

County Over Top in USO Drive

Matador county completed its USO drive for a goal of $100,000, according to Mr. Whitworth, chairman. Mr. Whitworth said contributions had been received from every community in the county and that the total was $468, while some final collections are still to be turned in.

Mr. Whitworth was enthusiastic in his praise of returned servicemen who took part in the campaign. He said that without the help of these returned veterans the drive could not have possibly reached the goal. In one small community, Darden Canyon, two returned servicemen collected a total of $83.

Matador county now has a complete record in reaching quotas of wartime programs since it did not fail in a single instance to raise the assigned amounts.

Regarding the success of the final USO campaign, Mr. Whitworth said, "I want to thank everyone who had a part in putting the drive over, especially the community chairmen and faithful workers. I also want to thank the people of Matador county for their response."

9 GOP Votes Trickle Thru Major Boxes

Texas went thru the feeble motions of a general election Tuesday to confirm what it already knew a clean Democratic sweep of national, state and local offices. Frank T. O'Brien, Republican candidate for congress, received only nine votes to Democratic Eugene Worley's 257 in five of the county's eight boxes. Three smaller boxes, Northfield, Folly and Union Corner had not been reported late yesterday.

Reports of the five boxes indicated that only about one fourth of the county's qualified voters went to the polls in the general election. Approximately 1,200 voters were qualified. Only three Republican votes were cast in Matador, five in Roaring Springs, one in Flomot and none in Whiteflat.

The three amendments were approved in the county and thruout the state. Largest vote for amendments went to No. 3, good roads amendment which received 184 for to 35 against.

Five reported boxes are: Matador courthouse: O'Brien 2, Worley 67; Amendment No. 1, for 40, against 18; Amendment No. 2, for 34, against 24; amendment No. 3 for 46, against 11.

Matador city hall: O'Brien 1, Worley 78; amendment No. 1, for 49, against 13; amendment No. 2, for 36, against 28; amendment No. 3 for 51, against 11.

Roaring Springs: O'Brien 5, Worley 48; amendment No. 1, for 27, against 11; amendment No. 2 for 28, against 15; amendment No. 3, for 37, against 7.

Whiteflat: O'Brien 0, Worley 34; amendment No. 1, for 24, against 5; amendment No. 2, for 6, against 22; amendment No. 3, for 24, against 4.

Flomot: O'Brien 1, Worley 30; Amendment No. 1, for 22, against 6; amendment No. 2, for 15, against 15; amendment No. 3, for 27, against 2.

While many upsets were reported in the north and east, including the re-election of Republican Thomas E. Dewey back to the governorship of New York, Texas voted the "straight ticket" according to early reports in yesterday's daily press.

Matadors To Resume Play At Floydada

After an "open week", Coach Brady Thomas' Matadors will resume their playing season at 7:30 p. m. Friday when they meet Coach L. F. Gresham's Whirlwinds on Wester Field at Floydada.

The popular pre-game odds stand 26-0 in Floydada's favor, and Coach Thomas seems somewhat discouraged over the effects of the week's vacation on his Matadors. However, if Matador is ever to upset a stronger team they will have no better chance than with Floydada.

In a practice game Matador took the Whirlwinds 7-6, but lost to them 13-26 in a later practice session. But that was long ago and both teams have seen considerable development since then.

Matador and Floydada have defeated their common opponents by about the same score. Matador downed Petersburg 38-0, and Floydada beat the same unit 44-0 in the Ralls game. Matador emerged as a 33-6 victor, and Floydada took the same team 33-0. In both instances Floydada proved six points better than did Matador.

From an objective standpoint the Matador-Floydada contest will be a matter of "ifs". If Matador plays the same type of game as they did against Ralls and Floydada turns in an average performance the chances will be something like 50-50. But if Floydada gives forth with the same pattern they used in defeating Paducah 40-0, the result may be somewhat sad for the Matadors.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Little fellow that he was, rose came as an accident, like a bird finding a lame dove holding it in his hands for precious minutes. Trusting too much in an unguarded moment he had lost her swain and there was a new awareness in her natural beauty. Her flashing eyes, the light on her dark, silky hair, the music of her laughter, the short man whom she had elected to torture, climbing the air stairs to his windowed castle of dreams, dared to look back and the pet of his affinity had slipped to another's arms. His part was as if the world had been on it, and his eyes had same pain as if heated knife blades had been pushed beneath his lids. One dismal morning he caught a train ticket and left the sanctuary of his misery, following man's endless desire to get away from the things that hurt his heart.

