

FLOODS RECEDING, BUT MANY STILL HOMELESS

G-Man Purvis Failing To Get His Girl?

He And Janice At Sudden Parting Of The Ways, Two Days Before Scheduled Wedding

SAN ANTONIO, April 27 (AP)—Janice Jarratt, America's most photographed girl, and Melvin Purvis, former G-man, were going their separate ways today — two days before their wedding date.

Miss Jarratt was with friends in Victoria this morning and Purvis, the former federal officer who trapped John Dillinger, was reported en route to Fort Worth where he planned to catch a fast train for his home in San Francisco.

Relatives of Miss Jarratt at Victoria last night tersely announced that the wedding, originally set for Thursday, had been "indefinitely postponed."

At Austin, E. Knappe, a hotel clerk, said he understood that Purvis, who spent the night at the hotel, intended to board a train at Fort Worth. He said four or five persons were in Purvis' party.

Friends of Miss Jarratt at Victoria said she was a guest in the Tom O'Connor home, but efforts to reach her at the O'Connor town and ranch homes were unsuccessful. In both cases, persons who answered the telephone said that Miss Jarratt was not there.

Dan Brannan, whose wife is the former Miss Mary O'Connor, one of Miss Jarratt's close friends, said she was in Victoria, but he would not say where she could be reached nor would he comment on yesterday's postponement of the wedding.

Other friends, who would not permit the use of their names, said Miss Jarratt planned to accompany a party to a Gulf Coast resort this afternoon.

A. J. Rummel, Miss Jarratt's brother-in-law, tersely announced the postponement of the wedding last night. The reason, he said, was "indefinitely postponed."

Following the announcement, all efforts to reach Miss Jarratt or Purvis failed. The former G-man slipped through a crowd of reporters and photographers at a hotel and Miss Jarratt was equally as for the postponement. The Jarratt-Purvis engagement had been as sudden as the announcement deferring the wedding. They first met some time ago at a party in New York.

Rummel was asked if a future date would be set.

"I have no comment," he answered.

Previously, Rummel had telephoned society editors of the San Antonio Express and Evening News requesting that an announcement of the postponement be made. He said, however, that the wedding had been cancelled. Both Miss Jarratt and Purvis attended a breakfast honoring them yesterday.

A dinner party honoring the couple was cancelled at a late hour yesterday afternoon.

A newspaper reported said he had been informed that an automobile, loaded with luggage, which left a hotel last night belonged to Purvis and was driven by Purvis' chauffeur.

Miss Jarratt figured in an automobile collision a few days ago but was not injured, Rummel said. He added that possible court action arising from the accident was not responsible for Miss Jarratt's sudden departure. He also denied that a movie contract Miss Jarratt cancelled in order to wed Purvis had anything to do with the wedding postponement.

Wedding attendants from Chicago and South Carolina had arrived for the event, expected to be the most brilliant of the social year.

See A Larger Deficit Than FD Predicted

Republican Leader Thinks US May Go In The Red Two Billion

DEMO SENATOR ALSO CITES EXTRA COSTS

Agriculture And Housing Aids Among Undetermined Policies

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Two prominent members of congress predicted today the government deficit for 1938 would be more than the $418,000,000 mentioned by President Roosevelt.

Rep. Bertrand Snell of New York, the house republican leader, declared there was a strong possibility the government would go "in the red" about two billion dollars unless the administration changes its entire spending policy.

Senator Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of a committee studying government reorganization, said next year's deficit would approach $500,000,000 with expenditures $102,000,000 greater than this year.

His figures, he said, were based on the president's message of last week.

Extra Expenditures
Snell said the president's estimate does not take into account the extra expenditures congress always approves.

"How many of these extra appropriations has he vetoed?" asked the New Yorker.

He said he wanted to see a definite statement from the president before he would believe legislation for farm tenancy aids, housing and crop insurance had been abandoned.

Speaker Bankhead said he believed the measures mentioned would not be enacted, although he personally hoped for passage of tenancy aids.

DEATH TOLL GOES TO 15, AND FIVE PERSONS MISSING

Waters Falling In Most Streams, Although Ohio Still On Rampage; Relief Work Started In Six-State Area

By The Associated Press
President Roosevelt took charge of relief for flood sufferers today as thousands of homeless in a widespread flood area affecting six states waited for swollen rivers and streams to subside.

The death toll had climbed to fifteen, with five persons missing.

Receding waters in many parts of the afflicted area brought hope to flood sufferers that the worst of the danger had passed but the exception was the mighty Ohio, which continued to rise.

A crest of 41 feet had been reached at Wellsburg, submerging the town and paralyzing its industry. It was expected to go to 46 feet before it began to subside.

Proposal To Hike Solons' Pay Is Vetoed

House Favors Submission Of A Constitutional Amendment

MEMBERS WOULD BE ON CALL ALL TIMES

Amendment For Establishing One-House Legislature Killed

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—The house passed in the senate today a proposed constitutional amendment increasing pay of members of the legislature to $3,000 a year and making them subject to call at all times. The vote was 104 to 33.

The lawmakers now are paid $10 a day when they are in session. They meet in regular session for 120 days and usually are convened in special session from 60 to 120 days each biennium.

The lower chamber killed by a vote of 88 to 53, a proposed constitutional amendment establishing a one-house legislature.

Action was taken after less than an hour of discussion. Sponsors contended the one-house system was working well in Nebraska, the only state now using it, while opponents maintained the federal government and states had been progressing satisfactorily under the checks and balances provided by two houses.

Civil Service Plan
The house also killed, 89 to 26, a proposed constitutional amendment which would have permitted counties and home rule cities to place their appointive employees under civil service.

Opponents contended county and city employees were more responsible to the people if chosen by elected officers.

The house adopted a resolution memorializing congress to pass pending bills to help tenant farmers and share croppers become home owners.

The resolution recited that "a deplorable situation exists in our country, especially in the south, relative to the tenant farmer and that the number of farms operated by tenants has increased from 25 per cent in 1880 to 42 per cent in 1935."

74 Projects Completed In WPA District

Average Of 1250 Workers Employed By Agency Since July, '35

Completion of 74 public improvement projects, ranging from farm-to-market road building to scientific analysis of water wells, has been accomplished by WPA workers in the 13 counties comprising the Big Spring Works Progress Administration district, it was announced today by Director R. H. McNew.

Employing an average of 1,250 formerly jobless and destitute persons since the inception of the WPA program in July, 1935, the federal agency has expended $350,141 on the 74 completed projects. Local sponsoring agencies have spent $184,989 to participate in the program. WPA records show that workers performed 884,188 man-hours of work on the completed projects.

Edward Seeks Libel Damages From Publishers Of Book About Reign

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor today filed an action for alleged libel damages and an injunction against the author and publishers of "Coronation Commentary," a best seller dealing with his reign and abdication as Edward VIII.

The writ was filed through the Duke's London solicitors, despite the fact that both author and publisher had professed an apology and the publisher had announced the book was being withdrawn.

On advice of counsel, it was learned, the Duke decided to proceed with his threatened suit for damages and for an injunction against further publication.

The action is directed against Geoffrey Dennis, author, and William Heinemann, publisher. The book purported among other things to describe Edward's "muddling, fuddling and meddling" while king.

Seeks A Vote In Two Weeks On Court Bill

Committee Member Wants Action After Amendments Discussed

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—An hour and a half of discussion of the Roosevelt court bill in the senate judiciary committee today produced a proposal for a vote on the measure, and all amendments to it, two weeks from today.

Senator Logan (D-Ky.), a supporter of the bill, announced that tomorrow he would ask unanimous consent to proceed under such a rule, providing for two weeks of discussion, and then votes on all pending proposals.

Logan said no objection was raised and he believed the plans would be acceptable to the committee.

The meeting today—the committee's first in executive session for discussion of the merits of the Roosevelt program — developed many proposals for modification and compromise, but committee members said nothing was decided.

One of the proposals—advanced by Senator McCarran (D-Nev) who has not stated his views on the bill—was to appoint a subcommittee to draft a bill, presumably jangling the presidential plan in favor of a compromise.

Asked if the proposal meant that it was against the bill, McCarran said "it doesn't indicate anything."

He added he merely felt a smaller committee might work more expeditiously.

Logan said he had also suggested to the committee that it might report the Roosevelt bill to the senate "without recommendation" in order to clear the way for consideration of other legislation which has been held up for two months by the court controversy.

Jury 'Fixing' Hint Revealed

Member Of Panel For Parker Trial Tells Of Proposition

Newark, N. J., April 27 (AP)—A member of the jury panel drawn for the federal court trial of the Ellis H. Parker testified before Judge William Clark today that he was approached by a man who told him it would be "easy to make some change on this jury."

