

Norman Martin Is Killed In Car Wreck

Legion Posts Will Pay Final Tribute

Norman Martin, 34, of Flomot was killed almost instantly near Lockney about 2:30 p. m. Tuesday when he was struck by a passenger car. His cousin, Wade Manger, 50, also of Flomot, a passenger in the pick-up, received four broken ribs in the collision and was treated in the Lockney Community hospital.

The accident occurred at the intersection of two country roads one mile east and four miles north of Lockney. Ira W. Graves, 18, of Lockney, driver of the passenger car was treated for a cut on the leg. His brother, Winifred Graves, 16, also of Lockney, a passenger in the car, was not seriously injured, according to reports.

The pickup truck was going east and the car south, both toward the intersection. Graves, driver of the car, told highway patrolmen that he had just passed a parked car and trailer and looked back to see if any assistance was needed. When he turned to the front again he said his car was already in the intersection where it struck the left side of the pickup.

Unconfirmed reports declare that both vehicles were overturned in the collision and that Norman Martin was thrown from the pick-up. An unidentified farmer plowing near the scene of the accident, is declared the first to reach the injured man. He went to his home a short distance away and telephoned Lockney for an ambulance. Martin was dead when the ambulance arrived. The cousins had been to Plainview, where they purchased some livestock and were enroute home to Flomot via a short cut on country roads, relatives declared.

Funeral services will be held here today at 3:30 p. m. at the (See MARTIN back page)

Matadors Face First Conference

On the face of things the Matador Matadors will go into their first 1948 conference here Friday night against the Spur Bulldogs with even chances. Both teams have lost two and won one pre-conference game.

The picture has a different angle. The odds are against the Matadors since Spur schools had 65 men out for football at the beginning of the season. Ten seasoned letter men will battle the Matadors under the lights on Burleson field Friday night.

The Matadors have shown remarkable spirit in all three 1948 games. They have used passes effectively in most instances and Coach Nabors may have some surprises for the Bulldogs. Every Matador fan is certain the team will fight until the final moment of the game.

Altho the Bulldogs lost to Haskell and Post, they were playing superior teams. Last week they defeated Hamlin 26-6. The Bulldogs have always had a good club and complete sideline support of almost the entire town of Spur. The backers will be here Friday night.

Every fan of the Matadors is urged to be on hand when the game is called at 8 p. m. One of the largest 1948 season attendances is expected. The Matadors need your help—don't fail them.

ATTEND FUNERAL AT MORTON FOR NIECE

Attending funeral services Saturday at Morton for Mrs. Leonard Lewis, 22, niece of Mrs. Freeman Thacker and granddaughter of Mrs. B. M. Eubank, was Mr. and Mrs. Thacker, Mr. and Mrs. Eubank, Mrs. W. H. Jernigan of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Eubank of Silveston.

Mrs. Lewis died Thursday evening after an illness of several months. She was born at Floydada, but had made her home at Morton for several years.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three small children: Patricia Ann, 6, Anita Kay, 4, and Leonard Wayne, 3 months old. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Eubank of Morton also survive, as do 4 brothers and two sisters.

Fair Queen To Receive Crown

PICKER SHORTAGE BECOMES CRITICAL

A critical shortage of cotton pickers (pullers) is rapidly developing in Motley county according to County Agent J. R. Emmons. He declared that 35 crews are needed immediately in Matador and Flomot communities.

He said Texas Employment Service representative Jack Meeks of Paducah, has promised to start sending pickers to Motley county. Word has also been sent to Abilene and Brady to start directing pickers to this area.

At noon Monday 668 bales had been ginned in Motley county from the 1948 crop. Ginning by communities is as follows: Roaring Springs 317, Matador 218 and Flomot 133.

Emmons said $2 per 100 lbs. delivered at the gin is the price prevailing in most fields in the county.

Queen of the three-day Motley County Fair, which opens here Thursday, October 7th, will receive her crown from Congressman Eugene Worley. The crowning ceremony will follow immediately after Congressman Worley's address at the high school auditorium.

The queen contest is sponsored by the Motley County Farm Bureau and two contestants will be entered from each school in the county, according to General Chairman Bert Ezzell. Invitations have been sent to Roaring Springs, Flomot and Northfield schools. Selections are to be made by the schools.

Judging will be by disinterested out-of-county judges. Girls must be school students between the ages of 16 and 22.

