The efficiency of decay may be attributed to an established policy of not making any sudden decisions.

★ The miniskirt has removed a lot of mental speculation among men as to the attractiveness of female legs. Any doubt remaining can only be attributed to poor vision.

★ The metal mind of an automatic washing machine must suffer if it is capable of comparing its limited thinking with that of an electric computer. One consolation aspect, however, is that its decisions bear only trivial responsibilities.

★
★ A conscience, if it is guilty, is confronted with the problem of finding a refuge.

★
★ You can't lend a friendship like a hammer or nail puller, unless of course, it is in the process of transit, in a quest for more stable association.

★ Progress does not possess any serious responsibility, and could speed civilization beyond the point of no return. Time is the vital factor by which the true and false can be evaluated for permanent betterment.

★
★ Happiness as a by-product of contentment may be produced merely by avoiding envy and appeasing desires with the soft songs of hope.

'PESO' Workshop Held at Matador

Mrs. Virginia L. Hamilton, nationally-known consultant for the Nebraska curriculum for pilot teachers at Matador Elementary School on Friday, October 18.

The workshop, sponsored by "PESO" Education Service Center in Amarillo, was arranged by Mrs. Allegra Bush, "PESO" Elementary specialist. Pilot teachers participating were Mrs. Wynona Gilbreath, Mrs. W. H. Marshall, Mrs. Larry Heard, Mrs. Charlie Keith, Mrs. Elbert Reeves, and A. L. Fair.

Mrs. Hamilton, a supervisor in the Lincoln, Nebraska, Public Schools, has received national recognition in "Newsweek" magazine for her work with Nebraska Project English. She is well-known as a teacher, lecturer and writer. Her most recent article appears in the current issue of "Breakthrough", a Nebraska State Department of Education publication.

In Friday's workshop, Mrs. Hamilton taught demonstration lessons to second and fourth grades, using the Nebraska Plan, an approach to English usage through literature, aimed at improving speaking, writing, listening, and reading skills. She also held conferences with pilot teachers.

Mrs. Bush arranged for the following WTSU student teachers to help with classes while regular teachers attended the workshop session: Patricia Driskill, Margaret Jones, and Karen Horner of Amarillo, and Prescilla Sanders and Lana Wood of Canyon.

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

PASSING LANDMARKS—Two of the oldest structures in Matador are doomed to be removed. Part of the building on the left has already been razed. The small building remaining was Matador's first bank structure and in use in 1906. The building will be moved. The two buildings had at some time in the past been connected by a false front. The property is owned by L. J. Barkley and he used the two buildings as an office when he was active in the cotton business. The structure at the right is the property of Mrs. L. B. (Bob) Robertson and was occupied by a cafe. It also will be removed in the next few days, according to reports. It is believed the two buildings, located on Dundee Street, were built at least 70 years ago. —Staff photo

Ground is Broken For New Building

GROUND was cleared last week end for the first completely new building in the business section of Matador in 15 years. James Stanley will build a modern metal and masonry building on the corner of Dundee and Eubank Streets, immediately east of the city hall. Entrance will be on Dundee Street.

The building, when completed, will be occupied by the county ASCS offices, now located in the basement of the courthouse. Richard Newman, ASCS office manager said Tuesday, that tentative date of completion had been set for December 22.

The new building will be 40 feet x 43 feet on the 50x150 property formerly owned by John C. Russell. The structure will be steel, sheetiron, concrete and some brick at the entrance. It will be similar to El Matador Travel Center and Matador Laundry. The building will be completely insulated and air conditioned. The heating system will probably be electric.

The ASCS offices have been located in the courthouse since it was constructed in 1948. The governmental offices were first located in the old courthouse, which was destroyed by fire in September 1944, when the service was established in Motley County.

Negotiations on the new ASCS office building have been in process more than a year, and the first plan considered moving both the ASCS and the Soil Conservation office to a new building. Later plans, however, included only the ASCS for the new location.

