

There is no logical reason why men should not be compelled to work for their country in time of war, for labor is as essential to war effort as fighting. The man who refuses to work is as guilty of treason as the man who refuses to fight. At this hour there is no middle ground; every man is either for his country or against it. He is willing to sacrifice all he has gained in the past to secure the future or he seeks to protect his past gains at the sacrifice of the future.

In time of war nothing is important but unity and nothing is more important to a country than unity. A united country is a country where each man bears his share of the responsibility, danger, privation and sacrifices but no more. He will fight to the death in the knowledge that he is not being betrayed by his fellow countrymen. These are the simple, great principles upon which this democracy is founded; the principles upon which it will stand.

Washington lolls in its opium dream of false importance and ignores the critical truth. It ignores the fact that men on the battle line earn $21 per month, fighting and dying 24 hours daily, while men in munition factories who make the shells to fail to make the fighter's guns, are pleased at the prospect of working more than 40 hours per week. It ignores the pain, heartache and suffering of families who have given sons, brothers, husbands and fathers to fight, while concentrating attention on the wage-scale demanded by labor-racketeers.

How can Washington longer close its eyes or look away from injustice? Our country is at war. How can any man be stupid enough to believe the people of this nation are going to continue toleration of the labor-axis. Blood is flowing on the battlefields; there is no longer time for arbitration. Why should labor be accorded any more privileges than the men who are giving their lives for these United States? Washington knows that organized labor under its present leadership is a cancer on the heart of America. We must get well to fight. The people are tired and deceived today.

When our nation's capitol awakens from its lethargy it will be undergoing a political blood-letting. Nothing can stand in the path of a country aroused as the United States is aroused today. The people will forget and forgive a thousand mistakes but it will always remember the betrayal of labor-leaders in its hour of peril. It will always remember the politicians who made possible the mephitic activities. The voters will not forget that the traitor sinks no lower than those who could justify his act. Now the die has been cast and the truth is cooled. Labor-racketeers have shown their true colors and dared to come before a nation of war-wise people to unfurl their yellow standards.

Washington has dared to justify labor's action but the people will not be appeased. It is impossible to justify a man who is trying to slit your throat while a known enemy holds a gun at your back. America has already felt the knife; it will not stand with hands down. The country now knows that the first dictator it has to defeat is not in Tokyo or Berlin. It now knows the first emblem it must defeat is not the rising sun or the swastika, but the dollar sign.

Now the nation is aware that we can not win any war until every man who wants to work, can work as many hours and for any pay. Every sincere, patriotic laborer of this nation deserves the right to work without paying tribute to parasitic labor-racketeers. He deserves the freedom of other free men in a free nation. He deserves earnings. But today he can not raise his voice to join the great cry of his nation. He cannot tell the other people

Crop Seed Loans Are Available To Motley Farmers

Crop production, vitally important this war year, is being financed by the Emergency Crop Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration through loans to farmers in need of credit assistance. These loans, usually known as "seed loans," are the oldest form of Federal aid to farmers in producing crops, having been successfully administered by this pioneer agency for many years.

Clyde F. Milam, who supervises these loans in Motley County, states that applications for "seed loans" and also for loans to purchase feed or produce feed for livestock, may be made at Simpson's Drug Store by Mrs. Gertrude Nelson in Matador. Advances are made for seed, fertilizer, feed, and necessary incidental expense. Eligibility rules are the same as in the past, according to the supervisor.

A cynic might declare that when witnesses in the trial of a case are trying to tell the truth, they will not agree exactly in their stories because, under excitement, men will see things differently; but it is when witnesses agree perfectly that you are entitled to think that maybe so they were "coached" by a criminal lawyer.

But the dear old American public, putting down such remarks to spite, has gone for the diary book in a great, big way and so have even the self-confessed smart book reviewers.

Officer Training Is Now Offered To Army Volunteers

Registrants between the ages of 18 and 45 who have been, or are entitled to be deferred by reason of dependents but are otherwise eligible for military service, may volunteer to compete for selection as an officer candidate in the Army, it was announced today by General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director.

Under a new system just authorized by the Secretary of War, General Page said, such registrants volunteering and accepted for officer candidate training will be inducted into the Army through the Selective Service System and given four months training in the ranks at private's pay to determine their potential prospects for commissions. At the end of the training period any not recommended for an officer candidate school may request release from active duty and return to his home, and will not again be subject to call for active duty unless registrants having similar dependency claims are being inducted into military service.

General Page emphasized that Class III-A registrants who volunteer to try for a commission must be American citizens with at least four years high school education. Local Boards, at their discretion, may reject applications of any who should be deferred as "necessary men" in war production. Volunteers who are under 21 years of age must obtain the written consent of their parents or guardians, he pointed out.

The first step to be taken by a Class III-A registrant desiring to volunteer for officer candidate training, according to procedure outlined in a memorandum from National Selective Service Headquarters, is to file with his local board an "Application to Volunteer and Waiver of Dependency," which also must be signed by his dependents. After the board has checked his application, together with his citizenship, educational qualifications, and status as a "necessary man" in his civilian activity, the registrant is given a preliminary physical examination.

