HOME TOWN TALK

Will Rogers is one of the most intelligent men in the world, to our way of thinking. He kids senators, presidents and a lot of other big men. But the truth is he could be an awfully good senator or a leading man in most any other political or business line if he wanted to be.

The funny thing is that Will misspelled it himself. In his article Will said we didn't spell it as follows: "Big Springs." Matter of fact he misspelled it himself by using that final S.

Will might not have liked it because we reported some little things he said about Alfalfa Bill Murray, Clara Bow, Herbert Hoover and others. Don't know. But we do know that the Associated Press story published in those every large paper in the United States under the Big Spring headline was accurate insofar as what Will had to say during the few minutes he chatted with Big Spring men, and three women.

Dr. Ellington, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Earnest, Mrs. Talley, C. T. Watson and some more guys who also talked to Will might testify that the general conversation was pretty accurately reported.

If Howard county does not have sufficient court time it should get it. If the bill already filed is not the last one to remedy the local situation it ought to be changed. But if it will help things it ought to be supported by all lawyers.

Hope the entire local bar will try to solve the local court problem. The county commissioners court may have some right to express its opinion.

Independent Oil Session Report Includes Talks

Included in the sessions held last week in Washington, D. C., by representatives of independent operators of 18 states, including a strong representation from Texas, the following things were said:

In the early part of 1929 Mr. M. L. Requa, reported at the time to be acting in behalf of President Hoover, called upon the governors of the several oil-producing states to enlist their aid in holding a conference of the petroleum industry, and later called such a conference to meet at Colorado Springs, Colorado, on June 10, 1929. This conference was attended by several of the governors and also by a large number of delegates from the various oil-producing states, representing all branches of the industry. The conference was opened by Mr. Requa, with a statement of the aims thereof. Dr. Wilbur, secretary of the interior, again announced the conservation policies of the federal oil conservation board, and Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey, among other things stated, in substance, that the next ten years would in all probability see the exhaustion of our petroleum reserves to the point of endangering national defense. The doctrine of conservation was again expounded, and the delegates representing the various states were asked to form a compact among the states producing oil, which compact, when adopted and approved by congress, would become the supreme law of the land; a commission would be appointed under the authority of the compact, with power to regulate and control the production of oil, to determine how much oil should be produced within the United States and to allocate that production among the several oil producing states.

When it became apparent that the real purpose of the meeting was not conservation in its real and accepted sense, but that the purpose was, by degrees and from time to time, to reduce the production of oil in the United States, and reserve our supplies in the ground for an indefinite period to come, and at the same time import our requirements in large part from foreign countries, the Colorado Springs conference adjourned, without having accomplished anything whatever toward the consummation of the purpose for which it was called.

Effects

However, this conference had far-reaching effects. It revealed in all its hideousness, to the rank and file of the petroleum industry of the true intent and purpose of those who had been fostering and promoting the so-called conservation program, to stop development, to reserve our oil supplies in the ground, to be developed and used after the foreign supplies have been exhausted, to reduce the production of petroleum in the United States (approximately 70 per cent of the markets of the world) over to a few large companies engaged in exploiting the petroleum resources of South America and in importing the production thereof into the United States. If there has been any doubt as to these intents and purposes in the past, all doubt must now be dispelled, since under date of January 6, 1931, Secretary Wilbur, after having received an invitation from the governors of Oklahoma and Kansas to participate in this conference, gave to the Associated Press an interview declaring himself against a tariff on oil, and saying, if he is correctly quoted by the press: "The chief result would be that the big companies, which now have many wells shut in and not in operation, would open them up, adding to the production. Over production is the basic ill of the industry."

It might be pertinent at this time to inquire what big companies have advised Secretary Wilbur in advance as to how they would defeat any beneficial results from a tariff on oil. The honorable secretary also said: "In the future the country with the oil will dominate the wealth. America must conserve her supply. If we waste our oil reserves now we will pay

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that on the Second Monday in February 1931, which is the 9th day of February 1931, at ten o'clock A. M. on said date at the court house in Garden City, Glasscock county, Texas, the Commissioners of said County will receive sealed proposals from banking corporations, associations or individual bankers desiring to be selected as the depository of the funds of Glasscock county, Texas.

