Crop Failure Draws Penalty For Farmer

"No Crop" Growers Doomed By 65-40-47

WASHINGTON has the answer to the cotton problem, especially as it is applied to the "drouth stricken" area. Merely penalize a farmer because no rain fell and he could not plant cotton. That is exactly what is planned in the 65-40-47 increased allotment amendment now up for consideration.

Worried farmers appealed Tuesday to the Tribune to voice their plight. Some of them did not plant a cotton seed last year, yet the new allotment will be based on the number of acres in cotton during 1951, 1952 and 1953, taking a three-year average. In the following case a small farm operator received a larger allotment than the large farm operator. The penalty is imposed because the farmer could not plant.

An actual case brought to the newspaper's attention (estimated 200 similar cases in Motley county) is as follows: Farmer A has 297.8 acres in cultivation and Farmer B has 170 acres in cultivation. Farmer A planted 150 acres of cotton in 1951, 180 acres in 1952 but in 1953 he planted zero acres because of the drouth. His 3-year average is 110 acres. Farmer B planted 77 acres in 1951, 130 acres in 1952 and 123 acres in 1953. His three-year average is also 110.2 acres.

Penalty Imposed
It is at this point the penalty is imposed on the "drouth-stricken" farmer. The ruling allows the farmer 65% of the 3-year average or 40% of the highest planted acreage. Under the present allotment Farmer A with 297-acre farm receives an allotment of 87 acres for cotton. Farmer B with 170-acre farm receive an allotment of 48.4 acres for cotton. But the final allotment after the 65-40-47 increase is applied, does not allow Farmer A any increase; he still has an allotment of 87 acres, while Farmer B receives an increase to 71.6 acres—within 16 acres of as much allotment as Farmer A, altho his total cultivation is only 170 acres.

Farmers say the new allotment increase was a misrepresentation. They say they were told the 1953 crop would not be counted in the 3-year average. Others say "somebody is asleep in Washington."

The doomed drouth-stricken farmer who is fighting terrific odds against debt, lack of credit and the uncertain future, is now faced with a "penalty" because he failed to plant cotton in 1953. The Tribune has but one suggestion: Write your Congressman (Walter Rogers), Senator Lyndon Johnson and State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White (Austin).

"Dry" Rivers Rise In Startling Flow

Motley county's "usually dry" rivers are flowing. Nature observers are pleasantly mystified at the unusual flow of water in streams which have a normal function of carrying off excessive rainfall. During "wet years" the streams, most of which flow eastward out of the Cap Rock foothills, will flow for extended periods.

During dry periods, however, the streams are usually ribbons of dry sand. Early-day residents say the streams formerly flowed more than in recent years.

Tongue River which receives the water from Roaring Springs was reported 30 days ago as flowing an unusual amount west of the springs. South and Middle Pease rivers have been observed as flowing more than at any time in recent years. Ballard creek which heads west of the Matador Ranch headquarters, and considered a dry creek, is reported as flowing under the US Highway 70 bridge about one mile east of town.

The mystery of the flow of water is intensified by the general assumption that water in this area is received from the vast sands beneath the Plains. With the wide development of irrigation on the Plains many observers believe the water levels below the Cap Rock would be lowered.

Mrs. G. B. Parkhill of Bridgeport, Mrs. Bert Black of Crosbyton, and Mrs. Buddy Shinn and daughter, Karan of Farmersville, visited here last Thursday in the home of Mrs. R. E. Donovan and with Mrs. G. W. Seigler.

The meeting was organized by Motley County Judge Vance Gilbreath who told the Tribune he hopes the group will ask for one of three forms of government aid: (a) direct relief, (b) a refinancing of loans by the government or (c) a program of public works which will provide employment. He said Motley county has only slightly over $2,000 budgeted for relief and that a single case will require about one fourth of the amount.

Matador's city government will be under Boy Scout rule Saturday, beginning at 8 a. m. when Troop 60 will assume office. Following a brief flag ceremony on the courthouse lawn, Mayor Douglas Meador will administer the oath of office.

