News Behind The News THE NATIONAL Whirligig

WASHINGTON By George Durso

Close and well-informed Washington observers are wondering if the power interests haven't overplayed their hand a bit in their fight against the administration-sponsored bill to abolish holding companies and otherwise federally regulate electricity and gas.

Excessive

For one thing, even some of the Senators and Congressmen who normally would oppose the measure are getting a bit fed up on the deluge of obviously planted mail that flows in on them daily.

Retreat

Those directing the scrap to sink the bill are greatly encouraged at the moment. The measure is divided into three sections. No. 1 would abolish holding companies in five years except where the Securities and Exchange Commission decreed otherwise. No. 2 would place public utilities operating companies under the thumb of the Power Commission. No. 3 would give the Federal Trade Commission control of natural gas.

LOCAL ATHLETES TO COMPETE IN DISTRICT MEET

GARDNER'S 'SQUAD NOT FAVORED

Abilene Looks Good; Local Outlook Dreary At All Points

Big Spring high school athletes will not be favored to annex many points at the district 5 track and field meet at Sweetwater Saturday. Hereofore, track and field aspirants at the local school were forced to contend with poor equipment and little coaching. This year, however, Gene Gardner has devoted a great amount of time to the track team and has a fair squad, but nothing flashy enough to threaten any records.

A late start and spasmodic training because of interference with spring football work hasn't given the youngsters much of a chance. Too, they have had no experience in tough competition this year.

Despite the dreary outlook, Gardner expects his squad of some thirteen men to make a very creditable showing.

Events and entrants follow: 100 yard dash—L. Madison, J. C. Compton and W. Whisenand. One mile run—A. Porter, W. A. Little, L. Brown and Bob Flowers. 220 yard dash—O. C. Gray, C. Whisenand, C. Sikes. 440 yard dash—O. C. Gray, C. Whisenand, C. Sikes and J. Horn. 880 yard run—B. Flowers, A. Porter, W. A. Little and J. H. Kimbrell. One mile relay—A. Porter, W. A. Little, B. Flowers and J. H. Kimbrell.

Running broad jump—L. Madison, J. C. Compton and J. H. Kimbrell. Discus throw—B. Flowers and J. Darwin. Running high jump—W. Bigony, A. Porter and W. A. Little. 12 pound shot put—B. Flowers and J. Darwin. Preliminaries will be run Saturday morning and finals Saturday afternoon.

Big Spring athletes hold three district records, but none of the pace-setters are back this year. Only two new records came out of the meet at Sweetwater last year. Elvie Stagner, of Colorado, now attending A. & M. college, was responsible for one when he ran the 880 yard dash in 2:05.2. Wade of Rotan took the other when he sent the discus 123 feet eight inches.

Other records follow: 120 yard high hurdles—Edwards, Big Spring, 1930. Time 15.7. 100 yard dash—Stevens, Abilene, 1924, and Morgan, Baird, 1927. Time 10 seconds. 220 yard low hurdles—McClinton, Snyder, 1932. Time 24.9 seconds. 440 yard dash—Stevens, Merkel, 1923. Time 52.2 seconds. 1 mile run—Reid, Big Spring, 1932. Time 4:42.8. 1 mile relay—Abilene (Cogdell, Wyatt, Paul Green, Baldwin), 1933. Time 3:36. Pole vault—Ashley, Dunn, 1932. Height 31 feet 5 inches. Broad jump—Stevens, Abilene, 1924. Distance 23 feet 8 inches. High jump—A. D. Porter, Rotan, 1933, and Little, Putnam, 1933. Height 6 feet 3-4 inch. Javelin throw—Harris, Big Spring, 1932. Distance 170 feet 8-1-2 inches. Shot put—Adams, Roscoe, 1928. Distance 46 feet 10 inches.

Abilene Eagles are favored to take the lion's share of points. Junior coach Ben Daniels has the following boys entered in the junior playground ball event: Fenton Williams, Odell Womack, Charles Ray Smith, J. W. Howard, Clayton Bettle, Harry Blomsheld, John Blomsheld, Weldon Bigony, Elmo O'Brien, DeWayne Cook, Jack Olliver, Charles Read, Charles Ray Settle, L. E. Bender, A. J. Prager, Jim Brigham, Thomas South, Floyd Dixon, Floyd Davenport, and Raymond Lee Williams.

Ben has had his boys playing teams entered in the Big Spring softball league. Coach Wayne Mathews will take a fair tennis team to the meet. Singles players are Preston Bligh and

WHO SAID PIRATES' PITCHING WAS WEAK? TRAYNOR FIGURES FLINGERS ARE HIS FORTE

By PIE TRAYOR
(Manager, Pittsburgh Pirates)
SAN BERNARDINO, Cal. (UP)—From the way the Pirates have been shaping up in spring training I would say we'll be up there fighting for the pennant this year.

To begin with our pitching, weakest link in the Pittsburgh club last year, has been improved to the point where it now promises to be the strongest. And our outfield has been bettered with the added extra-base hitting strength of Babe Herman.

I expect to see a lot of victories earned by two of our young pitchers, Cy Blanton, strikeout king of the International league, and John Salveson, whom we got in a trade with the New York Giants. Salveson has control and he now has needed major league experience.

Strong Club Staff
Of course, our real pitching strength is built around Guy Bush, who won 18 games and lost 11 with the Cubs last year. Waite Hoyt, who had a phenomenal record of 15 wins in 21 starts for only half of the 1934 season; Jim Weaver, who also came to us from Chicago, Bill Swift, Red Lucas and big Ralph Birkofer, our only southpaw. This strength, I believe, will more than offset the loss of Larry French.

As things shape up now, our outfield will be composed of left-handed hitters, but what hitters! There's Paul Waner, of course, who led the league last year with an average of .362. His brother, Lloyd, didn't do so well but we look for a great season from him in 1935. Herman's record speaks for itself. Babe finished strong last season with the Cubs and I am convinced he will like his new surroundings so well he'll be rattling the fences plenty.

