and diseases that hit snap beans.

The remedy, says Entomologist Paul Gregg, of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, is merely a new mixture of three already well-known materials—DDT, rotenone and sulphur. Proportions of the mixture are one part 3 per cent DDT, one part of one half of one per cent rotenone and two parts sulphur. The DDT kills leafhoppers and beetles, including the black-spotted mahogany colored bean beetle that feeds on the plant leaves; the rotenone gets plant lice; and the sulphur controls the disease, powdery mildew.

Recommended time for dusting the mixture is two weeks before the beans bloom, says Gregg, followed with a second application when the crop is in full bloom. If the dust is applied before the bean pods are formed, it cuts down danger of trouble caused by poisonous residue left on the crop.

Gregg emphasizes that the mixture is an all-purpose insecticide only for the one crop, beans. But in field trials conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture last year, the DDT-rotenone-sulphur combination upped bean yield as much as 57 to 99 bushels an acre.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4.

Proposing an amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by the addition of two new sections to be known as Sections 17 and 18 providing a special fund for the payment of Confederate pensions and providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at state institutions of higher learning, providing for a five-cent reduction in the maximum allowable state tax on property; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE STATE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Sections 17 and 18 which shall read as follows:

"Section 17. In lieu of the state ad valorem tax on property of Seven (7c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 51 of Article 3, as amended, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Two (2c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations, and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia, provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate hereinabove levied.

"Also, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Five (5c) on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping buildings, or other permanent improvements at the designated institutions of higher learning, and the government board of each of such institutions of higher learning is fully authorized to pledge all or any part of said funds allotted to such institution as hereinafter provided, to secure bonds or notes issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping such buildings or other permanent improvements at said respective institutions. Such bonds or notes shall be issued in such amounts as may be determined by the governing boards of said respective institutions, shall bear interest not to exceed three (3%) per cent per annum and shall mature serially or otherwise not to exceed ten (10) years from the first (1st) day of January of each year in which such funds are allocated or re-allocated to said respective institutions; provided, the power to issue bonds or notes hereunder is expressly limited to a period of thirty (30) years from the date of the adoption of this amendment; and provided further, that the Five (5c) Cent tax hereby levied shall expire finally upon payment of all bonds hereby authorized; provided further, that the state tax on property as heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 9 of Article VIII, as amended, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed Thirty (30c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation. All bonds shall be examined and approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, and when so approved shall be incontestable; and all approved bonds shall be registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. Said bonds shall be sold only through competitive bids and shall never be sold for less than their par value and accrued interest.

"Funds raised from said Five (5c) Cents tax levy for the ten (10) year period beginning January 1, 1948, are hereby allocated to the following institutions of higher learning, and in the following proportions, to wit:

"Not later than June 1st of the beginning year of each succeeding ten (10) year period, the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, based on the average long session full-time student enrollment for the preceding five (5) year period of time, shall re-allocate, to the above designated institutions of higher learning then in existence, all funds to be derived from said Five (5c) Cent ad valorem tax for said ten (10) year period; and all such designated institutions of higher learning which participate in the allocation or re-allocation of such funds shall not thereafter receive any other state funds for the acquiring or constructing of buildings or other permanent improvements for which said Five (5c) Cents ad valorem tax is herein provided, except in case of fire, flood, storm, or earthquake occurring at any such institution, in which case an appropriation in an amount sufficient to replace the loss so incurred may be made by the Legislature out of other state funds. Any bonds or notes issued hereunder shall be payable solely out of the income from the Permanent University Fund. Bonds or notes so issued shall mature serially or otherwise not more than twenty (20) years from their respective dates, and in no event later than twenty-five (25) years after the date of the adoption of this amendment. This amendment shall be self-enacting.

"Said Boards are severally authorized to pledge the whole or any part of the respective interests of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and of The University of Texas in the income from the Permanent University Fund, as such interests are now apportioned by Chapter 42 of the Acts of the Regular Session of the 42nd Legislature of the State of Texas, for the purpose of securing the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds or notes. The Permanent University Fund may be invested in such bonds or notes.

"All bonds or notes issued pursuant hereto shall be approved by the Attorney General of Texas and when so approved shall be incontestable."

"Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at a special election to be held throughout the state on the fourth Saturday in August, A. D. 1947, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"For the amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, adding Sections 17 and 18 providing for the levying of a state ad valorem tax on property in lieu of the present state ad valorem tax of Seven (7c) Cents for Confederate pensions in order to create special funds necessary for the payment of Confederate pensions and for the financing of the construction and other permanent improvements at state institutions of higher learning in the amounts of Two (2c) Cents and Five (5c) Cents respectively; providing for a Five (5c) Cent reduction of the maximum allowable state tax on property, making such tax not to exceed Thirty (30c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation; providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of improvements and buildings at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and The University of Texas."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the constitution and laws of this state.