Winner of the queen contest will receive an all-expense trip to Lubbock on October 13 to compete with Farm Bureau district queens. Winner of the Lubbock judging will go to Dallas for the state contest from which a winner will be selected to receive a $500 all-expense trip to Atlantic City.

Matador schools have selected Misses Ann Harp and Patti Pippin as contestants. Other schools have not announced the names of contestants.

The Farm Bureau, co-sponsors of the fair with the Matador Lions Club, has announced contributions of $5 to each community for fair booth decorations and a willingness to pay half of the expense of a band for the three-day exposition.

King county horse-raisers have asked to enter the colt show and an invitation will be extended them.

Roy Redding Gilt Winner At Lubbock

Roy Redding showed his Poland China gilt "Roy's Kay" at the Roaring Springs show September 18 and won first place.

Not content to rest on his laurels, he showed the gilt in Lubbock Saturday and received top award at the District Sears show held at the Lubbock Fair grounds. He will receive $45 in materials (wire, cement, lumber and etc.) as award. In four years of showing it is the first time a Motley county boy has been awarded first place in the Sears contest.

Below is a report of the Roaring Springs show which was set into type but failed to appear in last week's Tribune.

Other awards were as follows: 2nd place, Lonnie Lynn, Whiteflat; 3rd place, W. M. James; 4th place, Eddie Morris; 5th place, Bennie Gwin; 6th place, Leslie Kingery; 7th, Corby Lee Marshall.

Sears Roebuck Foundation, sponsors of this program, will give the first five boys material valued at $30.00. This money must be used by the boys to purchase materials he can use in conducting a successful hog program. The money will be divided as follows: 1st, $8.; 2nd, $7.; 3rd, $6.; 4th, $5.; 5th, $4.

John Stevens, Matador Land and Cattle Company manager, Charley Taylor, County Agricultural Agent and J. H. Taylor, Soil Conservation Service of Dickens County were the judges of the show, which was supervised by J. R. Emmons, County Agent for Motley county.

BOB'S OIL WELL OPERATING UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Bob's Oil Well service station, famous Matador landmark, is operating under new management, effective since September 10. Truman Dillard of Floydada, experienced service station operator, has leased the station and will continue to operate it under the established name.

Mr. Dillard yesterday installed Texaco gasoline pumps at the station and has a complete stock of Texaco Mafak greases and Havoline motor oils. He will sell Texaco products exclusively including famous Fire Chief and Sky Chief gasolines.

The station also offers complete washing and greasing service, and tire repair. A stock of popular-priced automobile tires will be offered the motoring public.

Mr. Dillard said that Mrs. L. B. Robertson, owner of the station who has been operating it since the death of her husband, will rebuild the steel "oil-well" tower in the immediate future and that a new lighting arrangement will be placed into use. The station remains open until 11 p. m. daily.

Mr. Dillard will move here as soon as he is able to find satisfactory quarters, he declared. Assistants at the station include W. T. Murphy of Floydada and Clayton Clifton.

COMMITTEES TO BE GUESTS HERE

Motley County Fair community committees will be guests of the Motley County Farm Bureau at a dinner to be served in the high school lunch room here Monday evening. It was announced last night.

General Chairman Bert Ezzell said that plans are being made for 50 to 60 invited guests. The dinner will be prepared and served by the regular lunch room staff, at the expense of the Farm Bureau.

TO ROCHESTER, MINN.

Mr. and Mrs. Varner McWilliams of Whiteflat left last Thursday afternoon for Rochester, Minnesota where Mr. McWilliams will receive treatment at Mayo Brothers Clinic.

RETURNS FROM AMARILLO

Mrs. J. M. Edmondson returned home Sunday from Amarillo where she has been at the bedside of her sister Mrs. L. E. Price who is critically ill in St. Anthony hospital.

