Marriage Vows are Pledged by Miss Barton and Mr. Hamilton

In a double ring ceremony at 6:00 o'clock in the evening, Sunday, July 7, Miss Joyce Jan Barton and Mr. Thomas Earl Hamilton pledged marriage vows. Scene of the wedding was the First Baptist Church, with Rev. Miller Robinson, pastor, officiating.

Parents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Barton Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton are members of pioneer families of Matador.

Mrs. John V. Stevens, organist, played traditional wedding marches and accompanied soloist Richard Campbell, who sang, "Whither Thou Goest," "To Each His Own," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Miss Anna Jo Pendleton, retired head of the speech department of Texas Technological College, read "How Do I Love Thee," by Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Aisle markers were carnations tied with satin ribbon. The altar was illuminated with candles in two seven-branched candelabra on each side of a basket of white gladioli in the background, and extended to spiral candelabra, flanked by baskets of palm leaves, to frame the setting. The couple knelt on a white satin bench during "The Wedding Prayer."

Sister Is Maid of Honor

Miss Cherri Barton, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Jane Field, Marshall, Tex., Miss Cathy Gordon, Columbus, Ga., Miss Diane Baker, Big Spring, and Miss Jane Hamilton, Matador, sister of the bridegroom.

Starrla Macon of Slaton, formerly of Matador, was flower girl, and Kelly Keltz, cousin of the bride was ring bearer.

Dr. Frank Traweck of Houston was best man. Groomsmen were, Jim Allison, Lubbock, Bundy Campbell, Matador, Max Barton, Matador, brother of the bride, and Harry Hamilton, Matador, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Larry Keltz and Terry Keltz, Matador, cousins of the bride.

Designs Wedding Gown

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown which she designed and made. The formal gown was of peau de soie and imported Chantilly lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice, featuring a bateau neckline and dropped waistline. The skirt formed a bell effect in front and was full pleated in back. Caught at the waist at back with fabric roses, trimmed in seed pearls, was a chapel train trimmed with beaded lace appliques. Her veil of scalloped illusion was attached to a garland of pearlized flowers.

For "something old," the bride wore tiny pearl earrings once worn by her paternal great-grandmother, the late Mrs. P. B. Barton. She carried a pearlized Bible with her bouquet of white roses and white feathered carnations tied with blue satin ribbon.

Her attendants, three of whom were sorority sisters at Texas Tech, wore dresses of de-lustered peau de soie, in graduated hues of blue, fashioned with scoop necklines and bell-shaped floor-length skirts.

Miss Field wore the darkest shade, followed by Miss Gordon wearing a lighter shade, Miss Baker in still lighter blue, and Miss Hamilton in powder blue. The honor attendant, Miss Barton wore palest blue as she preceded the bride in white. Draped silk organza added a decorative detail to her dress.

They wore headpieces of fabric roses in shades matching each dress and trimmed in seed pearls. Each carried a long, tapered candle, entwined with flowers and satin streamers.

The flower girl wore a pastel blue organza dress and floral headpiece.

Reception Held At Home

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Rice bags were passed to guests by Kelly Keltz and Starrla Macon. In the house party were Miss Robin Raquet, San Antonio, Miss Nadyne Faulken-berry, Seagraves, Mrs. Murry McNeely and Mrs. Bob Key, Lubbock, and Miss Daphne Lynn, Matador.

MRS. TOM HAMILTON (Jan Barton)

Others assisting with hospitalities were Mesdames Odis Killingsworth, Wilson Barton, Pat King, France Barton and Alfred Barton Jr.

The bride's bouquet centered the refreshment table which was laid with a blue cloth, overlaid with net. Blue candles were in crystal holders. The bride's three-tiered cake was served by Miss Lynn and Miss Faulkenberry, and Mrs. Bob Key served the bridegroom's cake. Miss Raquet poured the punch.

Mrs. McNeely registered the guests, and Jon Johnston of Quitaque played piano selections during the reception.

Honeymoon in Mexico

When Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left for a wedding trip to Mazatlan, Mexico, the bride was wearing a blue silk suit with silk print blouse and blue flowered hat, and black patent accessories.

Upon their return they will be at home in Matador until his entrance in law school in September.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton were reared here and are graduates of Matador High School. Both have degrees from Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

The bride graduated this spring with a major in home economics education, and minor in speech. She was Vice-president of Chi Omega sorority, member of the Student Council, President of Delta Sigma Rho, member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Junior Council, President's Hostesses, and was first alternate South Plains Maid of Cotton. She was a nominee for Miss Texas Tech, and was on the Dean's Honor list. She will teach home economics in Waco this fall.

