

Flomot Irrigation Well Being Tested

Flows 300 Gallons For 24-Hour Period

WATER, the precious fluid which contains the hopes, dreams and welfare of the empire of West Texas, is flowing at the rate of 300 gallons per minute from a new irrigation well on the H. S. (Put) Gilbert farm west of Flomot and only about 1 1/2 miles north of Quitaque Peaks.

On test runs Mr. Gilbert has produced 300 gallons per minute for 24 hours and more for shorter periods. He said Monday that he believed the well might produce 600 gallons per minute with a different type of well casing and after it has been properly treated. (He placed 500 pounds of dry ice in the well yesterday afternoon).

Water from the well, which is slightly over 80 feet in depth, is "sweet, cold and good as plains water" according to visitors who have sampled it. It was drilled by a firm of Quitaque drillers. So enthused is Mr. Gilbert with the success of his well, which has cost him less than $2,500 to drill and equip, he has "spudded in" a larger one on his farm northeast of his first irrigation attempt. Mr. Gilbert had 14 acres of fertile land which he expects to irrigate from the recently-completed well. Water sand "was struck" at about 40 feet.

Many experienced in irrigation has visited the well and declare it producing water in sufficient quantities to be profitable. It is located in a valley of the Cap Rock foothills, believed to be an ancient river bed. It is only about 1/4 mile east of the Floyd county line.

Mr. Gilbert is convinced there is a large area in the Flomot community which can be placed under irrigation. Photographs (if good) of the new irrigation well will be published in a subsequent issue of the Tribune.

Exservicemen To Be Named On Tax Board

Matador city property owners will soon receive a notice to appear before a city tax equalization board to show reason why the tax value of their property should not be raised.

The board will be composed entirely of exservicemen who are themselves resident property-owners, returned from uniform to take their places and make their homes in the community.

(Not all property owners will receive a notice to appear before the board, nor is any attempt being made to raise taxes. The action is merely the annual meeting of an equalization board and the only deviation from the past will be that the three members will be ex-servicemen.)

NEW OFFICE EMPLOYEE
Jalmer (Jinks) Wilson has been employed in the office of Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector John Stotts and began his duties July 1. He has been employed as deputy tax collector and assessor.

To Open Meeting

Minister Ted Norton, above, will open a summer meeting at the Roaring Springs Church of Christ Tuesday night, July 13, which will continue thru Friday night, July 23. Minister Norton is from Wichita, Kansas. He will deliver forceful, sincere Bible messages each evening (services begin at 8 p. m.) The church has been equipped with a new air-conditioning unit and church-goers are assured of comfort throughout the entire meeting.

West Texas Buys Dobkins Gin Plant

A deal was culminated last week in which West Texas Gin Company purchased the Dobkins gin at Glenn, (Dickens county) Texas, from Glenn Dobkins. Amount of the transaction was not disclosed.

The gin was established 20 years ago by Mr. Dobkins' father, the late E. Dobkins. The new owners acquired immediate possession of the property.

Management will be by R. D. Holly, formerly associated with Mr. Dobkins. Sale of the gin last week broke a line of gin ownership in the Dobkins family which lasted 65 years. Mr. Dobkins did not disclose his future plans, except to say he would probably remain in Glenn where his home is located and where he owns farming property.

EMPLOYED AT CLINIC
Miss Danny McRay of Patton Springs began duties last week as nurse at the Stanley Clinic.

Mrs. Luther Griffin of Lubbock accompanied by her daughter Mrs. J. D. Bray and sons of Wolfroth visited here Tuesday with her father John Lee.

COWBOY SAYS GOODBYE to his horse in this picture of "Wilhorse" Melvin Warren, who quit as wagon boss of the Matador ranch wagon, June 23, to re-enter the armed service. Warren had spent over 16 years in the saddle. In the above photograph he is taking the saddle off his horse for the last time. Warren placed his saddle and bed roll in an automobile belonging to another cowboy and, after eating his last meal of sour-dough biscuits, Matador beef and camp coffee, drove to Matador. He was overseas for 33 of his 39 months in service but returned directly to the saddle after his release. He is now taking a refresher course in Ft. Ord, California. Warren said he liked the service and felt that it offered more opportunity than a future of "cowpunching."—Photo by Douglas Meador.

