Parade Will Open 2-Day Reunion At Roaring Springs

BOOTS are being polished and Sunday clothes placed in readiness for the 25th annual reunion of the Motley-Dickens Counties Old Settlers Association which opens for two days at Roaring Springs Pioneer park August 28.

The two-day meeting will open with a colorful early-day parade (no motor vehicles) at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, according to C. C. Halle of Afton, association president. Memorial services will be held at 11 a. m. in tribute to pioneers of Motley and Dickens counties who have died in the past year. The services will be held at the pavilion.

First meeting of the old-settlers will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday with Halle in charge. The afternoon program will provide entertainment for those not interested in the rodeo.

Real Western Rodeo

Outstanding attraction of the annual reunion is the genuine western real-cowboy rodeo, which starts at 2 p. m. each afternoon. No professional cowboys are allowed to compete.

John Russell and Mervin Green arrived this week with 100 head of "salty" Brahma rodeo stock from Nevasota, Texas. Many rodeo fans declare the rope and saddle contests produced annually by Russell and Green to be the best in the cattle country area. Clayton Bridge of Glenn, Texas is also aiding in the rodeo, President Halle declared.

In addition to the regular rodeo shows, a cutting horse contest will be held Friday morning, it was announced yesterday.

Other entertainment will include dancing each afternoon and evening, with good music, and dances appealing to both young and old. Dudley shows and carnival arrived in Roaring Springs this week and will remain until after the reunion closes.

Another special feature will be the colt show previously announced, which will be held Friday morning.

LAUGHLIN FIRED BY LIONS AFTER LOSING SERIES

FOR HIRE—Slightly used softball club manager. Will work cheap providing work is permanent. Young, ambitious and enthusiastic about the future. Pay not important. Apply Leon Ice Company and ask for "Red" (Colerator) Laughlin.

Spiritless character you may observe on the streets of Matador is "Coolerator" Laughlin, former glamorous, dashing manager of the Lions Club softball club, certain of victory in the last of three sugar games, played Friday. Mr. Laughlin's services are for hire. He has been fired as manager of the Lions team. Final score, Friday night was: Firemen 13, Lions 12. Such are the pranks of fate.

In a joint statement yesterday by dispossessed manager Laughlin and Dr. BI Jeffers, it was declared the Firemen did not win the series. John Briscoe, member of the VFW team made the winning hit which changed the score. "We were framed," the men declared. "We defeated the Firemen but they had to bring in the VFW star."

Thomas Resigns as Coach

Red Ammonette Is Elected To Place

Coach Brady Thomas has resigned his place as athletic instructor for Matador schools to accept a similar position with the Sealy, Texas school (50 miles from Houston).

Coach Thomas said yesterday that he would leave within a week or ten days for Sealy and that his school would open September 8. "We regret to leave Matador," Coach Thomas declared, "and we have many friends here whom we will miss, but conditions beyond our control make the change expedient."

Thayne (Red) Ammonette, former Flomot and Tech grid, basket-ball and track star, has been elected to fill the vacancy resulting in Coach Thomas' resignation. He will receive his degree from Texas Technological college, Lubbock, August 29.

He will assume his duties here immediately following, it was announced.

Coach Ammonette has asked all prospective football players to meet him at the high school gymnasium, Saturday, August 30, at 2 p. m. Plans for the coming season will be outlined at the meeting, he declared.

Lions Hear Report Of Delegate

Report of the San Francisco Lions International convention was the principal feature on the regular Matador Lions Club meeting held Tuesday at 12:30 p. m. in the Methodist church basement. The club had two official delegates, immediate past president Howard Traweck and H. F. Pipkin, and one convention delegate checker, Douglas Meador, who flew to San Francisco for the first two days of the four-day convention.

Report was made by Lion Traweck after a "death by dry story" pact between the three Lions had been reached in which they agreed not to reveal any details except those relating to sessions and the parade. Lion Traweck performed in an able manner and the club membership appeared satisfied with his report. It is hoped no further report will be asked.

