BAPTIST REVIVAL TO CLOSE SUNDAY

A one-week revival meeting in progress at the Baptist Church, will be brought to a close with Sunday night services.

Rev. A. W. Blain of Muleshoe has been delivering inspirational messages at both morning and evening services of the meeting which opened last Sunday.

A daily prayer-chain is being held at the church by the membership, with two members meeting together each hour during the day, for a session of prayer.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the remaining services of the revival, at 7:30 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.

Mrs. Elbert Reeves visited at Plainview last Thursday, with her father, who has been seriously ill.

CHIMNEY TOPPLED BY FIERCE WINDS

SPELL of one of the most intense West Texas heat waves of recent years was broken last week by a series of rains which brought relief to most of the Panhandle.

Starting here Friday afternoon the rain was accompanied by fierce south winds which twisted tree branches and toppled the fireplace chimney on the G. E. Hamilton home.

Rain Friday and Saturday totalled 1.51 inches with more showers Tuesday adding another 20 inch.

Cotton farmers say the rain will greatly benefit the suffering crops. All row crops and range land has been greatly benefited.

A series of highway accidents resulted from slippery paving produced by the rains.

Mrs. A. C. Brigrance of Olton is in Stanley Clinic Hospital as the result of an accident on the Tongue river hill near the east county line about 3 a. m. Sunday morning.

Previously Frank King, 26, of Vernon, skidded on the same hill about 4 p. m. Saturday, causing the empty semi-trailer truck to go into a spin.

Justice of the Peace Henry F. Pipkin has requested the Tribune to issue a caution to farmers before they start movement of the crop.

Each farmer who expects to transport cotton is warned to place legal lights and reflectors on trailers before the start of the season.

James Holladay of Vernon, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Keltz of Matador, is in Vernon Clinic Hospital for treatment of injuries received in a fall from a scaffold Monday of last week.

Mrs. Calvin Nimmo, former First State Bank bookkeeper has been advanced to the position of teller and two new bookkeepers have been employed.

Clint Hicks, assistant cashier of the First State Bank here has resigned his position to accept the office of cashier in Citizens State Bank at Anton.

Mrs. Henry Thompson is a patient in St. Mary's Hospital, Lubbock, where she underwent major surgery Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Joyce Smallwood of Afton began duties about three weeks ago and Miss Mable Gwinn of Teepee Flat community Monday assumed her duties.

TRAIL DUST Spur Takes First Game Of Season

Might of the Spur Bulldogs Friday evening swept over the young, inexperienced Matador Matadors in a tide of power and skill to roll up a lopsided score of 39-0.

The visitors Captain Charles Grimland, quarterback, scored once in the first period, twice in the second and three times in the third. He failed to score in the final stanza.

Most spectacular play of the game followed the third-quarter kick-off when Grimland took the ball on a fumble and raced 105 yards down the center of the field for the Bulldogs fourth touchdown.

Chillicothe Here Chillicothe Eagles are scheduled to play here Friday night under the lights on Burlison field.

In the second game of the season Coach Ray Hopkins' charges will be matched against his home-town high school supporters of the Matadors are urged to back the Friday night game with a large attendance.

Untruth is like a weed. It requires no cultivation and its progeny appears in all convenient soil.

The soul of a beauty does not wither when a rose is gone; it flares again in the petals of another blooming.

One of the cleverest phrases of a decade, words which would like to have originated, "Descendants of our hardy forefathers are still dying with their boots on; the accelerators."

Rudeness is now believed to stem from a frustrated personality but some private schools of opinion are going to classify it as undisciplined character.

Tragedy wove a pattern in the web of night. Silver shuttles moved swiftly in the warp of highways, driven by the busy hands of fate.

It is easy to remember the sea thundering breakers on the cold, hard sands, and the mists that used to engulf the little garden above the palisades.

Many grave boats are tied up at the wharfs of federal bureaus.

Modern hazards have forced the once simple process of growing old into a complicated science.

English Count To Study American Culture
And Business Methods At Texas University

Count Martyn de Beaumont will arrive in Austin, Texas, between September 15th and 20th, according to a dispatch received last week by the Tribune, from the Dominion Press Agency and the Cherwell Ltd., Lincoln Ho. Turl, Oxford. There he will study American culture and American business methods at the University of Texas.

Recovering from a recent severe and nearly fatal attack of typhoid fever, the Count has departed upon a change of surroundings, and left England on August 29th, for a year's stay in the United States.

