Plea to Ex-Motley County Residents

by Michelle Bearden

As most people are aware, Agriculture forecasts are trudging through a particularly bleak period at the present time. The imminent need to diversify the economy of this county was never more apparent.

With the Homecoming weekend coming up, the Tribune is more aware than ever that nearly half of our subscribers are scattered across Texas and the rest of the United States. Since there is such a multitude of Ex-Motley County Residents who take this newspaper, we would like to send out an appeal for your assistance.

You who live in various parts of the country have the advantage of being able to relate back to your home county any ideas or prospects to attract small industry or even high-tech industries to this region. There is great interest in Motley County to allure jobs to this area. In effort to make the most of all possible prospects, we are asking for input from former residents or any interested parties for economic development that might be remotely successful in this area.

These suggestions will be thoroughly researched to determine whether this area has the potential for a given industry's needs. If out of 1000 ideas received, only one proves to be successful then this county will benefit in much needed jobs, increased tax revenue and, hopefully, relocating some or our former residents back to the county. There is a strong possibility that with job prospects, families that have had to leave Motley County to find jobs might consider coming back.

You, that have roots here in Motley County, however long ago or far removed, can give this county a terrific boost by simply sending ideas that have worked in the current region you are living in.

A gambit of both small and even cottage industries have proved successful in other places. Give your home county a lasting tribute by providing your ideas, thoughts, observations or even information from something you've read that could apply to Motley County.

For the time being, you can direct comments to the Motley County Tribune, Box 490 Matador, Tx 79244, and they will be funneled to the appropriate local committee. Any and all comments will be appreciated.

Onion Rings: Local Family's Answer to Diversification

By Michelle Bearden

Onion Rings are ringing up success for three ex-Motley County Students who are operating a business to make them for commercial sales. Chip and Pat Smith and sister Seven Alexander are using an onion ring recipe that has been used at Billie Dean's Restaurant for a number of years.

Believing their recipe was a winner, the family had been trying to figure out a way to freeze them and still retain the quality they were after. After much experimentation they came up with a process to pre-cook the onions with batter that produced an onion ring that people could not tell between it and one freshly fried.

The family had a booth at the Ben E. Keith food show in Lubbock where new products were demonstrated for Keith customers to test its marketability. Ben E. Keith is a distribution supplier for restaurants and grocery chains. The onion rings were well-received at the food show and brought about orders from the Ben E. Keith Company.

The onion rings, sold under the name of Billie Dean Foods currently is selling one ton of onion rings per month. One hundred fifty cases per month are bought by Texas Tech University. The budding company currently is filling orders for 85 cases per week.

The family has been interested in a business that would not only have a good market but would benefit the community. Currently employing 6 people, they anticipate the need for around thirty employees in the future and going to 24 hour shifts. They have plans to expand but by avoiding large debts.

Automation will be the next step as the family strives to meet the orders rapidly coming their way. With their refrigerated truck, they are able to transport their product to Ben E. Keith headquarters easily.

Seven Alexander, a 1968 graduate of Matador High School states, "We've had a lot of fun with the business." Noting that a sense of humor is vital, Seven admits to "crying alot" in the onion ring business. Chip, a 1966 graduate of Matador High School agrees but says it doesn't last long, your eyes sear over after cutting up 6 dozen onions. Each of the family is assigned tasks according to their ability. Since all three of the Smith offspring have been making onion rings since they were kids, this business isn't exactly a new one for them. Their biggest problem so far, has been getting a hold of the boxes to ship them in.

It's refreshing to find that there are more and more innovative ideas being explored which are vital to community prosperity and progress.

Grand Opening for Pay 'n Save

Welcoming customers to the Grand Opening on October 29 of the newly remodeled Pay-N-Save in Matador, Manager Billy Donaldson announces a drawing for several tantalizing prizes to be given away. The 1st place prize will be $300; 2nd will be $200; 3rd $100; also 5" Cortland Portable Color Television set.

The Donaldsons moved to Matador in August from Muleshoe, where Donaldson was the Assistant Manager of Pay-N-Save for 8 years. Pay-N-Save have two stores in New Mexico and 16 in West Texas. Billy's Dad has managed the Muleshoe Pay-

N-Save for 11 years and Billy had worked in that store off and on since he was a freshman in High School.

Billy, a native of Muleshoe, attended Wayland Baptist College where he met his wife, Terree. The Donaldson's have two children, Brant, age 4, and Brittany, age 18 months. They are members of the First Baptist Church.

Donaldson says he really likes it here, as everyone has been so friendly and made them feel at home. Billy is especially appreciative of his patrons patience during the remodeling process.

WESTERN DAY, Matador High School, spring of 1959. Seniors in this group and classmates that year will meet Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Algine Groves, parents of Mike Groves a member of the class. The picture is courtesy of Ronald G. Bailey of Eastland, also a member of the '59 class who wrote, "I believe that Jan Barton was the photographer. Since this Homecoming will be the 15th for this 1959 group, I just thought that many would find this old photo interesting." He identifies all in the picture as follows: Front row from left, Sue Cross, Donna Williams, Karen Webb, Harry Hamilton, Ed D. Smith, Bobby Cross, Butch Renfro, Ronald Bailey and Robin Darsey; 2nd row: Vella Ree Edwards, Anita Martin, Vada Nichols, Judy Hobbs, Ray Davis, Christina Damron, Carolyn Pohl, Ida Lee Fair, Nelda Wilson, Carol Campbell and Kay Rattan; 3rd row, Dixie Barton, Sandra Stevens, Verna Watkins and Karmen Jenkins; 4th row, Dink Wilson, Rosemary Shanks, Cherri Barton, Peggy Welling, Betty Davis, Melanie Brown, Daphne Lynn, Edna Williamson, Linda Beth Seigler, Janie Waybourn, Gwen Killingsworth and Albert Thrasher; 5th row, Pete Chambliss, Tom Smauley, Larry Hoyle, Kent Gray, Ros Bearden, Harry Campbell, Pat Seigler, Bundy Hal Campbell, James Bearden, Guy Campbell, Mike Groves, Sherril Rigby and Carl Thompson. 6th row, Joe Martin, Wendall Tucker, Clarence Davis, Garland Glascock, Carter Luckett, Kenneth Davis, Lewis Fair, Thomas Edwards and Gerald Pipkin.

HOW GOOD WERE THE GOOD OLD DAYS?

The Sesquicentennial has put us all in a nostalgic mood about "yesterday". The other day I read the following from The Spotlight, a publication of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Washington, D.C. The following rules were rather common in 1850.

"This office will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m., except on the Sabbath when it will remain closed."

"Office employees will sweep the floors and dust the shelves. Each will bring in a scuttle of coal and a pail of water each day. Draftsmen will trim the wicks, fill the lamps, clean the chimneys and wash the windows once a week."

"Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to your individual taste."

"Men employees will be given one evening off each week for courting purposes or two evenings a week if they go regularly to church."

"Any employee who smokes Spanish cigars, uses liquor in any form, gets shaved at a barbershop, or frequents pool or public halls, will give his employer good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty."

"The employee who has performed his labors faithfully and without fault for a period of five years in my service, who has been thrifty and attentive to his religious duties, and is looked upon by his fellow men as a substantial and law-abiding citizen, will be granted an increase of five cents per day in his pay, providing a just return of profits from the business permits."

Were they really "the good old days"?

"Son Beams"

By June Keltz

We dry land dwellers are never quite prepared for torrential downpours such as we experienced last month. Looking at the damage to our crops, fields, roads and bridges makes it rather difficult to have a positive attitude toward a flood; however, one Believer views it as being symbolic of the spiritual rain that God promised in the latter days. (Joel 2:28, 29).

We are hearing from many different geographical locations that Revival has begun. Millions are being saved in Africa, in the midst of persecution and hunger. Dr. Cho's church in Seoul, Korea has grown to a membership of 500,000. They have a place of prayer called "Prayer Mountain" where someone is in prayer 24 hours a day. (America is at the top of their list). Signs and wonders are being witnessed in the little country of Indonesia. A woman who just returned from Paris, France attended a Catholic Church service there, where God's spirit is moving mightily.

If this is that which is spoken of in Joel, we must prepare by putting out clean vessels, under the spout, to catch the water. We need to patch the weak places so there won't be a leak. We must build an ark of prayer and move to higher ground with praise to the giver of the rain.

The coming of the Lord is imminent in spite of the scoffers who say, "Oh, I've heard that all my life and He hasn't come yet." May we not ignore the signs as those did in Noah's time who were warned of the approaching flood. It came and so will our Lord Jesus Christ, "in an hour when we think not." (Matt. 24:44) First comes the rain to quench the thirst, then comes the Sun.

Eternas Study Club Members Attend Annual Board Meeting

Mrs. Spencer (Wilda) Dixon, president of GFWC Eternas Study Club and Mrs. Donnie (Kelli) Jackson attended the 26th Annual Board Meeting and Workshop of Caprock District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, a member of General Federation of Women's Clubs. The meeting was held October 11, 1986 at the Farwell Community Center, Farwell, Texas. During the opening ceremonies, Mrs. Jackson gave the response to the welcome from the mayor of Farwell, Mr. Chris Gikas. After a short business session and a reporting workshop, the district department chairmen gave brief summaries of their department goals and programs for the coming two years.

After a short break, each department chairman conducted a brief workshop with more details of the expectations in each department. Mrs. Dixon is district Public Affairs chairman and Mrs. Jackson is chairman of the Home Life department and both ladies had very successful workshops.

Next, the ladies were served an excellent luncheon, with singing and a style show as entertainment. After lunch, there was a film, "Operation Con Game" and a discussion about the state president's special project, "Stop Elder Abuse" (SEA).

GFWC awards were then passed out and GFWC Eternas Study Club received the first place for Juniors, statewide, for M.D. Anderson Hospital donations. The club also received a certificate of appreciation for the support of Girlstown, U.S.A.

After the closing reports, Mrs. Dixon led those attending in the Club Collect as the benediction.

PUMPKINS

Yesterday I saw a truck load of pumpkins going down the highway and a very special feeling came over me - yes, the harvest of pumpkins means autumn is here!

Pumpkins are not just for jack-o-laterns and pumpkins pies. You can savor the mellow delicious flavor of pumpkin in a variety of innovative, sumptuous dishes ranging from crepes to chili, salads to souffles, brownies to barbeque sauces and donuts to dips.

Everywhere we look this time of year we see pumpkins - whether lit up as jack-o-laterns, in the field, or at a roadside park or grocery store for sale. The word "pumpkin", which dates back to the 17th century, is actually derived from the Greek word "pepon" which means "cooked by the sun."

Pumpkins which are rich in vitamin A are abundant now, but some varieties are better suited for making jack-o-laterns and others for cooking. The very large, pale orange variety, known as field pumpkin, is more widely used for carving upon Halloween.

The very deep orange and often smaller variety is known for its sweetness and as the sugar pumpkin. Generally, they are more desirable for cooking because they have a sweeter, finer texture and more flavorful flesh. However, either type may be used for cooking as long as it is fully ripe and has a firm rind.

In addition to the traditional methods of baking, boiling, steaming fresh pumpkin for use, it's also ideal for microwaving. Cut a medium pumpkin in half vertically. Scoop out seeds and membranes. Place half, cut side down, on a glass baking dish. Microwave on high, uncovered 10-15 minutes or until tender, rotating dish once or twice. Cool until easy to handle and scoop out pulp.

Process the pulp in a blender or food processor until smooth and it's then ready to use of spoon into freezer containers and freeze until ready to use.

Eternas Study Club Meets

Thursday, October 16, in the Methodist Parlor, Eternas Study Club held their regular monthly meeting.

A very informative program was presented by Marshall Cooper from Girlstown, U.S.A. Mr. Cooper is from the Whiteface campus and we appreciated greatly the distance he traveled to speak to us. Eternas Study Club helps sponsor a girl at Girlstown as a yearly project.

Refreshments were then served by hostess and co-hostess Renee Meyer and Laurie Minkley. The Business meeting was then called to order by President Wilda Dixon. The date of December 6 was set to hold Old Fashion Christmas this year.

Other items of business were discussed and the meeting adjourned.

Members present were: Mrs. Noilene Bowden, Mrs. Bobbie Brown, Mrs. Reneigh Burns, Mrs. Judy Cooper, Mrs. Wilda Dixon, Mrs. Terree Donaldson, Mrs. Kelli Jackson, Mrs. Shane Jones, Mrs. Renee Meyer, Mrs. Laurie Minkley, Mrs. Anna Ortiz, Mrs. Bettye Stevens.

Clubwomen Attend District And State Fall Workshops

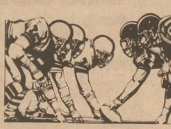

Mrs. Robert (Jo Ann) Dickson, TFWC Santa Rosa District trustee and Home Life Chairman, also a member of TFWC Historical Foundation, and Mrs. Harold (Grace) Campbell, TFWC-Natural Resources Chairman attended the Austin meeting, held September 28-30. Both were program participants.

Matador Garden Club Members Learn Many Shrubs Grow Well In This Area

Matador Garden Club met Monday afternoon, Oct. 20 at the home of Mrs. J.D. Craven for a program on growing shrubs. Members learned that many shrubs grow well in this area, when Mrs. W.D. Lipscomb gave a paper on that subject.

