Record February Snow Blankets Area

A SNOWSTORM swept across the lower Panhandle Monday and Monday night to establish what may be an all-time record. It is believed that between 12 and 16 inches of snow fell here, but because of the temperature which hovered at the freezing point, it was impossible to know exactly the depth of the fall. Snow was melting most of the time it was falling. It melted out to 1.66 inches of moisture.

At 2 a.m. Tuesday morning, more than 12 inches of snow was measured on the tops of automobiles. There was no wind and the snow clung to light wires, fences and tree limbs. Light mist fell for a short time Tuesday, but a warm sun during the afternoon melted most of the wet snow away.

Snow plows operated here during the snow storm and kept roads open. Although driving was hazardous, no accidents were reported from the storm which was more like a rain.

Other sections of the area west of Matador reported even greater snowfall. As much as 19 inches were reported in some places. Lubbock, Muleshoe and Seminole had heavy snow.

Six school busses elsewhere were reported lost for a time during the height of the snow, but all were found and there was no suffering among the children passengers.

Snow was extremely light in the North Panhandle and sunshine was reported in some areas while the snow was falling here.

Value of the moisture at a time of the year recognized as the "sandstorm season" cannot be estimated. Both ranges and cropland have been greatly benefited.

It is unfortunate that true statesmen must spend most of their active lives protecting the public for the selfish designs of demagogues.

If a man is going to form a partnership with failure, he may easily conserve his energy by never trying.

When the finger of criticism is pointed at a Russian state official, it is usually a trigger finger.

Veteran Actor Is Claimed By Death

Adolph Faylauer, 78, friend of Tribune editor Douglas Meador for over 35 years, died in Los Angeles January 11. He was the victim of a stroke while eating breakfast. Interment was made in Forest-Lawn Memorial Park Cemetery, January 17.

A telegram sent to Joe B. Meador, manager of the Lovington, N. M. Chamber of Commerce, advising of the actor's death and funeral arrangements, was intended for Meador here. Two weeks elapsed before the message was relayed to its intended recipient. Not until this week was it possible to procure details of the death.

Mr. Faylauer had suffered a stroke about two years ago, which impaired his eyesight. His last letter was received here shortly before the first of the year, thanking Mr. and Mrs. Meador for a Christmas gift.

Mr. Faylauer had traveled extensively and spoke five languages. He was a student of art and literature. He visited the Meadors here four times and knew many residents of Matador.

It is probable that Mr. Faylauer acted in more motion pictures than anyone ever to appear on the screen. He was not a celebrity but played extra bits and parts for over 40 years.

He worked regularly and was acquainted with most of the great names in pictures and also most of the great directors.

Born in Toledo, Ohio, November 16, 1882, Adolph E. Faylauer was the only child of German parents. He was never married.

High Note Is Hit In Entertainment

OUT OF THIS WORLD musical entertainment followed the annual Father-Son Banquet held Friday night. Phil-Originals, singing group from Phillips, Texas, won the heart of Matador in a colorful program held in the school auditorium. The banquet was held in the Baptist Church basement and the fathers and sons then moved to the school building. Remaining available seats were sold to the public.

Introduction was by Lion J. Edwards, who had previously heard the Phil-Originals and recommended them as entertainment.

Many have proclaimed the singers and their piano accompanist as the most outstanding entertainment ever presented in Matador. The program, which started at 8:30 continued without interruption (except for applause) for about 45 minutes. Since most of the group is employed by the Phillips Co.

Pioneer C. D. Bird Final Rites Today

PHANTOM HERDS OF ETERNITY are being watched over by another pioneer cowboy whose long, fruitful life ended at 3 a.m. Wednesday. C. D. Bird, 94, died in Stanley Hospital, where he had been a patient since September, after he broke a hip as a result of a fall.

Memorial services will be held at 2 p.m. today at the First Baptist Church. Officiating will be the pastor, Rev. Gene Hawkins, assisted by Rev. W. R. Vaughn, retired pioneer Methodist minister.

Burial will be in East Mound Cemetery following final graveside Masonic rites. Eudy-Seale Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements, and pallbearers will be Alvin Stearns, Glenn Woodruff, Melvin Meason, W. N. Pippin, John Barnhill and Pat Sheridan.

A pioneer leader of the area, "Uncle Charlie" Bird helped organize three counties, Motley, Dickens and Floyd, and was the first president elected to serve the Motley-Dickens Old Settlers Association when it was organized 37 years ago.