Sec. 4. The sum of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury of the state, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

Fixing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS

Chicken Range Waterer

ALTHOUGH the practice of turning out the laying flock on range in the summer has been demonstrated to be good poultry management, it does present some problems. One of them is the water supply. Except in large and specialized operations, it is usually impractical to pipe water to the flock.

The next best thing is to use portable waterers that will provide a plentiful supply of fresh water with a minimum of labor. A unit developed by the Montana State College poultry farms is made of an old barrel, float valve, a wire protected drinking pan and some lumber.

The sketch shows how lumber was used to make a framework on skids that holds the barrel and pan firmly enough to enable the unit to be snaked behind a tractor. It also can be filled from a tank truck if one is available. A portable waterer of this sort will take care of the needs of a fair sized flock and should give good service.

C. Giesecke; Girl, Mary Murphy (Most outstanding student to participate in all activities).

Student with highest scholastic rating: Ann Harp, 96.6.

Lions citizenship award, based on achievement, honesty and scholarship: R. C. Giesecke.

Championship Ropers To Meet at Levelland

If you look at it one way, Troy Fort has the edge, but when you reconsider Toots Mansfield is slightly favored.

Actually, according to the facts, the championship match calf roping contest between Mansfield of Big Spring and Fort of Lovington, N. M., to be held in the Levelland Rodeo Arena Sunday, June 1, it's a toss-up.

On the credit side of the ledger for Fort is his outstanding record in the seven major shows of 1947. He has piled up three first place victories and four seconds, while Mansfield chalked up two first place wins and one second, but failed to place in the other four contests. Then there is Fort's victory over Mansfield in the Levelland arena March 23. These facts indicate that Fort is sitting in the driver's seat this year for the world's championship title with little possibility of losing it, since it is based on the all-year average. Then when you consider the fact that Mansfield uses a bigger loop which was a disadvantage in the March 23 contest because of the wind, that the twelve calves to be roped will be wild Brahmas fresh from their mamas and never roped before, and his record for the past eight years, the contest takes on a different light. Mansfield has been the world's champion roper five out of the last eight years and beat Fort in Levelland last August 11th.

Any way you look at it this match roping contest which will be the last of a series of three to determine the winner of the Levelland series promises to be one of the best ever held any place.

Thirty head of wild Brahmas and calves are to arrive here this week from South Texas for the show. These calves have never been weaned and never roped and will be run through the arena until the date of the contest.

New 10-Pound Sugar Stamp to Become Valid June First

Sugar Ration Stamp No. 12, for another ten pounds of sugar, will become valid on June 1, just one month ahead of the schedule date, the Department of Agriculture announced this week.

However, the department said that sugar from this stamp will not be valid until October 31, when price and rationing controls are due to expire unless renewed by Congress.

The date for validating the new sugar stamp was moved a month, Agriculture Department officials explained, in order to expedite movement of sugar to the consumers while highway transportation is still available.

A severe shortage of freight is anticipated when the wheat harvest begins moving to market late in June, and the Department of Agriculture wants to move sugar, which is reported to be piling up at Eastern refineries, to its ultimate destination before the big harvest hits the railroads.

Stamp 12 was the second to be designated as a 10-pound stamp. No. 11, which was the first, became valid on April 1.

To encourage the distribution of sugar supplies still further, regulations limiting inventories of industrial users to 30 days supply have been suspended. Industrial users may now obtain a full quarter's supply of sugar after their new allocation is determined.

Requests for third quarter allotments will be received June 1, instead of June 10 as originally scheduled.

A big Cuban crop now hitting the eastern ports was cited as the reason for the sugar pile-up at this time.

Grasshoppers Showing Up

Grasshoppers are present in parts of Texas. Boll weevils aren't likely to show up in early cotton, but there's always a chance. There seems to be plenty of DDT now, but only take care of the early cotton insect poison needs this summer. An emergency in the form of a leafworm outbreak could result in quick disappearance of available arsenic poison supplies.

Gardeners Told Proper Method For Irrigation

Wasting irrigation water in an effort to save it is one of the biggest mistakes many city and suburban gardeners make, according to George Elle, assistant professor of plant industry at Texas Technological College.

Water is wasted by shallow irrigation, by sprinkling, particularly in the daytime, by permitting weeds to grow and curiously, by too much cultivation.

