TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Beauty has evaded my life with consistent prejudice that seems an obvious pattern. My sandals would have crushed more petals and I would have known the music of sweeter songs if my childhood had fallen in the modern era of flowered purses. Although service-able there was something grim about the white, bleached socks from which my mother made me underwear.

Fluttering through life, the woman was like a mother bird never building a new nest. She was beautiful in a pathetic way, like the web a spider had woven to amuse his mistress. After two marriages had exploded in her pretty face, desperation lighted tapers in the depths of her great brown eyes. Her voice was like the music of a violinist with a gun at his back. One day the tall and awkward cowboy tied his horse carelessly and later found the clumsy animal trampling the widow's violets, while shearing her Bermuda grass with long, stained teeth. His first impulse was to grasp the reins, mount and ride away, but the wind-burned rider hesitated, to apologize they were married before the snow started falling in the trails. Their happiness is like the picture of a tranquil sunset hanging serenely above the bar of a beer-stench world. Love is capable of exercising great economy.

Jealousy is the devil's symbol of love, with sufficient strength to pull the feathers from cupid's delicate wings.

Those who would break faith suffer most when their faith is broken. They know better how the glove of deceit should fit.

With chaste dignity the spent fields leave their wealth in orderly rows of shocks like dutiful servants who bring riches to their masters and retire until it is time to labor again. Autumn paints a brown and gold canvas, extravagant with purple hills and silver sky, and hangs it in the twilight room of day. Swinging low on swift pinions the blue hawk scans the shriveling stubble with sharp talons ready to pierce the scurrying rabbit's heart. There is a little cry, the fear rather than the pain of death, then flapping wings and fragile hide torn from a still living body. Cold eyes will look upon the feisty dawn and never see the pagentry of crimson heavens, nor the fine lace of sunbeams across the fields. Old and eternal winds will stir the red-stained leaves beside all that remains of the small carcass. All life belongs to the soil and must be returned.

Heat rose like an accursed flame from the grim and ancient streets of Monterey, a pungent and heavy vapor that climbed the shadowy stairway of mountains with reluctance. There was a symphony of sounds ebbing and flowing like the tides of a disturbed sea. Stood hawks, the clatter of plodding horses' feet, the scream of motor cars, a thousand voices and tired laughter. Near the corner a blind man's old fingers strummed a guitar. Couples were passing under the bright marquee lights and entering the small theatre. Shielded by the shadow of a tree the young girl watched the faces approaching from the street. Eagerness and fear had each left identity in her eyes. For an instant she seemed stunned as the slender Mexican youth and the girl walked hand-in-hand through the door. Her dark blonde hair shuddered for a moment as she placed her hands to her eyes and ran into the darkness. The night remained the same with its changeless voices, its haunting music, its laughter, except the faint sound from behind a thousand thick walls. It was the silent pain of the wretched at heart; a young girl sobbing on a tear-stained pillow.

Springs in New Building Boom

Five buildings and five residences are in various stages of construction at Roaring Springs in what is described as a "building boom" by Henry Teague, superintendent of Roaring Springs Schools.

Since the erection of two buildings for the Roaring Springs school system the five homes and five buildings have been started, Teague said. Teague reports that the foundation of a new building for the Flag Springs Baptist Church has been laid within the Roaring Springs city limits, and that the congregation of Mrs. Ben Dillard has laid the foundation for an Assembly of God Church building.

Finishing touches on a new municipal building, to house the new fire hall and the city secretary's office, will be wound up this week, according to Teague.

Also, a new addition to a hanger at Buzz Field, and the construction of a brick and concrete building are among the new structures. The brick building is being built by George Green between the old picture show building and the hotel and will house Carl Tardy's barber shop.

Those who are in the various stages of private residential construction are Ed Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Amel Long, Dale King, Rudolph Moore and Pearl Moore.

Taxes Are Paid Early This Year

The largest amount of tax money to be paid this early in the tax year, $113,000, has been placed on the record books of the tax assessor's office.

Credit for the early payment of the taxes was given to the county's three per cent discount rate for taxes paid by November 2. The county's taxpayers saved $3,000 by this benefit, according to H. H. Courtney, Sheriff and tax assessor and collector.

A little better than $53,000 remains to be paid, and there are two more "discount deadlines." A two percent reduction will be granted on taxes paid by December 2, and a one percent reduction will affect those taxes brought in between December 3 and January 1. Should Motley County taxpayers complete their tax payments by December 2, the second of the three "discount deadlines," they will save approximately $1,060.

Lions Hear Mail Order Sermon

Selecting his text from a mail order catalog, guest speaker Rev. Raymond Van Zant, pastor of the Spur Methodist church, preached a "sermon" for the benefit of the Matador Lions Club at the regular luncheon held in the Methodist church basement, Tuesday.

With remarkable acting ability, the versatile pastor imitated a "back-wood Negro preacher in his sermon preached from an improvised pulpit. Taking an ordinary mail-order catalog from his brief case, he selected "Old Mother Hubbard" as his text, colored it with "four-bit" words and made a highly hilarious address. Moved with the emotion of his own words, Rev. Van Zant removed a large handkerchief from his coat pocket and a pair of dice rattled to the floor.

The enjoyable meal was prepared by Lion Chef Henry Pipkin assisted by "Bud" Lowe. Visitors included J. Douglas Smith, secretary of the Amarillo Lions Club, Sam Weatherall of Paducah and E. A. Day of Matador. Loyd Latimer was welcomed into the club as a new member.

The guest speaker was introduced by Lion G. E. Hamilton, program sponsor.

Announcement was made of the Union Thanksgiving church services to be held at the Baptist church next Thursday at 10:30. Vice-president R. E. Campbell served as Boss. Lion in the absence of president Vernon Doss, who is ill at his home in south Matador.

Molley To Observe Lilac Day Friday

Lilac Day, the day set aside for residents of Motley County to commemorate their war dead by planting lilac shrubs, is tomorrow (Friday).

The lilac shrub was chosen as Motley County's official flower earlier in the year by the women of the county's Home Demonstration Club, which is made up of members of all Home Demonstration Clubs of the county.

The county-wide home demonstration club and Matador's Lions Club decided to encourage the planting of the shrubs after the State Highway Department suggested a "beautification" program for all counties of the state.

Thus, tomorrow has been named as the day for Motley's citizens to set out the shrubs in their yards and along the highway, both in memory of Motley's war dead and as a step in beautifying the county.

Those seeking lilac shrub cuttings may obtain them from Henry Pipkin of Matador. Those having lilac shrubs and cuttings they wish to donate to the program may contact County Agent Rufus Emmons or Mrs. H. H. Courtney, a committee member of the Home Demonstration Club.

Work On School Lunchroom Begun

Construction work was begun this week at Matador High School to double the size of the school's lunchroom and to provide a motion picture projection room for use of visual education films, according to Bert Ezzell, superintendent.

A wall of the present lunchroom, which now seats 230 students, is being taken down and the new lunchroom will be twice the size of the old, Ezzell said.

The old lunchroom was unable to hold all of the student body and four grades had to eat their noon meals in classrooms. Meanwhile, typewriters were being shifted from a first floor room to an upstairs floor. The old typing room will be used for the new motion picture equipment, according to Ezzell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Turner of Lubbock were visiting friends here last week.