Under provision of a law passed at the last session of the legislature, all candidates for public office this year must file an affidavit of belief in the principles of American government with the secretary of state. The state will not provide the affidavit forms, but a copy will be sent to all county clerks from which candidates may copy it. The affidavit is: "I, _____, of the county of _____, state of Texas, being a candidate for the office of _____, do solemnly swear that I believe in and approve of our present representative form of government, and if elected I will support and defend our present representative form of government and will resist any effort or movement from any source which seeks to subvert or destroy the same or any part thereof, and I will support and defend the constitution and laws of the United States and of the state of Texas."

Formation of a Texas livestock mutual aid committee to bring the many livestock organizations into closer co-operation may result from a recent meeting in Fort Worth sponsored by several of the state associations. James Goodwin Hall, head of the Quarterhorse Association of America, was named as temporary chairman and Boyce House, newspaperman, was chosen temporary secretary. Both live in Fort Worth. ## PAVE THE WAY

If the registrant passes his physical test, he is advised that his next step is to present himself at a designated Army Reception Center or Army Replacement Center for qualification examination. All expenses incident to or replacement center, General Page pointed out, must be defrayed by the volunteer registrant, himself, including meals and lodging.

Upon completion of the qualification examination, the registrant returning to his home, regardless of whether or not he has been found qualified as a Volunteer Officer Candidate, and presents the Army report to his local board. If the registrant has been rejected for officer candidate training, his application to volunteer is denied by his local board and he is retained in Class III-A. If he has been found acceptable by the Army, he is placed in Class I-A, and will be ordered to report for induction as a volunteer at the next call for delivery of men by his local board.

The average period of basic and officer candidate training, General Page said, will be from six to nine months, during which time the registrant will receive the same rate of pay as a private inducted into the Army—at the present time $21.00 per month for the first four months and $30.00 per month for the remainder of the training period, unless his rate of pay is increased by reason of his promotion.

stock associations will be invited to attend a conference in a few weeks to discuss the proposal further.

Cattle Producers Advised To Lower Herds During Year

By J. Rufus Emmons

Danger is ahead for beef cattle producers if herds continue to increase. This, together with the fact that abundant supplies of feed are needed for national defense indicate that increased marketings of beef cattle and calves in 1942 will benefit not only cattlemen but the National Defense Program as well. The number of cattle and calves on farms has been increasing rapidly for the last four years. The number now is not far below the record peak of 74 million head just prior to the disastrous drought of 1934. At the present rate of increase we will have 74 million head or more in another year.

The danger of another period with excessive numbers and several years of ruinous prices cannot be headed off without increasing marketing of cows and heifers. Farmers and ranchers have held back cows and heifers for the last four years in order to increase herds.

Four Suggestions Made There are four things which beef cattle producers should do now to make their positions secure:

- 1. Marketing more cows and heifers to prevent further increases in cattle numbers. The goal for cattle slaughter for next year cannot be reached unless a larger proportion of breeding animals are marketed.
2. Pay off indebtedness now while prices and demand are good so as to avoid the danger of having to pay big debts at low prices later.

3. Improve breeding herds by culling out and selling undesirable animals while demand is good.
4. Keep livestock numbers in balance with normal feed supplies. Range conditions and feed supplies in the West have been unusually good this year. Drought can cause a lot of loss if there is not feed reserve available, or if ranges are over-grazed.

Secures Industry

The 1942 Farm Defense program goals call for slaughter of about 26 million head of cattle and calves compared with a probable slaughter of about 26 million head this year. Meeting this goal in 1942 will make the long-time position of the cattle industry more secure and help supply the increasing need for meat.

It is essential in this time of emergency that the Nation's workers and armed forces have an abundance of meat, and beef and veal will be needed in larger amounts as demand increases.

Greater Purchasing Power

Consumers will have more purchasing power than they have had for a long time and larger quantities of beef can be sold without depressing prices. By increasing slaughter, producers can take advantage of the opportunity to sell on a good market and prevent excessive marketings at some later time when prices and demand may not be as good.

The extent to which producing areas and individual producers can or should contribute to the 1942 beef and veal slaughter goal will vary greatly. A flat percentage increase in marketings cannot be expected from the various areas within a State, nor can individual producers within an area

Traffic Accidents Showing Decrease

Traffic fatalities in Texas decreased 19 per cent during the first two months of 1942 as compared with the same period of last year, State Police Director Homer Garrison reported today.