Judge Clark sent other members of the panel from the court room while he heard the story of Mitchell B. Hessioning of West Orange.

The man who approached him, Hessioning said, remarked "five or ten grand would be nothing."

Hessioning said he himself had been excused from jury service prior to the incident but testified that another member of the panel later remarked to him that "some change can be made here."

He said he asked what he meant and was told:

"This Parker trial that's coming up."

The government today moved the trial of Ellis H. Parker, 64-year-old county detective, and four other men on conspiracy charges under the so-called "Lindbergh law."

A brief sensation a year ago this month, Paul H. Wendel's "confession" he kidnaped Baby Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., saved Bruno Richard Hauptmann from the electric chair for three days. But the "confession" was quickly repudiated. Wendel was absolved of connection with the crime and Hauptmann died April 3, 1936.

The government charges Wendel was abducted and tortured into making the "confession" to enhance Parker's reputation as a detective and to enable him and the others to profit through sale of magazines of the "true solution" of the celebrated Lindbergh case.

Senate Votes Tax Change

Would Permit Hike In Maximum Rate For Local Schools

Word has been received by The Herald from Austin that the Texas senate had passed a bill permitting the Big Spring independent school district to increase its maximum tax rate from $1 to $1.50, on vote of the people.

The measure was sponsored by Sen. G. H. Nelson, from this district. The bill has been offered in the lower house, but no action has been taken.

School officials here have pointed out that the legislative action does not mean a boost in the tax rate, but merely would permit such a boost provided the voters approved, if and when an election were called.

Demand for increased revenues for the school district has presented a growing problem.

ROAD MAINTAINERS RECEIVED BY COUNTY

Two of three road maintainers purchased by Howard county to replace the pony graders, recalled by the county commissioners court a month ago, were being unloaded Tuesday.

County Judge Charles Sullivan said that one of the maintainers would go to precinct No. 3, served by J. E. Brown as commissioner, and the other to No. 4, served by Ed J. Carpenter. One maintainer now in use is in A. W. Thompson's precinct No. 2. The other new machine will go to No. 3, and Hub Rutherford as commissioner.

The machines will be put to work at once, doing both maintenance and light construction work. They will be operated continuously so long as the condition of roads warrant, it was said.

Woodring To War Dept. Job

Kansas Nominated As Permanent Successor To Dern

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt nominated Harry H. Woodring, of Kansas, today to be secretary of war.

The former Kansas governor has been holding down the war post since the death last fall of George H. Dern, of Utah.

While the president's original promotion of Woodring from assistant secretary to the secretaryship was regarded at the time as only temporary, the appointment today was interpreted at the war department as making it permanent.

Woodring automatically became acting secretary when Dern died last August, but due to the law stipulating he could not serve in that capacity for longer than 90 days, the president gave him a recess appointment as secretary.

Unless the nomination was submitted during the present session of the senate, Woodring's recess appointment would have expired when the senate adjourned.

NANCE NAMED HEAD OF SINGING GROUP

C. C. Nance was named to head the Howard County Semi-Annual Singing convention at its regular session Saturday and Sunday at Coahoma as attendance swelled to such proportions as to make the new Coahoma school auditorium inadequate.

Other officers elected were P. A. Pittman, vice-president, Mrs. R. L. Anderson, secretary-treasurer, and B. F. Logan, chaplain. Next meeting of the convention will be held with the Knott case Oct. 22 and 24.

Singers and visitors from Martin, Mitchell, Midland and Dawson counties and New Mexico were in attendance for the convention which opened at the Coahoma Baptist church Saturday. Sunday the session was held in the Coahoma school auditorium which was crowded throughout the day.

Rebels Move Nearer Bilbao

Defenders Of Basque Capital In Dismantled Retreat

By The Associated Press
Bilbao tottered today before an advancing insurgent army that crushed its outer defenses and plunged its defenders into a disastrous retreat.

Gen. Emilio Mola's northern army occupied Eibar, an important munitions center about 20 miles southeast of Bilbao, and found flames throughout the evacuated city. Insurgents said communists and anarchists set dynamite blasts before abandoning the stronghold Sunday night. The Basques said insurgent planes fired Eibar.

Mutiny in the Basque ranks was hinted as the insurgents surged on Durango, gateway city to Bilbao, hoping to take it and reach the 16 miles of improved highway to the Basque capital.

Hundreds of civilians were killed at Guernica, former capital of the Basque country, and the city was left in blazing ruins after a fierce insurgent bombardment. Bombing planes soared over the city in waves, dropping heavy explosives and scattering hand grenades. Swooping machine-guns strafed hundreds of inhabitants who fled into open fields.

Fatalities in Madrid mounted to at least 270, with hundreds of others injured, as insurgent artillery batteries pounded the city for the 16th consecutive day. At daybreak a government aerial armada bombed the insurgent siege lines in retaliation but did not silence their heavy guns.

Strike Ended At Cannery

Sit-Downers In Detroit Dispute Arrested By Police

(By The Associated Press)
Settlement of the California cannery strike and the arrest by federal agents of 18 sit-downers in a Detroit dispute held the spotlight on today's labor front.

Gov. Frank Merriam announced complete agreement for settlement of the Stockton, Calif., cannery strike which broke out in bloody rioting last Friday. The peace pact provided for recognition of the cannery workers union as bargaining agent.

The strike, called over 10 days ago in demands for higher wages, shorter hours and union recognition, affected 1,300 workers.

The 18 persons under arrest in Detroit may be charged with violating the federal narcotic laws. They were seized when police forced 250 strikers out of the Parks, Davis & Co. plant.

The government agents stepped in when the men barricaded themselves in the narcotic department and used a fire hose on police. Ralph H. Oyster, district chief of the U. S. bureau of narcotics, said if any supplies were missing from the department he would place the case.

'Signs Right' For FD's Fishing Jaunt

Old-Timers Say He Should Nab 'Em

HOUSTON, April 27 (AP)—The "signs are right."

Old-timers said today President Roosevelt should find "the best fishing in 10 years" when he comes to the Texas gulf coast early next month to battle tarpon, kingfish and other fighters of the deep.

Skelly Skelton, who has handled fishing tackle since he quit playing with rattles, said the president will be "on the spot," and that if he doesn't catch fish, plenty of them, it will be the fault of the angler.

Skelton, veteran of many fishing expeditions in all parts of the gulf, based the statement on a gulf-wide survey of conditions and the various

President Leaving Capital Tonight

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt will push his four year travel mileage well beyond the 100,000 ark during a fishing trip in the Gulf of Mexico, on which he departs late tonight.

He will go fish by train to New Orleans, where on Thursday afternoon he will embark for a week or more of tarpon fishing off the Texas coast. The entire journey will cover more than 3,000 miles.

He will keep in close touch with the capital by wireless. Two fast navy seaplanes, based at Galveston, Texas, will take mail to and from the U.S. Potomac, which the president will use as his sea home.

Gassy, Belching Attacks Kept Her in Misery

"For 7 years I had been a victim of a gassy, upset stomach, with attacks of belching that were simply horrible," wrote Mrs. Andersen. "These spells of belching got so bad at night that I would wake up the rest of the family. I couldn't sleep, and felt terrible from lack of rest due to this gassy belching. I began to read in the papers about Van-Tage. I investigated your medicine and went and inquired of different parties who were taking it and they all praised it highly so I started taking it myself. Will say that now I am relieved of that awful belching and gassy stomach condition. I can sleep all night without being disturbed. So I give you my statement and hope what I write here will help somebody else."

Modern MacArthur Won't Write Plays For Victorian Helen Hayes

Helen Hayes and Charlie MacArthur. He Went Modern Despite Her Victorian Influence

AF Feature Service Writer NEW YORK—The sedate housekeeper who works for Helen Hayes and Charlie MacArthur always is startled by her employers' brief domestic moods. The last was worse than usual.

Spring was in the air. The MacArthurs went downtown early. Miss Hayes had several hours to spare before her nightly performance of "Victoria Regina." They decided to buy something (they didn't know what) for the house. They passed a food store, so they ordered 15 pounds of pate de foie gras.

"Usually we run the house by leaving it alone," says Miss Hayes. "Good servants," MacArthur elaborates. Then he grins, and his two words are a volume.

Theatre Keeps 'Em Busy It's really a wonder they ever assembled a house, or had their little daughter, Mary, who's 7 now, or that they even married back in 1928. They're the busiest theatre royalty extant. He writes movies and plays; she acts in movies and plays.

That means much traipsing between Hollywood and Broadway. And for Miss Hayes, much traipsing about the country. She is taking "Victoria Regina" on a 29-week tour next year.