Visitors at the Tuesday meeting included Mrs. Karl Pederson of Matador and Miss Eloise Pharris of Shreveport, La.; C. B. Groves of Brady, former Matador club member; T. P. Metcalf, former Motley county agricultural agent and Bill Moss, Matador schools vocational agriculture teacher.

Provisions have been made this season by the school board for studios to be furnished Mrs. Whitworth and Mrs. L. D. Wilkinson, teacher of music. Students are permitted to take the private lessons any time their class schedules will permit. Passing grades are required before students will be allowed to take private instructions during school hours.

TRAIL DUST
 By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Time has seared the unrecorded tragedy until a new road cut across the rough, red and alkali flats. A bright and powerful blade cut the gypsium rock and uprooted the scrubby mesquite. At intervals the roadbuilders found signs of the grassed-over ruins and turned sharply across deep gorges and followed narrow paths but no rubber tire had traveled the route. Slowly the wagons of the pioneer left the dim trace on horse-train and easier roads had been blazed. Near the forgotten hill, on the side of a rocky hill, they found the small, unmarked grave. If the larger stone at the top had once bore markings, long years, the wind, the rain and snows had erased its message. No trace remained of the heartache and the path of pain that had been washed away by the flood of time. Not far away in the same white area another grave is shown. A cowboy's horse had stepped and pinned him beneath his weight. His comrades buried him as best they could and the grave had moved away. His name is not remembered. His young child and a cowboy who slept near each other thru long years in the lonely waste of land and the world forgotten that they once inhaled the sweet air and loved the beauty of wild flowers. They are left to remember that they sang and laughed; Wagons moved away and left dim trails.

wore a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Bourland, mother of the groom, was dressed in a navy blue crepe dress trimmed with navy sheer and wore a white carnation corsage.

Diabetes Declared As Class Disease

AUSTIN — Despite the fact that modern medicine can do much to help the diabetic live out a normal life span, nevertheless diabetes took a toll of several hundred lives in Texas during the past year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While deaths from the communicable diseases such as typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria, and smallpox are annually decreasing in this country, diabetes is still taking a tragic number of human lives each year, especially in the middle aged group," Dr. Cox said.

"Until recent years diabetes was not noted as a major health problem, but it became accepted as such in direct ratio to the development of medical laboratory procedures, which made the disease more easily diagnosed."

Dr. Cox said that diabetes is generally recognized as a class disease. It seems to attack the white collar class of indoor men and women much more frequently than it does the outdoor person whose work is more vigorous and calls for more exercise. Whatever the actual cause of the disease may be, vocational and economic conditions apparently are factors, since it seems a fact that those persons whose occupations call for manual labor and simple living are not frequently affected.

Dr. Cox stated that simple, wholesome diets, sufficient exercise and sleep are factors in the prevention of diabetes, and an annual physical examination, especially in middle aged persons, is important so that if the disease is present, competent treatment can be instituted while the disease is in its early stage.

Casa De Mexico Is Nearing Completion

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS — Casa de Mexico International Building, the only structure in the nation planned and constructed to house the activities of firms doing business with Latin-American countries, now is in the final stages of completion on West Houston Street in San Antonio.

First tenant to take up quarters in the million-dollar structure is the Consul General of Mexico in San Antonio, Gustavo Ortiz Hernan. Others who moved in during the past week were the Mexican government tourist bureau and the Mexican Chamber of Commerce.

The International Building was constructed by G. A. Lucchese, president of International Enterprises, and the development eventually will include a 2,500-seat motion picture theatre. Lucchese conceived the five-story structure and its 87 offices as a center for the "promotion of trade, travel, commerce and culture between the people of the United States and the people of Latin America."

Designed by the San Antonio architectural firm of N. Straus Nayfach & Co., the building has many unique details, some of which have been taken from San Antonio's historic missions. Many of the features are an interesting combination of Modern French and Mexican architecture. An auditorium with a seating capacity of 150 will be available for the building's tenants.

FINDS ANSWERS IN DIVINE WORD

BUFFALO — The Third World Convention of Churches of Christ was told recently the divine word offers answers to humanity's questions.

