TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

As the jet left Chicago the clouds were afraid and hurried to break on the shore of blue sky like the waves of a troubled sea. Sunlight splashed on massive banks of unreal whiteness and the motors drowned as if all stress had gone, and the earth was a motionless thing below. The young woman across the aisle was tense, and two small tears were on her cheeks. She wiped them away hurriedly, and placed her right hand on the white and vacant place on the ring finger of her left hand. Outside the sky had become serene and blue; the woman's eyes were dry now and she stared, unfrightened at the future.

It might be a fitting epitaph for the tombstone of a man who refused to be involved, that all he had ever done for his community was to live in it.

A drinking friend says that while bourbon does not dissolve life's tribulations, it certainly blunts some of the points.

If some of your courtship was spent in a buggy on a balmy summer night, then you are not overly impressed by the speed of the horseless carriage.

Trails are the sizzling water in which our problems are cooled after they have been tempered and hammered by adversity; the only place where character can gather strength.

Memory is a tape recording of the past whereby the heart hears music once made by the flutes of a special moment.

MRS. M. L. PATTON

Oldest Resident

Services Held for Mrs. M. L. Patton

Matador's oldest resident is dead. Mrs. M. L. Patton, 99, pioneer of Motley county and resident of Matador for 68 years passed away Thursday in Hill Plains Hospital in Hale Center. She is believed to have been the oldest resident in the county.

Mrs. Patton had been hospitalized for six weeks after suffering internal injuries in a fall at her home.

Funeral services were held Saturday in the First Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. Larry Heard officiating. Burial was in East Mound Cemetery under direction of Seigler Funeral Home.

Had she lived until December 15, Mrs. Patton would have celebrated her 100th birthday.

She was born Matilda Ann Wideman in 1868, in Franklin County, Missouri. She came to Texas with her parents at an early age and was married to Matthew Leander Patton, November 4, 1886 at Stephenville in Erath County.

They came to Motley County in December, 1900 in a caravan of nine covered wagons, with Mr. Patton's parents, three married brothers and their families, and other relatives. This was their home until their respective deaths. Mr. Patton passed away February 14, 1951. Also preceding Mrs. Patton were two children, an infant son, Oliver, and a daughter, Rosa Miller. Of their twelve children, ten survive. Mrs. Patton was a Baptist and had been a member of the Matador First Baptist Church since 1904. At the time of her death September 19, she had attained the age of 99 years, 9 months and 4 days. Survivors include six sons: Ed of Tucson, Arizona, Tom of Hale Center, Maurice (Buck) of Kress, John of Sacramento, Calif., Frank of Houston and Uel of Temple; four daughters: Mrs. L. J. Barkley (Lillie), Mrs. Alvin Stearns (Bertha), Miss Rachel Patton and Mrs. J. D. New Automobiles Shown Today

Two automobile agencies in Matador are showing the new 1969 models today. Advertisements appearing in this issue of the Tribune describe the luxurious new creations.

Mike Hoyle, manager of Matador Motor & Implement Co., agency for both Pontiac and Chevrolet, invites the public to the showroom to see the models of both makes. Hoyle said so many improvements have been made in the new cars that it is impossible to describe them briefly. Changes in the lines of both Pontiac and Chevrolet, make them outstanding in appearance and distinctive from previous models.

Glenn Woodruff, manager of Matador Auto Company, Ford and Mercury agency, said he has both makes for display today. He is enthusiastic about the 1969 models and believes the public will acclaim them as outstanding achievements of the Ford Motor Company.

As in past years, all models of the four makes are available in almost limitless varieties of combinations of color, horse-

Wildcats Roll Over Matador Team 41-6

The Matador's dropped their first home game to the Crowell Wildcats, 41-6, Friday night.

The Matadors held the Class A "cats" until the closing seconds of the first quarter when half-back Billy Hord ran an 80-yard punt back for the first touchdown of the game. The try for extra points failed.

The run back fixed the shot for the Wildcats that resounded throughout the game. Capitalizing on penalties, fumbles, and speed, the Wildcats pawed over the goal line twice in the third quarter on a 10-yard run by fullback Charles Dodd and a 30-yard pass from Kenneth Sellers, halfback, to quarterback, Gary Gates. Hord added two conversions, making the score 20-0 at halftime.