Roses were listed in those with desirable characteristics, along with evergreens, and native plants such as mountain laurel, purple sage and various yucca and cactus species.

"Which shrub to choose depends on the use you want it for," Mrs. Lipscomb said, "whether for ornamental purposes, windbreaks, hedge, flowers and evergreens." For these purposes, suggested were crape myrtle, Arizona Cypress, pomegranate, pampas grass and nandina.

Mrs. Ted Elliott, president, called the meeting to order and minutes were read by Mrs. W.N. Pipkin, secretary. Replacing new plants for old in the downtown planters was a matter for discussion, and plans were made for a wreath-making workshop at the November meeting.

Program leader, Mrs. Douglas Meador conducted roll call, which was answered with a display of sprigs from shrubs grown in members' yards.

"Shrubs are a bushy, woody plant with several permanent stems instead of a single trunk," Mrs. Lipscomb explained in her opening remarks. Types of shrubs, she said, range from dwarf, 1 to 3 feet high, to large, 10 to 25 ft. Small are 3 to 5 ft. and medium, 6 to 9 ft.

The leader read the yearbook Thought: "O sun and skies and clouds of June, And flowers of June together; Ye cannot rival for one hour October's bright blue weather." Excerpts from the Lone Star Gardener magazine, on Pioneer Plants concluded the program.

Mrs. Craven served pie with whipped topping, coffee and hot punch for refreshments to Mesdames Alvin Stearns, Edgar Lee, Ted Elliott and Artie Weston, in addition to those mentioned.

Difficulties Of An Alcoholic's Spouse

Taken from the Floyd Co. Hesperian by Jim Reynolds

Most alcoholics hold themselves in low esteem, according to one spouse. They are equally difficult on their spouses!

One wife of a former alcoholic relates how her husband routinely "went right to bed" after returning home from work each afternoon. He rarely awakened to eat the evening meal with his wife or to visit with his wife and daughters. This is one of the many forms of abuse.

"When he's drinking, an alcoholic is more abusive to his spouse and children, another source says, "but he normally doesn't intimidate the public."

According to one source, spouses of alcoholics "overreact all the time to everything he says or does because you've got so many pent-up feelings of frustration. The alcoholic blames his problems on his wife, the kids, his job, everything and anything but himself. Often, he has a dry drunk and the moods are the same, up and down. Other days he is passive.

"One of the biggest drives in an alcoholic is to argue. He is defensive about his drinking, and he readily puts down his spouse or children. One phrase by the mate or children can set off a tirade."

FAMILY DISEASE

There are reasons why alcoholism is regarded by authorities as a "family disease." "I never know if he will be hateful or loving," one wife confides. "He is remorseful of his violence (more often mental than physical) when he's sober."

One wife of an alcoholic states that her husband "prefers the company of his drinking buddies when he's in the mood to drink." In response to an alcoholic's abuse and mood changes, his/her mate lives in a state of confusion. "Am I not good enough for him (or her)?" is a constant question.

Advise offered to the mate of an alcoholic from "one who has been there" is: "When your mate is drunk and wants to argue, learn to NOT overreact (by yelling, screaming and crying, in some cases hitting). But just leave the room, take a deep breath and realize your mate has an illness. It isn't your problem, the alcoholic wants the mate to feel responsible for his or her drinking. The alcoholic thrives on arguments; it gives him/her another excuse to drink again.

"It is all a trap! The alcoholic wants the sober mate to feel responsible for him/her. He/she loves that. If the sober mate stays in the trap, he/she will stay angry and baffled and depressed. The sober mate must change his/her behavior for his/her own sanity - to keep out of doctors' offices or hospitals."

According to one source, "A large majority of alcoholics are raised in alcoholic-abused homes. The natural pattern is for them to: 1. Become an alcoholic, 2. Marry an alcoholic, 3. Carry on the alcoholic's negative characteristics."

'EXTREMELY PESSIMISTIC'

Due to an alcoholic's extremely pessimistic nature, he/she often chooses a mate who is optimistic by nature. "The alcoholic tries to make the sober mate believe he/she needs the alcoholic. Actually, the opposite is true."

If the alcoholic's habits continue, he/she will lose his/her self respect, family, job or all three, according to one individual.

One spouse, who confessed to loving the mate but hating alcoholism, tells the following story:

"Four years ago I went to the local grocery store and saw a book titled 'Getting Them Sober.' Printed on the back cover was 'Alcoholism is a family disease.' As I picked up the book, I asked myself 'could this be the problem in my life?' I bought the book, took it home and started reading.

"I was truly shocked to be reading about my life - in black and white. At first I was so mad because for the past six years I thought I was crazy.

"I had already failed at one marriage and it was happening again. The patterns were a lot alike. But this second time at marriage, I gave up drinking. My husband and I had been drinking. The next morning I realized we had had a hair pulling, busted lip fight. Our children shouldn't have to live through this because I had as a child. So, I stopped drinking.

"After I finished reading the book I did some of the things the book suggested - it worked. When I was being verbally abused I learned to stop the words from penetrating my heart, mind and soul.

"A note to the sober members: Do you think you're crazy, unlovable, worthless, a bad mate, can't do anything right and powerless. Beware! If your drinking mate is very critical and demanding drunk or on a dry drunk (this is, not drinking) this could be part of your unhappy life. Children are also innocent victims! The best thing you can do is seek help by contacting Al-Anon. After years of this 'family disease' you and the children need counseling. You have become part of a 'sick pattern.' But there is help: it's up to you.

ALCOHOLISM CURABLE

"Also a word of encouragement: alcoholism is a disease that is curable. Of course, that is up to the alcoholic. Sober mates cannot do a thing to control it, stop it or beg the alcoholic to seek help. It is up to the alcoholic.

"The very sad part of alcoholism is the fact that children raised in this 'sick disease' environment will marry alcoholics, become alcoholics or at least carry on the same characteristics. I did.

"Alcoholics believe they are gods, always right and never wrong. The alcoholic wants the sober mate to think they are the main reason for their drinking, dumb, unpleasant and that you would be their slave.

"Being married to an alcoholic is like riding a merry-go-round. Love goes up, then down, then back up and back down. The drunk is sorry he hurt you, then he hurts you again. He is sorry he said all those bad things and then he says them again. He is sorry he stays out until 3 o'clock and then he stays out until 3 again.

"You do not have to keep riding this merry-go-round. Get help and you are helping him, too."

INSECURE CHILDREN

Children in an alcoholic home also develop a sense of insecurity.

More than one individual with close association to an alcoholic(s) point out that most have high IQs and have a sense of generosity when they are sober. They just can't cope with alcoholism.

Spouses of both alcoholics and recovered alcoholics suggest that other mates of alcoholics seek help. One highly recommended source is Al-Anons.