Officers to serve during the day of boy rule were elected Tuesday night at a regular meeting of the Scout troop. Total membership of Troop 60 is now 62 boys.

Ramey Brandon was elected to serve as mayor. Guy Campbell as judge, Ronald Bailey as chief of police, Robin Darsey as fire chief, Gerald Pipkin as prosecuting attorney, Jimmy Creed Jameson as secretary and Pat Groves as treasurer. Other members of the troop will serve as patrolmen and deputies. "Boy officials" will resign at 5 p. m., returning the city to its prosaic administration.

Record Church Attendance
Union church service attendance at the First Baptist church Sunday evening was one of the largest in the history of youth week observance. Almost every available seat in the large auditorium was filled. A large group of Scouts in uniform, accompanied by Scoutmaster Algie Groves and Assistant Scoutmaster Freddie Welling, attended en masse.

During his inspiring sermon, Rev. V. O'Kelly told his young listeners that this generation offers the greatest opportunities in education, religion and progress that the world has ever known. "Your opportunity is unlimited to live good, useful lives," he declared. "We grow with experience and we conquer the future by conquering the past," the Methodist minister declared. His sermon was titled: "Is Life A Chance?" Scripture reading by Scout Clinton Lee Burns, was from the 5th and 6th chapters of Galatians.

My dictionary defines a penthouse as a lean-to, which provides a bolster for my tired vanity. I once lived in a penthouse on a claim in Oklahoma. It was heated by a forced air cow-chip system; the floor was a soil original.

Born of the Sen Sen generation and without a sister, my early social life was extremely limited as was my understanding of girls. I don't believe I ever held a girl's hand until I was 13, but the next year I wrote and received notes in school. The shame of it is still humiliating: the brown-eyed blonde girl whose seat was next to mine, stood, at the teacher's command, and read the three word message I had written and foolishly endorsed. I can still hear some of the laughter in that high-ceilinged school room. I wondered then and many times since, if romance is worth the cost.

R. L. Brandon Files As City Candidate
R. L. Brandon filed Monday for a place on the city ballot as candidate for councilman. Matador will elect two councilmen in the April 6 election. Terms of Jack Norman and Andy Hurst will expire on the election date and neither has filed for a place on the ballot. Final date for filing is 30 days prior to April 6.

RECOVERS FROM ATTACK

R. P. (Uncle Ransie) Moore has recovered from a slight cerebral hemorrhage which he suffered last Thursday, confining him to his bed for several days. He was able to come to town yesterday, to look after business. Visiting the Moores during the week-end were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Merrell Harper and children, Cris and Beverly of Lubbock; and a son, Bill Moore of Fort Worth. Accompanying the latter was his niece, Mrs. Bill Mantooh also of Fort Worth, who visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Russell.

Gallop Through the Years

Gallop through the years with gusto and the lustrous eyes of a gazelle, it was difficult for the kindly old man to accept the knowledge that he had reached the end of his days. He was like a traveler whose road ends abruptly at the shore of a sparkling sea. His life had been full and rich and he thought of eternity with serene anticipation, but the transition was too impetuous to match the spectacular pace he had lived. He told me quite convincingly that to die seemed such an ordinary thing to do.

Calamity is a maniac who systematically tries every door of caution.

Providence embraces the sublime charter of the individual by making it impossible for one to see the world through the eyes of another, which assumes the obvious, that, with reservations, every life is lived alone: Misery, hatred, jealousy and additional components of evil are witnessed from the precise elevation that other eyes may see beauty, love, compassion and friendship. Frequently without weighing the option, we see that which we will to see; the dreamer sees the star without observing the night.

Sterling Price Is Sheriff Candidate

The Tribune is authorized to announce the candidacy of Sterling Price for the office of Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector of Motley county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, July 24, 1954.

