PRICE FIVE CENTS

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

There was a pathetic appeal in the rancher's eyes. He spoke as a man who had unexpectedly returned from eternity and feared the ridicule of modern mortals. He asked for axel grease. The merchant shook his head with the same solemnity as if he had asked to buy a pound of opium in the bulk. In what kind of a town might it be obtained. He didn't know. The automobile has inally and completely replaced the horse.

A baker friend (whom I have never met) sends me a fruit cake or a New Year's present. I don't know how to thank him. I could say the ordinary things but it is not an ordinary event. I am unimpaired and disarmed by his charity. No gift bears the golden halo of friendship with such dignity as one fashioned with the giver's hands. Fruit cake is another of my many weaknesses and this gift from my friend is a masterpiece. Only a dreamer could create the exciting blend of flavors; a dreamer of precision dreams who has long squired shy and delightful perfection.

For years I carried fodder for worship to the iron horse's shrine. I loved the smell of steam and grease; to feel the hobbling earth when the snorting monster passed. But now my licker pagan love has changed. I bring fresh altar flowers to the great sliver pigeons of the skies who flutter through the clouds with ribbons of wanderer's dreams in their beaks. They stride the great canyons of distance and the vast plains of time like a rainbow between a wish and its fulfillment. They return precious hours and days to the neager store of life. Plowing the great fields of the skies they leave no furrows, yet their passing is planted the seeds of man's destiny.

Kimbrough Speaker At Lions Club

Famous football coach Frank Kimbrough, in charge of the West Texas State college, Canyon, Buffalo club, was principal speaker at the Matador Lions club first 1949 meeting held Tuesday in the Methodist church basement. He was introduced by program sponsor Lion Dr. J. S. Stanley.

Coach Kimbrough's address was brief since the major part of his part on the program consisted of showing a color motion picture of Buffalo home-coming game with the University of Houston, played in Canyon. Coach Kimbrough at frequent intervals, reversed the film in order to reshew errors made by his Buffalo players. The club members and visitors found the film good entertainment and applauded their pleasure at the end of the program.

Frank Montgomery was introduced and welcomed into the club as a new member. Announcement was made by club secretary Randall Whitworth that applications have been received for two additional new members.

Tailtwister Ralph Stapleton starting the new year in high gear, fined members with the abandon of a pirate who had tasted turpentine in his grog. As a parting threat he told members who failed to attend the union church meeting to be held at the Methodist church, Sunday evening, February 6th, would be expected to pay a minimum fine of one dollar.

Mercury On Skid To 13

Mercury in Matador thermometers skidded sharply Monday afternoon, finally stopping at 13 some time in the night to set the lowest record of the season. Many home variety thermometers registered as low as 10 but official U. S. Weather Bureau thermometers at the city well showed 13 degrees Tuesday morning according to city water superintendent Herman Stanfield. (City well mercury weather gage remains at the lowest point reached during the night).

Wet snow fell rapidly for a short time Monday morning and precipitation from the snow was an official 10 inch here, however the fall was declared to be much heavier in the north section of the county.

The welcomed snow melted almost as rapidly as it fell until the wind changed to the north and the mercury started its skidding action. Little of the remaining snow melted Tuesday and the ground was lightly covered yesterday morning.

City Entering The Plumbing Business

City of Matador is now in the plumbing business. You can twist the top off a hydrant at one o'clock in the morning and obtain emergency plumbing service, but don't think the service will be free merely because you are a property-owning tax payer. You will be billed for the service by the City of Matador and payment will be made to the city. You can even have your new home completely plumbed or you can have your old plumbing replaced by the city. City Water Superintendent Herman Stanfield who is a licensed plumber will do (or supervise) all the work.

The new arrangement reached at the Tuesday night meeting of the council, is the result of a marriage between the city's "problem child" and an idea. The problem is an old one. Water superintendent Herman Stanfield did not want to be a plumber, but the people forced him into it. Water lines and sewer lines had to be serviced. Citizens called him at all hours of the day and night. Frequently he was forced to use the city pick-up to reach the work. Before he was aware of what had happened he was in the plumbing business as a side line of his job with the city. More people moved to Matador and there were more homes to service and still no permanent resident plumber opened shop here. Some citizens saw the city pick-up being used in private work and councilmen received complaints. The problem was complex since Stanfield's duties require that he be available for service on the water department 24 hours daily; he had no time of his own.