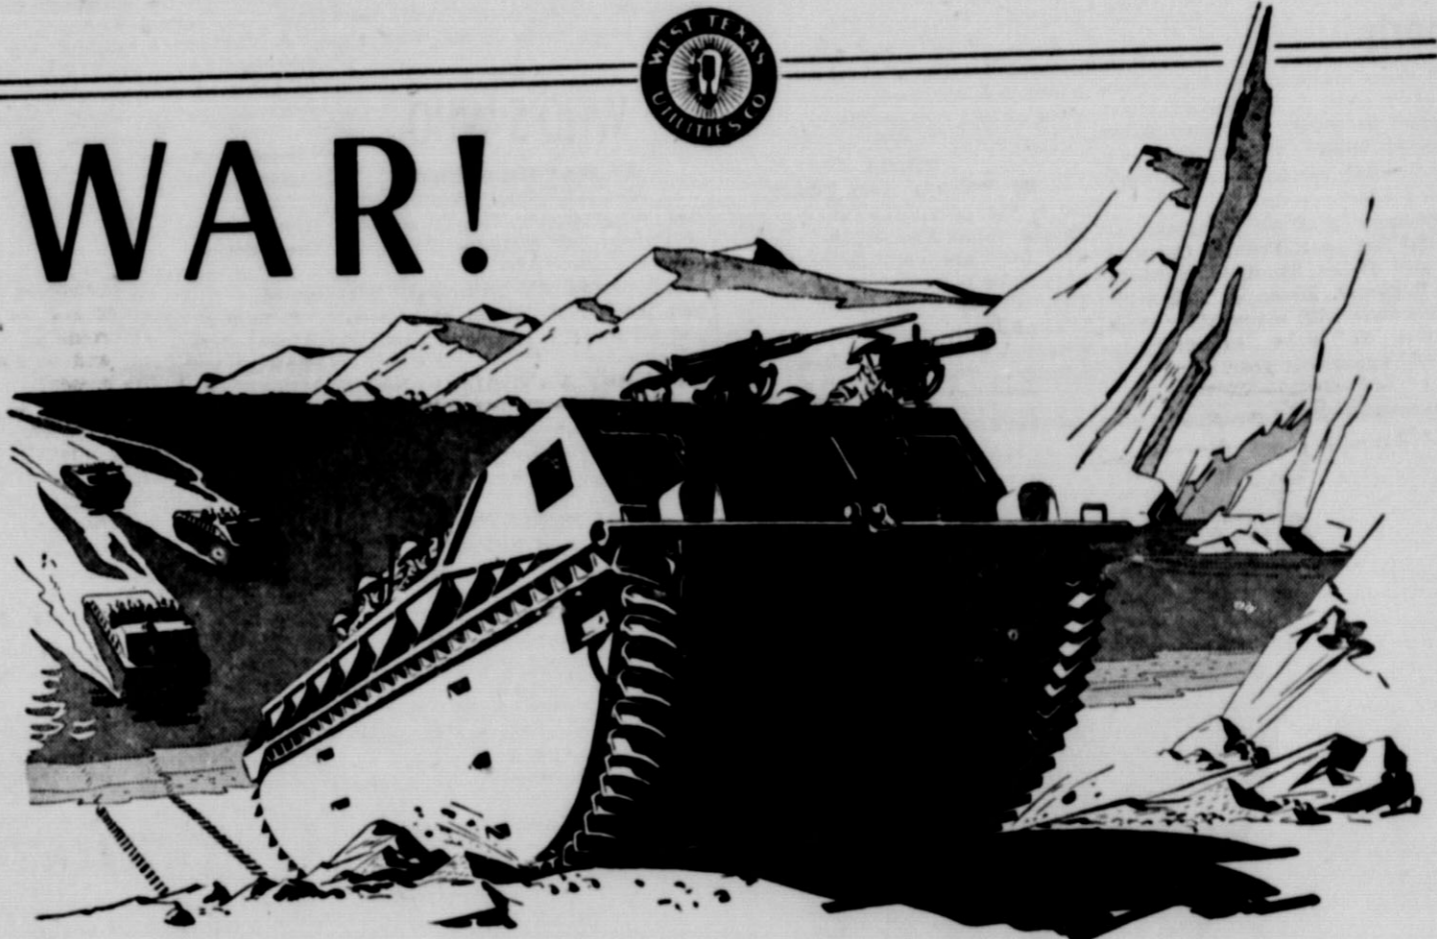

As of March 18 for the respective years, 294 persons were reported killed in January and February of 1941 and 239 were reported killed in January and February of 1942, a reduction of 55 fatalities.

Although the Highway Planning Survey found a 6.4 per cent decrease in highway traffic at 28 points in the state in January and February, the Comptroller's Department reported a 10.6 increase in gasoline consumption. This divergence, Garrison explained, probably is due to the enormous amount of defense traffic not on principal highways where traffic counters are kept.

Speeds have been reduced noticeably, drivers are exercising more care, and local and Highway Patrol officers are bearing down a little harder on violators as a result of the recent emergency traffic control conference in Dallas, where representatives of five Southwestern states met to formulate plans for more vigorous traffic law enforcement, Colonel Garrison said.

be expected to increase marketings by the same proportion. But the total marketings which should be made are shown in the State goals. Meeting these goals will serve the best interests of the cattlemen and the Nation.

WAR!

