

Three Burn To Death At Brownwood

BROWNWOOD (AP)—Three elderly persons burned to death early today when fire swept the Allgood Nurses home just south of the city.

A fourth patient was in a hospital with serious burns.

A stiff north wind, a frozen water hydrant and a telephone out of order hampered efforts to extinguish the blaze.

The dead were Mrs. Flora Perry, 88; Mrs. Laura Morris, 67; and Worth Abbott, 74. The two women died in the flames. Abbott died about three hours after the fire in a Brownwood hospital.

The fire began on a north room of a frame building, spreading to an adjoining rock walled structure. Eighteen patients were in the hospital. Those able ran out into the sub-freezing weather.

Fire Chief Charles Alford said each room had fire detection equipment, but efforts to call the fire department were delayed by the telephone being out of order.

He said personnel went to a neighbor's residence to call for help.

Alford said a frozen water hydrant prevented employees from attempting to fight the blaze.

The frame structure burned to the ground, and the rock structure was ruined.

The fire broke out about 2 a.m. Its cause was not learned at once.

Alford said one of the patients had been warned repeatedly not to smoke in bed. He also said the sub-freezing temperatures, lowest of the season, might have had a bearing.

The patient hospitalized was W. R. Hallmark, 79. Attendents said he had burns around the arms, head and shoulders. His condition was described as "serious but not critical."

Mrs. Perry, before moving into the home recently, lived east of Brownwood since 1926. Mrs. Morris came here from Goldthwaite. A sister in San Antonio, Mrs. D. M. Witt, survives Abbott.

Travis District Attorney Plans Vet Land Probe

AUSTIN (AP)—Dist. Atty. Les Procter said today witnesses who testified before House investigators yesterday on veterans land program irregularities will be called before the Travis County grand jury, probably next week.

Procter said the testimony of former employees of the program charging their higher-ups with putting "rush" orders on certain block deals was all new information to him.

"It seems to be a gigantic thing," he commented.

More witnesses were called before the House committee this afternoon.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton criticized what he called "a complete halt" over the weekend in the Senate veterans' land program probe. He said "some immediate action" are needed.

Phillips said he had turned up some "interesting" information but could not develop it because the chairman of the Senate investigators was out of town.

"I have been forced into the field to try to develop information when we ought to be calling witnesses and developing it right here and now," Phillips asserted before leaving on a trip he said was "to run down" leads on more irregularities in the program.

"My hands have been tied by the committee chairman," he charged, "but if people who have information will keep writing me and phoning me I promise them we'll tell the whole story of this scandal."

Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo is chairman of the Senate committee. He and a number of other senators left Wednesday for Tennessee where Hardeman addressed that state's General Assembly.

Chairman Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville, said "four or five" witnesses have been called.

The House and Senate were in weekend adjournment. Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton had gone to South Texas to track down "new leads" he said he had received in the Senate probe.

Four former employees of the Veterans Land Board testified under oath before the House committee yesterday they had carried out orders to rush and otherwise give preferential treatment to certain transactions under the 100-million-dollar state program.

Two other former employees of the General Land Office, parent agency of the land program, said under oath they knew of no irregularities during their employment.

Mrs. William Gardner testified there had been "quite a few" times when legal department personnel "dropped everything" and were going to get out rush deals" at former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles' instructions.

She testified the orders were passed on to her by Board Executive Secretary Lawrence Jackson, who told her, she said, "The commissioner wants this out."

Mrs. Gardner also said land deals were approved several times against the wishes of land board attorneys. In one case, she said, an attorney refused to initial approval, but the deal went through.

One of the rush deals which two attorneys "didn't like," she said, was the La Moca Ranch sale in Webb County involving 77 veterans. She said one of the applicants "dropped" a doctor, pulled out after he was not permitted on the land involved when he went to see what he was buying.

There were two cases of survey field notes falling to close, she said, when the engineering department was told to ignore the failure. She said the transactions were approved.

Mrs. James Danheim testified she had "on two or three occasions" been instructed to make requests to the state comptroller for warrants to pay for land before file work had been completed on the land involved.

She said all were multiple deals involving groups of veterans.

Robert Barnes testified rush appraisals on certain transactions "occurred often enough that it wasn't unusual."

In some cases, he said, it was "justified," enumerating examples of hardship cases on the part of the seller and orderly planning of inspection trips for the appraisers.

Low Of 22 Tonight Forecast For Area

The temperature in Big Spring dipped to 12 degrees this morning about 7 a.m. to set the coldest reading here this season, according to the U.S. Experiment Farm. The cold snap will be apparently short-lived however, as the U.S. Weather Bureau at Midland predicts warmer temperatures for Saturday.

The high reading today is expected to be 45 with a low tonight of 22. High reading Saturday is predicted at 55 degrees.

By The Associated Press

Bone-biting cold hugged Texas Friday and the lush Rio Grande Valley braced for what might be a crop-killing freeze.

The worst cold wave of the season swirled the length and breadth of Texas.

The Valley missed a freeze by two degrees Friday, but the Weather Bureau said it may not be so lucky Saturday.

Dalhart, in the Upper Panhandle, had a low of 3 above zero Friday. Nowhere in Texas did reporting weather stations record temperatures very far above freezing.

The lowest reported temperature in the Valley Friday was 34 degrees at Weslaco. This, combined with winds of 17-18 mph prevented any weather damage to vegetables or citrus trees.

The Valley Weather Bureau, however, in a forecast Friday morning, predicted temperatures from 25-30 degrees for Saturday morning and the wind is expected to die down after midnight—a deadly combination for vegetables and citrus.

The Weather Bureau said that freezing temperatures probably would be spotty in the valley.

Early morning temperatures included Lubbock 9, Amarillo 13, Childress 15, Wink 17, Salt Flat 17, Wichita Falls 16, Abilene 19, Lufkin 21, Waco 22, Austin and El Paso 25, San Antonio 28, Corpus Christi and Laredo 33.

In the Valley, Weslaco and Raymondville reported the lowest figure, 34, with Rio Grande City at 38, Harlingen 39 and Brownsville 41.

Emmet Smith, 67, a fisherman, was reported lost after his fishing skiff was blown into the Galveston jetty. Three companions saved themselves by walking along the wave and wind swept jetty almost two miles to shore.

Three oyster boats with three persons were piled up on Red Fish

BOMB SLAYING

Angelo Grand Jury Hears Many In Case

By GARTH JONES

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Blunt talking grand jurors plowed steadily through a long list of witnesses today, quizzing them about the booby-trap slaying of a wealthy ranchwoman Helen Harris Weaver.

What would have been a dramatic moment came yesterday. But the husband and the man charged with murder in her death passed poker-faced without comment.

Harry Washburn, 38, a former son-in-law of Mrs. Weaver, 51, is charged in her Jan. 19 death. She was killed when a bomb exploded as she started her husband's car in what police said was a "mistake" killing. They said the intended victim was Weaver.

There were hints the grand jury, a mixture of business men and ranchers, might return more than one indictment.

A druggist, a Negro woodcutter and a man once charged with Washburn in the killing were the first witnesses today.

The druggist, Louis Hart, reportedly filled a prescription for Washburn Jan. 18 in Houston.

Washburn, a Houston contractor, has claimed he was in the port city when Mrs. Weaver was slain.

The Negro was Charley Brown. He was reported to have heard an explosion in a wooded area near Houston and saw two men, a short time after former convict Andrew Nelson and Washburn supposedly bought a case of dynamite at Rosenberg.

Carl Heninger was the third witness. He was charged with murder in the case, along with Washburn. Later the charge was dropped and he was freed.

"I'm just going to tell the truth about everything I know," he said.

Harry E. Weaver, a prominent architect, and Washburn faced each other yesterday in an ante-room.

Washburn was leaving the grand jury after two hours of testimony. Washburn was waiting to go in and testify briefly.

Neither would admit seeing the other.

Nelson, a key witness, is a two-time ex-convict now held for Houston officers on a burglary charge in Houston.

He has made a statement about buying dynamite with Washburn and of watching Washburn run a test explosion in a wooded area.

He testified for nearly an hour yesterday, was visibly nervous when he got through.

Washburn, who waved his handcuffed hands in greeting to reporters when first brought from jail to wait an appearance before the panel, said nothing about the case to reporters.

Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes was the one who said the grand jury might return more than one indictment in the case.

John McKinnis and Ray Fife, two other men who have made statements, were among 30 persons due to testify today.

Heninger's estranged wife, Adela Heninger, a former professional wrestler billed as "Nature Girl," had been scheduled to appear yesterday. She had said earlier that Washburn once tried to get her to shoot Weaver and make it appear as an accident.

Officers said they had learned Mrs. Heninger was visiting rela-

Legislators Fly To Panhandle In Gas, Farm Issue

AUSTIN (AP)—A planeload of legislators, among them seven West Texans, flew into a cold Panhandle Friday morning to learn at first hand the problems of irrigation farmers with the gas gathering companies.

Among those going as guests of irrigation farmers are Cotton Kirkin of Odessa, Robert Patterson of Snyder, A. J. Bishop of Winters, W. R. Chambers of May, Moyné Kelly of Afton, Truett Latimer of Abilene, and Paul Brashear of Cisco.

Rep. Guy Hazlett of Borger will guide the group, which will spend Friday night in Dumas, flying back to Austin Saturday.

Difficulties have arisen between gas gathering companies and irrigation farmers who use or want to use gas to operate their water pumps.

"The gatherers won't even allow them to buy gas in some instances," Hazlett said. "They claim it disturbs their maintenance of pressure and involves too much red tape."

He has introduced two bills which permit the Railroad Commission to enter company-owner gas controversies and for owners to demand royalty payments in gas.

Weaver Asks State Build Roads With County Cash

The construction of permanent roads in Howard County, with the county to finance the projects and the State Highway Department to handle engineering and contracting, is being proposed by County Judge R. H. Weaver.

Weaver is to submit the proposition in a letter to the State Highway Commission. The judge discussed the matter with D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, while in Austin this week and Greer suggested that the proposal be put in writing for consideration of his department and the highway commission.

As the plan was outlined this morning, the county would pay for construction of paved roads out of current revenues. The state would supervise the engineering, let contracts and oversee construction. Then the county would assume responsibility for maintenance of the pavements.