From the beginning as a cowboy on half dozen ranches, he became one of West Texas' most prominent cattlemen, a charter stockholder in First State Bank here, later president of the institution, and Chairman of the Board, a position he held at the time of his death. Mr. Bird attended a Directors' meeting, Jan. 3 and was conveyed to the bank in an Eudy-Seale ambulance from his hospital bed, an experience which he enjoyed immensely.

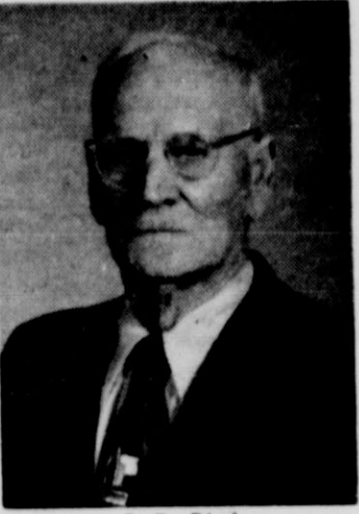

Mr. Bird was a charter member of the Matador Masonic Lodge and also of Khiva Temple. He was also a pioneer commissioner of Motley County. He had been a member of the Matador Baptist Church for many years.

Native of Georgia

Charles David Bird was born Oct. 31, 1866 at Cartersville, Ga., and came to Texas with his parents, who settled in Erath County. He grew up in the Buffalo Gap area near Abilene, and came to this area in 1884 to work for various ranches, including the Pitchforks, the F Ranch, Flying V, Fryng Pan, Double N Bar, and the Matadors.

In an interview several years ago Mr. Bird is quoted as saying that he was "just knocking around," and grew into early manhood working on the Matador ranch and in the "breaks" country.

During the years from 1884 to 1890 he staked his claim to land in the adjoining counties of Dickens and Motley, and worked his ranch between employment on the large ranches. He gradually increased his spread to a 19 section ranch on the South Pease River, 16 miles southeast of Matador, and later held ranching interests with a son, the late Freeman Bird, in the Midland area.

Returning to his former home in Erath County, Charlie Bird was married December 8, 1891 near Hico, to Miss Daisie Blair, who passed away in March, 1948. He later married Mrs. Ada Black in Colorado Springs, a childhood friend whom he had known at Buffalo Gap. She died in December, 1957. Mr. Bird died February 22, 1961 at the age of 94 years, 3 months and 21 days.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John Moore of Bethesda, Md.; four sons, Carl and Gus of Matador; Cliff, of Spur; and Glen, of Azle; 8 grandchildren, and 15 great-grandchildren.

New '61 Chevy with Jet-smooth ride!

Impala 4-Door Sedan—Jet-smooth transfer that rivals the luxury cars in everything but price

The '61 Chevy loves to go because it goes so well. Purrs along pavements like a happy tabby. Takes rough roads in stride and all roads in style.

Just why does a Jet-smooth Chevy treat riders as royally as the high-priced luxury cars? It all came about through a delightful blend of Full Coil suspension, precision-balanced wheels, unique chassis cushioning, and a superb Body by Fisher insulated to hush away road sounds. All this adds up to less sway, less bounce, less dip, less dive, less tilt, less noise, less... well you name it.

Now combine this Jet-smooth ride with conveniences to pamper you and roominess to relax in. Add a full measure of quiet good looks. Voilà, you've got Chevy's formula.

And the proof is in the riding. When you sample a Jet-smooth Chevy at your Chevrolet dealer's we think you'll find it just to your taste.

Committees Plan Program Of Work For FFA CHAPTER

FFA chapter leaders, advised by the vocational agriculture teacher, set up the year's program of work which consists of twelve main committees.

Heading Matador FFA Chapter as president this year is Guy Campbell, with Dink Wilson, vice president; Ros Bearden, secretary; Jimmy Welling, reporter; Gary Lancaster, Sentinel; and Petesy Timmons, treasurer. Every boy in the chapter serves on at least one of the committees. In this way, each boy assumes his share of the responsibility in getting each phase of the total program completed.

"This not only teaches leadership, but it helps the boys realize that what they accomplish must be done through their own careful planning and hard work," said Bill Moss, their instructor.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of boys taking vocational agriculture in high schools in the United States and Puerto Rico. Of the 375,000 active members in the national organization, 36,000 are in Texas.