Brushes of wind continued to the woolen clouds and take out the cold rain that pattered in horse tracks near the out door. A finger of smoke drifted from the pile of mud and flint rocks rising above the covered roof. Wet and shivering a milk-pen calf humped narrow back and turned in the wind, while the smug-faced mother muzzled as close as the wire and tight fence would permit, standing in the doorway of the barn for an instant, the young man looked toward the corral as a gust of wind tore the door from her hand and slammed it against a shoulder. He flinched against the wall, went inside and returned with a pail on her arm. He opened a gate for the cow to enter the lot. From a small adjoining enclosure she gathered an arm of cane stalks and returned with the milk. The baby was asleep on the rough bed, but stirred a baby clinched fist when she took a match to the wick of a coal oil lamp. She moved a wash pan to catch the drip that was beating out a tiny hole in the earth floor, then stood by the table and let her hand rest on the empty cup. Tears clouded her eyes as she looked at the grounds and coffee stain, then she placed the cup in a sink and washed it. Her glances rested on the two empty nails where his hat and slicker used to hang and the little tin of talcum from which he had greased his boots. His words seemed to come from the walls and the distress in his eyes looked back from the closed door. She moved her hand to her face and allowed her lips to touch a plain gold ring on her finger. The wind shook the door but she did not look up; she knew it would not open.

When we discover that our lives have feet of clay and that our wisdom is but an instant on the swinging pendulum of events, we have reached an hour when the azure sky must lose some of its charm forever.

Only the man with full command of his life is able to temper the twisted steel of failure and hammer it into strong and light achievement.

Athletic Fund Advertising Receives Pay

Matador schools athletic fund received a check for $155 at the regular meeting of the Matador Lions Club held in the Methodist church basement, Tuesday. The money was a share of the advertising plan in cooperation with the Matador Tribune newspaper and the support of local business firms and individuals, advertising the home football games during this season.

The check was presented to C. W. Giesecke, chairman of the Lions athletic committee by Chareen Ketchersid, high school senior, who is also a Tribune employee. The Matador Lions Club is sponsor of the school athletic activities.

Feature speaker on the program was PMA (formerly AAA) administrative officer Marvin Allen, who explained the need of preventing further soil depletion through erosion and "checking out more than we put in our soil bank."

He advocated the use of phosphates as a soil builder, explaining tests made on the King ranch in stock-raising which proved the success of the mineral. He said 165,000 pounds of phosphates had been placed on 28 Matador county farms. Lion Allen's talk proved of great interest to his listeners. He was introduced by program-sponsor John Hamilton.

Visitors included high school honor students: R. C. Giesecke, senior; Ann Harp, sophomore; Oleta Holt, freshman; Gwendolyn Wilkinson, junior; also Sam Weatherall of Paducah and W. J. Whitworth, Flomot.

Rites held Saturday For Loyd Kurkendall

Funeral rites were held Saturday at 3 p. m. in the Baptist Church at Flomot, for Loyd Kurkendall, 37, who died following a highway accident at Hillsboro, Wednesday, October 30. Time of his death was determined to be between 6:30 and 7:00 a. m.

Services were conducted by Rev. T. D. Fullingem, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wheeler, Texas, and interment made in Flomot cemetery. Pall bearers were five brothers, Orvell of Baileyboro, Allen D. of Eldorado, Texas, H. L. of Martinez, Calif., J. B. and Porter, of Los Angeles, Calif., a brother-in-law, Harrison George; Tom Spears, and W. B. Martin all of Flomot.

BROTHER FATALLY BURNED IN PLANE

W. M. Donaldson, 16, son of Mrs. Joe Donaldson of the Oklahoma Lane community near Farwell, and a brother of Mrs. Frank Edwards of Whiteflat, was fatally burned on October 27, when a Piper Cub plane in which he was riding, crashed in landing.

The youth was a passenger in the small plane, owned by a nephew, Earl Sparks, who was taking passengers up for pleasure rides. Sparks, who was piloting the machine and was in the front cockpit, escaped with rather severe burns about the right forearm and lower right leg.