She has been in that play since December, 1935. The theatre doorman says she always rushes in like a schoolgirl, whispering, "Oh, I'm late." He looks bored and says she just means she's not early.

The MacArthurs live at Nyack, N. Y. That's his boyhood town, 20 miles up the west shore of the Hudson. The house is evidence Miss Hayes wasn't fooling when she wanted to play "Victoria Regina." It is completely Victorian: wax flowers under glass cases, brocade love seats, and draped curtains. It seems that Helen has idolized Victoria ever since she was a child, spellbound by her English "grandma's" stories of the queen.

THE SPORTS CIRCUIT— Efforts Made To Organize Baseball Loop

BY TOM REASLEY

RALPH LALONDE, manager of the T&P baseball and softball teams, is trying to organize a baseball league. Lalonde suggested that the teams play only on week-ends, starting May 10 and ending September 10. He named the following teams, omitting the Couden Oilers "because they are too fast."—T&P, Rebels, Coahoma, Luther, Ackerly, Continental (Forean), Stanton, Owens, Ben Daniels, Devils and Lee's Stars. Out of that number Lalonde believes that a six or possibly eight-team league could be formed. Daniels does not have a baseball team at the present time but could be playing on short notice. Most of the other teams mentioned have been playing for several weeks. A similar circuit operated here a few years ago but failure of teams to play games as scheduled soon had the league in a muddle. It might work out if properly organized. Many fans would like to see the league organized, tiring of the slower and less exciting softball games. Softball, however, has its place. It caters to those unable to maintain the faster pace demanded by baseball.

"SPEEDY" MOFFETT has given up the fight to remain at Greenville, telling the Greenville football players he would like for them to return and play under "any coach chosen by the board."

His statement: "I appreciate loyalty of boys whom I coached last fall and this spring, but I do not want them to jeopardize themselves through efforts to aid me. They are a fine group and many of them have brilliant football futures which would be retarded by inactivity next fall. I believe if the boys and the people of Greenville cooperate there is still time to place a good football team in the district race next fall, and it is my hope this will be the outcome."

Moffett planned to leave for Lubbock today, according to press dispatches, for a conference with Pete Cawthon, coach of Texas Tech where "Speedy" starred as quarterback several years ago. Greenville players, however, remained firm in their determination to quit football for good unless the school board reinstates Moffett.

LOS ANGELES, April 27 (AP)—Veteran Maxie Rosenbloom, former world light heavyweight champion, and wily Alberto Lovell of the Argentine meet over the 10-round distance at the Olympic auditorium tonight.

Rosenbloom came back to his adopted Hollywood homeland 10 days ago after outpointing Roscoe Foley in Detroit. He figure to out-muscle the Argentine negro, 1932 Olympic Games champion.

Lovell sprang an upset three weeks ago in punching out a 10-round decision over Andre Lenglet, lowering French heavyweight.

SAILORS TO CHOOSE UNION AFFILIATION

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27 (AP)—Harry Lundberg, secretary of the seafarers union of the Pacific, said today the 7,000 members would start voting next week on whether to re-affiliate with the A. F. of L. or join the C.I.O.

All west coast seamen belong to the seafarers union, a unit of the powerful maritime federation embracing all maritime and waterfront workers on the Pacific coast.

The seafarers union was ousted by officers of the International Seafarers' Union over a year ago because of its left-wing tendencies.

'MURDERER'S ROW' MAKES YEAR'S FIRST TRIPLE PLAY

YANKEES ACHIEVE NEW GOAL

By BILL BONI Associated Press Sports Writer Once again in first place in the American League, the Yankees already are a step ahead of their blistering 1936 pace.

As they man-handled their way to victory in the junior circuit's pennant race and the world series last year, the Yanks skipped new team and individual batting honors.

Now they have achieved one peak they missed in their record-breaking 1936 climb with the major league's first triple play of the week-old season.

Credit for setting the three-ply killing in motion goes to Tony Lazzeri, the crafty veteran from San Francisco.

Though Tony has done a lot of neat jobs for the Yanks, but few of those unable to maintain the faster pace of yesterday's 7-1 defeat of the Athletics.

With runners on first and second, Chubby Dean drove one of Johnny Broaca's offerings straight at Lazzeri. Tony trapped the ball, then flipped it to shortstop Frank Crosetti.

Before the A's or the frost-bitten coconuts knew what was going on, Bob Johnson had been forced at second, Dean was thrown out at first and Wally Moses was tagged by Red Rolfe as he went into third.

Only Three Games Though the weather man washed out all but three games yesterday, those three provided enough excitement to go around. The Boston Bees' 5-5 trimming of the Brooklyn Dodgers was marked by Brooklyn Manager Burchleigh Grimes' second consecutive expulsion from the field.

In Boston, Bobby Doerr, 19-year-old Red Sox recruit second baseman from the Pacific Coast league, was beamed by Washington Right-hander Ed Linke, in the course of Boston's 12-5 slaughtering of the Senators. Doerr went to a hospital for x-rays and observation.

Eddie Collins, general manager of the Red Sox, reported Doerr's condition as "excellent" and said he expected him to be released from the hospital tonight and in uniform tomorrow.

Oil-Gas Work Extends To 80 Pct. Of State

DALLAS, April 27 (AP)—Eighty per cent of the land surface area of Texas is being actively developed for oil and gas. Tucker Royall, chairman of the board of the First National bank of Dallas, told the First Texas chamber of commerce convention today.

He said there is a mistaken idea that the problems of the Texas oil industry are matters of concern only to those engaged in the oil business and related enterprises, and only to those sections immediately near oil production. No section of the state fails to benefit from oil, Royall said.

"That the oil industry of Texas benefits practically the entire population of the state is evident from the fact that more than eighty per cent of its entire land surface area is being actively developed for oil and gas," Royall said.

"Thus, while 127 counties of the state's 254 are now productive of oil and gas, nearly every county in Texas shares in the distribution of money paid to landowners in the form of lease rentals and bonuses." An oil development map of Texas, illustrating the widespread activities of the state's oil industry, was distributed among the delegates attending the convention.

Royall said that the income of the Texas oil industry is not taken outside the state as many people believe, but is actually spent within the state.

"The attitude of the public toward the oil industry," he said, "has not kept pace with progress. Few Texans appreciate the magnitude of the petroleum industry and its vital bearing on the general welfare of our state. Fewer still appreciate the changes brought about by our conservation laws which no longer make it possible to recover oil investments almost overnight."

Sixty Of States Best Amateurs And Professionals Tee Off Today

FORT WORTH, April 27 (AP)—More than 60 of the state's best amateurs and professionals tee off today in a "three-in-one" golf tournament in which the state P.G.A. championship will be determined, the professionals will bid for three Texas places in the National P.G.A. tournament and a tournament will be held for both pros and amateurs for the Texas open title.

They will play 36 holes today and 36 more tomorrow. Jimmy Demaret of Houston, twice P.G.A. champion, was rated favorite among the professionals.

Among strong contenders listed were George Aulbach of Dallas, Jack Furke of Houston, Dick Grout, Smiley Rowland and Claude Whalen of Fort Worth; Tony Butler, Harlingen; Sam Schneider, San Antonio; Francis McGonagill, Dallas, and others.

BIG LEAGUE SCOUTS IN HIGH GEAR

By EDDIE BRIEZE NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Big league scouts are flocking to Winston-Salem, N. C., to watch Archie Templeton mow 'em down for the Methodist Children's home team.

Archie, 18, has fanned 68 batters in 32 innings this season. . . . May be another Bob Feller or another Babe Ruth, for they say he can pour the pine into that leather almost as well as he pitches. . . . (Ruth began his baseball career in a home for boys, too.)

Yankees are mighty interested and so are the Cardinals. . . . Our southern operatives report one big league club offered Templeton $10,000 to sign a contract. . . . Another said it would better any bid the kid received by $1,000. . . . One report has it the Cardinals have the inside track and that if Archie hasn't already made up his mind to cast his lot with St. Louis, he will soon. . . .

One "rookie" who is more than living up to expectations is Burchleigh Grimes. . . . He has been kicked out of two ball games in two days. . . . Ossie Solem made a big hit with Syracuse alumni here Saturday night. . . . He makes a good appearance and knows all the answers. . . . Syracuse posters make no bones about it—they are looking for a return of the good old days along about the fall of 1938. . . .

Heavy play on Pompton has lengthened the odds on Colonel Bradley's Brooklyn as a Kentucky Derby favorite. . . . If Tommy Henrich makes the grade, the Yankees will have two of the best throwing outfielders in baseball. . . . Few can rifle them in like Joe DiMaggio. . . . Washington wants Red Ruffing, but the Yankees said they'll not trade him.

