Jo Ann's Jots & Jingles

The greatest gift of God to man was His son. The next greatest gift of God to man is a child. With this gift comes responsibility to parents. Food, shelter, clothing and education

THE SOUL OF A CHILD

A child is a precious gift to God. His creation by heaven's nod. A child is a tiny bud of a flower. And must grow from frailty to power. The child begins as a plant - tender and rare And blossoms and sweetens with care. But neglected he's ragged and wild - Oh, tend that precious soul of a child!! Oh, parent, be faithful and give him a share Of love, of warmth, of tender care. As a garden is protected from frost and blight Give that child a heavenly light For the day comes when you don't have to be told He is not a child but a full grown soul.

Arts & Crafts Fair

Love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave; the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame. Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it; if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be condemned. (Song 8: 6, 7)

"Son Beams"

By June Keltz

Do you remember the embarrassment at graduation when the awards were presented and your name was never called? You hoped to at least get a certificate of good attendance. Just maybe the teachers would recognize your efforts and vote on you for a minimal scholarship. You did receive your diploma but by now it lost its precedence because there was no reward to accompany it.

There is coming a graduation in Heaven where man will be rewarded for his deeds accomplished here on earth. Most of what we spend our time on will never be recognized as reason for rewards. "Now if any man builds upon the foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw, each man's work will become evident; for the day will show it, because it is to be revealed with fire; and the fire itself will test the quality of each man's work. If any man's work which he has built upon it remains, he shall receive a reward. If any man's work is burned up, he shall suffer loss; but he himself shall be saved, yet so as through fire." (1 Cor. 3:12-15)

Father will reward those who have searched Him out, investigated Him, craved Him and worship Him; Those who have worked to please Him rather than pleasing self or other men; those who have sown seeds of righteousness. He will not overlook the smallest deed. "And whoever in the name of a disciple gives to one of these little ones even a cup of cold water to drink, truly I say to you he shall not lose his reward." (Matt. 10:42)

Jesus reminds us in the last chapter of our Bible, Rev. 22:12, "Behold, I am coming quickly, and my reward is with me, to render to every man according to what he has done."

We rationalize that we don't have time to store up Heavenly rewards and treasures because we must spend all of our time paying our honest debts. Some how we try to separate our daily life from our Christian life but this must not be. Our necessary works must include Jesus who desires to be a part of all that we do. All of our works must be done as unto the Lord to receive those coveted rewards.

KEEP HOLIDAY POUNDS OFF

Thanksgiving is over. You probably ate too much. And Christmas is approaching rapidly. It is important to start thinking now about keeping those unwanted holiday pounds off.

Some planning and a great deal of will power will help you to enjoy the holidays with a "lighter" swing. The key is moderation. Think about the temptation to overeat before and after eating. Decide when you can eat less. Knowing ahead of time what and how much you will eat can make it possible for you to enjoy sweets and desserts without guilt.

Try these ideas for staying in control of your holiday eating:

* Allow yourself to enjoy holiday foods, but make it a rule to turn down second helpings. A taste is really all you need or want.

* If you have the will power, avoid rich desserts and eat fresh fruits.

* When you can't avoid rich desserts, ask for half a serving instead of a whole one or eat only the filling of the pie and not the crust.

* At parties, carry on your conversation away from the snack table.

* Look for fresh fruits and vegetables rather than nuts and chips.

* Plan ahead to limit what you eat at home so you can enjoy holiday eating with your friends.

Hail The Holidays

If you are planning a tree-trimming party or another social event during the holidays, and want to serve an easy-to-make drink, try delightfully refreshing Apricot Tea Cup. This pleasing punch starts with a robust tea base which acts as a catalyst for the fruit juices and white wine with which it is combined. Make it well ahead of time to enable the flavors to "marry." When it's time to serve, put a canned apricot, along with a sugar cube at the bottom of a stemmed glass. . . add a dash or two of aromatic bitters and fill up with the punch. This recipe makes about 2-1/2 quarts.

Apricot Tea Cup

- 2 rounded tablespoons instant tea
- 2 cups cold water
- 1 (6 oz.) can frozen lemonade concentrate, undiluted
- 3 cups pineapple juice
- 2 cups white wine
- 1 (1 lb.) can apricots
- Sugar cubes
- Aromatic bitters
- 1 pint ginger ale, chilled

Add cold water to instant tea; stir to dissolve. Combine in pitcher with undiluted concentrate, pineapple juice and wine; chill. Drain and pit apricots. Add apricot syrup to punch. To serve, place an apricot, sugar cube and generous dash of bitters in stemmed glasses. Add ginger ale to punch and pour into glasses. Makes about 2-1/2 quarts.