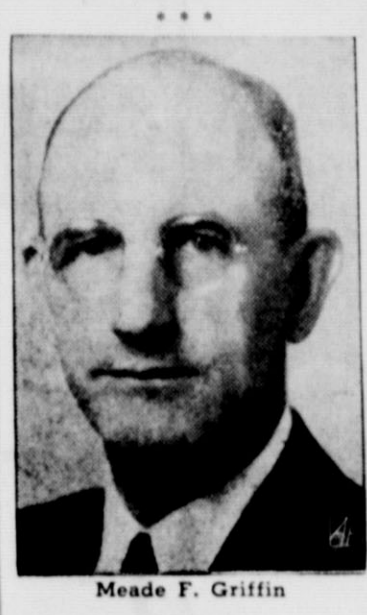

As the burning plane, which had caught fire in air, crashed the two boys escaped from the inferno. Donaldson was able to crawl about 20 feet from the plane. His clothing was burned off, the only thing left on his body being his belt. He was conveyed to a Clovis hospital and died about three hours later.

The tragedy culminated a family reunion which was being held at the Donaldson home.

Besides his widowed mother, the youth is survived by one brother and ten sisters.

Theft Information Will Bring $100

A $100 reward for information leading to the recovery of $1,000 worth of garage equipment stolen from the Kifer Garage, four blocks east of town, has been offered by Clarence Kifer, owner of the station.

The material was stolen last September 14, when Kifer was on a trip to Madison, Wisconsin. Raymond Locke, a Paducah mechanic, had leased the station in Kifer's absence.

Deputy Sheriff John Stotts said Tuesday that no trace of the equipment had been found, and that there was too much grease around the garage to obtain fingerprints. He said that entrance to the garage had been made by removing a window and that the exit was thru the door.

Among the items stolen were a reboring bar, a valve refacer, a hand seat grinder, and other hard-to-replace apparatus. (See advertisement of reward elsewhere in this Tribune issue.)

Jury Decides In Jameson's Favor

Judgement in favor of Ed Jameson, local contractor, was rendered by a jury last Thursday in District Court in connection with his law suit against Joe Bloodworth, Whiteflat.

The case revolved around the washing out of a dam on the Bloodworth farm last June. The dam, the largest in the county, washed out several weeks after its completion. The jury found that the dam had met AAA specifications and that Bloodworth, AAA officials and the county engineer, had signed a receipt for the dam prior to its giving away.

Settlement has been made between Bloodworth and Jameson as directed by the jury findings, according to attorneys of the case. The sum involved was $1,523.12, which Jameson maintained was due him for work on the structure.

Judge Alton Chapman presided at the trial.

Memorial Fund Is Raised For Young Childress Man

Over $1,300 was raised in Childress during the last week in October, following the sudden death of Don Warren, prominent young Childress contractor and veteran of World War II.

The money has been collected to buy an iron lung and the movement was started when Warren's widow asked friends to use the money they might have spent for funeral flowers to help buy an iron lung for Childress.

The idea took fire immediately and before the first day was over the money started rolling in. People came from all over town to give from 10¢ to $25 to the Don Warren Memorial Fund for an iron lung.

During the half at a Childress football game the time was devoted to explaining the need for the iron lung and Mrs. Warren's unique request. Over $500 was collected when the hat was passed.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren were friends of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Whitworth of Matador. Following the funeral of her husband, Mrs. Warren told her Matador friends that she believed her husband's life might have been saved by the use of an iron lung. The cause of his sudden death was not known except that he expired of congestion in the throat and lungs.

In a drive sponsored by the Matador Lions Club more than a year ago, Motley county has a modern iron lung which has not been used.

Whooping Cough Wave Expected To Sweep State

Inasmuch as the incidence of whooping cough in Texas is expected to show an increase during the coming months, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, released a statement today urging that strenuous efforts be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

"Whooping cough can only be contracted by direct exposure to the disease, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced if the incidence is to be controlled," Dr. Cox stated.

"The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," Dr. Cox said. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous to susceptible persons; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious."