Schmeling Won't Give Jim Braddock Another Invitation To Germany

BERLIN, April 27 (AP)—Max Schmeling won't give Jimmy Braddock another invitation to come over to Germany and fight, but he still hopes to figure in heavyweight championship affairs this summer.

He explained that last night before he and his trainer, Max Machon, called for New York where they have a title bout scheduled on June 3. Braddock, at the last report, intended to ignore that matter and go through with a battle with Joe Louis in Chicago June 22.

BUDGE BREAKS ENTIRE SUPPLY OF RACQUETS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27 (AP)—Red-haired Don Budge would practice his tennis today for the Davis Cup play against the Japanese starting Friday but he's all out of racquets.

Budge, ranking No. 1 singles player in the country, said he had broken his entire supply of 15 1/2 ounce racquets but one or more is due from Chicago today.

"I don't know how Budge got the idea of using such a heavy racquet," said the American team's non-playing captain, Edward G. "Bud" Chandler, mildly exasperated. "A 14-ounce racquet is standard for them. Budge can use what he wants."

While the Japanese, who will meet the Americans here April 30 and May 1 and 2, walked up and down San Francisco's hills in the rain yesterday for exercise, the U. S. team took things easy.

SPORT SLANTS

By TOM PAPROCKI Associated Press Sports Writer Big Zeke Bonura, who loves to eat and laugh and play baseball—in that order—is going to puzzle Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox through another American league campaign.

He loves to play baseball, and this fact and his ability to hit have kept Zeke in the game. He loves to laugh and that fact and his swagger have made him a colorful figure and a fan favorite. He loves to eat, and this fact probably will get him out of the game. . . . Keeps His Job Jimmy Dykes shakes his head over Zeke. He just can't understand the 213-pounder who puts everything he's got behind every swing, who is amazingly undependable despite the record look that says he was the finest fielding first-sacker in the league last year. . . . Zeke never gets mad at Jimmy. But a hurt look comes into his eyes whenever Jimmy tries to get him to run or chase flies or do anything to keep his weight down and give him speed. Zeke has survived threats of fines, benching, shipping. He's still the Sox first baseman.

Pitching Is Big Noise In Texas League

Dallas Steers Continue Win Streak By Nosing Out Tulsa, 2 To 1

(By the Associated Press) Texas League games yesterday made up in quality what they lacked in quantity with not more than two runs separating the teams in any of the three contests played. For the second straight day pitching was the big noise.

The Beaumont Exporters, leading the league, were idle along with Houston. Oklahoma City went from fourth place to second with a 3-1 victory over the Fort Worth Cats, the loss, incidentally, dropping the Panthers to a tie for third.

The Dallas Steers continued their winning streak by nosing out the Tulsa Oilers 2-1. It was Dallas' third straight victory, and all of them have been scored over the Oilers.

San Antonio defeated Galveston 5-3 in the other game played. Buxton of Oklahoma City and La Blanc of Fort Worth hooked up in a pitcher's duel with each allowing but seven hits. Paul Easterling led the Indian offensive with three hits, one a homer. He batted in two runs, enough to give his team victory.

Al Baker limited Tulsa to four hits as Dallas scored twice in the sixth to win. San Antonio made it two in a row over the hapless Pirates with Ewald Pyle beating Eddie Cole in a mound duel.

SETTLES PACES SOFTBALL LOOP

Settles Roadrunners nosed out the Elbow Raiders in a slugfest softball game Monday night, 15-12, and continued to hold the lead in the Muxey loop by scoring their second victory.

Joe Pickle and Alton Underwood bailed the winning runs in the eighth frame on two free passes and Pickle's triple. Howard Thomas started on the hill for the victors and Red McMahon finished after taking over in the fourth frame.

anything to keep his weight down and give him speed. Zeke has survived threats of fines, benching, shipping. He's still the Sox first baseman.

"Have a Heart, Jimmy" For Zeke can hit; he loves the game; he has a great pair of hands and is a fine target for other infielders. He can scoop the ball out of the dirt and is good on double plays—if he can make it to first. Regardless of all this, he's so heavy and slow he can't get the jump on ground balls. He can't bend quickly, or far enough, to reach many balls that should be easy outs. Once he loses his power at the plate, Zeke, now in his fourth year with Chicago, will find his major league days numbered. He is absolutely helpless at the dinner table.

"Please, Jimmy," Zeke will wail, "I only want to enjoy my supper. Why not let me alone? You're all ways on me." Then Zeke will dig his spoon deeper into his dessert. That's the way it goes.

CHARLIE DRESSEN LIKES HIS REDS DESPITE FOUR DEFEATS

CHICAGO, April 27 (AP)—They may be in the National League cellar, but Charlie Dressen insisted today that you still can't take a thing away from his scrappy Cincinnati Reds.

"Listen," the little manager said with a slap on the record book he'd been thumbing, "if anyone had told me two weeks ago we'd start the season by losing four straight—why I'd have bet my last shirt against it. But we lost 'em—and I still think we have a real ball club."

The records of those four defeats appear to back up Dressen. Dizzy Dean whipped them 3 to 0 at Cincinnati in 10 innings, but the St. Louis Cardinal star had great fielding support. The Reds got 14 hits to nine for the Cards. In the second game the Cards won a 14 to 11 slugfest, with the Reds again showing power at the plate. The Pittsburgh Pirates won 4 to 3 and ner.

Dressen believes his pitching staff will develop into one of the best in the game. He plans to use Paul Deringer, Ray (Freaky) Davis, Bill Hallahan, Lee Grissom, Lloyd Moore and Gene Schott regularly, sending the veteran Hallahan in to mop up.

Deringer a certain 20-game winner.

HORNETS BREAK EVEN IN JR. LEAGUE SOFTBALL SERIES

Creek Huris One-Hit Game For Southerners

Another one-hit performance featured junior softball league play Monday afternoon, Creek hurling the Southerners to a 1-0 victory over the Hornets.

Creek allowed only one hit, Presley getting a safe blow for the Hornets in the first stanza. Although allowing eight hits, Graves pitched his mates to a 12-7 win over the Cardinals, giving the Hornets an even break for the day's work.

CURTIS CUP STAR IS MEDALIST

By WILLIAM T. RIVES TEXARKANA, April 27 (AP)—A mild sun and a lack of dust and wind checked 33 of the state's ablest 4 1/2 women as they teed off in the first round of championship match play today in the Texas tournament.

The influence of the elements gave rise to hopes the scoring scores of yesterday's qualifying round would not be duplicated.

TEXARKANA, April 27 (AP)—The field forgot about the champion today and took out after Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, long-driving Curtis Cup star and medalist, as Texas' state women's golf tournament reached the match play stage.

But the school girl champion, 17-year-old blonde Betty Jameson, who was worried almost to death by the approaching necessity of writing a 15-page term theme in psychology as that of disposing of Mrs. Goldthwaite's challenge, was untruffed.

Mrs. Goldthwaite conquered high wind and an unpleasant thin blanket of dust, to finish the qualifying round over the country club course yesterday with an 81, four strokes better than Miss Jameson's 88.

Neither was expected to encounter insuperable difficulty today although Mrs. Goldthwaite met a dangerous opponent in Miss Betty Edwards, Brook Hollow country club mainstay from Dallas.

The titleholder teed off with Mrs. Frank McNally of Longview.

The treacherous rolling greens and tree-lined fairways teamed with the elements to make a miserably futile all efforts to approach within halting distance of par.

Toughest Course—"It's the toughest course I have ever played," mourned Mrs. Goldthwaite, who practically has played them all, from America to Scotland.

"If you miss a shot or get in trouble, look out. I hope I miss all shots in the fairways," she said.

Yielding with the two leaders in interest was vivacious Jo Jensen, 17-year-old Paris school girl, who admitted that in her first major tournament "I was so nervous some of the time I could hardly hold a club."

She fashioned an 87, thanks to a fine 40 on the back side after over-coming the jitters. Miss Jensen faced a hardy campaigner in Miss Kathryn Pearson of Houston.

Other leaders were: Mrs. F. E. Pharr, Texarkana, and Mrs. H. A. Peterson, Dallas municipal players, who carded 86's; Mrs. Ralph Randolph, Dallas, 87, and Mrs. E. H. Wohlfahrt, Dallas, 91. They met respectively Mrs. R. P. Dodge, Fort Arthur; Mrs. J. R. Morris, Texarkana; Mrs. George Thompson, Jr., Fort Worth; and Miss Anna Brand Thompson, Fort Worth.

Mrs. John Parnell, Dallas, state municipal player who qualified with a 93, met Mrs. Jake Hamon, another Dallasite.

