RAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

There was a period in his life when the tall man sang in his and his eyes laughed at the sky of white clouds and the sky. It was before he met the brown-eyed girl who loved the haunted his eyes. Youth was a bowl of wine in her hands and the wine was no longer young. He hurt in silence and put hands around the soft throat. He never spoke of the and the fires that dumped news into his thoughts. The went on into the world with dreams of lasting happiness. The farmer returned to his the white clouds and the blue skies.

Hands of a clock hold buckets filled with time are dumped endlessly over of the past. The contents more precious than diamonds light and used in the always instant.

Flomot Man Injured in Boll Puller

Herbert Martin of Flomot is reported in good condition in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, after surgery for injuries received Monday while operating a boll puller on his farm.

His left foot slipped as he started to mount his tractor, and fell into the boll puller, which crushed the foot while holding it in a vise. The bones were broken just above the ankle, examination revealed.

The accident happened at noon, just as a helper, Louis Gordon was preparing to leave for lunch. Gordon released the maimed foot and rushed the injured man to Lockney General Hospital for emergency treatment. Martin was conveyed by ambulance from there, to Lubbock.

The Tribune is authorized to announce John Stotts as a candidate for Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector in Motley County subject to the action of the democratic primary, May 4th, 1968.

Mr. Stotts, who held the office for ten years, and was a deputy sheriff five years previous to that, said regarding his announcement: "Most of the people of Motley County know me and are familiar with my policies as a sheriff."

"I do want to say, however, that I am very grateful to my friends who have supported me in the past, and I again ask their aid in this campaign."

"As to my qualifications, I believe my past record in the office is a matter of public knowledge. In event I am elected, I promise to fulfill the duties and responsibilities of the office to the best of my abilities, with fairness to everyone."

"I wish to take this means of thanking everyone in advance who may find it possible to support my race in any way."

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bird returned home Tuesday of last week from a trip to Virginia, Maryland, and Washington, D. C. They attended the wedding of her niece, Linda Arnold, daughter of Col. and Mrs. E. V. WHISKERS BLOWING IN THE WIND, Santa stands with his arm around Lions Queen Frances Martin just before the start of the parade Saturday afternoon.

Crowds Brave Cold For Annual Parade

EVERYONE but Santa was cold Saturday during the Matador Lions Club's annual Christmas parade. A bitter north wind cut across the foothill country to chill the large crowds that braved the elements to see Santa Claus, the floats and other entries.

A Nativity theme float from Patton Springs won the first prize, the Matador Boy Scout float was awarded second place and another Nativity float entered by Eternas Study Club was awarded third place.

Judges said that the Christmas theme was used as a basis for making awards, while many other interesting and worthy entries were presented in the annual event.

Lions Club officials expressed their gratitude to every one who participated, with special thanks going to the Patton Springs High School Band, under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Marshall, the Matador Drum and Bugle Corps, and all the organizations and individuals who aided in the success of the parade.

J. R. Whitworth Honored by Band

One outstanding feature of the parade was a special honor to J. R. Whitworth of the First State Bank, on the event of his birthday. The honor was by the Patton Springs Band with Mrs. Marshall presenting the banker with a decorated cake, while the band played "Happy Birthday." She announced that the band wanted to publicly thank Mr. Whitworth "for his many favors to the band during past years."

Santa Has Busy Time

Despite the cold, hundreds of children, accompanied by parents, other relatives or friends, crowded the Santa Claus float to see Santa. The Lions had prepared 350 bags of candies, nuts and fruit to distribute to the little boys and girls who came to see Santa. The bewhiskered and kindly old gentleman gave them all away and ran out for the last 40 or 50 small visitors.

Original plan was to use the American Legion Building after the weather turned disagreeable, but by some "mixup" no key was obtained and the float was stopped in front of the building and Santa started talking with little folks.

APOLOGIES: Among the cold casualties during the Santa parade was Tribune photographer, Douglas Meador.

His numb hands were unable to properly operate the camera. Only a few of the many pictures made were good enough to reproduce. Shivering hands accounted for most of the shots being blurred.

Clyde Gilbert to Seek Re-Election

The Tribune is authorized to announce Clyde Gilbert as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Commissioner, Precinct No. 1 of Motley County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, May 4, 1968.

"In seeking re-election, I promise to continue the same policies, striving at all times to serve the people of Motley County in the most efficient manner possible."

"I am familiar with the duties of the office and feel that my record is known to the voters of Precinct No. 1."

"I would like to thank in advance, those who find it possible to support my race in any way. I especially want the voters to know of my appreciation for their favors in the past."
