Barbara's Bylines

The following was printed in the Paducah Post by Editor, Jimmie Taylor near Independence Day. With Veterans Day on Friday, we thought it would be an appropriate time to print.

Rules of etiquette concerning the U.S. Flag. Many of the rules included in a 1942 Code of Flag Display and Use:

* The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.

* Weather permitting, it should be displayed on all days, especially on patriotic holidays.

* Displayed daily, on or near the main administration building of every public institution, polling place on election days, and every school house on school days.

* When carried in procession with other flags, it should be either on the marching right of others, or in front and center of the line of flags.

* When displayed on a float, it should be attached to a flagstaff, or if displayed flat, suspended in a manner that allows its

Cox Family To Be Honored With Luncheon

Rev. Gaylon Cox and family, wife, Karen, and sons, Matthew and Mark, will be honored with a potluck luncheon at the First Baptist Church, Sunday, November 13, immediately after the church services.

The Coxes will be leaving the following week for Laverne, Oklahoma, where he will assume the pastorate of First Baptist Church.

Evening services will be cancelled. Everyone in the community is invited to attend the potluck meal, and honor the Cox family. For more information, contact Judy Renfro.

Weekend Accident Injures Three

The Motley County Sheriff's Department, DPS, and Ambulance Service responded to a one-vehicle accident early Sunday morning, November 6, in which three teenage females, Elizabeth Dawn Cheung, 19, and DeeDee Seal, 18, both of Paducah, and Mindy Rainbolt, 18, of Spur were injured. Miss Cheung was the driver of the vehicle.

The three were headed east on US highway 62, approximately 11 miles east of Matador and approximately one mile east of the rest area. According to DPS reports, they were driving a 1990, 2 door, Ford Probe. The driver of the vehicle ran off the road, and attempted to steer back on the road, which caused the vehicle to slide sideways, striking a utility pole, spinning the vehicle into a barbed wire fence, south of US 62.

Both Rainbolt and Seal were ejected from the vehicle. Miss Cheung and Miss Seal were transported by Motley County Ambulance to Childress Regional Hospital, where they were treated for minor injuries and released.

Miss Rainbolt was airlifted by Aero-Care of Lubbock and was in ICU, but now is listed in Satisfactory condition.

The vehicle sustained heavy rear damage.

Canadian Couple Fulfills Dream Of Coming To Matador

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Braun

Jake and Joyce Braun of Beechy, Saskatchewan, Canada were visitors of Matador last week, fulfilling a childhood dream.

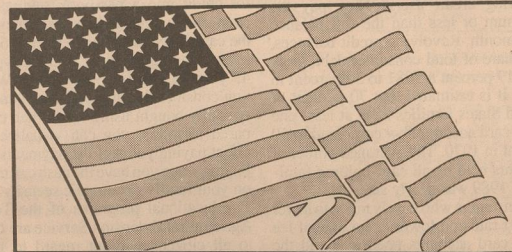

Mr. and Mrs. Braun are owners of the Hillcrest Land and Livestock Ltd. in Saskatchewan. They own the famous quarterhorse, 'Solonos Peppy San'.

While growing up just a few doors down from each other, they lived across from the Matador Ranch Company in Kyle, Saskatchewan. All of their childhood they watched the Matador cowboys on horseback working cattle, and Mr. Braun decided then what he wanted to do when he grew up. He became friends with several of the Matador cowboys, The Matadors leased land from the Saskatchewan government.

Mr. Braun always dreamed of someday coming to Matador and visiting the home of the Matador Land and Cattle Company.

While here the Brauns visited long-time Matador cowboy, Rosie Deaton and family. Mr. Deaton gave them a tour of the headquarters area. They also visited with former Matador manager, John Stevens, the Library, and the Motley County Tribune.

Matadors Put Up Good Fight To End Season

The Motley County Matadors completed their season Friday night falling to the Spur Bulldogs by the score of 38-14. Spur will advance to the playoffs as the district champion next week.

A Matador fumble on their first possession set Spur up for an early score. Michael Kelly sprinted 28 yards for the touchdown, and the Bulldogs held a 6-0 lead with less than a minute gone in the game.

Motley County got that touchdown back quickly as they took the kickoff and drove downfield with Jarrod Brooks carrying the final yard for the game tying score. Kevin Keltz ran in the two point conversion, and the Matadors had an 8-6 lead.

On the first play after the kickoff, Kelly again took off on a touchdown run, this time from 63 yards away. At the end of the first quarter, Spur led 12-8.

The second quarter belonged to the Bulldogs. Cory Childers scored on a 4 yard run. The 2 point conversion made the score 20-8. Then quarterback Monty Thomason passed 5 yards to Tom Ward to make the score 26-8 at the half.

The third quarter was dominated by Motley County although they could not put any points on the board. A 15 play, 64 yard drive resulted in an apparent score, but a penalty brought it back. The fourth quarter began with the Mats still trailing 26-8.

