Resurrection shocks the world

THE BURIAL

Temple cleansed before Passover

JERUSALEM, MONDAY APRIL 13

History repeats itself after three years. This afternoon the miracle worker from Galilee pulled another coup by cleansing the temple much in the same manner as He did three years before when He was first beginning His activity as a religious leader among the people.

One could almost detect a look of apprehension in the faces of the temple workers last Sunday afternoon during Christ's brief visit at that time. Just how right they were was demonstrated this afternoon, when, armed with a whip, the Master threw out money changers and salesmen alike.

The day had started ominously. Walking along the way into the city, so the disciples said, the Master had come upon a fig tree that was hopelessly barren. Finding it so, the Master had cursed it, and by the afternoon it had already dried up. According to one of the disciples, the Master had said something about this tree as being symbolic of the hypocrites that He found in the world.

Protest With Authority

Arriving at the temple shortly after the noon hour, the Galilean made His protest against the commercialization of religion. Feeling had been rife for quite some time among the populace about the higher prices that were being charged for the services at the temple. There had even been complaints to the effect that such business ought to be carried on outside the confines of the sacred structure. No doubt there was a large segment of the population that secretly applauded the cleansing of the temple here this afternoon.

And what a sight it was. Lambs, goats, doves and pigeons were still at large this evening after harried owners had spent the greater part of the afternoon rounding up their scattered possessions. It was reported that the youngsters had a field day scooping up fallen coins and containers. Joshua, the Vendor, whose animal sales had led all sellers at the temple for the last ten years, reported that the actual loss of property was negligible and did not venture a guess as to when business might again go on as usual.

THE TRIAL

Passover reflections

Tense drama filled the streets of Jerusalem and its judgment halls this past week. The long-standing struggle between the temple group and the Galilean finally came to a head. The casual observer might give victory to the temple group. But one wonders.

Jesus of Nazareth presents many contrasts. He was captured, but you felt he wasn't using His power. He was condemned, yet, you knew He was innocent. He was crucified, yet He lives.

One gets the idea that all this was for someone else. You begin to feel: Here is the Son of God suffering for the world's sin—for my sin. And, believing that peace comes, and a desire to leave all and follow Him, to trust in Him now and always—to the next life. Yes, I believe that He was the Son of God.

THE TOMB

Pilate issues command to crucify Christ

JERUSALEM, FRIDAY APRIL 17

The peace of the governor's early morning sleep was broken rudely this morning as the assembled leaders of the Jews brought their prisoner, Jesus of Nazareth, to be tried by Pontius Pilate. Pilate was visibly disturbed and it was plain that he would rather have the Jews bring such matters to his attention at a later hour, preferably also at a later date, after all the visiting dignitaries of the festival had left.

It was noted that the charge made before the Roman governor was that the Nazarene was a seditious person, advocating the overthrow of the Roman government. Pilate immediately was alert, at the mention of sedition, and led the prisoner into an inner room to examine him in private. It was revealed that he asked about His being a King to which Christ was reported to have answered, "Yes, I am a king, but My kingdom is the Kingdom of truth. Everyone that is of the truth heareth my voice." It became evident that the Kingdom of which Jesus spoke was a spiritual kingdom, as Jesus pointed out to Pilate that His servants would really have fought for Him to release Him, if he had been the kind of king Pilate should fear.

Those present indicated that Pilate tried to release the prisoner several times, but that the temple group was insistent that He be crucified.irate cries were heard each time Pilate appeared before the crowd, insisting that He be crucified.

Jesus or Barabbas

A dramatic moment developed when Pilate gave them a choice between Jesus and Barabbas as the prisoner whom he would release at the festival season. Barabbas will be remembered as the butcher murderer, now awaiting crucifixion as the worst criminal known in these parts in some time. It took some maneuvering on the part of the temple group, as they feared that the crowd might be swayed to ask for Jesus, but those minded in that direction were shouted down and the cries of "Away with Jesus, and give us Barabbas" were heard to prevail.

Another interesting sequence developed when Pilate, desiring to let the prisoner free, but still not wanting to incur the wrath of the Jewish leaders, determined to chastise the prisoner, and give His enemies satisfaction by presenting to them the pitiful sight. Roman soldiers later said that they had never administered as severe a beating before, as they now administered upon the prisoner from Galilee. The Jewish custom of administering only 39 stripes was not used since this was done under Roman jurisdiction, and it was the intention of Pilate somehow to satisfy the inhuman intent of the Jewish leaders.

Behold The Man

When He appeared again, they had dressed the Messiah in an old tattered and dirty robe of purple. Someone had pressed a crown of platted thorns into His brow, letting the blood stream down His face. There was also mockery in the bundle of broken reeds that had been tied to His wrist as a token of a broken power. "Behold the Man," said Pilate, pointing to his fiendish handiwork, hoping that the temple group might at last have had their fill.

