TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

It's almost impossible to dish out advice without spilling a few drops on someone who has a quantity of his own to give away.

About the only people rolling in dough these days are engaged in the production of bread, and don't get to keep it.

Absence of available food used to cause horses to eat loco that resulted in ultimate and pitiful death. On the other hand there is no available record where a man became alcoholic because of an absence of drinking water.

It's getting to where it's almost impossible to find a good luck horse shoe any more, but there is an abundance of old automobile tires, which but for the absence of convenience, might serve just as well.

Many debts have been paid to society by individuals who wanted to make their own rules, and the only thing society has gained is futile experience.

Godliness and cleanliness deserve to be closely associated, but they are frequently completely removed from each other.

Service Held For Thomas B. Alsop

Memorial services for Thomas B. Alsop, 90, were held Saturday at 3 p. m. at the Church of Christ. Mr. Alsop died Thursday at his home on North Main Street, after a prolonged illness, which had kept him bed-fast for the past year.

Burial was in East Mound Cemetery and pallbearers were C. E. Parks, John Irwin, Frank Montgomery, A. A. Harp, Lewis Blewins and Kirby Campbell. Eudy-Seale Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

He came to Texas in 1894, and on February 23, 1896 he was married to Miss Alice Millard, at Hillsboro. The couple moved to Matador in 1935, from Lindrieth, N. M., and had made this their home since then.

They celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary last February. Ten children were born to the couple, four of whom, all sons, preceded Mr. Alsop in death. He was a retired farmer, and a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife; four daughters, Mrs. Loyce Gibbs of Amarillo; Mrs. Eureka (Continued on back page)

Northfield Family Has Narrow Escape

FAMILY OF FIVE Northfield residents had a narrow escape from death early Friday morning, victims of gas fumes from a butane panel heater.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece Timmons were treated in Stanley Hospital. Mr. Timmons, his sons Aaron, 10, and Bryan, 2, were released after treatment. Mrs.

DIRT-DAUBERS caused the malfunction in the vented wall heater in the Reece Timmons home that nearly cost five lives. Later investigation of the heater disclosed that dirt-daubers had blocked the flue vent.

Timmons and the couple's daughter, Ann, 7, were released Friday afternoon.

Two Eudy-Seale ambulances were used to rush the family to the hospital and oxygen was administered en route.

Mr. Timmons, who had been in the house most of the day because of a cold, was overcome for a time by the fumes. The family did not suspect the gas, but believed they might be suffering from some type of food poisoning. They all suffered headaches and were ill about 4 a. m. Friday one of the children became violently ill and Mrs. Timmons called her husband's father, Pete Timmons, by telephone.

He suspected the gas fumes immediately and began opening doors and windows, despite the frigid weather. He also summoned the ambulances. Within a short time after the fresh air entered the room the family began to improve. They arrived at the hospital here about 7 a. m. Friday morning.

Mrs. Timmons is employed as English teacher in Matador High School.

Vernon Meat Truck Burns On Highway

REFRIGERATED truck loaded with 32,000 pounds of fresh and cured meats, burned on US Highway 70, about 15 miles east of Matador Sunday night. It was owned by the Wright Packing Company of Vernon and was headed west.

Driver Charles Broadus, 25, of Vernon, was treated at Stanley Hospital for leg lacerations sustained when he ran into a barbed wire fence in escaping from the burning truck. He told Deputy S. A. Conway something went wrong with the steering mechanism of the truck causing it to head off the 15-foot embankment despite his efforts to hold it on the road, crash through the right-of-way fence and begin burning. Two large "saddle" gas tanks caught fire between the cab and metal truck body, causing butane storage tanks beneath the truck body (used to operate the refrigeration system) to catch fire.

Intense fire from the burning gasoline tanks melted several telephone lines overhead, disrupting service before emergency repairmen could lay temporary lines around the burning mass.

Matador Volunteer Fire Department's auxiliary truck and the Motley County fire truck were used in effort to bring the burning truck under control. Three or four loads of water were hauled to the scene as volunteers worked until 5 a. m. Monday morning. Fire Chief Freddie Welling said at first the fire fighters were cautious in approaching the truck since they did not know what it contained.