In making his announcement, Mr. Price declared, "Having served the people of Motley county in the capacity of sheriff and tax collector from 1929 to 1933 I feel that my record while in office should be my best endorsement. It is equally apparent that my experience as a peace officer of this county would make it possible for me to reassume the duties of the sheriff's office without delay. "I am grateful to my friends who have supported me previously and I solicit the support and influence of all voters in this campaign. In event I am returned to office I promise an administration of strict fulfillment of my duties, and to continue a policy of fairness to everyone established during my former term of this office."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Have your best and most important pictures enlarged so that they will assume proper importance when placed in your album, and at the same time add interest to the appearance of the book.

Variety Will Add Spice to Your Album

VARIETY, so 'tis said, is the spice of life—and it is also the dash of spice that will add interest to your snapshot album. And we aren't talking about variety in the subject matter of your pictures. We are talking about varying the way you place them in your album so that, at first glance, every page won't look just like the one before.

Pick up an album that is filled with pictures mounted in neat rows on page after page. Every picture seems to have the same importance. But we're sure that isn't true. Some of our snapshots are bound to be more important to us than others.

After thinking how such album pages look, think for a minute of the way magazines put together their picture pages. If they did them in the same way most of us do our albums, we'd tire of them very quickly. They have to lay out their picture pages in a fashion appealing to the eye. They strive to have not just each picture, but the page as a whole be interesting in appearance.

A brief study of some of these pages will give you ideas you can adapt for your own album. Note how the pictures are arranged on the page. Note how the important photos are enlarged and given lots of space.

Enlargements of your favorite and most important pictures are easily within the average picture-taking budget. Your photofinisher will do a nice job of enlarging your best negatives and you'll be surprised at how little it costs.

One of the tricks you can borrow from the magazine layout people is that of overlapping pictures, having one run into the other. You can easily do things like that in your own snapshot album—you don't even have to cut the prints. Just slip the corner of one under the corner of another.

You can trim your snapshots into odd shapes. You won't want to do too many of them that way, but just enough to add a dash of interest to the book. You can even feature the "star" of your family, or of a special occasion in a star-shaped picture.

When you are making up your album, remember that, as in looking at magazines, you always see two pages at one time. Keep that in mind and lay the two facing pages out at the same time so that you can be sure they'll look well together. —John Van Guilder

Soil Tests Needed For Higher Yields In Fertilizer Use

By Bill Pallmeyer

High crop yields at lower cost in 1954 are possible for farmers who follow the example of many successful growers and use fertilizers according to needs shown by soil tests. All are aware that for the maximum benefit of fertilizer to be realized that sufficient moisture must be received, but with money becoming tight, some farmers are inclined to reduce their expenditures for fertilizers, thus reducing the maximum possible crop yield, which is becoming a more important figure as allotments reduce acreages of cash crops.

Food and fiber, especially at this time, must be produced more economically, and experiment station tests show much greater financial returns from crops properly fertilized than from crops supplemented with little or no plant food. On the other hand, money can be wasted for fertilizer that is not needed for proper crop growth.

Now is the time to collect soil samples and send them to the laboratory. It gives the lab enough time to analyze the sample and return recommendations so the farmer may use the information in buying fertilizers. About three weeks should be allowed for a reply. In 1953, recommendations were made on 7,989 samples.

A soil analysis determines organic matter and mineral content in soil. Upon knowing these levels and the crop to be planted on the field from which the sample was taken, the lab can make the correct recommendations.

Forms for submitting samples, together with sampling instructions are available at County Agent Bill Pallmeyers office.

Program Features Home Entertainment For Annual Mother-Daughter Banquet

Entertainment was home-talent Tuesday night when approximately two hundred mothers and daughters of the community were guests at the 16th annual Mother-Daughter banquet sponsored by Matador Parent-Teacher Association.

The affair was held in the First Baptist Church, with assembly in the auditorium, where Mrs. Bob Ham offered a prelude of organ music, and invocation was given by Mrs. J. E. Edwards.

The banquet was held in the church basement, with Mrs. Gerald Waybourn, president of Matador Parent-Teacher Association, as toastmistress.