The Rev. Richard L. Williams of Melbourne, Australia, chairman of the Victorian Foreign Mission Board, said in a prepared speech:

"It is the divine word that offers ultimate answers to ultimate questions which, by reason of the nature of the problem, humanity is ever asking."

Mr. Williams said God "is ever in history working out His will and intention through the medium of His living and creative word."

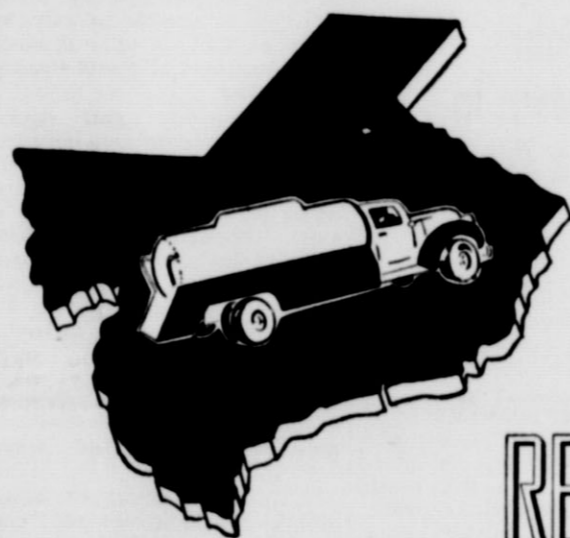

Mrs. Mary Ware of Christ Church, New Zealand, a leader in women's work in the Church of Christ in that country, told in a prepared address of the nation's effort to aid more than 93,000 Maori Polynesians in such categories as social security, health and education.

The Texas Butane Dealers Association Urges You—

"GET YOUR
Butane-Propane
System
READY FOR WINTER!"

Can your butane or propane tank serve you through the four winter months without refilling? The Texas Butane Dealers Association urges you to take stock now. If not, you may find yourself without heat in the coldest months of the year.

Hundreds of new industries developed during the war—plastics, synthetics, chemicals, etc.—have placed a tremendous demand for butane and propane all year round. On the other hand, domestic users burn four to seven times more gas in winter than in summer, but your dealer can furnish you very little more gas in cold months than in warm months. In order to balance this situation, heating gas users must plan to buy their winter supply at least four months ahead.

By doing this, your winter supply will be in your tank when you need it most. This situation is not new. The farmer has always stored grain early for winter. Housewives can summer foods for winter use. And by taking less time for your dealer's services, he can supply you and your neighbors more economically at the very time when road conditions are worst.

The Texas Butane Dealers Association urges you to drop in and see your local gas dealer as soon as possible. Consult him before you buy any system. He knows butane-propane, and will do everything he can to help you get ready for winter now.

"THERE IS GLORY ENOUGH FOR ANY MAN TO LIVE AND DIE A TEXAN."

Who Is the Richest Man in the World? Still Plenty of Candidates for the Title

NEW YORK — Great personal fortunes may be getting harder and harder to come by, but there are still plenty of candidates for the title "world's wealthiest."

Within four weeks last spring death claimed three seeded contenders for top rankings: North America's Henry Ford, South America's Simon I. Patino, and Britain's Marquess of Bute.

Inheritance taxes make sizeable claims on fortunes such as theirs, but the old cliché of death and taxes is only one part of the current outlook for multi-millionaires.

The recent war leveled a lot of gold piles. Income taxes trim others. Fortune's favorites, however are still far above the plain "well-to-do."

The man who may be the richest of all is the Nizam of Hyderabad, Sir Mir Usman Ali Khan, ruler of India's largest state and owner of the awesome rich Golconda diamond mines. He once attempted to assess his worldly goods but gave up the job as too complicated. Informal estimates place it all the way from $2,000,000,000 to $250,000,000,000.

A Vague Idea Between the man in the number one spot and lesser tycoons there is an extremely vague area.

Millionaires are usually pretty quiet about their fortunes. Publicity brings an avalanche of begging letters, crank threats and sometimes real personal danger.

Ford amassed a huge fortune, believed to be around $2,000,000,000. A number of years ago his automotive company was valued at around $800,000,000.