Pop-off valves on the butane tanks also kept a strong apprehension of a danger as they "shook the earth" at intervals. Commissioner Clyde Gilbert who was one of the volunteers, said the burning butane caused them to approach the fire with caution.

Some of the contents of the truck were still burning at 3 p. m. Tuesday as a wrecker crew from Vernon attempted to remove the metal skeleton from the highway.

Entire contents of the truck were lost, including thousands of pounds of cured hams, packaged bacon, sausage, all kinds of fresh meats and a great quantity of shortening.

Obsequies Customs Traced In Address

BURIAL CUSTOMS in various countries of the world was the subject used by Lion Bill Seale who made the principal address Tuesday at the first 1962 luncheon meeting of the Matador Lions Club held in the basement of the Methodist Church. He was introduced by program sponsor Ben Edwards. So interested were the club members that they gave Lion Seale a standing ovation following the address.

Joe Salem of Sudan, guest of Lion Ronnie Christian and Bob Johnson, guest of Lion J. R. Whitworth.

Trophies for the Lions Christmas lighting contest did not arrive, but will be presented later, it was announced by Boss Lion Billy Wason.

He also announced that Lion Bill Seale would serve again as chairman of Lions Revue for 1962.

He outlined the strange funeral customs of Tibet, Ireland, Hungary, China, Japan, the Philippines, India and the Navajo Indians of Arizona.

He said the present custom in the United States lends dignity to man by providing decent and respectable tribute to the deceased, and at the same time helps to lighten the grief of the bereaved.

"Regardless of the cost of the funeral every deceased person receives the same service in the funeral home," Lion Seale said, "and contrary to general opinion, the cost of the casket does not represent most of the cost of a funeral (usually only about 25%)."

Visitors welcomed at the Tuesday meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Thomas of Flomot, guests of Lion Ralph Stapleton.

Former Resident's Rites Held Here

Funeral services for Mrs. Druella Mae Hutto, 87, of Amarillo, former Matador resident, were held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the First Methodist Church here. The body lay in state at the church from noon until 2 p. m.

Mrs. Hutto died at 10:35 p. m. Monday at Vivian's Nursing Home. She had been a resident of Amarillo since the death in 1936 of her husband, R. H. Hutto. She was born May 10, 1874 in Alabama.

BANK HOLIDAY FRIDAY

First State Bank will observe January 19, (Friday) as a holiday commemorating the birthday of Robert E. Lee. Announcement was made this week by officials.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilkinson of Vernon visited here several days last week in the home of her sister, Mrs. Nydia Hobbs, and with her other sisters, Mesdames Eddie Russell, Alfred Barton, and C. M. Barton Sr. Another sister, Mrs. Melvin McAdams and her husband, of Muleshoe visited the women this week.

Date is Selected for Father-Son Banquet

ANNUAL Father-Son Banquet, organized by Lt. Paul Eubank who lost his life in World War II, will be held Tuesday evening, February 15. Announcement was made at the Lions Club meeting this week, following agreement of date by the directors meeting at breakfast Monday morning. Various committees were reminded of assignments. Program committee will meet this afternoon in the courthouse with Lion Elbert Reeves serving as chairman.

Price of tickets this year will be $3.50 for two persons, the same as last year. Present plans are to serve barbecue prepared by a catering firm, which has found favor with sons and fathers for the past two or three years.

The banquet has been one of the outstanding events of this community since it was organized more than a quarter of a century ago. Many fathers of recent years were sons when they first attended.

Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held Thursday night, February 17, the Tribune was advised Tuesday night. Active committees are reported working on plans for the banquet.

In previous years the Mother-Daughter Banquet has been sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, which is not active this year. Plans for the banquet were uncertain until this week.

Tickets for both banquets will be printed in the near future and more detailed plans of programs will be announced.

MARSHALL FORMBY HAS ENTERED RACE

Marshall Formby has formally announced his candidacy for governor.