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. John 15:17

With the subject, "Far Away Places," South Africa, its past, present and future, was featured in an address by Mrs. Michael Richardson of Dallas when she spoke at a meeting of El Progresso Club, Thursday afternoon, November 13.

The guest day program was held in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church, with many friends of the former Charlotte Campbell attending. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Campbell, Mrs. Richardson was born and reared in Matador and graduated from Matador High School.

Among her many talents is that of story telling which she has developed as a member of the National Story League, Leprechaun Chapter of Dallas. In this role, members entertain jail inmates, residents of retirement facilities, nursing homes and other groups.

She began the program with an allegorical narration featuring a dialogue between a father and his young son, explaining the differences between races of people and landscapes of different countries. During the narration, Mrs. Richardson showed slides which illustrated the story. These included several scenes of this area, and many of South Africa, obtained during a trip to Johannesburg in 1978. Scenes of exotic wild animals, made on a game preserve, and a trip into a gold mine added to the presentation.

"Johannesburg is the Dallas of South Africa," she declared as she described the modern metropolis in glowing terms. "The South Africa we see depicted on television, read about in publications and hear about on the radio today, do not tell the complete story about that area of Southern Africa."

Program On South Africa Given At Meeting of El Progresso Club

Charlotte Campbell Richardson and Mrs. Lila Meador at El Progresso Program.

She conceded that the country is in turmoil because of the political situation stemming from apartheid, as she explained the racial differences involved. "Both blacks and whites are severely divided internally. Besides the two main groups - the British and the Afrikaners, there is also an important Indian (Moslems from India) community, and a colored community, composed principally of Asians."

She compared the current events being publicized in South Africa by the American media, with similar situations in this country, such as riots, strikes, murders and other crimes, noting that "If such scenes were the only publicity sent out to other countries, no one would want to visit the United States."

Though women are not accorded much recognition, they do play an important role in the social customs of the land, according to Mrs. Richardson. The bride's family gives cattle and equipment at a marriage, and if there is a separation later, the wife retains the possessions. The husband's principal duty is to tend the cattle.

In addition to the political situation and social customs of the country, she commented on the economic problems, pointing out the recent sanctions against South Africa, and the withdrawal of major U.S. corporations.

Mrs. Campbell (Lucretia) was leader of the program which was opened by Mrs. Frank (Lola) Pohl who played casio numbers "Dear Hearts and Gentle People," and "Far Away Places."

The speaker was presented by her aunt, Mrs. W.N. Pipkin (Opal), who revealed that Charlotte and her husband, Michael, have four daughters between them, one son, three sons-in-law and one grandchild; and have a residence in Dallas and Salado. Charlotte currently is enrolled in Master of Fine Arts studio arts program at Texas

Woman's University, Denton.

She is a graduate from the University of Texas at Arlington with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree. She teaches "Visual Diaries/An Experience in Art-Making" for the Women's Learning Center in Dallas, in addition to her activities as storyteller, and is a secretary at Hunter Associates, Dallas.

She has traveled extensively with her husband, a banker whose duties take him to foreign countries. Their overseas travels have included Austria, West Germany, East Germany, Belgium, England, Scotland, Netherlands, Italy, Cyprus, Mexico, France, Spain, Portugal, South Africa, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Bolivia, Peru and Venezuela.

Mrs. Richardson brought a display of African handwork which was enjoyed by the club members and guests during a tea following the program when coffee and an assortment of cookies were served. The display included necklaces, pottery, figurines, a painting, stamps and other memorabilia. Center of attraction was a beautiful green silk sari, a gift from friends in Johannesburg.

Mrs. Douglas Meador (Lila) president of El Progresso Club opened the meeting with a business session and called for a report from the Jail-Museum committee, which was given by Mrs. Campbell. She announced plans to have the facility open during the Old Fashioned Christmas observance, Dec. 6, with a tree festooned with old fashioned decorations. The club also will offer baked goods for sale during the day.

Mrs. Meador welcomed Mrs. Joetta Baumgardner into the club as a new member, then adjourned the club for the annual Thanksgiving recess.

GFWC Eternas Study Club Meets

The regular monthly meeting of GFWC Eternas Study Club was held November 20, 1986. The ladies met at the First United Methodist Church parlor with Mrs. Gay Lynn Holt serving as hostess and Mrs. Joyce Creed serving as co-hostess.

Guest speaker was Ms. Jymann Hokanson, Electric Living Consultant for West Texas Utilities. Her program was cooking and decorating ideas from the booklet Holiday Delights 1986. She also gave suggestions on the packaging of foods for gift giving. Everyone appreciated Ms. Hokanson's time and the sharing of her ideas.

After a brief break for refreshments, the business meeting was called to order by Mrs. Wilda Dixon, president. The members elected two new officers and they are: First Vice-President - Mrs. Terri Abbott and Second Vice-President - Mrs. Terree Donaldson. Old Fashioned Christmas, to be held December 6, was discussed as well as the 49th Annual Mother-Daughter Banquet, which will be held January 15, 1987.