Judge Weaver is to stress in the proposal that the county will be interested in such an arrangement only if any roads constructed with county funds are not counted against the county's regular quota of FM roads for Howard County this year, which is 12 miles.

The judge first suggested to the commissioners court early this year that the county annually construct a few miles of permanent roads. He said he thought that the

Below Zero Cold In The Mountains

DENVER (AP)—Below zero cold numbed parts of Colorado, Montana and Wyoming again early today. But sub-zero marks were less general than yesterday.

The Weather Bureau predicted fair and warmer through tomorrow, but forecast a weak cold front from the North Pacific would move in about Sunday and a stronger one Monday night or Tuesday. It said the second probably will bring general snowfall.

Clearing skies let the mercury dive to 32 degrees below zero at Fraser and 19 below at Eagle, usual iceboxes in the Colorado Rockies. Montana readings ranged down to -5 at Butte and -3 at Cutbank, and it also was -5 at Douglas, Wyo.

Other Colorado marks included Pueblo 3 above, Colorado Springs 4, La Junta 6 and Denver 9.

Houston Bank Robbed Today

HOUSTON (AP)—The Heights State Bank at Washington and Heights Blvd., was robbed of an estimated $7,000 today by a gunman described as about 35 years old. Police threw a cordon of radio patrol cars around the area in an attempt to trap the man, believed to be on foot.

The gunman held up teller Harold Shultz.

Mrs. Bernadine Bone, assistant cashier, said the robber pulled a gun and told Shultz: "I want the 10s and 20s."

About 15 or 20 people were in the bank, she said.

The gunman walked out of the bank.

"No one knew there had been a robbery," she said "until the teller, Mr. Shultz, ran out after the man."

She said she heard the gunman was a "dark complexioned" man.

Two Young Lovers Close Own Lives

VERNON, Vt. (AP)—A young couple who couldn't stand to be parted took their own lives yesterday in a car parked off State Highway 142.

They were identified as William Cedar, 21, of Middletown, Conn., and Susan A. Eckersley, 15, of Cromwell, Conn.

State police said the couple left a note saying, "We love each other but no one can let us stay together and we cannot stand to be parted."

Police listed them as suicide by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Banks To Accept State Warrants

AUSTIN (AP)—State workers and legislators won't be paid with hot checks, although Texas' general revenue fund is about to go in the red.

Gov. Shivers and Treasurer Jesse James said yesterday banks in all large cities have agreed to cash state warrants at face value. All other banks are being asked to accept state warrants without discount.

The officials described the prospective deficit as "temporary" because of a "seasonal decline" in state income. They said they expected it to be liquidated by May 1.

Thanks for entering this week. Puzzle No. 2 will appear in Monday's Herald, and you will have until next Thursday to work out a solution that could win.

Scouts' Circus Goes On Tonight

Expected of 2,000 spectators are expected to turn out for the second annual Boy Scout Circus at the high school gymnasium this evening.

A half-hour concert by the Webb AFB Band under direction of W-O Franklin J. Lockwood will precede the prologue and the grand entry at 7:50 p.m. This is Lockwood's last performance with the band since he has been assigned to Wright Field, Ohio.

Dell McComb, director of the circus, said that all event directors were reporting ready.

The parade, originally scheduled for 4:30 p.m., has been cancelled because of the brisk weather.

Joe Reynolds will be the narrator for the show, cueing the performance on a series of colorful tableaux. Then comes the grand entry march behind the colors and the national anthem while the United States Flag is unfurled to the breeze. Possibly as many as 600 to 700 Cubs, Scouts and Explorers may be on the floor at once.

Quickly, events including the carpet race, first aid, bike drill, signalling, pyramid building, Noah's Ark, Scouting games and camping and pioneering will be unreeled. The Cubs will be costumed as animals of all sort and will spill out of an "ark" fashioned by Friend Talbott. Finale of the show comes with all boys back on the floor around a campfire and singing.

General arrangements have shaped up under Sam McComb, camping and activity chairman. Other general chairmen are Bill McRee, D. M. McKinney, Ray Rhodes, Bill Sheppard, George Melear, and John A. Freeman.

Event directors are Dick Clifton, Capt. R. O. Franks, Garrett Patton, John Davis, Glenn White, Charles Paphone, T. B. Mann, Jim Smith, Jack Alexander, A. E. True, Bob Davenport, Lester Goswick and C. H. Farquhar.

Engineer Applicant Due For Interview

County Judge R. H. Weaver was to confer with F. R. Dickey, San Angelo engineer, this afternoon concerning the position of engineer for Howard County.

Quest for a county engineer has been pushed for the past month and Judge Weaver learned from the State Highway Department this week that Dickey might be available for the post. After a telephone conversation with the judge this morning, the San Angelo man decided to come to Big Spring for a conference.

Howard County has been without an engineer for approximately two years. Officials say they have been unable to find a competent man for the position.

School Issue Is Discussed

AUSTIN (AP)—Rep. A. J. Bishop of Winters said Thursday he is not for the present form of a bill increasing the borrowing power of school districts.

Bishop's opinion will make itself felt, as he is a member of the House Education Committee which has the proposal under consideration.

The measure is House Bill 246 by Sanders of Dallas. It would allow school districts to use up to $150 of their tax rate on maintenance and operation, in addition to whatever taxes are necessary to handle bonded debts up to 10 per cent of the district's property valuations.

Bishop said the proposal involves more than the public realizes and that he isn't convinced yet that it should pass.

On both sides of the Capitol the mounting costs of education are discussed.

Tachen Evacuation In Its Final Phase

ABOARD THE ESTES off the Tachens (AP)—The last Chinese Nationalist soldiers boarded ships today to complete the evacuation of the Tachens.

By FRED HAMPSON

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist soldiers dynamited and put the torch to trenches, pill boxes and buildings today and U.S. Navy officers said the evacuation of the Tachens Islands was in its final phase.

February gale winds that had slowed the operation to a crawl died and steady loading continued. Officers said the armada probably would wind up its job and sail by Saturday.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said it felt the withdrawal was entering its crucial stage with most land fortifications blown up and equipment and troops ready for shipping.

It said this was a critical period although there was no indication the Communists meant to attack.

AP Correspondent Forrest Edwards, aboard a U.S. aircraft carrier, reported indications on his ship that the troop withdrawal is a one-shot affair.

Nationalist troops, guns and equipment will be loaded and the whole armada, including the protective warships, will make the trip to Formosa together, Edwards said.

Carriers and pilots were prepared to shift their jet and propeller-driven air cover umbrellas from the Tachens to the ocean lanes to Formosa, he reported.

"It seems certain that the evacuation fleet will have air cover from the time it leaves the islands until it gets to Formosa," he quoted a Navy briefing officer. "We are ready to shift cover whenever ordered."

The carrier Princeton, especially adapted for antisubmarine warfare, has been assigned a special protective mission as the evacuation sails for Formosa. It seemed almost certain that other carriers would provide air cover and antisubmarine patrols while evacuation ships are still near the Tachens.

The two Tachens and the Yu Shan group to the northeast and Pishan to the southwest have been stripped of all civilians.

Nationalist troops in number remain only on Upper Tachens. Work details remained on Lower Tachens. The other islands were abandoned.

The U.S. attack transport Washburn arrived here today with 1,188 Nationalist troops, the vanguard of Chiang Kai-shek's U.S.-trained 49th Division, and 520 tons of ammunition. Trains shuttled the troops off for south Formosa military camps.

The official Central News Agency said 16,070 civilians had arrived at the northern Formosan port of Keelung. Fleet dispatches said U.S. ships had removed 14,920 civilians from the Tachens and Nationalist crafts had taken off 973.

While the Tachens withdrawal remains completion, a storm appeared to be brewing over the future of Nanchichuan, Nationalist island 80 miles to the south. It lies about 20 miles off the China mainland, 120 miles north of Formosa.

The Nationalists made clear today they intend to hold it, whether or not the United States helps.

Col. Hsiung En-teh, a Defense Ministry spokesman, called the defense of Nanchichuan a "natural development" after the Tachens withdrawal. Did he expect U.S. air cover?

"That is up to the Americans," he told a news conference.

So far the Americans have kept official silence.

Debates Scheduled At High School

Two Midland debating teams were to meet local teams in two rounds of debate at the high school, starting at 1 p.m. today. Tom Henry Guin and Rodney Sheppard were to compose one of the local teams, J. T. Barid and Gary Tidwell a second and Glenn Rogers and J. D. Adams a third. The first four named were to give a demonstration debate at HCCJ this morning. The subject for the afternoon debate was: Resolved that the United States should initiate a policy of free trade among nations friendly to the United States. The Midland team was to be brought here by Verna Harris. Last Tuesday, local members gave a demonstration debate for a team from Jayton High School visiting here. Next week, instructor Dell McComb will take three debating teams to Waco for a tournament there.

On Capitol Visit

Nanelle McGahey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oms McGahey, 1300 Main, is among the 53 student teachers from the University of Texas who make a field trip to the state capitol on Wednesday. Assembly circles voted a friendly reaction to his candidacy last night and observers gave the 48-year-old Alastair lawyer better than an even chance of marshaling sufficient backing to get the job. Pflimlin, a member of the Catholic Popular Republic Movement (MRP), has devoted himself mainly to domestic affairs in his various cabinet posts and is little known outside France. He served as agriculture minister in eight cabinets and also has headed the ministries of health, national economy, commerce and overseas territories. After Antoine Pinay gave up the attempt yesterday, President Rene Coty's next logical choice was a member of the MRP. The party was one of Pierre Mendes-France's bitterest opponents during his stormy premiership and also doomed Pinay's chances by refusing to give him solid support. Backers of these two men might retaliate by opposing any member of the Catholic group. In Pflimlin's favor was his stand on the Paris treaties for German rearmament, whose ratification by Parliament's upper house will be one of the main problems awaiting any new premier. The MRP had ordered its members to oppose the treaties, but Pflimlin defied party orders and voted for them. The present government crisis followed Mendes-France's defeat last Saturday on a vote of confidence.