The former state highway commissioner made the announcement at an appreciation luncheon in McAllen Wednesday, before the opening of the Marshall Formby Valley Expressway named in his honor.

Formby, a former Dickens County judge, state senator and highway commission chairman will join Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and former Navy Secretary John Connally in the field of candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The 50-year-old resident of Plainview is a practicing attorney, farmer and co-owner of four radio stations. He has lived in West Texas most of his life and is a graduate of Texas Tech.

Thieves Break In Implement House

Thieves broke into the Peg's Tractor & Implement Company building on Highway 70 west, some time Saturday night and robbed the cash register of about $45, according to Preston Spray, manager.

The cash register was taken from a counter and placed in the floor. Money taken was silver, but the pennies were not disturbed.

Entrance to the building was gained by prying open one of the large sliding doors in the repair department.

THE FRANKLIN AUTOMOBILE shown in this picture was a familiar sight on the streets of Matador over a third of a century ago. It was the family car of the late I. W. Fish. Mrs. Fish sold the car to Billy Joe Campbell, son of Luther Campbell, and nephew of Matador resident T. W. Campbell, in 1952. A number of Franklin automobiles were owned in Matador through the years. The late Dr. A. C. Traweck was the Franklin car's greatest enthusiast and despaired when the company ceased production. The late W. M. Graham owned two Franklin automobiles. The last car he owned of this make was about the same model described in the article. The Tribune is indebted to the Lubbock Avalanche for the newspaper engravings and the feature article, written by Emil Carmichael, staff writer. (Photo is J. B. Campbell and son, Rodney)

COTTON VARIETY TEST REPORTED

A cotton variety test of nine different kinds of cotton was conducted this year on the Sam Ross farm in the Flomot community, and has produced some figures which should interest every producer.

One variety of cotton produced over $16 net returns per acre over four competitors (popular strains), over $15 more net per acre over two other varieties, over $11 more than another variety and more than $4.50 net per acre more than its nearest rival.

The test was dryland, no fertilizer, planted May 30 and harvested October 24, on three-acre tracts, with 7.30 inches of rainfall before planting and 14.29 during growing season.

The leading net per acre producer ($136.88) was Western Stormproof, seed furnished by Von Roeder Seed Farms, Snyder, Texas.

Old Automobile is Faithful in Service

Owners of modern-day cars who consider such features as air-cooled engines, back-up lights and hydraulic brakes as recent innovations in the automotive industry may be surprised to learn that they were standard equipment on various car models 30 and 40 years ago.

B. J. Campbell, 2071 69th St., Lubbock, one of the more enthusiastic car hobbyists in the area, owns a 1928 Franklin six-cylinder Victoria coupe with all of these features—and more.

Many car fanciers would consider the car something of a museum piece, more to be admired than used. Not so Campbell, who rides to and from Matthews Junior High, where he is an instructor, (a round trip of 16 miles daily) and frequently drives it on vacation trips as well.

Half of the enjoyment of collecting hobby cars is being able to drive them, the Lubbock teacher pointed out, and the other half is the pleasure of restoring them to full operation.

He currently is engaged in restoring a 1910 Cadillac for the use of Mrs. Campbell, also a teacher, who shares her husband's enthusiasm for the fascinating hobby.

Juvenile Delinquency and Gerontology Are Topics of Program for Study Club

Rev. Miller Robinson, who for three years was a case worker at the Boys' School of Correction at Gatesville, spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency" at the regular January 11 meeting of El Progreso Club in the home of Mrs. Frank Montgomery.

In his splendid talk, Rev. Robinson listed as some of the causes of the increased number of crimes committed by young people, poverty, ignorance, organic trouble, lack of parental discipline and concern, law of proportion, failure of churches in communities, and certain television programs. His address was followed by a question and answer period.

Rev. Robinson was introduced by Mrs. W. F. McCaghen and also on the panel was Mrs. Forrest Campbell, who presented questions on the subject from a paper prepared by Mrs. Furman Vinson.

Program Director was Mrs. W. D. Lipscomb, Division Chairman of the Department of Gerontology, who gave a paper on "The Desperate World of our Senior Citizens."