Another recommends checking the book "Getting Him Sober" from the library or securing a copy from other sources. "This helped me more than any book I've ever read on alcoholism, the individual says.

The unanimous advice is "Get help now!"

Stocker Cattle Seminars Examine Keys to Profit

Three one-day seminars for stocker cattle operators in the Panhandle, South Plains and Rolling Plains are being presented by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The programs will be held Oct. 27 in Silvertown, Oct. 28 in Littlefield and Nov. 4 in Lamesa.

"These are designed to be practical," said Dr. John McNeill, Extension beef cattle specialist. "We want producers to get information they can incorporate into their management program."

Stocker operators in Briscoe, Armstrong, Floyd, Hale, Motley and Swisher counties are invited to the program Monday (Oct. 27) at Silvertown. It will be held in Briscoe County Show Barn.

The program will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude about 3:30 p.m. A catered lunch will be served. There is no fee for participating stocker operators.

Changes in farm programs and crops economy have increased the interest in stocker cattle, McNeill said.

He will open each program with a look at cost-effective management of stocker operations. This will include an update of research and result demonstrations, products and techniques that apply to stocker cattle production. It also will look at practices such as use of implants, wormers, vaccines and supplemental feeding programs.

Effective treatment of shipping fever will be addressed by Dr. Larry Hollis of Syntex Animal Health in Amarillo. Hollis, former case coordinator at the Texas A&M University Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory in Amarillo, will explain vaccination programs and preventive medicine techniques to reduce cattle sickness and death loss.

Marketing tips from a cattle buyer will be provided, presented by Ed Wright, independent buyer from Amarillo. He will explain factors producers should consider when purchasing and selling their livestock, and which can have a great impact on the financial outcome of their operation.

Following lunch, each program will feature a live animal demonstration dubbed, "Do It Right While They're In The Chute." Here, Extension agents and specialists will join commercial field representatives in showing how to properly administer vaccines, implants, wormers, feed additives, rumen inoculants and other products. They will answer questions and discuss products.

During the closing segment, Dr. Dee Griffin, staff veterinarian for Pioneer Hybrid International, Guyman, Okla., and Hollis will necropsy cattle that have died from different causes. They will show what producers can learn from a necropsy report and its values in treating problems.

Commercial firms participating in the seminars are Elanco Products Co., Hi Pro Feeds, Hoechst-Roussel, Immunomodulators Laboratories, International Mineral and Chemicals Corp., MSD-Ag Vet, Pioneer Hybrid International and Syntex Animal Health.

Social Security Tips

by Terry J. Clements

The Federal Government has enlisted the aid of health-care professionals to oversee the hospital treatment given Medicare patients. In general, Peer Review Organizations (PRO's), which are composed of health professionals, are responsible for seeing that each Medicare patient receives the hospital care that is medically indicated in the particular case. The PRO also makes certain that the care is provided in the appropriate setting, e.g., hospital, outpatient clinic, or other, and that whatever care is provided meets a generally accepted level of quality.

PRO's are also responsible for investigating patient complaints. For example, a person may believe that he or she was improperly refused admission to a hospital or was made to leave the hospital too soon. Complaints about the quality of care a patient receives may also be directed to the PRO; however, the issue should first be brought to the attention of the patient's own physician or to a representative of the hospital.

A patient who has been denied admission to a hospital and who disagrees with the decision may request a reconsideration. The request must be submitted in writing within 60 days of the denial. It may be submitted directly to the PRO or through the local Social Security office.

A hospitalized patient who is informed that he or she must either leave the hospital or begin paying for the care may also request a PRO review. The request should be made as soon as possible by either the patient or a family member after receipt of the notice.

Beware Of Flood-Damaged Vehicles

Because of recent flooding in the Midwest, Southwest and other areas, new car and truck dealers are warning consumers to exercise care in buying vehicles that may have been flood damaged, said Gene Fondren, president of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association.

"Lately, there has been severe flooding in several areas and some flood-damaged cars may be turning up in the Texas market," Fondren said. "Consumers should carefully inspect the car or truck they are considering buying for signs of water damage."

Fondren said anyone selling a flood-damaged vehicle should disclose any and all damage or impairments caused by water "no matter how much the vehicle has been reconditioned." Fondren suggested a five-point check list for looking for possible flood damage.

Consumers should check all dashboard gauges for accuracy. "Look for signs of water in the gauges," he said. "Beware. Any automobile that has been in the water up to its dash is likely to be dangerous regardless of how much it has been reconditioned. "Corrosion under the hood, inside and under the car bumpers, behind the hubcaps or around the gas cap indicates flood damage." Fondren said. Corrosion of metal may cause a weak spot.

Check lights, the windshield wipers, the turn signals, the cigarette lighter, the radio, the heater, fans and the air conditioner several times. "Make sure they work repeatedly," Fondren said. "Also flex some wires under the dash to see if they bend or crack or fail."

Start the car several times and "look for white smoke, which may mean that the engine has been cleaned recently. Drive the car to make sure it accelerates, shifts and stops smoothly. Mud or sand in the fuel, cooling or lubrication systems may cause extensive and expensive damage," Fondren said.

"Finally," Fondren said, "check the interior and the trunk for signs of mud or water." The back seat can be removed easily so the stuffing and the upholstery can be inspected. Also check the carpet for dampness.

"Your nose may be your best guide," Fondren said. "Musty odors, along with water marks, could be a sign that the upholstery, stuffing or carpet have been wet and may rot."

They are darkened in their understanding and separated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them due to the hardening of their hearts.

Eph. 4:18

"Let no one be found among you...who practices divination, or sorcery, interprets omens, engages in witchcraft, or casts spells, or is a medium or spiritist or who consults the dead."

Deut. 18: 10-11

The Patton Springs Junior High - Junior Varsity cheerleaders for 1986-87 are freshman Carolee Hughes, Sophomore Cindy Merrick, freshman Sandra Fulmer, and eighth grader Rhonda Smith. Come see them perform pep rallies on Thursday at 12:15 p.m. Their last two games are this Thursday, Oct. 23 at home against Silverton and next Thursday, Oct. 30 at Guthrie.

Football News

by Chip Hollenback

The Motley County Matadors found out why the Valley Patriots are rated number 3 in the state by the Harris Rating System, as they lost 60-6 Friday night. Although the Motley County defense held the explosive Valley offense in check for the first 7 minutes of the first quarter, the Patriots scored two quick touchdowns by the close of the first quarter. The Patriots added three more scores in the second quarter for a 34-0 halftime lead. The second half proved to be much of the same as the speed and quickness of the Patriots gave them more big play scores.