Harold V. (Tex) Brown

Services for Harold V. (Tex) Brown, a Floydada native who organized Bob Wills Day in Turkey, were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Yale, Oklahoma.

Mr. Brown, 56, died Wednesday, November 19.

He was a farmer, a World War II veteran and an archaeologist. He founded the Oklahoma Athletic Hall of Fame and the Cimarron Valley Historical Society.

His discovery of the Comanchero dugouts south of Quitaque led to excavations that caused many historians to change their theories as to how and where the Comancheros lived over the years they dealt and traded with the Indians.

Brown also initiated the drive that ended in the return of Jim Thorpe's track marks into the Amateur Athletic Union record books as well as the return of Thorpe's Olympic medals from Sweden.

Brown headed the Oklahoma Athletic Hall of Fame that held annual banquets to recognize professional and amateur athletes from Oklahoma.

A close friend of the late Bob Wills, Brown also organized the Bob Wills Foundation to mark and commemorate Will's contributions to western swing music.

As president of the Cimarron Valley Historical Society at Cushing, Okla., Brown initiated a celebration honoring the late Douglas Meador, longtime publisher of the Matador Tribune.

He presented Meador with a plaque in recognition of his outstanding reputation as a journalist and author of the column "Trail Dust," at a meeting of the West Texas Press Association held here, and attended by friends from over the state. The plaque later was mounted in Pioneer Memorial park by the Matador Garden Club, and formally dedicated by (then) Congressman Jack Hightower during Motley County's Bicentennial celebration in 1976.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Back in the 20's and 30's the US Army had C.M.T.C. camps over all America to train young men for military, I went to Ft. Sill in the late 20's and early 30's there were always around 1500 Texans and Okies there and we lived Army style, tents with wooden floors for a months stay.

I knew many Texans even some from Matador and Spur. Your city had a real Boxer named "Red", wonder if he's still around?

Surely some old Texans will tell me, they used to go up to Citizens Military Training Camps.

CITIZENS MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

Back in the 1920's and 30's our U.S. Army had summer camps all over America for young men. It's a shame we don't have such camps today. In 1930 at Fort Sill, Oklahoma there were 1500 youths from Texas and Oklahoma. Five high school seniors were in tent No. 1, company B, "Big" Tom Wilson, Seminole was heavy weight champion of the entire camp. John Axton, Idapel (Hoyt's dad) was champion high jumper. Bob Davis, Locust Grove was sprint King, Lonza Kirk was on the champion basketball team, Neal Blair placed in swimming. The latter two boys were from LeFore Co. Who else ever went to C.M.T. Camp?

A delicious meal was served by Lion Walter Jones in the First United Methodist Church, Tuesday December 2 with nine guest and twenty-five members present.

The meeting was called to order and the Tailwister Charlie Johnson was fined for starting his fines to early.

The Lions finally reached the North Pole and asked Santa Clause to be in Matador this Saturday, December 6 at the Motley County Library at 9:30 - 12:00 noon.

The Lions have voted to send $1.00 per member to Girlstown.

Lion Floyd Richardson of Crosbyton, the Deputy District Governor at Large of Area 2 introduced the District 2-T2 Governor Max von Roeder of Snyder. Governor von Roeder gave a brief description of what the Lions Clubs are doing. First of all the new International Lions President is from Sweden and his slogan for 86-87 is "Bring Quality to Life." He asked, "Is Matador, Texas a better place to live, because of the Lions Club here?" Projects he encouraged the club to be aware of and are to be used are the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerville, the Leader Dog School for the blind, War on Drugs, to help educate children of all ages, a Youth Exchange program to help promote international communication. All these are to bring "Quality to Life."

Governor von Roeder stressed that membership was down in the Lions Clubs and he challenged and urged Lions to bring new members and be fully committed to the Lions program.

Other guests present were Robert Webb of Crosbyton, D.V. Merritt, C.A. McCown, Horace Bostick and Cecil J. Boren of Snyder and Dr. Pat Williams.

Touchy taste buds

Are you a person of taste? Do you have good "thresholds" and a discriminating palate?

If so, you may have what it takes to become a trained sensory evaluator.

Companies are increasingly relying on sensory evaluation to test products that have new flavors, formulas or processing techniques.

Nabisco Brands, Inc.'s sensory evaluation unit relies heavily on employee volunteers. Most employees agree to test products for the satisfaction of helping the company develop and maintain high quality brands, according to Judith Heylman, head of sensory evaluation for the company.

Heylman says employee testers are carefully trained in the process. For sensory evaluators, identifying a difference among products is only half the battle.