"A Retrospective Glance" was a very interesting part of the program by Miss Mary Keith, who, with the aid of Mrs. W. N. Pipkin, showed early day pictures of club members and pioneers of the community, on an opaque projector.

Mrs. Pipkin, president, in conducting the business session, stressed the fact that federated club women are urged to advocate the use of automobile seat belts as a safety measure in preventing serious injury during highway accidents. She also announced that club members are urged to enter the Vogue Sewing contest, and stressed the importance of all members taking the cancer smear test.

Mrs. Frank Pohl led the closing prayer.

Others present were Mesdames F. G. Simpson, Jack McCallie, Harry Willett, D. E. Pitts, C. P. Waybourn, G. E. Hamilton, Elbert Reeves, J. R. Whitworth, A. J. Daffern, Vance Gilbreath, Leonora Luckett, Eldred Seigler, Robert Darsey, Miller Robinson, and Douglas Meador; Miss Amy Glenn and Miss Sue Glenn.

Program Given on Art of Drying and Preserving Plants

A program on "The art of drying and preserving leaves and flowers," was given at regular meeting of Matador Garden Club, Monday, January 15. Speaker was Mrs. B. A. Robinson of Floydada.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. W. W. Clements with Mrs. F. C. Bourland as program leader.

In opening the meeting, Mrs. D. E. Pitts, president conducted a brief business session in which the club voted to contribute $10 to the American Legion Auxiliary to apply on a fund to send a girl to Girl's State.

Mrs. Robinson explained to the club the process of drying leaves and flowers to preserve them, and displayed a picture which she had fashioned of dried flowers. She also brought a variety of dried flowers and plants which she had prepared.

Mrs. Robinson uses a mixture of corn meal and Borax or Silicaure which she purchased at Wolf's Nursery in Lubbock and can be obtained at most nurseries. She explained the drying process, which leaves the flowers and foliage looking as they do when fresh cut.

Members present, other than mentioned, were Mesdames L. C. Harp, W. N. Pipkin, Ward Rattan, Eldred Seigler, Pat Sheridan, Freeman Thacker, Albert Traweck, C. P. Waybourn, Harry Willett, U. L. Willie and Tom Spears.

PIED PINIONS

By Mrs. M.

Indication of advancing age is noted in greeting some youngster with the information that you knew his or her parents when they were youngsters.

Held over from summer is a newspaper item and picture of Miss Brenda Norman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brents Norman of Amarillo, who was sailing from New York for a study term in France, and I immediately thought of the young lady's mother, the former Margaret Crews.

I have known Margaret Nell since she wore braces on her teeth. She was about eight or nine years old when I came to Matador to work at the First National Bank, of which her father was vice president. Later, the Crews family moved to Plainview, where Margaret finished high school, and subsequently married Brents. Now, their daughter is a French major at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

The thread of circumstance includes an early letter written to Mr. M. by Brents Norman, who was then a young court reporter in Plainview. He enjoyed reading Trail Dust, which was appearing in the Amarillo Globe at that time, and wrote to inform the author of this fact. His is among the early fan letters contained in a Trail Dust scrapbook.

Reader reaction to the Tribune is delightful. One subscriber took the time to write and thank us for sending the paper two copies beyond her expiration and inquired about the editor's health since his bout with the flu.

Another subscriber, with her renewal sent this little note: "Thank you; this is the most interesting paper I get."

A friend, to whom we send the Tribune, who has been gone some 15 years, says, "I just couldn't live without the Tribune, but it would surprise you how few people I know in the news items."

Another friend, who moved away over twenty years ago, to whom we sent a copy of the Christmas issue, wrote, "Reading it was like a visit in Matador with old friends and relatives. When we first opened up the paper we expected to find new names, unfamiliar to us, and it was good to find news of so many old timers." Thanks to all of you for these nice remarks.