Patino, a Spanish-Indian peasant whose grub-stake grew into vast Bolivian tin mines, held a popular and rule-of-thumb rating "as one of the five richest men in the world." Friends claim he tossed $200,000,000 to Bolivia's government between 1932 and 1937 to help finance one side of the bloody Chaco war with Paraguay.

Taxes Take a Cut British inheritance taxes will gnaw a huge hole in the enormous inherited wealth of the fourth Marquess of Bute, Scottish nobleman who died in April.

He was probably the wealthiest man in the United Kingdom, with estimated capital of $240,000,000. In 1938 he sold one-half of the city of Cardiff, Wales, for about $80,000,000. Britain's recent socialization of mines undoubtedly has affected the Bute family income, but the Marquess used to rely on his coal holdings for annual royalties of about half a million dollars.

The senior John D. Rockefeller, when he died in 1937, left $25,000,000 as a personal fortune. He had given away during his life-time more than half a billion dollars, and executors' assays are based on current market values of securities and current demand for real estate and objects of art. His heir, John D. Rockefeller Jr., has continued philanthropy with a liberal hand, frequently through funds and foundations set up during his father's lifetime.

Silent On Fortune's Size Axel Wenner-Gren, Swedish financier with international interests, is quiet about the size of his fortune, but abandons his rather mysterious seclusion occasionally to announce his interest in multi-million dollar deals. Recently cleared by the U. S. State Department of a wartime blacklisting, he announced his interest in syndicate-buying of a suburban railroad line into New York City. He subsequently withdrew from the project.

brackets is Armenian Calouste S. Gulbenkin, whose international interests include a large hunk of Middle East oil company shares. Another man of enormous and uncomputed wealth is the famed Aga Khan, noted as a breeder and racer of blooded horses. On his jubilee last year, the 234-pound ruler was presented, following tradition, with his weight in diamonds. The anniversary gift was valued roughly at $3,000,000, which the potentate casually and promptly presented to the poor and underprivileged of his little Indian domain. The business of being a ruler has other monetary advantages; his used bathwater is sold for a good price to devoted and worshipping subjects.

Fortunes Divided Any number of great fortunes built in America, have been divided among heirs who in turn increased their holdings. For instance, the Du pont de Nemours family fortune was founded by 19th Century Pierre Samuel. Today the Du Ponts are a family of very wealthy men, heading many corporations and having widely diversified interests. It is practically impossible to estimate Du Pont wealth. Doris Duke, frequently referred to as "the richest girl in the world," may be that, but her large fortune is just a part of that started by the late James B. Duke, tobacco king who started Americans smoking cigars in quantity. When Duke retired in 1912, his business was worth $316,000,000.

Hermann Goering probably was one of the world's richest men—for a short period. Now Goering is dead and his widow, Frau Emmy, is living on civilian German rations. His fortune is being returned to its original, rightful owners.

During July, August and September, the meat in pecans is developing, which means that the trees need regular watering at intervals of 12 to 14 days. This is the time of year when animals often get prussic acid poisoning when turned on grasses whose growth have been stopped or retarded by drought, trampling or overgrazing. Smart stockmen are feeding hay before turning cows on pasture.

FORMER ROARING SPRINGS BOY WEDS MISS PATRICIA BOTTOMS

(Delayed)

Miss Patricia Bottoms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Bottoms, was married to Mr. Jack Nichols of Pampa, in a twilight ceremony at the home of her mother, Mrs. N. W. Walton, 901 1/2 3rd St., Quannah, at 8:00 o'clock Sunday evening August 17. Mr. Nichols is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Nichols of Roaring Springs, Texas.

Rev. Edgar Henshaw, pastor of the Episcopal Church performed the double ring ceremony before an improvised altar of greenery and silver baskets of white gladiolus. Silverandelabra holding burning white candles graced the mantel.