City Audit Completed

First audit of the city of Matador in four years has been completed by J. T. Hamilton. Two neatly prepared and bound copies of the audit were submitted in person to city officials by Mr. Hamilton at the regular Tuesday night council meeting.

The city's total revenue for the four years from all sources was $86,202.63. The total expense for the period was $65,204.59 and excess over revenue in the period was $20,998.04. Last year the city's total revenue was $26,916.01, in 1946 it was $21,772.55, in 1945 the total revenue was $18,647.63 and in 1944 the city took in a total of $18,866.44. Revenue over expense last year was $10,069.29 or almost as much as the revenue over expense of the previous three years.

A detailed explanation of the audit will be published in a subsequent issue of the Tribune.

Comments on the city's condition by Mr. Hamilton commended City Secretary Howard Edmondson for the efficient manner in which he has kept his records. He also made the following comment on the city's condition at the end of the period, March 31, 1948: "Your city at the end of the period under audit is in good financial position. The bank accounts of each department has a substantial balance. Your obligations have consistently been paid when due and at the present rate of retirement your street improvement bonds (five blocks WPA project) will be retired within two years. Your water department bonds are being retired as rapidly as your bond retirement agreement requires. All in all, your city is in good financial condition which shows careful and efficient management by your executive officers."

Implement Company Has New Employee

Leon Smallwood, exserviceman, has returned to civilian employment here. He assumed his new duties Tuesday with the Matador Implement Company as mechanic. Mr. Smallwood has had wide experience as a farm machinery mechanic. He will appreciate meeting his friends in his new place of employment.

Mrs. George Springer and Mrs. Eddie Russell visited over the week-end in Denton with Mrs. Springer's daughters, Barbara and Gladys. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dodson and son Mike of Lubbock are here visiting with her mother Mrs. I. N. Plumlee.

Dickens Schedules Roping Contests

Some exciting matched calf roping is scheduled at Dickens for Saturday night, July 10 (8:30 p. m.) when Tinge Williams of Mobeetie, Texas meets Fred Albright of Guthrie. The winner will receive a $1,500 prize.

Team roping is scheduled between Crosby County Roping Club and Dickens County Roping Club. Six cowboys from each team will each rope one steer in a ribbon contest for a $100 prize. Admission to the roping is 50c and $1.25, tax included.

Recruiting Team Back From Japan

A recruiting team composed of members of the 1st Cavalry and the 11th Airborne Divisions, currently on duty in Japan, will be in Lubbock July 11, 12, according to M. Sgt. O. D. Christensen, in charge of the local recruiting office. Members of the team will gladly answer questions from those interested in entering the service, regarding the duty with their respective units. Full information may be obtained from Sgt. Christensen at the court-house.

Miss Elvia and Delmar Lynn Webb of Los Angeles, California are here visiting with relatives.

Lions Hear Report On Boys State

Detailed account of his experiences at Austin while attending Boys State, by Billy Ray Neighbors, provided the principal address for first regular meeting of the Matador Lions club under new Boss Lion E. P. Reeves. The meeting and luncheon was held in the Methodist church basement. The fried chicken dinner, topped by ice cream and cake was served by the Methodist ladies.

Scout Neighbors, who was co-sponsored by the Lions and American Legion, to represent the county at Boys State, provided an interesting account of his week's activities spent at the capitol. He enjoyed the "politics" of the group. Boys from the entire state meet at Austin's School for the Deaf to conduct the youngster government for a week.

Boss Lion Reeves waived the appointment of committees at the beginning of the club's new fiscal year, declaring they would be announced in the near future.

New member welcomed into the club was Rev. M. G. Brotherton, Methodist pastor. The program was sponsored by Scoutmaster Lion Forrest Campbell.