WMU CIRCLE MEETS

Burleson Circle of the Baptist WMU met at 3:30 Monday afternoon in the Bird Memorial parlor of the church. A mission book, "Hands Across the Sea," was taught by Mrs. C. D. Garrison. Members present were Miss Amy Glenn and Mesdames D. P. Keith, R. E. Campbell Sr., Ben Keltz and T. E. Long.

WITH GRATITUDE

I wish to take this means of expressing my heartfelt gratitude to those who remembered me in any way during my recent hospitalization in Plainview. Your flowers, cards, letters, gifts and visits were deeply appreciated and will always be remembered.

Mrs. Raby Webb

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our profound appreciation to neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses shown us during the long illness of our loved one, and at his passing. Your expressions of sympathy in cards, flowers, visits and food prepared were a consolation to us in our sorrow. May each of you be blessed, in our prayer.

The Family of T. B. Alsop

IN APPRECIATION

The remembrances of friends during my recent hospitalization were deeply appreciated, and I wish to take this method in behalf of my wife and myself, to express our gratitude for the flowers, cards, visits and other thoughtful deeds performed for us.

John Meason

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Green and small son, Mike of Borger visited here from Saturday until Wednesday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Green and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Craven.

FORMER RESIDENT MARRIES AT CONE

Of interest to friends here is the announcement of the marriage Saturday of Miss Billie Jo Amonett of Cone and Eldon Leon Hughes of El Paso, son of Earnest E. Hughes of Dallas. The bridegroom and his father are former residents of Matador. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Posy Odell Amonett of Cone.

Vows were exchanged in a double-ring ceremony read by Minister Neil Hall at 7:30 p. m. in Cone Church of Christ.

As she was given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of antique white satin and matching white satin accessories. She carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible.

Miss Barbara Waybourn of Fritch and Matador was maid of honor. She wore a brown velve-

IT COULD BE YOU

By Jane Hamilton
Do you want to win a county, state or regional award? The Soil Conservation program is offering this wonderful chance to all young people. You may be the lucky person who wins! Simply write your idea on the subject of "Conservation and the Exploding Population." Submit your 300 words or less essay to County Agent Bill Pallymeyer by February 3, 1962. Let the world know why you think conservation is important.

So, quickly, grab a sharp pencil. And a thinking cap, too. There has to be a winner—it could be you!

MATADOR TEAMS WIN TWO GAMES

The Matador basketball teams won two more games in district competition as they downed Turkey and Flomot the past week. The wins boosted the boys to a 2-2 district record and the girls to a 4-0 mark.

The boys trailed 15-14 after the opening quarter against Turkey, but they streaked to a 35-23 halftime edge, led 60-32 after the third quarter, and won 70-51. Jim Green and Dale Dixon scored 18 points each and Gary Lancaster tallied 17 for the winners.

The girls beat Turkey 50-29 with Anna Garnett hitting for 17 points and Cherri Barton for 16. Quarter scores were 18-4, 20-10 and 35-20.

The B boys downed Turkey's B team 41-29. They once led by 20 points as they won their third game of the year.

The boys downed Flomot 54-29 as Lancaster scored 19 points and Dixon 16. The girls easily beat Flomot by a 46-18 score.

Kampus Klips By Veda Nichols

Mrs Winter legally, officially, and icily made her debut into Matador last week. She cast a cold spell over the entire town, not leaving out "good ole MHS." All the teachers and students were appalled at her bad manners: not having been invited, and bringing a very unwelcome guest, Below-Zero Weather.

Everyone seemed to pull through semester tests without unfavorable after effects. The return to school for the last semester was brightened by Donnie Hunt, who presented to the high school an oil painting of a matador. It is exactly what we have been wanting, and occupies a place of honor in the upstairs corridor. Donnie has a very promising future with his artistic talent, and we wish him the very best of luck.

The lunchroom ladies produced something as appreciated as hungry students and teachers as a work of art last Wednesday when they served fried chicken for lunch. Along with the steaming chicken were hot rolls, gelatin salad, green beans and vegetable salad. It was a delicious meal, and everyone enjoyed it.

Junior Jots By Judy Hart

The juniors are back into the old grind of everyday school life. We have taken achievement tests in American History and chemistry this past week.