The last completely new business building to be constructed in Matador was the Tribune, completed in the spring of 1953. Five buildings on Main Street have been completely modernized or given new fronts. They are the Matador Auto Company (Ford Agency) which was damaged by fire, The Masonic Building, including the Rolling Plains Production Credit Association, and the Matador Variety, the City Cleaners (formerly old Texan Cafe) and also owned by James Stanley, and the West Texas Utilities Co. building next door, and the Harp building now occupied by Billy's Grocery. The Matador Post Office building was completely renovated about three years ago, to meet government requirements.

Absentees Make 45 Applications

Absentee voters in the November 5 general election, had made 45 applications with County Clerk Pat Sheridan late yesterday, which he believes is a record in a general election.

Law requires public posting of applications, where nine are typed to a page, with the applications later being delivered to the absentee voting judge.

November 1 is the last day in which an absentee vote may be cast.

MOST BOGEYS PLAY

Thursday was a BIG day... Besides the regular play... Qualifying was completed for the Championship Tournament and the Running Score Tournament and Play Yourself Tournament ended.

Geneva Wilson won the ball, having 5 bogeys. Others playing were Louise Barton, Mary Meason, Laverna Price, Mickey Bostick and Faye Clements.

LATE AFTERNOON PLAYERS were Lucretia Campbell, Catherine Bird and Tommy Edwards... with Catherine and Tommy tying with 4 bogeys each... Tommy won the draw... and I hear the card cut to win was pretty low!

(It seems there is some confusion among some players as to what a BOGEY is... For information: A bogey is having ONE stroke over par!!)

WINNERS in PLAY YOURSELF TOURNAMENT were: La Voe (in below 20 handicap) with score of 31... and Mickey (above 20) with 37.

RUNNING SCORE TOURNAMENT WINNERS: There were six players with scores for the six consecutive weeks... La Voe winner (with 12 and below), 239. Mary M. had score of 258; Geneva winner (with 12 thru 24), 300; Laverna had 301; Catherine had 306; and Lucretia C. winner (25-36) with score of 328.

CHAMPIONSHIP RESULTS

LA VOE WAS MEDALIST with a 78 score. First Round Play, Louise defeated Laverna; La Voe def. Geneva; Mary def. Lucretia... and Mickey drew a bye. 2nd round, Louise def. Mary; La Voe def. Mickey; Laverna def. Lucretia; Geneva drew a bye. Final round on Sunday: La Voe def. Louise; for consolation, Laverna def. Geneva... For Cry Baby, Lucretia def. Mickey.

SOME HIGHLIGHTS: When La Voe was playing Mickey... on tee shot on No. 2, La Voe drove past the green... Sunday, Louise and La Voe were playing for Championship... both were dressed in white slacks with colorful tops... making a striking appearance. I accused them of planning the attire, but they denied the allegation!

LUNCHEON will be October 31st at the home of Grace Campbell. Trophies will be presented at that time... also business meeting and election of officers will be held.

Election Ballot Change May Confuse Some Voters

Two factors may cause some balloting confusion in the November 5 general election, election officials in Texas forecast this week.

The two factors are:
1. A new State law has inserted a new top line on the paper ballots so that persons desiring to vote a "straight party ticket" may do so by making one mark. This new line is expected to confuse not only the "straight ticket" voters, but also the "split ticket" voters.

2. "Split ticket" voters are expected to be more numerous than ever before, especially since there is a third party, the American Party, and it has candidates for only President and Vice-President and no other offices.

Voters are cautioned to be certain that their ballots are properly marked so that their intentions will not be subject to interpretation by election officials.

The "scratch" method of voting, which some people prefer, is still permitted. However, voters using this method are cautioned to be certain to mark through all names in all three party columns for which they do not wish to vote.

There are 19 counties in Texas that use voting machines. As in the past, one lever can be pulled to vote a "straight ticket." To vote a "split ticket," individual levers should be pulled for each candidate of the voter's choice. Persons who are uncertain as to how to operate a machine should contact one of the election officials before entering the voting booth.