Jeffrey Burkes provided some excitement for the Motley County fans as he broke loose on a 40 yard broken field run down the right sideline in the 4th quarter to put the Matadors on the scoreboard. Offensively, the Matadors could not overcome the quickness and penetration of the Valley defense. The game plan had called for the Motley County offense to possess the football on long drives to keep the Valley offense off the field as much as possible. However, the offense was unable to do this and the Valley offense took advantage of the situation. The offense would have two or three good plays and then be stopped for no gain. The offense will have a few changes in personnel this week and a reduction in the number of plays they are trying to run.

Defensively, the Matadors looked to have hit the Patriots harder than any other opponent this season. Physically, Motley County played very hard, intense football. But there were just too many mental mistakes in pass coverage that resulted in several scoring pass plays. Fortunately, Motley County will not see another pass offense of the caliber of Saul to Company for many a day. The Valley quarterback and his three receivers were all seniors.

Although the team was very disappointed by the lopsided loss to their arch rival from the North, this game could prove to be a turning point in the football program of Motley County. The team seems to have developed a closeness and a unity this week that they did not have before. If the team continues to work together and support each other, a winning program cannot be far behind.

The Matadors are working very hard this week in preparation for their Homecoming Game against the Crowell Wildcats. Be sure to come early for the pre-game festivities that will begin at 7:10 p.m. Kickoff will be 7:30. All Motley County fans are invited to come out and support the team as they play hard for victory.

School Newsletter

by Ron Cummings

The participation in the Parent-Teacher visitations was exceptionally high again this year. The larger number of students in some classes made scheduling some appointments difficult, and your cooperation helped tremendously.

Each parent is reminded to check their child periodically, so that the headlice infestation can be eliminated as quickly as possible. Also, the notices on those students who require further immunization will be sent home to parents today. Please help the school fulfill the state requirements on immunizations.

The coming week will be full of activities, and should be fun but it will also be tiring. H.S. Basketball practice starts for girls after school, and there are tests to be given to juniors and seniors this week, as well as the Homecoming Activities all during the week.

As each day goes by, the new school comes closer to completion. Even though no firm completion date can be set at this time, we are optimistic about being able to occupy the building soon. We are grateful for your patience and we know that we've waited long enough.

However, the new school building will be of a superior quality, and every taxpayer, patron, and student will be proud of it, so let's continue to be patient. Pearls are beautiful, but they take a long time to grow. The H.S. Basketball girls are selling Homecoming mums. Mums may be ordered each morning from 8:00 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. at the desk outside the principal's office.

School Calendar

Thursday, October 23: Sophomore class meeting at 8:00 a.m. ACT tests for Jrs. and Srs. 8:35 - 11:00 a.m. Bonfire at VFW at 7:30 p.m.

Friday, October 24: Homecoming Pep Rally in Gym at 3:30 p.m. Pre-game crowning of Homecoming Queen at 6:10 p.m.

Motley County Matadors vs Crowell Wildcats at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, October 25: History day at the Ranch. Students who are going to History Day at the Ranch will leave Saturday morning at 8:15 a.m. Meet in front of the school.

Booster Club Notes

by Noilene Bowden

There are some things you watch, like a movie or T.V. program that never gets better. You guys however are really pulling it together. Knox City was a game played to gain experience through trails of fire. Each week and with each game, I can see so much improvement.

Coach has taken 22 individuals and molded them into a fighting machine. Pulling together for the good of the team and school. Once this has happened the score will change and we will be on top.

Valley is one of the top rated teams on the South Plains and yet you were able to move the ball on them. You kept your eyes open for their plays and watched for fumbles. Everyone knew it was going to be a hard game but you got out there and did your best. You proved it even in the hardest times a score can be made. YOU CAN DO IT! ALL THE WAY MOTLEY COUNTY!

As we sit and watch you play every Friday night, we see boys becoming men. Worthy opponents for any team.

Everyone come to the homecoming game. Lets show our Fighting Spirit.

Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. (1 Cor. 13: 4-7)

Boulter Urges Formation Of White House Task Force On Rural Communities

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Congressman Beau Boulter (R-13) urged the Reagan administration yesterday to focus every available resource of the federal government on finding a solution to the crisis facing rural America. To aid progress in this direction, Boulter suggested the formation of a high-level interagency task force to begin work on policies aimed at revitalizing the heartland of this country.

In a meeting with Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng yesterday, Boulter, joined by fellow members of the House Republican Research Committee's Rural Communities Task Force, urged the administration to form the new task force saying, "an interagency task force would marshal the vast resources of the federal government in helping to find solutions to the social and financial problems gripping many rural communities."

Specifically, Boulter suggested that the task force be formed immediately, and report directly to the Economic Policy Cabinet chaired by Secretary of the Treasury James Baker.

"It is my hope that a task force of this nature will be able to develop the types of policies and strategies which will improve the economic conditions being faced by rural Americans and their communities," Boulter added. "Effective strategies formulated late this year will be taken up by Congress when it reconvenes in January."

The meeting with Secretary Lyng was the latest in a series of meetings Republican Members of the Rural Communities Task Force have held with Administration officials expressing concern over the situation in rural America and recommending changes in Administration policy for addressing those problems.

Reflections

 by Duff Green *****

Pitchfork Kid

(Bill Parlow)

On the front page of the "Cattleman", Dec. 1936 issue, can be found a picture of the old time West Texas or Cap-Rock section cowboy, made by Erwin E. Smith many years ago. The rider is the "Pitchfork Kid," Bill Parlow. No one ever called him anything but "Kid" and he began his cow-punching in the middle eighties for the Pitchfork Ranch.

That is the way he came by the nick-name of "Fork-Kid" by reason of his youth. After laboring for the Forks for a number of years, the Kid rode one season for John T. George, then transferred his services to the Matador, where he rode for many years. In fact, he was killed in their service. The nick-name never left him. He was always known as the Fork Kid or as Kid. Few people ever knew his real name.

You will note the bull-whip tied to his saddle. Made by himself, he was never without one. A plaiter of whips and quirts that few equaled. A studious, diligent worker with such things, and when the Kid untied that whip from his saddle and swung it out into space, he could come nearer making it pop in all directions than any man I ever saw use one. A bull-whip is a splendid cow persuader when a man knows how to use it. That Fork-Kid was a regular go-getter. A fine calf-roper, bulls, steers or what not. Many old outlaw steers lost their horns to him, perchance by cutting a ring around the root of their horns and knocking them off with a convenient club.

Back in the early nineties while a Matador man, he, for good reason known only to himself, revisited the Fork Ranch where a bad horse he was topping for the other fellow, pitched off of a bluff and gave the Kid a bad spill, breaking him up and in a measure, destroying his former usefulness.