They must also be able to pinpoint the nature of the differences. It is a matter of discrimination and "thresholds" — being able to narrowly distinguish tastes and flavors, she says.

Novice evaluators are first tested in sweet, sour, salt and bitter — the "primary colors" of taste. Since aroma accounts for 80 percent of the tasting process, the evaluators are carefully tested on odors like vanilla, anise, orange and chocolate, Heylman says. Through painstaking repetition, evaluators learn to identify hundreds of basic tastes and flavor notes.

"Evaluators are particularly important to us in maintaining consistency," says Heylman. "Our consumers want their Oreos to taste like Oreos time after time. We work very hard in sensory evaluation to make sure the product doesn't change."

THE LOBO WOLF Part 1

The Lobo, commonly called the Loafer-Wolf, were plentiful over most of the West Texas Cattle ranges, but entirely too numerous in the rough breaks land, extending eastward from the Caprock of the plains.

They were by far the worst wild animal the cowman had to contend with. The Loafer, like a cowman, was fond of red beef. He also wanted it lined with a generous coat of tallow. Both preferred it fresh, hot and steaming, though the Lobo took his beef raw, while the cowman wanted his beefsteak heated artificially, the Lobo preferred his steak with animal heat.

It was self-evident that the loafer was a good picker. He knew beef on the hoof and unless it was mightily scarce, always got one of the best.

The Loafer was not a carrion eater, at least he never was, if anything fresh could be brought down. He ate when hungry, but ate his own killing and that made them a wasteful and destructive beef consumer.

They ranged in packs, pairs or singly. Next after a good fat calf, two-year-old steers were a favorite choice with them.

Occasionally a two-year old steer could be found alive with a round steak missing, presumed to have been attacked by just one wolf. If so, he got his breakfast on the run without killing, and left the ox crippled for life.

After making a kill and feeding, they had a peculiar habit of howling. Always howled, it was thought, to call a mate that might be hungry. Aside from that time, they were quiet and howled but little. The sound of their howl, from a distance, was a long drawn-out moan, more or less distressing to hear. If close by, the howl carried a twisting whine terminus, not heard from afar. If the Loafers were plentiful, their howls might be heard all through the night and from devious directions. It usually meant the slaying had been bounteous.

By reason of their natures, to eat what they killed themselves made it next to impossible to kill them with poison. To catch them in traps was also difficult to do. You had to know your business when you trapped for Loafers. The novice usually wasted his time and effort.

The Loafer-wolves were largely exterminated in the early spring by locating their dens and getting the pups. If you got the pups, you could as a rule get the mother wolf also. The dog or male wolf was a little more difficult and generally was left to continue his trespassing. The constant attrition in time thinned them, and they are practically exterminated.

The Lobo-wolf of the West was of a tawny grey color, a camouflaged color resembling the cured grasses he walked upon. If not moving, it was easy to look right by him and yet not see him.

The name "Lobo" is a misnomer. It means black or negro in Spanish, and I suspect was meant to describe the large black timber wolf found in other parts of Texas. True, occasionally a black one was found among the loafers, though they were very rare and tawny greyish color predominated. Grown Loafers varied in size, the female averaging around eighty pounds, while dogs reached a hundred pounds and upward. They had long keen teeth that could slit a cowhide as easily as could a razor.

The Loafer abounded along the caprock, in the Rough Creek and Slick-nasty Creek breaks, amid the dreaded Croton, Cuba and Little Arizona terrain, the Pease River breaks country around their junction and the cattish territory in the ox range, which was another harbor for Loafers. They were everywhere, but a little worse in the mentioned protected places.

Part 2, Next Week.

Incontinence—Time To Stop Suffering In Silence

A health problem afflicting ten million people—84 percent of them women—could be cured in many cases if only these people would consult a doctor.

The condition is urinary incontinence, the involuntary loss of urine. It's not a disease, but a symptom of an underlying medical problem. When the problem is corrected so is the incontinence.

Sometimes something as simple as Jeter antibiotics or exercise is the answer. There are many ways incontinent people can manage the problem more effectively.

Because many incontinent people feel embarrassed about their condition, they hesitate to discuss it even with a physician. As a result, the underlying problem is not treated and cases which can be alleviated or cured are not.

An organization called Help for Incontinent People (HIP) was organized by Dr. Katherine F. Jeter in 1983 to assist those with bladder problems and promote public understanding and professional education. Services include a quarterly newsletter called "The Hip Report" to answer many questions from consumers and professionals. For a free copy of the newsletter, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: HIP, P.O. Box 544, Union, S.C. 29379.

Cordially yours

Medieval monks and ancient alchemists thought the spirited concoctions would cure ailments and promote longevity. Egyptians used them to aid digestion. Other experimenters toyed with special blends said to turn the heart of a fair young maiden.