END OF A RUGGED TRAIL is shown above as the West Texas Utilities Company's new 66,000 volt power line "loop" nears completion, west of the Matador townsite at U. S. Highway 70. Upper left picture shows the last "H" frame on the 28-mile line from Turkey being set into position with the setting crew holding the 50 to 65 ft. poles for exact positioning. The poles are placed from 7 to 8 feet in the earth. The "H" frame is held in position by the drag line. Wires dangling from pole are not power lines but guy wires which will be secured to "dead men" and hold the "H" frame against heavy stress of lines. Second picture, top right, was made before the frame was raised and shows framing crew at work. Note bladed trail across mesquites and "H" frame being raised in the distance. Two short creosote poles in foreground are "dead men" to be buried to anchor "H" frame which is still on the ground. Center left picture shows D. L. Moreland, digging machine operator for Allhands & Bailey of Dallas, contractors for the line erection, signalling the drag line operator, in straightening the "H" frame in the distance. Right center picture shows operator Moreland digging holes for the "dead men". The machine digs a 20-inch hole 7.8 feet deep in one minute and 45 seconds. Bottom left shows Odie Qualis holding the frame in exact position. Lower right picture shows the heavy frame a fraction of an inch. Setting crew is holding the frame in position until they have been dragging the line moving up to set the last frame. Note dangling "spreader" which holds the poles in position until they have been anchored. Pictures were made on D. L. W. Birnie land west of town. The digging machine did not bring up any moisture when anchored. Pictures were dug. R. N. Jackson, superintendent for Allhands & Bailey, whose contracts frequently include the construction of railroads and highways, said that in his 25 years experience, the terrain between Turkey and Matador was the roughest he had ever encountered. In places the work required two drag lines and two "cat" tractors. The new line when it is placed in operation, will give Matador electric current that might be used to serve a city the size of Abilene. Cost of the line is estimated at $145,000, bringing "loop" service to Matador, Turkey, Paducah, Estelline, Caray, Childress, Goodlet, Quanah, Crowell. "Loop" service means that in event of interruption of service from one direction, current can be delivered from the opposite direction in a few moments.—Photos by Douglas Meador.

Star-Telegram Is $1 More Than 1947

Bargain rates for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, which became effective September 1, are $13.95 for daily and Sunday, according to an announcement received last week by the Tribune. The rate is $1 higher than 1947, but the regular rate has been increased from $15 per year to $18. The bargain rate is effective until December 31.

The Tribune will be glad to accept both new and renewal subscriptions to the Star-Telegram. No limit has been placed on new subscriptions this year.

Due to advanced costs of newsprint, the Telegram is unable to make any special concession for teachers, schools or ministers, as in the past.

Daily without Sunday bargain rate is 12.60 per year. The Tribune will appreciate all new and renewal subscriptions and will give them prompt attention.

Child Survives In 'Miracle' With Bullet Through Head

A little girl is holding to the slender thread of life in Stanley Clinic partly because of her mother's faith that she will live. She is three-year-old Gary Jacqueline Guthery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Guthery whose home is in Dickens county just south of the county line. A .22 target bullet has passed entirely through the child's head.

The accident occurred about 2 p. m. Saturday while Mrs. Guthery was busy with her household work. The little girl and her small brother were playing through the house. Mrs. Guthery heard the gunshot and rushed through three rooms to find that the children had been playing with a gun believed unloaded and out of their reach. There were no witnesses to the accident.

Grasping her child in her arms, Mrs. Guthery hurried outside to an automobile which required her pushing it to start the motor. She drove to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. W. H. Rigby who brought the little girl to the hospital. Mrs. Guthery telephoned Dr. J. S. Stanley who was prepared for the arrival, then followed in her car.

Marvin Bloodworth received word Wednesday that his brother-in-law, J. W. Turner, 44, of Hueneme, California had died after an extended illness. Funeral services were held Monday in Hueneme. Mr. Turner was a former resident of Ralls, Texas, and he was a nephew of former Matador resident John Turner, who now lives at Lubbock.

Matador Day Set By Tri-State Fair

Monday, October 4, is Matador Day at the Tri-State Fair, Amarillo, according to information received this week from Rex B. Baxter, fair manager.

Feature attraction of the fair will be the nationally known radio show "Ladies Be Seated" starring Tom Moore and Aunt Jennie. Tickets may be purchased here at the First State Bank.

Of special interest to the livestock people of this area is the recent announcement that the famous Santa Gertrudis herd of cattle from the King Ranch, declared to be the only American breed of cattle, will be at the fair.

MOVE TO SUNDOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Vaughn and children Nancy and Key left Saturday to make their future home at Sundown. Mr. Vaughn has been associated in the cafe business here for the past several years until recently when he sold to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stafford.

Hiya! All you studyin' joes! Wanna know a little of the latest in this triangle that's formin'? Looks like Doris just can't decide who is her favorite—Joe or Albert! Maybe by next week the mystery will unfold!

Say—what's this about some of a few character's colds being taken by other characters? Complicated isn't it, but that's the way I heard it!