The Matador sent him to Trinidad, Colorado or some other seaport town (said in jest as my father knew geography better than anyone I ever knew, M.G.W.), for a clinic examination and treatment in an effort to restore his former ability. The Kid recovered but was never his old self, still, he was good enough to take first money at Seymour in 1897, where they had real wild oxens to rodeo by laying them on the turf and tying their feet in a minimum of seconds. Those steers came from the Cuba and Little Arizona breaks country and were roped in the open.

After working on the Matador Ranch in Texas for twenty years or more, the kid was sent into New Mexico to care for Matador cattle put there to pasture. He never got back. In some way he was thrown from a wagon and killed while going down a mountain side with feed for the cattle.

It can be truthfully said that the Fork Ranch raised Press Goen and the Fork Kid. They sided each other and when together, no one else was especially needed.

The Fork Kid had many good traits other than being a good cow-hand. If a man came along to spend the night with the outfit, the kid hunted him out and shared his bed with the stranger, if at the time he had no bed-fellow, if he had someone sleeping with him, he found a place for the stranger. That courtesy was always appreciated by others and remembered. If the Fork Kid had any relations, I never knew of them.

Remember When

by Annie B. Cloyd

Hello Neighbors, I'm still in the 50's now and even though I was here at that time, it is hard to remember every business that was in full swing, so to speak.

Harrison George's Grocery was still doing great -- I remember one thing Harrison said to me one day -- "If you ask for something and I am out of it, just come back and I'll be sure and have it next time."

And he most always did, too. Robert I. Thomas Service Station and Garage closed for a while and they moved away and Bert Cloyd opened that Station for a time until he moved across the street and opened the station that Fred McNeely had been running.

I remember a Mr. Harold Allen that had opened the Webb Grocery store and I don't think he was there very long -- but I remember one thing he did and I can't seem to forget it. He took his meat cleaver and "Bobbed" the tails of some little puppies for someone. Well, at least it was quick.

After the Allen's moved away, Winfred Joe Webb moved back here and reopened the Webb Grocery. I remember Winfred Joe's wife rocking their baby in an old straight chair -- just bouncing back and forth and pretty soon the baby would be sound asleep. Isn't it funny the way things used to be and the things we did. Now-a-days you aren't supposed to do much rocking because it might spoil the baby. Seems like all that love and closeness is left out. I better let that go before I start off on something else.

The Gilbert Gin was sold and a Mr. Adams bought it. His wife was a school teacher here for a while. Then the Gin was sold to Odis Crowell and Maurice Goodwin. Mrs. Odis Crowell taught school here also.

Tom and Myra Spears Gin was doing good. I remember Myra had a cat that slept on the counter in the gin office. Myra called him Junior. She had him a pillow and he would get on it and nothing much bothered him. Funny the things you remember, isn't it?

The John Deere Shop was still doing good and Mrs. Mac's cafe was still going. Sometime during this time, Mrs. Mollie Gates moved back here and opened a cafe for a while.

Elsie Cloyd opened the Ideal Beauty Shop and did a real good job making all of us look better. Isn't it great to go to the Beauty Shop and let someone else do all the "fixing up" for a change.

There is a lot more to think about but I better stop for now and will come back and Remember When again soon.

- 1 C. chopped tomatoes
- 1/2 C. coarsely chopped onion
- 1 (4-oz.) can chopped green chiles
- 1 T. olive or vegetable oil

Dear Hazel, Letters from Exes

Dear Hazel,

It's great to find that some things are inflation-proof! Hard to believe that dues are still only $1. Enclosed are my dues for some future years in case I forget.

I'm working with a number of private schools in the District of Columbia and Maryland area and will be unable to attend Homecoming festivities. Hate to miss it as I do enjoy a party. Y'all have fun.

The Matadors were a 'bit' on ESPN in DC last week. Proud to be from Texas and especially Motley County. Good luck, 'Big Red'!

Sincerely,
Gary Campbell

Dear Mrs. Donovan,

I have retired from the practice of medicine, last year, after practicing 51 years and at age 85, I am too old and too inactive to travel anymore. Thanks for remembering me. You have a busy schedule planned and I wish you a good attendance and lots of fun. I have great memories of Matador and all the great people that live there.

Dear Hazel,

Homecoming this year 'sorta' sneaked up on us. Doesn't seem like a year has passed! Don't think we will make it over there this time. We enjoyed last Homecoming so very much. Thanks, Matador, for continuing this nice tradition. Enclosed are our dues.

Dear Hazel,

Just received your schedule of events for the annual homecoming. My, it just makes one feel old when you think 43 years.

I am sorry that I won't be able to make it again this year, but it will be impossible. Enclosed is my check to help defray a part of the expenses. It has been quite some time since I sent any expense money and I do appreciate your sending me the annual reminders.

Tell everyone hello for me and hopefully we will be able to make it soon.

Enclosed is a check for dues and whatever -- I don't see how you can still manage on a $1 fee. I won't know until that morning whether I can make it. I haven't been in several years. Then when I read about it in the Tribune, someone I would love to see would be there. I'll try a little harder this year.

I have been thinking about coming to the event -- but don't know yet -- maybe, so I'll send my dues.

Dear Hazel,

I must not have done what I intended to do last year, since my Matador Homecoming letter went to Idalou. I thought I sent my dues and change of address to you, but know now that I did not, so I am making sure this time that I carry our my intentions.

We moved back to Spur in September two years ago. I hope we do not move again. Our farms are at Jayton and it was not convenient to look after them from Idalou. Hope you have a good Homecoming this year.

Class of 1956

Don and I are looking forward to seeing you for Homecoming on the 25th. We aren't sure about Friday evening -- but will definitely be there in time for Saturday a.m. coffee. Thank you and the other homefolk for your years of faithfulness -- so that the rest of us can just enjoy

Gratefully,
June (Spray) Wason

Dear Hazel,

Good to hear from you, as always, this time of year. Please say hello to all my friends and high school classmates in Matador. I'll never forget those years!

I have been very busy working to pass an Equal Rights Amendment in Vermont. This is the only state voting on this in 1986. If it passes here, the entire effort will begin again for an Amendment to the federal Constitution.

I hope everyone is well there. Still remember my good visit there in the summer of 1985.

Love,
Marie (Hunsucker) Baldwin
Middlebury, Vermont

Dear Hazel,

Enclosed is my check for dues, plus a little extra. Sorry I cannot be with you this year, due to some health problems, but I am sure you will have a great Homecoming as always. I am definitely planning to be there in '88 when my class has its 50th reunion. Best wishes.

Dear Hazel,

As usual I won't be able to attend Homecoming this year. I fell the 26th of March and broke 3 bones in my right hip, and am just now getting to walk without my walker and wheelchair. Marlin has poor circulation and his eyes are not very good, so we had to go to the McGee Nursing Home.

Just put this (contribution) where you want it. Hope you all have a good time, and wishing all the best of luck.