Voting machines are scheduled to be used in the following counties: Bell, Bexar, Brazoria, Cameron, Dallas, Ector, El Paso, Galveston, Gregg, Harris, Hidalgo, Jefferson, Midland, Nueces, Potter, Randall, Rusk, Smith and Tarrant.

Predicta Study Club has Program On Law and Order by Texas Ranger

The Roaring Springs Predicta Study Club met in regular session Thursday night, Oct. 17 for a program on "Law and Order," presented by Texas Ranger Byron O. Currin of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. John A. Scott, club president opened the meeting and introduced the speaker, who has been a peace officer since 1941 and in Wichita Falls the past eight years.

Mr. Currin used as his subject, "How we can help law enforcement." He explained the three branches of government as legislative, judicial and executive and reviewed three Supreme Court decisions, and the Code of Criminal Procedure.

He listed the ways civilians can assist in law enforcement. To serve on the jury or be a witness when called; to encourage the District Attorney to try cases; to be ready to defend the good work of local officers and to use one's influence in setting the wages. "Good pay attracts good men," Currin declared.

The duties of officers, he said, include arresting law offenders, investigate reported crimes or misdemeanors, make good the case and appear as a witness.

He pointed out that children (or juveniles) should be taught that the officer is his protector, day and night and that they should respect him. He asserted that home is the place for the child to receive the most training.

He cited lack of work for children, parents being absent from home and the lack of old-fashioned discipline as contributing causes for juvenile delinquency. "We need to return to the old-time woodshed method of punishment," he said.

theme was "Christ, the Giver of Life," and an offering was taken for Mission work. Benediction was by Mrs. Clifton.

A TIME FOR DECISION

A Presidential election, the most important one in our lifetime, is close upon us. With three candidates in the race Texans are confronted with such a variety of appeals that some confusion is not surprising. We see some of our top state political leaders urging support of Hubert Humphrey on the self-serving appeal of party loyalty. We see fine Texans tempted to support George Wallace because they like his outspoken position on certain issues and are thus swayed by an appeal of sheer emotion. With full respect for the right of every Texan to make a personal decision, this message in behalf of Richard Nixon is offered as

...AN APPEAL TO REASON!

HUBERT HUMPHREY WILL NOT change. He has proved consistently anti-Texas. He is famous for his filibuster against Texas owing its tidelands. He has fought our right-to-work laws and sought to destroy our vital oil depletion allowance. On every issue of world importance his position is contrary to that of most Texans. Humphrey, an ultra-liberal founder of the ADA organization, would gain executive authority for radical minority viewpoints should he become president. This cannot happen by popular vote. In view of his vicious attacks upon George Wallace, what a ghastly miscarriage of intent it would be if Wallace supporters themselves should throw the election into the House of Representatives where every Wallace vote in Texas would automatically go to Humphrey!

GEORGE WALLACE CANNOT be denied his impressive showing. A number of fine people heed his third party call. The very least that can be said is that he has dramatized the desires of many people for a change of direction in the affairs of our government. However, the very most his supporters can hope for is to split the popular vote so that all of us would be at the mercy of Washington politicians who would elect our president for us. This is Hubert Humphrey's only hope for election. The more positive way to vote for change is to recognize the many fine merits of Richard Nixon and his program, then vote for Nixon to assure the election of our president by the people instead of by the Congress!

RICHARD NIXON CAN... AND WILL supply dynamic, experienced leadership for an immediate change of direction—at the top—in all our national affairs at home and around the world. Your concerns are his concerns!

- NIXON ON LAW AND ORDER is pledged to help improve local police protection, to appoint an Attorney General dedicated to routing out crime, to restore balance in our courts strengthening peace forces against criminal elements and to cease freeing so many of the guilty on technicalities.
- NIXON ON VIET NAM will call upon his experience as vice-president during eight great Eisenhower years of peace to reform world alliances now in disarray, to redirect our strategy on new global terms. He will end this war and avoid future ones by dealing with adversaries in the only way they respect—through strength, collective security and patience.
- NIXON ON LOCAL GOVERNMENT is pledged to move control of local schools and all other governmental functions which properly belong at the local level closer to the people.
- NIXON ON OTHER PROBLEMS has solid solutions PLUS solid backing of enough members of Congress to implement those solutions.