County Has Quota Of $16,000 For Saving Bond Drive

Motley county has a quota of $16,500 on a "no campaign" saving bond drive which started November 11 and will continue until December 7th (Pearl Harbor Day). Announcement was made at the regular meeting of the Matador Lions Club, Tuesday by Lion Elmer Stearns, county finance chairman of the former War Loan drives, which attained all goals set during the war. The state quota on the unofficial drive is $35,000,000. Mr. Stearns said that the First State Bank had already sold approximately $4,500 in saving bonds which leaves a balance of $11,000 to meet the county quota by December 7th.

Mr. Stearns said that purchases of saving bonds had been continuous since the termination of the war and that the bank had sold $32,806 worth of "E" bonds during the first eight months of 1946.

Bonds may be purchased at the post office and at the bank. The drive to induce purchasers to buy bonds is part of a nationwide plan to stem threats of inflation.

Jury Exonerates Farmer Of Slaying Matador Resident

A jury of the 110th district court of Floydada Friday acquitted Bill Queen, Floydada farmer, who was on trial in connection with the September 24 slaying of C. O. Patton, 31, Queen's son-in-law and a resident of Matador for six months.

The jury deliberated three hours and 15 minutes after hearing two days' argument. Patton was shot on the Queen farm, five and one-half miles east of Floydada, where he allegedly had gone to visit his estranged wife.

Patton came to Matador from Goose Creek and lived with his brother and mother on the old Scott Bolton farm one mile east of Matador.

Pitts said that his automobile was in low gear at the time of impact.

Damage to Jameson's automobile was chiefly in the front portion of the car, and the left side of Pitts' automobile was caved in.

Fate Sends Cowboy to Clinic Again

Fate sent J. Q. Edwards, Matador cowboy, back to Stanley Clinic Monday morning with a broken leg—the same ailment which put him in the clinic four months ago.

Monday's breakage occurred when Edwards slipped and fell in the hall of the Courthouse just in front of Judge W. R. Cammack's office. His leg was broken in the same place, between the knee and ankle.

Edwards' first round with his broken leg occurred four months ago when a horse dragged him a considerable distance in a pasture of the Matador Ranch when his leg became entangled in a lariat.

This time, Edwards will have to spend his time in the clinic by himself. On the first trip his wife, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Warren, was also in the clinic—as was his newly born daughter.

MHS Class Slates Second Street Sale

A net of $36 was taken in by the seniors of Matador High School last Saturday in their rummage sale and the class is planning a similar sale this Saturday, according to Bert Ezzell, superintendent.

The money is being used to pay for the new motion picture and public address equipment which the school recently purchased.

W. S. C. S. CLOSES STUDY ON INDIA; HEARS DELEGATE

An interesting meeting was enjoyed by the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service, Tuesday, November 12, when a study on "India at the Threshold" was brought to a close by Mrs. H. H. Schweitzer, study leader, and a report was given by Mrs. Charles Henry, colored delegate to the First Annual Amarillo Leadership School for the colored people.

The School for the colored people was sponsored by the W. S. C. S. of the Northwest Texas Conference, and Mrs. Henry gave a splendid report of the six days meeting held at Carter M. E. Church and Fred Douglas School, from July 28 to August 2, in Amarillo. She reported classes of Christian Fellowship, recreation, study, information and inspiration.

She was sent to Amarillo by the local Society of Matador, and to show her appreciation, she presented the Society a piece of her handiwork, an attractive red pin cushion in the form of a tomato. She also read the following paper:

"A word from Christian Society, Colored: I am calling. Attention! To every person of my race.

"There has been very little action to shut out the evils and indecency that have invaded our colored sections, that has bored the very heart of society, especially Christian society. There should be a trend to give profound interest to recognize the high principal of intelligence. Evils and indecency help to degrade mankind. Some of these evils are shameful to civilization. In an effort to defeat evils and indecency we must stand one hundred per cent resisters or fighters with an adopted slogan: "For Right Against Wrong." We shall win the victory when we, as a people protest in this manner. And when or if we are interviewed we shall appear fit for an intelligent Christian Society.

The W. S. C. S. of the Matador Methodist Church promised their support for the organization of a Sunday School or Mission class for the colored section of town under the direction of Mrs. Henry.

Members present at Tuesday's meeting were: Mesdames A. J. Daffern, G. E. Hamilton, Homer Sheats, T. E. Williams, C. D. Pipkin, J. R. Whitworth, G. E. Turrentine, W. Y. Higgins, and R. P. Moore.

In a business session conducted by Mrs. J. L. Woodruff, W. M. U. president, plans were discussed for the Lottie Moon Mission program to be given in an all-day meeting at the church Monday, December 2, and also for the W. M. U. Christmas party which will be held on Tuesday night, December 10.

A box of used clothing is also being collected to be sent to the Mexican Orphans home, and all ladies having anything to contribute are requested to bring same to the church not later than Sunday, that the box might be packed Monday.

How much energy does it take to move your foot a couple of inches and press that little button that dims the lights of your car? Not much—and that's why the Texas Safety Association wonders why there are so many drivers who fail to make that small effort for courtesy and safety on the highways. Always use the lower beam when meeting a car.

Cotton Hearings:
The House Agricultural Subcommittee, consisting of Congressman Steve Pace of Georgia, Tom Abernathy of Mississippi, George Grant of Alabama and Bob Page of Waco, Texas, accompanied by the Texas PMA State Director and other Texas PMA officials, held hearings in the primary cotton producing section of the State during the past two weeks to get first hand information on the thinking of cotton producers and their desires relative to future cotton programs.

Hearings were held at Vernon, Lubbock and Cameron, and substantial numbers of farmers were contacted at various points enroute from Houston to Lubbock and return. E. S. Jones represented Motley County at this hearing at Lubbock.
Subjects discussed were: Cotton Acreage Control; Price Support; Parity Payments; Soil Conservation Practices; One-Variety Cotton Program; Quota Allotments; Cotton Carry-Over; Bale Sampling; Allotments to States; Referendum and Research; Synthetic Fabrics.

It was the unanimous opinion of growers that cotton acreage control should be put into effect when needed, and all were in favor of continuance of Price Support.
There was some difference in opinion as to loans ranging from 92 1/2% to 110% of parity, and it was unanimous that in arriving at parity price, labor costs should be included.
Witnesses believed in the continuation and expansion of soil conservation practices on a voluntary basis. Increase in expansion of the one-variety cotton program seemed to be acceptable, and a more flexible quota to Church Sunday morning!
Nell Webb enjoyed the show at Paducah Sunday! Wonder why?
Well, it's time I was going—see you kids next week!

Life After 40 Calls For Regular Exams, Dr. G. W. Cox Says

Austin—From a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.
Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.
It is also a fact that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death.

Good advice for persons over forty is that they have regular physical examinations and obtain prompt medical attention for any and all illness.