Infield Remains Intact
I think our infield will be strong, too. Harry Lavagetto, after one season with us, promises to improve greatly at second. Arky Vaughan, at short, Gus Suhr at first and I will compete the infield. Besides, we have, among others, Tommy Thevenow, the best utility man in the league.

As for catching, Tom Padden showed me so much last year I don't think I'll have to worry about that spot since I also have Earl Grace and a fine young chap from Birmingham of the Southern association, Aubrey "Yo-Yo" Epps. Padden hit .321 last season and was the most improved player on the club.

That's the way the club lines up. If we can keep away from injuries we'll be right up there, giving the Cardinals, Giants and Cubs a bigger argument than they may have figured.

the Pirates' real pitching is built around him.

Spike's Oilers Register Win

Spike Henninger's Cosden Oilers came from behind in the eighth and ninth innings Wednesday to overpower in CCC Foresters, 11-8. The corps jumped into an early lead and led 6-1 until the fifth, but Henninger took the mound and the Oilers were able to overcome the disadvantage.

All the Cosdenites were in a hitting mood but only one circuit smash was marked up during the evening, that by Pepper Martin, "hot corner" artist of the Henningermen.

Knee Action Team Scores 10-9 Victory Over Type Lice

By HANK HART

The Herald Type Lice ran into a surprise package Wednesday on the Munny Park diamond and went down in defeat in their first practice tilt of the year, 10-9 before the smooth running attack of the Carter Chevrolet team.

The Herald, one of the favorites to cop the Munny crown, led until the seventh and final frame, but the Carterites found Red McMahan in that stanza and showedred base hits into all corners of the field. With the aid of Jeff Chapman, Harold mittman, who suddenly ran into a streak of wildness, the Carterites crossed the plate six times.

Glenn Guilkey, former Kiwanis twirler, was on the mound for the Type Lice for the first five innings and allowed only two runs, but the Krausmen found a "couain" in McMahan and tallied eight times during his stay on the rubber.

Jake Morgan and Miller Harris were the big guns in the Herald attack, both accounting for three bingles.

Rowe, Knee Action catcher, tallied once on three hits to tie with Morgan and Harris for hitting honors. Prentiss Bass, sub outfielder, enjoyed a perfect day when he rapped out bingles in two trips to the plate.

Harvey Kraus, veteran twirler, pitched the entire route for the victors despite an eight run attack in the third, fourth and fifth innings.

The Carterites runs were scored by Bass, who tallied twice, Hall, Black, Homer Hart, Hare, Watson and Forester.

The Oilers will meet the Mellinger Angels Sunday at 1:30 p. m. on the Park diamond.

Horned Frogs Play Baylor Bears Friday

Texas Christian Baseball Team Opens Conference Schedule

FORT WORTH (SpI)—The Texas Christian University baseball team will open its conference campaign Friday and Saturday against Baylor in Waco.

Coach Raymond E. "Bear" Wolf has announced that he will pitch either Dan Harston or Darrell Lester in the opener and Capt. Jimmy Jacks on Saturday. Harston and Jacks are both left-handers.

The Frogs, in their pre-conference games, have proved themselves a strong hitting aggregation, but the pitching staff has had difficulty in controlling their offerings. The Christians held the Fort Worth Cats to a 4-to-3 decision, out-hitting the professionals but walking in the winning run. Against the University of Oklahoma team T.C.U. dropped three out of four.

High Schools In Big Squabble Over Port Arthur Team

PORT ARTHUR (UP)—The athletic situation at Port Arthur high school has reached an impasse because the institution is the only one in Texas maintaining a 12-year system.

Officials at Beaumont, Goose Creek and Galveston contend that the extra-year in school gives Port Arthur an undue advantage in age and physical development. They are considering cancellation of all competition with the local school.

Athletic directors and school members in cities throughout District 14 of the Texas Interscholastic League have sought for four years to persuade Port Arthur to change back to the 11-grade system.

One of the oldest football rivalries in Texas, the annual Port Arthur-Beaumont game, is threatened unless an agreement is effected.

The honoree was the last to arrive. She found awaiting her a large basket decorated with the two colors in the center of the room. Streamers in rose and blue hanging to it from the chandelier made it the decorative feature of the party. In the basket was an assortment of lovely gifts brought by the guests.

After these had been passed around and admired, the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Iva Coleman, served ice cream and cake to the following:

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tingle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dane, Mmes. Jewel Strickland and Iva Coleman; Misses Ala Beatty and Polly Hewey; Messrs. John Paul Jones, W. E. Gibson and Dub Crawford.

Luther H. D. Club Is Given Demonstration On Clothes Storage

"Clothing must be well cared for if one is to look well dressed," said Miss Mamie Lou Parr, county home demonstration agent, in a demonstration Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Lawrence, Luther, on the care and storage of clothing.

Good storage equipment is necessary, she said, and added that it should consist of a closet with a light interior, rods for hanging garments. Shelves should be provided for doubled garments, a shoe rod for hanging footwear, a place for hats, she told club members. For better garments, Miss Parr advised the use of a garment bag or other covering.

Prevention of moth damage can best be accomplished by thorough cleaning of all garments before storing, she asserted. Cedarize closets, cedar chests or garment bags containing a moth repellent make for ideal storage, said Miss Parr.

A program on county government came in for discussion by the group. Mrs. Lee Proctor led the recreational period after the business meeting.

Present were: Mmes. Allen McClinton, H. W. Harlin, Almer Dewell, Gene Vurden, Akin Simmons, Fannie Pool, O. J. Brown, C. C. Seneer, Charles Lawrence, Salie Dalden, S. L. Lockhart, Lee Proctor, Dorris Couch, Valls Fuller, L. L. Underwood and Marvris Sewell.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Bill Lewis on April 16.

FATAL ERRORS

Traffic accident were more numerous and more severe in 1934 than any previous year.