Gardens may be irrigated more efficiently by thorough soaking to a depth of 18 or more inches each five to 10 days or longer, than by daily sprinkling, he declared. Evaporation in West Texas disposes of surface moisture to a depth of two and sometimes three inches within 24 hours. Roots of even small vegetables extend at least 18 inches into the earth, with some plants penetrating as much as four feet. Therefore, when water soaks only a few inches, it reaches only the shallow roots, missing the large masses of feeder roots below the surface.

Daytime sprinkling is inefficient because 25 to 50 per cent of the water evaporates before it soaks in. Skimming the surface with a hoe is the best way to dispose of weeds, because cultivation to a depth of even two inches will damage shallow roots, and stirring up the soil excessively causes undue evaporation. Hot days are best for hoeing weeds, as they wilt and die rapidly.

Elle suggested that irrigation take place at night with a board under the hose nozzle or a gunny sack around it to break the force of the water and prevent erosion. Plant leaves should not be wet when it can be avoided, as such dampness encourages the spread of certain plant diseases.

When the Ounce of Prevention Fails

★ Warning against accidents in the home and on the highways is old stuff to most of us. Many industries have made real progress in accident prevention, but our homes continue to produce minor and major injuries on an ever-increasing scale.

In spite of every precaution, accidents will occur. When the "ounce of prevention" fails, it is wise to have "the pound of cure" ready and at hand. See that your medicine cabinet is amply stocked with standard first-aid materials. Keep a first-aid kit in the pocket of your car. When Ed's Crops Failed

Three years ago Ed Smith's luck went bad. His crops failed, and it wasn't long before Ed's home and furnishings were up for auction.

Half the town turned out, and Ed must have thought his neighbors were a bunch of hungry vultures—buying up all his precious possessions for a song.

When it was over, and the auctioneer had left, Sam Abernathy turned to the crowd and says: "All right, folks, let's take time out for a glass of beer, and then put this stuff back where it belongs!"

Two hours later, Ed was in possession of his home and furnishings; and the folks who'd paid for them were sitting around Ed's fire enjoying a neighborly glass of beer—to show their friendship and their confidence in Ed.

Today, Ed's back on his feet—another constructive member of the community. And from where I sit, we've all been well repaid—a good investment in a good man.

Agriculture Advancement is Due To Scientific Research

Most of the advancement of agriculture in the past century can be traced to scientific research in one way or another, yet Texas spends almost as little per farm for research as any other state. Dr. R. D. Lewis, director of the agricultural experiment station, told farmers at the Iowa Park experiment station field day recently that Texas spends an average of $1.25 per farm each year for research. Oklahoma, he said, spends $2.59, and New Jersey, the top in this listing, $18.60.

He also said that when we spend money to turn the wheels of research, we should be sure the wheels are not just spinning.

We needn't look to the horizon for new worlds to conquer in agriculture, Dr. Lewis declared. We still have plenty to learn about such common Texas crops as wheat, oats, alfalfa, and cotton.

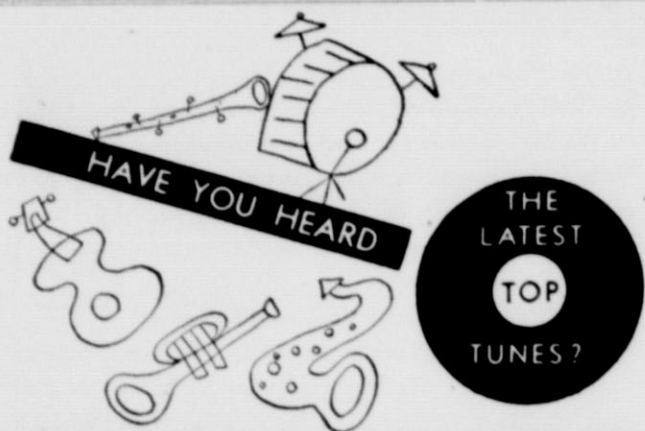

Paul Dunkle, superintendent of the Denton experiment station said, as he has said for years, that buffalo grass is still the best pasture for this part of Texas that he knows anything about. And he knows plenty about.

Even in mid-May, forest fires continue to burn daily in Texas. J. O. Burnside, Lubbock, chief of the division of forest protection, says fires in spring and summer do more damage than in winter. Fire fighters are still handicapped by lack of communications which were disrupted during a January storm.

Russian scientists are reportedly using radioactive elements to increase the yield of rubber plants and sugar beets.

The USDA has published a helpful booklet of maps of the best areas from Texas to Canada, with principal roads, markets, grain areas and approximate dates of harvest, for the benefit of itinerant combine operators and truckers following the harvest. Get them from the county agricultural agent.

The degree of acidity of the soil, and the kind of plants to be grown, determine whether or not the land needs lime. Soil acidity is expressed in terms of "pH." For most legumes, which have a "pH" of less than 6.5 need enough lime to bring the "pH" to that figure.
