Child Killed, Many Injured; Heavy Damage in Property

Jim Ward Jeffers Family Escape Death When Falling Brick Crush Automobile

TORNADIC Winds striking out of the northwest late Tuesday brought death to a Latin American child and injury to at least 12 other persons in neighboring Cottle county. Property damage was estimated last night at a quarter of a million dollars, without taking into account the loss in wheat and row crops.

Most of the crops in the path of the storm were totally destroyed and it is estimated that half of Cottle county's 15,000 acres of wheat was lost. Valley View school brick gymnasium was totally destroyed, the teacherages unroofed, power lines in the vicinity wrecked, and the front of a filling station a short distance away on US Highway 70, was torn away.

Ida Placencia, age three months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isabella Placencia, was killed. The family reside on the Jack Parnell farm in the Sneedville community, eight miles southeast of Paducah. The child was killed when the house was blown away.

Other members of the family receiving treatment in Richards Memorial hospital Tuesday night were Mrs. Placencia, Olivia, 9, Alejandro, 7, Ysabel, 6, Abraham, 4, and Adan, 3.

Others receiving treatment in the crowded hospital after the storm had passed were Truman Havens, 25, with left hip and leg injury and Dorothy Havens, 23, with a fractured right arm; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richards of five miles southeast of Paducah, both with cuts and bruises; Billy Richardson of the Hackberry community, with a left hand injury and Mrs. C. B. Holder of Paducah with a broken right arm.

Havens was pinned beneath a pickup truck for more than an hour when the vehicle turned over on him as a group raced to the safety of a storm cellar in a rural community.

Miracle Spares Family

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ward Jeffers and their two children, Freddie, 8, and Carol, 4, escaped death in the storm by a miracle. The family resides on Mrs. U. L. Willie's ranch near the western border of Cottle county. Witnessing the storm's approach and seeking some place of safety, they drove in the Valley View school grounds where Freddie Jeffers had remembered seeing a cellar. Fury of the storm was so great by the time they reached the school that it was impossible to leave the car. Jeffers drove close to the south brick wall of the school building for protection.

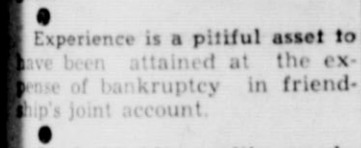

When an upper section of the wall crumbled the falling brick crushed the automobile in which the family was huddled. When the storm passed the family crawled from the telescoped vehicle, uninjured. They were brought back to the ranch by Charles Russell, enroute to Matador to visit his relatives. The Willie ranch house was undamaged.

TRAIL DUST Moss Holds Final Meet

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Most of the transgressions we find in other people are discovered through the facilities of our own experiences. Evil requires an introduction to the truly good.

Experience is a pitiful asset to have been attained at the expense of bankruptcy in friendship's joint account.

Our bad habits are like weeds. They develop without planting, mature without attention and become more difficult to eradicate the longer they are allowed to grow.

A bough of red roses dangled from the broken trellis which had once shaded the old window. Sunlight splashed on the panes like molten gold cooling in the evening twilight, and a breath of breeze from a mesquite tree was blowing over the unpainted pane. The girl was standing in the yard when I rode up and came to the gate when I dismounted. She was slender and fair with a pleasant dignity in the way she walked. It was an extremely awkward moment because I was embarrassed at the prospect of asking her to accompany me to a party the following evening. A few seconds after I spoke my horse wiped his snobbing mouth on the sleeve of my shirt, leaving a lipful of grass in the uncomfortable wake. The girl laughed with her eyes but did not smile. She refused me politely but firmly, with a tone in her voice that I interpreted as devoid of any encouragement. The night was cool and the stars hung close as I followed the winding trail home. At a gate on the side of the hill, I hugged the post to lighten the wire and my horse again rubbed his nose on my sleeve. I patted the animal's sleek neck and climbed back into the saddle. Much of affection is a matter of convenience.

After abundant rainfall I am grateful for the privilege of using all the water my ablation requires without feeling that I am sinning.

REGISTERED PIGS DISTRIBUTED HERE

Eight registered Poland China gilts and one registered boar were distributed here Monday to nine winners in the Motley county 4-H Sears program. A record number of 21 contestants were registered according to County Agent Bill Palmmeier.