The idea was advanced by Councilman Ober Johnson. He suggested to Stanfield that he do plumbing work for the city as he had been doing privately, but at a substantial increase in salary. Mr. Stanfield was eager to accept the offer. He will retain all his former city water department services, and in addition will care for the city sewer disposal plant. Orders for plumbing will be filled in the order received (except emergency calls). Plumbing supplies and labor will be billed to the customer. Mr. Stanfield will not receive a dime more in compensation if he plumbs your new home, repairs a leaky faucet or opens a clogged sewer line on your property. His salary is fixed at $325 per month. He will even go to a (SEE CITY ENTERS back page)

Plane Effective In Finding Body

James Arthur Allen, 60, of 2117 Sixth street, Lubbock, was found dead New Year's afternoon in the Elbert Reeves pasture about three and one-half miles northeast of Matador.

Death was believed caused by a paralytic stroke or heart attack. He was believed to died about 10 a. m. Saturday morning.

Allen and two other Lubbock men, Clyde Rogers and Paul Lang, were quail hunting on the Reeves ranch. Allen was missed by his companions about 10 a. m., but the hunting party, it was reported, did not become alarmed about his whereabouts and start a search for him until about 11 a. m.

Accompanying the Lubbock trio was Joe Meador of Matador who acted as a guide to the Reeves place. The three men were friends of Mr. Meador's son-in-law, C. E. (Ted) Woolery of Lubbock. Mr. Meador did not hunt but drove the station wagon belonging to Mr. Allen, to a designated place, and waited for him and his two hunting companions.

Plane Sights Body

A group of searchers continued to comb the heavy brush, sage and grass in the area, on foot. Two men on horses, and Sheriff John Stotts entered the search. Finally Don Reeves, son of the rancher, drove to Roaring Springs where he secured services of a plane from Buzz Field piloted by S. J. Braselton accompanied by E. E. Moss. The three men located Allen's body "first-time-over" the area where he had last been seen. They signaled the ground searchers and returned to the flying field.

Sheriff John Stotts said Allen's shotgun was found beside his body fully loaded. Four quail were found in the pocket of his hunting coat.

The body was brought to McDonald Funeral Home in Matador and later removed to Lubbock.

Information concerning Allen from the Lubbock Avalanche, is as follows: "Allen and his son-in-law, Robert C. Howard, of 2313 Sixth were partners in Robert's Bicycle and Repair Shop at 1515 Avenue Q. Allen had lived here (Lubbock) since 1919.

"Survivors include the wife, a daughter, Mrs. Edna Mae Howard of Lubbock; a step-daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Rayburn of La Plata, New Mexico and five grandchildren."

sary exposure to extreme weather conditions. When we go outside in cold weather, sufficient clothing should be worn to keep the body warm. Keeping the temperature of our homes and offices as low as is consistent with comfort will greatly lessen the difficulties encountered in adjusting ourselves to the cold when we leave the house.

Another method of prevention in pneumonia is to never neglect a cold, for the common cold of ten opens the door for pneumonia if it is neglected. A person with a severe cold should stay at home and call his physician for advice, if temperature persists and the cold lingers on. He should follow his physician's advice until the cold has entirely disappeared.

Another advantage of consulting a physician when suffering from a cold is the fact that what the patient mistakes for a severe cold may be beginning pneumonia. If this is the case, the doctor will have an opportunity to begin treatment early, which adds materially to the patient's chances for recovery.

Trading in Oklahoma and Texas cotton markets dropped off last week, reports the Dallas office of USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Sales dipped to 53,428 bales at Galveston, Houston and Dallas, about 28 per cent less than the previous week, but a third more than during Christmas week last year.

Reported sales in the country's ten spot markets including those in Texas totaled 190,500 bales last week against 235,000 the previous week and 100,500 last year.

Cotton prices advanced about 500 cents per bale during the week. The basis remained firm at most southwest markets. Dallas quoted Middling 15-16 inch cotton at 32.10 cents per pound last Thursday compared to 35.15 cents last year on the corresponding day.

Domestic inquiries increased slightly and export interest continued good. Domestic demand was chiefly for Middling and Strict Middling White cotton ranging in staple lengths 31-32 inch through 1 1-16 inch. Best Middling and better White cotton ranging in staple lengths 7-8 inch through 1 1-16 inch.

Some inquiries have been made for loan equities, and a few sales have been made, according to reports.

Cotton mill activity declined during November and was about 10 per cent below a year ago.

Cottonseed prices changed very little during Christmas week. Average price paid Texas farmers was $75 per ton, Oklahoma farmers received an average price of $74.20.

the highest and final bidder! Whoever it was must have deemed his purchase bad judgment, for he hasn't spoke up yet.