County Escapes 4th Holiday Fatality As Nation Claims Third Worst Record

No tragedy marred the long July 4th holiday for Motley county residents, according to Sheriff John Stotts, but the nation did not fare so well. The three-day Fourth of July week-end brought violent death to at least 517 persons throughout the nation, according to press reports, to chalk up the third worst 4th of July record in history.

The overall safety showing was the poorest since 1941 and the third worst in 20 years.

A final survey showed these violent deaths occurred from 6 p. m. (local time) Friday and Monday midnight: Traffic 306, drownings 192, fireworks 4 and miscellaneous caused 69.

The overall total was exceeded by the record total of 628 in 1941 and 596 in 1939.

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Ketchersid and daughter and son, Barbara and James visited in Lubbock with Miss Chareen Ketchersid last Wednesday who is attending Tech this summer. They also visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moss of Floydada. Barbara remained for a visit in their home.

The traffic toll was the third highest in 20 years—exceeded only by the 1941 toll of 384 and the 1947 toll of 310.

The 192 drownings was the highest total from this cause in 20 years.

The four fireworks fatalities marked the first deaths from this cause since 1940.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety council, said in commenting on the 1948 safety showing:

"The nation had ample warning of the highway hazards that awaited holiday motorists. News papers and radio stations did their level best to help authorities hold down the death toll, but once again a shocking and tragic death toll proves that the advice was not generally heeded."

City To Try Truck In New Cleanup Drive

If any delayed 4th of July fireworks were anticipated at the Tuesday night Matador city council meeting, they failed to materialize. Instead the city is off on a new start in trying to establish a permanent cleanup plan which meets the approval of the citizens and at the same time be within the scope of the city's power to finance through assessments on water bills.

When the cleanup plan question was handed to the council, Mayor Douglas Meador made no suggestions except to urge that some method be established. Councilman Albert Rattan suggested that some truck owner be employed for a month to give the truck plan a trial.

Councilman E. B. Jinks said that he favored the purchase of a dump truck of the type used by the State Highway Department. He said he did not know the cost of the type truck he had in mind.

City Secretary Howard Edmondson said that former city employee E. B. Chambliss had told him it required more time to unload the trailer which was drawn by a tractor in the city's former plan, than was required to load it.

It was suggested that the same type of collection for cleanup service advocated in the tractor-trailer plan, be used in the truck plan. No businessman or homeowner would be asked to pay until the cleanup service had been rendered.