The Matadors returned fire in the third quarter when Bill Barnhill, freshman back, intercepted a Crowell pass and ran 45 yards pell mell for the goal line before he was downed. The play resulted in Matadors' only touchdown when Ronnie Welling, back, pushed over the final yard to pay dirt on a quarterback sneak. Try for an extra point failed.

Crowell added to their score in the third period with Hord on a 15-yard run, and halfback Gary Eddy on a 20-yard play. The final score for the Wildcats came in the final minutes of the game on an 80-yard run.

Francis Miller was born at the pioneer family home on Miller Creek in northwest Motley County, July 13, 1900.

A feature article in the Matador Tribune, June 24, 1965, pictured the crumbling walls of the Miller home, with the following excerpts: "Time and decay have been patient in the deep high-walled canyon in the Foothills. Only the stone walls remain of what was once a modern pioneer home beside Miller Creek on the D. I. W. Birnie Ranch in western Motley County. Pat Cornett, early-day master stone mason built the house for John Miller.

"Seven of the Millers' 11 children were born in the two-room house, including Mrs. C. J. McCully of Spur. The house, built about 1892, was in one of the most inaccessible areas of the Foothill country.

Church and Society

Club Hosts District President In Meeting to Begin New Year

Predicta Study Club of Roaring Springs began the 1968-69 club year with a delightful salad supper at the Brooks Drug in Roaring Springs.

Special guest for the evening was Mrs. Robert Sexauer, Memphis, President of Santa Rosa District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Several women of the community, interested in club work, were invited guests.

Following the supper, the group assembled in the home of Mrs. Caldwell Smith for the business meeting and program. Mrs. John Scott, President of Predicta Club, presided.

Mrs. Sexauer, in an address to the club, stated that she feels the federated clubs are reaching more and more, the rural areas and small communities and that clubs are growing in strength and interest because of this.

"Club work answers a personal need in the women of the world," she declared. "What the women set out to do, sooner or later gets done. We as a group have a big voice in how this country is run, what our children see and hear in the movies and on television, as well as many other areas of life."

Mrs. Sexauer asked that each club woman in the State of Texas write her senator about preserving "The Big Thicket" as a state park. She pointed out that this is one of the few plots of wilderness remaining in the United States and should be kept as it is for coming generations to enjoy.

Following the program, coffee and cookies were served by Mrs. Scott, from a beautifully appointed table, decorated in lovely fall colors.

Those attending the supper and meeting, were Mesdames J. M. Thacker, Carl Tardy, Lem Miller, J. N. Fletcher, Algie Groves, M. S. Thacker, Robert Clem, and John Scott; Misses Freda Keahey and Lula Swim; special guests, Mrs. Robert Sexauer, Memphis and Mrs. Tom Yeates; and the hostess, Mrs. Caldwell Smith.

LETTER FROM A SERGEANT

The Tribune feels its readers will appreciate the patriotic message in the following letter which is reprinted from the Amarillo Daily News.

DEAR EDITOR,

The following letter was reprinted recently in my hometown paper, the Briscoe County News. I thought it might be of interest to you.

(The letter originally was written to the editor of the Weekly Mountain News, Lake Arrowhead, Calif., by a young airborne soldier, Sgt. Craig McDaniel. Soon after writing this moving appraisal, Sgt. McDaniel — married and father of a young son — was killed in action. He was posthumously awarded the Silver Star for heroism.

(The editor of the Briscoe County News, in reprinting it, commented: "The war has been brought home to us in Quitaque and Briscoe County with the loss of one of our own. We know Lupe Leal was a fine, upstanding young man all his life, but we would like to dedicate this letter to his memory to make each one of us who read it remember each day the things he gave his life for that we may have freedom. Let us remember our boys with our prayers and resolve to do better when we go to the polls to vote for the leaders of our country.")

Sgt. McDaniel's letter:

DEAR EDITOR: I used to be a Lake Arrowhead bum, with a weekly life of beer parties and young punk actions which usually led to a great relationship between me and the sheriff's department. I didn't have a care in the world except my long hair and enough money to chip in for a case of beer.