But again Pilate reckoned wrong. The tenacious scribes and Pharisees would not let go their advantage. Hints had been spread pretty broadly that if Pilate insisted on releasing the prisoner, Pilate's own misdeeds would find their way to Caesar's ears. It is a known fact in Palestine that Pilate could stand no official investigation. The source close to the scene indicated that this knowledge on Pilate's part prompted his final action to order the crucifixion of the Nazarene.

Clutching at anything to cast aside suspicion and blame from himself, Pilate ordered water to be brought and announced openly that he was washing his hands of the whole rotten deal, seen by most observers as a travesty of justice like as none other before. Longinus, veteran centurion in charge of many crucifixions, was summoned and the order was given that Jesus was to be taken out to Calvary to be crucified. Prison doors swung open for Barabbas, but the two thieves, Dismas and Gestus, were taken along to be crucified.

JERUSALEM, SUNDAY APRIL 19

Jesus Christ rose from the dead early this morning! The news was first voiced by excited women rushing back to the city from the tomb in the garden of Joseph of Arimethea, prominent business man of this city. Fast moving events on this Sunday seem to leave little doubt that the Christ who raised others from the dead did so Himself from a sealed tomb and was seen alive by a number of citizens of this city.

"Son Beams"

By June Keltz

It was a morning such as this that Mary and the other women went to the tomb of Jesus to anoint His body with spices. They were amazed to find the heavy stone rolled away and an angel sitting inside, who said to them, "He is not here, He has risen." Why did He wait three days to come forth? What was going on inside the tomb those three days? It was something so wonderful that it influences every human being who will believe in Jesus and His blood sacrifice.

The three day activity is not laid out in sequence for us in the Bible - we must search for it and place the pieces together. Matt. 12:40 says "for just as Jonah was three days in the belly of the sea monster, so shall the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart (middle) of the earth." Having nailed our sins to the cross through the shedding of His blood, He then entered into the heart of the earth to take authority over Satan for us. "When He had disarmed the rulers and authorities,

He made a public display of them, having triumphed over them through Him." (Col. 2:15) This must be the time that he also declared, "I was dead, and behold, I am alive forever more, and I have the keys of death and of Hades." (Rev. 1:18)

Being a caring, loving, compassionate Saviour, He even went and preached to the spirits who were waiting in prison from the days of Noah. (1 Pet. 3:19, 20) His triumph over death even caused some of the dead saints of old to be raised and enter the city, appearing to many. (Matt. 27: 52, 53).

Before Jesus was received into Heaven, He gave His authority over the enemy to us and then He ascended and sat down at the right hand of God. No weakness, temptation, or enemy can overtake us when we are in Him and we execute that authority. This is just another reason for us to rejoice and celebrate the "Feast of the First Fruits" that we have heretofore called "Easter."

Jo Ann's Jots & Jingles

By Jo Ann Dickson

"How many people attend your church?" one pastor asked another. "Sixty regular, and about three hundred C and E."

"What's C and E?" the other asked.

Came the quick answer: "Christmas and Easter."

Burton Hillis, writing in BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS said, "Far be it from me to preach to you, but as a long-time usher and greeter, I suggest that if you begin attending church regularly about now, you won't feel like such a total stranger there on Easter."

Raymond MacKendree writing in QUEENS' GARDENS said, "The resurrection of Jesus Christ separates Christianity from the other religious systems of the world. Buddhism, Confucianism, and many other religious systems of the world. Buddhism, Confucianism, and many other religions are based on moral codes. Certainly these systems have benefited their believers in many ways. But their fault lied in their limitation. They have never mastered death and never will.

The resurrection of Jesus Christ is our hope today. It is our assurance that we have a living Savior to help us live as we should now, and that when, in the end, we set forth on that last great journey, we shall not travel an uncharted course, but rather we shall go on a planned voyage - life to death to eternal living."

Easter can be different - if you want it to be. A greater YOU can be born - if you will deepen your consecration to your Lord.

CHRIST THE LORD IS RISEN TODAY!

When you stand praying, forgive, if you have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses. Mark 11:25

COLOR FOR SHADY AREAS OF THE LANDSCAPE

Impatiens are terrific flowering annuals for shady areas of the landscape. These plants are available in a range of colors from white to red and reach an average height of 10 inches. Impatiens are used most effectively in mass plantings or in containers. Although hanging baskets of impatiens are somewhat difficult to maintain, they can be spectacular on decks, patios and porches.