P. S.—We stop the presses to add that Rufus Emmons has just been in and confessed that he was the unfortunate bidder at $20.00, but that Mr. M. was urging the auctioneer to stop at $5.00.

And speaking of slips, the quota surely got by in a previous issue of the Tribune, when it was reported that this country was discovered in 1942! This must have confused the school children no end, since they are doubtless taught that the Pilgrim fathers landed on these shores at a much earlier date.

Also, in the same issue, Mr. M. in an effort to be humorous, alluded to men's wearing of girdles, and the word got into print as "gridles"; which, in the last analysis might be a better term for the article after all.

Which reminds us that we are always struck with apprehension when the word "girdle" is read from the Bible, and somehow feel prone to explain that it doesn't refer to the present-day garment, but the wide sashes worn by the Romans or Egyptians, or whoever wore them.

Most picturesque figure of speech heard recently: "Us and the Bus finally made it".

Three Men Killed In Tulia Railway Mishap

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 27—Three men were crushed to death in the Santa Fe switch yard at Tulia, this afternoon.

The men were killed by a shifting load of railway ties on a freight gondola.

Dead were: Ruben R. Martinez and P. G. Martinez, brothers and Tony Garcia.

They were standing on the floor of a car between one end of the car and a pile of ties. The gondola bumped into another car as it switched, and the ties moved against the men.

Funeral arrangements were not announced immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Pitts, Jr. and son Kenneth spent the week end in Plainview visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bryant.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Pitts visited in Amarillo Tuesday with their mother, Mrs. Neta B. Pitts and other relatives.

Pied Pinions BY MRS. M.

Let it not be said that the lowly comma is inconsequential! We are told that we were sold at auction at the Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Lions Club, (and have been in a dither since, to know who was highest bidder) all because an innocent little comma was omitted in the story last week which declared that the Tribune was "got out" at the capable hands of Joe Berry Meador who sold advertising comma and Mrs. Meador.

Somehow we have the secret conviction that Mr. M. was not

They were Charles Cox, L. C. Giesecke, Truman Groves, Sarah Springer, Heavy Thomas, Ann Harp, Rosemary Bloodworth and Frances Casey! What fun!

Doris Doss and Gene Morris, Melba Kimbell and H. A. Stephens were cruisin' around town together on New Year's Eve, also! We try to keep 5 years ahead of the babies!

THEY'RE being born in record numbers these days: 4 million babies last year—12 million since the war!

They make one very important reason for the gigantic expansion program of the business-managed electric companies. Another reason is that everybody's appetite for electric service is getting bigger—in towns and on farms, in homes and in industry.

Ordinarily, we work and plan about 5 years ahead to meet the anticipated demand for electric service. (It takes a long time to plan, build and equip power plants.)

Today, in addition, we're working hard to catch up with much needed construction we could not do during the war years!

The West Texas Utilities Company is now rushing the work on an $18,000,000 construction program. This $18,000,000 construction program is part of the company policy of anticipating future needs... of keeping ahead of the babies.

How is this $18,000,000 being spent? It is paying for new generating facilities... for improving and enlarging existing equipment... for hundreds of miles of wire, cable and pole lines. It means new jobs... agricultural and industrial development... a more prosperous West Texas for all of us!

F. F. A. REPORT

The vocational agriculture classes have been studying diseases of cattle for the past six weeks. We are trying to learn to recognize the disease and to be able to give the affected animal first aid until a veterinarian arrives.

Competent management and a good sanitation program are the two main preventive measures to be taken against nearly all of the common diseases of livestock. It is hard to realize that man, so far as physical build up is not too different from cattle. Therefore, why not treat them as such and reap the results in higher net profits.

Our calves are doing good on the average. Some calves have been badly afflicted with grubs until the boys found they could be easily controlled by applying rotenone or derris powder. This is a good economical control for grubs.

The following boys are feeding calves for the spring show: Jody Graham, Jerry Edwards, Jerry Warren, Dean Stotts, R. L. Holl, Melvin Sorey, Norman Seigler, Joaquin Hays, Kenneth Thompson, Wayland Moore and Lewis Blevins and Billy Smallwood.

The practical sea lion...

The sea lion is a sissy . . . but practical. He wears a fur coat when he goes in swimming.

Your car engine isn't a sissy, but it needs extra winter-time protection. That's why practical motorists change to winter-grade Conoco Nth Motor Oil and an OIL-PLATED engine for extra-protection.