Now what could stuffy old post office have to interest a certain gal named Joyce? Maybe you have a pretty good idea—L. A. or L. B. A.??

It's whispered about, that Mr. Ernest, our new prof., has made more than one heart flutter already—just at the very sight of him! Some have gone so far as to say some of the ladies (and girls, too) have actually swooned over him! Now isn't that a silly thing to imagine.

Bonnie Hughes and Joaquin seem to be gittin' into a habit about this datin' stuff—but whether good or bad, it sure is fun, isn't it, kids?

My goodness! Norman can just get his car whenever he wants it—D. L. or not—if Wanda is along! It's just wonderful what a girl can do!

Billy Martin, one of the new gals in MHS, was seen with Dean after the Soph. party! Cute kids!

It's rumored that Daisy Mae and Watson were seen cruisin' around Thursday nite. Now what do we have here?

Well, until some more kids make news.

So long.

Two Seniors Return From Trip To Austin

Ann Harp and Rosemary Bloodworth, Editor and Business manager of La Arena, respectively, returned home Tuesday night from a school annual clinic in Austin.

They left by plane from Lubbock, Sunday morning and arrived in Austin about 11 a. m. After registering that afternoon at the Driskill Hotel they had the afternoon free for sightseeing in Austin.

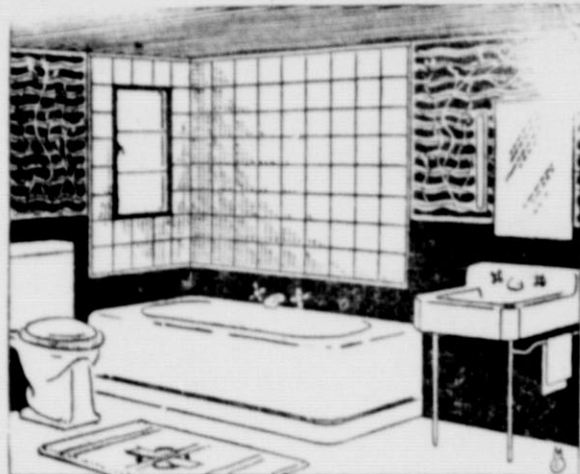

On Monday morning a welcome address was given by Mr. E. W. Jackson, President of the Steck Company, to the group of about 300 young people. Classes were given both days on art, hand lettering and printing; themes of annuals and finance. The girls attended all of these classes.

Monday night a magician show was given by a student of Texas University. Another part of the program was given by Sgt. Don Lawrence, who has six national records for shooting feats he has accomplished. The program was very interesting to the girls. Classes were held until noon Tuesday. They returned by plane that afternoon.

The annual clinic was helpful in that it gave the girls new ideas and instructions on the annual for this year, and also a very enjoyable trip for both of the girls.

Meet Mr. Ernest

Mr. Ernest, the guy who is trying to get some algebra and science learning into our heads, has really made history since he was in our shoes back in high school. After he graduated from high school in Calera, Okla., he went to college at Southeastern in Durant, Okla. In 3 years he had his B. S. degree and was out on his own. It must have been after he got his diploma that he realized Texas had to offer him just what he wanted. So down to Amarillo he came and worked there for four years in the good old west. After working in Texas he took one year of a special course at A&M College, Stillwater, Okla. Then he began a career of teaching a high school in Graham, Okla., with the position of principal. In 1942 the Navy took over and Mr. Thomas E. Ernest became Chief Petty Officer Ernest. Part of his four years in the Navy were spent in the Southwest Pacific. He received the World War II Victory Medal, American Campaign Medal, Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal and Good Conduct Medal. After his honorable discharge in 1946, he took a job as principal in Addington, Oklahoma, after working toward his M. S. degree the previous summer. In the summer of 1947 he received his Master of Science degree from A&M College in Stillwater. Before coming to MHS he taught one year in Minco High School in Minco, Oklahoma.

Now we find the man, who was once in a family of four brothers and four sisters, well at home in Matador with a job of corralling all the kids of MHS.

"Malador Day" Is Designated At Lubbock Fair

Saturday, October 2, has been designated as "Malador Day" at Lubbock Panhandle South Texas Fair, according to A. B. Davis, fair manager. The fair runs September 27th and runs through October 2nd. Residents are urged and invited to attend during the entire days of the exposition, but the fair management hopes for large representation on "Malador Day". Many unusual attractions have been added to the 31st annual fair, this season. Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Ketchersid accompanied their daughter, Barbara to Denton Sunday where she enrolled at TSCW.