The Houston country club was awarded the next tournament and Mrs. Syd Hurst, Dallas, the only one of highly-regarded candidates who failed to qualify.

Even Money Is Quoted On Levinsky

Jack Doyle, The Irish Tenor, To Figure In 'Battle Of Brains'

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—Even money was the best you could get today on either contestant in tonight's "battle of the brains" between Jack Doyle, the Irish tenor, and Chicago's Kingfish Levinsky at Wembley stadium.

Nobody seemed to have a clear idea which was likely to win, but there was a feeling it might be a 10-10 tie.

Doyle, who has won the deciding factor and he possessed the better set of thinking equipment.

The Kingfish promised to knock Doyle cold for making such a crack.

Observers who have watched the pair training day by day said there is little to choose between them either intellectually or pugilistically.

She fashioned an 87, thanks to a fine 40 on the back side after over-coming the jitters. Miss Jensen faced a hardy campaigner in Miss Kathryn Pearson of Houston.

Erosion Work Goes Forward

11 States Have Passed Legislation; Much Land Affected

CHICAGO, April 27 (AP)—Millions of acres of farm land, unprotected today against the ravages of wind and water erosion, will become subject to voluntary soil conservation practices within the next year by virtue of recently enacted state legislation.

At least 11 states have passed enabling legislation in response to President Roosevelt's appeal to governors two months ago for soil conservation laws to bulwark the federal fight against dust storms and floods.

Virtually all of the laws provided for the organization of conservation districts, aided by federal funds. Conservation practices included: Terracing of sloping fields to prevent rapid water run-off, construction of check dams to halt the rush of small streams, planting of trees and increasing acreage of grass land.

Other states which have enacted laws included: Delaware, which in 1936 had 453,396 acres under the federal conservation program; Georgia, Arkansas, Vermont, Oklahoma, Maryland, Montana, Washington and North Dakota.

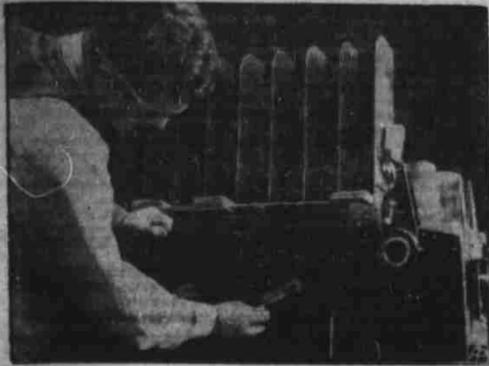

The bill passed by the Texas house orders diversion of 10 cents on $100 valuation of state and valorem tax, and a $75,000 appropriation to provide the state's share of financing.

SOCIAL SECURITY:

The World's Biggest Job Of Bookkeeping

LABOR MACHINES:

Sorting Master Old Age Pension Cards

Looking Up A Name In The Rotary Index

Posting Earnings Of 26,000,000 Workers

BALTIMORE, (AP)—While the social security act runs the gauntlet of court attacks on its constitutionality, the social security organization is conducting here the world's biggest bookkeeping job. And there isn't a bookkeeper on the place.

In an old warehouse facing Baltimore's historic waterfront, 453 "mechanical brains," manned and checked by 2,400 operators and clerks, are compiling the largest volume of data ever collected on American wage earners.

This information covers more than 26,000,000 persons under the old age pension provisions of the social security law alone. Thirty are, besides, an estimated 18,520,000 workers covered by its unemployment compensation section and 1,600,000 receiving federal aid to the aged, the blind and dependent children.

Tabulation of information on potential pensioners is handled in nine major operations in a "straight line" mass production system like that used by big industries.

A master card for each of the 26,000,000 is punched full of holes. By feeling these perforations, machines sort the cards alphabetically and by age, sex and color of the persons they represent. Fifty-five machines sort 600,000 cards a day.

Other machines can produce duplicate cards or translate punch-hole information into print. Still another sets up ledger sheets for keeping "box scores" on individual earnings to be posted every three months.

On the social security records are thousands of John Smiths. But the account of any registered John Smith can be found almost instantly by these "thinking machines."

If John loses his old age pension card and wants to know his account number, it can be learned in a jiffy by referring to the rotary alphabetical index. The Smiths and others, are indexed alphabetically and by first names and age groupings.

Battalions of error catchers back up the machines. These clerks check and double check the records so that when John Smith is the government will know how much is due him in monthly old age payments and where to send his check.

Headed By Ex-School Teacher
Top man in the organization which handles this mass of figures is an erstwhile Wisconsin school teacher, Arthur J. Altmeyer, acting chairman of the social security board since the resignation of New Hampshire's John Winant.

Lean, studious, steeped in statistics, he represents the non-political type of Washington official. He had 13 years' experience with the Wisconsin industrial commission, served as NRA compliance chief and later as assistant secretary of labor.

Under Altmeyer, jovial Frank Bane of Virginia, as executive director, is general manager of the setup. Forty-six, he is a former school superintendent and has wide acquaintance among educators, welfare experts and business men.

Altmeyer's colleague on the two-man board is Vincent M. Miles of Arkansas, lawyer, politician and American Legionnaire. General counsel is Thomas H. Eliot, Harvard-trained grandson of famed Harvard President Eliot and one of the New Deal's brightest legal luminaries.

RELIEF WORKERS TO STAGE NEW MARCH

SAN ANTONIO, April 27 (AP)—Two hundred members of the Workers' Alliance, ousted Monday afternoon from the city hall, where they were staging a sit-down, were reported marshaling today for a new march upon the office of Mayor C. K. Quin.

The Alliance members, mostly relief clients, had announced they would remain in the city hall until Mayor Quin came to his office. Through Emma Tenayuca, their leader, they were demanding permission to stage a May Day parade. Police Commissioner Phil Wright had denied their request.

Shortly after 4 p. m. Monday, Chief of Police Owen W. Kilday and approximately 50 patrolmen, armed with night sticks, appeared at the city hall and ejected the strikers.

Former Resident Of Stanton Succumbs At Alpine

STANTON, April 27—Rites were read at the Church of Christ here Sunday afternoon for J. W. Storey, 52, former Stanton resident who died at the home of a son of Alpine Saturday morning. G. R. Shelburne officiated at the services which were followed by interment in Evergreen cemetery here.

Palbearers were: John Epley, Henry Orr, Otis Blackerby, Walter Kelly, Claude Kelly, and J. S. Lamar.

Mr. Storey, whose death followed an illness of approximately two weeks, was a native Texan, born in Freestone county March 12, 1885. He came to Midland in 1907 and moved to Stanton in 1918 where he made his home until about four years ago. He was a retired stock farmer.

On August 5, 1915, he married Miss Alice Miller and to this union were born six children, all of whom survive. Mrs. Storey died in 1931 and was buried at Stanton.

Mr. Storey is survived by four sons, G. H. Storey of Alpine with whom he was living at the time of his death, J. B. Storey of Alpine, W. G. Storey of Sweetwater, M. L. Storey of Dallas and two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Whitesides of Divided, Texas, and Mrs. J. I. Rouse of Waco. Other living relatives include a brother, G. L. Storey of Lott, Texas, who was present for the funeral services, one sister, Mrs. Lou Barnes of Waco, 19 grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren. The body was brought overland from Alpine to the home of G. B. Shelburne, long-time friend of the Storey family, Sunday to await burial.

Besides immediate family members, out-of-town relatives and friends from a number of Texas towns attended the services. Among them were Peyton Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bonner, and Mr. and Mrs. Storey Bonner from Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. Schultz and Earl C. Evans of Big Spring; G. L. Storey, Roy Storey, Bruce Storey, and Young Priest of Lott; and others from Grand Falls, Alpine, and Midland whose names were not obtained.

Mr. Storey had been a member of the Church of Christ for many years.

EVERY WOMAN FACES THIS QUESTION

How do I look to other people? So many women risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skin, dull eyes, poor complexion.

Yet common constipation can be ended so easily. Just eat two table-spoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or fruits every day, three times daily in severe cases. This delicious ready-to-eat cereal supplies the "bulk" needed to exercise the system—and vitamin B to help tone up the intestinal tract.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water, gently sponging out the intestines. It never causes the artificial action of pills and drugs, that often prove ineffective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, you see, is a food—not a medicine. It relieves common constipation the way Nature intended—so its results are safe. Buy it at your grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

TODAY'S ANNIVERSARY—Ulysses S. Grant, 18th president of the U.S., born April 27, 1822.

THE MOTHER HUBBARD SYSTEM

Prisons and reformatories, like every other properly conducted institution or business, must have rules, and the man with the responsibility resting on him is usually better qualified to make and enforce those rules than reformers outside the scene of action.