Matador FFA Chapter has 35 active members enrolled.

The primary aim of this organization, in all of its levels, is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship. All the phases of the program and all the activities of the organization are designed for the accomplishment of this aim.

"We must have citizens of tomorrow well developed in leadership, cooperation and citizenship, regardless of their occupation," Moss declared.

Community Needs Studied

A vocational agriculture course is built around the agricultural needs of a community — its problems in production, marketing, conservation, leadership, management, and maintenance taught from the local level.

These courses are taught through the use of math, biology, genetics, chemistry, bookkeeping, research and study, farm shop, leadership, field practice and supervised farming projects where the student puts into practice the things he studies.

The benefits of this program are trained young farmers and young men who have initiative and desire, dependability, a sense of responsibility, capable leadership, a sense of patriotism, and self confidence and cooperation.

These qualities are needed to serve a growing America and furnish the kind of citizens a community is proud to have.

Acclamation means judgment of an assembly by shouting. Argentina, Brazil and Chile are known as the A.B.C. Powers. Acre originally meant the amount of land one man could plough in a day.

RIDDLE: What costs less the more you use it?

ANSWER: The electricity

that serves you in your home. The more of it you use, the bigger the bargain... the less you pay per kilowatt-hour for it. In fact, in homes served by WTU the average cost of electricity is 22% less than it was 10 years ago.

Think how many new uses you have for electricity these days... from your TV to your work-saving appliances for cleaning and washing. This is why your over-all bill may be a little higher than in the old days.

But what else in your home can give you so much value yet cost so little?

Electricity COSTS SO LITTLE — YOU CAN USE LOTS OF IT!

Golden Wedding Anniversary Celebrated Recently By Mr. and Mrs. Victor Chalk

Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Chalk of Roaring Springs, former long-time Dallas residents, observed their 50th wedding anniversary recently. Both are members of pioneer West Texas ranch families.

The former Miss Mavette E. Cooper, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cooper, and Victor Chalk were married Feb. 9, 1911, in Matador. The Rev. J. T. Hicks, early-day pastor of the Matador First Methodist Church, officiated, as the couple sat in Chalk's Ohio automobile, one of the first cars in this area.

The Chalks moved to Dallas in 1917. Mr. Chalk was co-owner of the former Crow-Elk-Hart Automobile Agency for many years. He served as a manufacturers representative for the National Manufacturing Company for several years.

Before his retirement in 1940, Mr. Chalk was a salesman for the Higginbotham-Pearlstone Co. in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Chalk moved back to Roaring Springs in 1940 and reside on their ranch.

They have three daughters, Mrs. Paul Mertens Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. Joel H. Sandoz of Dallas, and Mrs. George R. Bellville Jr. of Wappinger Falls, N. Y., and a granddaughter.

The couple will be honored at a reception in Memphis, Tenn., later in the year.

Frances Cooper Is Elected Area Voting Delegate

by Pat Cooper
The Matador Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America met on Monday, February 13, in the home ec. department. President Cheri Barton led in the opening ceremony and Vada Nichols led the Prayer Song. Plans for attending the Area I FHA meeting in Lubbock, March 4, were made. Frances Cooper, chapter 1st vice president was elected as voting delegate to this meet.

Geney Spray, 2nd vice president, then introduced a short skit on "The Facts of Life" which was on the life and care of light bulbs. Doris Cooper and Christina Damron were the characters, while Virginia Carr assisted with clever posters. The program was concluded by Cheri's leading the group in the closing ceremony.

Sophomore Scoop

by Judy Hart
The sophomores had their semester party Monday, February 13. The girls met at the home of Jane Hamilton at 5:00 p.m. to prepare the dinner. The menu consisted of hamburgers, French fries, cake, and tea. The boys, it seems, arrived just in time to eat. After washing dishes, moving furniture, and rolling up rugs, a dance was given for the 16 sophomore class members and their dates.

The sophomores enjoyed the party and thank Mrs. Hamilton for the use of her house and Mr. Macon, class sponsor, for chaperoning it.

Girls BB Team Wins Tournament

The Matador basketball team finished district action when they played in the district tournament at Turkey. The boys lost their game, while the girls won the tournament. The win, plus the round-robin title they had won earlier, gave them the district crown for the second year in a row.

Estelline topped the boys 69-40 to eliminate them from the tournament. The win was Estelline's fourth over the boys this year, and finished the Matadors' season, giving them a 4-14 mark for the year.