Keltz recovered a Bulldog fumble at the Spur 32 yard line to set up the final Matador score of the season. Brooks got the T.D. on a 7 yard run to trim the lead to 26-14, but the Mats could get no closer. Spur added 2 late touchdowns to make the final score 38-14.

This was the final football game for 9 Matador seniors, Conway Clary, Brandon Blanch, Crawford Mason, Chad Graves, Jeremy Jones, Don Martin, and Erik Alvarado played their last game for Motley County. Also Heather Turner and Lesa Prather led cheers for the final time at a Matador football game. We thank each of you for representing our school with class over the last four years. Also, thanks to Coaches Graves, Prather, Milam, Brewer, and Alexander for leading our kids.

Two Local Seniors Nominated For Wendy's High School Heisman Award

Two Motley County High School Seniors - Heather Turner and Jeremy Jones - have been nominated for the Wendy's High School Heisman Award and could win a $5,000 award for their school, announced Rick Copp, principal. The newly created national program recognizes academic achievement, community service, and athletic accomplishment.

Heather plays on the basketball and tennis teams, is head cheerleader, and serves as this year's president of the National Honor Society, 4-H, the Senior Youth Group, and is active in Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Jeremy is a member of the football, power weightlifting, and track teams, served as co-captain of the football team, and is active in the National Honor Society, serving as reporter, FFA, Future Farmers of America, as vice-president, is vice-president of the Senior Class, vice-president of FCA, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and serves as president of the Student Council.

The Wendy's High School Heisman Award is sponsored by Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers restaurants and the Downtown Athletic Club in association with the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Competition is open to all high school seniors, male and female, who participate in any of the 31 sports officially sanctioned by the National Federation of State High School Associations.

"For years young men have dreamed of winning the Heisman Memorial Trophy, the most admired individual recognition award in collegiate athletics," said Dave Thomas, founder and senior chairman of Wendy's. "This new high school award will recognize the best scholar-athlete-citizens, male and female, among our nation's high school seniors, regardless of their sport."

Principals at the nation's estimated 25,000 high schools were invited to nominate one male and one female student athlete into the award competition. Entries are evaluated by the scholastic review service (CTB/McGraw-Hill) to narrow the field to 1,200 Regional Finalists and then to 120 Regional Award Winners.

A distinguished panel of judges, from the worlds of business, media, education, politics and sports, including former Heisman Trophy award recipients, will review the 120 Regional Award Winners and name 24 National Semi-Finalists who will each receive a $1,000 award for their school. Twelve National Finalists, one boy and one girl representing six geographic regions, will also be selected.

These 12 National Finalists will be invited to New York City in December to participate in the Heisman Trophy activities at the Downtown Athletic Club. One boy and one girl will then be selected as the National Award Winners and recognized during the Heisman Trophy national telecast on Saturday, December 10. The two National Winners will each receive a $5,000 award for their school. Each of the remaining 10 National Finalists will receive a $3,000 award for their school.

The program is endorsed by the National Association of Secondary School Principals which is assisting with the nomination evaluation process. The Downtown Athletic Club, home of the Heisman Memorial Trophy since its inception, is a partner in the new award.

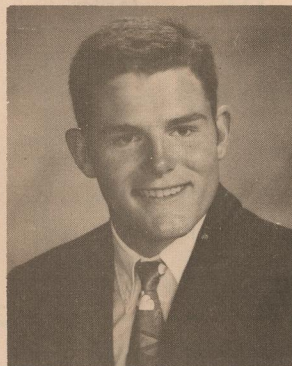

"We recognize these local nominees for their outstanding achievements in the classroom, on the playing field, and in the community," said program spokesman Archie Griffin, the only two-time Heisman Memorial Trophy recipient.

"They have set positive examples for other students to emulate."

Heather Turner and Jeremy Jones will be presented with certificates of recognition at the annual awards ceremony in May.

"These two students represent the outstanding efforts that many students at Motley County High School make each day in the classroom, on the playing field, and in the community," said Rick Copp. "We are especially proud to recognize them with this honor and hope one or both of them is invited to New York City this December."

Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers restaurants were founded in 1969 by Dave Thomas, who named the restaurant after one of his daughters. Today there are 4,300 Wendy's restaurants worldwide with $4 billion annual systemwide sales.

Home Economically Speaking

by Beverly A. Logsdon
Home Extension Agent - Home Economics

USING CREDIT CARDS WISELY
Credit card offers seem to come daily with the mail. Consumer credit is important to the United States economy. It makes buying easier, increases the demand for goods and services which stimulates the economy, and helps some people meet emergency needs.

However, for the individual family, monthly installment payments reduce future financial resources for meeting regular expenses as well as reducing funds for saving. The bottom line is that families can easily raise their level of vulnerability to financial emergencies.

Some credit card users are convenience users. They pay the full balance due each month. If they can get an account with no annual fee and a long grace period, credit card use can let them earn interest on money put into savings to draw interest until the bill is due.

