents was consigned to the wastebasket by Congress Monday.

Without a dissenting vote, the House passed a bill previously approved by the Senate repealing a 10 per cent surcharge on government postal cards purchased in lots of 50 or more.

The surcharge had been in effect only since the first of the year, when the rate went up from 1 cent to 2, and had been widely evaded by commercial interests which bought cards in lots of 49.