Weekly English themes have begun again, and this week the juniors wrote a theme on being for a certain thing or against a certain thing. A variety of subjects were chosen.

Report cards caused either happy faces or sad ones, for they determined the failure or success of a semester's work. Better luck next semester to the sad faces.

Senior Sidelines By Cherri Barton

"Happy Birthday, Jimmie Don, Happy Birthday to you!" These words were sung and a look of nonexpectation came over Jimmie Don's face as he walked in the door of Dixie Barton's home. The senior class enjoyed the surprise birthday party, January 11.

Congratulations to the girls' and boys' basketball teams. We are proud of both teams and wish them luck through the rest of the season.

Themes this week, written by the members of the senior English class, were to tell why we were for or against an issue, idea, or action. These themes were easy to think about but were somewhat hard to put down on paper.

Freshman Facts By Scottie Robbins

Each year each class in our school is required to say a given amount of poetry. This year the freshmen are required to say at least fifty lines. Tim Sturdivent said the poem, "The Cremation of Sam McGee," and is the only student in our class to recite any poetry. We all enjoyed his recitation.

The freshman home-ec girls missed Mrs. Fair this week. We'll be glad to have her back, but we enjoyed having Mrs. Ezzell as our home-ec teacher while she was gone.

Cap Rock Country Pioneer Settlers Subject for Book

The growth of Texas is not boom and bust but a steady progress. That is the conviction of Marshall Formby of Plainview, Texas, candidate for Governor, and author of a new outstanding history of early Texas settlers, "These Are My People." The book points up Mr. Formby's contention that what our ancestors did, their present-day descendants can continue.

Building on the solid foundation already laid down, he knows that Texans can develop their own resources; build their own industries and develop their agricultural potential in order to create more jobs for a growing Texas population which he estimates will number 12 million by 1975.

Dedicated to the pioneers who struggled westward, "These Are My People," published in January by The Naylor Company of San Antonio, Texas, is a history that comes alive in the author's vivid portrayal of the characters who settled in Texas, their lives and the lives of their descendants.

Cap Rock Settlers
Of particular interest are those chapters dealing with the settling of the Cap Rock country, a unique part of Texas where the plains join the brakes country. Early life here was hard and rough, as it was throughout Texas. The first settlers found buffalo aplenty, grass knee high and even Indians.

Beginning his political career as County Judge of Dickens County in 1936, Mr. Formby's public offices have included presidency of the West Texas County Judges' and Commissioners' Association in 1939 and 1940, State Senator for four years beginning in 1940, the latter part of his term while serving with the Army Corps of Engineers for four years, with 20 months' overseas service. By 1959 he had completed six years on the Texas Highway Commission, of which he was chairman the last two years.

A practicing attorney in Plainview and a farmer, Mr. Formby is also a business man and co-owner of four radio stations in Texas.

Born in Hopkins County in 1911, Mr. Formby attended McAdoo and Spur schools in Dickens County; holds a BA from Texas Tech; MJ from the University of Texas, and attended Baylor Law School. He is married and has two children.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

TAX DEDUCTIONS

The following information regarding the 2% sales tax has been received by C. H. Bates, Extension Farm Management Specialist and is offered for the use of Motley County people:

The Internal Revenue Service has a document No. 5393 which lists the amounts for the four months period of Sept. 1 to Dec. 31, that may be used if the taxpayer itemizes his deductions. These are: income as shown on line 9, page 1, form 1040. Income of $2,500 to $2,999 is entitled to $6 deduction. Deductions increase $1 on each $500 additional income to the $7,000 to $7,499 bracket, reduce to only $1 on each $1,000 additional income for two places, then resume the $1 additional deduction on each $500 additional income. A $10,000 to $10,999 income may deduct $19.

For 1962 taxes, deductions are three times the above amounts. If the standard 10% deduction is taken these reductions are not allowed. No record is needed for those taking these deductions.

As of Sept. 1 the state cigarette tax is deductible, if a person itemizes personal deductions. The 1.5% motor vehicle tax is a deductible item, therefore tax on a personal auto or pickup used for personal travel may be deducted.