The "Super Elfin" series of impatiens has been named by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service as the outstanding selection for 1987. These varieties reach a height of 8-10 inches with large, long-lasting flowers. At present there are 15 varieties in this series. They include: Blush, Bright Eyes, Coral, Fushia, Lipstick, Orange, Orchid, Pink, Red, Rose, Salmon, Salmon Blush, Scarlet, Twilight and White.

Impatiens may be started from seed, indoors, 4-6 weeks before the desired planting date. Plants also root easily from cuttings. Most impatiens are grown as transplants purchased from retail outlets. These should be placed in the garden, after the danger of frost, approximately 16-18 inches apart. Impatiens thrive in dense shade and have a tendency to wilt in partial sun locations. Be sure to plant in a well-drained area for best results. For long-lasting color, remove flowers as they begin to decline.

Roaring Springs City Council To Apply For Water Grant

New members of the Roaring Springs City Council, Joe M. Thacker and Charlie Long were sworn in on April 7 after the election votes had been canvassed and accepted by previous council members. Present were Jean Adams, Roy Hernandez, Gene Brannon, Mayor Eugene Watson and City Secretary, Odessa Mullins.

Out-going Councilman Ronnie Thacker reported on the projects she had been working with and agreed to continue working on the water grant as well as other grants.

The council discussed the use of the High School building by the 4-H for their community project. Joey and Ronnie Thacker informed the council that they owed back rent on the gym which would cover much of the cost of the new roof. Vickie Pierce met with the council to request a contract between the council and the Roaring Springs 4-H Club. The council voted to allow the 4-H to use and renovate the old Home Economics rooms on a month by month basis.

Inasmuch as the water system has been condemned by the state, the city's most urgent need is to get an approved water system. A motion was made and passed to apply for an emergency water grant for water supply, water storage, and water distribution.

The council also made a resolution to apply for a $35,000 grant from the Parks and Wildlife Department for the city park and also to apply for the Governor's Community Achievement Award.

Ronnie Thacker reminded the council that since she is no longer an elected official, she will no longer be on the Board of Directors of SPAG.

Edith Daniel met with the Council and requested a loan from the city's economic development grant to purchase the Red Hen Market. Ronnie Thacker stated that the money that is left is currently committed elsewhere until 1988. Thacker explained that half of funding must come from private sources.

Lisa Tompkins met with the council to apply for the city secretary position.

Gene Brannon bought the old city tractor with the high bid of $800.

Secretary Mullins reported on city accounts, stating the $2211.59 was spent in bills. $3234.67 was deposited in the water account and $208.88 in the general accounts.

The bills were approved to be paid.

The City Council went into closed session to discuss personnel matters.

HOSPITAL BOARD DISCUSS HOME OF CLINIC

The Motley County Hospital Board met for their monthly meeting Friday April 10, at 6:30 p.m. in Billie Dean's Restaurant.

The first order of business was to canvass the votes from the April 4 Election. They approved these.

Those attending the meeting were Larry Hoyle, Caldwell Smith, Darrell Cruse, and Lillie Crouch with J.M. (Buzz) Thacker absent. Officers were elected as follows: President Larry Hoyle (re-elected), Vice President, Buzz Thacker, Secretary Lillie Crouch (re-elected).

A report from Larry Hoyle concerning the Stanley Hospital Building for the Clinic was presented stating that the City Council asked the Motley County Hospital District for a 20 year lease for $200 a month to be forgiven up to the cost of expenses incurred in the renovation and remodeling and cost of other expenses. Also that the Hospital District was to pay the Insurance, and properly store the unused equipment belonging to the city. This is a tentative proposal and is open for negotiations.

Smith stated that it seems that the Council has forgotten where the Hospital District's money came from. That it all came out of the tax payers pocket and this kind of rent would entail raising the taxes. Smith suggested looking further into repairing the present building, stating that "It is our responsibility to look after the tax payers interests." Also stated was the fact that if the Hospital board paid the insurance and the building burned down that the Hospital District would wind up with nothing because the money would go to the City.

Hoyle reported that the South Plains Emergency Medical Services (SPEMS) wanted the Hospital District to send their annual dues. The question was asked what SPEMS' purpose was. Hoyle explained "They set up the EMT training courses, maintain the communications tower in Lubbock for our EMS, set protocol for the Ambulance service, and got the original grant for the radio system that didn't cost us but $40.00 a month." Motion was made and seconded to send SPEMS $500.

The March bills were $3,301.66 with a balance of $32,955.05. Motion was made and seconded to pay the bills.

Lillie Crouch stated that she was going to the April 14 SPAG meeting and understood that Dr. Pat Williams was also attending this meeting.

The meeting was adjourned.