When four youths attempted to leave the Oklahoma reformatory before their time expired they were captured and the warden punished them by putting pink bloomers on one couple and Mother Hubbard dresses on the other pair. They were made to sit in the rotunda of the main building where the other inmates, passing from time to time, enjoyed a laugh at the expense of the would-be escapers.

As usual there were criticisms of the warden's action from sympathetic soft-hearted people who seem to believe that prisoners in a penal institution should be treated with much gentleness and reasoned with rather than punished mentally or physically. The warden paid no heed to these but went about his business with the approbation of the chairman of the board under which the reformatory is governed.

The warden figured that the ridicule to which the four were subjected would be a great deterrent of future infractions of the rules than physical punishment, solitary confinement or reduction of variety in food. He was right about it. Ridicule can always do more to keep people from doing something they ought not to do, or even that they should do, than argument or physical force.

The would-be gangster or tough individual cannot remain tough very long in the presence of his fellows if he be made to occupy a ridiculous position. The dressing up of the youths was much more humane than would have been a licking or solitary confinement and will doubtless prove more effective in reforming them.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Manhattan is a roof town in summer, and most of the roof gardens are being renovated for the long, hot, desultory nights which leave the community so limp and prostrate. . . . It is a different sort of heat here—a baked heat thrown back from surfaces of cement and steel, giving in many ways the effect of living in a kiln.

There is enough showmanship and salesmanship hereabouts, however, to turn this very factor to advantage. Roof gardens are rigged up like exotic, tropical paradises. . . . Island music floats in the darkened velvet of Manhattan nights, high above the girders of the city. . . . Usually the tables and the dancing are actually under the stars, and the combination of music and pretty women and nocturnal make-believe lends an enchantment that makes the hard, hot reality of the day remote and far away.

There must be 50 such sky dance-ways in Manhattan catering to those who must get away from the everlasting oppression of still, scorching mid-summer streets and apartments. . . . And the most, as a rule, is reasonable. . . . A few go to extremes in their prices, but an evening under the milky way, including dinner and dancing and refreshment of an alcoholic variety, costs no more than a similar adventure in the usual winter restaurants and grills.

This year there is going to be an open-air movie some 25 stories above the streets, run just like a regular night club. You take the elevators up, but instead of wine and dancing under the stars, you let the free, untroubled breezes fan you as your favorite hero and heroine go into their boy-meets-girl histrionics. So far as I know this has never been done in New York before—not on the grand scale, at least. And, if good pictures are obtainable, the innovation should succeed.

There isn't as much feuding between newspapers and theatrical producers as there was in the old days. . . . The producers have learned to take their lumps without much complaint. Several years ago Winchell was told to keep out of various playhouses, and one or two other critics were promised a good hiding if they were impertinent enough to show up on opening nights.

The most famous of such incidents happened to the late Oscar Hammerstein. . . . When he had that famous spat with Mary Garden, and she disappeared, the old "New York Press," which disliked Hammerstein, charged him with pulling a publicity gag. The paper took occasional socks at his offerings, finally getting under his skin to such an extent that he sent this note to the editor:

"Please in the future keep your two reporters out of my theater. It is necessary to disinfect the house every time they come here."

First of the hotel winter night spots to fold its doors is the Blue Carlton Crystal Garden, giving the hostelry six weeks to make ready its Japanese Garden for a June opening.

Wallace move to ditch farm program only a gesture.
Farm tenant bill held likely to pass.
Crop insurance plan expected to be held up.
Tax revision still among legislative possibilities.

Waiting for the Echo

WASHINGTON, April 27—The heir apparent, Henry Wallace, furnished the only official cabinet reaction to President Roosevelt's hold-down budget warning. He said dolefully that the government might have to scrap its whole farm legislation program—farm tenancy, crop insurance and ever-normal granary. Wallace should have put the accent on the "might."

It is an old political custom for officials in doubt to advertise their troubles and then sit down and wait for the echo. Usually, when it is officially hinted that any such large organized group as the farmers are going to lose anything, the echo comes rolling back like political thunder.

Hoarseness

This time, the nymph of the fields seems to have a cold or something. It may be that the western farmers do not care much about farm tenancy, the crop insurance and granary proposals are largely Wallace ideas which the farm congressmen and farm organizations consider to be good but not urgent, or a dozen other things.

At any rate, the farm program has not been ditched. The best guess is that the $50,000,000 farm tenant bill will be cut drastically and passed. (A lot of democratic congressmen pledged themselves to it in the last campaign, and are up for re-election next year.) The insurance and granary plan will rest indefinitely in the house agriculture committee unless the echo gets much louder than it has been. Conservative administration forces are trying to kill it, and house Chairman Jones does not care much for it.)

Crossed Fingers

Much of the legislative program is in the same fix—particularly taxes. Ordinarily the president's public edit against tax revision until next session would be conclusive evidence that there will not be any this session. That is by no means certain now.

A minor bill will be passed continuing excise taxes which are expiring. This bill is open to any and all amendments. If the treasury happens to change its mind around June 15, it could shoot up some tax revision provisions which already prepared. It might even add some new taxes if congress passes any extra-budgetary appropriations in the meantime.

Timing

A neat job of hiding the flood control button is being played on congress by downtown authorities. The flood states congressmen do not like it, but they may have to. The report of the army engineers took weeks. Then it went to the White House, then to the national resources board. Latest dope is that it has recently been on its leisurely way back to the White House. The idea, they say, was to hold it away from congress until the current economy move could be made.

There will be a fight about it, but probably not a bill.
Note—Similarly sensational timing is noticeable on the national defense bills, particularly the navy bill. The president's budget warning arrived after the big navy bill had passed both houses and the army bill was ready to go through.

Peace

A tremendous personal scrap between Chairman Pittman and McReynolds is supposed to be holding up the neutrality compromise, but it may be more tremendous than scrappy. When a senate conferees like Pittman abandons a senate bill in favor of a house bill, he generally finds it necessary to have a big fight with someone about something in order to prove that he died for dear old senate. The fighting this time will be loud, but not necessarily fatal. The bill will be passed in just about its present form, which is what the president wanted in the first place.

The railroad retirement bill will go through easily. . . . The anti-lynching bill is being laid aside in the senate for trading purposes. (Leaders may buy a few supreme court packing votes by agreeing to drop it.) For this and other reasons its passage is more doubtful. . . . The $100,000,000 Harrison education bill is definitely among the buried dead. It will not pass, and, if passed, will be vetoed. . . . Senator Wagner is phlegmatically opposing to preserve the principle of his billion dollar housing bill, but, if he saves anything, it will be only the principle. . . . the congressional leaders are going at their purpose of holding to the budget with great earnestness. An inside working arrangement has been made from the floor. The house also is being pledged to hold any economies effected in appropriation bills by the senate.

Life's Darkest Moment

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds
By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—You've heard of gag men and you probably have wondered just exactly what they do. . . . There is no concrete example of what one of them—one of the better ones, Bobby Vernon—did in "Walkie Wedding." . . . Bobby saw some photos of Martha Raye and a chimpanzee and he thought and thought how he might get the idea into a picture. . . .

One day, on the set—whittling, whistling and thinking away his time—he conceived the entire sequence between Bob Burns and Martha. . . . It's the one, you will recall, where Bob continues talking to Martha after she has fallen from the tree and the chimp has taken her place. . . . Other gag men term it one of the year's best.

Upstairs Directors
One of the town's everlasting arguments concerns the value of directors. . . . One side holds that the director makes the picture and the other insists he doesn't do a thing but read directions from the script. . . . The lanky Arthur Treacher takes violent exception. . . . "The director," says he, "does EVERYTHING. . . . I'd rather work with a good director on a poor story than with Joe Goetz on the best scenario ever written. . . ."

"But do you want to know who I consider the most important man in pictures?" he asks. . . . "He's the guy who gives me my pay check every Saturday. . . ."

New Carol Lombard contracts—three for Paramount and one annually elsewhere for three years—will reportedly pay her a total of $1,800,000. . . . Local girl once named Jane Peters is doing all right. . . . And Dixie Dunbar gets $400 a week for being cute. . . .

What motion picture scene made the greatest impression? . . . My choice is for the finish of "Tabu," where the boy swims out to sea. . . . Or that final scene from "I Am a Fugitive," where Paul Muni answers the girl when she asks him how he lives. . . . "I steal," he whispers, disappearing in the dark. . . . Effective, too, was that close-up of Errol O'Brien-Moore in "Black Legion." . . .