Whatever their use, jewel-colored cordials, or liqueurs, go back a long way. Today no one attributes much mystical power to cordials, but many of the spirits still seem to retain an aura of romance.

According to one manufacturer, Heublein Inc., cordials are one of the fastest growing spirits categories in America today. The company says that cordials' flavorings, including fruit, seeds, flowers and roots, can be mixed to create subtle nuances and hundreds of different flavor combinations.

For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

Remember When

by Annie B. Cloyd

Gee - its been a good while since I have been here to visit with you about old times here in Flomot, so I'll try to think back on some things I have heard lately about Mr. Hudson's store and some birds that stayed there. They belonged to a Mr. Hunt that worked there.

Seems these birds were parrots and they could talk too. I heard that Mr. Hunt would let them out the back of the store and they would walk up and down on the wood-pile and fuss and say "Hello" along with a lot of other words that didn't set too good with some folks, because they were some bad "cuss-words".

I never could figure out just how birds can talk but I know they can because I had a parakeet that could talk but it took a lot of time and effort to ever get him to say the first words. Then he tried to say everything he heard, and did a pretty good job of it too.

I heard my Daddy tell of some folks that had a boarding-house close to the Railroad station back home and they had an old parrot that sat on a swing on the front porch and talked to every body that came in. Said that bird had a few choice "cuss-words" that picked up from the men that stayed there while they worked on the railroad.

Well, enough about the birds. Someone asked me about the Texas Centennial in 1936 and wondered if folks remembered catching the train in Quitaque and going to Dallas to the big affair. I think the trainfare was reduced for the special occasion.

If you were one of the folks to ride the train to Dallas and go to the first Centennial celebration - why don't you let me know and we'll put you name with some that I have. I'll try to get more names and find out some things that happened while they were in the big city at that time. I was told that some things that happened while they were in the big city at that time. I was told that some of the boys almost got into trouble while there. But that can happen when a bunch of kids from a small place get to a big city where folks in "Side-shows" at the Fairs try to take advantage of them.

Better stop now and will try to get back with more things that happened along the Alamosa Creek, here in Flomot. We'll remember more names of the folks that went on the train trip also.

My address is Box 22, Flomot, Tx.

"I am sending you to them to open their eyes and turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, so that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me."

The house was unoccupied.

85% of Motley County Land Highly Erodible

A list of highly erodible and potentially highly erodible soils was released this week by the USDA Soil Conservation Service as mandated by the Food Security Act of 1985.

The list revealed that nearly 85 percent of the land in Motley County is highly erodible and five percent is potentially highly erodible.

The conservation compliance provisions of the Act denies most USDA farm program benefits to farmers who farm highly erodible land unless the land is being farmed in accordance with a conservation plan approved by the local conservation district.

The Act allows a grace period for those who are not using a conservation plan. They have until January 1, 1990 to develop and begin actively applying a plan. They have until January 1, 1995 to have the plan fully in effect.

The provisions will have no effect on farmers who are using up-to-date conservation plans. If you are farming highly erodible land with a conservation plan, check with your local Soil Conservation Service office to find out if it meets conservation compliance provisions.

Onsite field visits will be needed on land classified as potentially highly erodible to determine if it is highly erodible. Actual steepness of slope and length of slope will affect final determinations. If the land is not highly erodible, a conservation plan will not be required to continue receiving farm program benefits.

"We are ready to help anyone prepare a conservation plan that doesn't have one," James Gillespie, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service at Matador said. "We will do our best to try to help people figure out how to apply enough conservation practices to keep them in compliance with the 1985 farm bill."

Such plans may include wind strips, windbreaks, crop rotations, crop residue management, terraces, contour farming, and other measures.

Farmers with highly erodible land may also want to consider placing it in the conservation reserve, Gillespie said.

DPS News Release

Capt. Bob Russell, District Supervisor of the Amarillo Highway Patrol District comprising of 31 counties said, "For the month of October, our troopers investigated 9 fatal accidents, 83 personal injury accidents, and 106 property damage accidents. There were 11 persons killed and 110 persons injured in these accidents."

Sgt. Brad Parker of Tulia stated, "In Motley County, our troopers investigated no fatal accidents, 3 personal injury accidents, and 2 property damage accidents in the month of October. No persons were killed and 3 persons were injured in these accidents."

To allow more cabinet space for canned goods, keep an extra bread box in the kitchen just for the baby's special foods.

The interim rule laying out regulations for implementing the 1986 disaster program was published in the November 19 Federal Register. Interested parties have 15 days from that date, until December 4, to submit comments.

Generally, the program makes a total of $400 million available for payments to eligible producers who suffered crop losses of over 50 percent in 1986 due to drought, hail, excessive moisture or heat. If the $400 million isn't enough to cover all approved payment applications, which almost certainly will be the case, the rule says payments may be made proportionately according to a "factor." Presumably the factor would be determined by the ratio of available funds to total payments due.