The eight gilts went to Wallace Archer and Leo Reed of Flomot, W. R. Bain of Northfield, Jack Luckett of Matador, Mae Martin of Bird Ranch, Kenneth Robbins of Richard Stafford and Boyd Long of Roaring Springs. Dean Turner of Flomot was winner of the boar.

Six of the gilts distributed in the program were secured from Tommy Scaff, with two being purchased from Hale county 4-H members. The boar was purchased from John Adams of Tulsa.

The pigs distributed Monday were eight weeks old. They will be shown in the county Sears show here in September. The first place gilt and boar will be first place gilt and boar in the Lubbock area district show (date and place to be announced later).

WRECKAGE of Valley View school gymnasium is shown in upper left. The walls appeared to have been torn apart by an explosion. In the lower right center of this picture part of a basketball goal is visible.

In the center picture Paducah Fire Chief Price Sandlin is receiving a cup of coffee from his wife at an emergency canteen set up behind the fire trucks. Others in the picture are Captain Dick Reed and Howard Powell. The combined city hall and fire station was unroofed and badly damaged by water.

Miracle of the storm is the automobile at the right from which Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ward Jeffers and their two children emerged unharmed after the vehicle was flattened by a portion of the Valley View school house wall.—Photos by Douglas Meador.

'Uncle Rans' Moore, 79 Is Claimed by Death

MATADOR has lost one of its most beloved pioneers. "Uncle Rans" R. P. Moore, 79, died in the West Texas Hospital, Lubbock, about 1:30 a. m. Monday. He had been seriously ill the past three weeks.

"Uncle Rans" had been a resident of Matador for 60 years and witnessed the development of the scattering buildings and dugouts on the banks of Ballard creek, to the thriving, modern town of today.

Perhaps no other citizen of Matador had greater faith in its future or loved it more than "Uncle Rans". He had been actively engaged in business here for three score years, operating at the time of his death, the Commercial grocery which he established in 1900. It is the oldest continuously operated firm in Matador. For the last quarter of a century he has been a familiar figure at the store and his vacant chair near the window is the cause of remorse among his many bereaved friends, and his relatives.

Rans Pinkerton Moore was born in Falls County, Texas, June 12, 1874 and died June 1, 1954, at the age of 79 years, 11 months and 19 days. He was the last surviving member of his family of nine children.

His family moved to Stephens county when he was about 12 years of age. He came to Motley county first in 1891 to aid his brother, the late W. W. Moore, in a cattle drive. He then went to Brockenside and in 1894 he returned to Matador.

Early Matador Publisher

In 1895, when he was 21, he became publisher of the Matador Maverick, one of the community's first newspapers. He changed the name of the paper to the Motley County Journal. The last issue he published was April 28, 1909. The present Matador Tribune, successor to these and other preceding publications, is located on almost the same site (adjoining lot) of the old Maverick building.

To augment his publishing business, Mr. Moore operated a grist mill for custom grinding of corn. The grist mill was powered by windmill, and he often (Continued on back page)

City Escapes When Storm Turns East; Crop Loss Heavy

Matador barely escaped the storm which developed into tornadic winds in Cottle county. Many watched the cloud approaching from the north and were relieved when it turned east for a distance and then took a southeast course to Paducah. Only a few sprinkles of rain fell here.

Other sections of the county north of here were less fortunate. Thousands of acres of recently planted cotton will require replanting in the Whiteflat Flomot and White Star areas, according to reports.

Mayor W. L. McWilliams received a painful bruise on his hand when he was struck by a large hailstone while working in a field in the Whiteflat community. Some reports said cattle were injured by large hail in some areas.

Wind and hail accompanied the heavy rains in the north part of the county and crop losses are exceedingly heavy. Some buildings were reported damaged by the wind. The storm, which originated in the area of Hereford, swept across a wide section of West Texas in a southeasterly direction, with winds up to 100 mph recorded in Wichita Falls.

GIESECKE FALLS FROM ROOF TOP

Former county judge C. W. Giesecke suffered serious injury two weeks ago when he fell from the roof of his home in Floydada. He crushed the bone in his left heel and is on crutches with his foot in a cast.