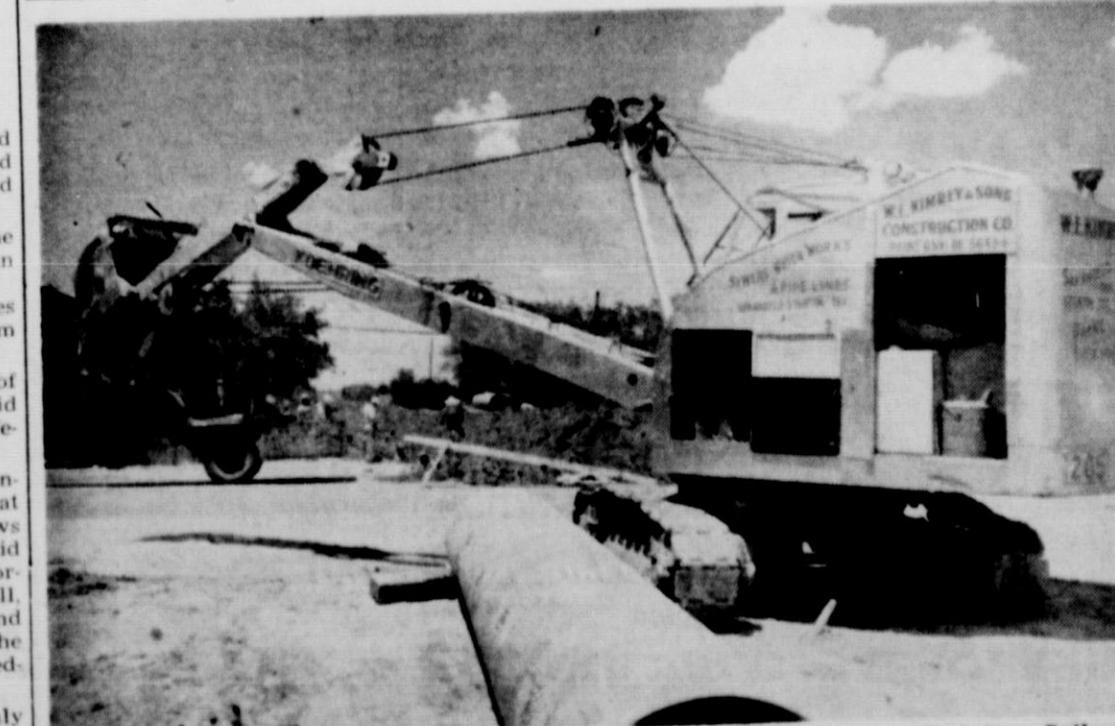

No action was taken in the establishment of the new plan, except an agreement to "look for a man and a truck" between the members. It was estimated that the amount of revenue which might be obtained from the cleanup service would be $200 to $300 per month.

No friction whatever resulted between the mayor and council members. Meador had said at an earlier meeting that he did not believe one man with a truck could pickup the garbage, trash, junk and etc. and had advocated the tractor with loader, blade and trailer arrangement.

After a month trial the plan was discarded last week by the action of four council members. The tractor has been returned to the Braselton Implement Company, Roaring Springs and E. B. Chambliss, employed for the 30-day trial period, has been removed from the city pay-rolls. No attempt was made to collect for the trial period, which was declared unsatisfactory.

A heavy agenda of business (requiring almost four hours) awaited the council at the Tuesday night meeting. The cleanup plan discussion consumed but a moderate portion of time. It was agreed that when a suggested plan had been determined, the councilmen would be contacted or that a special meeting would be called.

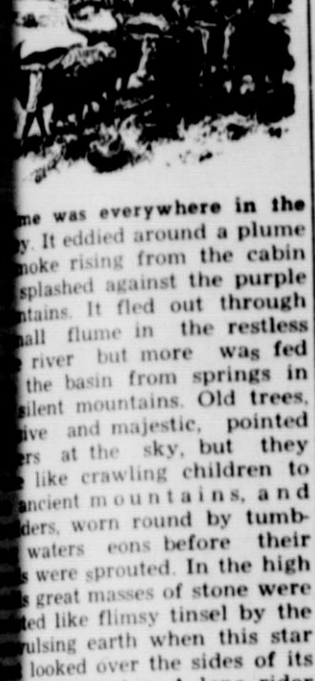

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Tomlinson and son Perry Allan of Lubbock visited Sunday and Monday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Groves and with his mother Mrs. W. R. Cammack.

BIG DIRT-BITER, above, was employed last week in cutting a storm sewer ditch near Ballard creek north of the Methodist church on Dundee street to a point on the south side of Highway 70, a part of Matador city street improvement program. The shovel was operated by W. E. Kimerly of San Angelo. The digger was at the northeast corner of the Motley hotel when above photograph was made. In the background may be seen members of the Phillips Paving Company labor crew placing the big 30-inch pipe in the ditch almost as rapidly as it was dug. The ditch-digging equipment is still in Matador and will be used again in the street construction. The ditch-digging was sub-contract from the Phillips Company, original contractors.—Photo by Douglas Meador.

RAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

It eddied around a plume of smoke rising from the cabin as he fled out through the restlessness of the river but more was fed the basin from springs in silent mountains. Old trees, stately and majestic, pointed their heads at the sky, but they were like crawling children to the ancient mountains, and their feet, worn round by tumb-waters eons before their heads were sprouted. In the high places great masses of stone were piled like flimsy tinsel by the rousing earth when this star looked over the sides of its cradle of creation. A lone rider reached the cabin and secured his horse to the rail fence. At the gate he was met by a slender man who yielded willingly to his grace. Hand in hand they climbed the shadows climb a studded wall and the day's last saucer of light into night. Moments were charmed pieces of a diamond being peeled from the precious hour. Their whispered words were the sounds of winds in the trees; the stars like buttons of the gossamer web of a tent over their love. They knew their eternities were dust on their feet.