The first sign of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when vomiting of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough. Dr. Cox stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school or come in contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished thru use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Cox asserted, "and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so, and allowing the young child to suffer an attack of this disease, may seriously impair his future health."

Winter Illnesses As Dangerous As Summer Complaints

Young children may suffer as much from winter illness as they do from those commonly known as "summer complaints," in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and his advice to parents as to the winter season approaches is to guard babies and young children against these winter health hazards.

Influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, and asthma are included among those disease which may be dangerous winter illnesses among young children since they affect the respiratory or breathing system. Such disease as pneumonia may develop from a neglected cold, they may follow as an after-effect of measles or whooping cough, or they may occur suddenly and with very little warning. These diseases of the respiratory system are more prevalent in winter than in summer and are much more difficult to combat than digestive ailments such as summer complaint.

"These winter diseases are particularly dangerous to babies and young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread thru the secretions from the mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints on the first line of defense," Dr. Cox cautioned, "is to strengthen the powers of resistance against disease; the second is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure they contact with others who have coughs, colds, or fevers."

What does it take to run a baby?

Plenty — and plenty of electricity, too. A hungry young citizen needs food — lots of it — often. That food needs preparation — refrigeration — reheating.

Baby needs hot water — lots of it — often. So does his wardrobe. And because Mother worries about germs, she boils practically everything but Baby himself.

Clocks must be dependable when there's a baby in the house. Lights must go on — quick — when he cries out in his sleep. Rooms must be kept warm — the list is endless.

Today's mothers are luckier than those of 20 years ago. With electricity ready at all times — in any quantity — to help with the household chores, mothers have more time to enjoy their youngsters. Never before has electricity done so many tasks for so little cost. Actually, the average family today gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago.

Your friends and neighbors in this company — and your own increased usage — helped make that possible.

Who says there ain't any talent in MHS for writin'? Here's a paragraph that June Spray wrote on "Her Dwelling."

"I dwelleth within the walls of the History room. At ten o'clock, A. M., I rusheth from the Algebra room so that I may go to my dwelling on time. Professor Thomas teacheth me. Although I persueth my lesson with zeal, he giveth me demerits when I throw chalk. He giveth me zeros when I haven't my reports. He checketh an "X" by my John Henry when I failleth to answer an interrogation about the lesson. My heart sorreth within me, and I solely fear that I shall failleth the test. He shall therefore, I fear, condemneth me to dwellleth in the History class forever."

Hiya, all you gals and guys! Wanna hear the latest? I have some dirt that will just shock you-all to death! Guess who old Mule was seen with? None other than that cute lil' Junior Dottie Stanfield, Sunday night, let me tell you! What was that Mule said about "Swappin' slobber?"

These fish do get around. The latest couple is Dorothy Beard-Jelly Williams, who were seen together lately with Jimmie Lee Davis and Bill Jameson!

Nice goin' keeds! Thing were sure spooky after the carnival Thursday night! Among the gruesome twosomes that scared people were Ernestine-Clyde, Mickey - Stick, Mary-Hal, Fud-Billy Frank, and lots more!

Sunday came around, and with it, the following couples seen at the show: Colonel-Charlene McDonel, and Truman-Carol Rattan!

Manpower around this school is certainly plentiful! As a proof, Mr. Gilbreath sent about 20 kids downstairs to pick up a candy-wrapper which, it seemed, no one threw down! Joy Martin and Gordon Harold were seen together the other night! Margaret is plainly walking on air, these days. The reason? That "certain" sailor is here—namely, Lee Roy. Fud and Billy Frank were together Sunday night! Getting to be a habit! Heavy and Bonner found "urgent business" that just had to be attended to Saturday at Childress! It could have been because the Girl Scouts had a meetin'!

Gotta be goin'! So long, you keeds.

THE HEART OF THE DRUG STORE

★ Rooted deep in the recesses of time is the modern drug store. Through 4,000 years of recorded history the dispenser of drugs has stood high in the esteem of the community. As the sciences of medicine and merchandising have advanced, the outward form of the ancient apothecary shop has changed. But service to the sick is still the very heart of our business. Our complete stock of pharmaceuticals is the best that the markets of the world afford. When illness strikes and your doctor prescribes, we will consider it a privilege to serve you.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Who Gets Off Easiest—
Men or Women?