Mr. Giesecke's accident was unusual. In preparing to re-roof a home he had recently purchased at 217 West Ollie street in Floydada, he was on the roof using an ax to cut protruding limbs from nearby trees. He had almost completed the job when he swung at a limb, missed and fell about 11 feet.

He tossed the ax clear in the fall and landed on a concrete slab, crushing his heel. He was hospitalized in Plainview where his foot was placed in a cast.

Mr. Giesecke was a visitor here Tuesday at the Lions Club meeting, accompanied by his son Lt. R. C. Giesecke, who returned recently from Korea.

The former Motley county official said his foot was still painful and that his physician had warned him to walk (on crutches) but short intervals daily.

Miss Patsy Jean Patterson of Winters, is visiting here in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Bill Seale and family.

Former Resident Claimed By Death

Dick Davis, 47, of Duncan, Okla., formerly of Spur and Matador, died Tuesday of a heart attack, and several local residents attended his funeral, which was held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Duncan.

Survivors include his wife, the former Mary Higgins of Matador and two sons, Mack and Ronnie; also a foster brother, C. D. Bird, of Matador.

Mrs. Seth Sager accompanied her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kennedy and children, Pat and Chuck, on their return Wednesday to their home in Houston, after a visit here.

BY MRS. J. M.

Thanks to the Dick Groves (es) out at Wilcox, Arizona, for recent issues of the "Arizona Range News". We now know why Rex Allen is a favorite movie star with the younger set. Out there at Wilcox, where he grew up, they recently celebrated with two days designated as "Rex Allen - FFA Days", rodeos being the principal attractions.

Rex Allen has risen to the heights in the entertainment world with ability to sing and play musical instruments. He is a top rodeo performer by virtue of having grown up on the range. He has been a cowpoke from the time he was old enough to ride and his father was one before him.

He began his singing career with a Sears Roebuck guitar which his father bought him when he was about 11 years old. His father plays the violin. According to the Range News, Rex, at the age of 13 made his radio debut in Phoenix at the State Cattlemen's Convention. By March, 1943, his fame had spread and he was offered top spot for a western singer, the National Barn Dance.

Disk jockeys of the nation this month were receiving advance copies of his latest Decca platter, "I Could Cry My Heart Out".

COWBOY REX ALLEN TO BE FEATURE OF BOYS CLUB RODEO

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 2.—Rex Allen, famed Western screen star, and his horse Koko will be the special attractions at this year's Boys Club Rodeo which will be held in Lubbock from Wednesday, June 9, thru Saturday, June 12.

The Arizona cowboy, now under contract with Republic Studios, will take part in each of the four nightly rodeo performances at Jones Stadium on the Texas Tech campus. Each show will begin at 8 p. m.

The rodeo, which will be opened June 9 with a gala parade at 3 p. m. through downtown Lubbock, promises to be one of the largest professional rodeos in West Texas this season. Nearly two dozen West Texas riding groups are expected to enter the parade.

As in years past, many of the individual Champion Cowboys will be on hand to vie for the more than $3,000 in prize money.

Bill Linderman, All-Around Champion of the World in 1953, is expected to head the list of some 200 contestants. Others expected to participate are Casey Tibbs, world's champ saddle bronc rider last year; Gerald Roberts, All Around Champion in 1942 and 1948; and Don McLaughlin, world champion calf roping from 1951 through 1953.

Other "added attractions" during each show will be the appearances of Cy's Flaming Wreck, featuring a dilapidated car act; The Valkyries and their Flying White Horses, an all-girl troupe with trained albino steeds and the rodeo clowns, including Wes Curtis.

Again this year, stock for the show will be furnished by Butler Brothers of Elk City, Okla. The announcer will be Cy Tallion.

The Ownership of a Community...

EVERY RESIDENT of a community has a share in its ownership. His home or other property is directly affected by the progress and attitude of his neighbors. If the community has a spirit of loyalty, confidence and modern trend, his property value will remain stable or increase. His schools, churches and civic improvements will contain their value and improve. His job or business will become more secure and his community investment will pay greater returns.

As a partner in the business of building a community, every resident has a definite obligation to assume a partner's responsibility in working for the community's interest. Progress requires the effort of everyone.