Eight of the worst driving mistakes responsible for last year's tragic record are listed by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters as follows:

- (1) Driving too fast for conditions, a cause named specifically in 22 per cent of all accidents resulting in fatalities charged to drivers alone, and a distinct and sometimes controlling factor in accidents attributed to many other causes.
- (2) Driving on the wrong side of the road.
- (3) Violating right-of-way rules.
- (4) Cutting in.
- (5) Passing on curve or hill.
- (6) Failing to signal or signalling improperly.
- (7) Driving off roadway.
- (8) Reckless driving.

Pedestrians made fatal errors too. Four of the worst were:

- (1) Crossing between intersections, a mistake that accounted for more than 25 per cent of all pedestrian fatalities.
- (2) Crossing against the signal light at intersections.
- (3) Playing in the street, an error made chiefly by children, resulting in 18 per cent of pedestrian deaths.
- (4) Coming from behind parked car.

Motorists and pedestrians! Avoid these fatal errors in 1935—and you will be doing your part to reduce the traffic toll.

THE AMERICAN CHARACTER
"The extent of insurance protection in America is the best evidence I know that this country is fundamentally sound," said Henry Swift Ives recently.

That is an especially apt observation when applied to life insurance, which is the average man's first line of defense against hazards of the future. Last year the public paid premiums to keep in force life insurance totaling $100,000,000. Many of the premiums paid represented real sacrifices—men and women went to extreme lengths to maintain their policies in force, knowing that they might be their only protection against even greater adversity in days to come.

America is the most heavily insured nation in the world—and that in itself is a testimonial of the ancient American quality of independence. The man who buys an insurance policy, and pays for it with his hard-earned money, isn't the type of man who willingly becomes a ward of government. He wants to provide for his future and that of his family through his own work, thrift and foresight. As long as that attitude exists, we will have little worry about so far as the American character is concerned.

to previous tests in the area, pay might be expected from sands 200-300 feet below the lime.

John I. Moore No. 1 McDowell was drilling Wednesday below 8110 feet in black shale. The John L. Moore No. 2 McDowell, a shale-low test on the unfractured block, was drilling in hard lime at 2290 feet. It is located on section 21, block 34, T-3-S., T&P survey.

Cupled Felt Depression LOGAN, Utah. (UP) - Cupled found a real depression here: not one marriage license was issued the last half of the week, said the county clerk. The first time in history such a period has passed without issuing, or making out application for marriage license.

Ruth* Pontico, circus fat lady, is recovering at her home here after a 30 weeks illness. Baby Ruth has lost 100 pounds during her long illness, but she still hasn't that girlish figure. You see, she dropped from 650 to 550 pounds.

Egg Wrapped For Market NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP) - A hen owned by Mrs. J. T. Shelton of Donelson laid an egg all ready for market. It came into the world wrapped in tissue paper, or cellophane, if you prefer, but some strange chemical phenomenon.

Under The Dome

At Austin By GORDON K. SREAKER

AUSTIN (UP)—Pioneer Texans pitted their luck against chance in different games from those against which Gov. Alfred has sent present-day Rangers.

Some of the games against which early gambling statutes were leveled now are unknown. On April 9, 1873, the legislature prohibited "Jenny Lind" tables. An inquiring reporter spent much of two days questioning old-timers without discovering what a "Jenny Lind" table was, nor how it was used in gambling.

Court cases resulting from the 1873 gambling law do not throw any light upon the game that was popular enough to be mentioned specifically by legislators.

Senator Secretary Bob Parker of Fort Worth has been keeper of house or senate records for more than 30 years. He has a faint impression that a "Jenny Lind" table was a pool table with prizes for special shots.

Stuart (Pinky) Francis of Dallas, an early-day sergeant-at-arms in the house, thinks that "Jenny Lind" was a variation of "rondo". A game popular in New Orleans in the seventies and eighties.

Former Adjutant General (Ranger Bill) Sterling thinks it was a "hele" game. Another border officer thought it was a game Mexicans played with cards.

That it was not "rondo" appears reasonably certain. "Rondo" is mentioned separately in the same law that forbids "Jenny Lind". What remains the law prohibited were faro, monte, vingt-et-un (Black Jack or 21), roulette, ABC, Chuck-a-luck, keno and rouge et noir.

The date of the prohibitory act and use of "Jenny Lind" as a proper name in the act indicate that it was named for the Swedish singer who toured the United States under the direction of P. T. Barnum of circus fame.

Austin's first rain since Gov. Alfred and family moved into the first-floor residence gave the governor an unexpected shower bath and damaged considerably the Sam Houston room in the executive mansion. Rain water, pocketed above a bathroom ceiling, worked through just as the governor entered the room. He washed a shower instead of a tub bath.

It seems a far cry from "no waste in the Panhandle of Texas to golf balls, but waste legislation may be felt on golf links all over the country.

One of the wasteful uses of gas now under legislative attack is the manufacture of carbon black. Carbon black is used in making golf balls. It also goes into automobile tires. Sen. Clint Small of Amarillo said.

Tax payers frequently write to legislators protesting against expenditures and high taxes. Rep. E. F. Quinn of Beaumont has reversed the process. He has sent letters to taxpayers suggesting that they write each senator and representative in opposition to salary increase bills. Particularly, he suggests opposition to increasing the pay of county commissioners.

Appropriation bills reveal names of the many and diverse purposes for which the state enrolls people. Practically every usual trade and profession is included. Several of the extraordinary ones, listed are psychiatrist-psychologist, and dog sergeant.

Legislators took the former far granted. They wanted to know about the dog sergeant. He is employed at Crockett Training school to keep the bloodhounds that go after escaping boys.

The Department of Agriculture has a girl pean expert, one of the institutions a picture machine operator. Serologist, technician-pathologist and Roentgenologist-technician are some of the other titles.

High-sounding titles do not always help to get a big salary. Representatives balked at hiring an auditor for the property section of the adjutant general's office until they learned that the "employee really is an inventory clerk and does not do work that belongs to the state auditor.