Commissioners Court Has Quiet Session

The Motley County Commissioners went into session on April 13, 1987 with County Judge Bill J. Whitaker presiding with Bill D. Washington, John M. Russell, Joseph Simpson and Fraiser Watson in attendance. Roberta Jameson took minutes.

Past minutes were read and approved. The bills were read and approved. The general account had $5279.50 in bills; Precinct 1 had $1976.50; Precinct 2 had $401; Precinct 3, $7921.50; Precinct 4, $232.50 and lateral roads had $1940.

Treasurers Report showed a balance of $276,016.74.

Marisue Potts, Motley County Library Board President reported that Sarah Hurt is resigning as Librarian. The Board has had three applicants, Jimmy Hunter, Ruth Garnett and Beverly Darsey.

Harry Hamilton met with commissioners to report on status of establishing legal ownership of the property of delinquent taxes. In doing so, Harry made mention that part of the problems that has developed have come about as a result of the fact that the change of ownership has not been picked up by the Clerk's office and recorded in the tax office as the titles transfer for many years. This is applicable to both cities.

Right of way for new bridge across the South Pease on Hwy 70 was discussed by Commissioner Russell describing problems involving it. Russell made a motion that negotiations be between the state and the parties involved.

Shelly Barrett RN Public Health Department, Region II, from the field office in Spur met with and thanked commissioners for past support and asked for continued support. Public health is involved in screening for hypertension and diabetes, child health and family planning, take place of school nurse, crippled children services, community education, etc. They are now charging for services on a sliding scale basis, although no one is refused services. Public Health has had a clinic in Roaring Springs for over a year.

Waynard Box of Plainview offered a list on the courthouse roof and discussed his company's roofing product.

Travis Jameson Sworn In As New Council Member

Matador City Council met Thursday, April 9, 1987 at 7:30 a.m. at City Hall with Mayor Gary Lancaster, L.B. Campbell, John Briscoe, Joe P. Smith and new council member, Travis Jameson. Also attending were Water Superintendent Bill Jameson and City Secretary, Nell Berryman.

First order of business was to swear in Travis Jameson.

Minutes were read from previous meeting, the Mayor asked for report from the Engineers. Berryman stated that they had called to get the new councilman's full name to prepare the bids to be submitted in May.

Mayor Lancaster asked for a report on the Clinic and the Stanley Hospital Building. Larry Hoyle met with councilmen to discuss the building proposals. The City Secretary read the proposal: "A 20 year lease with the first year rent free and after that $200 a month with the Hospital Board responsible for upkeep, utilities and insurance." Hoyle stated that they planned to spend $10-20 thousand. Some of the plans include remodeling the examining rooms and blocking off just past the surgery room for storage. They plan to use the surgery room for a meeting room for EMT, etc. The question was asked if SPHPO paid the rent and Hoyle explained that the Motley County Hospital District furnished the building to SPHPO rent free and SPHPO provided the clinic staff.

Councilman Rose stated that,

"sense SPHPO didn't pay the rent that he thought it would be wrong for the county taxes to pay for it." The council said that they would forgive the rent as to what was spent on remodeling and upkeep and that the Hospital District was to pay the insurance.

Campbell asked Travis Jameson if he would take the CRP project over that Lewis Bostick had been responsible for. In taking care of the land leased with the water well that is in the CRP Program, Jameson said he would.

Rose stated that Rodney Williams, Matador Fire Chief, had asked that the council consider looking into a grant that was available for a new fire truck, he explained that the old fire truck was only 12 years old but that the age of the truck had to do with the rating system of the homeowners and businesses insurance.

Berryman stated that, "after February 1, the City Taxes not paid were delinquent and that people were paying them, which 15% of the payment had to be sent to the McCleary, Veselka, Beck, Allen Law Firm & P.C. of Austin and that they hadn't sent out notices yet." The council discussed this matter and the motion was made and seconded to give the collecting agency a 30 day notice that the city would no longer need their services.

The Council went into executive session. They set salaries for the 1987-88 fiscal year.

Springs Ranch for a weekend of fishing, golf and visiting with old friends of Matador and Roaring Springs.

James Howard Henson and Armantha Gay Hallford were married April 3, 1937 in Matador.

El Progreso Club Discuss Various Projects

El Progreso Club met April 10, 1987 in the parlor of the First Baptist church with Mrs. Douglas (Lila) Meador, club president, presiding.

Other than regular business a report on the district meeting was given by Mrs. Joe (Loys) Campbell, "Volunteerish - It's No Barney." A report on the style show held March 26th in the Senior Citizens building was given and all were pleased with the outcome, both from a financial and attendance standpoint.