As ever,
Frankie (Meador) Pounds

Hazel,

Here's my dues! Jammie and I will be at Homecoming this year. The Class of '81 is having our 5th year reunion this year. Can you believe it! We are meeting at 3:00 p.m. Saturday at the VFW. I really don't know why it was scheduled to be at the same time as the business meeting and program.

In any event, we are looking forward to a wonderful time of seeing everyone.

Dear Hazel,

Thank you for reminding us of that exciting time for 1986 Motley County School Homecoming. Due to illness in my family, Frankie and Marlin Pounds, and Lola Wilson, likely I can not make Homecoming. However, it is in my plans, so, here is my dollar, and one for Mildred Meador Bryant. Her address is 320 S. 11th. St., Teague, Tx 75860.

Love,
Lucille Meador Woolery

4-H Awards Banquet

Big award winners at the October 14 4-H Awards Banquet for the 85-85 4-H year, were Rhonda Long and Rusty Willmon as the Gold Star 4-Her recipients. Rhonda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Long of Roaring Springs. Rusty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Willmon of Afton. Both 4-Hers have been very active in 4-H in the county and have participated in many district and state contests and trips.

Adults honored at the banquet as Leaders of the Year were Barbara Parks and Elmer Parks, both of Roaring Springs. Both these leaders have helped with many 4-H activities for several years. They deserve our appreciation. The award is sponsored each year by Lighthouse and Dickens Electric Cooperatives.

Pen winners in each project area were selected by an awards judging committee. The committee selected winners according to the best record forms entered in each project. The winners included: Rhonda Long and Robin Long in Foods, Tonya Hoyle in Clothing, Kobbi

Risser in Photography, Darryl Perryman in Beef, Christie Pierce in Public Speaking, Billy Lefevre in Swine, and Shooting Sports, Rusty Willmon Athletics, Tricia Palmer in Health, Home Development and Child Development, Lacey Parks in Horse and Sheep and Rhonda Long in Family Life Education. All other 4-Hers completing projects by turning in record forms were awarded certificates. There were 52 in all.

The Banquet was held again in the Matador Fire Hall. The speaker this year was Stafe and National award winning 4-Her, Rodney Ebling from Hale County. He encouraged the 4-Hers to strive for State and National awards and scholarships. His 4-H club of only 22 members at the rural community of Halfway has had several scholarship winners the past seven years with winnings totaling over $50,000.

A big thank you should go to all those that helped with the 1986 Banquet. We are looking forward to an excellent 86-87 year.

Gertrude Smith Enjoys New England Tour

Mrs. Gertrude Smith of Matador, Mrs. Tom (Dorothy) Melton and Mrs. Blanche Melton of Odessa, Texas returned Friday from a trip to New York and Vermont, fall foliage tour.

The ladies enplaned from Odessa to Albany, New York where they rented a car and drove through the country-side, making their headquarters at Glen Falls, New York, arriving there on Saturday, October 11.

Sunday they visited at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., the oldest race track in the United States. They also have the famous harness races. Then to Cambridge, N.Y. with quaint old homes and beautiful churches. Monday to Hartford, N.Y., cute store, country warmth, on the Manchester, Vermont, lined with stately trees and homes set back from the road, mostly painted white. Equinox Inn, once was a country club and beautiful. The Abe Lincoln home, The Hildene is a museum now. There are many Pumpkin farms. The next stop was Dorset, Vermont. Dorset Inn is the town's center, on a village green. Famous Dorset Playhouse, one of the oldest summer theaters in New England is quartered here. There was also a number of nice quaint shops.

Tuesday it was raining, we shopped some and drove to Latham, N.Y. and Cohoes, N.Y. which is an old factory town with beautiful churches and old buildings. Wednesday to Rutland, Vermont which is the state's second largest city and the area is famous for its marble. Such landmarks as the John F. Kennedy Memorial in Washington D.C., the N.S. Supreme Court Building, and the N.Y. Public Library are constructed of marble quarried in this section of Vermont. Middlebury College, founded in 1776 is also in Rutland, one of the oldest in the U.S. This is the green Mountain area. Pittsford and Brandon, the home of Nicholas M. Powers, Vermont's master builder of covered bridges. Killington Ski area with their beautiful mountains.

Woodstock, Vermont graceful and beautiful, is a year round attraction. Woodstock Inn is a beautiful hotel. Powerlines are buried out of sight, by a grant from Laurence Rockefeller who owns a home here.

Thursday to Montpelier, the capital of Vermont. 8500 residents in a valley of the Winooski River, dominated by the green hills on each side, against which the Gold Dome of the State House stands out in sharp and elegant relief. The State House was built in 1859. Northfield, Vermont, home of the first military school in the U.S. The beautiful building among the mountains is a beautiful sight to behold. Waitfield, Warren, Farptan area is know as either Mad River Valley, for the river or Sugarbush Valley, because of growing resort area for skiing. In this area we were lost for awhile and had to ask for help from the State Police, then back to Glen Falls, N.Y.

We visited N.Y. capital in Albany and then departed for Odessa.

The leaves were beautiful although all of the natives assured us that in other years they were more beautiful.

Mrs. Smith returned home from Odessa on Sunday afternoon.

Dayton Jackson, an employee of West Texas Utilities Co. since 1964, has been named Assistant Manager of the company's Panhandle District.

Jackson and his wife, Mary, are moving to Childress this month from San Angelo, where he has been district customer service supervisor.

Don Welch of Abilene, vice president and director of customer services, said Jackson has been designated to succeed District Manager A.D. Green at Childress when Green retires on Jan. 1, 1987.

WTU's Panhandle District has headquarters in Childress and includes local offices at Clarendon, Crowell, Matador, Memphis, Paducah, Quanah, Quitaque, Shamrock, Turkey, Vernon and Wellington.

Jackson and his wife are both natives of Coleman County. He is a 1962 graduate of Santa Anna High School and worked for WTU as a serviceman at Santa Anna and as local manager in Jayton, Bronte and Alpine before moving to San Angelo as local manager in 1978. He was promoted to customer service supervisor of the San Angelo District in 1981.

At San Angelo, Jackson was on the official board of St. Luke United Methodist Church, director of the Downtown Lions Club and was active in Chamber of Commerce Affairs.

The Jacksons have two children: Wes, a freshman at Texas Tech University, and Shelly, a senior at Angelo State University.