IF YOU REALLY WANT A CHANGE... AND IF YOU WANT TO BE SURE YOU REALLY GET IT... VOTE FOR NIXON/AGNEW

FOREIGN FOODS SERVED BY FHA

Future Homemakers of America and Mrs. A. L. Fair, sponsor, were hostesses to a Foreign Foods Supper, Tuesday night, October 12, at the high school.

Guests at the supper included members of the Matador schools' faculty and their spouses, Steve Bostick, FHA Beau, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bostick, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Meador.

Each class selected the country they wished to portray, serving a complete meal with each table decorated. Following the meal each class presented a skit representing their chosen country.

The freshmen won the table decorations competition. Representing Japan, they used original Japanese fans and paintings as a background with Japanese dolls complementing a green floral centerpiece. For their skit, a Japanese Bonnie and Clyde invaded a bath house.

"Alice in Grannyland" portrayed by members of the senior class was chosen best skit. It was a German combination of fairy tales such as "Little Red Riding-hood" and "Alice in Wonderland", and the television series, "Dragnet."

The junior class represented France. In their skit, three slinky models "held up" a sidewalk cafe.

Representing Greece, the sophomores' skit was a scene from the top of Mount Olympus in which the fate of Odysseus was planned by the gods and goddesses.

Sue Robbins, FHA president, welcomed the guests, and Laura Jacobs, Mistress of Ceremonies for the program, led the audience in relaxers between skits.

"Think Yes" Was Pep Rally Theme

by Debra Stockton

"THINK YES" was the theme of the Rochester pep rally Oct. 11.

Pep rally speeches unified the "Think Yes" attitude started by the girls. Coach Smith began the torrent of good faith by telling the importance of an eleven man team made up of all self-confident members.

Coach Kennedy expanded this idea by later adding that all the team individuals must have a 100% "Yes" attitude. To emphasize his point, Mr. Kennedy cited some handicapped professional football stars who had climbed to their positions with the aid of a positive state of mind. Lighter spots during the rally are the fourth and the third grades, and the eighth and seventh grades.

Both branches met October 15, to elect officers. The eighth and seventh officers are: President, Steve Stevens; vice president, Paul Price; secretary, Lou Pitts; and reporter, Frank Welling.

The officers in the fourth and third are: President, Gary Don Welling; vice president, Randy Kennedy; secretary, Grant Johnson; and reporter, La Fonda Smallwood.

Rare 1688 Globe Presented to Tech

A WORLD never to be seen from outer space stands today in the Texas Tech Library—the world as known to European explorers in 1688 and depicted on the rare globes of Franciscan Father Vicenzo Maria Coronelli. Coronelli made the large globe—3½ feet in diameter—in Venice, Italy, in 1688 and it now is the only one of its kind in North America.

Tech President Grover E. Murray formally accepted the globe Tuesday from a representative of the donors, Dallas oilman Robert B. Moody and others. In attendance at the ceremony were several members of the Texas Tech Friends of the Library.

In accepting, Dr. Murray said, "We are pleased to have this auspicious globe as part of our collection here at the Texas Tech Library. We express our appreciation to Mr. Moody, Mr. (W. E.) Robertson (of Dallas) and others for having a part in presenting us with the only authentic Coronelli globe in North America. It enhances our collection."

On the Texas Tech globe, the Grand Banks and Newfoundland, Lake Champlain and St. Augustine are just about where they should be.

The "Chekagou" River is confused with the presentday Illinois; California is an island, and the Port of San Diego lies north of the Bay of San Francisco.

Giving the geographer full credit, however, the globe carries the best information available in his time, some furnished by LaSalle who had just explored the Mississippi to its mouth, some from Count Penalos, spurious governor of New Mexico.

For Africa and the Far East, he used Portuguese accounts later lost to history.

Extraordinary detail recorded on the globe not only offers printed notes and pictures but also gives nautical information regarding certain voyages. It is accomplished without cluttering the artistic elements of the work.