Soft music was played on an old fashioned organ by Mrs. Albert Wells. Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Wells sang "Benedictus" by D. Hardelot, accompanied by Mrs. Wells at the organ. During the ceremony, the wedding march "Lohengrin" by Wagner and "At Dawning" by Cadman was played softly. The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white satin designed with an off-shoulder neckline outlined by a deep fold of satin, long tight sleeves which tapered to a point over her hands. A fitted bodice, and a very full skirt worn over a hoop, which swept into a graceful train. Her fingertip veil of imported bridal illusion fell in full circular tiers from a bandeau of the illusion and satin. For something old, the bride wore a diamond necklace belonging to her aunt. She also wore the traditional something borrowed and something blue. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis from which fell satin streamers tied in lovers knots.

The bride's attendants, Miss Yvonne Hendrix of Fort Worth and Miss Olinda Rae Hooten of Cooper, cousins of the bride, wore all white dresses fashioned after that of the bride's with white satin bandeau and a white Aster in their hair. They carried bouquets of white Asters and tulle.

The groom was attended by his brother, Claude Nichols as best man.

Mrs. Nichols is a graduate of Quannah High School and receiving her degree at N. T. S. T. C., Denton. She was a member of Gammadion society, Junior Mary Arden and Senior Mary Arden clubs.

Mr. Nichols attended W. T. S. C., Canyon and the University of Texas.

Speeding through an intersection stop sign, one of these drivers collided with another car. The force of the crash entangled the two cars and they skidded together across the intersection and slammed into a stone wall. Both drivers and a passenger were killed, two were injured. National Conservation Bureau reports that disoriented control devices ranks third as a cause of death in motor accidents.

After the couple cut their wedding cake, they left for a short wedding trip after which they will be at home in Pampa.

YOUR STATE TAXES DOUBLED

The State Tax Rate This Year is 72c On $100 Valuation

Last Year the Rate Was 37c

Who Said, "No New Taxes"?

VOTE! VOTE! VOTE!

Saturday, August 23rd

AGAINST

An Additional 5c Tax

On Saturday, August 23, an amendment to the constitution of the State of Texas will be voted on to allocate 5c of the authorized 7c Confederate pension tax to finance a building program for State owned colleges other than the University of Texas and Texas A. & M.

An Additional Tax

"They" say this is not a new tax, but you have not been paying it for many years. It certainly will be an additional tax you have not been paying. If voted by the people of Texas on August 23, it will be added to your 72c State tax, making a total of 77c on the $100 valuation.

Small Taxpayers Pay

The veteran, the farmer, the small home owner, the laborer, the small business man, everybody will have to pay this 5c tax in addition to the 72c State tax, if this amendment carries. This State tax is in addition to local taxes—County taxes—School taxes—City taxes—and perhaps others.

Will Not Provide Buildings

If passed, this 5c additional tax will not provide adequate and sufficient buildings of today's cost of construction. In the next 10 years West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon MIGHT get $487,200. The College of Mines at El Paso MIGHT get $423,000. Sul Ross at Alpine MIGHT get $189,000. Texas Technological College at Lubbock MIGHT get $1,500,000 in these 10 years.

An Unnecessary Tax

This is an unnecessary tax. By a division of the so-called Permanent University Fund more buildings can be built at all the State owned colleges than this tax will provide. They also can be built much sooner. And the State University and Texas A. & M. still can get more buildings than they can use.

42 Counties Exempt

42 of the State's richest counties pay no ad valorem taxes for State purposes. None of these counties are in West Texas.

W H W

Should you pay another unnecessary 5c tax when 42 of the State's 284 counties will not be paying to help our State colleges.

Help Colleges—Vote Against

You will actually be helping all 14 of our State colleges if you vote against this amendment. All these colleges can and will get more money by regular appropriations if this amendment is defeated than they could get by the passage of this 5c tax amendment. Your vote against the amendment will help instead of hurt these 14 State colleges.