They know Nth oil contains a special added ingredient that fastens extra lubricant so closely to cylinder walls it won't all drain down . . . even overnight. That's why OIL-PLATING means extra protection.

AF WILL ACCEPT ENLISTMENTS FOR LIMITED TIME

Openings for enlistment in the United States Air Force for qualified young men were announced today by Major Harold Fulghum, Commanding Officer of the Lubbock Army and Air Force Recruiting office.

For the past six months, the Air Force has been accepting only a limited number of men each month over the entire United States. In the Lubbock area, the quota was set at six per month, which prevented a large number of men from enlisting on an Air Force career.

Now, however, Major Fulghum said, for a limited time, enlistments in the Air Force will be accepted without regard to quota. All men who have been waiting for an opening should visit the recruiting office, Room 203 in the Postoffice Building, Lubbock, Texas, immediately. These openings will be filled rapidly and on a first come, first accepted basis.

He also stated that one opening per month has been allotted to the Lubbock Office for Airborne Unassigned, heretofore closed for enlistments. This opening needs to be filled for the month of December.

Major Comes Home To Spend Christmas

After an absence of fourteen months, Major returned home to spend Christmas with the boys.

Major, a collie, disappeared over a year ago from the Kenneth Jeffers home, and without any explanation for his conduct, returned shortly before Christmas, much to the joy of the Jeffers' two sons, Jeff and Joe.

It was learned that Major had spent the interval at the farm home of the Robert Darsey family near Flomot (a victim of canine amnesia no doubt).

When the Darseys moved to their new home in south Matador recently, Major accompanied them. It was then that he remembered his previous place of residence.

HERE'S AN Idea
WORTH TALKING OVER
... can farming be made more profitable?

We're not promising the moon, but we'd like to see if we can help you make more money, or save work. We do know that on a good many farms we've been able to make recommendations that worked out profitably.

At least, it's an idea worth talking over. We are making farm visits all the time and hope to reach you soon. However, we invite you not to wait but drop in anytime. You'll find that we are really interested in discussing your problems and helping all we can.

We do know that the future of the farmer depends greatly on the efficiency of all farm operations. We know something about this subject. That's why we think it will pay you, as well as us, to "get better acquainted."

IN THE NEWS

Chevrolet's biggest newspaper advertising campaign will use 5,972 dailies and weeklies to announce new models January 22. Dwarling Toni Banish, here's what 5,972 newspapers look like, each representing an individual publication.

J. D. PADGITT, SADDLE FIRM PIONEER, DIES

Jesse David Padgett who founded a saddlery firm in 1874 and helped build Dallas from a mud-hole to a major city, died at 10:20 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 26.

At the age of 97, he was Dallas' oldest active merchant until he became ill about three weeks ago.

Padgett, chairman of the board of Padgett Bros. Company, 1020 Commerce, died at his home, 4937 Swiss. His life story is a page out of Texas history.

Once he shook hands with Sam Houston, founder of Texas. During the Civil War, he sold The Galveston News, forerunner of The Dallas News, on the streets of Houston.

He was a friend of Willard Richardson, editor and publisher of that newspaper, who kept it going in Houston after federal troops seized Galveston.

He knew Gen. J. Bankhead Magruder, Confederate hero who recaptured Galveston from the Union forces on Jan. 1, 1863.

He was the last survivor of a group of Dallas businessmen who in 1885 subscribed $25,000 as a stock investment to bring

The Dallas News into being.

He was the last living member of a group of men called the terminal merchants — pioneering businessmen who followed the railroads into the ever-receding frontier.

He lived to witness some of the most infamous acts of the carpet-bag days and furnished saddles and holsters to men who found them as necessary as shoes.

He was one of the founders of the State Fair of Texas in 1886.

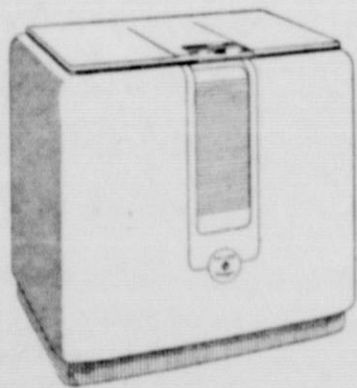

All through life, he turned up at his office at least five days a week and seldom if ever took a vacation. "Friday afternoon to Monday morning is plenty for me," he would say.

A little over a year ago, two New York life insurance companies gave up on him. They wrote him letters announcing they were paying off his two modest life insurance policies in full. He had lived beyond their life expectancy tables.