Pflimlin Seeks Premier Post

PARIS (AP) — Pierre Pflimlin, member of 13 postwar French governments and staunch advocate of West German rearmament, sought today to line up enough support to become France's new premier. Texas' Low Rank In TB Cures Stressed

AUSTIN — Texas' low rank among states successfully combating tuberculosis was brought out Wednesday in a House Appropriations Subcommittee hearing — to the surprise of some of the members, who thought Texas had TB about whipped. "They told us that in some areas 90 per cent of the Latin Americans have TB and keep spreading it in their families," Rep. W. R. Chambers of Brown County said. "We are told TB is now a curable disease," he continued, "but the drugs are very expensive. But wouldn't it be cheaper after all to buy the drugs, cure the patients, and then turn out of the hospital?"

Kiwanians Hear Gum Ball Report

Kiwanians Thursday evening got their first reports on yields from gum ball machines they helped install last autumn. Dick Clifton reported that proceeds had amounted to $110 for the club, most of it occurring within a two month period. Members helped secure locations for 254 machines, and Sam Sonntag was recognized as captain of the winning "Not Yets" team. Wives of Kiwanians were guests at the banquet affair in the Settles, and the Valentine motif was carried out. Other guests included Mrs. John Horn and Jack Butler, Ahlens, Mrs. Edison Taylor, Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mrs. Ruth Burnam, Benny Compton and Mary Sue Hale represented the Key Club. Gene Lyon, a transfer from Borger, and Mrs. Lyon were introduced, and floral awards went to Mrs. Jack Alexander and Mrs. Edison Taylor. Entertainment was furnished by Mrs. Jack Butler and John Campbell, vocalists, and Bobby Seltman, pianist. They are students at Hardin-Simmons University. Each did solos and Mrs. Butler and Campbell teamed on a duet. Host for the evening was John Horn, Ahlens, owner of the machines. Proceeds from the gum ball operations go to the Kiwanis Club boys and girls activities during the year.

Use Of Proper Income Tax Form Urged By Officer

Persons with income of less than $5,000 for 1954 and using the new form 1040A should be careful to use the three-by-seven-inch card, stated Ben Hawkins of the local Internal Revenue office. The instruction sheet, intended to simplify the filing of returns this year, has a "facsimile" form in it, but this is not the form to file, Hawkins said. It can be used for the taxpayer's own personal records, but the tax return must be made on the card form 1040A. Several of these "facsimile" forms have been received in the local office, Hawkins pointed out, and they have been sent back to the taxpayer. This causes delay in the taxpayer's refund. Also, returns should be mailed to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas. This will also save time and speed up refund checks, Hawkins explained.

Rites Set For Former Resident

Rites will be held for Mrs. Susan Williams Dunn, 59, former Big Spring resident and sister of Mrs. R. D. Hatch, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Mrs. Dunn, wife of Sgt. Monroe D. Dunn, died in Burtonwood, England on Jan. 27. She had been there for about 34 months. The remains were returned to Lubbock, where she formerly lived, and will be brought here at 6 p.m. Friday in a Rix Funeral coach to the Nalley Funeral Chapel where they will be in state until time for the services. Members of the family will be at the Douglas Hotel. Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Trinity Memorial Park for Tamra Sue Lockstrom, the infant daughter of Lt. and Mrs. Don E. Lockstrom, 2711 S. Monticello. The baby was stillborn in a hospital here at 11:15 p.m. Thursday. Chaplain Charles Fix will officiate at the rites. Dope Suspect Sent To County Officers

A hearing had been scheduled in Justice Court this morning for the Latin American youth accused of possessing heroin. However, the justice of the peace office at the courthouse was closed during the morning and apparently no hearing was held. The youth, arrested last weekend in possession of what appeared to be heroin, was transferred from the city to the county jail Thursday afternoon. Bobby West, investigator for the district attorney, said that charges of possessing a narcotic had been filed. The officer said a preliminary report from analysis of some capsules indicated they contained some form of narcotic.

Venture In Luther Southeast Flows Nine Barrels Per Hour

Flow of approximately nine barrels of oil per hour was recorded this morning at James G. Brown and Associates No. 1-E Simpson, venture in the north area of the Luther Southeast field. Completions were logged in the Sharon Ridge-1700 field and the Moore pool, while locations were spotted in the Moore and Jo-Mill fields. Reeves County drew a wildcat.

Borden

Tennessee No. 1 Fambrough, 660 from north and 2,380 from east lines, pumped 43 barrels of oil and no water in 24 hours, and operator is now testing to complete. This wildcat is about 2 1/2 miles east of Ackery. Texas Company No. 1-A-NCT-5 W. L. Miller is a new Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field location about 15 miles southwest of Gail. It will be drilled to 7,375 feet, starting at once. Location is 550 from north and 600 from west lines, 13-33-4n. Texas Company No. 1-A-NCT-3 W. L. Miller has been staked in the same area, drillsite being 665 from north and 597 from west lines 12-33-4n, T&P survey. It too will be drilled to 7,475 feet. Magnolia No. 1 York, C SE SE, 279-97-H&T survey, wildcat about 13 miles east of Gail, made it down to 5,600 feet in lime and sand. Dekalb No. 1 M. E. Bacon, wildcat re-work project about 20 miles southwest of Snyder, 2 1/2 miles north of the Vealmoor field, and two miles east of Reinecke production, has again been plugged and abandoned. It was originally abandoned as Stevens No. 1 Bacon at 7,206 feet. It was retested at

WEATHER

(Continued from Page 1) reef at Galveston but the three were not believed in danger. Two men and a woman who were in the oyster boats were taken off the reef earlier. Off Port Aransas, two Corpus Christi boats reported they were in trouble and the Coast Guard sent aid. A small tanker asked for Coast Guard aid while off Campeche, Mexico. Skies were cloudless and the Weather Bureau said the only precipitation in Texas for 24 hours prior to 6 a.m. was 0.2 of an inch of rain at Beaumont and a trace at Dalhart. The Weather Bureau said the comparatively high temperatures in the Valley at 4:30 a.m., plus the fact that winds of 15 to 17 miles per hour were blowing, practically ruled out the possibility of harmful frost in the area. Generally, temperatures must stay below about 28 degrees for 6 to 8 hours to damage the Valley vegetation. It has been feared Thursday night that heavy damage to tomatoes, corn, cabbage and lettuce would occur. Other temperatures at 4:30 a.m. included El Paso 27, Abilene 20, Fort Worth, Dallas, Longview and Tyler 19, Lufkin and Waco 23, Houston 29, San Antonio 31, Waco 23, Austin 27, and Texarkana 17. The Weather Bureau expected temperatures to fall only 2 or 3 more degrees before the sun started a warmup. With the worst of the cold wave leaving Texas, it blew into the interior of Louisiana where lows of 16 to 26 degrees were expected Friday night. The Weather Bureau also forecast a rare freeze for the usually warm, humid Louisiana Gulf Coast areas. Texas forecasts called for fair and continued cold weather Friday with increasing cloudiness and gently rising temperatures Saturday.

Howard

James G. Brown and Associates No. 1-E Simpson has flowed oil to assure production between the main area of the Luther Southeast field and a north outpost. Between 3:30 p.m. Thursday and 5:15 a.m. today the project flowed 135 barrels of oil, an average of nine barrels per hour. Flow was through

Emergency Feed Program Is To Expire Feb. 15

The Emergency Feed Program which is available in all counties designated as drought areas, will expire Feb. 15, according to Sylvan H. Pederson, county supervisor of the local Farmers Home Administration.

Applications for assistance under the Emergency Feed Program will be accepted until 5 p.m. Feb. 15, Pederson said, and the FHA committee will meet to handle all applications on hand at that time. Glasscock County has been approved for the Emergency Feed program and farmers in that county are the only farmers in that immediate area directly affected by the new ruling.

Federal funds may be used only for making payments under hay contract only for deliveries through March 31. Grain purchase orders may be used for 120 days after they are approved, the supervisor stated.

Applicants who have previously qualified for emergency feed assistance for a period extending beyond Feb. 15 may reapply on or before that date. Pederson said the amount of feed on hand, the amount previously authorized, and the period covered by previous applications would be taken into consideration for applications for the emergency measure which extends until Mar. 31.

The Glasscock County committee members are Isidore L. Haelscher, Edward M. Teele, and Edwin J. Bednar. Farmers in Glasscock should make application at the Agriculture Stabilization Committee office in Garden City for the feed assistance.

Approximately 170 loans were made to Howard and Glasscock county farmers in 1954 through the FHA office here, according to Pederson. An additional 167 applications were approved for the Emergency Feed Program to Glasscock County farmers. Loans totaled about $457,950 in the area.

Almost 20,000 farmers and ranchers in Texas received financial aid from FHA in 1954 totaling over $46,000,000, according to State FHA director Walter T. McKay. The national figures totaled $292,452,800 according to R. B. McLeish, national administrator.

Of the total Texas loans, 13,739 families borrowed over $25 million under the Emergency Loan Program. This program in Howard and Glasscock counties totaled $378,665 during the year.

The FHA committeemen for Howard County are J. L. Baugh, William J. Rogers, and Charlie A. Nichols. The FHA office in Big Spring is located in the basement of the post office. Supervisor Pederson is in the office on Wednesday mornings to help farmers and ranchers in this area with their financial problems.

Caution Urged In Purchase, Use Of Poisons For Insects

Residents of Big Spring are warned to use caution in the purchase of ant poisons.

One type of ant poison which contains cyanide can be fatal to humans in a matter of minutes, said Dr. Robert A. Hale, director of the Midland-Ector-Howard County Health Unit.

Dr. Hale suggested that there are a number of ant poisons which could be purchased in much greater safety than the type which contains the fatal element. A child in Midland County recently found an ant poison pellet containing cyanide, and not knowing what it was, swallowed it. Death followed in less than 10 minutes, Dr. Hale said.

The cyanide-type poison is sold within the provision of the law, Dr. Hale said. "There are a number of poisons just as fatal to ants which may be injurious to humans only in large doses," Dr. Hale explained. "These other poisons can be used in more complete safety."

He pointed out the DDT powders or chlordane products are effective against ants and other insects but are not in such large concentrations that human beings could be injured.

"The merchants of one West Texas city have cooperated with the health department at their own expense by removing from their shelves all insecticides containing cyanide," Dr. Hale said. "The merchants of that community are to be congratulated for their interest in public health."