Much has been said about trading at home for merchandise and services needed in the conduct of our daily lives, but the importance is often neglected. No other single influence tends to strengthen the economic life of a community as does the loyal patronage of its residents. Frequently important sales are made outside the small community that justly belong to its merchants and businessmen. Some of the fault rests in our modern tempo of life which causes us to become careless in loyalty.

As a suggestion, we implore you to consider every purchase before you complete it. Try your home merchant, business or professional man first. Tell him what you want. Give him a chance to serve you. You will find greater convenience, more pleasant dealings, and be helping to protect your investment in your community.

Interest Mounts In Flomot Plaque Memorial Project

Interest continues to mount in the proposed memorial plaque which the Flomot Ex-students and Ex-teachers Association is sponsoring to honor servicemen from that community who lost their lives while in the line of duty. Joe L. Speer, chairman of the memorial plaque committee said that contributions and letters were coming in steadily.

Plans are to have the plaque ready and on display at the home-coming planned for July 3-4. Plans are also being considered for a monument on which the plaque could be mounted. However no definite step has been made in this direction as yet.

Mrs. Bernice Gies, a member of the plaque committee has received the following letter from Rayford O. Thompson, Lake Jackson, Texas, regarding the reunion plans:

"Dear Bernice: I was so proud to receive the invitation to the Home-coming and to just hear from some one of the class. I have heard very little from that area in many years and sure would enjoy seeing anyone from there. I doubt if it will be possible for us to come this year but I do hope I can soon. I'd give my right arm nearly to be there, and there is a possibility that we could make it."

"I have three children, one girl, twenty years old going to TCU in Fort Worth, another 13, in the seventh grade, and a boy 11, in the fifth. We have lived in this area now for over eleven years and we like it fine. I work for Dow Chemical Co., as an instrument man, and am well pleased with my job."

"I surely would enjoy hearing from former friends... what happened to Willie Gates; also Houston Wedeman, the Bourland boys and Castel Clements? I could ask a thousand questions, and would give anything to make the home-coming... I want to thank you so much for remembering me and I do hope to come on the 4th, but as of now it looks impossible. Am enclosing a dollar to help on the plaque. Tell everyone hello for me. A friend and classmate, Rayford O. Thompson, 312 Azalea St., Lake Jackson, Texas."

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

When a man voluntarily signs a check for a horse, he has never made a mistake, he at once admits that he has never attempted anything like it.

Looking out over the political horizon from the shade of my favorite mesquite tree, it appears that Senator Joe McCarthy has succeeded only in creating some rather dull epithets to mark the resting place of his party.

Little Guatemala has decided to boycott the United States which is like a frustrated flea attempting to annoy a Saint Bernard by turning his patronage elsewhere.

Some dream must be concealed in each life, else it will perish like a fragile ship without the shelter of a harbor in a storm. To exhaust the strength of our hopes is to face a wall without light.

The mind is a physician; thoughts are the herbs compounded for the desire therapy.

Somewhere beyond the darkness an eastern hills swings the banner of dawn that will cradle a new day. Its birth is being heralded against the stars by the song of a mockingbird, singing tirelessly through the night. The silence is charged with beauty that clings to distance and reaches with a sublime tenderness, like a young mother's fingers seeking the touch of her child.

Maize stalks scraped my bare legs as I walked through the field as my mother's side and a barb scratched my back when she spread the wires apart to pass through the tottering fence. The doctor was driving away in his buggy when we reached the high, unpurged house beyond the field. Several weary, saddled horses were tied along the horse lot fence and a team of blazed bays was hitched to a buggy near the windmill. Some dogs were squealing for their evening swill beyond the dilapidated lots. My mother held my hand as we entered the room where four silent women sat. She went to the low bed and placed her hand on the small boy's forehead and was motionless until someone found a chair for her. The boy's eyes were closed and sunken and when she checked were pale and hollow. On the opposite side of the bed the mother held her child's hand. She was a small, thin woman whose unkempt hair fell across her eyes. Her hands were calloused and brown like tanned leather. Presently she became tense and worried spread across her face. My mother rose and touched the child's pulse with her fingers, then slowly brought the sheet up over the forever closed eyes. She placed her arms around the sobbing woman and led her through the door into the hot summer twilight. Aroused during the night from a pallet where some other children were sleeping, my mother held my hand as we walked back through the darkened field. When I stumbled she lifted me to her arms, held me very close and kissed my freckled cheek with extreme tenderness.