The girls stopped Estelline 50-17 in their first game. Jill Scaff was the leading scorer with 13 points.

They edged Lakeview 45-42 to take the championship. Frances Cooper scored 29 points to lead the Matador scoring. Guards Dixie Barton, Pat Cooper, and Dorothy Crenshaw played strong games in stopping Lakeview. The girls' team will now meet the district 12-B winner for the bi-district title.

To Cheat—Or Not To Cheat

"But I don't cheat on tests," you defend yourself. Well, maybe in algebra I do look in the back of the book. I'll admit that in history I didn't read that chapter and I copied a few answers. No, I didn't read all the book on which I reported. But this is only daily work. That can't make it wrong—can it? Every day at school we are

by Donna Williams

When a great storm came, the Roman trading vessel was wrecked on the treacherous coast of southwest Britain, and the infant son of a Roman soldier was the only survivor. Beric grew up with a Briton tribe, but to his foster people he remained an alien, one of the Red Crests. So when bad times came, the tribes held him responsible and cast him out.

Rejected by the only life he knew, the boy turned to his own people, but Rome too rejected him. Lost, bewildered, a captive of his father's land, he escaped from slavery only to be captured again and condemned to labor for the rest of his life on the rowing benches of a galley of the Phenix Flut.

In tracking the adventures of Beric and his ultimate happiness, Rosemary Sutcliffe, the author of Outcast, provides a fine and exciting story with a background of Roman Britain that rings true from the first page to the last.

Senior Personalities

LIMELIGHT LASSIE
One of Port Arthur's New Year babies turned out to be none other than senior class member Madora Jane Waybourn. Janie was born on January 14, 1943 and lived in Port Arthur until the age of four, when she moved with her family to Matador.

This mischievous MHS student has the favorite pastime of sports, in which she has actively engaged herself. For food, Janie prefers Mexican style and blue is her choice of colors. Following her like of sports, she picks physical education as her favorite subject.

Hollywood-wise, Jeff Chandler and Susan Hayward suit her taste. Occupying most of her time this year is the job of Matador editor which she holds. The class wishes Janie the best of luck as she carries out her future plans (indicated by a ring on her left hand.)

by Sue Cross and Judy Hart

Last Tuesday in the rooms of the grade school building, huge boxes with bunches and bunches of valentines for everyone were found. Some of the classes were entertained with a party in the afternoon.

The seventh grade students can't believe they are getting too old for a valentine's party. They are quite unhappy to think they will have to give up all the parties they have had in the past years. They had fun giving valentines anyway.

CAMPUS CLIPS

by Donna Williams

The high school students are very proud of Carol Campbell and Dixie Barton, who made the All-District team in basketball. The cast for the one-act play has been selected and rehearsal has begun with Miss Pina Sturdivant directing. The drama, entitled Senior Freedom, was written by Jean Lee Latham. It will be presented in the Interscholastic League Meet at Estelline, March 21.

The Mother-Daughter Banquet, and the Father-Son Banquet were enjoyed very much by the ones who attended. Ghosts and shadows will be frequent visitors at MHS as the senior girls begin rehearsal of "The Ghost of Rhodes Manor." All students will be "backing" the basketball girls next Tuesday at the Bi-District play-off. MHS is also proud of the District trophy, and are hoping to add two more trophies to the showcase this year. See ya next week!

Freshman Facts

by Mary Irwin

For the first time since their entrance to MHS, the freshmen are writing term themes. Topics for their 2000 word research compositions are on science fields and under the direction of Mr. Moore. The fish are rather doubtful of the benefits they are supposed to receive from writing these.

The girls are studying methods of cooking in home ec and soon will begin to do the actual cooking. Freshmen boys are studying about soil conservation which will prove helpful to them if they become farmers.

I am an unobtrusive little article. I don't feel that I deserve even capital letters or a headline, yet for my seeming littleness, I am one of the most important traits to success. I am humility.

Hurrah! the juniors' term themes are finally in, and six weeks tests are over! Now they can settle back for a day or so before starting on the junior play.

Interscholastic League is coming up, and the juniors will be well represented in all contests. Well, anyway, represented.

Western Roundup Featured In Program Presented At Mother-Daughter Banquet

Cowhands, campfire, and corral formed the setting for the Western entertainment staged Tuesday of last week for Matador mothers and daughters. The event was the 23rd annual Mother-Daughter banquet sponsored by the Matador Parent-Teacher association.