The cyanide-type ant poison is the type which should be pushed down into the ant bed and covered. When the pellet is dissolved and gas escapes the ants will be killed. Hale said it is a very quick action poison for the ants—and humans.

It was cyanide pellets which led to the death of several of Hitler's lieutenants following World War II, said Dr. Hale. It is also cyanide which is used in gas chambers for executions.

Water Agencies Listings Asked

AUSTIN—Some indication of the loose, decentralized control of Texas water that exists under present laws is found in the fact that one bill of the 9-point legislative program of the Texas Water Resources Committee merely requires all water agencies to tell the state who are their officers and what are their powers.

Senate Bill 5, by Sens. Harde-man, Shireman and Ashley, sped through a water committee hearing in the Senate this week, without stirring any suggestion of future controversy.

The bill requires all water boards of any nature, present and future, to file certain information with the proposed Texas Water Commission.

Named specifically are "very river authority, water conservation and reclamation district, water control and improvement district, fresh water supply district, levee improvement district, drainage district, navigation district, irrigation district, and any type of water district."

Material to be filed includes: 1. Copy of the order creating the district (some districts are created by the state, others by County Commissioners Courts.)

2. Any changes in boundaries.

3. Names and addresses of officers, with their terms of office.

These lists would have to be kept current. This material would be open and accessible to the public in Austin. Failure to comply would subject the district to $50 fine, plus $2 a day for each day of failure to comply. The maximum penalty would be $300.

The "emergency clause" notes "the fact that there is no single state agency which has on file a list of water districts created throughout the state."

Air Defense Meet

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Gen. Benjamin Chidlaw, head of the Continental Air Defense Command, opens a two-day Air Force Assn. meeting tonight with an address on the nation's air defense system.

Gen. Chidlaw will discuss the "fact that there is no single state agency which has on file a list of water districts created throughout the state."

1,200 Attend Amana Show

Approximately 1,200 Big Springers attended the Amana Freezer show Thursday at the Civic Auditorium, according to Jim Kinsey of the Big Spring Locker Co.

The show, sponsored by Big Spring Locker Co., featured the new 1955 model Amana freezers, demonstrated by Amana home economist Ann MacGregor. Miss MacGregor and her entourage are making a nationwide tour of the nation demonstrating the freezers and explaining the Amana Food plan.

Ricky Ricardo, emcee of the Amana Show on TV in Odessa was also in Big Spring for the show. He entertained the Amana guests and assisted in distributing the door prizes.

Six door prizes of $25 each were awarded among many prizes of frozen food. Other persons appearing on the show were sales manager Levi Russell, owners Jim Kinsey and Marvin Sewell, and Big Spring home economist Dorothy Glass, all of the Big Spring Locker Co.

Jack Hansen, Stanton Amana representative, was also on hand. Refreshments of frozen juices, cookies, and coffee were served the guests.

A Bible Thought For Today

Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof. (Romans 6:12).

Editorial

Scene Changes Rapidly

The "peaceful coexistence" theme, which never had any validity anyhow, is clearly a dead duck. The shake-up in the Kremlin itself whatever hope the West might have had regarding the prospect of getting along on a live-and-let-live basis with Communist imperialism, which differs from the imperialism of the caesars only in name.

American businessmen expect an intensification of the trade war that has been brewing between the East and the West for months. Russian gold has been pouring into the Western European market of late, and India has been promised a steel mill. Hitler prepared for his world-conquering attempt by instituting a trade war first.

At least the mark of "peaceful coexistence" has fallen from the Kremlin's face, and the West knows where it stands.

The frightening view may shock France into buckling down to business behind P. L. or whoever eventually forms the new government. It should enhance the prospect for quick ratification of the Paris Accords, and speed up German rearmament—though the latest Kremlin move may be designed to frighten Western Europe into inaction.

The U. S. House of Representatives quickly passed extension of the draft for four more years, by a vote of 394 to 4, within hours of the news from Moscow. While it was expected to approve anyhow, the news most certainly speeded passage and produced a near-unanimous vote.

Obviously, we will hear less and less about cutting down our armed strength, and more and more about strengthening it. This cutting down of armed strength produced the all-too-familiar results—our enemies started acting up immediately. It always happens, as surely as the sun rises.

It may be some weeks before the dust settles in Moscow, before the paroxysms of internal struggle cease, but this much is certain: a much tougher crowd is in the saddle there. And while those in authority in this country were reiterating their intention of going through with the Army cuts, Russia was announcing a 12 per cent increase in its military budget.

Serving Notice On Needed Reform

Water may be the No. 1 issue of the current session of the Legislature, according to the ranking of Gov. Allan Shivers, but nothing stirred such immediate reaction as the proposal by Rep. J. O. Gillham of Brownfield for county governmental reorganization.

As might be supposed, most of the reaction was negative for the simple reason that county officials from all over the state began depending on Austin before the echoes of Rep. Gillham's proposals had died. Hearing from no one else, in particular, representatives and senators took a quick hearing on the weather vane and hedged firmly against supporting the Gillham measure.

Now we do not know that the changes recommended by Rep. Gillham are entirely sound and best for the counties in every detail. As a starter, we rather suspect that the idea needs a lot of kicking around to come up with a balanced, practical, beneficial reform.

The Gillham bill will get nowhere in particular this session, but it can serve a useful purpose if it starts people of Texas thinking about a matter that should have been adjusted a long, long time ago. County government is geared to the past and often founders in the present because conditions are vastly different now than 50 years ago. It lacks cohesiveness; it has many duplications; it has competing authorities and diverse responsibility which lead to buck-passing; it has provincialism and frequently geremandering.

It needs reform, and members of the Legislature need to be put on urgent notice of that fact, and the people are the ones to serve that notice.

We Need The Leadership Of A Lincoln

As the years roll in the saga of America, Abraham Lincoln grows in stature not because he was assassinated, nor even because he was president during our Civil War, but because he was a philosopher, a moralist, a rare figure among those who rise in our political system.

The American president has usually been a politician, not a statesman; an operator of the techniques of manipulating the people's choice, not a thinker who leads his followers into the lofty realms of moral philosophy. Too often his speech has been of the earth rather than inspired by revelation. How many of them could have thought, much less put into rhetoric, the grandeur of the second inaugural:

"With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

Abraham Lincoln thought lyrically and his poetry was shining in a dark moment of national history. He required no ghost-writer. He was not briefed by researchers. He called no conferences to decide what he was to think and say. His artistry came from his consciousness, and to it, no man could add or detract. A man who could compose the "Gettysburg Address" on the back of an envelope while traveling on a railroad train is unusual among our politicians who generally submit their major thoughts to associates for criticism, the associates taking out of it everything that is of sufficient potency to produce controversy.

Lincoln was never afraid of controversy. In fact, he started his national career as a controversialist, debating the Little Giant, Stephen Douglas, no mean man. The Lincoln-Douglas debates stirred a generation by the deftness of logic, by the fulness of the courage of both debaters and by the courageous stance of each man on a public question. There was no pussy-footing in anything that Lincoln did and said, as the more popular Seward discovered to his discomfort.

What a wonderful thing it would be in this age of television if two candidates for the presidency—say Eisenhower and Stevenson in 1952—could have debated the issues before the nation, face to face, with questions and answers and interjections. Perhaps the nation might have discovered that the egg-heads are really behind the scenes.

Lincoln lives for us not so much in deeds as in ideas. "I intend no modification of my oft-expressed personal wish that all men everywhere could be free." "What is conservatism? It is not adherence to the old and tried, against the new and untried?" Replying to the South Carolina commissioners, he said: "As president, I have no eyes but Constitutional eyes; I cannot see you."

Potomac Fever

WASHINGTON—With both Vice President Nixon and Princess Margaret touring the Caribbean, the natives can see the difference between the U.S. and Britain. Nixon got elected to his position, whereas Margaret's unemployment was inherited.

The 7th Fleet evacuated Nationalist Chinese from the Tachen Islands. We've gotten tough at last with the Reds. We refuse to let them stop our retreats.

Postmaster General Summerfield says the Post Office has less politics than "any time in history." No Democrat is fired except for cause—there has to be a Republican who wants his job.

Democratic Senator Humphrey warns that Asia troubles should not divert us from European dangers. The only foreign difference between Republicans and Democrats is which direction we should face while we worry.

A grand jury considers ex-Red Harvey Matusow's claims that he gave false testimony. These admitted perjurers are ruining things for honest lars. Things are so mixed up these days that if you tell a plain woman she's beautiful, she no longer believes you.

Defense Secretary Wilson urges a pay boost for the armed forces. Congressmen suspect that Wilson was something less than frank—since he failed to take back anything he said.