It is an incredible fact that almost without exception, any man or woman in this nation has within them the power to become wealthy and secure through the exercise of effort, patience and faith.

Walter Hambo of Ochelato, Okla., who has been visiting here this week with his sister and family, Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Little, was joined here Monday by his fiancée, Miss Dora Davila of Laredo, Texas.

1st Load Of Wheat Is Sold

First load of 1954 wheat was brought to the Kimbell Elevator in Roaring Springs late Friday. The wheat was grown by W. T. Gwinn in the Teepee Flat Community. The load graded 62 lbs. per bushel and was sold for $1.85.

Mr. Gwinn said he has only 23 acres of wheat and that he thinks it may average 10 bushels to the acre. He said that hail damaged his crop approximately one third.

S. J. Braselton and David Campbell, who operate the county's only grain elevator for the Kimbell Mill & Elevator Company, said they expect the crop to be extremely short. Prolonged dry weather through the first three and one-half months of the year is credited with effecting the small acreage and low yield. Many farmers plowed up the wheat acreage after the general rains.

The Kimbell Elevator announces available storage for wheat and complete facilities for the handling of grain, including weighing, testing, etc.

Those who wish to enroll in the foods class for a study of high and low calorie foods, are requested to contact Mrs. Fair, room 10 of the different foods required by families daily. The study will be another phase of the study.

Dumont Boy Injured In Fall From Horse

Kent Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Park of Dumont, suffered abdominal injuries Wednesday afternoon, June 2, when he fell from a horse he was riding, and the animal stepped on him. He was brought to Stanley Hospital, where he has been receiving treatment.

Other hospital patients the past week have included Mrs. Raymond Taylor, Whiteflat, surgery; Mrs. Bob Porter, Afton, John Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Dumont, and Karen Ted Elliott, all tonsillectomies; Mrs. Reece Kell, Flomot, and Elmer Stearns, Matador, both treated for pneumonia.

Mrs. W. T. Patton is visiting this week in Wichita Falls, with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Patton.

TRAINED AS LEADERS in 4-H Club work, these Flomot youths returned recently from a three-day encampment at Buffalo Gap. They are left to right (standing) Max Crowell, Leo Reed, and seated, Wanda Moseley and Mary Ann Calvert. The above photograph was made in the office of County Agent Bill Palmeyer, immediately after their return. Approximately 118 boys and girls attended the camp where they were taught citizenship, safety, crafts, recreation, leadership and self-government. Mr. Palmeyer said the training received by the four Flomot youths will be expanded to other clubs in the county. The Buffalo Gap camp training course was the first in what is now being planned as an annual arrangement.

Injured Farmer Drives 4 Miles To Secure Aid

F. M. Casey, 75, farmer in the Whiteflat community since 1917, probably owes his life to his ability to think and act in an extreme emergency. Early Saturday he was run down by a disc plow while working alone on his farm 4 miles east and north of the Whiteflat community.

Bleeding profusely from a right hand seriously mangled, a lacerated left hand and suffering a painful hip injury, Mr. Casey managed to stop the motor on his tractor and reach his automobile. He drove the four miles to Whiteflat and was brought to Stanley hospital by T. M. Dixon. At times he declared he would "black-out" from pain and loss of blood. He would stop his car to regain sufficient acumen to resume the journey upon which his life depended. His condition yesterday was declared excellent.

German Girl Impressed By West Texas Farming

Dr. Sigrid Gschwind, 22, of Frankfurt, Germany, who has a Doctor's Degree in agronomy, was impressed with farming and methods in West Texas when she visited here two weeks ago.

Miss Gschwind, who is an exchange student at Purdue University on a Fulbright scholarship, was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Barkley. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baumgardner of Wellington, and their daughter, from whom they were enroute, Precilla, as they were enroute to Lubbock, where the latter attends Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumgardner, accompanied by their daughter, had been to Lafayette, Indiana visiting their son, Marion, who is a student in Purdue. Miss Gschwind accompanied them home on a tour of this area which included a visit to Texas Technological College. She is scheduled to return to Germany in August.