Maybe you saw that poll on who has the easiest life—men or women? Of course, the men voted that the women did, and the women vice versa.

It would be the same in our town—take any family. Thad Phibbs envies his Missus spending the day at home, with no hot office to attend to. And Sue envies Thad his luncheons with the boys; and his evening glass of beer with friends (while she cleans up the dishes in the kitchen).

Of course, none of it goes very deep. Thad knows way deep down that the Missus has plenty of work running a house; and Sue knows Thad's friendly glass of beer is well-deserved relaxation after a long hard day's work.

From where I sit, most husbands and wives may grumble now and then—but they know in their hearts it's a case of live and let live, give and take, that comes out pretty even in the end.

Area's OPA Office Ceases Functions

The Price Control Board at Spur ceased its functions last Monday, according to L. E. Lee chairman.

The step was taken in accordance with the recent decontrolling actions of administration, Lee said. For five years, including one post-war year, the Spur board served Motley, Kent, King, Stonewall and Dickens counties and only paid clerical personnel will remain thruout November to complete the transfer of records to the District offices in Fort Worth.

Future business should be conducted by correspondence with the OPA District Office, Fort Worth Club Building, Fort Worth, 2, Lee said.

Sugar forms may be obtained from the Fort Worth offices, as well as OPA information, Lee declared.

Certificates of transfer covering sales of used passenger automobiles may be obtained from principal auto dealers, who will secure the forms from the OPA Regional Mail Center at Dallas.

Vets Asked To Loan WW II Souvenirs

Last minute work on a war souvenir display to be featured at the American Legion's Armistice Day Celebration slated for November 11 in Matador was this week being done by Norman Priest, chairman of the proposed display.

Any souvenir from World War II is wanted, and will be returned to the loaner after the observance, Priest said. The items will be used in a concession at which 10 cents admission will be charged. Proceeds from the display will go to the Legion Post.

Priest said that there is still time for veterans to bring their souvenirs in either to himself or to the Tribune office. They must be tagged securely with the owner's name, address, and a short history of how the item was obtained.

Matador Visited By Halloween Spooks

Hallowe'en spooks were mild during their galavanting last Thursday, according to John Stotts, deputy sheriff.

Outside of "general horse-play," no serious damage was done, said Stotts, as his eyes looked out the window at his soap marked automobile.

Superintendent Bert Ezzell captured six of 18 "spooks" as they were unhooking the school house doors, but no other school damage was reported.

The morning after Hallowe'en found tractors, bon fires and other items on main street.

He resigned in 1934 returned to Plainview where he practiced law until entering World War II, July 27, 1942, as a Lieutenant Colonel, infantry, assigned to Camp Shanks, New York. He was later detailed to the Judge Advocate General's Department and sent to Weisbaden, Germany, as chief of the prosecution sub-section, War Crimes bench, serving until November 1945. While in Germany he had charge of the preparations of the rules and regulations whereby war criminals were tried, and the drawing and signing of charges against the criminals. He was discharged from the service a full colonel.

Vance Gilbreath will be Master of Ceremonies. First song will be "America," followed by a reading by Miss Chareen Ketchersid, John A. Hamilton will introduce the speaker, Meade F. Griffin. A second song, "God Bless America" and benediction by G. E. Hamilton will complete the morning program at the church. The choir will include the Matador high school pep squad under the direction of Roy Reeves. Miss Rachel Paton will be pianist and members of Matador troop 60 Boy Scouts will serve as ushers.

Barbecue will be served to all veterans on the courthouse square at noon. The food will be served to all veterans and their immediate families. Three beehives have been purchased for the barbecue. All veterans will be guests of the American Legion.

In the afternoon the Legion will conduct a carnival on the courthouse square open to the public and will include all types of amusements. All benefits from the carnival will be used to help defray costs of the barbecue for servicemen.

Some time in the afternoon the Chevrolet automobile will be awarded by the Motley County Memorial V. F. W. chapter.

Businesses To Close
All business houses in Matador will close with the possible exceptions of service stations and cafes, according to plans announced this week. The First State Bank, post office and West Texas Utilities Company offices will be closed for the day.

A full day of tribute and entertainment has been planned and it is believed that one of the largest crowds in the town's history may attend.