Only the irony of deliberate they could have secured the spurs to a plow share. Rich soil that had once been a round-ground, being tilled in preparation for another crop, had revealed the emblem of a passer-by. The herds have vanished and the cowboys who tended their clattering hoofs and horns. The trails have been covered under and fences are shored across the once open prairie. Never again will the spurs ring from the boot of a rider; never again will they find its mate. More fitting to find in a collection case might have been the dreams and the hopes of the unknown cowboy who lost it.

In the game of life we frequently make bets with such a profound lack of judgement that the event of winning we need to be told we did not lose. Often attempt to cross my rivers before I reach them and in some instances I have arrested myself from trying to swim while still in the water.

Politics should pay an amusement tax. Millions of people pay admission to shows with far fewer casts, inferior direction and equally as insipid acting, anyway I have no fears that the democrats will not remain in power. They do not win through their own planning but in spite of themselves at the Republican conventions. The Republicans, weighed down with water-logged timber which they can't remove, decide their place on the convention floor, and not at the ballot box. Only man who couldn't ride the mule to victory could be the genius who originated the new look.

Great minds have consistently declared that happiness cannot be purchased with money. They are perhaps correct but I would like to be able to afford a change in my brands.

LUBBOCK HOSPITAL

Gerald (Jerry) Fulkerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Fulkerson of Monahans, who has been visiting in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Meador, was rushed to a Lubbock hospital late Wednesday after he had developed a serious sinus condition earlier in the week. His parents and small sister, Nola Lee, were at his bedside shortly after his arrival at the hospital. Late reports describe his condition as serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Broils and family of Houston are visiting this week in the E. B. Brown home.

Will's Hospitality Isn't "Cracked"!

Ever since January, Will Dudley planned to give his living room that "new look"—planned to carefully refinish the woodwork and replaster the walls.

Every time Will got out the putty to start filling in the cracks, a neighbor stopped by to pass the time of day—and first thing you knew, there was a group of us helping Will do the job up right. After Will called a halt to the evening's work, we'd sit around the fire enjoying a friendly argument and a sparkling glass of mellow beer.

So Will's living room doesn't look like it did a year ago—but it's by far the most "livable" living room I know: A place you can always drop in for good talk, good beer, and a warm welcome.

From where I sit, so long as Will puts that atmosphere of hospitality and good fellowship ahead of everything else, we'll all be happy to help Will change the looks of his living room any time he wants.

It's A New One For You . . . Dig Up The Caprock And Milk The Clouds

Why not milk every cloud dry? Why not dig up the high plains? Why not dam up the escarpment on the eastern edge of the High Plains and increase the water supply?

His thinking is that it would not take a great organization to seed every likely cloud that comes above the caprock. The upsurges of air currents at the escarpment make it the gathering place of clouds that should be easily encouraged to give up their moisture.

Three airplanes and some powdered dry ice could do wonders, Bryan thinks. His idea is that counties could go in together on the expense, and if undertaken by a public agency, there would be little likelihood of running into suits for damages by people who did not want precipitation.

The weather Bureau of the Department of Commerce is authorized to make some experiments through the directive that makes it the responsibility of the bureau to "promote and develop meteorological science and foster and support research projects in meteorology through the utilization of private or governmental research facilities."

As to damming up the water above the escarpment which is commonly called the caprock, Bryan thinks it is as feasible as damming up rivers to hold water in reservoirs.

It would be by a process called "grouting." One wall, for example, could be dug, above the escarpment, through the water-bearing sands. Another would be drilled about fifty yards from it. Into one would be pumped concrete mixture that would remain in place by mixing with the sands, and not settle to the bottom. If water were present suction could be applied to the new well, while the mixture was being force-pumped into the other one. This would make an effective barrier against the water that now escapes, and is lost in the sands soon after leaving the caprock to become gyp water.