"The process of seeking more adequate funding for the program is already under way," according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, "but the outcome of that effort obviously won't be known for some time."

Disaster payment applications will be accepted by county ASCS offices during the period January 11 through January 30, 1987, after which USDA has 45 days in which to issue the generic commodity certificates required by law.

The uncertainty of adequate funding plus the delay in accepting and approving applications, Johnson points out, "simply means it may be well into February and maybe March before we'll know just how much help the program is going to be."

To be eligible for disaster payments, producers who lost over 50 percent of crop production in 1986 must be in compliance with 1986 program provisions and be in a country declared a disaster area. According to Texas Governor Mark White's office, as of mid-November, 14 of PCG's 25 counties had been approved for disaster declarations and another nine were pending. Only Deaf Smith and Swisher Counties were missing from the list.

It was reported earlier that disaster payments would be reduced by the amount of the net insurance indemnity received by a producer. But that information now appears to have been wrong. The interim rule states that total disaster payments plus insurance indemnity may not exceed the disaster payment rate (which is the county loan rate) times 100 percent of the farm's program payment yield. Also, the sum of disaster payments plus loans or purchases made on a crop may not exceed the disaster payment rate times farm program yield, nor can payments to any one producer exceed $100,000.

Within these limitations disaster payments are to equal eligible loss (50% of payment yield less actual production) times the county loan rate for the crop.

"Actual production" is defined by the interim rule as the quantity "actually harvested or which could have been harvested," as determined by the county ASCS committee "in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator of State and County ASCS Operations."

That language leaves some doubt about the factors to be considered in determining what "could have been harvested," Johnson says, "and it's something I think will get quite a bit of attention during the comment period."

Comment should be addressed to Directory, Emergency Operations and Livestock Programs Division, ASCS, USDA, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, DC 20013.

P.T.O. Notes

by Opal Johnson

Second general meeting of the PTO was held Thursday, November 20, in the agriculture room at the school house. Bonita Barton gave a report of proceeds from the carnival and Mr. Cummings reported on progress of the new building. A decision was made to hold any action concerning playground equipment until we are certain of any help from money that might be designated for such from the federal government; whenever that might be forthcoming.

The Christmas caroling project was discussed. Mr. Ewing will work with the student council to set a date. President Kathy Gillespie reported that money (not committed to playground equipment) might be used for maps and/or computers. It has been suggested that a suggestion box might be placed in the school for more input into this expenditure.

The program was presented by Haden Moore. He gave some interesting facts about special education; who qualifies, the extent of time for qualifiers, and the expense involved and how it is handled.

Refreshments of tea and cookies were enjoyed by those present.

As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. (Luke 6: 31)

Matadors Begin Year With Victory

The Motley County Matadors are off to a good start this year. They now stand 3-0.

They played Lockney, Tuesday, November 18. The Matadors came away with a victory beating the Longhorns 48-41. Rodney Doran led the team with 16 points. David Zarate put in 13. Jeffery Burkes had 10. Gilbert Hernandez had 5. Brandon Eddleman and Joe Bowden had 2 each.

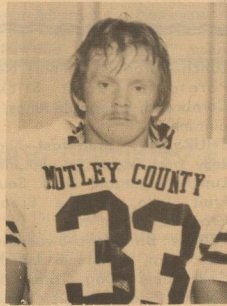

The Matadors next competitor was Loraine. They battled out a 64-60 victory after two overtimes. Burkes led the Matadors with 26 points. Eddleman had 18. Doran had 9. Hernandez had 5. Bowden had 4. Mark Roys had 2.

Their third consecutive victory was achieved from Lakeview. The final score was 58-43. Doran had 34 points. He hit 20 of 25 free throws. Zarate had 7. Burkes had 6, Hernandez and Roys had 4 each, Eddleman had 3.

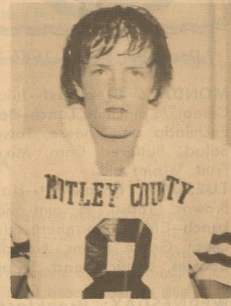

Motley County Boys played Weinert Tuesday and will compete in the Kress Tournament, December 4-6.