Mrs. J. D. Craven gave the "Mother's Welcome" and her daughter, Rachel Craven, the "Daughter's Response." A reading by Mrs. J. R. Whitworth answered the question, "What Is A Girl?"

Program Features Skits
Program features were two skits. A black-faced orchestra pantomimed recorded music under billing of "Virginia Burns and her City Slickers." Performers were Mesdames Lee Burns, Fred Clower, Jessie Smallwood, Bill McCaghen, and Jack Norman.

A skit directed by Mrs. R. E. Campbell, Jr. (Lucretia Campbell and Company) was "Sunday Dinner Out" with Mrs. Bill Pipkin as "Pa," Mrs. A. L. Fair as "Ma," Mrs. Mike Hoyle as "Grandma," Mrs. Frank Pohl as "Lola," the saucy little girl, Mrs. Robert Darsey, "Fred," the mean little boy, and Mrs. Campbell the befuddled waitress. No script was used, and the action and dialogue were impromptu in rehearsals and when presented.

A salad plate with cold cuts and cherry pie a-la-mode for dessert was served. Banquet and program music included piano selections by Mrs. Glenn Woodruff, Mrs. Fred Clower and Mrs. L. D. Wilkerson.

A Valentine motif was used in table decorations and place favors. A potted cyclamen was the gift from Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Eubank of Dallas in memory of their son, the late Lt. Paul Eubank, who instigated the first Father-Son banquet here. Each year they contribute a floral arrangement to be used at both banquets.

Mrs. Wilkinson Is Hostess To Club

Whiteflat Home Demonstration club met Friday, Feb. 5, in the home of Mrs. A. K. Wilkinson, with nine members present.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Alfred Watson, and in a business session, Mrs. J. W. Pritchett was elected as delegate to attend district meeting at Seymour, with Mrs. Wilson Barton as alternate. It was reported that almost all clubs and T. H. D. A. fees were paid.

Mrs. Barton, recreation chairman, conducted two games, after which, refreshments of sandwiches, orange-ade and sherbet were served to Mesdames Roy Mitchell, Malcolm Jameson, J. W. Pritchett, Wilson Barton, Alfred Watson, Malcolm Morris and L. A. Carlisle, and Miss Melba Jameson.

The club will meet for an all-day meeting in the club room for the next meeting and will have a program on crafts, and will auction off old hats. Members will bring covered dish food for luncheon.

HD Council Has Recent Meeting

Matley County Home Demonstration Council met recently in the Commissioners' court room, with Mrs. Fred Bourland, Council Chairman, presiding.

Three clubs were represented, Flomot, Whiteflat and Matador, and each gave a good report on work being done without a demonstration agent. It was urged that each club have a delegate to the district meeting to be held at Seymour on March 24th. It was also announced the new club books for the year will be available in the near future. The council will meet again on February 20th.

MHD Club Meets In R. Stapleton Home

Matador Home Demonstration club met Thursday, Feb. 4, in the home of Mrs. Ralph Stapleton.

After a short business session, recreation was led by Mrs. G. E. Hamilton.

Pied Pinions

BY MRS. J. M.

Talk of the town is still "Law West of the Pecos" and the cast was so all-star that one member can hardly be praised above another.

Perhaps the most authentic character on the stage was Ed D. Smith, cowboy on the Matadors for many years. His acting consisted of merely being himself. When a visitor from Brownfield (between shows) commented to Ed D. that Matador certainly had a lot of talent, the veteran cowpuncher replied, "Well, we ought to have: we've got everything from idiots to opery singers... and I ain't an opery singer!"

One can just think of the Seale-Norman-Hurst trio in their pantomime act of "Cigarettes, and Whiskey and Wild Women" and "Temptation" and go into convulsions of silent mirth. Folks who've seen the act declare they would never tire of it. Several had to be convinced that the "gal" was actually Bill Seale.