Mr. Hamilton is a graduate of Texas Tech in Industrial Engineering. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, president of Bledsoe Hall and a member of the Tech swimming team. He will attend law school at Baylor University this fall. He received his discharge from the United States Army in June.

W.S.C.S. has Panel On United Nations

"The United Nations Family" was topic of a panel presentation by four W.S.C.S. members at the General Meeting held Tuesday evening, July 2, in the Methodist educational building.

Mrs. N. B. McMahan, program leader, gave the prayer, scripture reading and introduction to the program. Panel members were Mesdames John Hamilton, Charlie Keith and Melvin Meason and Miss Mary Slover. Mrs. Hamilton told of how the UN has helped a farmer, doctor and laborer; Mrs. Keith gave testimonies of the mailman, telephone operator, child welfare worker and scientist; Miss Slover, the teacher, weather man and airline pilot; and Mrs. Meason presented the work of UNESCO.

Mrs. C. T. Jinkins gave the closing prayer, and Mrs. Fred Simpson, president, presided for a business session.

Others attending were Mesdames Olive Russell, W. B. Vaughn, Sterling Price, Vance Gilbreath, A. J. Daffern, Ethel Payne, Henry Ford, Roy Patterson and Myrtle Stubblefield.

ATTEND WMU CAMP

Mrs. Miller Robinson and Mrs. James Price attended WMU Camp at Plains Baptist Assembly, Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Price is president of the Matador W. M. U. and Mrs. Robinson is Youth Director.

Mrs. G. E. Hamilton had as her guest, her cousin, Mrs. R. M. Tadlock of Fort Worth, who spent a week visiting in her home.

IN THE ROUGH by hazel

OOOo! There's PLENTY that I don't know about this game of golf — but I do know there is no such thing as a scoreless handicap!

Who would've thought that a little old comma after "score", at the end of a line of copy could prevent such an upheaval in meaning.

Since our play day fell on the 4th of July, there weren't many players out Thursday morn. These ladies were playing — Lillian Thacker, Jane Thacker, Hazel Donovan, Louise Barton, and Vivian Campbell.

As was mentioned, we were playing for low net, and Vivian won the ball, with a score of 39.

One of our popular gals was sporting a new De-Luxe golf cart, bag, n'everything — even has a seat — to rest between plays... looks like fun to use...

A number of men took advantage of the holiday and were out early to enjoy the game... several couples played in the afternoon, including the Alfred Bartons and Bundy Campbells. Laverna Price also played.

"I've been reading — with interest — about the golf activities there," writes Edna (Mrs. B. F.) Tunnell from Orosi, Calif., former Matador resident. "I wish I could have had some fun when I lived there. Now somehow, I just do not enjoy golf too much. We belong to a golf club and my better half plays a lot of golf. We both are left-handed which people think is quite interesting."

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Nall and daughter, Mary Beth of Ira, visited here briefly Friday, and they were en route to Ft. Worth to attend Homecoming and to visit her mother, Mrs. Lazz Pyron. Mrs. Nall is the former Bonnie Ruth Crowell.

Rev. and Mrs. Ed Spivey and small son, Kevin of Lefort, were guests overnight Wednesday, and through Thursday. Rev. and Mrs. Miller Robinson and John Lloyd Rev. Spivey is a former Baptist pastor of Ft. Worth.

Rev. and Mrs. Roy Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson and daughters spent the afternoon of the 4th at Lane's Lake near Clarendon and also visited in the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. V. Patterson and daughters at Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pohl visited in Slaton during the July holiday, with Mr. and Mrs. B. Castleberry. Their daughter, Carolyn, who is employed at Harlon Engineering Co., in Lubbock, joined them.

Visiting Mrs. George Springs this week are two granddaughters, Ann and Nancy Morrison of Millsap, near Fort Worth.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Barkley were his sisters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Landers of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stallworth of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Carroll of Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no anti-freeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

PIED PINIONS

By Mrs. M.

POST-MORTEM ON THE FOURTH: I was glad to note that a number of area towns and cities had an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration, with fireworks. I am filled with nostalgia on this date because one of my earliest recollections has to do with a big picnic.

The little sawmill town of Deering, Mo. had built a city park with swings and see-saws, and had a celebration for the opening. World War I was still going on, and everyone was very patriotic. A special train ran from Caruthersville, the County Seat of Pemiscot County, 17 miles away, and a large delegation came for the park opening. There was band music, and people wore paper hats of stars and stripes, sort of like those you see on pictures of George Washington, and there was a photographer with a little booth, prepared to take on-the-scene mug shots. It was a big day, with ice cream and soda pop, and climaxed with a display of fireworks such as these eyes had never seen. . . Niagara Falls in all its splendor could scarcely be more magnificent!