He is bringing with him his British car, a novel type of vehicle, probably unknown in the United States. The car (called a "Morris Minor") is of only 8 horse-power (British), is a sedan model, seats four persons, their luggage, and averages 40 miles per gallon. It has a top speed of 65 m.p.h., a hydraulic braking system, and the latest type of independent suspension. He will motor down from New York in his car, and expects to arrive at Austin by Sept. 20, when he will go into residence at the University.

The Count, who is 21, is a member of a very ancient French aristocratic family, his branch of which has been established in Ireland for some considerable time. He himself is a British subject and has recently graduated (at an exceptionally early age) with an Honours Degree in Jurisprudence from Oxford University (England).

While at Oxford the Count rapidly became a leading member of the University fraternity, 30 year old University weekly, the "Cherwell." Americans may remember that this was the magazine which was banned for a period by the University authorities for circulating a Questionnaire to the Women's Colleges, which was not approved ("Time", February 1947).

After running the magazine for 4 years, the Count has recently sold his rights to the Count de Pazzi.

Subsequently, the Count has been in London and Paris, where he has become well-known in the leading social and cultural circles. During the recent London Season, he was prominent at all the leading functions, and has become a leader of the "younger set" of the British Social Circle.

The Count de Beaumont himself, is considered to be a modest and publicity-shy person, has an individual sense of humor, and has made many friends. He rarely uses his title, and prefers to be known by his first name. In recent years he has contributed many articles to the Press, and has a keen and lively journalistic style. He is widely traveled throughout Europe, which he knows intimately. He is looking forward keenly to his stay in the United States, and hopes to be able to meet as many persons from all walks of life, as possible.

SCARLET FEVER
STILL IS MENACE
"Scarlet fever still continues to be a menace to children," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, in discussing diseases common to children. "Many cases are slight, but they may infect others who may become seriously ill. It is treacherous and undesirable, and the only good thing about it is that the chances of never getting it are excellent.

"Scarlet fever is spread by the transfer of the infection in the discharges of nose and throat, ears, or abscesses of persons ill with the disease and those who are carriers of the infection. The handling of articles by the patient may cause the disease.

"Children under ten years of age are usually susceptible to scarlet fever. Children becoming suddenly ill with fever, sore throat, vomiting and showing a fine red rash, should have medical attention and be immediately quarantined to prevent the spread of this disease. The appearance of scarlet fever in the home should be immediately followed by a rigid quarantine for at least three weeks. The public should be warned against exposing young children to those exhibiting acute catarrhal symptoms of any kind. Take no chances—be on the safe side."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Easy Makes His "Cat" Tread Lightly

Driving home on Three Ponds Road yesterday, I was flagged down by Easy Roberts' boy Skeeter. "Take it slow," he advised. "Dad's crossing this road with our tractor, just beyond the bend."

Around the curve I saw why Skeeter stopped me. Easy had laid two rows of old truck tires across the road, and was driving his new "Cat" tractor over them!

"More trouble this way," Easy explains, "but it does keep those tank tracks from tearing up the asphalt when I have to cross over to our other fields. After all, the roads belong to all of us—and I guess I'd get mad if someone else chewed them up."

From where I sit, Easy is my kind of citizen. He doesn't just give democracy lip service. He honestly believes it's his duty to consider the other fellow's interests. Whether it's the right to use the public highways or the right to enjoy an occasional glass of beer, Easy's out to protect his neighbor's "right of way."

Formal Wedding In Brownfield Church Unites Miss Wingerd And Mr. Woodruff

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Lois Marion Wingerd of Brownfield and Glenn Lewis Woodruff of Matador, in a double ring ceremony read Saturday night, Sept. 8 at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Brownfield. Rev. Tom Keenan, pastor of First Presbyterian church, officiated.

The wedding united prominent families of both communities. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Wingerd, and a granddaughter of Brownfield's founders, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brownfield. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Woodruff of Matador, is a grandson of the late Judge and Mrs. C. L. Glenn, pioneers of Motley county.

Aisles of the church were marked with white candles, gladioli and white satin streamers. The chancel was covered with greenery, which served as a background for triple arches. The center arch framed a large white cross and the other arches were flanked with white gladioli, fern and white tapers in candelabra.

Mrs. Pat Ramseur, organist, offered the traditional wedding music and accompanied Jack Shirley, who sang "Thine Alone" and, as a benediction, "The Lord's Prayer."