The cost of doing this from the crest of the caprock south and east to the Big Spring area, all the way around to the Big Spring area, if advisable, would run maybe $20,000,000, is his "horseback" opinion. The type of work would run about twice the cost of ordinary good highway per mile, is the rule of thumb he applies.

It is pointed out that most men of 25 are either World War II veterans and thus exempt from the draft, or in deferable status. This also holds true of the 24 and 23-year-olds, and most inductees will be men 22 or younger.

Selective service headquarters explained that the "birthday system" does not mean a greatly delayed call for men born in March, April or later in a year. It was pointed out that many local boards, in order to fill their quotas, will have to go "far into the calendar."

Inductions begin Sept. 22, but September calls are expected to be light and the 30,000-a-month rate set by military leaders will not be reached until October.

Draft Calls To Be Based On Birthdays Of Draftees

WASHINGTON — Selective Service officials said Wednesday that draft calls will go out to men in the 19-through-25 age group in the order of their birthdays.

Thus, it was explained, first induction notices will go to men whose birthday is Jan. 1, with calls proceeding on through the calendar to Dec. 31.

The age bracket to be called first has not been determined, but draft authorities said that it is expected to be done within the next week.

It was indicated that first calls may go to 25-year-olds, although comparatively few men of that age will be drafted.

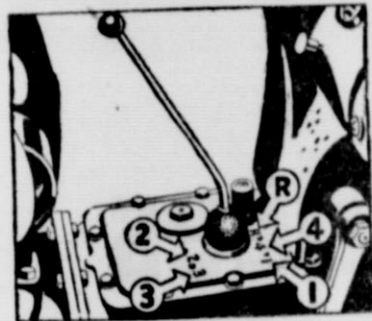

Officials pointed out that most men of 25 are either World War II veterans and thus exempt from the draft, or in deferable status.

This also holds true of the 24 and 23-year-olds, and most inductees will be men 22 or younger.

Be sure you'll like Ford's new 4-Speed Transmission

Maybe you enjoy slow farming . . . but there's no money in it. If I can show you faster farming . . . with no more work, you'll be interested, won't you?

All right, just take one feature of the Ford Tractor, the 4-speed transmission. On the road it'll give you up to 12½ miles per hour. In third speed (top field working speed), it'll give you 6 miles per hour. And so on down . . . each speed, even the reverse, is faster. Saves lots of hours in a year.

Won't you let me demonstrate this Ford Tractor (and its Dearborn Implements) on your farm? I have something special in parts and service, too.

SINGLE-SHOT COTTON PEST KILLER DEVELOPED AT WACO LABORATORY

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The Department of Agriculture reported Thursday that its cotton insect laboratory at Waco has developed a "single-shot" insecticide for cotton pests.

Cotton growers who have been losing one out of every seven bales of cotton as a result of insect damage may look forward to "spectacular results," officials said.

Instead of having to use a different insecticide for every cotton pest, farmers can spread the new all-purpose insect killer for "simultaneous control of all major injurious insects," the researchers reported.

Developed by K. P. Ewing, entomologist in the Waco laboratory, the new mixture was demonstrated last year in large-scale experiments near Wharton. The boll weevil had infested the region heavily, and aphids caused premature leaf shed. Entomologists described results of these experiments "spectacular."

Two insecticides, either of which was found to give all-purpose control of major pests, are 20 per cent chlorinated camphene and a mixture of 5 per cent DDT and benzene hexachloride containing 3 per cent of the gamma isomer, agriculture scientists reported.

Ewing also pointed out that the use of chlorinated camphene was accompanied by early squaring and maturing of the cotton.

"In an experiment at Waco where flea hopper infestation was medium to heavy, 10 per cent chlorinated camphene was used, and the cotton was ready for harvest approximately three weeks ahead of the sulphur-dusted or untreated cotton," he said.

John Morris of Dallas visited over the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Browning and at Whiteflat with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Morris. Mrs. Morris and son Jerry returned home with Mr. Morris Monday after visiting here for the past week with her parents and other relatives.

Miss Doris Stephens of Paducah has been visiting the past two weeks with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Stephens and also at Flomot with Miss Dede Barton.