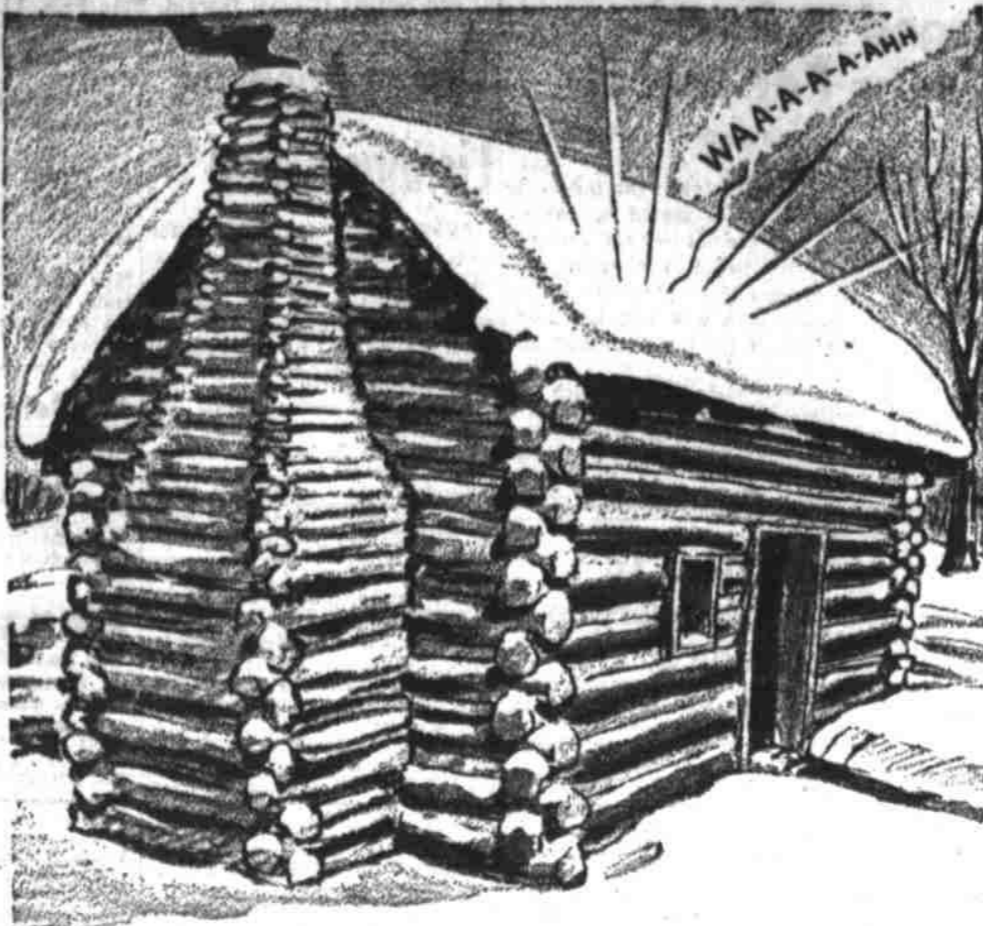

Some Democratic leaders support Ike's plan to reduce the armed forces. Politics is in the doldrums. Republicans are running out of money—and Democrats are running out of issues.

FLETCHER KNEBEL

Our people in these days pray for the inspiration of a national ideal. We live in a period of excitement, of action, of motion, but we are a sad people because we are not at peace with ourselves or with the world. We need the wisdom of a great mind and the leadership of one who walks with God. We again need the gentle hand of Abraham Lincoln who could be firm in the right without permitting himself the wickedness of hate.

One Can Only Guess About Soviet Shuffle

WASHINGTON — What lies behind the Kremlin shuffle can only be guessed at. There have been plenty of guesses. No one can argue with certainty his guess is right. It's too soon and there's not enough solid evidence.

This writer knows of no one in the government, and reporters have asked plenty of questions, who pretends to speak with positiveness about events in Moscow this week.

It has been traditional practice to view Kremlin turnovers as resulting from power struggles and to predict an aftermath of bloody purges. There have been some previous examples to support such a view.

But it doesn't necessarily follow, and may be only wishful thinking to believe so, that this must always be the case. That would assume Russian Communists are too inflexible and stereotyped to meet new situations differently.

Because Georgi M. Malenkov was dropped down to deputy premier, it has been argued he had lost in a power struggle with Nikita S. Khrushchev and that the latter is how the No. 1 man and Stalin's heir as dictator. But there can be an opposite view.

From the time of Stalin's death in 1953 it has generally been understood—and this was also a guess—that his principal heirs, the top Russian Communists, have ruled as a committee with no one of them dominant.

Malenkov was a member of this ruling clique. It's possible he has been only a front man from the beginning and now, with reasons still obscure but with his consent, the clique has decided he should step aside for another front man.

His successor as premier, Marshal Nikolai A. Bulganin, has been described as strictly a front man, either for the party or for Khrushchev.

But if a committee is boss, and not Khrushchev at all, the time may come when Bulganin will be told to step aside to make way for Khrushchev or someone else.

A lot of significance has been read into the appointment of Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov as defense minister. Unlike Bulganin, who is a political general, Zhukov is a real soldier and war hero. Zhukov's elevation could mean, and has been so interpreted, that the generals have grown strong enough to force the Communist leaders to share authority with them. If that is so, they might in time take full control.

But a contrary view can be offered with as much legitimacy: that the Communist clique asked Zhukov to take the job either because of his ability or to give the impression at home or abroad that the army fully supports the party.

Here are some other theories for the shakeup:

Internal trouble; failure of the farm program; decision to step up armaments; Communist failures abroad, particularly in the West's agreement to rearm Germany; realization Russia with soft talk made no progress while the tough-talking Red Chinese made plenty.

Sloppy Clothes, Healthy Living

NEW YORK — Curbstone comments by a Pavement Plato:

Are the strains of modern life beginning to affect even women?

It would seem they are, particularly with career girls. The iron nerves of housewives are still holding up well, perhaps because they dress more sensibly and can lie down and relax in between the times they are prudding their husbands up the ladder of success.

But the career girl—Horatio Alger's mythical granddaughter, Hortense—often finds her life in the business world keeps her in endless tension.

Some signs that this is true: Women used to marry ulcers. Now they're getting more and more ulcers themselves.

Bartenders report that more and more secretaries and stenographers are having cocktails at lunch to bolster them up for a long hard afternoon of trying to make the boss look like he knows his job.

If you stand on a mid-Manhattan street corner and watch the glamour girls of business go by, you will notice that about one out of every ten of these trim beauties is nervously gnawing her lip, twisting her lovely face all out of shape over some inner worry.

Why? My theory is that career girls are caught between a man's world and a woman's world. They are doing a man's work all day while dressed up as if they were a movie star on her way to launch a battle-plumber trying to fix a drain-pipe while clad in a straitjacket.

No wonder they sometimes are cranky and moody, get easily upset over trifles, or miss out on a promotion because they bawl out their employer instead of buttering him up. They are suffering from a new career girl's disease—clothing claustrophobia. It's their clothing—not the boss—that pinches them.

Nobody can do a good job when he has a cramped feeling. Career girls should take a hint from their married sisters. When a housewife sets out to clean up her lair, she puts on a pair of old loose-fitting slacks, the shirt her husband wore the day before and a pair of floppy slippers that go flap-flap-flap as she flop-flop-flops around looking for more dirt to annoy.

This is the working uniform of most American housewives today. Good thing, too. It enables them to avoid the anatomical imprisonment suffered by the more fashionably dressed career girls. Their free clothing allows their bodies to slump into those restful, bulging, lumpy—and, of course, graceful—patterns natural to womankind when they are not a-prowl for their prey, man.

VA Hospital Sets Surgical Lecture

Dr. LeRoy J. Kleinaasser, clinical associate professor of surgery at the Southwestern Medical School, will speak in Big Spring next week.

He is scheduled to deliver a lecture on "Surgery of the Aorta" at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital on Thursday at 1 p.m.

The lecture, to which all local physicians have been invited, will be in the recreation hall of the hospital, said Dr. Jackson H. Friedlander, chief of the hospital's professional services and sponsor of the lecture.

The lecture was arranged with the cooperation of the department of postgraduate education of the Southwestern Medical School.

Before standard time was adopted in the United States in 1883 there was a difference in time of five seconds between the two ends of the Brooklyn Bridge.

Perspiration Worth $15 Billion

"Genius is two per cent inspiration and 98 per cent perspiration."

So said Thomas Alva Edison, who according to the Encyclopedia Americana was one of the greatest technical geniuses that ever lived.

The encyclopedia also states that the noted American inventor, whose birthday anniversary is today, had a phenomenal mind, a tremendous energy and a boyish enthusiasm.

The intimation was that Edison succeeded because of perseverance and long hours of work.

He made experiments, not a few but thousands, and met failure after failure with practically every project he tackled. But he simply performed more experiments, built more models and had more failures.

When an experiment resulted in slight encouragement, he had to confirm his findings by many other trials before having complete assurance.

When he was real interested in a project, it was reported that he got to the laboratory at 7:30 a.m., left only once for the evening meal, and then worked until midnight and later.

His efforts paid off handsomely, because the United States Patent Office lists more than 1,200 patents in his name.

Though he is popularly remembered for developing the incandescent light, the phonograph and the cinematograph, these three accomplishments fail to dent his supply of inventions.

Only a few of the others include the Remington typewriter, telegraph signal box, mimeograph, electric dynamo, electric locomotive, plate glass making process, composition brick, compressing dies, film for motion camera machines, starting system for automobiles, the transmitter, etc.

"Edison was one of the greatest applicators of science to the machine arts that the human race has ever seen," states the encyclopedia. "Edison did not concern himself with what may be of service a century hence; he confined himself rigorously to the needs of the present."

In his youth, Edison obtained no formal schooling and at the age of 12 became a trainboy. Later he bought a small hand press and edited a railroad paper. As a result of saving a station agent's son, he was taught telegraphy.

Owing to his dislike for routine work, he became a "tramp operator," and travelled from place to place. After drifting to New York, he devoted much time to improving stock tickers and telegraph appliances.

Obtaining $40,000 for a patent, he set up a laboratory in New Jersey, and his long line of inventions began.

He was awarded the posts of Chevalier and Commander in the French Legion of Honor, made a Grand Officer of the Crown in Italy, and presented the Albert Medal of the Society of Arts in England.

The U. S. Congress awarded him its Gold Medal and placed a value of $15,599,000,000 on his inventive contributions to humanity.

Apparently the man practiced what he preached about perspiring.

Atom Car Calls For Portable X-Ray

The way of the peacemaker is hard, but not without hope, especially in the light of two new atomic inventions just announced, one by the U.S. and 'tother by the U.S.S.R.

Oddly enough, this brace of inventions has nothing to do with bigger and better hydrogen and cobalt bombs, which might ultimately enforce peace through man's fear of total destruction. But it has everything to do with an invention even more deadly, namely, an atom-powered automobile.

Such a super surrey has just been announced by the Soviets. And for once I feel we ought to lay off the cynicism with which we Americans usually greet announcements of such end results of Russian inventive genius as the telephone, airplane, radio, cotton gin (known in the U.S.S.R. as the cotton vodka), television and carpet sweeper.

Leave us acknowledge gracefully that the Soviets have put an atom-powered jalopy on the road and then envision what this means to man, already being decimated on every highway by the internal-combustion engine.

Put man behind the wheel of an atom-powered auto, and it is instantly obvious that preservation of the pedestrian, rather than peace, becomes the most-pressing goal of civilization.

The annual slaughter attributable to the gas buggy exceeds that of any battlefield. But the lethal possibilities of a car zooming down a highway and powered by atom energy is such that the race of man will surely be to the tall timbers. It is only reasonable to suppose that the pedestrian hit by an atom-propelled auto loafing along at 500 m.p.h. becomes radio-inactive forever.