Bad Stomach Cause of Bad Skin

You can't expect to have a good clear, fresh-looking complexion if your stomach is weak and disordered.

Undigested food sends poisons through your whole body, pimples appear in your face, skin grows scaly and muddy and loses its color. Your tongue becomes coated, breath most unpleasant. But these troubles will end quickly and skin clear up if you will start today taking that simple herbal compound known to druggists as Tanlac.

Tanlac contains nothing but herbs, barks and roots which have a cleansing, healing effect on a poor upset stomach. Just a teaspoonful before each meal stimulates the digestion naturally so that you can eat what you want without fear of distress. And when your stomach is in good shape again you see how much clearer your appetite is—grow how quickly skin begins to grow free of disfiguring eruptions. The cost of Tanlac is less than 2c a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

Ralph Guldahl Car Race Crash Is Fatal To Driver

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26 (AP) - With one year of professional play behind him, Ralph Guldahl was homeward bound for Texas today with $2,700 as his earnings in competition with the country's leading players.

The 19-year-old Dallas youth headed for San Antonio and the open tournament there where he stepped out of the amateur ranks twelve months ago and took up the gold trail of the fairways.

Yesterday Ralph matched his best shots against the seasoned pro from New York, Tony Manero, and won the final 36-hole match in the motion picture $2,200 tournament at the Riviera Country Club one up. His first place prize was $1,000.

It was his first championship, although he made an auspicious start in the San Antonio open winning $875. He collected $296 at St. Louis, $55 at Portland, $163 at Santa Monica, $75 at Pasadena, $75 at San Francisco, and $375 at Agua Caliente.

Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente pro and former P.G.A. and Canadian champion, said for the benefit of all that this lad Guldahl was going places in golfing.

"He is a great putter," Diegel said. "He drives as well as any of us."

Manero had Guldahl two down after nine holes yesterday and increased the advantage to three down on the tenth, yet Guldahl finished the first eighteen one up due to a uncermoin putting touch. Tony had three putted three greens Guldahl shot 75 over the par 71 course, compared with Manero's 76.

OTTO REISELT LEADS TOURNEY

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP) - Otto Reisel, fiery tempered artist from Philadelphia, held undisputed possession of first place today in the hard tussle for the world's three-cushion billiard championship with the only perfect record in the week-long tournament.

The Philadelphian, who lost the title in 1926, loafed into exclusive possession of the leadership yesterday on the strength of four victories as two Chicagoans, Allen Hall and Arthur Thurnblad, received their first setbacks.

Thurnblad lost his first game in five starts, 90 to 49, to the defending champion, Johnny Laiton of Sedalia, Mo., while Hall suffered his first defeat in four matches, 50 to 47, at the hands of the veteran Cliff Denton of Kansas City. Laiton's victory sent him into a tie for second place with Thurnblad with a record of four victories and one defeat while Hall dropped to fourth.

In a match for cellar honors, Hess Jacobs of St. Louis defeated Charles Jordan of Los Angeles, 50 to 48, in 70 innings.

Reisel meets Hall in the feature match tonight. Other matches are Jacobs vs. Frank Scoville of Buffalo and Denton versus Jordan.

Leading Southwest Conference Loopers Are Idle This Week

Contenders To Resort To Books

Roy Henderson, the power that is in the Intercollegiate League, has spoken. In a lengthy interview appearing in the Dallas News Sunday, Henderson brings a most concrete discussion on high school athletics to a close with the suggested remedies. They follow:

1. Further strengthen eligibility rules so that the average, bona fide, home-town student cannot be replaced by an imported player.
2. Limit the number of school days that an athletic team may be absent from school.
3. Prohibit the payment of any part of the coach's salary by any agency outside of the school.
4. Make intercollegiate athletics simply a part of a well-rounded system of physical education for all.
5. Absolute faculty control in matters of eligibility and arrangements for games.

It's the same old story, in the same old way. Probably these five suggestions have been made dozens of times before. Whenever the one-year eligibility ruling is approved, then, and only then, will anything have been done about it. And the rule is coming, not this year, maybe, but by 1932 at the latest. And there is little reason why it should not be this year.