The upcoming State TFWC Convention will be held in Waco on April 21, 22 and 23rd. Four members of El Progreso will attend, Mrs. Harold (Grace) Campbell, Mrs. Robert (Jo Ann) Dickson, Mrs. J.E. (Marge) Edwards and Mrs. Bundy (Lucretia) Campbell. Mrs. Harold Campbell and Mrs. Robert Dickson will participate on the convention program.

Mrs. Meador then presented Mrs. Ted (Bailey) Elliott who was program leader for the day. She introduced Mrs. Furman (Beverly) Vinson who spoke on "Motley County Jail-Museum Update and Expectations."

Mrs. Vinson explained the Community Improvement Project (CIP) in which the restoration and use of the jail-museum is being entered in State and National competition. This project is a nationwide program of community action based on community need and is co-sponsored by the General

Chevron U.S.A. CIP is a program, not merely a contest. It involves all clubs in GFWC. Every club that improves the quality of life in its community is eligible to enter. The goal of the program is to initiate new projects and to improve and increase effectiveness of continuing projects by focusing on selection, development, and evaluation processes.

Mrs. Vinson told of the jail from its inception when the county was organized in 1891, when, on May 13, 1891, the court records show the court gave notice for bids to build a two-story jail was ordered. This contract was awarded on May 28, 1891 to Aiken and Cornett for $3,849.00 and it apparently took a year to build for it is learned from court records of May 9, 1892 "it is ordered by the court that the jail work of Aiken & Cornett be received and that the said Aiken & Cornett be discharged, they having completed with their contract." At various times repairs had to be made to the roof, floor, sewer, etc.

At an August meeting in 1975 the Commissioners Court gave permission for a historical marker to be placed on the Motley County Jail. On Nov. 11, 1976 a historical marker was placed on the front of the jail. This was made possible by a monetary gift to the TFWC/El Progreso Club by the children of Harry H. Campbell to be used for this purpose with the Matador Garden Club as co-sponsor.

The jail was used to house prisoners until the Jail Standards Commission changed the rules several years ago. From then until the present, Motley County prisoners are housed in Dickens County jail with this county paying for their "room & board."

In 1986 with Texas' Sesquicentennial celebration getting off the ground the Commissioners Court asked El Progreso club to prepare the jail for a display of early county memorabilia. A committee composed of Mrs. Harold Campbell, chairman, Mrs. J.E. Edwards, Mrs. R.E. (Lucretia) Campbell and Mrs. Furman Vinson was appointed by Mrs. Dickson, then president of El Progreso. This group met in early January to plan a money raising event which turned out to be a "Super Sunday" meal held in the American Legion building on Jan. 26, 1986. Well over $400.00 was cleared for use in restoration of the jail building.

The committee set guidelines for accepting articles to be shown during the Folk Festival in May. Forms were to be used in receiving articles, absolving the club from any responsibility. Club members scrubbed, swept, hoed, raked, painted, etc. Mrs. Harold Campbell, after one of these days, became ill and the chairmanship was turned over to Mrs. R.E. Campbell, Jr. Another committee meeting was held in March discussing what other things needed to be done. The Green Thumb workers cleaned the yard, painted the walls inside the jail after they had been wiped down and anything else needed. A plumber and electrician and carpenter were hired to repair those places that their profession had called them to do. The public was kept informed through articles in the Motley County Tribune as to what was going on and letting them know what else they could do to help. The club was reminded of the afghan, the Ted Greens took donations for, with a drawing held on May 26 and the money received going to the jail-museum. Opening on May 25th at 1:00 p.m. and closing on May 26th at 9:00 p.m., the days of the Motley County Folk Festival, the consensus of opinion from club members and community alike was that the jail-museum was a "howling" success. It was noted that 1,085 persons had registered from 123 towns, large and small, from Oceanside, CA to Havre de Grace, MD, from Corvallis, OR to Miami, FL.

As the windows had not been secured to insure the safety of articles in the jail-museum the owners removed their treasures.

At Christmas time to help the county celebrate an "Old Fashioned Christmas" the El Progreso Club cleaned the jail-museum again, set up a large native cedar tree, decorated it with paper chains, popcorn and cranberry strings and aluminum foil stars. A display of antique toys and a doll collection of Mrs. R.E. Campbell, Jr., hot spiced punch and cookies, decorated window sills of green and red bows around kerosene lamps all reminded the ninety-some registered guests what the "old jail" once might have been.

Mrs. Meador added to Mrs. Vinson's words by relating to the group that Stanley Rose, former Matador resident, once told the tale of the cowboys who had been put into the "hoosegow" for probably being drunk and calling out to anyone passing by "Hello, out there," in hopes of getting a cigarette. Mr. Rose told this to playwright, William Saroyan, who put it into a trilogy and called it "Hello, Out There." This was in the mid-to-late 1950's.