But suppose there is a spark of life still left in the victim; his survival undoubtedly will depend upon quick diagnosis and treatment. Now this is where the United States' newest atomic invention becomes indispensable. It is a small, portable, one-man X-ray unit, powered by radioactive thulium.

For quick diagnosis and revival of the pedestrian flattened by the atom-powered auto, this one-man X-ray unit is mandatory. No atom-powered car should be without one. If Russia, with atom-propelled cars roaming the steppes, hopes to preserve even a few pedestrians, as we preserve a soupcon of buffalo, she will decree that her genuine Flision Flash cannot take to the road without its own X-ray unit.

Here, surely, is a simple humanitarian project on which the United States and Russia can get together. The preservation of the pedestrian, a simple but worthy type, is equally dear to both. Neither can afford to stand haughtily by while science envisions even greater slaughter of the hoofing taxpayer.

True, the U.S. has an atom-powered sub. Our Air Force says the atom-powered plane is "out of the pipe-dream stage." And it is implied that we have a new nuclear bomb three times as powerful as the one that blew a hole in the Pacific.

Frightening, yes. But nothing strikes such terror in the average heart as the prospect of an atom-powered auto, the ultimate in hot rods. If Russia hopes to survive this menace, she needs our portable X-ray doodad. Now, if ever, is the time to talk turkey.

Political Playback

W. Lee Didn't Follow A Text

When W. Lee O'Daniel got to Waco to open his campaign for governor, I went to his hotel where he and publicity man Crawford were greeting the arrangements committee. I asked for the text of his speech.

O'Daniel looked blank. "Text?" he puzzled. "I don't have any speech."

The rest of this sidelight was told me by one of the newspapermen who walked with O'Daniel, Mrs. O'Daniel and the reception party over to the courthouse square.

One of the committee told O'Daniel: "There's a giant crowd there. Biggest Waco ever had downtown. Your speech will get a great reception."

And he replied again: "I don't have any speech." Then, apparently in a sort of dismay, O'Daniel stopped and said, "Maybe I better not go over there. I don't know what to talk about. I'd probably disappoint them. Let Leon and the band entertain 'em."

And he is credited by the same witness with something to the effect that "I don't care enough about this governor thing to make a lot of political speeches."

But Mrs. O'Daniel and the host committee told him he couldn't back out that late, and Mrs. O'Daniel gave him a bit of a push to get him started on his way to the meeting.

O'Daniel's entourage had a sort of a carnival truck, with an umbrella top, from which Leon and the Hillbilly band had been performing. The candidate climbed on this truck and talked to the Waco audience. It wasn't a speech after all, but informal bits of talk, like the emcee of a radio program, interspersed with songs at the familiar command: "Sing, Leon, Sing."

O'Daniel's next engagement was at Austin. By that time, he had something of a speech put together, some jokes, and mostly ridicule of the "professional politicians."

I do know this episode happened in Austin. Before he started to Woodridge Park, O'Daniel called one of his reception committee aside and said: "The truck has broken down. It's going to take about $200 to fix it, and we can't get it out of town until it is fixed. Could you get some money together...?"

That Austin host missed the big rally at Austin—attendance estimated at around 22,000—while he scouted around and rounded up money for the repair job.

It is said this also happened at Austin: O'Daniel took up a collection, as he did elsewhere. They had a lot of little wooden kegs which his folks took around through the audience. People looked in coins and bills like they were buying an Indian medicine man's wares. One of the other candidates for governor had a man "scouting" the rally. He found himself putting a $5 bill in one of the tubs.

Altrusans Discuss Vocational Guidance

A program on vocational guidance was given for members of the Altrusa Club Thursday at the luncheon meeting, with Rex Browning in charge. She is chairman of the vocational information committee.

In the introduction to the program, Miss Browning told of the investigations made in the various libraries in town and with employment agencies. In conclusion, she summed up the opportunities for women in employment and told of the need of an industry in which women can work with their hands.

Assisting on the program was Mrs. Jack Adair, who told of a check-up with the Howard County Junior College library, the high school library and the county library on books giving information along lines of vocational guidance.

She told the group that the college would arrange a shelf of such books and pamphlets. The high school library, she reported, has a small collection of material, but it is not as up-to-date as would be desirable. The county library has on its shelves about 250 booklets dealing with the subject.

Elizabeth Hines reported on the opportunities that are available for training, such as the course for vocational nurses given by Medical Arts Hospital. Sewing courses are available, which give training in alterations and work which might be used commercially. She mentioned the physical exercise classes at the YMCA which could be used as a basis for work as a physical education teacher.

Miss Hines suggested that the Altrusa Club consider sponsoring a consultation service which would help an adult or student in selecting work for the future.

Mrs. Bill Griese and Mrs. Harold Talbot, with Mrs. Griese at the piano, sang "Heart of My Heart," "O' My Heart," "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Luncheon tables were decorated with a row of red tapers in white heart bases tied with red ribbon. On the speaker's table was an arrangement of carnations, variegated in red and white. This was in red container, tied with a red bow and centered with a heart marked with an arrow. On the piano was a white heart, bearing a nosegay, in a white base.

The red heart arrangement was awarded to Mrs. Clara McLean and Mrs. Bob Utley was given the white heart. Small heart-shaped boxes of mints marked places for the 38 members. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Lorin McDowell, Mrs. Robert Middleton and

Child Study Club Hears Mrs. Thomas

"The subject of birth is enveloped in mystery for children because we, as parents, show hesitancy in what we say, our tone of voice and the expressions on our faces," Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. told members of the Child Study Club Wednesday afternoon.

In speaking on the subject, "The Stork Didn't Bring You," she told the group that children's questions should be answered in a routine manner. The club met in the home of Mrs. Bob Thomas, with Mrs. T. H. McGinn as co-hostess. Books recommended to the members by Mrs. Thomas were for two ages. For teen-agers, she advised parents to read, "The Stork Didn't Bring You." For small children, the women were told that "How You Were Born" would help with answers to childish questions. Twelve attended the meeting.

New Life in Christ

JESUS CAME THAT WE MIGHT HAVE LIFE, AND HAVE IT ABUNDANTLY

Scripture—John 3:1-21; 10:7-16; Acts 16:19-34; II Corinthians 5:17.
By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
WHAT is "abundant life"? We are not enjoying it when we are ill. In deep sorrow we do not have this kind of life. Men and women in prison are not free to feel this abundant life. Jesus brings all men and women this full life when they accept Him for their Savior and are born again into a new freedom and joy. This is today's lesson.

The first reference is to the story of Jesus and Nicodemus, a learned man and a member of the Sanhedrin. In spite of his position in the community and his knowledge of the Scriptures, he must have felt that there was something lacking in his life. He knew of Jesus and evidently admired Him, and so he came secretly, at night, to talk with Him.

Nicodemus addressed the Master courteously, saying, "Rabbi, we know that Thou art a teacher come from God; for no man can do these miracles that Thou doest, except God be with him."

Jesus' answer puzzled him, for He said that "except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God."

How could that be? Nicodemus asked. Then Jesus said: "Except a man be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again."

Clean water cleanses, and the act of baptism is a symbol that sin is washed away, and the Holy Spirit of God imparts a new principle of life for our future—we are truly "born again."

John does not tell us whether Nicodemus was convinced or even understood Jesus' utterances, but he does tell us that when Christ was entombed, Nicodemus came bringing spices to embalm His body.

We must omit the lovely passages in John 10, where Jesus tells us that He is the Good Shepherd, who giveth His life for His sheep.

Paul and Silas set foot for the first time in Europe, in the Greek city of Philippi. Because a girl possessed peculiar powers of prophecy, by which her masters made a good deal of money, but was freed of the evil spirit by Paul, the masters turned the whole town against the apostles. They were brought before the magistrates, who had them beaten

Water Levels Drop Over U. S.

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—There was no broad improvement during January in the drought existing over much of the nation, the Geological Survey said yesterday.

Its monthly water resources review said that "to an unusual extent there was little change in stream flow and ground water levels during the month."

Ground water levels generally were below average throughout the West and at or near record-low levels in most of the southern half of the country.

In Washington State, sample measurements showed water content 40 per cent less than normal. Flow of Little Colorado River was at a record low for January in Arizona.

Stream flow was below normal in Illinois, Arkansas, northern Louisiana, Texas, eastern Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, northern Florida, southern Alabama, southern Mississippi and Tennessee.

Record-low water levels for January were recorded at key wells in southwestern Utah, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, North Carolina, Florida and Alabama.

English Girl Visits Ranch, Awaits Tar

KERVILLE, Tex. (U.P.)—There's a pretty young girl from London waiting on a hill country ranch for a Texas sailor who vows he's going to woo and win her for a bride.

The sailor, Lloyd Parker, met Maureen Tuone, 18, of Arundel, Sussex, on shore leave at Portsmouth, England, last year.

But he was going to sea in a few days, and he didn't have time to court the vivacious young model.

So he begged her to come visit his sister on the ranch in south central Texas until he is discharged this December. Then, he promised, he'd try to convince her she should marry him.

Maureen, the daughter of a retired British army captain, finally agreed—after a long exchange of letters from all parties.

"But we aren't actually engaged," she said of Parker. "In fact, we've had only a very few dates."

"I've been here since November of last year. I'm going to definitely stay on the ranch until Lloyd comes home."

Does she think she'll marry him?

"Well," she laughed, "he has a chance."

Parker, on duty in Cuba, telephones his sister Mrs. Ruth Leclaire frequently.

"You'd better hurry, boy," his sister told him on his last call. "These hill country cowpokes keep dropping in for visits on the flimsiest excuses."

There is some tendency among U.S. specialists to believe it was the Old Bolsheviks who got Malenkov. The assumption is they did not like his "soft" foreign policy line or his domestic policies which had failed to stimulate industrial and agricultural production.

Seeking Third Cage Crown

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

The Midland Indians recently offered to deal the Big Spring Bronco Romario Soto for a nominal fee. Soto is the Cuban hurler who—when he was sharp—was as good as the best in the league. He didn't hit it off any too well with Manager Rudy Briner, however, and Soto, consequently, would go for weeks at a time without work. Soto managed to pick up 13 wins while losing six times in 1954. He appeared in 30 games and completed 12 of them. Though he will be a limited-service player again this year, Midland is seeking to deal off Soto and other members of the 1954 club because it has a tie-up with Cleveland and reasons it can get all the help it needs. If Big Spring doesn't purchase Soto's contract, he may go to Odessa, which is going to be in need of a lot of help, from all indications.