Bride Wears Lace

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white net and Chantilly lace over satin. The molded bodice, pointed in front and back, was fashioned with a scoop neckline and looped cap sleeves. The Chantilly lace, which covered the bodice, fell into an apron effect over a full net skirt and extended into a cathedral train. A fingertip length illusion veil cascaded from a stiffened lace calot, embroidered with seed pearls. She wore long lace mitts and carried a cascade arm bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid and tied with white satin streamers. She wore a string of pearls and carried a point lace handkerchief belonging to a great-aunt, Mrs. Redford Smith.

Mrs. Charles Shumate of Houston was matron of honor and Miss Flo Stafford was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marjorie Moorhead and Eleanor Miller of Brownfield, Miss Patti Autry of Dallas and Mrs. Russell Stephens of Brownfield. Mary Jane Brownfield, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and Pamela Shirley and Elaine Flache were flower girls.

The candles were lighted by Misses Laura Lou Bailey of Lubbock and Sandra Bailey of Brownfield, cousins of the bride and Jerry Bailey of Lubbock, a cousin, was ring bearer.

Gowns of the bridal attendants were fashioned of embroidered net over taffeta, worn over hoops and featuring full gathered skirts and tight strapless bodices. Embroidered net stoles formed sleeves and were gathered in back and caught with American Beauty roses to give a bustle effect. The maid and matron of honor wore pink dresses and carried American Beauty rose shower bouquets. The bridesmaids wore American Beauty gowns and carried pink gladioli bouquets. They wore rhinestone necklaces and earrings, gifts of the bride.

Gene Czarehinski of Buffalo, N. Y., was best man. Groomsman and ushers were Forrest Cook of Wichita Falls, Donald Zelony of Seminole, Morgan Copeland of Austin, Henry Spalding of Lawton, Okla., Ted White of Kermit and James Ed Russell and Arthur N. Casey of Matador.

Reception At Home

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after the wedding. Identical tables were laid in the dining room and on the terrace of the home, featuring three-tiered, heart-shaped cakes, topped with miniature bridal couples. The cakes and punch bowls were surrounded with American Beauty roses.

For a trip to Miami, Fla., and Nassau, Mrs. Woodruff chose a red gabardine bolero suit with pale blue accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple will be at home in Matador after September 21.

Mrs. Woodruff is a graduate of Brownfield High school and of Stephens college, Columbia, Mo. She received a degree in radio and television from the University of Texas, Austin, in June.

Mr. Woodruff was graduated from Matador High school and attended John Tarleton college, Stephenville, and the University of Texas before receiving his degree from Texas Technological College, Lubbock. He is manager of Matador Auto Company, Ford agency.

Attend Wedding

Wedding guests attending from Matador included the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff, his aunts, Misses Amy and Sue Glenn; Mrs. James Ed Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bloodworth and Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Jones.

MILLION DOLLAR MISSION BUDGET PROPOSED FOR BAPTIST GENERAL CONVENTION OF TEXAS

A proposed ten-million-dollar mission budget for the Baptist General Convention of Texas in 1952 will be up for discussion when Baptists of this area meet Thursday, September 13, for the annual conference of the Floyd association. The meeting will be held at the First Baptist church, Quitaque.

Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of the First Baptist church, Lubbock, will represent the denominational headquarters in Dallas at the conference. He will present the need for the multi-million-dollar budget.

Half the ten million will go for denominational work in Texas; the other half, to Baptist work in other parts of the United States and in foreign countries. This is the fourth year the ten-million-dollar objective has been set up by Texas Baptists.

Representatives from the 28 churches in this association will report on their progress during 1951 and will make plans for the coming year.

Dr. Grant will urge the individual churches of the association to follow the Baptist General convention example by designating fifty per cent of their own budgets for state and world wide missions.

The Baptist churches in this association have a combined membership of 7,054. The 3,300 Baptist churches in Texas now support 12 colleges and professional schools, six hospitals, and three children's homes.

What are the sources of today's medicines?