The departmental appropriation bill recalled that Mexican War pensions still are being paid. There are five pensioners, all widows of soldiers of that war. The total appropriation is $20 a year, which is in sharp contrast to the bonus bill totals which congress wrestles with.

Miss Claudia Johnson of Crosbyton, assistant in the crossing and enrolling department of the state senate, has become a full-fledged lawyer. She passed the February state bar examination. She was county clerk of Crosby county for four years, winning her election over three opponents. She attended the University of Texas, the University of Colorado and West Texas State Teachers' college at Canyon.

A 9-3-4 pound boy was born Wednesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. James T. Atwood, 504 San Antonio street. Mother and son are doing nicely.

THE APPROACHING STORM, 1935 VERSION

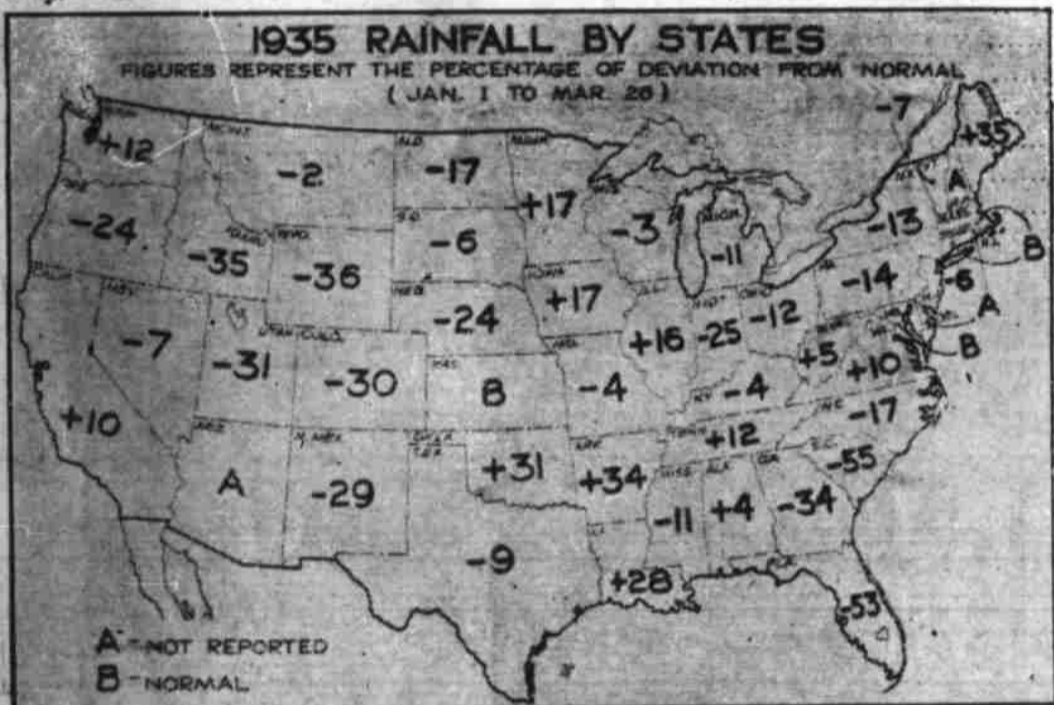

Wind, lightning and rain used to constitute the storms with which most people were familiar, but here is an unusual view of the 1935 variety which has become common—but not popular—in the great plains region. It's a "blow" of dust about to strike Oklahoma City, transplanting additional tons of soil in a season notorious for the failure of Mother Earth's skin to "stay put." (Associated Press Photo)

TICKET HOLDERS CASH IN AS 'OUTSIDER' WINS

It meant $142,000 apiece to four American holders of tickets on the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree, England, when Reynoldstown, a 2240-1 outsider, outclassed a field of favorites to win the classic race. This picture, sent by radio across the Atlantic, shows the stout-hearted Irish horse and his rider, Frank Furlong, being cheered by the crowd after the finish. (Associated Press Photo)

WHERE ALL THE DUST IS COMING FROM—AND WHY

The above map, compiled from weekly reports of 135 department of agriculture climatological stations illustrates how lack of moisture in the Rocky Mountain states is causing dust storms which have been sweeping eastward this spring. It will be noted that while the south Atlantic seaboard and Great Lakes area also are deficient in rainfall, most Mississippi valley states in the heart of the farm belt are near or above normal. RARE ORCHIDS AT FLOWER SHOW

Twenty odontoglossum orchid plants from the collection of 541 Mrs. W. C. Colman, English connoisseur, were featured at a St. Louis flower show where $1,000,000 worth of blossoms went on exhibition. GERMANY WANTS EMPIRE RESTORED

Reichsfuehrer: Adolf Hitler informed the British envoy, Sir John Simon, that he would like to see Germany's pre-war domain restored, according to dispatches from Berlin on their conversations there. Union workers in the Goodyear rubber plant at Akron, O., jammed the hall in which a strike vote was being taken and overflowed into the outdoors as this photograph was taken. Promotion

Two of the so-called Young Liberals or Junior Brain Trustees, wrote the utilities bill. They are Ben Cohen, general counsel for the Power Policy Committee, and Tom Fororan, an RFC attorney—both graduates of the Felix Frankfurter school of thought.

It is expected about Washington that when and if the measure passes Congress Cohen is slated for appointment to the Securities and Exchange Commission.

He would take the place of Ferdinand Pecora, who resigned to accept appointment to the New York bench.

Fight

Chairman Doughton is pretty well satisfied with the social security omnibus bill after talking with the President. "We are in agreement," he said, "and I expect to see the bill passed as it stands—that is, by the House. What the Senate will do is problematical."

Incessant work has been done by several industrial organizations to head off the unemployment insurance section of the bill. The main argument is that this reform should wait until industry is more prosperous—that it can stand a payroll tax for insurance while it is paying high wages under NRA and not getting higher prices.

Involved in this coming fight are industries staggering under the AAA processing tax. They are supported by influential Senators in demanding modification of the New Deal.

