Risks of Electromagnetic Fields: What Can We Do About It?

by Michelle Bearden

It stands to reason that since electromagnetic fields are all around us, there is no clear-cut way of avoiding them. Certainly, all industrial nations would be forced into shut down should all sources of non-ionizing radiation be simply turned off.

It also seems unlikely that federal regulations is a strong possibility since instituting "shields and other measures to eliminate electromagnetic radiation would cost every utility in the U.S. tens of millions at least" according to Physicist David Rosenbaum, director of radiation programs at the EPA during the Carter Administration.

Locally we can advocate strong federal control over non-ionizing radiation for Texas as Connecticut, New Jersey and Massachusetts have done. This means we need to, individually, write our congressmen and representatives expressing our concerns.

If you are pregnant, limit the time spent in front of computer video display terminals. The Swedish occupational safety board has been alarmed to find that testing of pregnant mice with pulsed magnetic fields such as VDT's use produce more deformed fetuses than other mice.

Protection includes having the machine shielded. Recommended is a see-through screen called a grounded conductive micro-mesh filter, designed to weaken low-levels of radiation. Terminals, that don't have a metal body should be wrapped in a metalized fabric impregnated with copper or nickel and ground according to Bob DeMatteo, safety coordinator for the Ontario Public Service Employees Union in Toronto.

Microwaves manufactured in the last few years are most likely the safest appliance on the market. All new ovens are required to have two interlocks that cut off power if the door is opened. A monitor system shuts off the oven if the locks fail. In 1985 Consumers Union found microwave ovens were emitting only half of the FDA's new emissions standard. Thanks to both improved microwave ovens and cardiac pacemakers, there no longer is concern that the microwave, can halt the pacemakers when both are fairly recent productions.

Some cautions are advised with microwaves through: never use one that the door is warped or the seal is damaged; avoid standing in front of the oven while it's on. If you suspect a problem, do not rely on an inexpensive tester used on your own, call of reliable service center.

Television dish antennas are not considered a hazard - they only receive signals, not transmit them.

At present they are no fool-proof ways to measure household radiation levels and there are not any reliable safety standards to judge them anyway. You're best bet is to advocate further research and development to gain improved knowledge about electromagnetic fields and safety measures for them.

JADE JONES AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP TO TECH

JADE JONES

Jade Casey Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones of Matador has been awarded an academic scholarship to Texas Tech University in Lubbock for the 1987-88 academic year.

Jade will graduate from Motley County High School Saturday night and plans to enter Tech in the College of Agricultural Sciences. In a letter from M.J. Cepica, Associate Dean and Director of Academic and Student Affairs, Jade was informed that he would receive a $700 Scholarship and that, "we are excited about your plans to attend Texas Tech University and know that your major in the College of Agricultural Sciences will be both challenging and rewarding."

Cepica also notes that "your academic record is noteworthy" and that this award will provide Jade the opportunity to excel this next school year."

Jade has served the Motley County Chapter of the FFA as President this past school year. He has also served on the Student Council and has been a member of the National Honor Society.

Jade also received the honors of Class Favorite and Most Dependable.

Tanya Cummings Selected As Scholarship Recipient

TANYA CUMMINGS

Tanya Cummings, May graduate of Motley County High School has been selected to receive a $2,000 Smallwood Scholarship at South Plains College in Levelland, Texas for the 1987 fall semester, SPC officials announced this week.

Miss Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Cummings of Matador, is among 54 South Plains and Eastern New Mexico graduating seniors who have been selected to receive South Plains College's most prestigious freshman scholarship award. It is the largest number of incoming college freshmen at SPC ever to be named to receive the scholarship award.

"We feel this group of young men and women represent the very best of those college-bound seniors who are graduating from our area high schools this month," said Dr. Marvin L. Baker, president of South Plains College. "They have shown themselves to be scholars and leaders in their respective high schools and we are proud to name them Smallwood Scholars at South Plains College.