Why Bert Won First Prize

Folks weren't surprised when Bert Childers won first prize for his corn at the county fair. Yet the judges admit it wasn't just because Bert had the finest ears of corn. He knew how to display them: neatly arranged, with the husks cleanly trimmed, and the booth white and spotless.
"Trimming" sure make a difference no matter what you're offering—as Andy Botkin, keeper of the Garden Tavern, well knows. Andy doesn't just sell good beer. He sells it in a place that's clean and attractive... in nice surroundings that belong with the enjoyment of a wholesome beverage of moderation.
And Andy, of course, is a whole-hearted supporter of "Self Regulation." That's the system by which the Brewers and tavern keepers themselves make sure that taverns selling beer are clean and orderly.
From where I sit, people like Andy also rate a "First prize." Not just for the quality of the product—but for the "trimmings" too.

Duncan is out of the dog-house!

Mrs. DUNCAN has just finished her Fall housecleaning, and her home is welcome in his own home again.

Curtains, crisply ironed, hang at the windows. Rugs are bright and clean. Blankets, sweetened by sun and suds, loll invitingly on the beds. Everything's fresh and shining. Mrs. Duncan is tired, but happy. Her dog is happier. The dog is happiest of all.

Once housecleaning was the housewife's drudgery. Now, with modern electric gadgets, a semi-annual cyclone is finished in half the time with half the effort.

And not only housecleaning—but all household chores are easier, simpler, when electricity lends a willing hand. The versatile servant cooks, cleans, washes and irons, brightens the home, guards health, scoops entertainment from the very air—and all for the cost of a bar of soap daily.

This greatest of household bargains comes to you through the practical experience of your friends and neighbors in this company, under sound business management.

IS YOUR FAMILY IN THE NEWS

Perhaps you wonder why your family and friends are not in the news. It is not because the Tribune selects some families and ignores the others as news sources. It is because the newspaper has no "magic method" of obtaining news. Certain established sources supply items of interest that make a weekly newspaper. The greater the number of sources, the greater the newspaper's reader interest.

The Tribune welcomes news about your family, relatives, and friends. It is eager to publish as much local news as possible, but if you fail to report the items, they will fail to appear in the paper.

Make it a habit to call the Tribune when you have visitors, when members of your family are away, or other items regarding your neighbors and friends which would be interesting to readers. Do not wait until Tuesday to report a Sunday visit of relatives from out of town. News from sources outside of the regular Tribune staff must be in the office by Monday night. Much work is required to set copy into type, print, fold and address a newspaper. Make it a habit to call the Tribune regularly. Telephone 123 daytime and 156 at night.

VETERANS OFFICE AT CHILDRESS TO SERVE MOTLEY CO.

A veterans administration contact office will open in Childress November 16th. Robert W. Sisson, Manager, West Texas Veterans Administration regional office at Lubbock, announced today.

The office will be located in the basement of the Childress County Court House.

Bresnahan, a veteran of World War II, served with the 78th Infantry in the European Theatre. Prior to his present appointment he was Inspector with the Texas Liquor Control Board at Lubbock, the position he held before entering the service. He has spent the last three months in training in the regional office and in contact service in the Lubbock VA contact office.

Nance is also a veteran of World War II, having spent 40 months in the Army. Before entering the service he was principal of Fair Park School in Abilene. Since his present appointment, he has received training in the regional office.

FIXING UP the HOME
By Diane Greiner

Hot Water is an Easy Luxury

ONE feature that the modern homemaker will certainly not ignore in planning a new home or remodeling an older one is abundant hot water. The value of hot water in protecting health, furthering comfort, and shortening hours of household work is well understood by home economists. The easy and obvious means of supplying the home with abundant hot water is an automatic gas water heater which will deliver water at desired temperatures and in desired quantities at the turn of a faucet. Modern methods of fuel distribution make this indispensable household tool available all over the country. In the cities, utility gas provides the perfect fuel for water heating because of its cleanliness, speed, and economy both in cost and in space required for the heating unit. In the suburban or country or farm home, liquefied petroleum gas—"bottled" or "tank" gas—give the same service and are supplied by dealers whose delivery systems blanket the nation, leaving no home more than one mile from a scheduled route.

It should always be remembered in selecting a heater, that need for hot water varies with the seasons, the number in the family, and other factors. A heater with capacity exceeding the greatest expected demand is a wise choice. It will insure uninterrupted satisfaction.

and had done contact service in the Abilene VA contact office.

Gerald W. Collingsworth, VA contact officer, in charge of all contact service in the 79 county West Texas VA region said, "The contact office is the front door for the Veterans administration. Here the veteran, or his dependent, may go for the correct answers as to his rights and benefits provided him by laws administered by the VA."

FARMERS' HOME ADMINISTRATION MERGES AGENCIES

Credit facilities and services formerly provided by the Farm Security Administration and the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of Farm Credit Administration are available to eligible farmers thru the Motley County office of the Farmers' Home Administration, Lester J. Cappelman, Texas State Director of FHA announced today.

Mr. Cappelman also announced the designation of Sam Weatherall, County Supervisor of the Farm Security Administration, as interim-supervisor-in-charge of the Motley County FHA office, which is located in Matador.

The Farmers' Home Administration, created by the 79th Congress, took over functions of FSA and ECFL effective Nov. 1. The new agency will make production and subsistence loans as well as loans for farm purchase. Facilities are available only to farmers who are unable to get the loans they need at interest rates not exceeding five percent from banks, cooperative lending agencies or other responsible sources in their communities.

The farm purchase loans made by the new agency are similar to those formerly made by the Farm Security Administration. Loans are made for 100 percent of the purchase price of family-type farms, plus needed improvements. Repayment is scheduled over a period of 40 years, and interest rate is 3 1/2 percent.

Operation credit extended by the Farmers Home Administration under its production and subsistence loan program includes both annual loans and adjustment-type loans at five percent interest.

The adjustment-type credit is similar to the "rehabilitation" loans made by the Farm Security Administration, and is based on farm and home operating plans worked out by the borrower with the aid of FHA supervisors. It is accompanied by on-the-farm management assistance by FHA personnel. Loans may be repaid over a maximum period of five years.

The annual loans made by FHA are similar to the "feed and seed" loans made by the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration. Farm and home plans are not required as a basis for these loans, but they must be repaid within 12 months.

Production and subsistence loans to any one borrower may not exceed $3,500 in any one year. Total indebtedness of any one borrower may not exceed $5,000.

Veterans will be given preference in all phases of the Farmers' Home Administration program.

DR. NEEL IN L. A.
 Dr. C. M. Neel, 1620 Broadway, Lubbock, Texas, will be in Los Angeles for the next few weeks taking special training in contact lenses with the Feinbloom Contact Lens Clinic.

There are 6291 World War II veterans enrolled in colleges, universities and vocational schools in Tarrant County, according to a survey made by Melton T. Klein, acting senior training officer for the Veterans Administration office in Ft. Worth.

AT THE SIGN OF THE FLYING RED HORSE

Tilling with a Hundred Teams of Steel

MORE power on the farm means more food... more jobs.

If a farmer had three teams of horses twenty-five years ago he was well equipped. Now, with over two million tractors and thousands of other power producers, most farmers command the equivalent of... a HUNDRED TEAMS.