... after 10 years of perpetual e-motion

WASHINGTON officialdom complains that the public does not realize that the nation is engaged in war. A critical war. An all-out war. ... Washington chides the citizenry for its lethargy, its complacency. "Where does the blame, if any, lie?"

Thus read the opening lines of an editorial in the official magazine of the United States Chamber of Commerce suggesting that the average citizen feels that the bureaucrats in Washington "are not taking the war seriously."

The average man, it is said, "has become impervious to 'emergency.' He has been exposed for ten years to perpetual emotion. It is natural that he ask his leaders for something more than words. ... He needs examples, actions, in high places."

But, it continues, "As far as the citizen can see, not one of the 150-odd peace-time bureaus, commissions and authorities has made any sacrifice. Not one. Rather, not a one but has found the war an excuse for expanding its personnel and 'services'."

The average man knows that wars are not won with words, piddling policies, or boondoggling. Wars are won with deeds, with production, and with the full cooperation of government, labor, industry, and of ALL the people.

He knows that to win the war there must be an end to petty politics while the battle rages. He knows that his country has no need for bogus reformers, hampering and reviling industry at a time when our greatest need is planes, tanks, ships—not ideologies.

The practical business men who built up and manage America's electric companies today are providing electric power where it's needed, when it's needed!

Despite the millions of millions of dollars spent for political power projects, business-operated companies are furnishing over 90 per cent of the nation's electric supply in the present emergency. Last year, they installed over 2 1/2 million more horsepower! We now have in the U. S. more electric power than all the enemy nations together.

Careful, efficient and economical production of electric power will continue, lighting air fields, army camps, industries, your home and business. The war will be won, not with words of abuse but by wholehearted cooperation!

Motley County Red Cross Chapter Will Receive Yarn Shipment Soon

Quota Allotments Are Made On Basis Of Population

A shipment of yarn is expected soon by the Motley County Red Cross Chapter, to be made into such articles as have been specified for the U. S. Armed Forces, in a program outlined by the National organization.

Quota allotments will be made on the basis of population and the number of pounds required for the needed articles.

In a recent bulletin to Miss Mary Keith, production manager of the local sewing room, methods for obtaining the required materials, were set out as follows:

"At the suggestion of the office of War Production an estimate of the number of articles needed to meet requirements of the U. S.

Armed Forces for 1942-43 has been prepared. This estimate has been submitted to them, approved, and orders have been placed with the mills for a portion of the yarn needed. Additional orders will be placed with the mill later in the spring and summer.

Program Limited

"This program will be limited and will involve the purchase of a definite quantity of yarn to be made into a definite number of knitted garments. The yarn will be provided without cost to the chapters. Quotas for the number of articles to be made by chapters will be determined by the National Organization's taking into consideration the quantity of yarn available and the number of knitted articles needed.

"The allocation of quotas to chapters will be on the following basis: The total yarn available will amount to 1,300,000 pounds. This yarn will be distributed to the chapters on a per capita population basis of 1 pound for 100 of population; the total population residing in the chapter's jurisdiction will determine the number of pounds of yarn to be allotted. After this allocation has been made to those chapters which indicate their desire to participate, the chapter will be advised as to the number and kind of articles to be made.

Shipment Expected Soon
"It is the hope of the National Organization War Production that a small portion of this yarn, perhaps 20% of the total chapter allotment, will be available within 30 to 60 days. In the case of small chapters, shipments will be made in lots of not less than 25 pounds or multiples thereof. However, in no instance will chapters be supplied with more yarn than are entitled to on the basis of their total quota allotment for the fiscal year 1942-43."

The American Legion Auxiliary meets each Tuesday evening in the Legion Hut to sew for the Red Cross, and all women of the community are extended a cordial invitation to join in the work.

Doyle, Baptist pastor, at his home. Attending them were Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Thacker of Matador.

The bride wore a dress of navy sheer, trimmed with ice blue, with hat and gloves of ice blue, and bag and shoes navy.

Mrs. Wilson was reared in Matador, and following graduation from the high school here, she attended West Texas State College at Canyon, later enrolling at Draughon's Business College, Abilene, where she completed a commercial course. She is employed at the First State Bank here.

Mr. Wilson is well known in this community, having been manager of the Burton-Lingo Lumber Co. for several years before accepting a position with the Sweetwater Sash & Door Co., as salesman about four years ago. He was reared in Sweetwater, where his parents reside, and finished high school there.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are making their home in Sweetwater until he is called to report for duty in the United States Navy in which he recently enlisted. After that time Mrs. Wilson will resume her duties in the bank here. They expect to return to Matador Saturday, for a week-end visit with friends and relatives here.

Pied 'Pinions

BY MRS. S. M.

A very fetching picture was made Saturday by Mrs. Cecil Pipkin and her two small daughters, Donna Cecelia and Paula, all three attired in identical skirts of solid blue with pink blouse-sweaters, all knitted in the same pattern. Chubby Paula, aged 2, trudged along between her mother and "big sister" Donna, who is 5, "going on 6."