Penalties

Quite a few of us who have been buying our goods on "easy payments" will be startled and dismayed when the report of a special committee of the Wisconsin legislature makes its appearance.

Big and reputable firms engaged in installment selling and financing generally will be absolved of sharp practices but a starting mass of evidence has been assembled to discredit any number of small chiseling dealers.

The Wisconsin committee held hearings in various cities during the past year. Testimony in the record shows that all the advantages of the law are on the side of the sharp-shooting "easy payment" firms.

It is said the investigation already has had the salutary effect of bearing rapacious dealers in certain cities into cutting their "penalty" charges plenty. Mention of possible government intervention is shown to have decided one company to reduce "penalties" from $60 to $6 on a given contract.

Dim

The inflationists appear to have shot their bolt so far as this session of Congress is concerned.

Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, leader of the inflation bloc, is good for a number more speeches, probably aided and abetted by Huey Long and a few others, but the old fire is missing. Of course there is the bonus bill to be considered. If the Patman measure should finally become law, that would mean two billion dollars in printing press currency. But so far as silver legislation and the like is concerned chances don't look so good.

Ben-Crit

Doubts and fears are expressed privately by as many Democrats as Republicans when the prospect of recovery is discussed. "If we don't see workers going into industry faster, God help us," said a Democratic Senator. "I hear all this talk about 'FDR slipping,' but I'm not conceding that he will slip unless the whole work-relief plan proves a failure. With work relief as the absence of any incentive to industry to go forward. It looks like another big draft on the Treasury to keep workers from starving, after this $4,000,000,000 has been spent. No party is to blame for this and we shouldn't hold the President responsible. Nevertheless I can see trouble ahead for our party if this work-relief plan doesn't carry us to the point where industry will take up the slack."

Notes

Conservative eastern Republicans criticize William Allen White for insisting that the party must come out for social security. "The West is wild again," is one comment. A long-delayed storm against Secretary Wallace and AAA is breaking in the Senate. Republicans in Washington, from many states, met Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas and liked him. Huey Long continues his fight against Postmaster General Farley and threatens a filibuster on any and all bills.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin
Spill—Food processors are up in arms about the projected amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act which would give the Secretary of Agriculture power to license them and then impose any conditions on them he saw fit. The big food companies are taking a lead from the utility block and mobilizing their stockholders for an avalanche of protests.

Objectors claim the proposed bills would set up an unqualified dictatorship in their field. They contend the government would be legally enabled to fix prices, limit profits to any percentage it sees fit and establish sales quotas which abolish competition and might lead to ruinous favoritism. They admit that none of these powers is specifically conferred by the amendments—but insist their implication is all the more dangerous for that.

Conservatives are confident their inspired barrage—plus Secretary Wallace's flair for speaking his mind too freely—will kill off the offensive legislation. Many New Yorkers believe the Secretary's attitude toward Congress is leading him toward a painful spill.

Ruinous—A number of code authorities operating in New York are preparing a vigorous drive on Congress to offset the intensive lobbying against NRA. The idea is to stir up as many companies as possible—from all parts of the country and of all sizes—to demand that the codes be retained.

Code administrators are genuinely alarmed at prospects for a delirious price-cutting jag if NRA goes out of existence. A lot of rugged individualists can hardly wait to get into an old-fashioned competitive brawl. These boys have been very vocal in Washington about the need for junking all restrictions on business—and for a while it looked as if they had Congress sold.

One New York authority—a thorough conservative by inclination—predicts that the end of NRA would inaugurate the most ruinous time American industry has ever taken.

Velvet—There's an intriguing difference in tactics of the New York State Committee for the Revival of Private Enterprise and those of its parent—the New York State Economic Council. The Committee has carefully avoided taking a position on specific controversial issues. Moreover it has so far kept away from national problems except in the vaguest terms. Its object is to draw members from as many sectors of public opinion as possible. The broader its approach, the less chance there is of offending potential recruits.

But the Council is subject to no such restraints. Its bulletin smashes vigorously at the child labor amendment, the Wheeler-Rayburn bill, the New York unemployment insurance bill, the Federation of Labor and Governor Lehman. It charges the Governor with willingness to have the private enterprise of his state handicapped in competition with that of other states and adds that he seems to think his first duty is to the Federation of Labor. This rousing indictment makes many an Amen among conservatives.

Keen observers call this double technique clever. Both groups are shooting at the New Deal chain. The Council uses a mailed fist and the Committee a velvet glove—thereby broadening the base of popular appeal.

Union—Wall Street is in the throes of another economy wave. Some houses have fired employees wholesale lately. One big odd-lot firm has released more than 150 workers and many others have reduced their staffs by ten to forty people. Switch weeks (one week off in four without pay) have also become popular again.

The situation is grim for the Office Workers' Union—which is trying hard to build its Wall Street membership. Its special tap at the moment is the Curt Exchange itself—which fired 23 employees allegedly for belonging to the union. The Curt suffers the indignity of picketing and daily mass meetings are held across the street from the Stock Exchange.

But the Curt shows no signs of weakening and there's no rush of clerks to the union banner. Those who still have jobs are extremely leery about taking a chance on incurring their employers' disapproval.

Flight

Now that Belgium has deserted her monetary allies insiders say the final disintegration of the gold bloc is imminent.

France is too concerned about conserving her own resources to give aid and comfort to her associates. Holland and Switzerland are stronger than Belgium—but their powerful devaluation sentiment in both countries and they can't stand the guff indefinitely.

Panicky European capital has so far sought refuge in England rather than here. But sharpers predict a flight in this direction soon of sufficient proportions to cause a stir in security and commodity markets.

Impressed

Financial sources learn that England has unofficially suggested to our government the wisdom of removing all restrictions on gold exports "as a prelude to stabilization." This would be a fine idea—for England. The dollar would tend to rise in terms of foreign exchange and by making it simpler for Britain to chopster sterling against the dollar.

New Yorkers remark that it's really very kind of England to be so concerned about our welfare—but doubt if FDR will be impressed.