Nutritional Briefs

THE WHOLE-GRAIN ADVANTAGE—Milling wheat to produce white flour removes nutrients from the bran and germ, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist. Dr. Alice Hunt points out that enriched breads replace the lost iron, thiamin, riboflavin and niacin. But flours made from the whole grain contain more of other nutrients, such as folic acid, vitamin B-6, vitamin E, phosphorus, magnesium and zinc than enriched white flour. If you don't like whole wheat bread, you don't have to switch to increase your intake of whole grains, she maintains. Brown rice, oatmeal, and corn tortillas, barley and whole-wheat grains, barley and whole-wheat pasta are all whole grains. Or, the nutritionist recommends trying foods made with a mixture of whole-grain flours and enriched flour, including bran muffins, cornbread, cracked wheat bread, graham crackers and rye bread.

Lubbock, October 15, 1986-- Kevin Neal Scarbrough, a senior and quarterback on the Patton Springs High School football team, has definite plans for the four years following his graduation next spring that will provide him with a skill, a job, a $7,000 bonus, travel, $9,600 for college, and several other benefits.

The son of Ronald and Bonnie Scarbrough of Dickens, Kevin has joined two other Patton Springs seniors, Sammy Lee Little and David John Niblock, in the Army's Delayed Entry Program. All three students will enter on active duty next summer after graduation.

"Kevin's high scores on his Armed Forces Qualification Test (AFQT) helped qualify him to train as a linguist at the Presidio of Monterey in California. When he successfully completes the 47 weeks of training he will be fluent in a foreign language and will receive his $7,000 bonus," recruiting Sergeant Mitch Hackman said. "He will participate in the G.I. Bill and will accrue $9,600 for college after contributing only $1,200 over a period of a year."

To qualify for a bonus, applicants must be high school diploma graduates, score 50 or higher on the AFQT, and must satisfy other special requirements for training in selected military occupation specialties.

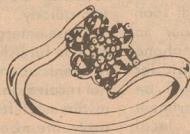

For further information about Army opportunities, Hackman may be reached at 743-7617 or at the Lubbock Recruiting Station, 4205 A. 50th Street.

Hard Times Tempered Flomot Team

by Marisue Potts

Whenever talk turns to athletics and hard times, the Flomot team of 1945-46 is sure to be mentioned.

Just three years before, Flomot schools were hard hit by the manpower shortages caused by the war, and there was neither the kids to play nor coaches to supervise them in regular football. So in 1943 Turkey, Estelline, Silverton, and Flomot made a pact that they would play 6-man football. That year 14 boys suited out, but when the going got rough and no wins were forthcoming, only eight or nine stayed out. The score of one particular smarting loss was about 75 to 0 recalls an ex-player.

During the 1944 season, Superintendent Dewey Rattan recruited 16 boys and this time they all stayed out. In the roundrobin play of ten games, under the tutelage of Orville Marler, the boys won about half their games.

When the 1945 season rolled around, no coach was available. This time the boys recruited. E.J. Hines who was driving one of the new school buses agreed to help coach without pay.

In addition, the team, led by his nephews M.C. Jones and Herb Martin, approached W.E. Burleson, farmer-rancher living in the Cedar Hill Community, thirteen miles west. The boys promised to trade their time, volunteering to sow wheat, shock feed, or work cattle, for Burleson's time. Not satisfied with the hour long workouts before the bus ran, the boys often drove to Burleson's and many evenings found them working out on pastureland in front of his house.

The football players, used to playing with little protection, in whatever was available, were treated to 6 new jerseys, 6 new pairs of shoes, and 6 new headgear, the old soft leather caps being replaced with state-of-the-art plastic ones. Many of the boys were in the 130 pound range, and it was not uncommon for a senior in the 11 grade curriculum to be only sixteen years old. The boys were scrappy though and many had been doing a man's work since the war began. Several were talented; all were determined.

Burleson put the boys through the paces, toughening them with rigorous training and drills. During the first game with Silverton, Flomot squeaked by 12-6. For two weeks before the repeat grudge game, Burleson urged the boys to "run up the cap," a steep rocky road notoriously hard on cars. With his tongue-in-cheek humor showing, Burleson claimed that would help the boys adjust to the altitude of the rival town.

The day of the big game dawned. Lots of money was riding on the outcome. The wind blew and sand peppered the football field and players alike. Center Jerrel Martin had trouble getting the ball to quarterback Calvin Monk. By the third quarter, two blocked punts, a safety, and a successful drive by Silverton put the Flomot lead in jeopardy. Aroused, the Longhorns pushed down the field; then M.C. Jones sprinted for a touchdown. Flomot fans mobbed the field when the referee ruled Jones' foot went out on the four yard line. Parents were calmed and play resumed. Ralph Jones scored around the end. The conversion was good. In the final minutes, Frank Fisher intercepted a Silverton pass and raced 40 yards to score the final thrilling touchdown.

After such an exciting game, beating Dickens for the Bi-District title, as far as 3B and 4B schools were allowed to go, was anticlimatic. The Flomot miracle team had risen from nothing to the top.

ROUNDBALL SUCCESS FOLLOWS

The country was on the mend in 1946. The first new cars built after the war became available, and began to show up in the country. The crops were expected to be fair, but more importantly, the war veterans began trickling home.

Recently released from the armed forces, Raby Webb and Odell Washington officiated at the Flomot Basketball Tournament. That particular meet attended by overflowing crowds was characterized by friendly feelings, close competition, and good sportsmanship. The hustling Flomot Senior boys won, with their tall forward, M.C. Jones netting 48 points in the three game series.

Looking for tough opponents to hone the skills of the team, Burleson scheduled games with Plainview. In the Wayland gym the "rangy and agile" Flomot boys, Calvin Monk, Sandy Washington, Ralph Jones, Herb Martin, M.C. Jones, and J.C. Moss, lead most of the game, but were defeated in a defensive game, 28-23.

With the Plainview defeats their only losses in the season, the miracle team swept the district to become 4B Champs.

Bedazzled by the lights of Lubbock and the prestige of staying at the Hilton Hotel, the country kids felt as if they had hit the bigtime with regional competition at the Tech gym.

During this time returning war vet Norman Martin began promoting Burleson as the "Cowboy Coach". As an article in the Amarillo Times stated, Burleson was "a cowpuncher who has added a sideline of wrangling high school athletes...and coaches (them) for the love of it."

"Last Saturday night, Burleson pitched his comfortably worn Stetson at a jaunty angle and chewed hard on his long brown cigar as he watched his game basketeers throw a scare into the camp of highly touted (Stratford) five for three closely fought quarters in the semi-finals and then oust Bovina for third place in Region 1B consolation round."

As today's young men pick themselves up from hard times, perhaps the story of Flomot's tough team will encourage them that with perseverance, toughness, and dedicated coaching a better day is on the way. Many thanks to Mose Damron, Ralph Jones, M.C. Jones, and Herb Martin for sharing their memories and scrapbooks.

Calvin Monk, Sandy Washington, W.E. Burleson, M.C. Jones, Herb Martin, Ralph "Bill" Jones. Dist. 4B Champs of 1946.