But it seems as though in the last three years my attitude toward these subjects has changed. I must be very lucky to have witnessed the things I have, to curb to solid belief I had about the responsibilities of my life. My mom and dad always preached to me about manners and appearance, etc. Well, I didn't listen because I knew everything there was to know.

The first time I came home on leave after entering the army, my parents found out they had raised a son instead of a vegetable that grows in size instead of mind and maturity.

The true meaning of Communism and its effects have been opened before me. Right now it is about 103 degrees and it's only 10 a.m. About every 10 minutes I have to pull blood-sucking leeches off my body. Last week we engaged about eight Viet Cong, killing five. It was a most horrifying scene, to witness human bodies torn apart. Right now F-100 jets are dropping bombs about 1,000 meters away.

We are fighting Communist indoctrinated troops who have infiltrated from the north. They fight effectively and are equipped with weapons equal to ours. At present we make a stand in the war in their backyard, not ours. Many say, "pull out of Vietnam". Well, the way these VC fight today, I'd hate to see them 10 years from now landing on some other free country like Japan or Australia. Communism is like cancer. If you don't stop it early, it cells attack healthy ones and overtake them.

Boy, the GIs get so mad hearing about all the riots and love ins. It's too bad all these trouble-makers can't come over here and witness this stinking war. Then they'd realize the freedoms they have and would not disrupt them. I hope all the people of the United States can join hands and support this war and its cause, not only for South Vietnam but for ourselves.

The only thing that makes me furious is that GIs are going through pure hell and physical hardship while worthless bums are not doing a darn thing except "freak-out".

I had really taken everyday life for granted, not remembering all those who died in previous wars earning it for us. Well, I guess you could say that we are re-earning it. You'd be surprised at the things I miss most — the little things like real milk, a chance to brush my teeth and take a shower (every two weeks if possible), and even to smell fresh air without the odor of decaying flesh.

When I get back, I'll look forward to the privilege of taking my family to church all dressed up and clean, and to sleep on sheets and to get a haircut and to sleep calm without the worry of getting mortared or attacked at 3:00 a.m.

I bet I've read more of the Bible over here than I have in my whole life at home — and, in so doing, found out a lot of things I didn't know.

Maybe what I'm doing today will better the world situation for my son when he is my age. I am not about to fall back and not face this mess, leaving it for my kids to take care of.

My brother is in the army now and he will probably be arriving here as I leave. I've noticed a big change in him. I've lost a lot of buddies over here, including my cousin. It just gives me another reason to fight back at Communism.

There is no difference of black and white over here. Both have red blood. I remember the first dead soldier we saw. One of the Negroes in our platoon cried. It's really something to see a Negro be ashamed of other Negroes starting riots back home, and to see white fellows ashamed of their hippie buddies causing disturbances in the hometown park. I just hope somehow we can see all this mess through.

Hell, I've preached long enough and I know that all the younger local yokels are saying this isn't it, but believe me, the time will come when these things will be witnessed by them.

Time spent getting the combine ready for harvest can mean more profit.

ROOMIER, LONGER and completely new, the Mercury Monterey for 1969 offers a full range of nine models in the Monterey and Monterey Custom series. They are 221.8 inches long, an increase of almost two inches. Roadability is improved, with wheelbase increased to 124 inches and tread wider in front by one inch and in the rear by two inches. Interiors reach a new level of luxury, convenience and comfort. The new body features cleaner lines, smoother contours and the long-hood short-deck design characteristic of the Continental. Pictured above is the Mercury Monterey Custom four-door sedan.

Heavier heads require machines to be in top condition to prevent loss of grain. Concave clearances and cylinder speeds should be set according to the operator's manual, with changes made to fit field conditions.

Before going to the field each day, check to see all belts and chains are in good condition and adjustment; make sure all air intakes are clean and free from dust and trash (this should be done at least twice a day), and clean all grates and sieves to prevent buildup of trash. Trash allows for the buildup of "honey-dew or syrup" obstructions. Make sure the radiator screen is clean, and the cooling system full of water.