The dance hall chorus was as near professional as a group of amateurs could be, and everyone noticed the uniformity in size, shape and beauty of Mary Jones, Jeannie Hines, Finnie Seale, Nan Berryman, Winifred Hurst and June Keltz.

Daddy, bartender friend of Judge Roy Bean, was convincingly portrayed by Purnan Vinson, and Joe Berry Meador as Judge Bean was cast about as perfectly as possible (and that's my ruin!). These two, with L. C. Groves, as many will remember entertained the community years ago, while still in school, as a hill-billy trio.

Our nomination for the best character make-up goes to R. E. Campbell, Jr., as "Pistol Pete"

The Bowery could hardly boast a better drunken bum.

We never tire of seeing Joanne Darsey and her acrobatic dancing, and she was a real cuter as the "Indian Maiden."

The local gals practically swooned at the singing of Jack Shirley and Crawford Taylor, both of Brownfield, and both tall, dark and handsome. Shirley is Marion Woodruff's uncle-by-marriage, and the two made a pair of striking lovers as Pedro Gonzalez and Amelita, singing "Sometime" and "Vaya Con Dios." Understand that Taylor and Shirley have sung professionally with many bands.

While Opal Pipkin as "Del Rio Sal" was gaily singing, "Gonna Build a Wide Fence Around Texas," husband Bill and family, Patti, Neal and Gerald were sitting by nervously biting their fingernails. "The kids know how how Bill and I used to sit nervously through their recitals, praying they wouldn't make too many mistakes," says Opal.

"The Doors Swing In — The Doors Swing Out" by Vivian Jacobs as "Diamond Gertie" was declared one of the highlights of the entire show, with the cowboy quartet, Walter Ray, R. E. Campbell, Sr., T. B. Edmondson and Floyd Henderson, shedding tears for Little Nell, in the background.

Jay Gould couldn't have portrayed himself any better than did Glenn Woodruff, and Bette Fran Montgomery's performance as "Lily Langtry" was faultless.

Adding spice to the mixture of talent were: Dr. Ernest Denney as the Indian Chief, "Crazy-horse"; Ritual chorus dancers, Pat and Mike Groves, Manuel Nichols and Stanley Welling, with Bobbie Cross beating the drum; Ben Edwards as the "Whiskey Drummer," who sang, "Got a Touch of Texas"; James Ed Russell as "Tex," leading the audience in singing "The Bowery"; Rita Groves as "Mrs. Murphy," who complained because the Judge had added water to the milk she bought from him, and was fined 50¢ for "contempt of court"; Bill McCaghen, as Bart Gobble, Station agent; Riley Rigby and Raymond Alsup with their fiddle and guitar numbers; and the "Boomp-A-Daisy" Chorus composed of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Smallwood, Lucretia Edwards and Jimmie Graham.

Directed by Marion (Mrs. Glenn) Woodruff, script for the show was written by her mother Mrs. L. M. Wingerd of Brownfield. Helen (Mrs. Johnny) Stevens was accompanist for the musical sections, and make-up was by Mrs. J. R. Whitworth. Stage hands in charge of the curtain, were Harry Hamilton and Sherrell Rigby.

VISIT IN LAMESA
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pipkin and family, Patti, Neal and Gerald, accompanied by Mr. Pipkin's mother, Mrs. C. D. Pipkin, visited in Lamesa from Saturday afternoon until Sunday night in the home of another of Mrs. Pipkin's sons, Cecil Pipkin and family. The Cecil Pipkins are parents of a new son, Gary Bob, who was born Jan. 29th, (his grandmother's birthday) and weighed 7 pounds.

We Offer Our APPRECIATION

To the Cast and Everyone Who Aided in the Success of 'Law West of the Pecos'

It is impossible for us to attempt to enumerate all the people who contributed to our sponsored production, "Law West of the Pecos". We want to express our appreciation to everyone who contributed in any way to the success of the play, which includes the two wonderful audiences who paid their cash for admittance. It is not our opinion but that of many of the audience that "Law West of the Pecos" was one of the most outstanding shows ever produced in Matador. We are grateful for all the favorable comments and the wholesome support of the people throughout the area. We are especially grateful for the attitude with which the play was accepted - a spirit of fun and entertainment. If you laughed and enjoyed the show we feel that our objective was achieved. Again we express our appreciation to everyone.