Thursday, a number of flags were displayed downtown, but not at every place of business. It was nice to see a flag flying from the porch of the Odis Killingsworth home, and was a reminder that many homes displayed flags during the war, so why not during peace also. A few firecrackers popped in the neighborhood, and that was the extent of Independence Day observance in Matador.

At 820 Hackberry we were lazy and after dilly-dallying around for several hours, I finally got down to the business of posting books. Before starting on statements however, I succumbed to the idea which had been lurking in the back of my head, to make some good, old-fashioned homemade ice cream. Like all other ideas outside of regular routine, this one became a PROJECT, and it was around Twilight Zone time before we finally dished it up to enjoy with the TV re-runs.

Since homemade ice cream is one of my cardinal weaknesses, I over-estimated my capacity and suffered the consequences with a good, old-fashioned stomach-ache.

HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS

From Your State Capital
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX. — County tax assessor-collectors are meeting here to try to untangle the poll tax puzzle.

It seems that the Legislature created a snarl which will hit the county tax assessor-collectors about October 1. That's the date when people begin paying poll taxes and getting exemption certificates.

In a special election on November 9, voters will decide whether or not they want to repeal the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

If they repeal it, a new law will go into effect, setting up a 25c registration fee.

To make matters more complicated, the November 9 vote really would not repeal the poll tax. In theory, it still would be due and payable. But many are expected to pay the tax if the voting privilege is removed from it.

If the tax assessor-collectors solve their problem this fall, by waiting until after November 9 to fill out and mail poll tax receipts, they may face another crisis in the spring. This because 36 states already have passed a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting for president, vice president, U. S. senators and congressmen.

In January, Arizona and South Dakota legislatures will meet and if they pass the amendment, it could be carried to law. In that event, a provision by the Texas Legislature would set up a system by which voters would apply to their harassed county tax assessor-collectors for special registration certificates — at no charge — to vote on races involving only federal offices.

Another Junior College?

Board of Education has authorized a Travis County junior college election. But it turned down an application for a Scurry County junior college. Turn-down came after a committee said the oil-rich area could afford a college, but could not dig up enough students to meet state board requirements.

In its refusal report the committee implied that the board may change its criteria for establishing junior colleges after the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School makes its recommendations in August of 1964.

Currently, the board requires proof that taxpayers in the district can support a public junior college. But it also requires a minimum of 500 students.

Tight Little Island

State Highway Department has discovered an island of Mexico in the heart of El Paso.

Highway department claims that there is a quarter-mile section of U. S. Highway 80 in El Paso where you can drive through Texas and see Old Mexico with one eye and New Mexico with the other eye.

Department says Cordova Island became a Mexican oasis in the Texas city of El Paso under the Guadalupe Hidalgo Treaty in 1848. Treaty provided that artificial changes in the Rio Grande's course would not affect Cordova Island's boundary. Now that the meandering river has changed its course the island is surrounded by American soil.

Migrant School Experiment

Five school districts will be able to take part in a pilot program of six-month school sessions for the children of migrant workers during the 1963-64 school year. That is if the Texas Education Agency can find five districts that can handle the program.

San Benito and Edinburg school districts are ready to participate. McAllen and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo districts are readying proposals to submit to the State Board of Education.

Pilot program would be an experiment. Hope is to solve the problem of educating children of migrant laborers who are on the move so much that their youngsters miss almost as much school as they attend.

★ COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

4-H Club Girls Present Program

The Progressive Home Demonstration Club of Afton heard a program presented by Dickens County 4-H Club girls, Tuesday, July 2, at the home of Mrs. Curtis Goodwin.

Meeting was called to order at 3:00 p.m. by Mrs. Buck Pruitt, and roll call was answered with, "What I like best about life in America." Opening exercise, a "Prayer of Thanks," was read by Mrs. Bill Myers.

The program by the 4-H girls included a demonstration on "Good Grooming," by Mary Jackson and Melinda Ligon, and "Causes of Fires in the home," presented by Nancy Bridge and Donna Adcock.

Eight members, four visitors, and those mentioned above were present. The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Peyton Legg. Secret pals were revealed and gifts were exchanged.

Next meeting of the club will be at 3:00 p.m. on July 16 at the home of Mrs. David Y. Hughes.