Follow the manufacturer's instructions for cleaning, oil changes and lubrication. In heavy, dusty fields, do not exceed the operator's manual limits. Keeping the combine clean will reduce fire hazards, but a fire extinguisher should be placed on the machine also.

In most fields, there is usually one spot that is weedier or grassier than the rest. Combine the clean portion first, as the weedy part usually has higher moisture grain which will benefit by the later harvest.

Losses can be caused by grain left in the field, cracked seed, or dockage at the elevator. These can be reduced by keeping the combine in top condition, and operating at a speed comparable to the crop conditions. Finally, when you hear the combine "growling", slow down, as this is an indication that the speed is too great for the conditions, which means you are losing grain.

According to tests conducted at the Stiles Foundation Farm near Thrall, grain sorghum fed to market hogs netted twice as much as grain sold at harvest-time.

In the nursery unit, pigs from 4 to 5 weeks of age raised to 75 lbs, consumed about 2 lbs. of feed per lb. of grain. Hogs from 75 lbs, to finishing at 210 lbs., consumed approximately 3½ lbs. of feed per lb. of grain. The entire herd, including sows and boars averaged 334 lbs. of feed per 100 lbs. gain.

Average number of pigs per litter was 10.6, and at 35 days of age, the litters averaged 9.4 pigs. Market hogs should weigh approximately 200 lbs at 154 days for optimum economic production. Feeding to heavy weights increases the amount of undesirable fat, resulting in lower prices per lb, therefore why try to put on this unwanted weight, which is reflected in a slower gain rate as well as lower price per lb.

In addition, beef cattle are efficient marketers of grain sorghum. For those who are not satisfied with the price they are offered for their grain sorghum, why not look into the possibilities of marketing this grain through animals on the hoof?

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

The Texas Highway Department has made ample provisions for rest areas along the Interstate highway system in the State. When the system is complete, there will be a safety rest area on each side of the divided routes on an average of every 37 miles, and rest room facilities will be included wherever water is available.

Texans drove more miles during the past year—58 billion—in more vehicles—6.7 million—than ever before. Yet the Texas Highway Department reports the fatality rate dropped from 6.2 deaths per hundred million vehicle miles driven in 1966 to 5.8 in 1967.

All highway construction in Texas is on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. The Texas Highway Department is directing construction on projects totaling $685 million at the present time, and all of it will be paid for as soon as it is open to traffic.

School Spirit Aid to Success

Matador High has something new this year called school spirit. It is more than new students or the number of students. It isn't something that can be bought or traded, but it is created by the students, the teachers, and the community pulling together.

The students have shown this spirit at pep rallies, at football games, and in daily school activities. They are willing to work together as one unit, not four groups.

With this spirit, success will be easier to obtain in sports, in interscholastic activities, and at having fun.

Swenson Ranch Loses 3,000 Acres Of Range in Raging Prairie Fire

A crackling fire that raged out of control for almost twelve hours, burned off more than 3000 acres of rich grazing pasture on the Swenson Ranch Thursday, Sept. 12.

The fire began in what is known as the East Meadow, one mile west of Delwin Community shortly before 10 a.m. and firemen were able to get a fire guard thrown up to contain it by 9:45 Thursday. The fire continued to burn but was not expected to get past the fire guard.

Ranch manager W. H. "Kid" Bacot, said a strip of land three miles long and two miles wide was burned and the loss would certainly be large, though the exact estimate was not known. No cattle were lost but three miles of fencing was destroyed.

More than 100 men, including firemen from Paducah and Matador, battled the blaze all day. Special range-fire equipment from the fire department in Paducah was dispatched to the scene.

Several times during the day smoke and flames from the fire could be seen in Paducah, 15 miles away. —Paducah Post Caprice. Match this, you other 69's!

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this. Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive? Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button?

Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V8 in its field? Some people think so.

Mrs. L. M. Wingerd Honored by Caprock District Women's Clubs

Mrs. L. M. (Lois) Wingerd of Brownfield was named "Woman of the Year" for Caprock District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, last spring at the district meeting held in Lamesa.