Sketches for North America include Carib Indians paddling in the Gulf of Mexico, moving toward a swordfish and marlin. A whaling fleet between Greenland and Canada has its catch in tow. Florida's alligators are brought a little far north, into Tennessee territory, but their viciousness is vividly recorded. One sketch shows a man being devoured by an alligator while other men are in flight.

The fabulos Quivera is situated at the headwaters of the Rio Grande, which is called the "Rio Bravo." Taos in New Mexico lies far to the west of its actual site, about in the location of present-day Kingman, Ariz.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL By Vern Sanford

(delayed)

AUSTIN — Drinking drivers run a new risk of being nabbed—through a tell-tale scientific breath analysis device going into use in Texas.

Col. Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, Department of Public Safety Director, announced that 90 new "breathalyzers" have been purchased by the DPS and 450 highway patrolmen trained to operate them. Device will test a suspect's breath to determine the percentage of alcohol in the bloodstream.

Instruments, simple to operate and read, will be placed in 80 of the state's most-populous counties, at fixed locations and used under strictly-controlled scientific conditions.

Subjects who consent to the test will blow into a tube and the percentage of alcohol in their blood will register on indicators. About 15 minutes' waiting time is allowed before testing begins and actual test takes only five minutes. Experts report a direct relationship between alcohol content in blood and breath.

Drinking, according to DPS statistics, figures in 40 to 50 per cent of Texas' traffic deaths—perhaps more than 1,600 of last year's 3,367 highway fatalities. Over the nation, use of alcohol leads to annual traffic death toll of 25,000 and 800,000 vehicle accidents—the largest single factor in fatal crashes.

A driver with 0.15 per cent blood alcohol content by weight is 25 times more likely to be involved in a wreck than a non-drinking driver. Average person achieves that danger point after consuming five ounces of 100 proof alcohol an hour without eating, DPS chemists figure. Consumption leading to intoxication, of course, varies with weight, time between drinks and amount of food eaten.

Tests will "clear" drivers suspected of being drunk who are actually driving erratically due to illness or other reasons. "It is hoped the DPS breathalyzer project will hit hard at the problem and help reduce the traffic death rate in Texas," Colonel Speir said.

COURTS SPEAK—Tragedies, race horses and wild elephants provided grist for the State Supreme Court's mill as it ground out more than 130 cases following a summer recess. High court decided that:

A Houston widow whose husband was killed by mistake while entering the wrong house cannot collect accidental death benefits.

Damage suit filed by a widow following the death of her husband in an auto wreck can be maintained although it did not meet the filing deadline.

Damage award payable to the estate of a Bowie County boy run over by a car should be upheld. Employee of a Waco department store is entitled to $50,000 damages due to escalator accident.

Rio Grande Valley circus owner can collect damages from an animal dealer who delivered him a wild female elephant instead of a tame one as ordered. The race horse, Benedicte, who won $90,000, was not covered by a $5,000 Lloyds of London insurance policy when he died.

A Harris County mother who went to India to study Yoga should not regain custody of her two sons from their grandparents who took them in after a 1963 divorce.

A lower court verdict ordering Pinehurst to pay a water company $29,000 under a contract should be reversed.

A Henderson County real estate man's claim that he was denied proper commission on the sale of a ranch for a Boy Scout camp is entitled to review.

City of Roma's claim to a share of revenues from the border toll bridge operated by Starr County should be retried.

BLUE-LAW-TEST — State Supreme Court has agreed to hear an appeal from local officials stymied in their attempts to enforce the state's newest and most far-reaching Blue Law.

Article 286a of the Penal Code prohibits the sale of certain listed items—covering just about everything—on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays, which requires retailers to choose between the two days.

However, Gibson's Discount Center of Midland got around it by leasing its store and stock to another corporation.

Midland County 142nd District Court agreed with Gibson's that the Blue Law violates the state and national constitutions, and the local officials appealed. The case is set for hearing before the high court on November 6.