There's a story floating around to the effect that Odessa offered a major league $20,000 to come in there and operate its Longhorn League club this year. The money is there, it would seem, but few of the moneyed people have the time to operate the team.

Dickie Moegle reportedly has asked the San Francisco 49ers for $25,000 to play football out there next year. He is apt to sign for something less, although he insists several Canadian clubs are after him.

Pat Gerald must have changed his mind half a dozen times before he finally threw in the towel as the head football coach at Sweetwater. What gives rise to that belief is the fact that Pat had only recently set Feb. 15 as the date for the beginning of spring workouts. Now, he says he won't conduct spring drills.

Chesty Walker, Phillips; Gordon Wood, Stamford; Aubrey Gill (a Sweetwater ex); Midland; and Joe Coleman, Odessa, are among those who have been mentioned for the job. Walker probably wouldn't be hired because chances are he makes more at Phillips than the Sweetwater job would pay. Wood might be interested, though.

Major league baseball had better hope it never gets to the point where it is as dependent upon television as boxing. Baseball's TV take represents about ten per cent of the total, according to the most accurate figures. Live audiences still pay baseball's way.

It is doubtful if many fights would be held, however, without the help of video income. The International Boxing Commission admits TV has subsidized boxing to the extent that the club couldn't put on its current programs without television.

Jack Mitchell, Arkansas' new football coach, is only five years older (at 30) than his oldest player, Jess Deason, will be next fall. The Parkers will have eight players from Texas next year, incidentally.

Texas Tech Raiders Seek Revenge Saturday Night

LUBBOCK, (SC)— Texas Tech gets its chance to regain a share of the Border Conference lead in a basketball game with West Texas State here Saturday night. A capacity crowd will watch the Red Raiders attempt to avenge an 87-78 defeat handed them by the Buffaloes in Canyon last month. Only 600 tickets were available to the general public and they were gobbled up in 11 minutes Tuesday. Since Tech Gym holds about 2,000 persons, only the fact that all students did not buy activity tickets at mid-term permitted the public to buy general admission tickets. No tickets will be sold at the gym, business manager Jimmie Wilson has announced. Admission will be by regular ticket or student activity ticket. Last year a crowd estimated at about 4,000 milled about the gym unable to be squeezed in. Leading scorers in the conference, Tech's Jim Reed of Pine Bluff, Ark., who has been averaging 21.2 per game, and West Texas State's Jim Scott of Borger, with 19.5, will be in action. Scott is the nation's leading free throw artist, and Tech's center, Eugene Carpenter of Big Spring, paces the nation in field goal percentages. Tech, with a 14-5 season record, stands 5-1 in conference play, as compared with West Texas State's 4-1. The Buffaloes have a 12-3 mark

Davis Gets Pay Raise At HCJC

Coach Harold Davis of Howard County Junior College is to receive a $560 raise as a result of action by HCJC trustees Thursday. The board voted to pay Davis for 10 months of work each year, instead of nine as in the past. The additional month will be August. Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, told trustees that the coach has worked each August, although he has been paid only for the September-through-May period. Some additional work is being laid out for Davis for next August also, he said. The additional month's pay will raise the coach's annual salary to $5,600. He is due an "automatic" $200 raise next fall, in addition, Dr. Hunt said. Trustees unanimously favored the adjustment.

Longhorns Try To Block Bulldogs' Title Bid

The Big Spring High School Steers head north today to play their last of the road games for the 1954-55 season, stopping first in Plainview and then in Levelland. Johnny Johnson's team will be the underdog in both games. Plainview needs only the win over the Longhorns tonight to clinch championship honors in District 1-AAA for the second straight season. Levelland has been impressive in recent starts and could prove hard to handle Saturday night, although the Steers have beaten them twice in three starts this season. Only Lamesa, among the conference teams, has been able to beat the Bulldogs this season. The Tornados shaded the Canines in Lamesa, 64-60. In their previous conference meeting this year, the Steers lost to Plainview, 58-50. Charley Clark needs 13 points to shatter Bobby Maines' all-time scoring record for a Big Spring player. He now has 380 for the year. Maines collected 392 back in 1950-51. If he doesn't get that many against Plainview, chances are he will shatter the mark in Levelland.

Clark has three games in which to establish a new record. The Longhorns close out their campaign against Lamesa here next Tuesday night. Charles will start for Big Spring, along with Al Kloven, Wayne Tollett, Kenneth Harmon and Bobby Phillips. The Steers now have won 11 of 22 starts, the first time this season their average has been .500. A triumph over Andrews last Tuesday turned the trick. There'll be B team games both night. In each instance, the reserve battles start at 6:16 p. m.

Ward Contests Are Set Back

Coach Carl Coleman announced Thursday that the Ward School basketball games, ordinarily scheduled for Saturday morning, would not be played until Tuesday due to the fact that both school gymnasiums will be used for other purposes tomorrow. All games Tuesday will be unrecalled in the Junior High School Gymnasium, with the first game down for 4 p. m. At that hour, Kate Morrison and West Ward have it out. At 5 p. m., Airport plays North Ward and at 6 p. m. College Heights meets Central. The feature game, and the one that will probably decide the 1955 champion, goes on at 7 p. m. At that time, Washington Place meets Park Hill. Both Washington and Park Hill are unbeaten at the present time. The schedule draws to a close Friday, Feb. 18, at which time both gyms will be used. College Heights faces North Ward in the Junior High School Gym and Airport opposes East in the Senior High Gym. Both contests are booked for 4 p. m. At 5 p. m., Central clashes with Park Hill in the Junior High Gym and Washington tangles with West in the Senior High Gym.

Two Phenix City Figures Face Trial Monday In Assassination

By REX THOMAS
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Two of the reputed bosses of a once-thriving Phenix City vice empire face trial here Monday for the killing of A. L. Patterson, the crusader who had sworn to smash the racketeering domain.

Former Prosecuting Atty. Arch Ferrell, 37, and ex-Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller, 35, are both charged with first-degree murder, punishable by death in the electric chair.

A third defendant, former Alabama Atty. Gen. S. Garrett, also is under a murder indictment for what the state contends was a bizarre plot to keep Patterson from taking office as Garrett's successor.

Garrett is under treatment for a mental disorder in a hospital at Galveston, Tex., and no date has been set for his trial.

Patterson, a crippled 69-year-old former state senator, was shot down outside his Phenix City law office June 18 a few days after he had won the Democratic nomination for attorney general on a promise to break the evil grip of lawlessness in his community.

His 33-year-old son John is the attorney general now. He won the Democratic nomination without opposition after his father was slain, and was elected in November.

The elder Patterson was assassinated a few hours after he had made known that he would testify before a grand jury in Birmingham which later charged Ferrell, Ferrell and a young Birmingham attorney, Lamar Reid, with trying to steal the nomination from the anticrime crusader.

The three men were indicted for fraudulently adding 600 votes to the total for candidate Lee Porter, of Gadsden, after the official Jefferson County canvass of the June 1 election returns had been made. Reid at that time was chairman of the county Democratic committee.

The vote fraud trials have been set for March 7 in Birmingham.

Porter faces trial in Montgomery March 1 on two perjury indictments for filing a sworn statement on campaign contributions without listing more than $22,000 from Phenix City gamblers who wanted Patterson defeated.

The elder Patterson accomplished in death what he had vowed to do alive. His murder brought about an unprecedented vice cleanup in Phenix City which resulted in heavy fines and prison sentences for more than 100 racketeers and their underlings. National Guard troops took over law enforcement for six months during the cleanup.

Ferrell and Fuller were caught in the housecleaning too. The former prosecutor paid a $200 fine and Fuller $250 for election law violations during the first Democratic primary May 4, which a grand jury charged was rampant with fraud.

The former chief deputy also was sentenced to seven years in prison for taking payoff money from the operator of a bawdy house where prostitutes reportedly earned as much as $900 a night. He has appealed the bribery conviction and is free on bond.

The state has not disclosed which of the murder trial defendants it will seek to identify as the one who fired three .38-caliber shots into Patterson's body.

The indictments are identically worded, charging each defendant with shooting the racket buster "with a gun or pistol." Under Alabama law, an accomplice to murder "stands in the shoes" of the one who actually does the killing and is equally guilty.

Garrett was in Birmingham the night Patterson was murdered, and thus has been eliminated from suspicion as the one who fired the shots.

Prosecutors haven't said whether they will demand the death penalty. Punishment in a first-degree murder conviction in Alabama is left solely to the jury.

Ferrell is a World War II Army captain and former state commander of the American Legion. He was appointed circuit solicitor by Gov. James E. Folsom in 1948 and managed Folsom's successful reelection campaign in Russell County last spring.

Fuller, a Navy shore patrolman in World War II, is a 200-pounder with a flair for ornate pistols and wide-brimmed, Western-style hats.

The plant, a division of Ionia Mitchell-Bentley Corp., is a major supplier of trim materials to the auto industry.

Firemen battled the spectacular blaze for eight hours in near zero weather before it was extinguished. The fire was discovered about 8 p.m. Firemen first had it under control about midnight, then the third floor of the four-story plant fell through and sent flames raging again.

Chinese Long Have Thought War Just Tool In Campaign

Editor's Note: James D. White, Pacific correspondent for The Associated Press from 1936 to 1941, and the following is an interpretation from San Francisco.

By JAMES D. WHITE

What next after the Tachens? Red China has the initiative. Peiping has many choices. It can sit tight and see what happens. It can pick off more offshore islands, piecemeal, from Nanchishan to Quemoy. It can blow the works and go after Formosa. So many choices are open that it's anybody's guess what Peiping will do next.

What are the main factors that may determine Peiping's strategy?

Red China's basic aim is to become the dominant power in Asia. That is the classic Chinese concept of China's place in the world. Over this is laid the dynamic of communism, even more ambitious.

The classic Chinese idea of how to attain this goal is through political action in which military action is used as a tool when useful, but only as a tool.