All District Team Selected

By Coach Chip Hollenback

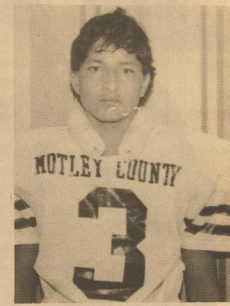

Rodney Doran

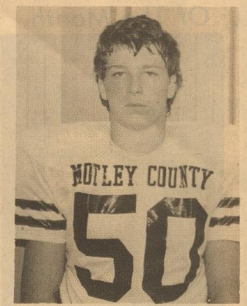

Jeffrey Burkes

Tim Kendall

David Trevino

Jarrett Jameson

Several members of the 1986 Motley County High School Football Team were honored recently by district football coaches in their selection of the 1986 5A North Zone All District Football Team. Rodney Doran topped the list for Motley County in being elected 1st Team All District Linebacker and 2nd Team All District Running Back. Rodney was the leading tackler for the Matador Defense and the leading rusher for the Matador Offense. Tim Kendall's hard work in the off season and over the summer months not only resulted in an improved performance, but also resulted in his selection as 2nd Team All District Defensive Tackle and Honorable Mention All District Offensive Guard.

Jeffrey Burkes was elected 2nd Team All District Defensive Safety. Jeffrey led the team in touchdown saving tackles and also deflected several other potential touchdown passes.

Jeffrey also led the Motley County offense in scoring touchdowns and was instrumental in leading Motley County to their victory over McLean.

David Trevino's outstanding pass catching ability was recognized by district coaches in their selection of David as 2nd Team All District Offensive Receiver. David's performance improved each week and this year's experience should pay dividends in the future.

Jarrett Jameson's consistent line play was recognized by district coaches in his being selected Honorable Mention All District Offensive Center, which is exceptional for a freshman football player.

The honors that these young men have received from the district football coaches is another mark in the improvement of the Motley County football program. Although Coach Hollenback was disappointed that more Motley

County players did not receive All District recognition from the other district coaches, he is still very happy and proud for the players who did receive post season honors. "These players are all deserving of the honors they have received. I hope that they and the other members of the team will continue to work hard and improve. This will result in more team success, which will result in even more individual post season honors," stated Hollenback.

Lady Matadors Defeat Lakeview

The Lady Matadors dropped games to Valley 35-38 and Jayton 30-38 before winning over Lakeview 61-50.

Shawna Campbell led all scores against Valley with 19 points, followed by Loretta Cross with 9. Leigh Barton was the only scorer in double figures against Jayton with 11 points, followed by Shawna Campbell with 8 points. Freshman Chandra Campbell compiled 16 points against Lakeview, followed by Joely Ewing with 13 points, Shawna Campbell with 12 points, and Leigh Barton with 10 points.

The win over Lakeview was the first game this year in which more than one Lady Matador, scored in double figures. The balance in scoring provided the largest point total (61) for the year in any one game. The field goal percentage also was much improved as the Lady Matadors hit 47% of their shots from the floor against Lakeview. This is a good improvement compared to an average of about 20% in previous games.

Defense continues to be the strength of the team as the opposing teams are averaging only 42 points per game. Good defensive hustle has been displayed by Koree Campbell, Shanna Lancaster, and Tanya Cummings all season long.

The Lady Matadors next game will be with Lockney at 4:00 p.m. Thursday, December 4 in the annual Kress Tournament.

REVERSE SIGHTS OF JR. HIGH BASKETBALL GAMES

The place of playing the Jr. High Basketball games scheduled to be played in Matador with Patton Springs on Monday, December 8, has been changed. The games on December 8 will be played at Patton Springs, and those scheduled to be played at Patton Springs on January 22 will be played at Motley County High School.

The "little red schoolhouse" was often that color because red was the least expensive paint.

Getting Your Signal Straight on Satellite Dishes

If you are weary of poor television reception or if you live in an area without cable, you may be considering getting your own satellite dish. If you are, you should know that there is a wide range in quality and price. As with any major purchase, you should buy from a reputable dealer with a solid background, and avoid heavy sales pitches and gimmicks.

HOW IT WORKS

Satellite dishes, if installed properly, are calibrated to point in the direction of communications satellites that hover over the earth. These satellites travel through space at the same speed as the earth's rotation. That is why the dish can continuously pick up the satellite's signals by being pointed in the right direction.

My consumer protection division has received complaints from a number of citizens who had trouble because their dishes were not properly installed. Improper installation can result in poor reception—or no reception at all.

PRICE RANGE

My staff also has noticed a very wide range in prices for these dishes. Some advertisers claim they will provide all the necessary items for under $1,500, while other systems may cost up to $5,000. Although a consumer can generally expect to get better quality from a higher priced appliance, that is not always the case. We have received complaints about the highest priced systems as well as cheaper ones. The most important factor is the expertise and reputation of the company selling and installing the system.

SIGNALS SCRAMBLED

Some consumers are purchasing satellite systems in order to avoid paying fees to their local cable companies. Although it is perfectly legal to pick up such signals without payment (for cable) if you have a dish, you should be aware that the cable companies are fighting back. Some companies, such as those that broadcast movies, are scrambling their signals so that only those who pay for cable can receive the signals.