SALES TAX GOES UP—Texans started shelling out another penny for state sales taxes on October 2. That made it three per cent statewide—and four per cent in those cities which levy local option sales taxes.

Extra one per cent for the state was voted by the Legislature in special session last June. Session also approved a one-per-cent jump in car sales tax and a 50 cent hike in the franchise tax. Revenue estimates are about $175 million in new state revenue during the next 11 months. Legislature in 1969 may have to raise $300 million or more in additional money.

BILINGUAL EDUCATION—Texas Education Agency is utilizing the experience of six visiting teachers from Mexico to improve the bilingual-education program it administers.

Teachers, all from Nuevo Leon, will spend the current school year in Texas teaching Spanish to already Spanish-speaking children in the pre-school and elementary grades.

"This program," a TEA official said, "is an attempt to enhance our bilingual teaching and to involve ourselves in international programs. Also, we want to see how well Mexican-national teachers can work in our public schools."

HOSPITAL PLAN OPEN TO STUDY—New 1969 state plan for construction and modernization of hospitals and related medical facilities now is available for public review at State Department of Health office.

Plan is the basic document which the State Board of Health uses to make its recommendations for federal Hill-Burton grants.

Sixty-nine applicants are applying for $28,825,466 under the federal matching fund program for hospital aid next year.

RIOT LOSS PLAN REVIEWED—Plan of insurance companies to spread riot losses got State Board of Insurance review but was sent back for redrafting following new federal rules.

It must be approved by October 29 to qualify companies operating in Texas for federal reinsurance under new housing act. Plan will have to be acceptable to U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Short Snorts Marvin Griffin will remain on the Texas ballot as "stand in" vice-presidential candidate of the American Party, although Gov. George Wallace now has selected Gen. Curtis LeMay as his running mate.

Texas' increasing screwworm problem has resulted in the release of 298,966,000 sterile flies over the state in August to fight the pest.

U. S. Post Office Department has advised the Texas Aeronautics Commission that Texas now has 11 air-taxi mail routes out of 120 in operation all over the nation.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has published a new guide for consumer protection, advising about phony contracts, sales come-ons, "free" offers, etc.

COUNTY AGENT PALLEYER SAYS:

Frost and freezing weather will affect plant growth, and when members of the Sorghum family, including Johnsongrass, sudan, milo, forage sorghums and all hybrids are hit, growth is stopped. They "sometimes" develop a hazard to grazing livestock.

Certain chemical changes occur in the frost-wilted plants, and are responsible for the prussic acid development. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a very short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how soon treatment can be started.

Frosted Johnsongrass or sorghum should not be grazed until the damaged plants are as dry as good quality hay or for at least a week after frost. It may be cut immediately, providing adequate curing time is allowed. Silage from frost-damaged plants is safe as soon as the ensiling process is complete.

Young plants or second growth suckers are more likely to cause trouble than older plants nearing maturity. Also, the more luxuriant the growth, the more likely the plants will be dangerous when their growth is interrupted.

There is no test for prussic acid poisoning, except for letting some animals graze the field. As you well know, this "may" be an expensive test, so the best practice is to wait.

Grazing small grain pastures before they have a chance to make needed growth can reduce their value as suppliers of fall forage.

Oats, barley, wheat and rye which have been planted this fall should be from 6 to 8 inches in height before they are grazed. Research has shown that small grains will produce considerably more fall grazing when allowed to reach the above height when compared with plants which have reached only a 4 inch height when grazing was started.

The plants must have lots of leaves and warm weather for fast growth, and when the leaves are grazed off early, the plants at best only make slow growth. This severely limits grazing during the winter months when the leaves are not growing.

Finally, it is a good idea to graze small grain pastures for only a short period each day. By following this practice, the pastures will furnish forage of high quality and the plants will make good growth.

Many people have reported that peach tree borers have become a serious problem, therefore this information from Emory Boring, Extension Entomologist at Vernon, should be helpful.

Larvae of the most important pest of peaches, the peach tree borer, feed on the inner bark of the trunk of the peach tree. Their presence may be detected by the masses of gum mixed with brownish grass or sawdust which exude from around the trunk of the tree. Larvae usually feed in an area from 2 to 3 inches below the surface of the soil to 10 inches above.