Ambassador

Wall Street takes off its hat to Bernie Baruch for his success with the Nye Committee. Some of the boys are thinking of starting a campaign to have him named New York's permanent ambassador to Washington. "A financial man who can win a friendly smile from Nye and Bone certainly qualifies as a grade-A diplomat."

Jobs

A New Yorker observes that the mounting American passion for gambling evidenced in record sales of sweepstakes tickets and betting at horse and dog tracks—might be utilized to solve unemployment. There should be plenty of room for expansion in the professions of bookmaker, horse polisher, dog

ENGLISH DIPLOMAT MEETS LITVINOFF IN MOSCOW

Shudder

The railway brotherhoods don't get as much publicity as the American Federation of Labor but New York rail circles insist they know their lobbying groceries. Bills have been introduced in more than 20 state legislatures to increase train crews, limit the length of freight trains, shorten working hours, etc.

This is in addition to the 6-hour day proposal pending in congress. The roads are alarmed to discover that a number of these bills have a chance for passage and are making a belated but desperate effort to block them. General Atterbury's attack on them in presenting the Pennsylvania Railroad's report for 1934 was the first shot in what will become a heavy barrage.

The brotherhood technique of stirring up these issues by states rather than nationally is neat. It makes the roads' defense problem much more difficult—especially as the specific point of assault varies in different states. Nevada has already adopted a train limit law—which annoys the South Pacific intensely. It has to break up many of its freight trains before crossing the state border and put them together on the other side.

There are bills in various legislative hoppers which experts estimate would add a billion dollars a year to railroad operating expenses if they were all enacted. Probably only a few of them will be—but the possibilities have the industry's leaders in a continual shudder.

Gratified

German industrial satisfaction at the restoration of military conscription is grounded on something more substantial than nationalist pride.

Informed New Yorkers are convinced that Hitler's move to expand his arm was primarily a matter of labor policy—even though the rest of the world interprets it otherwise. The pressure of unemployed German youth on the social and economic structure has been terrific. There was no chance of their absorption into industry under present conditions—and they were a constant menace to internal stability while on the loose.

Conscription goes a long way toward solving the problem. Not only will the young men be kept out of mischief but their needs as soldiers will transform them from don Chamber of Commerce—with 60,000 members representing commerce and industry—a preponderantly against any return to a metallic standard. Its political influence is growing fast while that of Montagu Norman and the banking setup is slipping.

The industrial viewpoint is expressed in a letter from Sir William Dempster which recently appeared at the top of the principal correspondence column of the London Times. He stresses the point that sterling is maintaining its purchasing power in terms of commodities almost unchanged and that the fall of sterling merely affects gold and the currencies linked to it—not the pound itself.

New York observers remark that the strong industrial element in England is likely to rate the collapse of the gold bloc a triumph rather than a catastrophe.

Slapped

Financial circles are convinced that Emile Franque—Belgian industrial leader—means business when he threatens the British iron masters with reprisals unless England quits squeezing Belgian exporters with the cheap pound. The Belgian steel makers are strong enough to make plenty of trouble for competitors from other nations if they choose. Insiders also believe that the belga—once detached from gold—may be used to harass British trade just as the Japanese yen has been maneuvered for that purpose.

If a struggle develops along these lines the American steel industry would be cast as he who gets slapped. Its foreign business would be carved out from under it and even its sales at home would probably be hurt by cheaper foreign competition. Secretary Hull's vaunted trade treaty with Belgium would only make matters worse by slapping the tariff on Belgian steel. The boys have plenty to say about that treaty privately—but not in printable terms.

Salvage

Governor Lehman has hauled up the white flag in his backstage tiff with Secretary Wallace. Since his plan for an eastern inter-state milk commission independent of the AAA collapsed he has had to appeal to the AAA for help.

He managed a graceful retreat. While the AAA will be in control he salvaged the chairmanship of Jury has been assistant to Mr. Rheinstrom for the past year and has been in air lines traffic work since 1926 when he was General Traffic Manager of Stout Air Lines in Detroit.

5000 KIWANIS EXPECTED AT INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION IN SAN ANTONIO MAY 19-23

The southwest is preparing for one of the largest conventions of its kind ever to have been held in this section. An attendance from 4,000 to 5,000 is expected in San Antonio May 19-23 for the 19th annual International convention of Kiwanis.

It was announced that although the opening of the convention is two months off, contracts have been made for more special trains to be used by incoming delegates than at any time during the last four years. Hundreds will arrive by automobile. A motorcade is expected to bring about 200 delegates from Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas.

Dr. William J. Carrington, prominent physician and civic leader of Atlantic City, New Jersey is International President. Texas-Oklahoma district is represented among the international officers by H. G. Hatfield of Oklahoma City who is international treasurer. Joe O. Naylor of San Antonio is governor for the district and Frank L. Orr is president of the San Antonio Kiwanis club.

The San Antonio club which will be host to this outstanding convention was formed May 24, 1919 and was the third Kiwanis club in Texas. During the sixteen years of its life the group has taken an active part in municipal improvements and exerted a representative influence for advancement of public welfare.

The local club started work in earnest as twenty committees met during the past week in the convention offices to discuss details of the work confronting them. Alvin R. Thomas is general chairman of the convention committee.

The convention opens Sunday evening May 19 and continues through Thursday, May 23 with an important series of business sessions and an intriguing list of entertainment features which are typical of the colorful and unusual Texas.

Three Thousand Mile Survey Is Completed

McALLEN (UP)—A 3,000 mile north-south survey line from the Canadian border to the Rio Grande has been completed, Lieut. Carl L. Aslakson, head of the government survey party, announced here.

Following the finishing of the survey on the north-south base line, the party of 100 men loaded their 48 trucks with surveying instruments and camping equipment and moved to Ralls, Tex., to begin work on an east-west transcontinental survey line.

The north-south line was begun in North Dakota last September and was not finally completed until the last of March.