As to looking forward to what might appear at the jail-museum, it was suggested that anyone having a visitor might take them through to show them the "trap-door" and the whole building, having a group of old school items for a Homecoming display, and several other things that we might do to keep the jail-museum in front of the public.

Mrs. Harold Campbell, club parliamentarian, gave a "quip" -- in making a motion, the person making it can vote against it, but cannot speak against it.

Mrs. Elliott gave the reading from the yearbook and ended the program with an inspirational thought from Fannie Crosby, "Speak Lovingly and Kindly."

The next meeting will be held in the Methodist church sanctuary April 23 with a guest from Lubbock reviewing the book "We Knew Jesus" by John Calvin Reid. This meeting will be open to the public and everyone is encouraged to attend and hear this post-Easter program.

Those in attendance, other than mentioned, were Mrs. Frank (Lola) Pohl, Mrs. Duke (Vena) Lipscomb, Mrs. John (Josephine) Hamilton and Miss Rachal Patton.

The meeting will be at 3:30 p.m. in the United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Margaret Holder of Lubbock will review the book, "We Knew Jesus" written by Dr. J. Calvin Reid. "He uses his vivid imagination plus Biblical facts to bring back from eternity, contemporaries of Jesus who knew Him while he dwelled here on earth," according to the commentary.

Mrs. Holder is active in the Lubbock Women's Club, Women's division of the Chamber of Commerce, and Methodist Hospital Auxiliary, and is teacher of the Dorcas Bible Class at Highland Baptist Church.

"We extend a welcome to friends in adjoining communities, as well as Matador, to attend this program, as a fitting observance of the Easter season," said Mrs. Douglas Meador, club president.

Remember When

By Annie B. Cloyd
Box 22
Flomot, TX 79234

Hello again, it's me here in Flomot, wishing the sun was still shining. But we can't have everything, can we? I do need to mow the grass tho' -- it seems to grow even if it is too cold to do anything else. Our mower has been in the hospital often "as of late" but we have it back home now and I really don't have an excuse to keep me from mowing and I'm going to have to get it at soon. Do you have this kind of problem getting at things? I hope I'm not the only one.

My story about the snake brought some more stories out from a friend or two of their "bouts" with snakes in the house. One was about Mrs. Eliza Jones and the one she found in her closet. Seems that she reached in there to get her vacuum and thought the hose looked different -- then the thing moved and she found that it was a big snake. I think the cleaning could wait -- don't you?

Another more recent story is the one about the big bull snake that crawled into the air-vent of the clothes dryer and got hung-up inside the back of the dryer and couldn't get out. The dryer wouldn't work and when they took the tack off to see why. Well, that was a shock. At least it would have been to me. I wonder just what he was looking for.

There was another tale about finding a little Rattle snake in the closet, trying to climb up the wall. Said it was just about a foot long but was still a Rattler...even if it only had a little button on it's tail. Said they always wondered if the rest of the family was around close.

When we lived down on the creek in town, a family of bull snakes were raised under the house. We had company one day when all the young snakes started coming out. There was a hole right under the front door and that is where they came out. As each one came out it raised up and looked in through the screen door. Our folks that were visiting at the time had a little boy about three or four years old and he happened to be standing at the door when the first snake looked in at him. Boy! he yelled, "snake" in a hurry. I killed that one and it wasn't long before he yelled again. That went on until I had killed six snakes before the day was over. I know that they kill rats and mice but that is a little too close for comfort. Had they found a crack, I guess they would have come in the house.

I'll stop for now and try to write the "skunk" tale I heard. See you next time and we'll remember again.

Memorial Regiment To Bivouac In Blanco Canyon

by Marisue Potts

A field exercise and bivouac for members of the memorial regiment of the 4th Cavalry is planned for the weekend of April 25th in Blanco Canyon near the site of the first encounter between Mackenzie's best light cavalry and Quanah Parker's fiercest warriors.

According to the commander of the history re-enactment group, Lt. Colonel Robert Marlett, planned field events for the uniformed troopers and their costumed families include sabre, pistol, and cannon drills, demonstrations, cooking and tall-tale contests, games and stories of the 1871-1874 period.

On the top of a windswept mesa near the battle site, historic details of the Battle of Blanco Canyon with its loss of one trooper and sixty-six horses, of a blinding blizzard that caught the regiment on the open plains, and of the wounding of the 4th's close-mouthed commander by a Comanche arrow will be given.

The goal of the modern-day 4th Cavalry is to assemble a fully mounted cavalry troop to accurately interpret and present the colorful history of the Indian War period. Forty members, including a few lady troopers, provide educational and living history programs, such as Motley County's History Day at the Ranch and the Rancing Heritage's Candelight Christmas. Participation in parades and rodeo grand entries, prairie dramas, wagon trains, and trail rides are also anticipated as they interpret and reenact the regiment's history. For more information on joining the 4th or the new ladies' support group, contact Robert Marlett (806-799-2715) or Donna Hargrove (806-799-7815).