Miss Cummings is an honors graduate and plans to major in journalism. She is a member of the National Honor Society and was named Who's Who Among American High School Students. She is active in the FHA, Pep Club, Band and 4-H, serving as an officer in these clubs. She is also a district winner in UIL events.

The Smallwood Scholarship is a $2,000 award which is dispensed in amounts of $500 per semester for the student's two years at South Plains College. Recipients are selected from a pool of scholarship applications by the SPC Scholars Committee comprised of college faculty and administrators. Recommendations are sent to the college president and to the trustees of the Smallwood Estate for approval.

The scholarship was established by the late John L. and Vergie Belle Smallwood, who were active community and church leaders in Levelland. The Smallwoods had no children, but they knew the value of the college education and helped a number of young people attend college.

To be eligible to receive the Smallwood Scholarship, candidates must make application for the award and graduate in the upper 50 percent of their high school class. Selection is based on academic potential, scholarship achievement and leadership potential.

SCHOOL BOARD TO CONDUCT STUDY ON LONG RANGE GOALS OF SCHOOL

The Motley County ISD Board of Trustees met May 19, 7:30 in the Boardroom.

They heard Jim Mohler of Austin explain a group health insurance plan and Neal Dillman of Muleshoe explain property and liability insurance. No action was taken at this time.

Mr. Ewing reported on the TEAMS (Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills) and the SRA (Scientific Research Associates) tests results.

The board voted to pay $500 to the Motley County Youth Organization to help purchase the new lights for the baseball field.

The board voted to purchase the Micro-fiche assembly to preserve the past year's records.

The board set June to open bids for the following: sale of a propane tank, 5 portable buildings, the building of trophy cases, and the building of a house.

They set a meeting with the PTO Committee for Tuesday May 26 to discuss the playground equipment.

The building of a new track field was discussed and the board decided to postpone this until next year.

The board decided to conduct a self-study to determine the immediate and long range goals for the school. This will include questionnaires and a public meeting in the near future.

out shined themselves. People have commented they have never seen the bear-grass bloom like it has this year. I had one rancher tell me the old timers used to call the buttercups 'salvation weed' because the cattle would eat them when there wasn't anything else to eat and that they would also eat the bear-grass blooms.

It also seems the mesquites are thicker and more prolific this year, which I think they are beautiful to look at but a detriment in the cattle industry.

How wonderful it is when you look out across the land and the grass seems greener and the sky bluer and even the trees seem to clap their hands. The joy of living and breathing with something more precious than gold, life.

Barbara's Bylines

Graduation is here and there are some tears and some smiles as the Seniors realize this is it. World here they come! I remember my graduation time - I was happy I was going to leave Matador and never look back. I did leave for one semester at South Plain College.

Now as I look over the past years of living where I grew up, I am glad for having lived here and don't really care to leave now. I suppose the 'roots' have been put down, so now I'm not disappointed at getting to stay in my home town and county.

This has been the most beautiful Spring. The wild flowers have really

Daniel Alexander Wins All State In Piano

DANIEL ALEXANDER

Daniel Alexander of Matador and Aimee Martin of Spur each won first place in the state of Texas in their respective piano divisions at the state Federated contest held in Arlington on May 23rd. Each was awarded the top grade given at this contest which was Outstanding Plus. The judges' critique sheets were highly complimentary of these students' performances, talent, and training. Aimee had previously won first in the state in 1985.

They played in the All State Recital. Only first place winners were invited to play.

Daniel and Aimee were among five of the students of Mrs. Howard Traweck who participated in the contest. The other three students and their ratings were as follows: Solos: Lavenia Bowden, Roaring Springs, Outstanding Plus; DeDe Freemyer, Jayton, Outstanding Plus; Lori Freemyer, Jayton, Superior. DeDe Freemyer also entered the Hymn Playing Division and made the grade of Superior. Over nine hundred from all over Texas participated. The contest was held at Arlington Baptist College.