Jalid Artz is back in the picture. The old Fort Worth institution, after serving a term in Dallas, is with the Shreveport Sports this year. For some reason, Artz will never look very natural outside of a Panther City ball park. He was there so long, and did so well, that he became a part of the Fort Worth landscape. The old scrapper will be closely watched this year. Shreveport is handing out the raw cash in an effort to win a few titles, or one maybe.

The Steers will rest tonight, only to resume operations Tuesday night with the Colorado Wolves, unshaking the competition. Which reminds us that the scoring ability of this department and Mr. Sweeney, the official scorer of the Steer campment, was questioned somewhat by Mr. Leo's Williams, the Steer high jumper. Saturday was informed by Mr. Sweeney that Elmer Pardue had two personal fouls, and only two. Whereupon, Mr. Williams expressed doubt. And it followed as the night the day that Mr. Sweeney, in his high tone, and us following through with a very low bass, told Mr. Williams that we couldn't absolutely and positively couldn't be in error.

HELPFUL HINTS

For starch solution.

For fruit, coffee, punch stains, etc., stretch the spotted portions tightly over a bowl and pour rapidly boiling water through, from a kettle held a foot and a half above it.

For chocolate, follow the same procedure, but use molasses with cold water and borax. For blood stains, use soap and cold water; for ink and iron rust, use oxalic acid diluted with an equal amount of cold water; put on with a medicine dropper, rinse, repeat, rinse again, and wash.

Cream stains, or any greasy stains should be removed as soon as possible. If sponging with soap and water is not effective, try washing in baking soda solution or use a cleaning fluid.

Stains in cloth which has become starched will usually come out more quickly than in unsearched materials; and the boiling water method is usually efficacious for it also solves the starch and the stain comes with it.

Ironing Hints

Before ironing, sprinkle evenly; use a clean white broom if you do not own a sprinkler. Ease in ironing depends largely in smooth rolling. After sprinkling, wrap apparel in cloths and let stand several hours. Iron with the warp, not round and round until thoroughly dry. Crease as little as possible, store smaller cloths on runners on cardboard rollers. Learn to 'ron with both hands.

Twelve ski jumpers competed in the first national tournament near Chicago in 1926. There were 50 spectators. This year 50,000 persons watched several hundred competitors.

Since 1900 University of Illinois baseball teams have won the Western conference championship 16 times.

Two Chicago robbers held up six taxicab drivers at the same corner the same night, but accented two policemen on their seventh attempt.

Colorado Wolves, With Defeat of Abilene Eagles Behind Them, Set For Clash With Longhorn Cagers

With the beaks of the Abilene Eagles dangling from their belts, the Colorado Wolves will storm the portals of the local high school gymnasium Tuesday night for a return clash with the fast moving Steer cagers.

In the initial conflict between the two teams, the Steers won easily, taking the contest 27 to 15. The game was played at Colorado.

FILLING BIG SHOES

Stewart, six feet two inches tall, four inches shorter than Murphy, has some tin to make the Lafayette, Ind., school forget the sharp-shooting Murphy, who holds the western conference record for points scored in a season and during a single game.

In his first Big Ten game Stewart netted only one basket from the floor. He was, however, factoring the veteran and versatile Michigan athlete, Norman Purdue.

Only Eight Pitchers on Brown Training Program

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 26 (AP) - The St. Louis Browns will take one of the smallest battery squads in the club's modern history to their West Palm Beach, Fla., training camp this year. The spring roster, as the basement team, reveals the Browns own only eight pitchers, probably a record for low number, as usually a major league team carries 15 to 20 hurlers to training camp and nine or ten through a championship season.

The Browns entire squad is composed of 27 players, divided into eight infielders, three catchers and eight pitchers. The number on the roster is 13 less than a major league club is permitted to have at this time of the year, and only two more than baseball law allows for mid-summer.

CLOCKWORK - What a Difference A Few Minutes Make In The Boxing Game.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP) - What few minutes makes to boxing isagers:

Joe De Grassie, Brooklyn middleweight, was all signed, at $1000 to fight Ed Francis of Italy on the Berg-Petlick card at Madison Square Garden, next Friday night.