Wise use of their power, which can be packed into a few tons of steel, is enabling U.S. farmers to keep abreast of unprecedented food requirements. It is one of the secrets of national progress.

Steel horsepower does more than produce bigger crops with less labor. It has released, for production of human food, millions of acres once needed to feed horses and mules, and has created thousands of new jobs for town and city people who process and sell the increased harvests.

The benefits of farming with steel are the result of teamwork between farmers and industry. The farmer knows what he needs; industry knows how to supply it at a price he can afford. This teamwork must continue if America is to remain a land of abundance.

Farmers need still more power. The country needs still more food. Uninterrupted industrial production will permit industry to catch up with the pent-up need for more farm power.

Jungle Rot Taking Former U. S. Bases

Hard-won with American blood during war, once-great U. S. bases in the Pacific have decayed until only skeletons remain.

That was the impression of Donald J. Gonzales, former U. S. Air Force major, during a three-week, 25,000 mile, air-sea-land trip in the Pacific and China.

In the case of the less strategic islands, this decay is of little immediate consequence, because the Army and Navy realize they will not be able in peace time to keep up a Pacific wide system of bases at wartime strength. But they would, on a long range basis, like to maintain at least limited military installations at several places.

Future development of some of the bases, however, depends on control of the Japanese mandated islands. Until the United Nations decides the question of trusteeship, there is no point in building permanent military bases on these war-won islands. President Truman said recently that this country would seek exclusive trustee ship of the Japanese mandates under the United Nations. He ruled against outright U. S. annexation as proposed by some

Army and Navy leaders. Bases visited by Gonzales during the tour were Kwajalein, Majuro, Guam (the only permanent U. S. possession) Saipan, Okinawa, Peleliu, Truk and other smaller islands under temporary U. S. control. Quick stops also were made at Tsingtao, China, headquarters of the Seventh fleet, and Shanghai.

The scene is the same at every base. Huge stores of unused war equipment are rotting or rusting, unable to withstand the corrosive effect of the tropical climate.

Coral-ringed islands, their beaches in many cases still littered with destroyed invasion material, are manned by only a handful of men with barely enough facilities for their own support.

Because of demobilization and reduced funds, air and sea communications have slowed to a trickle. At some points, such as the former Japanese bastion of Truk, a plane comes in only once a week. Ship arrivals are even less frequent.

The most serious problem in the Pacific today is the deterioration of temporary wartime equipment still in use. Most of it was expected to have a life of two years. It has been in service longer than that in most areas.

Trucks, other mechanized equipment, radio facilities, power and sanitation facilities and metal quonset huts are no match for the salt air, heavy tropical rains and sun. Typhoons have wrecked some buildings at Guam, Saipan, Tinian and other islands.

Rusted fuel storage facilities are leaking hard-to-get gasoline and oil. Pipelines have cracked. Roads and runways have become pitted, sunken and rough. Sea water instead of gasoline was pumped into some planes at Majuro because of faulty fuel lines.

The only way to combat the tropical elements is to replace these installations with permanent construction. Guam, the new spearhead of U. S. Pacific military bases, is the only base where permanent construction is underway. Dredging is being done there on Apra harbor, and some foundations are being laid for permanent buildings.

The morale problem at understaffed bases is serious. Unusual demands made on regular personnel are aggravated by the climate.

About 9,000 dependents have arrived, but their living conditions are poor compared to those in the United States. Frequent complaints are heard about the poor grade of movies. There is little time or desire to engage in athletic activities on a large scale.

Most of the men still stationed in the Pacific have chosen the Navy as a career. But most of them are living only for the day when they get a change of duty. —Lubbock Evening Journal.

TEACHERS INVITE GOVERNOR JESTER TO DALLAS MEET

Dallas—Gov-Elect Beauford H. Jester has been invited to attend the annual meeting of the Texas Teachers Welfare Association, Inc., in Dallas on Sat. December 14, to discuss his program for increasing the pay of Texas Teachers. The Gov-Elect is pledged to raise the pay of teachers.

The recently chartered Texas Teachers Welfare Association, a militant organization of teachers pledged to work for the general improvement of the teaching profession, is now conducting statewide campaign to inform the public of the grave shortage of teachers in Texas schools and to bring about an increase of pay which they declare is necessary to halt the wholesale exodus of teachers from the schoolrooms of the State.

Dr. Joe P. Harris, Dallas County School Superintendent, Secretary of the Association, and other members of the Executive Committee are arranging the program for the Dallas meeting, at which a legislative program will be discussed. Amendment of the Rural Aid Law lifting the ceilings which this law imposes on teachers in Rural Aid Schools is first on the program now being sponsored by the Teachers Welfare Association. A minimum of $2,400 a year for beginners, instead of the $1,215 maximum for beginners now allowed under the Rural Aid Law, is proposed by

By Diane Greeter

KEEP KITTY HAPPY

THE companionship of a cat or kitten in the home is sometimes marred by the animal's destructive habits. Cats have a natural urge to keep their claws very sharp and a fine oriental rug or a good heavy piece of upholstery material makes a very fine sharpening surface. It is a little hard, however, on the furniture.

Give kitty a good sharpening post and a training course and your troubles are over. You can make one of these "clawing posts" very easily with a piece of 4" by 4" lumber about 18" long, a piece of old carpet large enough to cover the post and a handful of catnip. You will also need, as a base, a piece of one inch board large enough for kitty to sit on when clawing.

Nail the post to the center of the base, tack the carpet neatly on the post with the catnip inside the carpet and the job is done. Then, every time kitty puts a paw threateningly toward a chair or rug, scold him and take him immediately to his new toy. If he is watched carefully for about a week and punished each time he errs, he will soon give up his destructive habits.

If you have little room for a post with this large base, put a hook into the top and hang it in a corner of the kitchen.

Tests Disclose Frozen Pork Keeps Better Sans Salt

Tests conducted at the Quartermaster Food and Container Institute for the Armed Forces at Chicago over a period of nine months have disclosed that fresh frozen pork sausage prepared without salt keeps better than the same product prepared with salt.

The tests were to determine a satisfactory method of preparing sausage for freezing to provide maximum stability, appearance, and palatability. It had been found that fresh frozen pork sausage developed rancidity after relatively short periods of storage at temperatures of 0 and 15 degrees F.

Three lots of sausage from the same initial stock were identically prepared except for seasoning ingredients. One lot was seasoned with sage, pepper, sugar, and salt. Another contained sage, pepper, and sugar only, and the third contained no seasoning. Samples were prepared from all lots, frozen at zero degrees, placed in storage at that temperature, and every 30 days portions were removed from each lot and submitted to chemical as well as taste tests.

At the end of three months it was noted that the sausage which contained salt had deteriorated in appearance, flavor and odor. Taste tests indicated similar deterioration, and chemical examinations confirmed these indications.

After each succeeding month of storage and subsequent examinations, the samples containing salt continued to deteriorate in all respects and became so gray in color that it was necessary to taste test the three types under red lights to eliminate the ease of detecting the salt-seasoned sample from the two types prepared without salt.

The tests indicated that seasonings other than salt had but little effect on the development of rancidity in the sausage during freezing, storage, and cooking. On the contrary, the type to which sugar, sage and pepper had been added were slightly more acceptable and had lower deterioration values than the type to which no seasoning had been added.