Mrs. Traweck extends congratulations to all these students for their meritorious achievement.

El Progreso Club Meeting Report

by Beverly Vinson

by Beverly Vinson

The clouds were hanging low and storms clouds were in the West as the El Progreso Club members drove to the ranch home of Mrs. Harold Campbell for their May 14 meeting. It was to be a program of SPRING SONGFEST SING-A-LONG but the fates seemed to be prevailing and, instead, the group saw the 1986 Motley County Folk Life Festival and a portion of History Day at the Ranch on VCR.

The afternoon began with Mrs. Douglas (Lila) Meador, club president, calling the group to order and the usual business followed. A letter from Mrs. Ollie Ann Pitts of Lovington, N.M. was read and the love-donation appreciated. Mrs. Pitts is still an avid follower of the club activities. Another letter was read from Mrs. Margaret Holder, who had given the previous club program, the book review WE KNEW JESUS.

The next meeting will be May 28 at the home of Mrs. Georgia Mae Ericson, north of Crosbyton. The club members will meet at 10:00 a.m. at the Matador First Baptist church. Each member is to bring a salad and go in a group to Mrs. Ericson's home for lunch and program. This will be a most interesting program when Mrs. Ericson tells of "Aunt Han Smiths Early Scottish Home."

Mrs. Harold Campbell gave a report on the State Convention held in Waco which she and Mrs. Robert (Jo Ann) Dickson attended last month.

Mrs. C.D. (Evelyn) Garrison was program leader for the afternoon and she in turn presented Mrs.

Harold Campbell who provided the afternoon program of the previously mentioned VCR events. As the wagontrain rolled into Matador, via film, the group whooped and hollered along with the riders and wagon train participants. It was reliving, again, the "great three days" with many comments as to what happened to whom, where they were standing, what they heard, what they ate and the many other expressions of fun were shared during the viewing of one of Matador and Motley County's joining together to make for the Sesquicentennial year, one that will always be remembered.

There was a very good segment of the jail-museum and its updating with Mrs. R.E. (Lucretia) Campbell, jail-museum chairman, descending the stairs in her "old-timey" dress bringing to mind all the work she had done along with the other club members. The "trap-door" of the jail was discussed as were the stairs to the second floor and the problem it was in the "old days" when the jailer had to get a "dead-drunk" body up them and what a chore it must have been. Many interesting tales were shared during the afternoon and it was a most entertaining time for all.

Mrs. Campbell served punch, chips and crackers with dip, candy, nuts and miniature cheesecakes to those mentioned and Mrs. Dale (Jo Etta) Bumgardner, Mrs. John (Josephine) Hamilton, Miss Rachel Patton, Mrs. Bob (Nell) Clem, Mrs. Bill (Judine) McCaghren, Mrs. W.D. (Vina) Lipscomb, Mrs. J.E. (Marge) Edwards and Mrs. Furman (Beverly) Vinson.

Roaring Springs Study Club Holds Annual Salad Supper

The Predicta Study Club of Roaring Springs met Thursday night May 21 at the Roaring Springs cafe for their annual salad supper.

President LaVoe Thacker presided over the meeting. Odessa Mullins gave the invocation.

A short business meeting, in which we discussed new programs for next year, and the motion was approved to buy enough chairs for the Depot, so we would not have to borrow from the churches, at Old Settlers time. The motion made by Lula Swim for 18 chairs, seconded by Callie Winegar.

Lula Swim gave the program with some slides from a vacation in Arkansas showing scenic scenes in various places including the Roaring River Hatchery. Also slides of our Christmas Party at the home of LaVoe Thacker in December were shown.

Hostesses were Ossie Lee Brown and Pam Thacker.