(THESE PICTURES WILL GIVE YOU CLUES TO SOME OF THEM)

- 1. Plants . . . the vegetable kingdom is the oldest known source of drugs, and the seeds, leaves, bark, and roots of a large variety of plants supply some of our most valuable remedial agents. Preparations made from the leaves of the digitalis plant, shown above, are widely used as heart stimulants.
- 2. Minerals . . . many useful medicines have their origin in the mineral resources of the earth. For example, various compounds of iron, copper, silver, and manganese are widely prescribed by physicians. The good earth also yields the molds from which modern antibiotic drugs are derived.
- 3. Animals . . . from various animal sources come such important medicinal agents as hormones, liver extracts, vitamin factors, and blood derivatives, including antioxins. The endocrine glands of cattle are the principal source of new compounds used in the treatment of arthritis.
- 4. The chemical laboratory . . . some drugs are actually "created" or built up in the research laboratory by chemical synthesis. Included in this group are several of the important new antihistamines and antibiotics.

To help guard your health, your pharmacist stocks many different medicinal preparations. He knows them all intimately—their sources, their uses, their dosage, their chemical properties. And he has the scientific ability to acquire through years of specialized training—to compound them and to dispense them on your doctor's prescription—reprinted from a copyrighted advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company, Detroit 32, Michigan.

FOR A BETTER CROP

Control of smut is one of the important jobs in producing a good crop of quality grain. The Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Association, cooperating with crop improvement associations and state extension services of the winter wheat belt is urging farmers to combat smut diseases by careful selection and preparation of seed for planting.

Stinking smut or bunt is the most destructive of the wheat smuts and occurs everywhere wheat is grown. It is characterized by the formation of smut balls in place of wheat kernels, balls filled with hundreds of thousands of smut spores which have the odor of decaying fish. Seed treatment with seed disinfectants is the recommended control.

Loose smut of wheat spores are scattered and lodge on healthy plants at blossoming time. These spores germinate and enter the developing kernels in which they remain dormant until the next season. As the infected kernels sprout, the smut parasite begins to grow and continues inside the stem, becoming localized in the head before it emerges. Each wheat kernel is displaced by a mass of smut spores. Hot water seed treatment is the only control measure known, except for the use of smut-free seed and smut-resistant varieties.

Yes, I served as cook in the days of cow chips, wood, coal and kerosene (she writes) but the drouth of '36 and '37 was something more. We packed mesquite means in sacks from Brazos River (she lived in Young county at the time) to feed 2 milk cows. On top of the drouth there was a grasshopper scourge, which was terrible. They ate big holes in our starched clothes hung on the fence—(no clothes lines then) . . . we were content with the wash tub and rub board, the push and pull churn, dash, range, stove and cooking for the hired hand, because we knew no better. Now you have weeded out these drudgeries and developed better ways of carrying on without so much hard work.

PRINTING SCHOOL OPEN TO HS GRADS

A campaign to acquaint high school graduates with advantages of the printing trade has been started by the Southwest School of Printing located in Dallas.

A shortage of printers exists throughout the Southwest, according to officials of the school. Since the first of the year they have received more than 100 requests for men to fill vacancies in newspaper and commercial print shops.

For the first time since the late war, the school is enrolling non-veteran students because entrance into training under PL 346 of the GI Bill of Rights terminated last July 25. The next class, which starts December 4, will be open to non-veterans.

The Southwest School of Printing, owned and operated by newspaper publishers and commercial printers, is a non-profit institution founded to give young men an opportunity to enter the printing trade. The school has a large building on 18 acres at 3800 Clarendon Drive, Dallas.

Ray Abel, director of the institution, who has placed scores of young men in good printing jobs, states that possibilities for employment and advancement in the industry were never better.

"This craft requires trained minds and skilled hands, but its opportunities are not confined alone to craftsmanship; there are many chances for advancement to supervisory and managerial positions. The increasing demand for printed products of

Mileage and Safety Hints from Your Friendly B.F. Goodrich Retailer

How To Go Straight and Save Money

You might as well pitch pennies out of your car window while you drive along as to drive with wheels that are out of line or out of balance. If any wheel travels even slightly out of line, it's bound to scuff off the tread quickly, giving you less tire mileage. Get the most for your tire dollar by having your tires checked regularly to detect mechanical causes of excessive wear.

Unbalanced wheels can cause excessive wear in the form of worn spots or cups in the tread.

Too much toe-in or toe-out of front wheels can cut thousands of miles off your tire life.

Free Inspection
Drive in today!

It takes an expert to find the exact cause of excessive tread wear. Our trained service men can inspect your tires thoroughly in a short time. There's no charge, of course. The inspection is part of our job in helping you get the most mileage from your tires. Stop in the next chance you get!