The German girl is doing research work in Purdue. She said no travel money was provided for her to visit farming country south and west of the Indiana university. She had been told that most of the vast area was desert and waste. Instead she said the country showed outstanding agricultural advancement employing the most modern farming methods.

Miss Gschwind confided in her Texas friends that she had a sweetheart (also holding a Doctor's Degree in agronomy) waiting in Germany. His people's farmland had been confiscated by the Communists. When she was offered the opportunity of attending a university here on the scholarship, they hoped it might be possible for both of them to come to the United States. Currently Miss Gschwind is attempting to earn $500 before August when she must return. She said the money would make it possible for both of them to come to this country.

Bob Stinson Home Destroyed In Storm

The recent storm which hit Paducah and outlying communities, destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stinson of the Hackberry community, and they barely escaped with their lives. They are parents of Miss Viola Stinson of the Stanley Hospital staff of nurses.

The Stinsons first sought shelter in their storm cellar. Then, when he discovered the house was about to be blown down on top of the cellar, they escaped and took refuge in the family pickup. In driving away from the scene, and Mr. Stinson then had to brave the elements to use his tractor in pulling the pickup to higher ground.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Austin, were Mrs. J. E. Barnhill, Mrs. W. H. Bell and Mrs. Myra Covington, all of Turkey.

Killed Rattlesnake

The accident resulted when Mr. Casey stopped his tractor on the road and saw a large rattlesnake under the plow. He decided he could kill the snake by running over it with the disc plow. He said that he must have stepped off the tractor clutch thinking the engine was disengaged. The tractor lunged about the time he stepped to the ground and the disc plow knocked him down. The tractor went through a five-wire fence on the Fish farm, broke down a number of trees and circled back toward the road coming to a stop in a bar ditch when it slanted sufficiently to take a wheel from the ground. It was at this point that Mr. Casey managed to turn off the ignition switch.

At his bedside following the accident were his two sons, Raymond Casey of Wichita Falls; W. N. Casey of Abilene, and two daughters, Mrs. Grady Acker of Stamford and Mrs. A. T. Bruce of Sweetwater.

Decline Shown In Matador Schools

Lunchroom Shows Profit Through Aid of Commodities; 1,334 Free Meals to Needy

SCHOLASTIC DECLINE in Matador schools is announced after a final summary of the average daily attendance last term by the school board. Scholastic census indicates a loss of 65 (decline from 396 to 331) between 1953 and 1954. Average daily attendance loss was from 293.72 to 271.32 during the same period. Severe drought conditions prevailing during the past year were blamed for the loss.

The student loss will not materially affect the school next season, altho it will reduce classroom units from 12 to 11, according to the opinions of school officials. Members of the school board see little prospect of any emergency resulting from the district's loss of one classroom unit. Possibility exists only in a large influx of transient workers coming here, or the return of many of the families who moved away because of drought conditions. Only change anticipated is that due to the small enrollment (18) only one 1st grade will be maintained.

PADUCAH

(continued from page one) lines and telephone lines were damaged in all directions and it was several hours before the damage of the storm was known. Paducah's city hall and fire station was unroofed and drenching rain soaked both floors, including many city records and other property. Fire Chief and Mrs. Price Sandlin, who live at the fire hall, said their apartment was flooded. They set up a coffee and sandwich station behind the fire trucks for firemen, officers, telephone and electric linemen and others working through the night. Childress sent an emergency fire truck to stand by until the emergency was passed.

The J. F. Powell Butane and Appliance Company's storage building for trucks, was demolished within a block of the city hall. The brick structure was for many years the Ford agency in Paducah.

Tree limbs and signs littered the Paducah streets. Awnings were ripped away from many buildings and some trees were uprooted. There was no evidence of panic and most of the community's residents had retired by ten o'clock. Although water was three feet deep immediately after the storm at the intersection of US Highway 70 and US Highway 83 in Paducah, the total rainfall recorded there was only 1.30 inches.

The Valley View gymnasium looked as if it had been bombed or had exploded, with brick and debris thrown away from the building. Paducah residents said heavy dust and sand filled the air as the storm hit. None had witnessed a tornadoic cloud.

Mrs. Virgil Rattan called the Tribune early yesterday and reported that she had watched the cloud east of here and that she had seen a tornado dip to the earth two or three times in the direction of Paducah.