Many consumers, today have become revolving credit users. They pay the minimum or less than the full balance each month. Revolving credit balances, as a share of total consumer debt, grew from 19 percent in 1981 to 30 percent in 1990. It is estimated that 70 percent of United States families have at least one credit card account now compared to 50 percent in 1970. The average number of accounts held by all card-holding families in 1989 was nearly six.

Consumers who wisely move to lower interest rate and lower or no annual fee credit card accounts need to avoid the temptation to pay only the minimum balance. Even with lower interest rates, continuing to pay only the minimum balance will make little difference in the total cost paid for an item bought with a credit card. If you can shift to a lower interest rate account, be sure you continue to pay just as much, if not more, on each account so the account will be paid off faster and the total cost can be lower.

Let your dollar buy more in 1994. Pay off credit accounts as quickly as possible, starting with the one with the highest interest rate. Also quickly pay off the account with the lowest balance. When an account is paid in full, move those payments to the next account in the highest interest. Only when you have paid off all credit accounts would it be wise to shift your money freed from former credit accounts to other expenses. If you have lived comfortably without spending the money used for credit payments, shift it to savings for things you normally would buy with credit.

A study at Michigan State University in the 1960s estimated that if a family put the money they would pay each month for credit into a passbook savings account and bought the item when they had the cash, they would have over $46,000 in their savings account after the typical 45 years of family consumption. When you consider the limited items families typically bought using credit then compared to today, you can visualize the effect paying yourself the payments and buying when you have the cash can make on your family's economic security.

Educational programs of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age, or national origin.

New Book Celebrates Christmas In Texas

A new cookbook, Christmas in Texas Cook Book, bring to readers an array of tastes of Christmas on a grand scale fitting to the Lone Star State. Reflecting the multicultural mix of Texas' diverse heritage, recipes include flavors from Spain, Mexico, Germany, Poland and Scandinavia, as well as delightful dishes from other cultures that have exerted their influence on Texas.

The introduction to each chapter contains special information about a particular region in Texas or a special holiday tradition such as Los Pastores (The Shepherds).

Contributors of the more than 120 appealing recipes include local food companies, retail establishments and accomplished cooks throughout the state from both rural and urban areas. Examples of the many luscious Texas-style dishes and confections are Sugarplum Cranberry Punch, Jalapeno Cheese Bake, Holiday Mexican Steaks, Cowgirl Lasagna, Green Bean Ole, and Christmas Sweet Potato Pie.

With its warm, inviting cover depicting a home's open door leading to an entryway decorated with Christmas greens and colorful ornaments Christmas In Texas Cook Book immediately sets the tone for savory recipes inspired by heartwarming family traditions and special memories.

From beverages and appetizers, salads and main dishes, and on through to desserts and candies, Christmas in Texas Cook Book provides a cornucopia of tastes and festive new dishes to enliven the holiday season.

A portion of the proceeds benefits the Texas branch of The Salvation Army.

Christmas in Texas Cook Book retails for $8.95 and is available in bookstores, gift shops or direct from the publisher ($10.95 post paid). Contact Golden West Publishers, 1-800-658-5830, 4113 N. Longview, Phoenix, Arizona 85014.

See you at the Bazaar.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) has filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) to restructure the current PLEXAR I and II service offerings. This restructure will significantly change PLEXAR I and II services.

The restructuring of PLEXAR I will, among other things: (1) reduce the maximum line size from 30 to 9; (2) obsolete and grandfather certain optional features; (3) eliminate the requirement to subscribe to Feature Package Two in order to subscribe to certain optional features; (4) reduce the nonrecurring and monthly rates of certain features; and (5) increase the nonrecurring charges for the PLEXAR I System Charge ($2.10 to $8.00), Call Transfer Disconnect feature ($3.00 to $8.00), and Convenience Dialing I feature ($6.35 to $8.00). All current PLEXAR I customers will have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR I service, switching to the new restructured PLEXAR I service, or switching to PLEXAR II service with ten or more lines.

The proposed PLEXAR II restructure will, among other things: (1) change the tariffed offering to serve the market segment of 10-74 stations; (2) create two station pricing structures, one for customers with 10-29 stations, and one for customers with 30-74 stations; (3) reduce the sensitivity for the loop portion of the rate to two price bands: 0-2 miles, and beyond 2 miles; (4) offer a PLEXAR II basic station that can be flexibly configured, from a number of standard features, to meet the individual customer requirements; (5) change the way the termination liability is calculated so the customer is responsible for 65% rather than 56% of the present worth of the remaining monthly payments in the contract; (6) create an option that allows month-to-month customers to convert to long term contracts of at least three years and receive a credit or "contract signing bonus"; and (7) establish a System Subsequent Change Charge which applies per serving central office when changes are made that affect the entire system.