Have heard much less talk of actors returning to the stage. . . . Muni, Tracy, Robinson, Colbert, John Barrymore and others used to talk about getting away from Hollywood to do a play. . . . After a few years in Hollywood, however, successful players become so self-satisfied and so lazy mentally that doing a play seems like a whole lot of work and worry. . . . For so little glory. . . .

Margaret Tallichet, from down in the deep south, has had her recent insured for $5,000. . . . Lloyd's under the policy for the trifling sum of $1 per thousand. . . . Margaret will collect if "through long disassociation with southerners she loses her ability to speak with that especial drawl and charming slurring of syllables." . . .

Long Trip To Observe Eclipse

Scientist Will Go To South Sea Island To View Sola Phenomenon June 8

PASADENA, Calif., April 27 (UP)—Dr. Theodore DuBum, Jr., after weeks preparing special instruments, tomorrow starts a journey half way around the earth to observe a total eclipse of the sun lasting four minutes.

"This duration is greater than for most eclipses, the astronomer said at the Carnegie Institution's Mount Wilson observatory today, and will permit the use of more powerful equipment than can be used ordinarily."

He is one of a group of scientists in an expedition sponsored by the National Geographic Society and the United States navy, going to the Phoenix Islands in the South Seas to observe the solar eclipse June 8.

Dr. DuBum's special equipment will include a powerful spectrograph with a motion picture camera which will make one photograph a second.

"We on the earth are fortunate in having the moon at just the right distance to blot out the sun itself completely," he said.

"This makes it possible for us to study the corona, a halo of light which extends out at least a million miles from the sun's surface."

LARGER FUND FOR WOOL RESEARCH

WASHINGTON, April 27 (UP)—Passage of an amendment to the house agricultural appropriation bill calling for an increase from $26,000 to $50,000 for wool research and demonstrations marked a successful ending to a long fight by Representative Charles L. Coleman, Tex.

Armed with long reports gathered in days of study, he appeared before a sub-committee and on the floor of the house and told of benefits the wool industry has reaped from activities of the bureau of agricultural economics.

EVE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDDEMER

Chapter 25
NEW JOB FOR DENNY
As the daring idea came to Eve, the telephone rang. Everybody started, except Mr. Cleveland, who was having secretaries answer for him. Judge, that well-trained child, rose from where he lay on his stomach on the hearthrug, went out and came back, reporting, "Denny wants you, Eve."
"She was in the dark dining room in a flash."
"Denny?"
"Eve darling!"
Before he could say any more, she began to talk excitedly.
"Denny, Denny darling, old Mr. Cleveland is in this very house, and ever was playing chess with Peter, and he isn't an old sinner at all. He's a nice simple kind person and I'm going to tackle him myself about your job. I know it would Marilyn spent her mornings in bed, and lay dreamily about the house in the evenings in the long chair she had premeditated; she wrote a little sometimes on the pad or her knees. It was poetry, mostly, that was coming.

"Not Hating? She's Crazy?"
"Am I overpractical and snooty?" Eve demanded of George one day at the beginning of May.
"She had almost forgotten George's moment of desire to marry her; he had completely fallen into the role of family friend. To-day he had come over with an armful of rosebushes. He had brought too many; she might like them for the gaps in the rose border through the lawn that led to the orchard, he said.

He looked up from where he was kneeling, putting in a bush, and answered:
"One can't be overpractical. You

"I was a bit worried about whether you had enough money to carry them all summer."

be all right. Or let me make an engagement for you to do it—"

"Eve! his voice was almost sharp. "Eve, promise me you won't put in a new car! It will ruin things. She says so and she's right. She made me promise to leave it all to her. It's going grandly. So you promise to leave it alone, if you want to help your husband. Be sweet to old Cleveland and keep your darling mouth tight shut about everything else. Mitzl says that's the only way to fix it. That isn't what I called about. Something perfectly magnificent has turned up—or it may be perfectly magnificent. Listen."

Eve held her breath, standing at the telephone.
"Go on, Denny."
"Something's broken. Herndon's giving me Bill Bobs' territory. I always thought I could make good on the road. If I do, they're likely to make it permanent—and enough money for two to live on. I have to start early tomorrow morning. Mayn't be back for two or three weeks—it depends on whether Bill gets well or not, of course."

The excitement in his voice was echoed in Eve's heart.
"Oh, Denny, grand! And you with your fatal charm, of course, you'll do it!"

"You adorable angel! Listen, promise to write me every single day! I'm mailing you an itinerary. I'll long-distance if it gets too awful away from you. Don't let anybody else get you away from me. You're mine, you hear?"

Warm, Hushed Old Room
She returned to the others finally, her cheeks burning, her heart pounding. Denny's excited adoring voice in her ears. George was preparing to go, remarking that they rose at seven.

"He's a lamb." Marilyn said yawning, as the front door closed behind them. "I hope he comes over a lot. Peter, blessing, will you make me a glass of orange juice and bring it up if there are any oranges? Nighty night, Eve dear. Oh, leave things, Judge can tidy them in the morning."
"Good-bye, Denny," Eve, bound by an old custom of her childhood, went about putting out candles and setting up the fire screen and drawing curtains about the warm, suddenly hushed old room, loving it. The dream Denny went with her, a laughing presence; perhaps soon he would be reaching early with his long bushy arm to the granddaddy to snuff the candles, kneeling to push the logs apart, fitting the fire screen close—doing all the little homey heavenly things that ended in their going up the stairs, hand close in hand, to their room together.

"Good night, Denny darling," Eve whispered as she went up the stairs.

It was a windy April, with the long yellow sprays of forsythia, the reddening maple buds, the old fascination of outdoors that Eve had forgotten in her years of city work. Denny's absence stretched to a month. The daily letters kept Eve happy. Once he telephoned, on top of the world. He was doing wonders. Another time, Denny, in a bad territory. Eve wrote her own letters and missed him and loved him.

For the rest, she was surprised to find how easily she fell into the routine of her new life. The Featherstones, too, seemed happy enough. Peter had the sunny north end of the attic for experimenting with his strange swirls of color.

don't seem to me—a little smile twitched the corners of his mouth—"sordid. What brought that up?"

"Marilyn and Peter. They'd rather live from hand to mouth than do potboilers. And Peter could make a good living at book covers and he knows nobody wants those mathematical swirls. All they have is an income they get twice a year from her father's estate. They could do so much more for Judge and not have to be all the time making those jokes about being paupers that are so sort of brave and pitiful, and need to have their friends always lending them things, if she'd try to write salable stories and he'd do commercial work. And yet—if you have a talk—"

George said slowly: "It depends on whether it makes them unfair to other people. I was a bit worried about whether you had money enough to carry them all summer."

"Oh, it isn't for all summer! I've let go of the bush she had been holding upright in its hole for him, to explain. "Any time I rent they'll go; and they'll pay me when they get the income, June first. I have savings enough to manage making those jokes about being paupers that are so sort of brave and pitiful, and need to have their friends always lending them things, if she'd try to write salable stories and he'd do commercial work. And yet—if you have a talk—"

George rose and looked down at her with his kind worried blue eyes.

"But, child, the real estate agent told me you had given up all idea of renting; you were going to stay here all summer."
"George! She's crazy!"
"Look here, better let me run you down there."

SCHOOL PARLEY

DALLAS, April 27 (UP)—The fifth junior high school conference, scheduled here Friday and Saturday, is expected to attract 1,500 Texas educators.
Dr. G. O. Clough, director of the school of education at S. M. U., who fosters the conference, said "guidance in junior high school" would be the theme of the sessions.

Scheduled air line aircraft will be required after Jan. 1, 1938, to carry static-free radio direction finders and antenna systems.

COMMITTEE STUDIES

N. Y. LABOR DISPUTE NEW YORK, April 27 (AP) — A three-cornered dispute which threatened for three days to tie up New York City's piers and freight terminals was in the hands of a presidential committee of three men today.

It faced a double problem: The demands of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks concerning wages and working conditions as presented to eight eastern railroads, and the jurisdictional dispute between the brotherhood and the International Longshoremen's association over control of about 10,000 freight handlers employed by railroads and express companies.

FASCIST STUDENTS

GET LIFE TERMS BUCHAREST, April 27 (AP) — Eight fascist iron guard students, convicted of invading a hospital and killing a patient with pistols, were sentenced today to life imprisonment.

Two others who stood watch during the shooting of Mihail Stelaru, were imprisoned for ten years by the military court verdict. It generally was regarded as a smashing blow in the government's effort to suppress its violent fascist opposition.

INJURIES FATAL

DALLAS, April 27 (AP) — H. D. Carter, 33, tinmith's helper, died today from injuries received yesterday when he fell three stories in a ventilator shaft.