When the peach tree borer is not controlled, it will kill peach trees within a few seasons. Control of this insect can be obtained from Oct. 20 to Nov. 15 when the soil is dry and the soil temperature is above 55 degrees F. Paradichlorobenzene crystals (PDB) are placed on the surface of the ground in a narrow circular band about 2 inches from the trunk of the tree after all leaf material and grass has been cleaned from an area of about 1 ft. around the tree trunk. For trees 2 and 3 years old, use ½ oz. of crystals; for 4 to 5 year old trees, use ¾ oz., and 1 oz. for mature trees. Next, cover the band of crystals with soil free of leaf or grass trash and mound the soil around the trunk so as to form a cone shaped pile about 6 in. high around the base of the tree. Be sure that none of the PDB crystals come in contact with the tree, as this could cause injury. Compact the soil, and remove in early spring.

For additional information on the control of other insects and diseases, ask for a copy of L-245, Tex. Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts.

Three million young Americans can't be wrong. This is the current 4-H enrollment in the United States. Motley County boys and girls who are not members, are invited to help increase this number.

The fatal accident rate in Texas as dropped from 16.6 per 100 million miles in 1935 to 5.8 in 1967. Wider driving lanes, longer sight distances, and removal of roadside obstructions are just three of the highway engineering factors that have made highways safer. The most important factor, however, has been the increased construction and use of multi-lane, controlled access highways, rated 2.5 times as safe as the highways they replace.

Two thirds of the Texas portion of the Interstate highway system are open to traffic. The Texas Highway Department reports that more than 2,000 of the designated 3,027 miles are "under rubber" and another 462 are under construction.

Bureaucratic Don Quixotes

It would be unfair to compare the Federal Trade Commission with Don Quixote. Unfair to Quixote, that is, because while this worthy was off tilting at windmills, he was not neglecting any duty he was supposed to be performing.

The FTC has again entered the lists to seek new regulations on the advertising of cigarettes, calling for the establishment of greater notices that cigarette smoking may be hazardous.

Now no matter what is the true situation regarding cigarette smoking the facts are these. One is that no one so far has taken the position that cigarette smoking is beneficial to health. As a matter of fact, from childhood the lesson is taught that smoking should be refrained from as a bad, harmful habit. In fact, there are many people living today who remember an era when smoking cigarettes was the eighth deadly sin.

But despite this strong position, people continue to smoke, in one of those perverse manifestations of human nature. Likewise, people are quite aware that driving at excessive speeds, or driving while drunk, is hazardous to health, yet thousands of traffic tickets are written every year. No one, since the German philosopher Hegel speaks kindly of war, yet an average of 2,000 Americans a month are being killed in southeast Asia.

Thus for the FTC to emphasize that cigarette smoking is not too desirable is akin to restating the obvious.

But the FTC ring-around-the-rosy involvement with this issue goes deeper than this blatant fact. The FTC is supposed to work for free competition and fairness in the market place. It has never given authority to step into the arena of public morals or habits.

Obviously, enforcing the nation's antitrust laws is a hard, tough grind. It also is bound to make enemies, some of whom apparently have the ear of those who hire and fire the commissioners. Thus, for job security, it is often preferable to branch off into matters which are none of the FTC's business to become involved in what might be called a "safe" issue.

But in doing so, there is flagrant neglect of performing tasks that the FTC is charged with. One current task is issuing regulations on the use of cooperative advertising funds as ordered by the U. S. Supreme Court when it overruled previous FTC regulations on this subject which reflected a fatuous ignorance of the realities of marketing practices.

Proper regulations on the use of cooperative advertising allowances would solve one of the major problems of independent business.

But instead of complying promptly with a Supreme Court order the FTC prefers to fritter away time and money seeking to tell people more strongly what they already know about cigarettes. Next thing the FTC will probably want to do, instead of performing the job it is supposed to do, is issue an endorsement of the Ten Commandments.