Current PLEXAR II customers will also have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR II service, or switching to the new restructured PLEXAR II service. PLEXAR II customers with at least 75 stations also have the option of switching to PLEXAR Custom service in certain situations.

This application has been assigned Docket Number 13210. Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by November 28, 1994. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf. For more information about this application, please call your local Southwestern Bell Account Representative.

Motley County School News

Local Children Read About Crime Prevention In Free Books

Motley County 3rd grade class.

Fifteen young readers at Motley County Elementary in Matador received copies of a new book starring themselves and McGruff the Crime Dog on Tuesday, November 1, 1994 at 10 a.m.

The students learned to Be Smart, Be Safe with McGruff, the popular trench-coated crime prevention symbol. The personalized story books included the child's name, his or her community, and the names of friends and/or relatives to make the story more inviting and meaningful to young readers. They also received pamphlets that allow parents to have a permanent record of the child's fingerprints and other important information such as identifying marks, medical history, color of hair, eyes, etc.

Students receiving the personalized books were: Cole Grundy, Brandon Martin, Stachia Baxter, Quinten Rose, Joel Rieger, Antonnette Acy, Lorenzo Salazar, Sandra Torres, Brett Wallace, Aleda Ross, Amanda Hurt, Susana Mendoza, Dumont Darsey, LaShea Rose, and Luke Taylor.

The Give-A-Book program, like the one sponsored at Motley County Elementary by City Grocery, Roaring Springs; Davis Fuel, Matador, V&S Variety, Doyle & Carolyn Rose, Songbird Cafe, Roaring Springs; and West Texas Utilities Co., Matador, permits local businesses/individuals to encourage literacy and crime prevention by donating personalized books to beginning readers at a school or schools in their community.

As an added attraction, after the safety program, the children were given a demonstration on how to print and bind a book. The children find this very interesting, as they always ask, "Is that how our school books are put together?"

Create-A-Book dealer, Marilyn Crenshaw dba Special Memories Personalized Books, hosted the event. She was accompanied by Mrs. Carol Ann Turner, 3rd grade teacher.

We would like to thank all of our Sponsors for their help in making this program possible. If you would like information on how to be a sponsor of next year's Give-A-Book program, please contact Marilyn Crenshaw at (806) 495-3766. Help us help our children to be safe.

As the year moves on, UIL grows closer. To do the best, we must all get involved and practice daily. Each of the sponsors devotes his or her time to helping the students with their activities, usually during HAT period in UIL study groups.

However, before practices begin, we usually attend the UIL Superconference which was held this year at Texas Tech in Lubbock on Saturday, October 29. At the Superconference, there were different workshops for each contest. At the workshops, the directors explained tips for studying and doing your best in contests. They also explained who will do the grading of the tests at contest and how they will be graded.

This year, Mrs. Hays and Mr. Copp, our principal, took us. I feel that at the Superconference we were provided lots of needed information which we will use in doing our best at contest. We are all hoping for the best in UIL this year. Good luck, everyone!

Cindy Lancaster is a custodian at Motley County School. She grew up in Plainview and graduated from Plainview High School in 1973. She was born in Matador. She has lived in Roaring Springs about 2 1/2 years, after moving from Tucson, AZ.

Mrs. Lancaster stated, "Our family chose to live here because this is where my grandparents lived."

Her hobbies are sewing, painting, cake decorating, fishing, camping, needlepoint, and sitting on the front porch.

"I love working because I enjoy kids of all ages and there's never a dull moment around school!", Mrs. Lancaster stated.

When Does Wisdom Come?

by Shelby West

Well! It's my ball. Someone said that "wisdom comes with age". It must be at the age that I haven't yet obtained. For, the more that I study, and the more knowledge that I think I have, the less that I actually know. Instead of transgressing or transcending to the lofty alcove of the elite, I find myself degressing, to a somewhat point of lesser value than I once was at.

When I was in school I was a fair hand at math. Granted I was not a whiz or even a student that anyone else came too seeking answers. I was however, a good B student.

I would hate to try to pass the math that is taught in school now. I'm not talking about high school math, I'm talking grade school. It seems to have changed a great deal.

The more I know, the less I know.

When I was growing up in Roaring Springs back in the fifties, we played a game called stick ball. It was a simple game. The rules were simple, any number of kids could play, the more the merrier. Also the more who played increased the chances of someone showing up with a red rubber ball. Whoever brought the ball was in total command.

The game began when he arrived and the game ended when he left.

Being a few years younger than most of the other players, I was always at the mercy of each of the other players. Until one day I made 50¢ working in someone's yard. Guess what, I went into Cooper's Variety Store and paid 19¢ for a brand new rubber red ball.

I had suddenly, in my mind, become "King of Stick Ball".

I truly enjoyed this position. I had at long last become the guru to the other players. I could do as I wished, I chose my own team, I revised the rules in my favor, I no longer had to play pigtail, I could be pitcher, outfield catcher, or any other position as I chose. I was truly in command.