Pointers For Parents

Unsupervised TV Viewing: A Solution

If you're one of the many parents who worry about what your children may be up to when you're away at work, you may be glad to know they can still "view" the benefit of your wisdom when you're not there to give it.

One of the activities children engage in after school is watching television. Most parents don't mind it for an hour or two. When the viewing may include unsuitable programs parents tend to worry.

Now parents can block out those channels they don't want children to watch. It's easy with the Parental Control feature available on eight new Magnavox color televisions. With a few simple commands, parents can quickly remove unwanted channels from the TV's memory. The channels can be re-stored just as easily when parents wish to watch them.

In addition to Parental Control, all eight sets feature the Universal Remote, the first pre-programmable remote on the market, according to Magnavox, which created it. The remote also controls 29 brands of video cassette recorders and most cable boxes.

This handy device controls all of the audio and video functions of the set, allows viewers to quickly scan the channels and features a 15-second sleep time.

You can still "channel" your influences over your children, even when you're at work or out for the evening.

There's good news for parents who want to spend quality time with their babies.

Infants and toddlers who share precious time with a loving adult, can develop self-esteem.

Recognizing parents' interest in encouraging health and fitness at early ages, a company has developed a new activity program for newborns through toddlers. Developed by leading physical therapists, it represents an important break-

Senior Citizens Report

by Iris Blevins

Our mini bus made its regular trip to Lubbock last Monday but I haven't gotten a report on it. I am sure every one had a good time just looking and shopping.

The bus went to Plainview Thursday with ten people riding. One had a Doctor's appointment and the others shopped and had fun. Bill and Nora Bell opened the doors to the Senior Citizens Building Friday at 2:00 p.m. for an evening of 84 and 42. They reported a very enjoyable afternoon with a goodly number attending.

Oh yes, who has noticed the nice flower bed in the southwest corner of our yard at the Senior Citizens Center? Mrs. Baker and Witt did that, and our hats off to both of you. One day it will really be pretty and we are very proud of it. We all still all mindful of the hard work that went into getting our lovely building and we want the whole county to come and enjoy our get togethers with us. Our regular luncheon days are the second Tuesday and the fourth Tuesdays of each month, so come and enjoy the day of fellowship with us.

Praise the Lord; for the Lord is good; sing praises unto his name: for it is pleasant.

CHUCK WAGONS AND COOKS

I do not know who, how, or when the chuck wagons originated. My earliest recollection of local cattle work was done with "pack out fits" where a few scanty provisions were strapped on a pack horse or tied to a saddle.

The cooking was done more or less generally, by everyone taking a hand. Cattle were gathered by hunting them. That is, a bunch of cowboys scouted through the country and carrying along such cattle as found and wanted, leaving the others undisturbed. At that time the Trail-herds had wagons and cooks.

I do not pretend to know how many cattle wore the "JC" and "HC" brands, belonging to Canfield and Cavitt, who ranched on the south Bosque River, in McClellan County during the sixties and seventies; or the "Cross 61 Cross" brand of the Treadwell Ranch in Hill County, but I do know the ranges thirty miles away from their ranch houses had lots of big steers and other cattle wearing their brands, that were gathered and disposed of, without ever seeing a chuck-wagon in use. The men dropped into your locality, picked up the cattle found and wanted and were gone. As the years came and went, and especially after fencing began, the brands from a distance thinned out and disappeared. Where they went, I cannot say for I do not know. They, like hundred of others, may have moved west and established other ranches or they may have remained where they were and curtailed production.

The chuckwagons that were everywhere, often quite thick, did general work at roundups. They fed and handled bedding for large crews of men, and over a far-flung field, seemed to be a Western idea, called into existence because of the vastness of the work. Instead of prowling, gathering and concentrating cattle a few at a time, they went out and concertedly bunched the cattle in roundups, where every man had a look at all the cattle found.

A general consolidated effort, that was an improvement over the old way. Goodnight claims that he made the first chuck-box he ever saw, back in the sixties for his Trail Wagon. As a range utility unit, it is doubtful if the chuckwagon was ever used extensively east of the West Cross Timbers.