Members present other than those mentioned were Mrs. Mose (L.V.) Damron, Mrs. J.N. (Darlene) Fletcher, Miss Freda Keahey, Mrs. Rod (Nona) Long, Mrs. Ruby Myles, Mrs. Bill (Lee) Peacock, Mrs. H.C. (Joyce) Smith, Mrs. Lillian Thacker, Mrs. Tom (Mamie) Yeates, Mrs. Ray (Grace) Zabielski. Guest were Mrs. Nell Clem of Matador, Miss Bunni Zabielski of California and Mrs. Audrey Jones.

"GOD'S LIGHT"

When things don't seem to go just right and Satan comes to call... Just turn your heart to God's great light, It's there for one and all. It can wash away your troubles, and brighten every day. In His light you'll find the strength you only need to pray.

From a cell that's cold and lonely, I asked on bended knee... "Lord, please show me what it is, that you wish of me." Then through the window of my cell, His light began to shine. And the cold and loneliness disappeared and everything was fine.

He said that love and peace of mind, can only come one way. Believe in me and turn from sin, and I'll guide you everyday. Just open up your heart to me, and let the sun shine in. And I'll give to you eternal life, and will wash away your sins.

So now my nights aren't lonely, and I smile throughout the day. For God walks here beside me, and keeps me from astray. His light is always shining, and there's nothing that I fear. For no matter where I'm living, God is always here.

Senior Citizens Report

by Iris Blevins

Thanks, Nora Belle for doing the senior citizens report while I was vacationing in Pilot Point. You did a great job, and I had a wonderful vacation.

Sorry, I missed the senior citizens olympics in Lubbock. I think we have a group of real athletes. I am very proud of you.

Tuesday was our regular luncheon at the Center.

Don't forget the bus schedule, Monday it goes to Lubbock, Thursday it goes to Plainview.

Again we welcome all of our visitors. It gives us great pleasure to have you.

Friday evening at 2:00 p.m. Nora Belle will open the doors of the center for an afternoon of games and visiting. Our welcome mat is out to everyone.

May God give you peace and joy today.

Social Security Tips

by Terry J. Clements

Unlike applicants for Social Security benefits who need credit for a certain amount of work, aged, blind, and disabled individuals who have never worked may be eligible for monthly supplemental security income (SSI) payments.

SSI is a Federal program that provides monthly checks for aged, blind, and disabled people who have limited income and resources. Eligibility is based in part on need rather than on a person's work history, as is the case with Social Security beneficiaries. In fact, a person may receive both SSI and Social Security payments. In such cases, however, the SSI payment is usually reduced.

An individual or couple may have some income and resources and still receive SSI payments. Resources refer to the things a person owns, such as real estate, personal property, a savings or checking account, stocks and bonds, and even cash.

Some resources are not counted when eligibility for SSI is determined. Depending on their value, for example, personal and household goods, insurance policies, and a car may not count. Neither is the individual's or couple's home counted if it is the principal place of residence. In addition, up to $1,500 in burial funds an individual and his or her spouse have is not counted when eligibility is determined.

Under the law, SSI payments may begin only with the date of application or date of eligibility whichever is later. Therefore, anyone who believes he or she may be eligible for SSI payments should not delay making application.

If you need more information about the SSI eligibility requirements you may contact us at 1401-B West 5th street, or call us at 293-9623. Appointments can be arranged if desired.

EDUCATIONAL SCREENING TO BE HELD

Attention all parents and children who are newborn to the age of three! On Monday, June 8, from 9:00-3:00, you will have the opportunity to have your child tested to see if he or she is developing in all areas of education at a normal rate. This screening will be held in the basement of the court house and will be conducted by a teacher with the Early Childhood Intervention Rural Infant Education Program (ECI-RIEP), an infant education and stimulation program sponsored by the Central Plains Mental Health and Mental Retardation center in Plainview. This program offers services to the residents of Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Motley, Parmer and Swisher counties.

If you would like to have your child screened, it is important that you call the Motley County Clinic (347-2641) and set up an appointment for Monday, June 8. Gerry Jones, nurse practitioner at the clinic, and Joyce Campbell, receptionist at the clinic, have generously offered to make these appointments for this screening.