A recheck of part of the survey indicated that the line was mathematically accurate, an error of only 9-16 of an inch being discovered. The group expects to locate similar lines at 25-mile intervals from north to south between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and to make other surveys from east to west across the continent.

Dyes Made From Native Shrubs Demonstrated

KERRVILLE (UP)—Homemade dyes obtained from native shrubs and roots in Kerr county, were used here in a demonstration of homecraft ingenuity in pioneer days.

Yellow was obtained from the root of a spartina plant, brown from the pliable branches of walnut trees, and tan from pecan hulls.

Fabrics woven at the Oak Woods Ranch from mohair produced in Kerr county were dyed by Mrs. J. P. Rogers, who conducted the demonstration. Mrs. Rogers said she planned to obtain pink dye from the buckeye, blue from the indigo plant, and yellow from the bois d'arc.

In the mayor's race Paul Wolf was returned to office. Votes were cast also for A. M. Sullivan and George Dobson.

Carl Bates and Ira McQuerry were returned to office as aldermen. Votes were cast for K. G. Birkhead, Earl Reid, Carl Fletcher and F. H. Woodson. Thomas and Martin are already aldermen and were not up for reelection.

Little interest was shown in the election. No women voted. Only twenty-one votes were cast.

Department Of Commerce Contracts For Airplane With Automobile Engine

A definite step in the direction of lower airplane costs was apparent today in the announcement by Eugene L. Vidal, director of the Bureau of Air Commerce, Department of Commerce, that an experimental order had been placed for an airplane powered with a well-known automobile engine.

According to John H. Geisse, chief of the development section of the bureau, the order has been placed with the Fablin Manufacturing company of St. Joseph, Mo. for a two-place, side by side, in closed cabin monoplane.

"The Bureau of Air Commerce is vitally interested in improving the safety and reducing the cost of private flying and this project is, of course, directed toward the latter objective," Mr. Geisse stated. "Aircraft engines of 7 to 90 horsepower cost in the neighborhood of $1,000, due to the small quantity produced. An automobile engine of the same power can be purchased for less than $150, about the cost of overhauling the aircraft engine. In addition to the reduction in first cost, the automobile engine offers the attractive features of a much lower maintenance and replacement cost and servicing facilities in practically every community. "The performance of the airplane with the automobile power plant is expected to be comparable to that of airplanes with aircraft engines except that the useful load must be less to compensate for the additional automobile engine weight of this power plant will be no greater than that of the old OX5 engines which were the backbone of civilian flying after the world war and which were so extensively used in training pilots during the war. The reliability should be greater."

is independent; erection of modern fireproof school plants; formation of the county teacher's association in October 1928; grouping of the Blaco, Fairview and Highway schools in 1934; and advent of buses in 1930 and addition of other buses by 1935.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow
 Extension Service Editor

Following a landscape plan, which she worked out with the home demonstration agent, Mrs. B. H. Smith, Eastrop county yard improvement demonstrator, enlarged her yard to 150x60 feet and planting a screen of cedars and privet at the rear between the house and the barn and other service buildings.

Foundation plantings around the house, leveling and sodding the lawn, and terracing the yard prevent erosion were all a part of this plan and this home demonstration club member's work is typical of that of several hundred who are serving as "demonstrators" to point the way to more beautiful farmsteads.

In Dickens county Mrs. Floy Barnett, yard demonstrator, using Chinese stims to give shade for an outdoor living room. This is not only for the enjoyment of her own family but to show to all corners that here is a tree which is adapted to that part of the State and no West-Texas need go shadeless unless he chooses to do so.

Denton county yard demonstrators so persevered in their work to interest and enlist the support of the civic organizations and the City of Denton itself. Through this cooperation a place has been secured by the Denton Park Board to receive and care for shrubs donated by the other agencies. The shrubs are heeled in by the caretaker until the yard demonstrator come in from their country home and claim them.

CHIEF HEEDS ADVICE; FOUR TOLD TO MOVE

"If you turn them loose in your town," advised the Amarillo chief of police, "they will steal the depot."

Chief J. T. Thornton took his fellow law officer's advice and escorted three men, one of them an ex-convict, and a woman to the city limits.

Apparently they had heeded his admonition to keep moving for they had not returned to this place Thursday.

Rio Grande At Very Low Stage

HIDALGO, (UP)—The Rio Grande here has reached what is believed to be its lowest stage in 35 years. I. H. Thomas, gauge keeper, reported.

The gauge recently has been registering only seven tenths of a foot, or about eight inches, he said.

In the 35 years that he has been keeping records on the river, Thomas said he has never known it to drop so low before.

On Sundays the river rises noticeably because the pumping plants which supply water for irrigation are usually shut down, but the rest of the week it is nearly dry.

The river can now be waded in many places and the "dry" season is still several weeks away.

Thomas recalled that in 1932 the river was at an unusually low stage, and three months later the biggest flood in decades struck the valley, causing damage of more than $2,000,000.

"If the river goes dry this summer," Thomas said, "it will be the most unusual thing I have ever heard of. It's always had water in it as far back as I can remember."

But if it does go dry, he said, there will still be enough underground water to supply the irrigation wells.

Committee To Approve Cotton Papers Monday

County and community committees will convene Monday 9 a. m. to approve papers for 1935 cotton contracts.

Sixty per cent of the contracts were approved more than a week ago when the committees met. More than 30 per cent of the contracts are ready for approval.

With 90 per cent of the contracts approved, County Agent O. P. Griffin said that the contracts would be tabulated and sent to the state board of review for adjustment. They will be sent to Washington. Contracts not in by Monday will be delayed in payment.

Many Counties To Be Represented At Austin May 3-5

AUSTIN, (UP)—Two hundred and thirty-five Texas counties will be represented by approximately 1,000 boys and girls in Texas Interscholastic league's annual state meet in literary and athletic competition in Austin May 3-5.

The three-day tournament will include matches in track and field, tennis and all forms of literary endeavor common to Texas schools. To reach state finals, entrants first must win in county, district, and regional eliminations.