Saddles, boots and spurs decorated the banquet hall, and table decorations also featured the motif, with miniature wagons as favors for the girls.

The menu listed such fare as all Dogger's Fruit cup, Little League, Cowpuncher Potato, lumbwoods in a Stetson, Cactus Salad, Flapjacks and Saddle Soap, Ranger's Delight, Buck hot and Cup o' Spurs.

Mrs. J. P. Sturdivant, P.T.A. president as "Lasso Harry" was a star. "Cowpuncher lanna" was Mrs. Odie Killingsworth, who extended greetings to the guests, while her daughter, Gwen, as "Dungaree Dude" gave the response.

Mrs. John Hamilton, introduced as "Longhorn Smith" spoke to the group on the subject, "What's a Roundup?" and applied the thought with regard to taking inventory of one's life.

To the girls, she directed such questions as, "How are your studies... do you have any hobbies... what are your attitudes toward your parents, your teachers, and your associates?"

and of the mothers, she asked, "Do we mothers keep alert and informed... do we keep ourselves creative, with an interest in youth and its problems... are we stampered with tasks, problems and responsibilities?"

SINGING COWHANDS: Cherri Barton, Vada Nichols, Carroll Campbell, Ida Fair, Linda Thompson and Gwen Killingsworth at recent Mother-Daughter banquet.

as "Calico Molly" eulogized the virtues of the American cowboy as exemplified in a recent book, "The Cowboy Reader" by Lon Tinkle and Allen Maxwell, and of the early day ranch woman as extolled in "Some Glimpses of Ranch Life," by Frank S. Hastings.

These virtues included endurance, courage and daring resourcefulness. "These same virtues characterize the early-day mother, and wife of the cowboy who stayed in the background," Mrs. Keith declared.

"The American Cowboy and the Frontier Mother have become symbols of life which people love and admire," she asserted. "Just as the lonely wastes become more rare, the frontier woman is fast disappearing, but even in our improved environment she is yet one of the sturdy glories of American Motherhood, just as the cowboy symbolizes life typical of the New World."

Benediction was given by Mrs. Ted Elliott.

Organ music by Vella Ree Edwards, Christina Dameron, Sue Stevens, Judy Hart and Sandra Stevens, and invocation by Mrs. W. F. Jacobs, in the church auditorium preceded the barbecue supper in the basement of the First Baptist Church. Campfire music was played by the Swing Kings, Robert Brandon, David Rattan, Robert Brown and Larry Keltz.

Mrs. Horace Wood, District president of 18th District P.T.A. was presented as "Brand Inspector," a special guest at the banquet. Mrs. Wood, whose home is Spur, was accompanied by her daughter, Priscilla.

Mrs. Marvin Brotherton was program leader, assisted by Mrs. C. T. Jenkins, who talked on "The Home Projects for the Year," and Mrs. Bill Palmeyer on "Foreign Projects." Mrs. Fred Simpson led the prayer session, and special music was a duet by Mrs. J. R. Whitworth and Mrs. W. F. Jacobs, accompanied by Miss Roberta Jameson.

The program closed with a prayer circle at the altar, led by Rev. Mrs. Ruth Cooper of Whiteflat.

An offering was also made at the altar for the work of the International and inter-denominational movement which is observed in 145 countries around the world in an effort to preserve peace.

Discussions were, "What Makes a Good Mother and Can It Be Taught," by Mrs. Richard Turner, and "Modern Mothers Dilemma" by Mrs. Roy Grundy.

In business session, Mrs. Frank Price, president, welcomed Mrs. Sut Braselton as a new member.

County HD Council In Recent Session

by Mrs. L. B. Turner

An interesting meeting of the Matley County Home Demonstration Council was held in the courthouse, Saturday afternoon.

The Council Chairman, Mrs. C. C. Jones, and secretary, Mrs. Wilson Barton read letters of appreciation from Miss Fern Hodge and several others, who attended the planning meeting of District 3, which was held in Matador, Jan. 30.

A review of the planning meeting was discussed, and the District meeting for April was stressed.