And now from our Hollywood Fashion Reporter, A. Faylauer, comes the very latest styles as decreed in that land where all nuts go, or in reverse, where all go nuts.

Quote: "In Hollywood I notice that the colors most popular right now are red, white and blue, green, violet, purple, yellow and orange shades . . . vivid shades are good and pastel shades are The Thing. . . . The skirts are worn long, medium and very short . . . the waistline is either right under the arm pits; at the natural waist, or down to the knees . . . costume jewelry is right, and then again it is considered slightly passe . . . with birds, animals, flowers, or other objects simulated in tin, copper, brass or what have you. . . ."

Shoes are studded with nails and without . . . with holes in the toes or without . . . with low, high and spring heels . . . in all colors; and stockings are sheer, plain or figured embroidered with jewels or without, and socklets are also good at the present.

Gloves are worn to the wrists, elbows and shoulders . . . then too one glove is left off and carried . . . or they match or don't match; Coats are of course worn casually over the shoulders with the sleeves hanging down as if you had both arms cut off . . . others wear one or both arms in them . . . if they have two, that is; otherwise it is proper to wear your arm either in or out. . . ."

Furs and straw hats are worn . . . trimmed or untrimmed. . . all made of flowers or no flowers at all . . . Big, Medium and little hats are all the rage at present. . . made of felt, rough or smooth straw; patent leather, and crocheted hats are all the "Go" too. . . with a turban effect, or otherwise . . . with towering fruit pieces as made famous by Carmen Miranda. . . it is also considered smart to wear a petrified pancake hat with all the hair and the ears concealed, with or without veils. . . plain or with spots and figures; The hats are worn either on the back of the head, over one eye, over the face or not at all. . . it's very chic to go without a hat, BUT wear a flower, a bird or a plume. . ."

Bags are plain and fancy, all sizes are good this year . . . worn under the arm, over the shoulders on straps, or carried casually on top of the head. . . ."

In perfumes, strong scents are good, and mild scents too . . . depending on your mood, your personality, or the time of day or night . . . or whether you are out to catch a man; or if married. Consolation odors are just the thing this spring. . . . lipstick shades and colors must harmonize with your toe nails. . . . when sandals are worn. . . ."

Now this is the last word from the center of fashion, Hollywood as you of course know, has long ago replaced Paris. . . . These are just a few of the things which are right, smart and chic to wear before Easter, after Easter. . . . well, after all. . . . I got this way after trying to learn what was style. . . . Unquote.

Mrs. Sam Isaacs of Canadian again makes a donation to the Matador City Library. We acknowledge receipt of "The Ivory Mischief," by Meeker, which was the January selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club, and which will be placed on the library shelves here in the near future.

Surprise Party Is Given Mrs. Thacker

A surprise party was given Friday evening by Mrs. Glenn Dobkins at her home in Roaring Springs, honoring Mrs. M. S. Thacker on the occasion of her birthday.

Guests arrived fashionably dressed in "ye old time styles," and birthday gifts for the honoree were appropriately wrapped in war-time economy covers, such as brown paper bags with rosettes of binder twine.

Several games of "42" were played, and a refreshment plate consisting of salad, sandwiches, olives, potato chips and coffee with birthday cake cut by Mrs. Thacker, was served to: Mesdames J. N. Scrivner, Ezra Bowen, Harold Jones, J. D. Mitchell, Carl Tardy, Maggie Keahey, Ed Smith, S. J. Braselton, J. D. Green, Mrs. Thacker and Mrs. Dobkins.

Kara Hunsucker Is Elected President

Kara Hunsucker of Matador was chosen president of the Las Chaparritas club of Texas Technological college in an election of officers held Wednesday afternoon in the administration building on the campus.

Mrs. Isaacs recently donated "One Red Rose Forever," which is now available to the library membership.

The Matador library appreciates very much, these donations by Mrs. Isaacs, who is treasurer and chairman of the book-buying committee of the Canadian library. The library there was opened to the public in 1923, Mrs. Isaacs states, and all the work was volunteer and unremunerated until the WPA supplied a library clerk in 1938. They have 7,500 volumes.

It's Wise To Invest In Furniture

In these times when so many of the most desired things can no longer be had, it is good news to know that furniture can be bought without interfering in any way with war production. For today, America is fast acquiring a new appreciation of the word "home" and all it connotes.

Faced with extra home-hours, the trend everywhere is to do homes over—make them more comfortable and cheery. Old-fashioned or worn-out furniture is being replaced by new pieces with new comfort and beauty.

This rapidly growing trend deserves hearty support for, certainly, furniture is a wise investment for the average family to make now. "Buy Defense Bonds and home furnishings for lasting happiness."

Cadel U. S. Bond Is Flyer At Lubbock

Laying proof that U. S. Bonds do their part to "Keep 'Em Flying" is an Air Corp aviation cadet who has reported to the Lubbock Army Flying School here with its second cadet class.

