City To Decline "Blinker" Light

Several years of effort by the Matador Lions Club to secure a highway stop-light at the intersection of U. S. Highway 70 and Main street are still fruitless.

Committees have worked on the project since before the war with varying degrees of effort. Last week the city received an agreement (requiring signatures, ordinance and permit) for a substitute "blinker" type light, of the same type now in use at the intersection of Highways U. S. 70 and State 70 (Bob's Oil Well corner).

At the Lions club directors breakfast held at Rosa's cafe Monday morning, Mayor Douglas Meador declared he would refuse to sign the permit and agreement for the substitute blinker light. The blinker light would flash red for stop on Main street traffic and orange for slow on Highway 70. "This type signal is worthless," Meador declared, "and will only serve to give speeding trucks a better right-of-way through town. Between half and a third of the school children of the town must cross the highway during the school season. It is regrettable that we must have a tragic accident on this corner before public opinion will force a safety measure that could have prevented it."

Lions officials in complete accord with the city's stand, will now make a counter offer to the Highway Department. The club will propose to buy and maintain a stop and go signal at the intersection if the department will grant permission for its installation.

Addressing the new officials and the club, Lion Dean declared: "...in this outstanding club we find unselfish men who are willing to give of their time, money and leadership to their community...these are the things men live by...when the last words are said over each of us it will not disclose the amount of money we have collected, but we will be remembered by the amount of good we have done for our fellowman...that is the great truth behind Lionism...it is the kind of effort that builds for moral and spiritual strength and progress."

Tail Twister Stapleton received a gift of a new hat and necktie in a touching ceremony by Lion Elmer Stearns. Presidio, in the far west roared Tuesday in a reading of 110 degrees.

Light showers here brought some relief late Tuesday afternoon but were of little benefit, except as a slight relief from the heat. Exception was the White-flat community which received enough rain in a small area to fill lister furrows.

Water users have been tapping the city's water supply to the tune of about 300,000 gallons per day according to Superintendent Stanfield. Record use of water last year was in the neighborhood of 400,000 gallons in a single 24 hours.

City water pumping was shut down for one hour Wednesday night at request of West Texas Utilities Company manager D. C. Bradley. A shortage of power throughout the Panhandle, which in some instances cut off entire towns, made necessary a reduction in heavy users.

Funds Provided In "Donation" Drive

Fighting to prevent the spread of polio and other diseases, Matador will make war next week on flies, mosquitoes and other insects in a complete DDT spraying of every street and alley in the city. C. A. Booth of Floydada will provide the equipment and DDT spray under a contract made here Tuesday.

Mr. Booth had previously made a survey of Matador and offered to do the complete spray job for $75, using his own equipment and chemicals. The spray machine provides a dense cloud of DDT fog. The mixture is harmless to all animals (including human beings and fowls. It only destroys insects (including bees).

If weather conditions are favorable, Mr. Booth will spray the town Monday (or the first favorable day following). Residents are asked to open their windows and doors, allowing the fog to penetrate their homes, that it can kill flies, roaches, mosquitoes and other insects inside. The spray will drift up under eaves, doors and windows to remain potent through most of the summer. It will kill insects as long as it remains away from water (possibly through the summer season). In event the spraying is followed by a heavy rain it may be necessary to spray again within a short time.

Entire amount of cost will be paid by public subscription. The funds have already been collected. Over $40 was collected during the Tuesday Lions meeting and the balance collected by Lion Howard Traweck Tuesday afternoon in a canvass of the business section.

Two members of the Roaring Springs Lions Club attended the Matador meeting and discussed with Mr. Booth, the spraying of their town, in an effort to rid the entire area of flies and mosquitoes and other insects.

Use Of Salt During Summer Is Advised By Health Officer

There is little doubt that summer is here. If you don't think so, take a quick look at your thermometer or feel your shirt or blouse—chances are that it will be wet and salty with sweat.

Excessive sweating means the loss of body salt, and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises the use of salt in drinking water as a means of avoiding heat cramps.

"Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat," says Dr. Cox. "On days when the thermometer goes to 90 degrees or above, as it has recently, the body may lose as much as fifty grams of salt. Laborers, farmers and even white collar workers should be especially watchful of heat cramps."

Heat cramps are characterized by pains in the stomach, head aches, and sometimes nausea and vomiting. The danger comes because the loss of the salt may occur without the knowledge of the individual until the deficiency causes cramps or heat fag.

Salt tablets may be purchased commercially. If they are not available, a pinch of table salt will serve the same purpose.

"Drinking milk is an excellent method of replacing body salt lost through perspiration," Dr. Cox says, "but alcoholic drinks should be avoided."

FARMS TRIPLE USE OF 'BOTTLED GAS'

Use of "bottled gas", which now performs a variety of jobs on farms and ranches, has increased 299 per cent since 1941, according to the Oil Industry Information Committee. "Bottled gas" refers to such gases as butane and propane which can be stored in portable containers under high pressure.