WATER SURVEY HEAD IS EXPECTED TODAY

Work on the ground water survey for the Big Spring area will commence as soon as Penn Livingston, associate U. S. geological survey engineer, arrives here. City Manager E. V. Spence said Tuesday on his return from Austin where he had a conference with the state board of water engineers.

Spence said that Livingston was expected to arrive here Tuesday afternoon.

While on the trip, Spence went to Bastrop where he presided over the annual meeting of the Texas Bench and Foot association of which he was president. He is on the board of the association for this year.

HOTEL MEN OF AREA MEET IN BIG SPRING

The West Texas chapter of the Hotel Greeters' association No. 56 of America met in Big Spring Monday evening for a routine business session at the Settles hotel with approximately twenty members from West Texas points in attendance. Following a banquet the business meeting was presided over by Mike Haynes, San Angelo, president of the association. The West Texas group meet monthly. The next meeting will be held at the Bluebonnet hotel in Sweetwater May 24th.

Test In Garza Has Trouble

Grisham-Hunter Location Is Abandoned After A Shot

Hard luck hounded oil development in Garza county Tuesday as the ill-fated Grisham and Hunter No. 1 Post estate in section 6-5, K Aycock survey was temporarily abandoned.

Shot with 300 quarts Friday from 2,850 to 2,922 feet, the test appeared to have a had hole, probably blown into water. It had a show at 2,890 feet.

To the west and slightly north the Blackie Caprio No. 1 Post estate drilled to 3,107 feet with 2,109 feet of sulphur water and 350 feet of oil on top of the column. Some gas was showing.

The Ray Allbaugh No. 1 John Robinson, Dawson county discovery well in section 46-31, EL&R-RIT survey, was reported to have bridged at the top of a shot from 4,990 to 5,038 feet, total depth. A boiler run to the top of the bridge returned water, but 50 feet of oil was recovered to the bottom of the casing. Operators are cleaning out. A mile and a quarter southwest, the Wilson No. 1 Texas Land and Mortgage was at 1,170 feet in redrock.

W. P. Edwards, Big Spring oil man, today reported another well on his Crane county ranch in the Woodell pool. The well, Magnolia

SINGER IS GIVEN SOME REAL HELP

JOPLIN, Mo., April 27 (AP)—A guest in a Joplin hotel was taking his morning ablutions, warbling the refrain of a popular ditty. As the self-styled "Caruso" paused for breath, the tune was picked up by a voice in the next room.

The first singer remained silent, realizing the second voice was of much better quality.

On his way out, letter No. 1 noted the room number of singer No. 2 and asked the clerk the person's identity.

It was Nelson Eddy.

SCOUT BICYCLE UNIT TAKES INITIAL HIKE

The newly organized Boy Scout bicycle patrol of Troop No. 5 took its first "hike" Sunday afternoon to Moss Springs. The patrol took its lunch and camped out en route. The entire distance, approximately 20 miles, was covered without mishap to the machines. Making the trip were Leon Pearce, Jack Gary, John Gary, Eugene Puerifoy, Cecil Miller. Motto for the patrol has been announced as "roll on."

No. 9 Edwards, looked about 200 arrests after "drilling itself" in and being shut down. It hosted the number of wells on the ranch to 12 and gave Edwards a daily potential of about 75,000 barrels, half of the pool potential.

WAR PROFITS ACT RADICALLY CHANGED

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The house military committee agreed today to recommend drastically revised legislation to take the profits out of war.

A provision for conscription of men between 21 and 31 years of age, in event of war, was stricken from the bill by the committee. Sections assigning to the president powers for mobilization of industry and capital were retained.

Sharply changing the bill as originally introduced, the committee deleted a section calling for a 45 per cent tax on all profits in excess of the average for a three-year period preceding the outbreak of war. Instead, it recommended a war-time taxation system which would absorb all surplus profits above a "fair normal return."

The president would be empowered under the bill to fix prices for all commodities and regulate rents and commissions.

water systems in Galveston, Terry, and Lynn counties. On such work WPA expended $9,900 and sponsors spent $9,804.

Sewing Rooms

Women wage-earners in nine WPA sewing rooms have produced more than 150,000 articles, including clothing, mattresses, and comforters, for distribution to needy and unemployed persons in this area. In all instances these women workers have been major providers for their families. Professional projects include library work in which books were repaired, catalogued, and circulated in nine localities, survey of tax rolls to aid in the statewide effort to secure a more equitable distribution of taxes, survey of mineral resources to determine commercial possibilities in natural deposits of Texas, counties, and a survey of water wells used by persons in this area. WPA also employed persons to aid in the distribution of surplus commodities to recipients of direct relief.

Currently in operation in the Big Spring district are 36 projects employing 1,396 men and women. Most of these projects are the 29-mile highway from Tahoka to rowfield which will be completed by June 30, a seven-mile asphalt topping project in Howard county which will be completed by May 15, and 1 1/2 blocks of asphalt street paving, including curb and gutter installations, at Midland, which will be completed by May 5. WPA is expending $38,000 on the Tahoka-Brownfield road project and the state highway department is providing $50,000. The Howard county road will cost $42,000.

Employment on WPA projects in the Big Spring district has fluctuated from a peak of 1,587 workers in February, 1936, to 930 persons employed in June, 1936, McNew said.

the president x x x in his efforts to cut down expenditures.

"I am certain there will be like response on the part of every one of us in the efforts being made now by the president x x x to prevent new expenditures.

"But so long as the federal government continues to carry the burden of unemployment relief without curtailment, the difficulties involved in bringing the federal budget into the long sought for balance remain unsolved."

matter in the hands of District Attorney John C. Lehr.

John L. Lewis' C. I. O. and William Green's American Federation of Labor launched aggressive campaigns among workers in the southern textile industries. A Steve Nance, C. I. O. leader, announced at Atlanta that his drive was nearing full swing in a number of southern cities while George Goops, A. F. L. representative said he had been authorized by President Green to enlarge his staff for the campaign.

Billie Clyde, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Swindell of Monahans, has returned to his home following an operation for mastoid trouble.

Mrs. J. Y. Tinkle, who has been in the hospital for treatment of pneumonia, continues to improve and will be able to return to her home in a few days.

Miss Mildred Nowell of the nursing staff has resigned her position at the hospital.

Herbie Kay, famed orchestra leader, was a guest of the Settles hotel here Monday night.

Labor Program Being Delayed

Leaders Study Whether To Use State Or Federal Powers

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The administration in delaying its industrial and labor program, legislators said today, until it decides to use state or federal powers as the basis for new laws.

Some portions may be postponed until next year. President Roosevelt is studying the primary phase of the program — wage and hour standards — which may be his only other major recommendation to this session of congress.

Officials who favor giving the states control over working conditions have pointed to such supreme court decisions as validation of the Ashurst-Summers act, forbidding shipment of prison-made goods into states which ban that method of manufacture.

A similar law, they suggest, might be enacted to insure adoption by the states of minimum wage and maximum hour scales.

The house judiciary committee already has been considering a proposal by Rep. Smith (D-Va.) to prohibit transportation of goods into states which outlaw working conditions under which they were produced.

Those who have urged federal supervision, on the other hand, have directed attention to the Wagner act decision, which broadened the scope of interstate commerce.

Regulation of child labor and establishment of fair trade practices are other subjects under consideration.

Administration leaders have virtually given up hope of ratification of the child labor amendment this year.

It was through a fair trade proposal—the Miller-Tydings retail price maintenance bill — that the administration's desire to hold off on industrial and labor legislation came to light.

Speaker Bankhead said house consideration of that measure would be postponed. It would make effective in interstate commerce fair trade laws of 38 states, permitting establishment of a minimum price on trademarked or identified merchandise competing with similar goods.

AMELIA GETS READY FOR ANOTHER FLIGHT

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Amelia Earhart planned today to go to Burbank, Calif., Saturday in preparation for a second start on her contemplated world flight. Her first attempt ended in a wreck while taking off at Honolulu.

Miss Earhart said the flight would start from Oakland, Calif., but not "for several weeks."

"I need rest, and my week's stay here is part of the rest program I mapped out for myself," she said.

WALLY'S 'PROBATION' PERIOD CONCLUDED

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson completed today the required six months of "good behavior" in her divorce action and became all but free to marry the former king of England.

Only legal technicalities were necessary before her divorce from Ernest Aldrich Simpson became final and these, it was expected, would be fulfilled within a fortnight.

Then the Duke of Windsor, who has not seen Mrs. Simpson since she fled from London at the height of the abdication crisis, will be legally privileged to marry "the woman I love."

Mrs. Simpson's attorneys—she remained in seclusion at Chateau de Candé near Monte, France—expected the decree would be made absolute either May 3 or May 10.