The 3% state sales tax on television sets, record players and similar items should be computed separately, and also may be deducted on page 2 of form 1040 for those who itemize personal deductions.

Franklin Car . . .

bell purchased in 1952 from its original owner, Mrs. I. F. Fish of Matador. "A carburetor and a battery put it into running order," he related.

"It was always a trouble-free car to operate," said Mrs. Fish in recalling trips that she and her family had made to points in Utah, Arizona and other scenic points in the U. S.

The air-cooled Franklin was popular among the early-day South Plains residents because its radiator did not "freeze up in winter or require frequent bucket trips to the nearest water tank in summer." Among other Matador residents who chose the Franklin for rough driving on country roads in the 1920's were the late J. R. Moore, rancher, and the late Dr. A. C. Tra-week Sr.

Primarily a luxury car, the Franklin became a victim of mass production which supplied the demand for less expensive transportation.

$4,000 List Price
"Custom built and handcrafted, it was not easily adapted to assembly line production," Campbell explained. As early as 1906, list price on the six-cylinder model was $4,000 f. o. b. Syracuse, N. Y., where the car was produced by the H. H. Franklin Mfg Co.

Unwilling to compromise on standards, the manufacturer voluntarily closed out the company in 1934, Campbell added. Since then the car has steadily risen in interest value among collectors.

Still intact on the Campbell machine are the silk roller shades on the windows and the Australian wool upholstery fabric. A feature of the "Lady's coupe" is a commodious hat box built into the left side of the rear seat. Front seats fold forward to allow easy access to the back.

The adjustable front windshield is equipped with a vacuum type windshield wiper. A hand accelerator, mounted in the center of the black mahogany steering wheel, provides ex-tracomfort for the driver who wishes a rest from the "foot feed."

The Klaxon horn, much admired by teenagers, attracts "a lot of attention" when the family goes out for a drive, commented the Campbell's younger son, Rodney, a ninth-grader at Atkins Junior High.

Anticipating a common problem confronting yesteryear's winter motorist, the Franklin provided another aid: a gasoline heater which warmed the carburetor for "cold morning starts". The frame mounted on full elliptic springs added to riding comfort.

Despite its square-cornered heavy appearance, the car is deceptively light-weight, Campbell pointed out. The 1928 model, for example, weighs 3,500 pounds, much less than many of its competitors of that era. The weight loss, achieved by means of an aluminum cast block and wooden, instead of metal, frames, results in economy of operation, he added. On a recent trip to Waco he clocked an average of 21 miles per gallon of gas.

Streamlining through the years effected radical changes in automobile design. Greatly reduced in size in today's models are the 21-inch headlights which were a feature of the vintage Franklin, changed are the wooden spoked wheels and gone are the wide running boards attached to flaring fenders. Returning to popularity, however, are the stick shift which propelled the three-speed transmission, the rear wheel mounts and fancy dome lights.

Campbell, who spent his boyhood years in Matador, practically "grew up" with the Franklin he now owns. After becoming interested in hobby cars while a sophomore at West Texas State College, he made plans to acquire the 1928 model for his "stable." He also still owns the first car he ever purchased, a 1926 Model T Ford touring car obtained when he was a high school senior in Waco. The 1910 Cadillac roadster was last used on a ranch near Amarillo during World War II.

Although sometimes a problem, locating the necessary parts to restore old cars offers the double reward of a treasure hunt and a "friend-finding society," said the hobbyist.

Through membership in the Franklin Club of America Campbell exchanges news with other collectors and learns when and where a vintage car will be dismantled. Through news of this kind, for example, he hopes to obtain a manifold heater for the Victoria Coupe.

In some instances, parts from current or late model cars can be adapted for use in hobby cars, or a completely new part may be made to specifications in a machine shop.

On their return trip they drove to Buhl, Idaho where they obtained a special trailer and brought it back to Matador. The weather in the snowcovered Rocky Mountains was a contrast to California and roads in many instances were near impassable.