As the little lightening-bug said as he backed into the electric fan, "De-lighted, no end."

Gov. Stevenson Proclaims Month For Sale Of Seals

AUSTIN — Governor Coke Stevenson recently issued a proclamation officially designating the period from Nov. 25 to Dec. 25, as "Christmas Seal Month" and urged all Texans to support the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations by "buying and using Christmas Seals during this month."

The annual Christmas Seal Sale will open Monday and continue until Christmas.

In issuing the proclamation, Governor Stevenson pointed out that tuberculosis is the greatest disease cause of death among Texans between 15 and 35 years of age, and that because of its communicable nature, tuberculosis is our greatest public health problem.

The proclamation follows: WHEREAS, tuberculosis is a leading cause of death in our State and takes the lives of more young people, in the productive years from 15 to 35, than any other disease, and

WHEREAS, tuberculosis is spread from person to person and therefore must be recognized as a major public health problem, and

WHEREAS, a well-planned program for the control of tuberculosis is being conducted in Texas by the Texas Tuberculosis Association, and its affiliated county associations, and

WHEREAS, the work of these associations is supported by the sale of Christmas Seals,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Coke Stevenson, Governor of Texas, do officially designate the period from November 25 to December 25 as Christmas Seal Month and do urge the people of Texas to be generous in their support of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations by buying and using Christmas Seals during this month.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of State to be affixed hereto at Austin, this the nineteenth day of November, A. D. 1946.

Signed: COKE R. STEVENSON Governor of Texas

Matadors Plunge Back Into Victory Column; Smother Lockney By 40-6 Count

were a bit too keyed up to hit pay dirt. But following the second half kickoff the Matadors became serious and capitalized on breaks, good ball playing and deceptive strategy.

Two outstanding runs were made by the Matadors, one a 55-yard dash by Bonner Nelson to Lockney's five, and the other a 49-yard touchdown trek by Billy Joe Stephens.

Probably the most exciting play of the contest was a fourth quarter pass from Edmondson which Right End Wayne Timmons juggled for a moment and finally pushed toward Bonner Nelson who went over for a score from Lockney's 30.

Center R. C. Giesecke set the Matadors up for another tally when he nabbed a Lockney pass in Longhorn territory and set the ball down six yards from the double stripe.

Lockney scored their only tally in the second quarter, and Matador hung up two touchdowns in the third and fourth in the final quarter.

The victory over Lockney is the third of six 4-A League contests which the Matadors have chalked up, their last loss being the 40-0 defeat by Floydada on November 8. Thus, the Matadors are currently in the .500 column and have won three out of their five home games.

Edmondson took the first ball snap and wound up on the three, and on the next play crashed thru center for Matador's second tally. Giesecke juggled the ball on his attempted drop kick but finally passed to Nelson who scooted over pay dirt for the extra point. The Matadors were then on the long end of a 13-6 score.

Stephens' next kick off bounded over Guthrie's head and Guthrie was smothered on his own 15. Lockney picked up two first downs and worked up to their own 40 before the third quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter
Lockney was held to their 40 yard line on the following two downs and their fourth-down kick bounced out on Matador's 41.

Herbert Garth took the first snap from center and handed to Stephens, but the play netted no yardage. Edmondson took the next snap and broke loose for a neat 39 yard gallop to Lockney's 20.

Edmondson then handed to Nelson, whose 20-yard scam was good for Matador's third touchdown. Giesecke sent the ball between the uprights to boost the score 20-6 in Matador's favor.

Logan took Stephen's next kickoff on his 30 but was chased back to his 20 when Giesecke

Edmondson then took the ball, handed it to Stephens, and the deception was good for Matador's first score. Giesecke's attempted field goal was no good, and the score stood 6-6.

Stephens sent the following kickoff to Guthrie, who worked down to his 30 before being nailed. Robert Logan then took the ball and was nabbed back on his 28 by Albert Marshall, Bob Rushing and Norman Spray. Logan then passed to Messer and the play was good to Lockney's 39, but a 15-yard penalty set the Longhorns back on their 13 and the down remained the same.

Logan again attempted another third-down pass, but Center R. C. Giesecke intercepted the flying pigskin and was halted six yards from pay dirt.

Edmondson took the first ball snap and wound up on the three, and on the next play crashed thru center for Matador's second tally. Giesecke juggled the ball on his attempted drop kick but finally passed to Nelson who scooted over pay dirt for the extra point. The Matadors were then on the long end of a 13-6 score.

Stephens' next kick off bounded over Guthrie's head and Guthrie was smothered on his own 15. Lockney picked up two first downs and worked up to their own 40 before the third quarter ended.

Logan took Stephen's next kickoff on his 30 but was chased back to his 20 when Giesecke and Stephens crashed thru the Lockney defense.

Lockney buckled down to another drive and picked up two first downs but lost ball possession on Matador's 39.

Edmondson took the first pass from center at this point and up to the 41, and Nelson got away for 10 yards on the next down and placed the ball on Lockney's 49.

Stephens took the ball from Edmondson on the next play and made a neat 49-yard sprint which was good for another tally. The attempted field goal was no good, so the score remained 26-6.

Stephens' next kickoff went to Guthrie on Lockney's 20. Guthrie lateralized to Messer and the strategy was good to Lockney's 30.

An incompleting pass ate up Lockney's first down, but the second-down pass from Logan to Messer put the ball on Lockney's 29. Messer fumbled the ball on the third down and was smothered on his 20. The fourth-down punt went out of bounds on Lockney's 30 yard stripe.

Edmondson passed to Wayne Timmons on the first down from Lockney's 30 and the play developed into one of the most thrilling of the game. Timmons juggled the ball amongst several Lockney players and never quite got control of it, but he gave it one final tap toward Nelson. Nelson snatched the pigskin and was off for another tally. Stephens ran over for the extra point and the score was then 33-6.

Logan took Stephens' next kickoff and worked his way up to Lockney's 40 before being nailed by James Price. However a 15-yard penalty against Lockney set them back on their 25.

Logan took the first ball snap and was stopped on his 30 by Giesecke and Stephens. Messer took the second down but was jarred loose from the ball and James White recovered for Matador on Lockney's 30.

Edmondson handed to Stephens on the first snap from center, but the play was good for a two yard loss. Edmondson handed to Nelson on the second

America Reaps Its Biggest Harvest

America's biggest farm harvest in history virtually was in the bins this week.

The agriculture Department said ideal harvest weather in October improved both the quality of most crops and boosted the production index three points above the former 1942 high.

Cotton and cottonseed were the only notable exceptions. The department said that a prospective crop of 3,382,672,000 bushels of corn, the largest on the books, means an all-time yield of more than 165,000,000 tons of food and feed grains.

Coupled with history's largest, fruit crop and record or near-record crops of many other farm products, this assures Americans their most plentiful food supplies on record.

It also may spur the end of the Government's remaining restrictions on grain. These curtail distillers' grain and limit the production of flour for domestic use to 85 per cent of last year.