If you have any questions concerning this program, please call Nan Smith (RIEP teacher) at 806-293-4475.

DPS News Release

School's out and children are laughing and playing everywhere. Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, wants to remind you that with the Texas schools letting out our highway system will be loaded with people taking their vacations and going to their favorite place of recreation.

Major Cawthon stated, "We, the members of the Texas Department of Public Safety, want to remind you that with the extra traffic on the roadways there will also be extra hazards and dangers. Kids get tired on long trips and you need to take some games to keep them occupied. Take frequent breaks during your trip to get out and stretch your legs and shake the cobwebs from your head. Make sure you stay wide awake and alert on your trip."

Major Cawthon also reminded us that with our city driving we need to be especially watchful for our children. "With the excitement of playing, children seem to forget the rules of safety and sometime dart into the street in pursuit of a misguided toy or ball. While driving our residential areas be especially watchful for our smaller children," he said.

"We also want to remind you to protect everyone in your vehicle by using your safety belts. We want everyone to have a nice safe summer vacation and enjoy school being out," advised Major Cawthon.

Card Of Thanks

We, Jim and Bertha (Pud) McCleskey, wish to thank each and everyone for helping us to celebrate our 50th Wedding Anniversary. To our children for making it possible for us, as they were the Hostesses: Mr. and Mrs. Herman McCleskey of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Elgie McCleskey and family of Spur, Mrs. Nathan (Loretta) McCleskey and son Brent of Petersburg. Also to Mr. and Mrs. Tex McKnight of Hereford, Tex and Robert Blasingame of Vega for coming and helping the boys play music.

Jim McCleskey and Bertha (Pud) McCleskey were married May 13, 1937 in the Motley County Courthouse at Matador. We have 10 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

Thanks to all for donating to the money tree or anyone who helped in anyway, the cards and calls. May God bless you all.

Jimmy and Bertha (Pud) McCleskey

The family of Leldon Bynum wishes to express our deepest appreciation for the cards, lovely flowers, words of condolence and food. A special thank you to the Flomot ladies for the wonderful meal.

health hints

Beware of fire ants! Named for the burning sensation of their stings, these insects are just pests to most people, but their venom is dangerous and potentially fatal to about one percent of the population. Reactions to the sting commonly include a red swelling followed by a blister within 24 hours. For those hypersensitive to the venom, however, symptoms may include hives, dizziness and respiratory distress.

Fire ants nest in mounds, around a foot high. A new fire ant bait that destroys colonies by stopping the queen from laying eggs has been approved by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Named Affirm®, the bait is sprinkled near the mound. Worker ants pick it up and carry it into the mound to feed the queen and other ants. The colony gradually dies out.

The new bait will be marketed under two labels: As "Rigo" brand Affirm from the Rigo Company of Buckner, Kentucky; and as "Security" brand Affirm from Security Lawn and Garden Products, Fort Valley, Georgia.

Affirm® is a registered trademark of the Merck & Co., Inc. who developed the product.

LAND VALUES

Part I

There was a time in Texas when land had little or no intrinsic value. It was given away by league, for colonization purposes. State surveyors took their pay in land, as they laid the lines of unsurveyed lands. Sixteen sections of alternate land were patented to railroads for every mile of track built in Texas. As late as the seventies, you could with seventy-five dollars lay the scrip on a section of land or on several sections at that cost if wanted. That scrip was laid on unsurveyed land, you had your land-lines and field notes put where wanted, just so it didn't conflict with other surveys already on the ground.

Land, land, land was a drug on the market, and no one cared very much for it. In the eighties, the state still owned the big end of all lands lying in West Texas. It is superfluous to tell you half of the undisposed of lands were set aside for the benefit of education, some to the State University, some to the Public Free School system.

In order to interest people in homes and the ownership of land, seven sections was patented to the heads of families, provided they would live on the land the required length of time. A nominal amount, usually three years.