My older brother had wisdom, he was the one who hired me to help him clean the yard. He was the one who paid me 50¢, he had made $3.00. My older brother had wisdom, he was the one who placed the thought in my mind of the importance of being the one with the new red ball.

Fame is a very fleeting thing, my tenure as the "King of Stick Ball" lasted only until someone asked the question, "Where's the bat?"

Playing pigtail isn't really all that bad. With the $2.50 that my brother had, while I was in Cooper's Variety Store buying the 19¢ rubber red ball, he was in Thacker Supply buying a Stan Musial baseball bat for $1.95.

My brother was "King of Stick Ball".

Wisdom comes with age. I learned a great lesson that day. A bat is more important than a rubber red ball.

Through the years I have learned that the philosophy of "It's my ball, play it my way or I will go home and take my ball with me" can and is used in all walks of life.

Television is a prime example of that philosophy. Sex and violence and four letter words have become more the norm than the unusual.

In a society that continually looks for a way to deal with the problems of our times. We say surely there must be an end to the rampant crime that occurs on a day by day basis.

We have been told by the producers of television shows, that we, the viewers, want this type of programs. Sorry, but that's a lie.

As long as the viewer watches, as long as the advertisers make millions of dollars, it will continue.

Wisdom comes with age, I wish it would be this age or decade when wisdom comes. I wish wisdom would come and along with it bring courage and hope.

I suppose maturity also comes with age. I suppose wisdom and maturity should walk hand in hand.

Why is there so much violence among the youth of our society? Some children are street wise by the time they are six or maybe even younger.

Our youth have been fed a steady diet of sex, violence, and four letter words. We have allowed it and welcomed it through television.

Hollywood movie producers have said in so many words, "It's my ball."

What we as viewers need to say, "It's our bat."

Remember Nero fiddled while Rome burned.

Cooking Corner Tips To Help You

Old-Fashioned Memories From The Pantry

(NAPS)—Oh, the memories that are triggered by the aroma of fresh bread baking in the oven! Memories of good times and friendships shared over a cup of coffee and a piece of fruit-filled yeast bread warm from the oven. Creating new memories today is as easy as stepping to your pantry.

Convenient and ready when you are, yeast dough mixes reduce preparation time. And cans of fruit waiting to be opened hold the wonderful flavors of sun-ripened fruit ready to be enjoyed any time of the year. While traditionally used in pies, canned fruits in yeast breads create baked goods that will tantalize any palate. Cherry Yeast Braid is quick and easy to make but looks and tastes like you spent all day in the kitchen. Whether you use Oregon cherries or substitute Oregon blueberries or blackberries, you'll savor the flavor of sun-ripened fruit wrapped in tender yeast dough and bank the memories created from this moment.

CHERRY YEAST BRAID

- 1 package (16 oz.) hot roll mix*
- 1 can (16-1/2 oz.) Oregon dark sweet or Royal Anne cherries, drained
- 1/2 cup chopped orange, skin included
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup chopped pecans
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- Icing, optional

Icing: Mix 1 cup powdered sugar and 2 tablespoons milk or warm water, 1 teaspoon orange juice and 1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel.

*Check package for ingredients to prepare dough from mix.

Kay Bailey Signs Everywhere

NOTE: This article was taken from Abilene Reporter, November 2 issue, by Bill Whitaker. Kay Bailey is the daughter of Laverna Price of Matador.

Although signs for Kay Bailey appear almost everywhere in Eastland County this political season, the woman herself says she wants nobody's vote, only his or her business.

Specifically, real estate business. No, this isn't another twist in the tumultuous political career of Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison. Rather, it's the routine for Eastland County real estate agent Kay Bailey, who just happens to share some of the same name as the woman on all our Texas ballots.

"Sorry, but I'm not her," Kay joked after I noticed several of her real estate signs in Eastland yards along with various campaign signs. "Now, I've been accused of being her several times, but that's mostly when I've been to Abilene."

"Mostly it's been clerks in stores," she said. "I'll hand 'em my credit card and, well, they'll light up and say, 'Oh, yes, Kay Bailey Hutchison!' And I'll say 'Sorry, but it's just Kay Bailey.'"

Still, it's made life more interesting for Kay.

"Back when she (Kay Bailey Hutchison) was in all that trouble, I wasn't even sure I should joke about it. But now I think I can claim her again. I didn't vote for her last time, but since she's been up there, I think she's done pretty good."

"She'll probably win my vote this time." Kay's not as naive as some when it comes to politics. Her mom, 68-year-old Laverna M. Price, is county judge in Motley County. In fact, Laverna is the first woman county judge the place has had.

For her part, Kay says she has no political ambitions. In fact, because husband Ron works as district conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, politics is pretty much out for the Baileys.

Still, Kay Bailey's name adds more iron to Eastland County politics than just confusion with Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison. She also shares the same last name as the county's celebrated county judge, though she's not related to Judge Scott Bailey.