Club reports were given and Flomot and Whiteflat both reported that their clubs sponsored the March of Dimes drive in January. Flomot reported they held their Civil Defense School to be held Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, sponsored jointly by the Home Demonstration Club and Flomot Lions Club. Whiteflat reported one meeting of special interest and that of an all-day meeting, Friday, Feb. 16, with a Singer Sewing Machine demonstration in the home of Mrs. Malcolm Jameson and daughter, with ten members present, one new member and one visitor.

The Council adopted as its project, assisting in organizing a home demonstration club at Turkey, in response to a request from that community.

"Worry is like a rocking chair. It will give you something to do, but it will get you nowhere," was the quotation used by Mrs. Jones as she opened the meeting Saturday, and the meeting was closed with a recreational period led by Mrs. Scott Robbins. Representatives from both active clubs were present.

BIRTHDAY PARTY Mrs. W. W. Clements was hostess Thursday afternoon at a birthday party honoring Mrs. W.

D. Lipscomb and Mrs. W. W. Waybourn, who have birthdays a month apart, but on the same date. The latter observed her 80th birthday on January 22, and was honored at that time by the "42-52" club. Mrs. Lipscomb celebrates her birthday on February 22. Other guests in the Clements home Thursday were Mesdames A. K. Wilkinson, Malcolm Morris, Ed Whitaker, F. B. Henderson and Ralph Stapleton.

TO OUR FRIENDS Again we wish to express our deepest appreciation for everything that was done in our behalf during our recent time of sorrow. At this time there are still three dishes at our home, in which food was brought. We have been unable to return these to the owners because we do not know whose they are. If you will call us or let us know, we will be glad to return these dishes to you.

PIED PINIONS By Mrs. M.

Sometimes it pays to stay in a rut. For instance while trying to negotiate a vehicle through streets and highways after a snow storm.

The beautiful snow which fell Monday inspired many to make snow ice cream. I've eaten snow ice cream all my life and comes now the information that several local folks have been making it by a recipe!

The old-fashioned way to assemble the confection is to fill a big steppan with snow, add a cup or so of sugar, stir in enough milk to make a creamy mixture and add some vanilla to flavor.

To make it by the recipe the procedure is similar to that used in summer-time home-made ice cream, with a base of beaten eggs, sugar, milk (or cream) and flavoring, to which is added whatever amount of snow needed to thicken and give the mixture the consistency of ice cream. This can be kept in the freezing compartment, much as commercial products, and is delicious any time, I am told.

Noting Ms recently in a salutation to a feminine addressee, I wondered whether this could be an abbreviated term which might be applied either to a Miss or a Mrs. In the business world where women are prone to use their own name in a signature, one is often confronted with the question in replying, as to which salutation is the correct one. It used to be customary to write the Miss or Mrs. in parenthesis before the name to designate the writer's status.

The Rev. Glen Echols, minister of the Methodist church at Sweeney, remarking on the attendance at church on a recent Sunday: "We have a comfortably filled church. By that I mean that every person present has enough room to lie down." (From Post Card in the Houston Post).

And from Quote another Echols is quoted by Jerome Beatty: Edw Echols reports that a lady South of the Border dieted herself back to her former svelteness. Now her proud husband calls her his "Metrecall Rose."

Also from Quote: A little girl repeating the 23rd Psalm, said it this way: "The Lord is my Shepherd, that's all I want."

Discussions were, "What Makes a Good Mother and Can It Be Taught," by Mrs. Richard Turner, and "Modern Mothers Dilemma" by Mrs. Roy Grundy.

In business session, Mrs. Frank Price, president, welcomed Mrs. Sut Braselton as a new member.

Church Homecoming Planned At Flomot

Plans for annual Church Homecoming in Flomot on Easter Sunday are underway and a committee composed of members from the three churches in the community met Sunday afternoon for this purpose.

Each church will hold its own morning service, and everyone will then assemble at the Methodist Church for noon lunch, with those attending bringing basket lunches.

Flomot Homecoming was established several years ago and the first Sunday in January was the time set, but due to severe weather conditions at that time of year, the time was changed to Easter Sunday.

No Homecoming was held last year however, because of other similar gatherings, including the School Homecoming which was held in July.

The Church Homecoming association is led by Mrs. Bernice Gates, president, and Mrs. Raldo Martin, secretary-treasurer. Others who met for the planning session in the Martin home were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Martin, Mrs. L. B. Turner and Raldo Martin.

According to tentative program plans, a business meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m. when officers will be elected, and singing will be held during the remainder of the afternoon. Date for the Homecoming will be April 2.