The prospective corn yield tops the former record of 3,203,000,000 bushels in 1942 by about 177,000,000 bushels.

down and Nelson scrambled around left end for a touch down. Stephens ran the ball over for the extra point and the score was boosted to 40-6.

The game ended two plays after the following kickoff.

In addition to corn, prospects also improve in October for soybeans, potatoes, tobacco, apples, pears, grapes and sugar beets. Cotton was the only crop to slump. —Childress Index

SPUR LAUNDRY BURNS; MATADOR BUNDLE IS LOSS

A fire presumably caused by a short circuit destroyed approximately $6,000 worth of clothing at the Spur Laundry at Spur Wednesday night, according to reports of Al Marcey, driver on the Matador run for the firm.

Most of the Matador laundry bundle was destroyed, and the clothing in the bundle which was saved was scorched, according to W. W. Clements, whose barber shop is an agency of the laundry.

Clements said that Marcey told him that the laundry had a $500 insurance policy covering loss, but that adjustments with Matador residents would be made as soon as possible.

Homer T. Jinkins, a barber in the City Barber Shop, which also is an agency for the Spur firm, said that Marcey advised him that the laundry would continue to take clothes from Matador but would send them to the Palace Laundry in Lubbock.

Jinkins said that the Spur delivery truck usually took a truck load of clothing from Matador.

Clements said that he was told that the laundry began immediate repair work and would be ready to resume operation in 10 days.

US Serviceman Is Found In Jungle

An American serviceman who managed to survive for two years in the New Guinea jungles—equipped only with a razor and a Bible—was found near collapse in a clump of reeds several days ago.

Hospital attendants said the American had been identified tentatively as Cpl. J. B. Stubblefield, Hillsboro, Tenn. They said his condition was surprisingly good, but that he was suffering from malaria. He has been unable to give a coherent account of his wanderings.

The tentative identification was made through a name written on the fly leaf of the Bible. Mrs. J. B. Stubblefield, Hillsboro, Tenn., was listed as his next of kin.

Officials said the American could remember only that he entered the jungle in 1944. They said he was dressed in jungle greens and Australian Air force boots.

Missouri Election To Be Investigated

The House campaign investigating committee reported Tuesday evidence of "irregularities" in the Democratic primary in the Fifth Missouri District. Enos A. Axtell, who was endorsed by President Truman, defeated Representative Roger C. Slaughter in the voting.

In a formal statement, the committee said it has turned its files and evidence over to the attorney general for consideration.

The evidence received, the committee said, indicates irregularities including "dishonest counting of the ballots, impersonation of voters by known individuals, illegal voting and illegal influencing of voters by payment of money, coercion and misrepresentation." —Fl. Worth Star-Telegram.

Auto Theft Charge Filed At Floyada

A charge of automobile theft was filed in justice court of O. B. Olson Wednesday morning naming Lewis Rodgers of Venus in connection with theft of a 1946 Chevrolet from W. B. Jones of Floyada, according to District Attorney Richard F. Stovall.

Rodgers was held at Albuquerque, N. M., after his arrest Monday by sheriff's officers who caught him after a 26-mile chase which reached speeds of 100 miles per hour at times.

Sheriff's deputies at Albuquerque said they found several bullet holes in the rear of the car Rodgers was driving, and that Rodgers told them he had twice out-ran Texas law enforcement officers while fleeing.

WATER DAMS CONSERVE SOIL

It has been proved that farm and ranch earthen dams will aid in controlling water and help prevent erosion in drainage areas and are also worth while projects for watering places for livestock in this low rainfall area.

An approved practice of the 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program, the practice is available to any Motley County farmer or rancher. Dams conserve water and prevent excessive soil erosion caused by water runoff. In addition, widespread use of dams will help solve our flood control problems.

Conservation of water is important in providing for livestock on range and pastures. To date 46 earthen dams have been built under this year's Agricultural Conservation Program with an aggregate total of more than 150,000 cubic yards of dirt moved. This could be considered good participation in this one practice for this year. However, it is not nearly all that should have been done or needs to be done. More water facilities insure widespread grazing and cuts overgrazing around existing water. This is a valuable conservation gain. Pasture and ranges too heavily grazed lose their protective cover and become erosion hazards.

The expense of this necessary conservation practice is borne both by the farmers and the government. The payment rate on this practice by the government is between 55% and 67% of the total cost.

This activity can be successfully carried out during the fall months. Farmers who are interested in developing reservoirs on their farms under the 1946 program should contact the ACA office in Matador as at the ten designated spot markets on Tuesday was 31.49 cents per pound.

Average Price Of Cotton Closes Low

Average price of spot cotton, middling, fifteen-sixteenths inch

Total stock of certificated cotton at all points on Tuesday was 28,053 bales.

Cotton market prices were lower during the greater part of the trading session. The unfavorable turn in the soft coal strike as indicated by the refusal of 38,000 miners to go to work, and the uneasiness in stock market increased the offerings. Prices declined 35 to 71 points, but on the break there was price fixing and profit taking by recent sellers, and the market closed 8 to 29 points net lower.

The open interest has been decreasing, but still totals around 220,000 bales against 48,000 a

MEET Mr. A-C

WHO IS HE?

As a business succeeds and grows, it requires more complex system of management and, often, more widespread ownership. Allis-Chalmers has grown and progressed for 99 years. Just who is Mr. A-C? Because the answer to a question like that is complex, it is easy for people to pick up mistaken impressions. For the sake of the record, let's take Mr. A-C apart and see who he really is.

WHO IS CAPITAL?

Capital doesn't wear a silk hat at Allis-Chalmers. "Capital" consists of 23,100 stockholders who own an average of less than 110 shares each. Mr. Capital might be a grocer, a farmer, a widow, a school teacher, or YOU. He might be a company employee in the office or shop or an officer of the company.

No one individual or family owns more than 1/2 of 1 percent of the total stock of Allis-Chalmers.

This is an example of democratic ownership distinctive in the history of large corporations.

WHO IS MANAGEMENT?

Management is the guiding hand (or head) hired by the owners to make an organization tick — and click!

Who is Mr. Management at Allis-Chalmers? Not just the officers and division heads of the company. Management is the block manager in the territory, the foreman in the shop. Management is every employee from errand boy to president who contributes by word and deed to the progress of the company.

Mr. Management doesn't wear a high wing collar at Allis-Chalmers. Neither does he have any monopoly on his job.

WHO IS LABOR?

The man who works in the shop is spoken of in the newspaper as "labor."

Actually he may be a part of Management by reason of some suggestion he has made to improve a process or a product.

Actually he may be a part of Capital through ownership of company stock.

The fact that he works with his hands makes him no less a part of Allis-Chalmers than the man or woman who works at a desk. The terms "Capital," "Management," and "Labor" are indefinite and overlapping. Many a man who works in the shop is actually a part of all three groups.

Introducing Mr. A-C

Who then is Mr. A-C? He is a combination of 23,100 stockholders, 25,000 employees, and more than 10,000 suppliers.

He symbolizes a company in which no individual or family owns more than 1/2 of 1 percent of total stock.

This is a company which contributes something to better living in nearly every home in America — in supplying machines to grow and process food, generate electricity, pump water, build roads, produce building materials.