In fact, Kay, 52, is marketing a home for Roger Stephenson, the Republican who, judging from all the campaign signs I've seen in Eastland, is mounting a stiff challenge to Judge Bailey's re-election bid. Ironically, Roger Stephenson has a Bailey sign - one of Kay's - up in his yard.

"Judge Bailey is a fine gentleman and you won't find anything in his background you could say against him, unless you count his 31 years as judge, and I'm not sure that makes the difference it does with members of Congress staying so long."

"On the other hand, Roger is a fine fellow, too, and he and his wife are good friends. I think it would take a miracle to beat Judge Bailey. But if hard work counts for anything, Roger has a chance. He's gone door to door and has signs everywhere."

Spoken like a true politician, Kay. Who says this gal isn't the stuff politicians are made of?

John Barton Honored On 95th Birthday

John Barton was honored on his 95th birthday at the Senior Citizens Center in Matador from 3:00 to 4:00 p.m., Saturday, October 29. Hosting the special event were his children and grandchildren.

On each side of the outdoor entrance bales of hay, pumpkins and squash welcomed the guests. Colorful decorations inside were a cheerful greeting that included ribbon streamers, cotton balls, golden mums and pot plants. On the walls of the building, a display of his ranch home, pictures of Mr. Barton from youth to present time, a Barton family tree, plaques he has received and a birthday card from President Reagan in 1989. Mr. Barton sat next to a table where he opened his many birthday cards.

Granddaughters alternated at the crystal punch and silver coffee service. The centerpiece was a tree with 94 small candles sitting on the branches and topped with a larger candle which Mr. Barton blew out as guests sang Happy Birthday. The centerpiece was flanked by a cornucopia overflowing with Indian Corn, squash, and harvest fruit and miniature bales of hay and cotton. Four cakes representing four family generations, each one decorated with a different design of cotton bolls, red tractor, red dominoe and a package of Juicy Fruit gum, (Mr. Barton's favorite gum) were served with punch and coffee. Family pictures were taken preceding the party.

Those attending were his children, Louvaine Scaff of Matador, Betty Jo Aldridge of Carter, Okla., and Blake (Bud) Barton of Dougherty. Grandchildren attending were Jane Cartwright of Flomot, Tommy and Bonnie Scaff of Bovina, Jill and Sonny Taylor of Ft. Stockton, Rev. Roger and Betty Scaff of Granger, Joyce McCarty of Odessa, Ann Bruce and Nesa McFall and Steve, Beverly, Bobby and Blake, Shawn, Sonda and Reagan Elliott, of Matador, Krista and Chris Reyes of Rotan and Linda Rippetoe of Cordell, Okla.

Others attending were Varner and Lenna McWilliams, Scott and Cindy Scaff and Jerry Chapman of Lubbock; Earle and Alice Faye McDonough of Plainview; Cary and Jade Pankratz of Cordell, Okla.;

Dustin Ray of Dell City, Okla.; Jody, Jonathan and Jacob James of Dougherty; Mollie Burleson and Lou Burleson of Floydada; Wes Hall of Albuquerque, N.M.; Alfred Seay of Truth or Consequences, N.M.; Blake Scaff, Lena, Kelsey and Baily of Lubbock; Caren, Caleb, John and Chelsea Melton of Sanger, Kayla Bussell of Odessa, and Zane and Cylenna Terry and Jerry and Chris Riley of Amarillo.

Wilson Barton, Dude Barton, Viola Stinson, Wilburn Martin, Beverly Vinson and Donnie, Reagan and Talon Cruse of Flomot; Bill and Nora Belle Dunning, June Keltz, Dan Barton, Lola Pohl, Leo and Joy Archer, and Zona Ruth Cammack of Matador.

Progressive Homemakers Arts & Crafts Jubilee

The Progressive Homemakers are again sponsoring their Christmas Arts & Crafts Jubilee on November 12 at the county showbarn in Silverton, Texas. The show will run from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. There will be an admission price of one canned good item to be donated to the Panhandle Food Bank by the Silverton 4-H Club.

Reservations for booth space will be taken through November 5th. Some of the items that will be on sale that day are dolls, all kinds of wood crafts, hair bows, vests, jewelry, saddle racks, decorated Christmas trees, nativity scenes, several types of angels, tin signs, bears, baked goods, books, decorated shirts, scarecrows, baskets, clocks, candles, wreaths, birdhouses, birdfeeders, stuffed animals, Old World Santa's, and lots of other country crafts.

Silverton PTA will also have Santa's Secret Shot which will have items for kids to purchase for their parents, grandparents and friends. Gift wrapping will be available for items purchased at this booth.

The concession stand will be open all day by the Catholic Church. I know you will want to come and try their delicious burritos and other goodies.