He's probably the most widely publicized cadet in the country.
"Discovered" some two months ago while taking basic training at Randolph Field, he's been adopted by the Treasury Department as a supersalesman of its defense bonds and has successfully participated in big bond drives at San Antonio and Tulsa.

The reason? Well, you see, that's his name—U. S. (Urban Sellar) Bond, believe it or not. Naturally, they call him "Defense."

Love brands its critics with a caress and slaughters with the blunt ax of indifference.

My small troubles remain untreated in the spa of failing resolutions, my large troubles are hardly enough to heal themselves.

Frail as a tall, dried weed in the winter wind, the old man used to hurry to his cheap hotel for a glance at the paper while he smoked his evening cigar. His clothing seemed to hang on his stooped shoulders by faith rather than design. He always wore that part of his flabby hat forward which first reached his hand; his collar were low, threadbare and soiled. His life moved with the force of nervous energy, like the stored power in a battery. To sit beside him in silence was like being near a radio deprived of current. To speak to him was to turn the switch. His voice was music and distant corners of the world became animate places complete with sounds, odors and vivid coloring in the sky. His intellect was a limitless volume with the pages uncut. His education, his talents were boundless; the old man who made keys in a shanty on the corner.

A debt of duty requires no more collateral than a conscience which functions without special attention.

Behind the angry clouds a frightened moon rushed with the abandon of a child lost and hysterical in endless woods.

Your Farm Can Help

A farm "ground crew" waves a comradely salute to America's air forces while loading a truck with the kind of food that will help "keep 'em flying." The picture is from a popular U. S. Department of Agriculture poster entitled "Your Farm Can Help." And it's true that every farm in the United States can make a valuable contribution to the national victory program by producing more milk, eggs, pork, and vegetables, says the Department. A record production of these foods is needed to feed soldiers and sailors, keep families properly nourished at home, and give strength to Allies overseas.

Floydada May Get Enemy Japanese

FLOYDADA, March 18 (Special)
The Civilian Conservation Camp here, a soil conservation camp cooperating with the Floyd County conservation district is a thing of the past, the company of approximately 95 men having gone to Morton, in Cochran County.

Left in charge was a squad from the Memphis CCC camp, a camp of veterans.

The army has asked Floydada city officials to give the army formal possession of the camp. Council, according to Mayor White will likely approve the request.

The city has a contract with the army for use of the site as a soil conservation camp only.

Meantime, reports circulate that the camp will be used as a concentration camp for enemy Japanese. No confirmation of these reports can be obtained.

Meantime, it is known that the army has secured control again of the abandoned camp at Lamesa and also at Littlefield. It is reported here that these camps, closed last summer, are being reconditioned and enlarged to reportedly double the previous capacity.

"We'll sign, of course, when the army asks us to," said Mayor White. "We don't relish the idea of a Jap concentration camp here, but if that's what it comes to of course we'll take it. We are at war here in Floydada, just the same as on the West Coast."

Produce More Cotton In 1942

1. Because Cotton Production Is PATRIOTIC
2. Because Cotton Production Is PROFITABLE

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard has issued an appeal to the nation's cotton farmers to plant 4,000,000 acres more cotton in 1942 than in 1941 — to plant the full legal acreage allotment. America and its allies need more Cottonseed Oil for food, Cotton Linters for munitions, Cottonseed Meal and Hulls for livestock feeding, and Lint Cotton of certain staple and grades for the successful prosecution of the war effort. Cotton is the ONLY crop that supplies ALL of these essentials.

You, from your own experience, know that cotton is a most dependable crop for this section. You know that you can count on lint cotton and cottonseed to provide ready cash; and you know that the value of lint and seed has been very favorable in recent months. You've PROVED that you can grow cotton—and cotton has proved that it's a money-maker for you. It will pay you, this season, to plant every acre permitted under the AAA legal allotment; and to produce every pound of lint and seed that you can on these acres.

Senior Activities

The senior class has at last found time to have a class meeting. Class colors were selected by the seniors this week, which were red, white, and blue. These colors seem to be the favorites of everyone in the good old United States. The seniors also chose the white rose for their class flower. This flower will certainly look pretty on their maroon gowns graduation night.

Term themes subjects were selected by the seniors this week. The subjects deal with the history of almost every business in our city. We hope the seniors turn in an excellent group of themes.

Seniors Do Their Part

The Senior Class is attempting to do its part toward helping our defense program. They have purchased $150.00 in defense stamps and expect to purchase about $150 of $200 or more in defense bonds to be left as a gift to the school.

The following letter was received this week, acknowledging the receipt of the first lots of stamps which were tendered in part payment for the annual: "We are happy to receive your payment of $150.00 in $5.00 Defense Stamps. The school might be interested to know that we immediately purchased Two Defense Bonds of $100.00 each maturity value."

Cordially yours, Semeo Color Press Co. The annual is to be delivered about the first of May. Students are very anxious to see the new school year book.

Sports

A great majority of students in M. H. S. seem to be taking a great interest in tennis this year. After several weeks of practice, we found that we have some very good players.