Matadors Plunge Back Into Victory Column; Smother Lockney By 40-6 Count

Lockney Is In Lead During First Half

Brady Thomas' Matadors plunged back into the victory column last Friday night on the field and Coach Doyle's Longhorns, Lockney's five, and the other a 49-yard touchdown trek by Billy Joe Stephens.

were a bit too keyed up to hit pay dirt. But following the second half kickoff the Matadors became serious and capitalized on breaks, good ball playing and deceptive strategy. Two outstanding runs were made by the Matadors, one a 55-yard dash by Bonner Nelson to Lockney's five, and the other a 49-yard touchdown trek by Billy Joe Stephens. Probably the most exciting play of the contest was a fourth-quarter pass from Edmondson which Right End Wayne Timmons juggled for a moment and finally pushed toward Bonner Nelson who went over for a score from Lockney's 30. Center R. C. Giesecke set the Matadors up for another when he nabbed a Lockney pass in Longhorn territory and set the ball down six yards from the double stripe. Lockney scored their only tally in the second quarter, and Matador hung up two touchdowns in the third and fourth in the final quarter. The victory over Lockney is the third of six 4-A League contests which the Matadors have chalked up, their last loss being the 40-0 defeat by Floydada on November 8. Thus, the Matadors are currently in the .500 column and have won three out of their five home games.

Edmondson then took the ball, handed it to Stephens, and the deception was good for Matador's first score. Giesecke's attempted field goal was no good, and the score stood 6-6. Stephens sent the following kickoff to Guthrie, who worked down to his 30 before being nailed. Robert Logan then took the ball and was nabbed back by Albert Marshall, Bob Rushing and Norman Spray. Logan then passed to Messer and the play was good to Lockney's 39, but a 15-yard penalty set the Longhorns back on their 13 and the down remained the same. Logan again attempted another third-down pass, but Center R. C. Giesecke intercepted the flying pigskin and was halted six yards from pay dirt. Edmondson took the first ball snap and wound up on the three, and on the next play crashed thru center for Matador's second tally. Giesecke juggled the ball on his attempted drop kick but finally passed to Nelson who scooted over pay dirt for the extra point. The Matadors were then on the long end of a 13-6 score. Stephens' next kick off bounded over Guthrie's head and Guthrie was smothered on his own 15. Lockney picked up two first downs and worked up to their own 40 before the third quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter Lockney was held to their 40 yard line on the following two downs and their fourth-down kick bounced out on Matador's 41. Herbert Garth took the first snap from center and handed to Stephens, but the play netted no yardage. Edmondson took the next snap and broke loose for a neat 39 yard gallop to Lockney's 20. Edmondson then handed to Nelson, whose 20-yard scat was good for Matador's third touchdown. Giesecke sent the ball between the uprights to boost the score 20-6 in Matador's favor. Logan took Stephens' next kickoff on his 30 but was chased back to his 20 when Giesecke and Stephens crashed thru the Lockney defense. Lockney buckled down to another drive and picked up two first downs but lost ball possession on Matador's 39. Edmondson took the first pass from center at this point and up to the 41, and Nelson got away for 10 yards on the next down and placed the ball on Lockney's 49. Stephens took the ball from Edmondson on the next play and made a neat 49-yard sprint which was good for another tally. The attempted field goal was no good, so the score remained 26-6. Stephens' next kickoff went to Guthrie on Lockney's 20. Guthrie lattered to Messer and the strategy was good to Lockney's 30. An incomplete pass ate up Lockney's first down, but the second-down pass from Logan to Messer put the ball on Lockney's 29. Messer fumbled the ball on the third down and was smothered on his 20. The fourth-down punt went out of bounds on Lockney's 30 yard stripe. Edmondson passed to Wayne Timmons on the first down from Lockney's 30 and the play developed into one of the most thrilling of the game. Timmons juggled the ball amongst several Lockney players and never quite got control of it, but he gave it one final tap toward Nelson. Nelson snatched the pigskin and was off for another tally. Stephens ran over for the extra point and the score was then 33-6. Logan took Stephens' next kickoff and worked his way up to Lockney's 40 before being nailed by James Price. However a 15-yard penalty against Lockney set them back on their 25. Logan took the first ball snap and was stopped on his 30 by Giesecke and Stephens. Messer took the second down but was jarred loose from the ball and James White recovered for Matador on Lockney's 30. Edmondson handed to Stephens on the first snap from center, but the play was good for a two yard loss. Edmondson handed to Nelson on the second America Reaps Its Biggest Harvest America's biggest farm harvest in history virtually was in the bins this week. The agriculture Department said ideal harvest weather in October improved both the quality of most crops and boosted the production index three points above the former 1942 high. Cotton and cottonseed were the only notable exceptions. The department said that a prospective crop of 3,382,872,000 bushels of corn, the largest on the books, means an all-time yield of more than 165,000,000 tons of food and feed grains. Coupled with history's largest fruit crop and record or near-record crops of many other farm products, this assures Americans their most plentiful food supplies on record. It also may spur the end of the Government's remaining restrictions on grain. These curtail distillers' grain and limit the production of flour for domestic use to 85 per cent of last year. The prospective corn yield tops the former record of 3,293,000,000 bushels in 1942 by about 177,000,000 bushels. down and Nelson scrambled around left end for a touch down. Stephens ran the ball over for the extra point and the score was boosted to 40-6. The game ended two plays after the following kickoff.

SPUR LAUNDRY BURNS; MATADOR BUNDLE IS LOSS

A fire presumably caused by a short circuit destroyed approximately $6,000 worth of clothing at the Spur Laundry at Spur Wednesday night, according to reports of Al Marcey, driver on the Matador run for the firm.

Most of the Matador laundry bundle was destroyed, and the clothing in the bundle which was saved was scorched, according to W. W. Clements, whose barber shop is an agency of the laundry.

Clements said that Marcey told him that the laundry had a $500 insurance policy covering loss, but that adjustments with Matador residents would be made as soon as possible.

Homer T. Jinkins, a barber in the City Barber Shop, which also is an agency for the Spur firm, said that Marcey advised him that the laundry would continue to take clothes from Matador but would send them to the Palace Laundry in Lubbock.

Jinkins said that the Spur delivery truck usually took a truck load of clothing from Matador.

Clements said that he was told that the laundry began immediate repair work and would be ready to resume operation in 10 days.

US Serviceman Is Found In Jungle

An American serviceman who managed to survive for two years in the New Guinea jungles—equipped only with a razor and a Bible—was found near several days ago.

Hospital attendants said the American had been identified tentatively as Cpl. J. B. Stubblefield, Hillsboro, Tenn. They said his condition was surprisingly good, but that he was suffering from malaria. He has been unable to give a coherent account of his wanderings.

The tentative identification was made through a name written on the fly leaf of the Bible. Mrs. J. B. Stubblefield, Hillsboro, Tenn., was listed as his next of kin.

Officials said the American could remember only that he entered the jungle in 1944. They said he was dressed in jungle greens and Australian Air force boots.

United States Navy Military and civilian personnel purchased a total of $1,698,000,000 of savings bonds between September 1, 1941, and August 1, 1946.