Indicative of the changes that have taken place during and since the war as almost every phase of farm and ranch operation have been mechanized, bottled gas is used not only for cooking and for home and heating, but to operate brooders and incubators as well. Individual users of bottled gas, other than industrial users, but including agricultural consumers, now total over 4,500,000.

Oil Power Increases Farm Productivity

Although a million workers have left farms and ranches since 1935, agricultural food production has been increased during that time to a point 40% above any previous peak. Department of Agriculture records show.

This increased productivity has been obtained, it was pointed out, as the nation has swung increasingly to oil-powered farming. Since 1935, the number of tractors on farms has virtually tripled and now stands at 3,000,000, operating over 15,000,000 farm implements.

Use of trucks on farms has also greatly increased, the department points out, with almost one-third of the nation's trucks now in use on farms and ranches. Of a total of 6,492,000 trucks, 1,880,000 of 29%, are now in use in agricultural work. This is an increase of 61% since the war began. These trucks, the war added, added to 4,860,000 farm automobiles and 3,000,000 tractors, make the farm a major user of oil products today.

Army Offers Many Opportunities For Military Career

Young men of Matador and the surrounding area who can meet the new high qualifications for enlistment in the Army's Combat Arms will find valuable opportunities as well as immediate benefits in the Infantry, the Artillery, or the Armored Cavalry, Major Harold Fulghum said here on a recent visit.

The Regular Army Infantryman, Major Fulghum pointed out, is the hardest-hitting, most versatile soldier in the world. He travels like the wind—by truck, jeep, glider, plane, assault boat, or transport—in the air, on the land, and on the sea.

Artillerymen are a second vital element of the Army's fighting team, he said, and they may choose between service in the Field Artillery, Coast Artillery, and Anti-Aircraft Artillery. They operate monster field pieces, rapid-firing anti-aircraft weapons, rockets, guided missiles and radar.

Major Fulghum explained that the Armored Cavalry combines the firepower of the Artillery, the mobility of the Horse Cavalry, the knockout punch of the "tankers" and the dogged spirit and determination of the Infantry. Its men are experts in motors and vehicles as well as in gunnery and combat.

Men between the ages of 18 and 34 (17 with parents' consent) who enlist in the Army for service in one of these three combat arms, are eligible to qualify within a few months for assignment to the Potential Leaders' Courses where the Army's enlisted leaders are now trained, Major Fulghum said.

Soldiers are enrolled for this six-week leadership training program only after they have demonstrated their intelligence, character, and physical capacity during a period of basic military training, he said. Young men interested in specialist training, however, may qualify before enlisting for one of several technical courses given at schools operated by the Combat Arms.

He explained that qualified young men may apply, before actually enlisting for enrollment in any four of the more than 60 specialist courses given at Army schools. If they are accepted for assignment in one of the four courses they have indicated, they may enlist in the Regular Army for three or more years with positive assurance that they will be assigned to that course.

Those present at the reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Goodwin, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Moss, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Faulkner and son Roy Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lewis and children, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Starnes, Miss Myrna Joy Craig, Miss Marjorie Ann Thacker, of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Neighbors of Alvord; Mrs. Annie L. I'm sure you'll like Ford's new 4-Speed Transmission

Maybe you enjoy slow farming . . . but there's no money in it. If I can show you faster farming . . . with no more work, you'll be interested, won't you?

All right, just take one feature of the Ford Tractor, the 4-speed transmission. On the road I'll give you up to 12½ miles per hour. In third speed (top field working speed), I'll give you 6 miles per hour. And so on down . . . each speed, even the reverse, is faster. Saves lots of hours in a year.

Won't you let me demonstrate this Ford Tractor (and its Dearborn Implements) on your farm? I have something special in parts and service, too.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Live Longer

Someone asked Pappy Miller last week how he stayed so spry at ninety. Pappy told him:

"Well, sir—when I work, I work hard. When I set, I set loose. When I think, I go to sleep."

According to Doc Hollister, that formula isn't far amiss. "Hard work," says Doc, "never wore out anyone before his time, providing he knew how and when to relax."

Doc himself works overtime, with his daytime patients at the office, and his evening calls. And when he gets home he takes it easy with a mellow glass of beer and chats with the missus until it's time to go to bed.

From where I sit, relaxing is a fine art—especially in these tense, fast-moving times. And there's nothing like a temperate glass of beer—enjoyed with pleasant company—to restore that easy frame of mind that one needs after a hard day's work.

TODAY'S BIGGEST BARGAIN

You can't buy it at a store—
You can't carry it in a bag—
It's your biggest bargain—
It's YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE

You don't buy it at a store—you can't carry it home in your shopping bag—yet it's one of the biggest values in your family budget. It's your electric service, of course!

Yes, although it costs the West Texas Utilities, your electric service company, more to supply it to you—and such costs are still rising—you're nevertheless now getting electric service at rates 17 per cent less than you did ten years ago—if yours is the average family.

Why is your electric service so big a value? One reason is that more people are using more and more electricity. Another reason is the constant effort which the experienced personnel of your service company makes to keep your electric service a bargain.
