Vows Exchanged In Church Ceremony By Doris Ann Doss And Gene Morriss

Miss Doris Ann Doss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Doss of Matador, became the bride of Cpl. Gene Morriss, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Morriss of Whiteflat, in a double ring ceremony performed Friday evening, May 26, at 6 o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

Vows were exchanged before the pastor, Rev. Clifford Potts, who officiated.

Branched candelabra with tapers, on either side of a large basket of white gladioli and greenery, formed the background for the service.

For pre-nuptial music, Miss Rachel Patton, organist, played "Indian Love Call", "Liebestraum", "O Promise Me", "Always", and "I Promise You". She accompanied Miss Elwanda Martin, who sang, "I Love You Truly", and during the ceremony, she played, "At Dawning".

Misses Pauline Blevins and Wanda Graham lighted the candles, and ushers were Albert Morriss and Grady Phillips.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of navy organza, trimmed in white with white accessories. Her bouquet was a white orchid which she carried with a white Bible. Her attendants, Miss Melba Kimbell, maid of honor, and Miss Cora Ann Craven of Brownwood, bridesmaid, wore white cotton frocks with matching accessories.

Joe Spray served the bridegroom as best man, and Garland Rattan was groomsman.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Lela Spencer and son, Dick of Dublin, aunt and cousin of the bride; and the groom's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Morriss, Jr., and son, Jerry, of Dallas.

To Live At Fort Worth

Following a wedding trip to Amarillo, the couple returned here for a visit before leaving for Fort Worth, where they will reside.

Mrs. Morriss was born and reared here and was a senior in high school at the time of her marriage. She has been a popular member of the younger set here and in campus activities. Mr. Morriss has been in the Army Air Corps since his graduation from Matador High school and is stationed at this time at Carswell Air Base, Fort Worth. He was born and reared at Whiteflat.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

The table was laid with a hand-made linen cutwork cloth, centered with the three-tiered wedding cake which was encircled by a garland of pink and white carnations, entwined with fern. Bands of pink and white satin ribbon extended from the cake to the corners of the table. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Spencer, poured punch and Miss Cora Ann Craven and Mrs. J. L. Woodruff served the cake. Mrs. Alvin Stearns and Miss Verlin Reeves assisted with hospitality.

Arrangements of roses and other flowers decorated the house, and on the piano was a

The Jameson home was the scene of the wedding, and the couple stood beneath an arch of roses on the front lawn.

The bridegroom was attended by Gene Morriss, as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. Centerpiece for the lace-covered table was the three-tiered wedding cake which was served by Mrs. Clyde Gilbert after the couple cut the first piece. Miss Marcia Gilbert poured the punch.

Thirty-five guests were present, including the following from out-of-town: Mrs. C. A. Sauley of Hereford, aunt of the bride, and her two daughters, Mrs. L. A. Mullins of Roaring Springs and Mrs. Billy Perez of Hereford.

This is Your Paper
 'A Little Late'
 Means Trouble

By William R. Nelson

A PUBLICITY chairman of a prominent civic group rushes breathlessly into the newspaper office, her face a picture of worry. "I hope you will forgive my being late with our news, but I simply forgot what day this is," she began. "I just have to get this announcement into the paper."

In a metropolitan newspaper office nothing could be done to help her. Deadline is deadline there. But in the home town paper office it is sometimes difficult to be so rigid about deadlines. In the hypothetical instance cited, let us assume an exception is made. Here is what would probably happen.

The breathless chairman would go her way much relieved. Although received after deadline time, her organization's news will be in the paper, as usual.

At the newspaper, however, the chairman's tardiness has precipitated a chain reaction of upset schedules that will affect virtually every member of the staff.

An editor will have to handle another news story. One or more items already in type will have to be shortened to make room for the late story. Type already set will have to be discarded and more set. Page dummies will have to be altered. Lockup of page forms will be delayed. Printing and distribution will be off schedule.