We hope that we go places as we did last year. Frances Carpenter and Helen Stanfield went to the Regional. Helen is still with us this year with many other good players. So we're expecting to succeed again this year.

The Value of Sports

Johnny Weismuller was the greatest swimmer of all time, and this is what made him so. When he was a small child, the doctors all told him he would never be anything but a weakling. This would have discouraged anyone of his age, and it would have discouraged Johnny except for this: Johnny met a swimming instructor at the beach not far from his home and became a great friend of his. This instructor taught him how to swim. As time wore on, Johnny began to get stronger. He would go to the beach every day and swim for three or four hours. He finally became as healthy as any boy of his own age. Swimming brought him a normal life, which ordinarily, he wouldn't have had.

That was just one example out of thousands where sports have had a big hand in making something out of a person. Sports teach sportsmanship and competition, which are two main elements of life. I don't think there is any one thing that teaches more about life itself than sports. These are just a few things I mentioned, and by these we can tell why sports are so valuable.

—M. H. S.—

Each student is required to get a certificate from the family doctor before returning to school, after being out ten days with the measles.

Each of us should follow the rules of the doctor's and the school board for our own good and the good of our community.

Teamwork for Victory

Never before in the history of our nation has teamwork been more essential than it is today. Every man, woman and child must realize the importance of work, unity and sacrifice. Our men at the front must have adequate implements of war and unlimited amounts of food and clothing. It is our duty to produce more vegetables, good beef cattle and cotton. This institution realizes the problems of its patrons and stands ready to offer every assistance possible. It is a privilege to be of service to you.

Kampus Klatter

Morris still has his eyes on a girl from Whiteflat. Poor Margie, she gets all the unlucky breaks. The Kimbell-Marshall romance is still going at full speed. We understand they like being alone, too. . . . The romance of the week is between dashing Senior romeo, Delbert Stone, and the new girl in the Jr. class, Velma Cunningham. Even though they attended the Junior play they can probably tell you more about the romantic dark country roads between here and Whiteflat.

Her brother, Lowell, in the Senior class isn't doing so bad either, as most of the kids from Whiteflat will tell you, especially Dorothy Jean Casey. . . . Remember that cute little boy in the Freshman class, Burford Williamson? Well, he's the latest admirer that Glenda has added on to her heart strings. . . . Elsie always did like school teachers, especially men teachers and athletic coaches. This one is from Whiteflat, and he calls her "Hun" when they are out in front of her house listening to the radio. . . . Johnnie Belle is so glad she's taking Home Ec. Reckon on Bud has anything to do with it? . . . The Air Corps has taken over—so it seems. Those silver wings seem to have lifted Wanda. He's from Denver too.

Faustena has finally captured her "Lil' Abner"—in every day attire, he's C. D. Garrison. There's liable to be feathers flying through, and red ones at that. . . . Patsy seems to enjoy talking to Justice. Too bad Miss Whitten separated them in English Class. We might have witnessed another Romeo and Juliet. . . . Mutt seems so-o heartbroken lately. Could it be because he had seen Mavinee's sparkler, or some other reason? Frankly, I wouldn't know.

The old gravel-pit seems to have quite an attraction. Three carloads of young people (?) were seen out there Tuesday night. The parks seem to be losing their appeal.

A meeting has been called by President Johnnie Mitchell to discuss the Senior play to be presented late in May. A committee consisting of June Seay, Johnnie Mitchell and Hazel Dodson, was appointed to select a number of plays from which the class will make its selection. The committee is to work in cooperation with Mr. Faulkner and Mrs. Cummings.

The class and Mr. Faulkner, sponsor, has discussed the necessity of buying defense stamps and bonds. We resolved to be 100% during the past week in buying at least one defense stamp.

Enthusiasm is high in the Freshman class now that we have completed our first period examinations. Some of our exams seemed difficult but we believe a higher average was attained than in the mid-term exams.

We are happy to report that our class is still 100% on the defense stamp drive. We are glad of the opportunity to serve our nation in every way possible; by buying stamps and saving waste paper, old magazines and other materials which our government can use.

Mike is about the only one around who has a broken heart, and who could be causing this but our new boy, Larry! For any information about him just ask Ramona. . . . After breaking all the hearts in grade school Jr. Bearden seems to have turned his attention to High school—Ee what Maggie?

that organized labor has its claws in his throat; that he wants to be free to work more hours and that the pay is not important. He is afraid to tell a misdirected Washington that it need have no fear of his vote. One word and he would lose his job. His dictator labor-leader lashes him into silence and Washington hears not his cry, but the voice that is placed in his mouth by his exploiters.

When Washington catches up with the Spirit of the people it is elected to govern, its sincere and worthy statesmen will take the mighty whip from the labor-racketeers and extract them from their plush thrones. Parents and relatives of every man in service will mark their ballots before they go to the polls. They look for and demand leadership. If Washington does not control labor then the public will control Washington. A democracy is governed by men selected for service rather than their ability to become masters.