The outstanding clubwoman is the mother of Mrs. Glenn Woodruff, Matador, and is a frequent visitor in the Woodruff home.

Mrs. Wingerd was nominated for the honor, by the Maids and Matrons Study Club of Brownfield, organized by her mother. Since joining the club in 1926 Mrs. Wingerd has held every office in the club. She has been outstanding as program chairman several times, and it has been under her guidance that her club has won many first places for various accomplishments.

She has served on both the district and the state board for federated women's clubs. Twice she won district awards for Poetry and in 1954-55 she won both district and state awards for Pageantry.

Mrs. Wingerd has been active in many civic projects, including the United Fund Drive. The first Girl Scout Troop in Brownfield was organized in her home. She has worked with the Brownfield Parent-Teacher Association and has served as president of Terry County Hospital Auxiliary.

She has been active in supporting library work in her county and helped in the "Bicycle Safety" campaign conducted through the schools.

As a member of First United Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Wingerd taught an adult class for 19 years. Currently she is teaching a class of high school students. She has worked with the women's group of the church and in various other projects.

MRS. L. M. WINGERD

Wrote Pageant Script

Writing also is one of Mrs. Wingerd's accomplishments. For years she wrote and directed the Annual Country Club Show while serving as president of the BCCWA.

She wrote and directed Terry County's Fiftieth Pageant. She was consultant on Weatherford's 75th Pageant and also wrote the script for Motley County's 75th Anniversary Pageant in 1966.

One of the shows which she wrote for the Brownfield Country Club was "Law West of the Pecos," based on the "rule" of Judge Roy Bean. This was staged in Matador, as well as in a number of other towns in the South Plains area.

As a member of the Terry County Historical Committee, Mrs. Wingerd is assisting in writing and editing the "Terry County History."

She has done many other deeds for her club, the community and her church, and is listed in "Who's Who Among American Women."

Mrs. Wingerd, the former Lois Brownfield, was born near Sweetwater and moved to Terry County with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brownfield, at an early age. She is a granddaughter of the late M. V. Brownfield, for whom the town was named.

At noon the group met at El Matador for hamburgers . . . Grace Campbell, Ruby Myles, Geneva Wilson, Lucretia Campbell, Mary Meason, Winifred Darsey, Catherine Bird, Leona Cox, Barbara Jameson, Laverna Price and Billie Barnhill.

In the business meeting plans were made to have a tournament for the men, October 6th . . . and voted to have play day at 1:30 p.m. starting in October . . . Perhaps it won't be too cool, and wet at that time, so KEEP THIS CHANGE IN MIND!!

"THE MUSEUM COLLECTION"

Sixteen pieces in The Museum Collection combine in countless ways — at the dinner table, along the buffet, and as decorative accents. It is available by the pieces, by the place setting, a complete service for eight, or a single objet d'art, handsomely packaged for inspired gifting.

The silhouettes of the pieces bespeak the design of earlier days, mirror the scalloped rims, fluting and footed shapes.

Each pattern has the touch of blue that has meant hospitality and home through many centuries and the stamp of scholarship and authenticity that marks the Henry Ford Museum desire to document the American way of life and preserve its easy charm.

Yesterday's tradition is here today in Genuine China dinnerware. The Museum Collection by Iroquois . . . a treasury of beauty, elegance and function to be used and enjoyed.

Cool Front Brings Rain

A delayed cool front from the northwest that brought frost as far south as northern New Mexico, reached here Monday night.

The change in temperature set off thunder showers over much of the area. The rainfall here as measured by Bob Stanley was 72-inch. Reports from other areas of the county indicated various amounts of precipitation and damage from hail.

The mercury here dropped to 55 degrees about 11 Tuesday night, but weather forecasters predicted that it would return to the 80's and that fair weather would probably prevail for the next few days.

It was reported that rain and hail caused disorder and damage Friday and Saturday in the Afton area and that crops in the Glenn and Duncan Flat communities were badly damaged by hail.

High winds accompanied the hail Friday afternoon, blowing large limbs off trees in several places. A limb struck and knocked out a bathroom window on the Doyle Cagle farm near Glenn, according to the report.