Chuckwagons called for cooks, and it is an inspiration to sit and watch a good wagon cook prepare a meal. His equipment was somewhat limited. A few pots, pans, ovens, and etc. The wagon with its ponderous chuck-box bolted in the back-end; an out-of-door kitchen cabinet of wondrous convenience. The fire-pit a few strides directly behind the wagon, never to one side, with its simple steel rack, extending lengthwise over the fire pit, and on which vessels were hung containing dried fruit, beans, coffee and hot water. The cook never seemed flustered, disturbed or in any especial hurry. He was quick in his movements, yet deliberate and if you were a close observer you would note that everytime he turned around, he did some necessary thing, without any lost motion. Before you were aware, he was ready to feed fifteen, twenty, thirty, or even forty men. There never seemed to be any great surplus or wastage and still there was never a shortage.

Bill and Jim Cloyd, two brothers that cooked for the Matador Wagons, fed one hundred and forty men for dinner one day. The wagons were camped side by side. A sack of flour was used for bread. One handled the bread line, the other the meats, and divided the other chores according to convenience.

Seemingly an awful undertaking and it was; but those two brothers turned the trick on the dot and to the minute. That was their job and they knew its every detail, and they also knew the appetites of hungry cowboys. Boy! They were wagon cooks of the first water, and the kind of cooks one was glad to meet around meal time.

A major concern at our schools is the safety of our children. With the help of our PTO we are striving to improve on safety when parents are who will be four years of age on September 1, 1987) will not be offered next year unless:

- (1) There are enough students signed up to justify offering the program.
- (2) The students meet certain eligibility guidelines.

However, it is imperative that an accurate survey be conducted to determine whether a program should be offered, and for planning for next year's kindergarten enrollment.

If you have a child that will be four years of age on September 1, 1987, please notify the school of the child's full name, his/her date of birth, and indicate that you do or do not desire the pre-kindergarten program to be offered.

bringing and picking up students. The street in front of our school is rapidly taking on some cosmetic changes. Our thanks to Mr. Bob Davis for his help in this and to the Motley County Tribune for publishing a layout of our parking and traffic pattern. We want to emphasize that parents may park behind the roped off area, behind the uses, or in the reserved parking area. We hope this will improve the safety of our children. Also, thanks to L.J. Barkley Jr. for his designs.

A reminder also about driving in the area of buses. When a bus is stopped loading or unloading, vehicles are required by law to stop and wait until the bus moves off before they may move. Let's all remember this and protect our children.

A 10-step guide to spotting, healing children's drug abuse.

- Here are 10 steps parents can take to combat drug dependence by their children:
- Talk with your child about alcohol. Parents can intervene to help change mistaken ideas their children may have obtained from peers.
  - Learn to really listen to your child. Children are more likely to communicate when they receive positive cues.
  - Help your child feel good about himself. Self-regard is enhanced when parents praise efforts, not just accomplishments.
  - Help your child develop strong values. A strong value system can give children the courage to make decisions based on facts rather than pressure from friends.
  - Be a good role model or example. Parents' drinking habits and attitudes may strongly influence their children's perceptions.
  - Help your pre-teen deal with peer pressure. Children who have been taught to be gentle and loving may need parental "permission" to say no to negative peer pressure.
  - Set specific rules against alcohol use and consequences of breaking those rules.
  - Encourage healthy, creative hobbies and school events to prevent children from experimenting with drugs out of boredom.
  - Team up with other parents by joining in support groups to reinforce the guidance they provide at home.
  - Know what to do if you suspect a problem. Learn to recognize signs of drug abuse.

"Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord: and the fruit of the womb is his reward. As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth.

SPECIAL SEGMENT

This is a special segment of "People At Work." Photographs were taken recently at a Matador Ranch Branding, by Carla Jones and Robin Boedeker.

The pictures, themselves, tell the story of a spring branding day with Matador Ranch Cowboys hard at work.

We hope you enjoy these pictures and we would like to dedicate this special segment to all the hard working cowboys in the county.

6TH ANNUAL ALVIN DURHAM OLD TIMERS TEAM ROPING AND STEER STOPPING

The Sixth Annual Old Timers Ropings will again be held Saturday May 2 and Sunday May 3 at the Park's Arena at Roaring Springs, Texas.

This year there will be two handmade saddles given away. They are being built by the famous "Bull" Durham.

Alvin Durham has been a saddle, tack and boot maker in the Roaring Springs area for 50 years or more. His call for leather craft, came with working on surrounding ranches such as the Matadors and rodeoing in his younger heydays. Bull Durham knows, that it takes a certain type of saddle or tack to please a cowboy, in his trade.

This is the sixth year to honor Durham for his outstanding saddle work as well as his contribution to our community. Come one and all to enter or watch the big events. Ropings start at 11:30 each day. We have had cowboys from several states entering to vie for the prizes and money. So mark your calendar for May 2nd and 3rd and head for Roaring Springs for a roping weekend. If you need further information you may contact Harold Parks at 806-348-7524.