We of this small West Texas county see the finest of our manhood taken into the armed forces. We listen to the grim demands of rationing and restrictions and there is no word of complaint. We stand as one to defend our precious heritage of freedom. We are not alone. A nation of people is standing with us. We are braced for the pain and agony of casualty lists; names of our loved ones who will not return. Our hopes and prayers are with each of them but we know war is a grisly business. We know that victory is bought with blood. It is our sacred, patriotic duty to demand justice of Washington or elect leaders in Washington who will place justice, unity and leadership above the selfish, desires of internal enemies.

An Outrageous Situation!

Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

THURSDAY'S "editorial of the day," with none barred, deserved to be a brief Associated Press news item from St. Louis. It wasn't written as an editorial. It was a very factual report of a very minor incident. But it deepened the brand of Judas on selfish, contemptible little groups whose pretended patriotism has disappeared beneath the dollar marks they have burned into their shriveled souls.

The item appeared in The Morning Avalanche on an inside page under the smallest "headline type" the newspaper uses. Most appropriately, but purely by chance, it appeared directly beneath the stories telling of the flood of protests now engulfing official Washington against the bickerings and dawdlings which are hampering the war effort. We reproduce the item, word for word, as it appeared:

"St. Louis, March 18 (AP)—It cost the United Service Organizations $100 to get free music at a dance for the soldiers. The money was paid to a "stand in" orchestra of 12 men after the AFL Federation of Musicians, Local No. 2, had refused otherwise to permit the appearance of a traveling "name" band which donated its services free."

If anything could be added to this item which might further nauseate patriotic people, we frankly don't know what it might be.

EVERYONE who had anything to do with the dance contributed their services wholly without charge. The band which actually provided the music—and its members belong to the musicians union, too—did its part free. Yet the members of the St. Louis local, who didn't even pretend to play a single note, collected all the money spent in connection with the dance!

The members of the St. Louis local—and their directors who tell them what they may or may not do—knew as well as everyone else that the boys for whom the dance was given are to be sent away—perhaps to die—before very long. And whether they die, or not, they are going away to defend the principles of government under which such travesties as perpetrated by the St. Louis musicians local are permitted.

Yet musicians of St. Louis Local No. 2 demanded and received pay for music they did not play so that boys offering their all to their country enjoy a few fleeting moments of pleasure.

WHEN things like this are allowed to occur, is it to be wondered that the patience of really patriotic people has come to an end at last?

Is it surprising that never in history has official Washington been witness to a flood of protests like that which is engulfing it as the irate millions of the masses of real Americans are demanding more results and fewer excuses in connection with the war effort?

Is it surprising that the masses of Americans are so thoroughly fed up with the ridiculous, preposterous, outrageous demands of little groups that they now are telling—not asking—official Washington that it must no longer tolerate interruptions of or stoppages in the the war effort for any reason.

Is it surprising that the good which is in organized labor is threatened with a setback from which it may not recover for years because of the bad for which it has provided, and is providing, a refuge?

INCIDENTALLY, have you added your voice to the protests against the condition in national affairs, in national labor policies, which permits things like the outrage in St. Louis to occur?

Have you added your bit to the avalanche which is overwhelming those who dawdle and bicker in Washington while death and destruction sweep ever closer toward America?

Have you sent the letter, card or telegram to Senators Tom Connally and W. Lee O'Daniel, and Rep. George Mahon, to recommend and encourage them as they continue the fight to remove obstructions and obstructionists from the war effort?

If you haven't let us suggest that the sooner you make this personal contribution to the effort, the more weight it will carry.

Roaring Springs Church Of Christ Meet Next Week

Roaring Spring Church of Christ Gospel meeting is scheduled to start April 1 and continue through April 10th according to previous announcement made by Minister Roy E. Stephens. The meeting will be conducted by Minister Clyde B. Sloan of Bowie, Texas while the singing will be conducted by Minister Stephens.

Probable sermons will include texts from the following religious statements suggested by Minister Stephens: "Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people—Proverbs 14:34"

"France once publicly proclaimed that "There is no God," yet lived long enough to witness the time when it would depend on a nation who had written on her coins, "In God We Trust," to help her out of defeat and disaster in the greatest war the world has ever known.

"Benjamin Franklin, in addressing a convention at Philadelphia, once said, "Mr. President, I have lived sir, a long time and the longer I live the more convincing proofs I see of truth; that God moves in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid? I therefore beg leave to move that henceforth prayers imploring the assistance of Heaven and its blessings on our deliberations, be held in this assembly every morning before we proceed to business, and that one or more of the clergy of this city be requested to officiate in that service."

"Righteousness exalts a nation but what is righteousness?"—"All Thy commandments are righteousness. Psalms 119:172 "Fear God and keep His commandments for this is the whole duty of man. Eccl. 12:13."

"We claim to be a Christian nation but let's remember that only as we follow Christ are we Christians. "He that rejecteth me and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him; the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day—Jn. 12:48."