WHEN prehistoric man first bounced a club off his wife's jaw because she hadn't prepared the Brontosaurus steak to his liking, he probably tossed the indigestible dish to his prehistoric dog.

weren't enough. Mere table scraps failed to assure the balanced nutrition necessary to a dog's health. And the old idea of "my dog eats what I do" probably killed more dogs than distemper.

The history of dogs and men is long. For at least 500 centuries the two have lived together. As far back as the stone age there were already two breeds. A house pet variety descended from the jackal and a shepherd type sired by the wolf.

And in this long history the period during which man, through lack of knowledge, failed his pets was short—not over a few hundred years. For in the early days of the twentieth century he began to give attention to the diet of his "best friend."

At first, of course, this attention was largely on the part of kennel owners and breeders, for the mixing and blending of foods was a long and tedious job and was based on all too little knowledge.

Then big business became interested in dog feeding. Fido's food requirements became a whole field of research, supported primarily in the beginning by several large meat packing companies. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent on study, experimentation and the accumulation of data, in veterinarians' colleges and universities and in the research laboratories of the meat packing companies themselves. Different breeds of dogs were fed on specially prepared diets and their state of health carefully observed through generation after generation.

Man profited, too, for scientists delving into the feeding of dogs discovered a lot of things that were of great value to humans. For instance, in 1937 Dr. C. A. Elvehjem and his co-workers at the University of Wisconsin found that nicotinic acid was the specific vitamin concerned in pellagra, the human equivalent of the canine black-tongue disease.

As the cumulative effects of these research programs became felt, prehistoric dog foods advanced rapidly toward providing the modern pup with every vitamin of which civilization had deprived him. The latest, and perhaps the greatest single step in this direction came in 1946 when the Department of Agriculture, feeling that it had sufficient information on which to base its specifications, announced it would certify dog foods meeting certain minimum requirements.

Under the regulations for certification, any manufacturer of canned dog foods who meets the department's rigid requirements for quality and variety of ingredients, and submits to federal inspection is entitled to carry on his label a small keystone-shaped seal certifying that the product has been "inspected and certified by the Department of Agriculture as a normal maintenance dog food."

Of course, Rover hasn't gone back to the stone age. The new foods and new knowledge have done much more than put back the vitamins of which the dressing and cooking of foods had deprived him. They have made him a finer animal and have given him longer life. Breeders estimate that, like man, the life span of the dog is increasing every year.

The dog's natural instincts are becoming of less and less use to him. What with dodging cars, being kept on leash, and prohibited from barking, hunting and fighting, he is having to learn a whole new set of rules. By nature he'll still guard the home just as he maintained his night-long vigil in the caves of Asia Minor. And he still turns round and round before he lays down to trample the grasses and check for enemies as he did in the forests of primeval Europe. But his

Your Most Important Right

Now that the bandstand has been dismantled, and the park re-landscaped, we have about the nicest place green in the county.

And it's all because, at the last town election, folks got out and voted—85 per cent of them! That way, they passed the amendment calling for park improvements—over those opposing it.

Reminds you again how important the right to vote is in this country. And it's a right we can retain only by exercising it! . . . In all the other individual liberties—from freedom to enjoy a glass of beer or ale, to a woman's right to vote along with men.

Folks can thank themselves that on summer evenings they'll be able to listen to hand concerts in a walk-park . . . enjoying a bottle of beer or soda pop (whichever they prefer). Because from where I sit, that's a freedom they've earned by exercising a still more important freedom: Voting!

YOU CAN HAVE PLENTY OF BUTANE ALL WINTER IF YOU HAVE ADEQUATE STORAGE

Will you be sure of having all the LP-Gas you will need this winter? Will you be at the mercy of bad roads, bad weather and possible gas shortages? There is only one way in which your Butane-Propane dealer can promise you all the gas you'll need and that is for you to have adequate storage now!

If you want to enjoy all the advantages of gas next winter—without empty-tank worries—let your dealer explain how you can be guaranteed of having dependable, year-round gas service. Write, phone or see him today.