Most interesting events are those in track and field, where schoolboy athletes approach the marks of the Southwest's leading collegiate runners.

Many Special Features At Tex. Roundup

AUSTIN—As a special feature of the Sixth Annual Round-Up to be held at the University of Texas April 5-7, several departments in the University have arranged exhibits for the entertainment of visitors.

The Anthropology Museum, with its thousands of relics of Indian life, will be open throughout the week's celebration. This collection is one of the largest in the South-west.

Life in early Texas will be featured in an exhibit of clothing, art objects, and furniture from that period in the New Home Economics Building.

The University Library, with the cooperation of several young members of the department of English, will sponsor a display of the books and manuscripts of Percy Bysshe Shelley, English poet of the Romantic Period. The English department will honor the meeting of the Conference of Teachers College, English being held at the University in conjunction with the Round-Up. The University has one of the largest and most complete collections of Shelley in the world. His works will be taken from the main library, professors' collections and the Wren and Aiken libraries.

Paintings by Miss Marie Cronin of Bartlett, young Texas artist, will be displayed in Texas Union. Exhibits of works of architectural students and other architectural designs will be shown in the Architecture Building.

Trade Agreement Is Being Sought

MISSION (UP)—Free entry of Lower Rio Grande Valley citrus fruits into the Canadian market through a reciprocal trade agreement between Canada and the United States, is sought by officials of the Texas Citrus Fruit Growers' Exchange.

John H. Shary, president of the exchange and founder of the valley's citrus industry, and Ted M. Meiden, exchange sales manager, have written Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Senator Morris Sheppard and others interested in the matter.

A Canadian representative of the exchange some time ago advised its officials that citrus fruits from every producing country in the world, except the United States, were admitted into Canada without duty.

"There seems to be some talk," he said, "that the United States and Canada will soon get together to work out a more reasonable tariff arrangement."

Meiden said that Texas grapefruit has been accepted favorably on the Canadian market but the present tariff of 75 cents a box penalizes the Texas industry.

According to reports of the Department of Agriculture, exports of grapefruit from Texas to Canada have dropped sharply during the past three seasons.

In 1931-32 a total of 295 cars were shipped whereas last year only 22 cars were moved.

'THE LONG AND SHORT HAUL'
NO. FOUR

Belief that coast cities, if fourth section relief is granted, would be given advantages in freight as commercial centers, is the basis of opposition to modification of the long and short haul clause. As pointed out in preceding articles, there are no grounds for this fear, as the traffic which the railroads hope to recover is already moving at lower rates through the Panama Canal via intercoastal steamship lines.

For years this traffic has been moving from the Atlantic coast to Pacific ports by steamship and from the ports to interior communities largely by trucks upon the highways. Under the present situation, the intermountain region, where protest against modification is loudest, is entirely out of the picture. The intermountain communities gain nothing when traffic moves through the Canal at rates lower than rail rates. On the other hand, if railroads were allowed to compete with the Canal by ferrying intercoastal traffic through the intermountain region, coast cities would have the advantage of competition which should have a beneficial effect upon rates between the coast and the intermountain region, and the intermountain territory would enjoy the money disbursements incident to moving the intercoastal traffic by rail. After all, most of the money comes for wages, materials, and with respect to low rate traffic taxes. This is particularly true such as that between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, where the margin of profit is small.

A substantial proportion of all railroad operating costs are fixed charges not greatly affected by the volume of traffic moving over the lines. This is true of maintenance of rights of way, bridges, locomotives, and cars.

A very substantial percentage of the transcontinental railroads' equipment, especially locomotives and freight cars, is now idle, due to the lessened volume of traffic moving via rail. As the traffic which the railroads hope to recover through the modification of the fourth section could be handled with equipment and facilities now unemployed would return to the railroads a small profit above the actual out-of-pocket costs of the service rendered, it seems obvious that modification of the fourth section through Congressional action would be in the interests of the Western shippers, manufacturers and growers.

This argument becomes even more impressive when we remember that volume of traffic is the one permanent controlling factor in the making of railroad rates. Only as volume of traffic increases can there be any logical hope for reduction of intermediate or transcontinental rates. Therefore any additions to traffic which can be handled by the railroads at anything above the out-of-pocket cost of transporting is in the interest of the shipper.

Blind Student To Realize Ambition

LAS CRUCES, N. M. (UP)—Albert Gonzalez, blind student at the New Mexico A. & M. College, will this spring achieve his ambition—a college education.

He will be the first blind student ever issued a certificate of graduation from the college.

Gonzales is the son of Jim Gonzalez, prominent business man and rancher in Las Cruces. He lost his eyesight as a result of a swimming accident in 1926.

Efforts of eye specialists to restore his sight were futile. He was advised to attend a school for the blind if he wished to continue his education.

This, however, was not what Gonzalez wanted. He had set his mind upon going to a regular college and after persistent demands was finally admitted as a special student by the faculty.

Assisted by his classmates, who read his assignments to him, Gonzalez made rapid progress in economics and business administration, subjects which he chose to major in.

He has fulfilled all the college requirements except that he has not taken any laboratory courses.

In addition to his academic subjects, he has taken a lively interest in music and is a member of the college chorus. He is taking piano lessons with the aid of a musical guide prepared in Braille.

Work?--Radio! Play?--Ditto!

CHICAGO—The proverbial day off enjoyed by the postman when he takes his walk, or the sailor rowing on the lake, has a new counterpart in the airline radio operator according to C. C. Shauger, superintendent of communications for American Airlines.

Not content to "get away" from his daily task of linking the huge transport planes of American Airlines with the net-work of ground radio stations, it has been found that almost without exception each of the great crews of radio operators employed by the company spends at least half his "time off" experimenting with short-wave radio apparatus in his own home.

Shauger declared:

"The old adage about 'All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy' may hold true in other lines of endeavor, but the radio operator finds his job so interesting that he considers it sport and thus spends much of his spare time in building new equipment and experimenting with long range reception while at home," he concluded.
