"Cotton Weather" During Past Week

Hot "cotton growing weather" has prevailed over this section during the past week, with the afternoon mercury ranging in the high 90's. Farmers declare it is ideal weather for the allimportant cotton crop, which appears extremely favorable due to additional rainfall

Thunder showers have been reported in scattered sections of the county during the week but no rainfall has been recorded here during the period.

Farmers in some areas say that feed crops would be improved by showers but that most row crops in the county are not "suffering".

Many observers believe that ton. The next bid was for $16, the county has excellent pros 500 and made by J. E. Russell pects for a good cotton crop for Mr. Jackson, Auctioneer without further rainfall, except "Col." H. H. Courtney explainin the case of loss from insects

Buildings Bought By J. M. Jackson As Rental Property

LARGEST real estate transac tion in Matador during recent years was negotiated Monday when J. M. Jackson, pioneer cowboy, range boss and man-ager of the Matador ranch for many years, purchased the Motley county temporary courthouse property. The cash consideration was $16,500. Mr. Jackson divides his time between Matador and Hot Springs, New Mexico.

First bid for the two brick orner buildings in the heart of Matador's business section was for $16,000 made by M. S. Pated that the commissioners' court reserved the right to reject any and all bids, and that the court require ten minutes to notify the bidder whether his bid was accepted or rejected. Mr. Russell's bid was accepted within the time.

Only Servel stays silent, lasts longer because it has a different, simpler freezing system. There's no machinery to make a sound, no motor to need fixing. A tiny gas flame does the work without a single moving part. That's why so many of America's almost 3,000,000 Servel-owning families report that their Gas Refrigerators are still on the job after 15, 18 and even 20 years.