This probably generated an example of inconvenience what happens when someone imposes late news upon the paper, is duplicated, even more disruptingly, whenever an advertiser fails to get copy to the paper on time.

As long as humans are prone to forget, have accidents, or otherwise be delayed in performing duties, it will probably be necessary for stores and newspapers to occasionally accept such impositions. But these disruptions of necessary schedules will be materially reduced, no doubt, when people fully realize what inconvenience their tardiness causes.

Whenever you have news or advertising for the paper, get it in well ahead of the deadline. You will get better service, and have the satisfaction of knowing that you did not impose upon the newspaper's people.

Kansas Widow "Happiest" Taxpayer As Winner In Cattlemen's Annual Contest

MADISONVILLE—A Kansas widow has convinced skeptical Texas cattlemen she is the world's happiest taxpayer.

Mrs. Flo Pierce of La Crosse, Kan., was announced today as winner of the Madisonville Side-walk Cattlemen's Association contest. She'll get a free tour of Texas—and a chance to elaborate.

Two years ago an Ohio veter-an won the association's contest to select the ex-serviceman who served in Texas and hated Texas the most. His title: No. 1 Tex-as Hater. Last year a Montant cowpoke won the contest to name the cowboy who had the roughest winter.

The taxpayer contest drew hundreds of letters from throughout the world. But Mrs. Pierce's was convincing enough to win her a plane trip here for the association's annual barbecue June 1. She will land at 9 a. m. May 31 in Houston where the cattlemen will meet her and escort her here.

Dr. J. H. Heath, president of the association, released part of her letter. Mrs. Pierce's principal point seemed to be that taxes certainly are higher these days, but at least you can pay them.

"When I married," she wrote, "we had no direct federal taxes to pay, but could hardly raise money for personal taxes. You remember when wheat brought 25 cents a bushel, corn 12 to 30 cents, hogs as low as 3 cents (a pound), eggs 6 to 9 cents a doz., and cotton 6 cents (a pound). In 1932 our taxes were less than $50 and we couldn't pay them. My taxes are now many times that amount and I am very happy in the knowledge that I can now (and do, you know how the government is) pay them and have enough left over to insure me a good living.

"My husband died in 1948 and since then I have experienced no difficulty in paying my taxes. It is a pleasure to do so.

"I am sincere and honest when I say that I am the happiest taxpayer in the world. I am happy in the knowledge that I have sense enough to appreciate the good fortune of being a citizen of the United States of America, and happy to be able to live in the standard American way. But to keep this standard for all, our government must have money. I am the person who is happy to have the privilege of contributing my share for the betterment of my city, county, state and nation, and I am happy that I still have enough left to maintain a standard living far above and beyond that of the average citizen of any other country in the world. I am glad that I am being taxed to help care for our aged so that their last days may be contented and peaceful, free of the worry of want, hungry and insecurity; glad that I'm being taxed to help conserve our natural resources, such as soil and water; glad I'm being taxed to help distribute the advantages of electricity and good roads and good schools to all Americans, not just a favored few.

"In fact," she concluded, "I assure you I will be only too happy, willing and eager to deliver the bulk of the message in person in Texas. After the barbecue, of course."

Master Hymnal To Be Published

Most American families enjoy hymns more than any other kind of music, and for this huge market Funk and Wagnalls this year will publish "The Family Book of Favorite Hymns," compiled by Arthur Austin.

The publishers say the volume will include such old-time favorites as "Rock of Ages," "Bring Me In The Sheaves," "Church In The Wilderness" and "The Old Time Religion." The book is designed in a large, colorful format so that a group of people may use it easily around a piano.

The hymns were selected after more than three years of research designed to discover the most popular songs of all denominations. It will include the great congregational songs of the English language, plus those which have remained favorites with people down through the centuries.

Byron Knight, who has been attending West Texas State College, Canyon, is visiting here with his mother, Mrs. Bernice Knight.

Labor Day is the only national holiday recognized by Congressional action.