An added feature this year will be the workshops. From 10:00 - 11:00 Jon Etta Ziegler will have a class on Picture safe-photo albums/scrapbooks. Bring $5, scissors and 10-15 pictures to create a page of everlasting memories. From 11:00 - 12:00 Ronda Alexander, Briscoe County Extension Agent will present Creative Christmas Gifts from the Kitchen. There will be no charge for this workshop. From 1:00 - 2:00 Rhenda and Margaret with Caprock Floral will teach you how to make a Yucca Pod Angel. Bring $1.50, scissors, hot glue gun and glue sticks. From 2:00 - 3:00 Angela Bohannon, Lamb County Extension Agent will present Yesteryear Christmas. This will be a showcase of older items, traditions & customs resulting in the unique American "melting pot" holiday. There will be no charge.

Santa Claus will be there from 3:00 - 4:30 for all the boys and girls to visit with and tell him their Christmas wishes. Pictures will be available for a minimal cost.

There will be gifts for everyone on your Christmas list and lots of fun to be had by everyone. Plan on coming and spending the day.

Crowell Holiday Bazaar November 12

The Women's Service League of Crowell, Texas will host a holiday bazaar featuring area arts and crafts on November 12 beginning at 9 a.m. in downtown Crowell at the Activity Center. A highlight of the day will be a silent auction featuring antiques, collectibles, crafts, clothes and art.

Local western artist K.W. Whitley has donated an oil painting ("The Homemade Hamburgers, the Pinto Beans and the French Fries are almost ready"). There will also be an antique cook stove, antique wash stand, pitcher and bowl and antique ice tongs. Western craftsmen have donated leather items (braided headstall, leather coasters) and Indian craftsmen have donated Native American collectibles including a Dance Stick and Gourd, arrowhead display and buckskin basket. Other items are Indian Jewelry, hand-crafted mesquite ladder, a collection of old bottles, an autographed copy of "Ride the Wind", one ton of range cubes and a feeder pig. At least 40 more items have been donated but not yet received.

Make plans to attend the day-long event. The Women's Service League will host a meaty beans lunch available to the public.

Michael A. Guido
Metter, Georgia

The man slumped back in his chair and said, "I'm a coward." But William Tyndale wasn't. Because he vowed, "Every boy should know the Scriptures," he was forced to leave England and never to return.

Working in Europe he translated the Bible into English, and he printed the first English New Testament in 1525.

But he was arrested and burned at the stake. Tyndale bravely gave his life to give us the Bible.

Would you give your life to give others the Bible?

A man at the bar staggered to his feet and said, "Show me an Irishman, and I'll show you a coward."

A big fellow, with his fists doubled for action, said, "I'm an Irishman."

To Tell The Truth

One of the lesser-known men of the Bible, but a great one never the less, is Micaiah the son of Imlah. Perhaps you've never heard of him, but Micaiah was a prophet during the days of Ahab, the wicked king of Israel, and we remember him because he insisted on speaking the truth.

Ahab wanted to go to war, so he asked his prophets whether or not he would win. They were as corrupt as he was, so they told him what he wanted to hear. Micaiah along prophesied a disaster if Ahab went to war, even though he was warned to go along with the false prophets. "As the Lord lives," Micaiah said, "what the Lord says to me, that will I speak." And he did.

What a great example Micaiah is for us! When lying and corruption are the order of the day, how refreshing to read of a man who insisted on telling the truth, even to a king who hated him, and who exposed the lies and hypocrisy that were all about him and was willing to stand alone against the majority.

Now, if you insist on telling the truth, no matter what, you might not become very well-known either. But you might make a lot of difference in our world.

Free Pamphlet On Teenage Drinking

(NAPS)—Young people, their parents, teachers and friends can all benefit from the facts found in a new pamphlet available for free from the American Council on Alcoholism, Inc. It's a national, non-profit health organization that's been serving the public since 1953.

Parents should explain their ideas of the proper use of alcohol to their children.

Among the advice it offers:

- Before teenagers go anywhere alcohol may be available, they should talk it over with their family and friends and decide what they will do. They should remember real friends will respect a clear, firm and simple "No, thanks."

- Factors that influence alcohol's effects include body weight, amount of food in the stomach, speed of drinking, number of drinks and whether the person has consumed alcohol before. If parents drink, they should drink in moderation.

For a copy of the free booklet, write the American Council on Alcoholism, Inc., 2522 St. Paul St., Baltimore, MD 21218; or call 1-800-527-5344.

Mrs. Cruse besides their children are Mr. and Mrs. R.S. Pierce of Ennis, Texas.

COTTON NEWS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Preliminary information suggests the soon to be announced 1994 disaster program will pay producers 100 percent of their calculated disaster payment.

Based on information received earlier in the week the 1994 disaster program will be fully funded not pro-rated like past programs. Previous programs paid only 50 cents for each dollar a producer was eligible to receive.