THE PICTURE: The winter which produces LP-Gas (because it doesn't have the same capacity all the year around) produces the same amount of gas in three months as it does in the winter. You therefore have more gas available during the winter months than there is during the other eight months of the year. The winter months are the best time to use LP-Gas. Remember—your average tank is like the gas tank in your car. If it's not small you're always running out of gas. So play safe. Get on the winter by getting adequate storage NOW!

THE ANSWER: The only solution to this problem is for you to have a tank big enough to hold a supply of gas that will carry you through the winter months. A tank that size will enable you to have it refilled now while plenty of gas is available. Then, this fall, you can have it refilled and start off the winter with enough gas to see you through.

HOW BIG A TANK DO YOU NEED?

You'll have adequate storage when you have a tank big enough to hold a supply of gas that will carry you through the winter months. A tank that size will enable you to have it refilled now while plenty of gas is available. Then, this fall, you can have it refilled and start off the winter with enough gas to see you through.

and know how to rope, tie, bull-dog, slaughter and dispose of a cow, steer, bull, goat, sheep or jackrabbit that might wander, or be driven across the Rio Grande river. They have occasion to do it sometimes.

There are 97 (riders) in camps between Laredo and San Francisco canyon, in the Big Bend country south of Sanderson. They live four men to a camp, all along the river, and work in shifts, patrolling the river all daylight hours and some special spots at night.

They are helped by an airplane patrol, and after flying with a pilot and a BAI observer from Del Rio to the Pecos and back, we can understand how this helps the efficiency of the border patrol. Flying so low we could see hoof prints along the trail, we also saw several head of cattle watering on the Mexican side of the river at points where they might wade across. Signals about these were dropped to range riders. We also saw some "wetbacks" swimming the river.

At the international bridge at Del Rio, Customs, Immigration and Bureau of Animal Industry inspectors offered some interesting information.

Many of the Mexican people entering the United States carry grass "shopping bags". Because the foot and mouth virus might be carried in grass, these must be confiscated and burned. Lots of sausage and other forms of raw meat and cheese are taken. Meat is cheaper in Mexico, hence the incentive to bring it across.

Dirty trucks approaching the bridge from the south are sent back for cleaning, and washing, then when they return are disinfected at the border.

On the occasions of bull fights in the border Mexican towns, inspectors catch spear points, bull horns, hoofs, teeth and testicles at the bridge proudly borne by souvenir hunters.

One former U. S. federal judge brought back a parrot. It was confiscated.

"Flu" Responds To Prompt Treatment

The 414 cases of influenza reported in Texas last week, bring the incidence of this disease up to forty percent more than the seven year median, as shown from the figures submitted by the 181 counties sending in reports to the State Health Department.

Influenza without complications may be a fairly mild ailment, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, but, he pointed out, complications can turn this disease into a dangerous condition very quickly.

"Many cases of influenza are mild," Dr. Cox said. "Often they lend themselves to treatment readily. However, two important factors enter into the treatment of influenza, and they are, calling the family symptoms as soon as the first life very easy for a reasonable length of time after the acute stage has subsided."

Dr. Cox declared that influenza is not mass-controllable. He emphasized that maintaining the highest possible health level at all times affords an individual the best protection from contracting this disease.

"Getting plenty of sleep and rest, daily exercise in the open, nourishing foods, and strict personal hygiene are our best known defenses against influenza," Dr. Cox said. "This applies to all respiratory diseases. A person who avoids all habits and practices detrimental to a maximum well-being and thus builds up a strong resistance to disease, is much less likely to contract influenza than is the individual who does not guard his health in this manner."

Mexican Man Drowns In Tank At Flomot

A Mexican man, about 23 years old, was drowned Wednesday evening (September 22) in the pool, east of Flomot on the Wade Martin place. The man, Eneide Vapapa Garcia, had come in that morning, planning to pull bolts in the vicinity, and with a group of friends went swimming in the tank, which is a dammed up canyon, and very deep in places.

The men entered the pool about 6 p. m. and Garcia drowned shortly after. No details of the accident were learned, but he presumably was stricken with cramps or became exhausted while in deep water.

Neighboring communities were called in to help locate the body and remove it from the pool. Intensive search was made where the drowning man disappeared. It was about nine o'clock, three hours after the accident, before the body was found with hooks on trotline, and it was about 20 feet from where it disappeared, in shallow water just a few feet from the bank.

Ambulance from the Stewart Funeral Home took the body to Turkey and it was shipped this morning (Thursday, September 23) by rail to the man's home at Falfurrias, Texas—Turkey Enterprise.