Ideal conditions during June for the control of mesquite were discussed here Tuesday during the regular meeting of the Upper Pease Soil Conservation District. County Agent Bill Pallmeyer announced that Spur Experiment Station Superintendent Charles Fisher had advised present conditions as ideal through June.

He said the recommended mixture includes one-half pound of 2-4-5T acid with one gallon of diesel fuel and three gallons of water (rain water is preferred). Mesquites on sand soil respond better to the control application. Fisher also pointed out that June spraying will produce satisfactory weed control. Weeds are a present problem in most pastures, he said. Mr. Pallmeyer advised that bulletins on mesquite control are available from his office.

Mrs. Bruce Garner Gibson

Vows Exchanged In Church Ceremony By Dorothy Traweek And Lt. Gibson

Marriage vows were exchanged Tuesday, June 8, at 7:30 PM in the First Methodist Church, by Miss Dorothy Ann Traweek, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Traweek, Jr., of Matador and Lt. Bruce Garner Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce O. Gibson of Turkey, Texas.

Rev. W. V. O'Kelly, pastor of the church, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

White satin ropes extended from each side of a white, wrought-iron altar arch decorated with sprays of white flowers. Two candelabra holding cathedral tapers on each side of the arch, were flanked by baskets of white gladioli and greenery. Spiral tapers in twin holders tied with white satin ribbon, were attached to the pews and marked the bridal aisle.

A medley of selections preceding the ceremony was played by

Mrs. John V. Stevens, pianist, who accompanied Mrs. Glenn Woodruff, vocalist. Mrs. Woodruff sang, "Oh Promise Me" as a pre-nuptial solo, and "The Lord's Prayer" at the conclusion of the ceremony. A musical background by Mrs. Stevens accompanied the ceremony, and traditional wedding marches were used for processional and recessional.

Gown Is Lace And Tulle

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported bride's lace and tulle. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was trimmed with seed pearls outlining the yoke. Matching lace formed a sun-burst pleated panel for the front of the full skirt of tulle worn over taffeta, and ending in a train. Her circular veil was attached to a lace cap studded with seed pearls. She carried yellow roses and white stephanotis in a spray bouquet on a lace-covered Bible, and wore a six-pence in her shoe for good luck.

Miss Frances Traweek of Matador, attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a waltz-length dress of mint green imported organdy over taffeta, fashioned with shirred bands of self-material at the neck and on the skirt. Her tulle pleated cap was trimmed with green flowers. She wore long white gloves and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Bridesmaids were, Miss Mary Hunsucker of Hedley, Texas, Miss Elizabeth Henderson, of Jacksboro, Miss Patti Pipkin and Mrs. G. B. Durham, both of Matador. They wore identical dresses of imported yellow organdy over taffeta, fashioned the same as that worn by the maid of honor. They wore short white gloves and tulle pleated caps trimmed with yellow flowers. They carried small white Bibles and sprays of yellow roses and fringe carnations.

Kay Malone of Amarillo, was flower girl. She wore a yellow organdy frock and spring flowers in her hair. Ronnie Turner of Memphis, served as ring bearer. Both are cousins of the bridegroom.

Joe Bob Barnhill of Turkey, Texas, was best man. Ushers were, Frank Traweek, Matador, brother of the bride; Bob Hassell and Jack Brooks, Lubbock; and Alton Lane, Turkey.

For a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride chose a brown and yellow brocaded dress with matching summer coat. Her ensemble also included brown lizard shoes and bag, a brown velvet hat, and three-quarter length beige gloves. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

After their return June 11, they will be at home in Lubbock, Texas.

Patio Reception At Home

Following the ceremony, a reception was held on the patio at the Traweek home. Forming the receiving line were parents of the bride and bridegroom, and members of the wedding party.

The marriage joined prominent families of Matador and Turkey, both of early settlers in this area. Following graduation from Matador High School, Mrs. Gibson attended Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, from which she received her BA degree. She did further work at Texas Technological College, Lubbock during the past year, and received a BS degree in Home Economics.

Lt. Gibson is a graduate of Turkey High School and Texas A. and M. College, where he was the Third Division Commander. He is at present in the Army Air Force Reserves, and employed at Lubbock as landscape architect for Kings Nurseries.