KAMPUS KLATTER

Hi There!
 Boy, after passing that State of Texas Constitutional Test, all the Seniors are really happy. We all passed it and were glad, because you have to keep on taking it, until you do pass it. Now that is over, we will start taking Drivers Education.

Lois got her nose broke and a slight concussion during the game with Turkey. We were sorry it happened Lois, and we miss you, so hurry and get well.

Mr. Fair's mother passed away this week. The students and faculty extend to you their sympathy.

Freshmen boys entered the Childress tournament. Good luck boys! I imagine you'll need it!

The Bookkeeping class is working diligently on their practice sets. They should be completed in six weeks.

The basketball girls looked at jackets this week. I think the Senior's decided to get sweaters this year, since they already have three jackets. At least most of them do.

La Nelle visited Wayland College, Monday and Tuesday. She was interviewed by Dr. Shelby Collier, music director of the International Choir and was signed up to sing in Waylands International Choir in September. The choir is composed of nine countries and several states, and sings in fifteen languages.

New Oddities

MAN'S BEDS HAVE VARIED AS WIDELY AS HIS CIVILIZATIONS.

ASSYRIANS, EGYPTIANS, PERSIANS HAD BEDS OF STONE, METAL OR WOOD.

SOME GREEK AND ROMAN BEDS WERE BRONZE, IVORY OR SILVER, INLAIN WITH TORTOISE SHELL. BY THE 17TH CENTURY BEDS HAD BECOME NICHE, CURTAINED EDIFICES.

CHARLES THE BOLD, (1433-1477), DUKE OF BURGUNDY, OWNED THE FIRST PORTABLE BED. LATER MANY KINGS AND NOBLES TRAVELED WITH AND SLEPT IN THEIR BEDS.

LATEST AMERICAN DEVELOPMENT IS THE HIDE-A-BED, A COMFORTABLE DOUBLE BED AT NIGHT; BY DAY A LUXURIOUS SOFA, THE LIVING ROOM'S FOCUS, POINT OF BEAUTY AND LIFE.

Most everyone in High School paid sixty cents on the March of Dime Fund. By doing this, we hope to help make it safer for people, and cut the amount of polio victims. Everyone paying on the fund was privileged to see a movie entitled "Francis The Talking Mule". It was enjoyed by everyone. There's still something that puzzles me, I don't think a mule can talk myself, but I am afraid to say so for fear I'll be sent to the bug house as Donald O'Conner was!

A former M. H. S. student, Ann Harp Thomas visited school last week. Buddy Smith, a certain Senior girl's boy friend, also visited last week.

Freshmen Algebra class is making graphs and measuring ground. Sounds like fun! If anyone needs any help measuring flower beds, just call on us and we'll be glad to assist you!

Betty Smith visited in Matador over the week-end. The boys have started taking P. E. and some are complaining about being sore. I wonder why?

All of the English classes are making illustrated book reports for The Public School Week. They will be displayed in show windows down town.

Well, it won't be long now, until we'll be taking Six Weeks tests again. When we start our term theme, we'll know for sure school is nearly out. I guess there never was a person that wasn't glad for school to be out, not even teachers.

See you again this time next week.

Visiting Mrs. W. M. Wells over the week-end were her daughter and children, Mrs. Aubrey Duncan, Cecil, Mary Beth and Phil of Amarillo. They also visited Mrs. Laila Duncan.

how long is 3 minutes?

It was more than enough for Lincoln to deliver the 267 words of his famous Gettysburg Address!

On Long Distance calls you can average about 500 words in 3 minutes. In fact, the majority of our Long Distance calls are completed in that time.

When you can say so much so economically, it pays to use Long Distance often. And remember, always CALL BY NUMBER. Your calls go through twice as fast.