Padgett was born Dec. 22, 1851 in Sumner County, Tenn., and came to Texas at the age of 3 with his parents, who settled in Houston. He grew up there with his two brothers, William C. Padgett and Tom Padgett.

They were orphaned as boys and learned early to shift for themselves. Descended from a long line of skilled leather workers, they naturally turned to that

To Bible Readers

Since my article appeared recently in the Matador Tribune concerning reading the Bible within one year, I have learned that as many Bibles do not have the same number of pages, my suggestion will not work out, that a certain number of pages be read daily. However, the Bible can be read through in a year by reading 3 chapters a day and 5 chapters each Sunday, and I sincerely hope that many people will be led to follow this plan.

Mrs. T. E. Williams.

business Jesse, the youngest, learned the trade in the Houston shop of his uncle, Tom Bond, after he had attended Hancock Academy in Houston and Sherrill College in Columbus, Colorado County.

With his two brothers he struck out as a terminal merchant after the Civil War ended. They followed the Houston & Texas Central Railroad through Milligan, Bryan, Calvert, Kosse, Grosebeck and Corsicana before Jesse came to Dallas.

All these towns were wide open in those days. In Grosebeck where young Padgett's shop was next door to a gambling house and saloon, 43-caliber bullets several times slammed through the flimsy pine walls and came too close for comfort.

The year after Jesse Padgett came to Dallas, William C. Padgett joined him. The other brother, Tom Padgett, set himself up in Waco.

Early days in Dallas were rugged, Padgett often said later. Merchants would arise before daybreak, go to wagon yards and solicit business from cattle-men and freighters. Then they would go home to breakfast—at 6:30 a. m.—and return to their store for a 10-hour day of serving customers.

Pistols and saddles were the main stock in trade. Most of the pistol-toters were quiet, law-abiding men who simply needed protection, and often one six-shooter wasn't enough.

Padgett first located on the west side of Dallas' public square, near the courthouse, where wagons often mired in the muddy street. Later the brothers moved to a site near the present location of E. M. Kahn and Company.

They bought that place for $5,000, spent $33,000 developing their building and later sold it for $110,000 and put their money into the present 5-story building at 1020 Commerce.

Short, stocky and strong, Padgett was a tireless worker, and his health was almost indestructible. Once he missed a few days of work when he came down with yellow fever, but he returned to the store long before his doctor would concede he was well enough.

He helped bring several railroads to Dallas, was a sponsor of Trinity River improvement plans and took part in many civic welfare projects. He was a Presbyterian and a Mason.

His wife, the former Mrs. Carrie Bell Fallon of Waco, died in 1929. Surviving him are two sons, R. E. Padgett and J. Durrell Padgett; two daughters, Mrs. Charles S. Barry and Mrs. Foster E. Lytle, Dallas; eight grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren.

Funeral services tentatively have been set for Tuesday, Sparkman-Brand Chapel, 2115 Ross, is in charge of arrangements.

City Entering . . .

neighboring town and do plumbing if a call is received and if he is not needed here, provided the trip will mean a profit to the city.

What the new arrangements means is this: Mr. Stanfield received a salary raise of $125 per month, but all the plumbing he was doing on the side will be long to the city. Every time he drives the city pick-up it will be on city business. The action of the council was unanimous. Day-time orders for plumbing should be placed at the city hall with City Secretary Howard Edmondson. Night emergency calls may be made to the city well. All work between the water meter and house (inside) will be charged at regular plumbing rates. Outside work (from meter outward) is the city's responsibility.

City of Matador has no monopoly in mind. In event a reliable plumbing shop is opened here to provide citizens with dependable service, the city will not solicit patronage, and, in event the present arrangement with Mr. Stanfield is no longer profitable (or on break-even basis) the water superintendent has agreed to make a new contract.

City May Buy Land

Ed Cammack, owner of the tract of land surrounding the sewer disposal plant (estimated four to six acres) met with the council Tuesday night and was asked if he would sell the property which is being used as an evaporation basin for sewer water.

Present arrangement (as formerly held with Southwestern Sewer Company) is $25 monthly lease which includes monthly (or less frequent) plowing. Mr. Cammack said he had not thought about selling the land but that he would give it consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weaver and daughters, Ann and Adrienne of Dallas, were visitors here during the recent holidays, with Mrs. Weaver's mother, Mrs. Margaret Newman and other relatives.

Sgt. and Mrs. Calvin Shaw and small son, Calvin Jr., left Monday morning to return to their home at El Paso, after visiting several days with Mrs. Shaw's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Daffern.