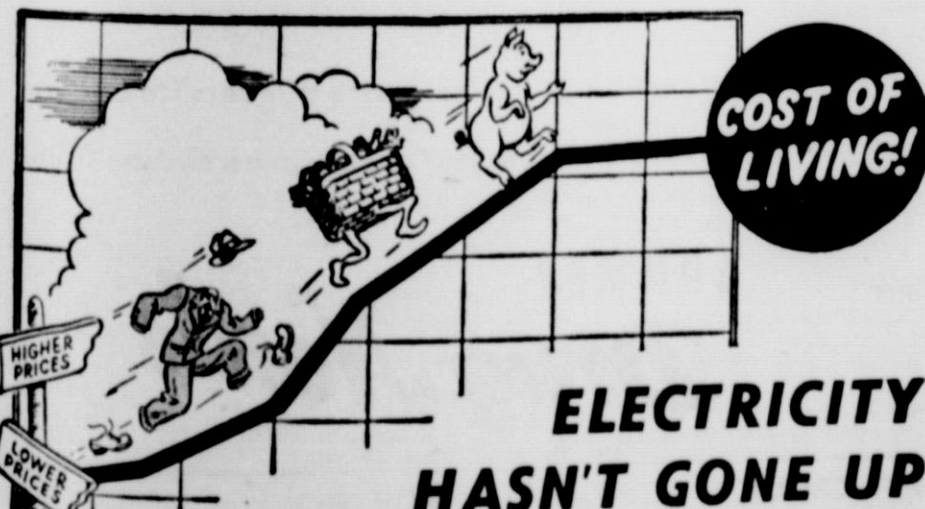

DON'T BE LED ASTRAY

Do not be led astray by this proposed amendment which levies a 5c tax on your property for 30 years and saddles a $45,000,000 debt on you and all other taxpayers. If passed, this amendment will open the flood gates of the State treasury to dozens of new colleges and you again will pay the bill.

Go Vote Saturday, August 23rd

ELECTRICITY HASN'T GONE UP

It takes a lot of dollars these days to buy most of the items covered in the family budget—food, clothing, housing, etc. Spent for electric service, your dollars actually go further than before. This is true in spite of the fact that costs of operation and maintenance have gone up and up with almost everything else, except the hire of money.

Living costs continue to increase, yet the average cost of a kilowatt hour of service to residential customers has decreased 32.6 per cent since 1933.

HOME DEMONSTRATION NOTES
By Mary K. Rattan

Here's a late August and early check list for your flower garden:

1. Cut old blossoms and seed pods from crepe myrtle and other plants. It will keep them blooming longer.
2. Make out your list of bulbs to plant this fall. An early order gets the choice ones.
3. Order flower seeds to be planted this fall. Calendula, larkspur, snapdragon, phlox, petunia, dianthus, pansy, stock, hardy poppies, cornflower, scabiosa and candytufts are recommended.
4. Chrysanthemums are heavy feeders; they need a monthly shot of commercial fertilizer and plenty of water. Stake plants. Pinch off some of the early buds.
5. If you have any thin spots in the lawn, mow the grass high, fertilize and water.
6. After perennial phlox and verberna have passed their glory cut the tops back pretty severely, fertilize and water for lots of late blooms.
7. Trim back limbs and twigs from shrubs and shade trees that are growing out of proportion for the rest of the plant.
8. While your plants are still in bloom make a few notes on the changes you will want to make for next season.

ORCHARDS

Those interested in planting a new orchard this fall, winter or early spring might be interested in a few pointers on selecting the site.

The big point to remember is getting the soil in good shape early enough that late summer and fall rains can put the finishing touches on the ground so that it will be ready when planting time comes around. Drainage and soil type are two things to watch in selecting that orchard location now. Since fruit trees don't like "wet feet," both top and sub-soil must have good drainage. Land with a slight slope to the north-east is good, since such a slope protects the trees from prevailing winds and still offers thorough drainage.

Growers have found that good orchard soil has these qualities: moderately rich (over-rich soil may cause too fast a vegetative growth); high in organic matter; a pH, or acidity rating of 6.5 to 7, completely free of such trouble makers as nematodes, cotton root rot, oak root rot, crown gall or bermuda grass. Most fruit trees produce in many different soil types if drainage and airing is good. However, it is better if the orchards have 12 to 18 inches deep sandy or sandy loam soil, with well drained sandy clay soil underneath.

The smart orchardist, when he selects a new site, goes ahead to terrace the land, pulverize the soil, plant an adapted winter legume, fertilize and set stakes where the trees are to go.