A few did take advantage, the masses didn't. It was too valueless. Three million acres were set aside to build the present State Capital, supposed to be worth a dollar per acre. Any scrap lands found anywhere, and there was quite a bit of it scattered around, could be homesteaded by having it surveyed and residing on it for three years. During those times, large bodies of lands that had gone into private or corporate hands were bought by a few cowmen with vision, for as little as twenty to twenty-five cents per acre; still the country was undeveloped and looked upon as being practically worthless.

Occasionally, some fellow got hold of a tract and had no idea what to do with it. After John Jackson came to the Matadors, he traded saddles with a guy and got six-hundred and forty acres of land as boot. John didn't want that section either, but took it because the fellow had nothing else to pay the difference, in value of the saddles.

One could, at most anytime in those days, have bought a section for a home from the State of Texas at $2.00 per acre, by making a down payment of $32.00 and carrying the balance at six percent interest for forty years if he so desired. A few looneys tried that, and nearly starved to death.

Later both the price and the interest was divided by two; and one was allowed to purchase four sections, if they lay in a radius of five miles of the one you designated as your home section. It was thought that a man might be able to weather the storms of adversity and live off the proceeds of four sections of land. I will be darned, if most of us didn't balk on that liberal offer. Just couldn't see anything in it. We let the stranger at our door gobble up most of the cream before we got land hungry and feasted on the whey that was left for us.

Part II - next week.

NEWS OF NUTRITION

Eat Better—Live Longer?

Warning: Your diet may be hazardous to your health.

That's the message from nutritionists and people at the National Cancer Institute who say that the typical American menu—high in fats, low in fiber—may be linked to cancer, diabetes and heart disease, among other health problems. Here are some things you can do to turn your diet in a healthier direction:

Fiber: It may help you stay fit.

- Switch to skim. Skim milk and milk products let you cut fat without cutting calcium.

- You can have your cake and be healthy too—add more fiber to your diet. In the United States and most of Europe high incidence of colon cancer has been associated with low fiber diets. Obesity, another possible cancer culprit, can be controlled by eating more fiber—fiber curbs the appetite, helps you feel more full and satisfied. Whole-grain and crispbreads provide the fiber that other breads bakers may discard. One good example is Wasa Crispbread, a flavorful, crunchy bread that's low in calories.

- Increase your vitamin A and C intake. Studies suggest these vitamins protect against cancer. Two daily servings of dark green vegetables and yellow-orange fruits and vegetables should give you the vitamin levels you need.

The Children's Choir of the First Baptist Church, Matador, presented its annual Spring Musical on Sunday evening, May 17. The musical, "The Greatest Miracle," recounted several miracles of the Bible, focusing on the greatest miracle, Jesus Christ.

Lanie Barton introduced the program, which began with the section "High and Dry," the story of Noah. Laurie Hoyle introduced this segment, a puppet pantomime of the recorded song "Noah Found Grace In The Eyes Of The Lord." Puppeteers were Wade Patrick, Dustin Davis, Sheryl Davis, Kobbi Risser.

"The Battle Is The Lord's" featured a monologue by David, played by Josh Palmer. The choir sang "He Is My Shepherd" and "I Just Need The Lord."

"Listen To The Lord," the story of Hannah and Samuel, featured narrator Dustin Davis, puppeteers Sheryl Davis, Josh Palmer, and Wade Patrick, and soloist Kobbi Risser. Choir selections included "No One Is Holy Like You Are, Lord" and "Listen To The Lord." In addition, each choir member quoted a Bible verse, illustrating how God speaks to people today.

"Six Plus One" consisted of the song/chant "Naaman." Dustin Davis, storyteller, was assisted by Sheryl Davis, Josh Palmer, and Wade Patrick.