Anyone who buys a dish only to receive "free" signals may find that he has to buy an expensive "unscrambler" in a few years in order to use the dish.

DILUTE SULFURIC ACID DELINTING
(A Delinting Method Which We Feel Is Less Harmful To The Seed)

IS YOUR FUZZY COTTONSEED TESTED FOR QUALITY BEFORE DELINTING?

Oilseed systems tests for quality on your fuzzy cottonseed before it is delinted.

A. MOISTURE TEST: If moisture of fuzzy cottonseed is above 9.5 to 10% moisture the quality of the delinted seed will probably be marginal. The fuzzy seed needs to be in the 7 to 8% moisture range for good quality planting seed.

B. FREE FATTY ACID TEST: The free fatty acid of fuzzy seed, to be used for planting seed, should be below .9 to 1.0%.

C. TETRAZOLIUM TEST: This test is used to determine the percentage of fuzzy seed that will germinate before delinting.

All of these tests help determine the quality of the seed BEFORE delinting and BEFORE you have a delinting charge on marginal seed.

Oilseed Systems Inc., also repeats the tests that are mentioned above on all delinted seed, plus an additional test to determine vigor.

VIGOR TEST: This test was developed by Dr. Norman Hopper at Texas Tech University to determine if a certain lot of planting seed has excellent, good, fair, or poor vigor. This test is done with a combination of warm and cold germinations.

These tests in combination with a seed count per pound will help you determine the amount of good quality seed per 50 lb. bag, which in turn will help you determine planting rates.

We have some good quality carryover seed of popular varieties for sale.

Bring us samples of your carryover seed for a germination test and a vigor test before planting next spring.

NEW TECHNOLOGY IN DENTAL IMPLANTS

What's been called an exciting breakthrough in dental implant technology may be something people with dentures or bridges may like to sink their teeth into. Here's the exciting news.

New implants, coated with a calcium substance are easier to insert, stronger and heal faster than other types of implants. Dental implants stay in the mouth permanently and so function and feel more like real teeth.

The new coated implants were created when researchers at Calcitek developed a calcium mineral substance called hydroxylapatite (HA). The body doesn't reject HA as a foreign substance and the result is a tooth implant that bonds chemically to the jaw bone. These HA coated implants have been shown to heal up to 50 percent faster and be four to five times sturdier than uncoated implants of the same design. The simple two step insertion procedure can be done under local anesthesia in a dentist's office. The implants last about as long as such conventional false teeth as fixed bridges or crowns—from eight to twenty years.

Many of the over 25 million denture wearers in the U.S. experience pain or difficulty with their dentures due to breakdown of the jaw bone. Along with millions of others who have lost teeth and use bridges or crowns, they may enjoy the natural feel of implants. To find out if you could benefit from this new technology, see your dentist.

Planetarium Field Trip Taken

On Tuesday, November 18, the Patton Springs Earth Science class concluded their unit on astronomy with a field trip to the Texas Tech University Planetarium and Museum in Lubbock. The entire class was held captive to the planetarium showing of "Starbound". According to the planetarium staff, "Columbus had his Queen Isabella, his Nina, Pinta and Santa Maria. We have our NASA and the dozens of space craft which have pushed back our frontiers almost to the limits of our imagination. While partially everyone is familiar with the planetary space craft explorers; The Vikings, The Voyagers, The Pioneers...the general public is relatively unfamiliar with the star craft explorers which have given us a New View of the Universe, a New Astronomy. "Starbound" will show you this other side of NASA, and a newly revealed Universe that is spellbinding and awesome, bizarre and wonderful." It was indeed a spellbinding, memorable experience for classroom members: Joe Baeza, Billy Bob Bumpus, Ken Cornett, Stephen Jones, Stephanie Mayfield, Rhonda Smith, Lonnie Williams and teacher, Brenda Karr. They highly recommend everyone going to see "The Star of Christmas", the next planetarium show anytime between November 29 and December 31.

Going crackers?

Blame Josiah Bent

Americans love their crackers served with slabs of cheese, slathered with peanut butter, or sometimes straight from the box. But not many appreciate the efforts of Captain Josiah Bent, the man sometimes credited with being the father of the American cracker.

In 1801, Captain Bent adapted the tough-as-sailcloth hardtack that his Yankee clipper sailors had been eating at sea to the somewhat more refined tastes favored by landlubbers. He developed several types of light, unsweetened biscuits, and called them "crackers" because of the noise they made. Loading his saddlebags with his new product, Captain Bent became the country's first traveling cracker salesman.

Today there are more than 280 brands of crackers sold in the United States alone. And what became of Captain Bent? His kitchen bakery became part of the National Biscuit Company—known today as Nabisco Brands—one of the world's largest cracker producers.