Mrs. Clifford Webb and daughters Patsy and Judith returned to their home in Los Angeles, California after a two weeks visit in the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Plumlee.

Week end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Sheridan were their son, Patsy and Wellbourn Willingham from Texas Tech.

The bride wore a blue two-piece suit and brown accessories. Only attendants were Mrs. Ivy L. Dickinson of Roswell and Mrs. Arlene Turner.

Following the ceremony the couple left for a two weeks trip to points in New Mexico.

Before her marriage Mrs. Campbell was employed at the Chicken Village in Lubbock. Mr. Campbell is manager of Burton Lingo Lumber Co., in Matador.

Silvaire Four Plane Shown In Oklahoma Preview

STILLWATER, Okla.—Luscombe Airplane Corporation entered the four-place field in the lightplane industry here recently with a sneak preview of the new all-metal Silvaire Four, a utility craft capable of carrying four passengers and 100 pounds of baggage.

L. H. Klotz, Luscombe president, has promised nationwide demonstrations of the new plane early this fall. He said it would be sold at a competitive price.

Known as the Silvaire Four, the plane is a high-wing, multi-purpose, all-metal ship created and designed by Luscombe in its Dallas, Texas, factory. Although the ship is revolutionary in aviation history, providing more cargo space, increased visibility and small-field adaptability, aviation authorities recognize in the new plane many major features developed by Luscombe during the past 13 years. The proven construction and performance of the two-place Silvaire have been used as the basis of the new ship.

The Silvaire Four rounds out the line of all-metal ships being produced by Luscombe. Klotz said. More than 1,000 all-metal two-place Silvaire's manufactured before the war and several thousand turned out since V-J day now are in use all over the world, he stated.

Equipped with a 165-horsepower engine, the plane has a quick take-off, fast rate of climb, a cruising range of more than 500 miles, and low landing speed. Cruising speed is approximately 130 miles an hour. Gas and oil operating costs have been estimated at less than 1¢ per passenger mile.

The plane is equipped with exceptionally wide seats, with plenty of leg room between the front and rear seats. The two front seats are adjustable. All seats are removable to permit easy loading of large cargoes through the wide doors to the more than 55 cubic feet of cargo space available in the plane. The ship is capable of carrying the pilot, 600 pounds of cargo, and a full load of gas in the two wing tanks.

Approximately 3,716 square inches of window area provides round-the-clock visibility in the new Silvaire Four. This is equal to the window area of most popular priced automobiles. Included is a one-piece windshield that gives maximum vision range over the nose and a large rear window. Two windows in the top of the cabin give full vision overhead.

The front door windows open. Additional ventilation is obtainable through ducts and a vent over the rear seat.

A flexible landing gear adaptable to rough terrain and "cow-pasture" fields increases the general utility of the plane. Klotz stated that the Silvaire Four was designed to meet all-around flying requirements. Its durable, all-metal construction and small-field capabilities will appeal to flying farmers, charter flight operators, business executives, sportsmen, and for general family use, he said. The body, wings, and tail are made of high strength aluminum alloys, a type of construction that Luscombe has pioneered in the light plane field for 13 years.

LOST RACE OF MEN IS FOUND

LOS ANGELES — A band of amateur archeologists announced today that they have discovered a lost civilization of men nine feet tall in California Caverns. Howard E. Hill, spokesman for the expedition, said the civilization may be "the fabled lost continent of Atlantis."

Mummies Are Found
The caves contain mummies of men and animals and implements of a culture 80,000 years old but "in some respects more advanced than ours," Hill said.

He said the 32 caves covered a 180-square-mile area in California's Death Valley and southern Nevada.

"This discovery may be more

Tribune, Matador, Matley County, Texas, Thursday, August 21, 1947

important than the unweaving of King Tut's tomb," he said. Skeptical of Story

Professional archeologists were skeptical of Hill's story. Los Angeles county museum scientists pointed out that dinosaurs and tigers, which Hill said lay side by side in the caves, appeared on earth 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 years apart.

Hill said the caves were discovered in 1931 by Dr. F. Bruce Russell, Beverly Hills physician who literally fell in while sinking a shaft for a mining claim.