Reporter Kobbi Risser of the "Jerusalem News" interviewed King Hezekiah (puppeteer Wade Patrick) in "The King's Secret." Choir selections included "The Lord Will Pour Water On A Thirsty Land," "Bend Low, O Lord," and "Thank Him! Worship Him! Praise Him!" Sheryl Davis served as narrator for "Great God of Miracles," the story of Daniel. Puppeteers Laurie

Hoyle and Lanie Barton pantomimed the pre-recorded voices of Dustin Davis and Josh Palmer. Choir selections were "He Makes No Mistakes," "Great God of Miracles," "The King," and "The King's Decree."

The final selection of the program pointed to Jesus. This section, "The Greatest Miracle," was introduced by Wade Patrick. Following the choir song "I Heard About," puppeteers Josh Palmer, Laurie Hoyle, Lanie Barton, Jill Stanley, Tanya Barkley, and Cari Creed pantomimed a recording of the song, "Amen." The choir sang "He Is The Way; He Is The Truth; He Is The Life," followed by a choir/congregation arrangement of "Fairer Lord Jesus."

Following the benediction and presentation of awards, the choir concluded the program with "Great God of Miracles - Reprise."

Featured during the awards presentation were choir members with at least 80 percent attendance at all rehearsals all year. The following members received personalized copies of The Baptist Hymnal (or special stickers inside, if they had received a hymnal previously): Wade Patrick, Cari Creed, Jill Stanley, Tanya Barkley, Laurie Hoyle, Dustin Davis, Josh Palmer, and Kobbi Risser, who had over 90 percent attendance.

Special thanks go to Fred Risser, sound; Jason Stanley, assisting with props; and Nora Belle Dunning, who made many of the puppets used.

A retreat held in April served as a concentrated time of rehearsal. Parents provided late evening snacks, breakfast, and lunch. Sponsors were choir leaders Margaret Stanley, Frances Dixon, Elaine Risser and Fred Risser.

"Feelin' Great" Will Leave You Feeling Very Broke

There are a number of instructional or motivational seminars available to the public these days. Many of these programs help participants to feel better about themselves and to achieve better relationships with friends and family. Others involve the participants in illegal schemes for making money. One such scheme here in Texas goes under the name Feelin' Great.

Feelin' Great involves extremely high pressure sales tactics in the recruitment of new salespersons. Many people have been recruited into the program without being told that they were joining an illegal pyramid or multi-level marketing program.

IT SOUNDS GOOD AT FIRST

Initially, the program requires participants to pay $80 to attend a weekend seminar. At the seminar, prospects are told that they can become rich by being a sales representative of Feelin' Great. Those who wish to become sales reps are then required to pay another $50 to attend a second workshop. At that workshop, the recruits are told to pull others into the program in order to make their way up the ladder. Each person in the chain takes some of the money brought in by his or her recruits.

WHY PYRAMID SCHEMES FAIL

In our lawsuit against Feelin' Great, my Consumer Protection Division has exposed the fallacy of the "endless chain" or pyramid scheme.

The "Steps to Greatness" promoted by Feelin' Great are four in number, and contain the following material: 48 hours of instruction on basic nutrition, motivation and related subjects; and the following items: 19 tapes, 2 tape recorders, an exercise book, a diet analysis, a nutritional guide, miscellaneous written material and a briefcase. The recruit is supposed to receive these items after paying $6,000 to Feelin' Great.

The recruiters de-emphasize the services and products offered to recruits and instead emphasize that recruits can make money from bringing new recruits into the organization. However, Feelin' Great's salespeople fail to mention that the market for new recruits will be saturated much more quickly than the market for their goods and services—thus cutting off the avenue for the recruits to make up for the exorbitant amount they have paid for the services and products.

Feelin' Great uses skills in the audience who make supposedly spontaneous speeches about the virtues of the program in order to convince new recruits to join up.

RESTITUTION IS POSSIBLE

As a result of our lawsuit, Feelin' Great has promised to return about $35,000 to those who initially complained and has promised to stop its deceptive sales practices in Texas. If you have had a similar experience with Feelin' Great, your complaint will be mediated by our McAllen branch office. You may ask for a complaint form from any of our regional offices.