Another provision likely to remain in the final package is a three tiered payment schedule. The schedule is based on whether a producer harvests, abandons or was prevented from planting their crop. It appears eligible producers who harvest acreage with qualifying losses will receive 100 percent of the calculated disaster payment.

Producers who abandon their acreage and do not harvest will receive 70 percent of the calculated payment and producers prevented from planting their crop will receive 45 percent of the calculated payment.

"The tiered payment schedule included as part of the 1994 disaster program seems to provide a strong incentive to harvest disaster stricken acreage in order to receive 100 percent of the calculated payment rate," explains Donald Johnson, while producers without insurance must setting of de minimus yields.

ing for the program will be much the same as in past disaster programs."

Producers with federal crop insurance coverage will qualify with losses greater than 35 percent of expected production while producers without insurance must prove losses in excess of 40 percent of expected production.

He adds that many of the details are still being worked out in areas such as the setting of de minimus yields.

Sign-up for the program is currently scheduled to begin December 1, 1994 and run through March 31, 1995. Final program provisions are expected to be released prior to the beginning of the sign-up period.

Another holdover from previous programs is that producers still cannot receive a disaster payment and a deficiency payment on the same pound or bushel of an eligible crop. Producers need to be aware that an adjustment will be necessary at sign-up to make sure double payments are not made.

PHONE SURVEY FINDS SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

Since 1984, the Office of the Inspector General (OIG), Department of Health and Human Services, has completed 10 surveys to find out how satisfied you, the public, are with the telephone service you receive from the Social Security Administration (SSA). Staff in local offices and representatives on SSA's toll-free 800 number respond to your inquiries. Every day, 250,000 callers reach the Social Security 800-number representatives.

Whether you call the local office or the 800 number, overall, most of you (about three-fourths of all those who were surveyed) say you are satisfied with the service you receive.

In July 1994, the OIG released results from the three most recent surveys. In 1992, 1993, and 1994, the OIG asked callers to respond to questions in more than 30 subject areas. In most areas, no differences were reported between customers who called the local office and those who used the 800-number service. Both groups, for example, gave similar ratings to staff job performance, courtesy, and the clarity of the explanations they received.

Only customers who had recent Social Security transactions were included in the OIG study. Their business ranged from applying for benefits through post-entitlement actions (such as how their benefits are affected by earnings from work). Callers applying for Social Security card or requesting an information pamphlet were not contacted.

Of the 1,300 questionnaires mailed during each survey period, about 1,000 usable responses were received. Based on these responses, it was found that Supplemental Security Income (SSI) beneficiaries were more likely to call the local office than the 800 number. Customers with disabilities also were more likely to have used the local office number.

HEALTH ALERT!

Get Your Child Vaccinated

(NAPS)—Is your child safe from dangerous disease? For proper protection, children should receive 80 percent of their vaccinations by their second birthday, the period during which they are most vulnerable to disease.

Childhood vaccines prevent nine infectious diseases: polio, measles, diphtheria, mumps, pertussis (whooping cough), rubella (German measles), tetanus, hepatitis-B and Hib (the most common cause of spinal meningitis). Between 11 and 15 vaccine doses are due by age two, requiring about five visits to a health care provider.

The Childhood Immunization Initiative of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) came about because only two-thirds of American children under age two receive all the immunization they need—and, in some inner city areas, vaccination rates for preschool children are much lower.

The Childhood Immunization Initiative aims, by 1996, to increase vaccination levels for two-year-olds to at least 90 percent for the initial and most critical doses; and to reduce most diseases preventable by vaccination down to zero. By 2000, the Initiative aims to have in place a system that will ensure at least 90 percent of all two-year-olds receive the full series of vaccines.

"Our Childhood Immunization Initiative recognizes the importance of reaching out actively to parents to make sure they know when and how to immunize their children," says HHS Secretary Donna E. Shalala. "Outreach efforts to health care providers are being increased to encourage them to take advantage of all opportunities to vaccinate infants."

What can you do to protect your baby's health? Ask your health care provider to check your baby's immunization status whenever you visit, even if it's for another purpose, such as a cold or a broken arm.

Toll-free telephone numbers have been established by HHS' Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to refer parents with no health care providers to local services to immunize their children. To obtain information on immunization services in your community, call 1-800-232-2522 or 1-800-232-0233 (Spanish).

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CHAPTER I MEETING TODAY

The Motley County I.S.D. would like to encourage you to attend the CHAPTER I MEETING. It will be held Thursday (today) November 10, 1994 at 1:30 p.m. in room 109. It is important that you try to make every effort to attend this meeting if you have a child in the Chapter I program in reading and/or math.

We will discuss the TAAS results. This will help you to help your child improve in the areas where he or she seems to show a weakness. We will also show you the way we are teaching the program this year, and show you the changes we have made.

If you do not have a child in the Chapter I program, we would also welcome you, if you are interested in seeing how we manage our program. We would also welcome any improvement suggestions you might have for us.

Plan to see us (today) November 10, 1994 at 1:30.