The Navy estimated that the Women's Reserve replaced more than 50,000 men for sea duty in World War II, enough to man a major task force.

The check was presented at a recent Lions meeting. Miss Ketchersid is also a Matador high school senior.

Missouri Election To Be Investigated

The House campaign investigating committee reported Tuesday evidence of "irregularities" in the Democratic primary in the Fifth Missouri District. Enos A. Axtell, who was endorsed by President Truman, defeated Representative Roger C. Slaughter in the voting.

In a formal statement, the committee said it has turned its files and evidence over to the attorney general for consideration.

The evidence received, the committee said, indicates irregularities including "dishonest counting of the ballots, impersonation of voters by known individuals, illegal voting and illegal influencing of voters by payment of money, coercion and misrepresentation." —Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

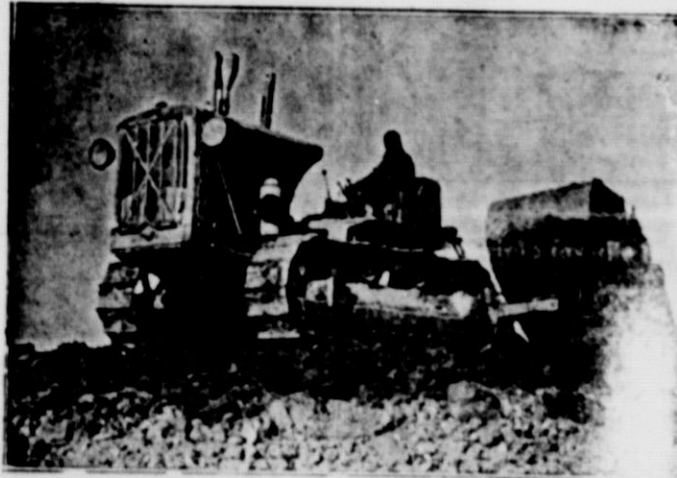

Auto Theft Charge Filed At Floyada

A charge of automobile theft was filed in justice court of O. B. Olson Wednesday morning naming Lewis Rodgers of Venus in connection with theft of a 1946 Chevrolet from W. B. Jones of Floyada, according to District Attorney Richard F. Stovall.

Rodgers was held at Albuquerque, N. M., after his arrest Monday by sheriff's officers who caught him after a 26-mile chase which reached speeds of 100 miles per hour at times.

Sheriff's deputies at Albuquerque said they found several bullet holes in the rear of the car Rodgers was driving, and that Rodgers told them he had twice out-ran Texas law enforcement officers while fleeing. —Lubbock Avalanche.

WATER DAMS CONSERVE SOIL

It has been proved that farm and ranch earthen dams will aid in controlling water and help prevent erosion in drainage areas and are also worth while projects for watering places for livestock in this low rainfall area.

An approved practice of the 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program, the practice is available to any Motley County farmer or rancher. Dams conserve water and prevent excessive soil erosion caused by water runoff. In addition, widespread use of dams will help solve our flood control problems.

Conservation of water is important in providing for livestock on range and pastures. To date 46 earthen dams have been built under this year's Agricultural Conservation Program with an aggregate total of more than 150,000 cubic yards of dirt moved. This could be considered good participation in this one practice for this year. However, it is not nearly all that should have been done or needs to be done. More water facilities insure widespread grazing and cuts overgrazing around existing water. This is a valuable conservation gain. Pasture and ranges too heavily grazed lose their protective cover and become erosion hazards.

The expense of this necessary conservation practice is borne both by the farmers and the government. The payment rate on this practice by the government is between 55% and 67% of the total cost.

This activity can be successfully carried out during the fall months. Farmers who are interested in developing reservoirs on their farms under the 1946 program should contact the ACA office in Matador as soon as possible as we will furnish a man to help decide where dams should be located for best conservation purposes.

We will also send our county performance supervisor, W. I. Rushing, to lay out the dam site. There is no lack of money on our part for there is still plenty available for carrying out this practice on any number of farms or ranches.

Average Price Of Cotton Closes Low

Average price of spot cotton, middling, fifteen-sixteenths inch

at the ten designated spot markets on Tuesday was 31.49 cents per pound.

Total stock of certificated cotton at all points on Tuesday was 26,053 bales.

Cotton market prices were lower during the greater part of the trading session. The unfavorable turn in the soft coal strike as indicated by the refusal of 38,000 miners to go to work, and the uneasiness in stock market increased the offerings. Prices declined 35 to 71 points, but on the break there was price fixing and profit taking by recent sellers, and the market closed 8 to 29 points net lower.

The open interest has been decreasing, but still totals around 220,000 bales against 48,000 a month ago. It is thought the holding movement believe it will a tight spot market could develop.

Sales by producers are at prevailing prices, and producers is broadening. Worth Star-Telegram.

The United States Navy had 70,000,000 horsepower fleet during World War II, the total horsepower of the entire U. S. light and power industry.

Of 7,000 Sea Scouts who were transferred for the Navy during World War II, 6,082 were commissioned in the Naval Reserve and 918 were former Boy Scouts.

WHO IS CAPITAL?

Capital doesn't wear a silk hat at Allis-Chalmers. "Capital" consists of 23,100 stockholders who own an average of less than 110 shares each. Mr. Capital might be a grocer, a farmer, a widow, a school teacher, or YOU. He might be a company employee in the office or shop or an officer of the company.

No one individual or family owns more than 1/2 of 1 percent of the total stock of Allis-Chalmers.

This is an example of democratic ownership distinctive in the history of large corporations.

WHO IS MANAGEMENT?

Management is the guiding hand (or head) hired by the owners to make an organization tick — and click!

Who is Mr. Management at Allis-Chalmers? Not just the officers and division heads of the company. Management is the block manager in the territory, the foreman in the shop. Management is every employee from errand boy to president who contributes by word and deed to the progress of the company.

Mr. Management doesn't wear a high wing collar at Allis-Chalmers. Neither does he have any monopoly on his job.

WHO IS LABOR?

The man who works in the shop is spoken of in the newspaper as "labor."

Actually he may be a part of Management by reason of some suggestion he has made to improve a process or a product.

Actually he may be a part of Capital through ownership of company stock.

The fact that he works with his hands makes him no less a part of Allis-Chalmers than the man or woman who works at a desk. The terms "Capital," "Management," and "Labor" are indefinite and overlapping. Many a man who works in the shop is actually a part of all three groups.

Introducing Mr. A-C

Who then is Mr. A-C? He is a combination of 23,100 stockholders, 25,000 employees, and more than 10,000 suppliers.

He symbolizes a company in which no individual or family owns more than 1/2 of 1 percent of total stock.

His is a company which contributes something to better living in nearly every home in America — in supplying machines to grow and process food, generate electricity, pump water, build roads, produce building materials.

MEET Mr. A-C

WHO IS HE?

As a business succeeds and grows, it requires a more complex system of management and, often, more widespread ownership.

Allis-Chalmers has grown and progressed for 99 years. Just who is Mr. A-C? Because the answer to a question like that is complex, it is easy for people to pick up mistaken impressions. For the sake of the record, let's take Mr. A-C apart and see who he really is.