The Chinese are not afraid to use this tool. That was shown in Korea, where it profited them under the circumstances. They fought and negotiated U.S. forces to a standstill and emerged with the most powerful combat-trained army in Chinese history.

The Chinese undoubtedly realize that next time the circumstances will not be the same. Here we get into what actually is the Chinese state of mind. This is a complex which has grown increasingly remote to the Western world in the past five years of Red rule.

Mr. Asian friends assure me of two things about this state of mind which may be of supreme importance.

One is the Chinese conviction that any war with the United States would involve the use of atomic and possibly hydrogen weapons against them. We used the atomic bomb on Japan, why not on China?

The other is the equally firm Chinese conviction that they, if anyone, can emerge from such a war. They figure it this way: Their treaty with Russia guarantees Soviet involvement in such a war. Russia and the United States then would destroy each other's war-making powers. China, with her 600 million people and experience in survival, would emerge if anyone does.

The other side of the coin is this question: What if war does not develop?

In that case the Chinese can go on as they are, exerting pressure in all directions, including against Russia, to further their own ends.

Cities After State Funds To Maintain And Build Streets

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas cities needing money to maintain their streets and buy right of way for state highway improvements have come again to the Legislature for help.

Rep. Charles Murphy of Houston and members from Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio introduced a bill in the House allocating $5 million dollars a year from general revenue for such purposes.

The proposal was made as the House and Senate joined in another long weekend recess until Monday.

Murphy's bill is the first of the session to seek financial help for cities for their street programs. He said it would not require new taxes beyond those already proposed on gasoline, beer and cigarettes.

Murphy said that rural residents of Texas have been benefited since 1949 by the Colson-Briscoe Law allocating 15 million dollars a year for farm-to-market roads. He said that 70 per cent of all Texans now live in the cities and that he feels they are entitled to state road aid if the country folk are.

Mrs. Ragan, Dallas, Rites Set At C-City

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. Margaret Ragan, 90, Dallas, died in Dallas early Thursday morning and her body is being brought to Colorado City for burial. Mrs. Ragan was the widow of James B. Ragan, and both were long time residents of Rule, but had lived briefly in Colorado City in 1944 and is buried here.

Funeral services will be held from the Kiler and Son Chapel at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Saratoga Favored In Miami Race

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Saratoga, a fair to middlin' colt who ran third to Nashua and Colonel Dodge in the winter headline derby, probably will be the choice in Saturday's $25,000 added Everglades at Hialeah Park.

The Everglades, at a mile and a furlong, is the final stakes for 3-year-olds leading up to the $100,000 added Flamingo to be run two weeks later.

Neither the highly-regarded Nashua nor the unbeaten Boston Dodge is in Saturday's feature and Saratoga conceivably could win the Everglades and go on to triumph in the richer Flamingo, just as did Citation in 1948 and Oil Capitol in 1950.

House Committee Favors Trade Bill By Big Margin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sponsors of President Eisenhower's lower-tariff trade program predicted today it will survive a close test on the House floor without major change.

They commented after the House Ways and Means Committee approved the administration bill late yesterday by a surprisingly top-heavy 20-5 vote.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) set next Thursday and Friday for floor action on the bill, which would extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for three years past June 12 with renewed tariff-cutting powers.

Under this act the President may negotiate lower tariffs on foreign products coming into the United States, in exchange for trade benefits to American products abroad.

Specifically, the bill would per-

Yesterday, railroad workers were surprised to find them, hungry and thirsty, still in the box car. The boys were surprised to find they were in California. Sheriff's deputies are arranging another ride—back to Tucson.

Boy Quits School On Clothing Issue

WHEATON, Md. (AP)—Without giving a specific reason, 17-year-old Paul McQuinn—whose attire drew the wrath of school officials—has withdrawn from Wheaton High School.

Young McQuinn, a junior, was sent home in January and told not to come back in the tight-fitting dungarees he was wearing. He returned to school only once, wearing conventional clothing, to take midterm exams.

Principal Elwood B. Mason said two counselors tried without success to persuade the boy to remain in school.

Firemen battled the spectacular blaze for eight hours in near zero weather before it was extinguished. The fire was discovered about 8 p.m. Firemen first had it under control about midnight, then the third floor of the four-story plant fell through and sent flames raging again.

'REAR ACTION' FROM MAMA

NEW YORK (AP)—Six-year-old Olga Dejana and her sister, Gloria, 4, were playing in the kitchen of their Brooklyn home yesterday when they decided to put their dolls in the oven. Gloria suggested that Olga climb in with them. Olga did, and Gloria jammed in the wire baking rack and Olga was very much stuck.

Howls from Gloria and Olga brought their mother, who needed police help to free Olga.

Wife Of Hutton Pal Says Divorce's Okay

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The wife of Alan W. Livingston, recording firm executive whose name has been linked romantically with that of Betty Hutton, is agreeable to a quick divorce, her attorney says. Samuel Barchas said yesterday that Mrs. Elaine Livingston, 36, has accepted a "generous settlement" and will appear in court

Feb. 24 to seek a default decree on grounds of mental cruelty. Livingston, 37, married her in New York City in 1943.

Favor Death Penalty

LONDON (AP)—A proposal to abolish the death penalty in Britain on a five-year trial basis was knocked down 245-214 last night in the House of Commons. The Churchill government had opposed the change—favored by many Laborites.

Congress Hails Plans To Build Private Nuclear Power Plant

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional atomic energy specialists today hailed as highly significant the plan of Consolidated Edison Co. of New York to build the nation's first privately financed nuclear power plant.

H. R. Searing, president of the big utility which serves the New York metropolitan area, made the announcement to the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee yesterday.

The plant, to cost an estimated $30 to 40 million dollars, is to be built five miles south of Peekskill, N.Y., on the Hudson River. Searing estimated it would be a year before construction begins and at least four years before the plant is in service. It would probably have a generating capacity of about 125,000 kilowatts of electricity—large enough to serve a city of 250,000.

Searing said his firm should be ready to apply for a license before April 1. The nation's first commercial nuclear power plant is now under construction at Shippingport, Pa., near Pittsburgh as a joint project of the Duquesne Light Co. and the Atomic Energy Commission. Searing conceded his company's plans for a privately financed plant leave numerous problems to be solved. But he declared, "Our chief objective has been to get something done, for we firmly believe that only by actual construction of projects can the art be placed on a commercial basis."

Searing said Babcock and Wilcox, boiler manufacturing concern, was designing the reactor. Consolidated Edison believes best suited to its purposes. He said it should be "reasonably competitive with conventional plants in our area."

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the joint committee, said Searing's statement was "very, very important," and added: "It shows that if the (Atomic Energy) Commission will just take the wraps off, there'll be plenty of fellows waiting to jump in." Anderson said the announcement shows the AEC was mistaken in views presented to the committee last week. Kenneth D. Nichols, AEC general manager, said then the agency thought no private company was willing at this point to put up its own money to build an atomic power reactor. For that reason, he said, the commission has gone ahead with its program under which the government would put up a share of the cost.

Valentine's Day

Cupid's got his arrows poised and is all-a-quiver in expectation of the big day. Are you all set for Valentine's Day? It's a headache when you have all questions and no answers.

Should a girl send a valentine to a boy? No, not until it falls on Sadie Hawkins Day. The average girl will do better to let her Romeo handle Feb. 14 all by himself.

At Christmas she might be justifiably embarrassed to accept a gift without giving one in return, but Valentine's Day is different. If the couple are engaged or are long time steadies, and the girl is quite sure of her man, she may send him a card, if she likes. All others must wait in patience.

Are gifts other than the beautiful heart-shaped boxes of candy, ever given? If so, is it proper?

Small Arms Shell Monopoly Claimed

DENVER (AP)—A Denver businessman filed suit in U. S. District Court yesterday charging a monopoly in the small arms ammunition field and demanding $475,000 damages. Phil I. Francis, who runs a downtown store, stated he has been without a stock of such ammunition for a year because he refused to sign a fair trade agreement with the two firms involved. The companies are Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. of Virginia and Remington Arms Co., a Delaware firm.

By all means. A variety of gifts may be given in good taste. The rule to go by is that it must have the essence of romance about it. Stick anything in a heart-shaped box, paste a cupid on the outside, and tie it with a red and white ribbon, and you're in. It's an ideal day for giving her your class ring or identification bracelet, if you feel that way about her. No other day in the year is quite as perfect for giving her a picture of yourself, and if you have dated her any time at all, you may do so with a free conscience and assurance that she will not think you conceited.

Telephone Co-Op Grows Steadily

STANTON (SC) — More than a dozen customers have been added since the first of the year by the Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative. Total connects are now nearing the 300 mark. Wes-Tex serves rural areas principally in central and western Howard County and in Martin County. James Elland said that other farm homes were being added to the service at the rate of two or three per week. Cap Rock Electric, a companion cooperative, is busy these days with additional connects in the irrigation area of west-central Martin County. Most of these are short extensions off the three phase lines which more or less bisect the elongated territory. Power demand from producers with small grains or irrigated pastures has been good, but the big push is expected to start the latter part of this month and during March when operators saturate their soil for spring plantings.

Cap Rock Officials Go To Atlantic City

STANTON (SC) — O. B. Bryan, manager of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, and Glenn Cantrell, Big Spring, president, are enroute to Atlantic City, N. J., for a national meeting. They will participate in the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association convention and will return within about a week. They drove to Amarillo and boarded a train there to the convention.

'Parade Of Bunnies' Attracts Interest

STANTON (SC) — The "Parade of the Bunnies," staged here as an Easter event last year, is attracting considerable attention. Inquiries have been received by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce from several cities. Big Spring and Ennis have indicated they may promote similar events. The bunny parade in Stanton was one of, if not the first of its kind in Texas, said Mrs. Hilda Weathers, Chamber manager.

Film Director Agrees To Judgment's Entry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Film Director Howard Hawks has agreed to entry of a $52,383 judgment in Superior Court against him in favor of his first wife Mrs. Athole Hawks, sister of Norma Shearer, former screen star. Mrs. Hawks, 53, sued for funds due under a 1940 divorce settlement. The agreement called for payment of $1,000 a month and 20 per cent of Hawks' earnings for her support and establishment of a trust fund for their two children.