Then De Grassie's manager discovered that the bout was to be the semi-final. Immediately he put up a howl:

"I wouldn't dream of taking $1,000 for the spot. I'll have to have $2,000 if he's in the semi-final. I thought it was the first ten rounder."

A compromise was effected. De Grassie still is to meet Francis, still to get $1,000 and still is to box ten rounds.

But the bout has been moved up so it will be the first ten rounder.

Six carloads of snow were hauled 250 miles that the national ski tournament could be held at Carey, Ill., near Chicago.

MODERNS, SKING, SKATING, SLEDDING, SNATCH OFF WINTER'S ICY BEARD TO REVEAL HAPPY PLAYBOY

NEW YORK (AP)—Young moderns have yanked the icy beard off of Old Man Winter, and revealed a gay young playboy. Now he's the life of the party at hundreds of northern resorts, joining arms with sports enthusiasts in cutting figure eights at the skating rink, whirling down the toboggan slides at 60 miles an hour, making bird-like flights from the ski jumps, or competing in hockey games and curling matches.

Winter now is the maestro of a nation-wide carnival for "Young America." Pictures show Miss Merion Gengler (with skills) and Miss Betty Horton, eastern society girls, at the Lake Placid, N. Y., resort, and a bob-sled party at Sulphur Springs, Colorado.

Edwards married Miss Julie Blanche Smith of Jersey City. They had a son, Edward I. Edwards, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Edwards died August 3, 1928.

Edwards began his political career as a member of the Hudson County, New Jersey, Democratic Committee. He was elected state comptroller in 1911 and, making good use of his banking experience, conducted the office in such a manner as to gain favorable attention throughout the state.

Edwards was one of those men in public life whose stand on prohibition was somewhat anomalous. On that issue he was one of the most vigorous and outspoken opponents, yet he did not use intemperate language.

Although holding liberal views concerning the use of intoxicants, the senator's opposition to the prohibition amendment and the Volstead Act was based primarily on his opinion that both were an invasion of the liberties of the people.

He was elected governor of New Jersey in a campaign conducted on the issue of personal liberty, an issue which attracted national attention by his bold denunciation of prohibition and the Volstead law. He urged the attorney general of the state to institute proceedings to test the constitutionality of the amendment and the act.

Elected. Three years later when Mr. Edwards made the race for the United States Senate against Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, he again injected the personal liberty issue into the campaign and was elected by the unprecedented plurality in New Jersey of 89,000 votes.

Throughout his service in the upper house of Congress, Senator Edwards never lost an opportunity to express his views opposing prohibition and he frequently made them the subject of addresses at public and private functions other than of a political nature.

By his consistent stand against prohibition, he came to be known as "one of the wettest of the wets." This was the cause of one of the amusing and surprising incidents of the Democratic National Convention at Houston in 1928.

The Houston Democrats named as a reception committee for the new Jerseyites made their plans along lines which they deemed proper for the entertainment of the party from a putative "wet" state. After the preliminary welcome and at what the chairman of the reception committee deemed an opportune time, he invited Senator Edwards to have a drink.

"I do not drink," the senator replied, emphasizing the declaration by the serious manner in which it was made.

The chairman's surprise was turned almost to embarrassment when he extended the invitation to Mayor Hague of Jersey City and received a similar reply with the addition "Nor do I smoke."

Senator Edwards was born at Jersey City, December 1, 1863, the son of William W. and Emma J. Nation Edwards. After his public school education he entered New York University in the class of 1884, but quit at the end of his junior year to study law in the office of his brother, William D. Edwards.

After determining that the legal profession did not appeal to him, he obtained a minor position in the First National Bank of Jersey City and while there devoted himself to the study of banking and taxation. He left the bank to form a partnership with his brother in the construction and building business, but in 1903 returned to the bar as an assistant to the president. He advanced to cashier in 1911, to president in 1918 and became chairman of the board in 1925. On November 14, 1896, Senator Edwards married Miss Julie Blanche Smith of Jersey City. They had a son, Edward I. Edwards, Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Edwards died August 3, 1928.
