ROARING SPRINGS CITY COUNCIL DEALS WITH REPEAT PROBLEMS

Present at the Roaring Springs City Council meeting October 7 Mayor Eugene Watson, ilmen, Gene Brannon, Adams, Ronnie Thacker, Roy Hernandez, and city secretary Odessa Mullins. Mayor Watson called the meeting to order and asked for meeting to order and asked for the minutes to be read by Odessa Mullins. Thacker asked for motion to approve minutes. Thacker reported Annie Alvarado sent the information for the Economic Plainning Grant

Water meter complaints were water meter complaints were discussed. Adams reported that she went around with David Saenz last month to read the meters and she planned to go meters and she planned to go again this month and that with the two different brands of meters there was a difference in the way to read them, she was sure this was the problem.

A discussion followed about placing new meters and it was decided to wait until they knew about the arant.

It was decided that the Water bills that haven't been paid and no arrangements made to pay them, the meter would be be a charge of a service fee plus the previous bill paid when the meter was replaced. Mullins read about a waste water school that Saenz should go to in Big Springs. Thacker suggested they let him go.

Thacker introduced Mrs. Jerry Crenshaw who was there to apply for the Economic Development fund. She and her husband want to purchase the Cafe R.S. business and building. The couple wants to borrow $50,000 from the Economic Development Grant fund monies, which will be paid back in 10 years. A discussion followed and Brannon suggested that they start the paper work to get it approved as soon as possible for Harry Hamilton had called wanting to know where the city limit borders are. Thacker stated the map showed the City limits were laid out in 1920 of Block No. 29, 1 section of land in Motley County was correct and that they had gotten the new maps in and would have them up by next meeting.

Judge Whitaker reported to the Commissioners that a party has inquired about tearing the J.d. Whiteflat School down in exchange for the materials salvaged. This party would put the debris in the old basement and cover it over. The Judge informed them that the school was owned by the school district was owned by the school district and the land was owned by the county. Commissioner Russell made a motion to allow the school district to dispose of the building. This unanimously.

HOSPITAL BOARD MINUTES

The Motley County Hospital Board met on October 10, 1986. Those attending were President Larry Hoyle, J.M. Thacker and Darrell Cruse.

Minutes were read and approved, bills were read and passed to pay the outstanding bills of $2,791.08.

bills of $2,791.08.
It was reported that a new commode had been purchased and installed for the clinic.
As the time sheets were read for the EMT's it was brought up that they would like for them to keep them up to date and get them in at the end of each month they worked.

The EMT's had asked for some new supplies, Hoyle presented the list and the total came to $450.00. The motion was made and passed to purchase the supplies.

The problem of the water running in the back of the clinic running in the back of the clinic and standing in the x-ray room was discussed. Hoyle suggested several ways to help solve the problem. Caldwell Smith is to look into getting someone to fix it, to take care of the water that causes problems when it rains.

It was noted that the new nurse practitioner and the doctor saw 42 patients on Thursday October 9.

Stanley Pharmacy Celebrates 41 Years

Stanley Pharmacy is celebrating it's 41st. year in business, announces owner James Stanley RPh. This business was bought in 1945 by Stanley's was bought in 1945 by Stanley's father, Bob, who operated the pharmacy for 38 years up until his death in 1983.

At it's present location, south of the courthouse, since 1952, the thoroughly modern facility holds a cradle of nostalgia with the continued operation of the soda fountain. The soda fountain is a remnant of the original City Drug Store. It was originally added to the Drug Store in 1926.

Offering not only a wide range of pharmaceuticals and a bite to eat, Stanley Pharmacy has an attractive selection of gifts plus a recently added country crafts display.

TEXAS TUMBLEWEEDS TO PARTICIPATE IN FLEA MARKET

The Texas Tumbleweeds Gymnastics Club met at Flomot on October the eleventh in order to plan for the future of our area gymnasts. This group of parents and concerned people in the community have plans to raise money to purchase needed equipment, and funds for future competitions.

Their first project will be a booth at the Flomot Flea Market, where they will sell craft items and baked goodies. The students involved in tumbling will be manning the booth. The community is invited to attend and contribute to this cause.

Doug Seal Campaigns In Matador

Ruth & Orville Lee of Flomot with Congressional Candidate, Doug Seal and wife Wyvon

Doug Seal was in Matador on Monday October 13 campaign-ing for the 13th Congressional District seat. Accompanying Seal was his wife of 19 years, Wyvon. Seal is a Wellington native who is a farmer and rancher. He and his wife have two children, Deda a sophomore at TTSU and Derek a high school senior. Doug Seal feels like Texas

Doug Seal feels like Texas needs strong representation in the U.S. Congress. He feels that he has new creative ideas that he'd like to see passed into law. Asked what had propelled him to seek the Congressional position currently held by Beau Boulter he stated, "I could see wrongs and wanted to right those wrongs." He feels like he is well qualified to represent the district with experience as county Democratic Chairman, State Democratic 31st Senatorial Committee member and served Committee member and served for 10 years as the state chairman of the Democratic Agriculture Caucus.

Doug Seal has been traveling to Washington, D.C. for the last fifteen years to express the concerns of this region to the political machine.

In response to questions of improving the economy of the U.S., Doug Seal lists these

1.) Reduce over-priced dollars.
2.) Export more and import the American people.

3). Establish a similiar industrial policy that the Japanese have with job-training programs for workers as industry shuts down and move the shuts down and move the workers towards higher technology. 4.) Eliminate fraud, waste and corruption in all areas of the government.

5.) Re-vamp the Farm Program, such as mandatory acreage control in exchange for higher prices for crops; promote exports; curtail insurance costs.

Doug Seal believes the 1985

Farm Bill will ultimately bankrupt the family farmer and most likely bankrupt taxpayers as well. The last projected cost of the current Farm Bill was in the $40 billion neighborhood

Asked what he would do to help the economy of counties such as Motley County, he would like to have one person on the Congressional staff to work with the local Chamber of Commerce or business groups to attract small industry to the rural areas. His plan to balance the budget would be through prosperity.

MATADOR CITY COUNCIL MEETS

A quiet day was noted at the Matador City Council on October 9 with Mayor Gary Lancaster presiding and city councilmen L.B. Campbell, John Briscoe, Joe Smith and Water Superindant Bill Jameson. City Secretary Nell Berryman kept the records. Past minutes were read and aproved as were the bills for $7,578.22.

Berryman said there had been Berryman said there had been a rash of night watchman keys being stolen, a couple of them had turned up at school. Everytime one has to be replaced it cost the tax payers $15.00.

Councilmen held a discussion on the Sewer grant which has been submitted. The outcome should be known in October. Paving of the streets will be postponed until next year due to the cold weather. Campbell made a motion to table this project until Spring 1987.
Lillie Owens sent a request for a dumpster. A solution was discussed.

A complaint has been issued by a resident against a doa by a resident against a dog killing chickens in town. Councilmen discussed the need for another city employee who must have a class B driver's license to drive the garbage truck, etc. It was decided to run an ad for that position. Discussion of the status of the old Bakery Building elicited strong support to tear it down although no vote was taken on this matter.

October is Fish and Seafood month and Texas is fast becoming well known as a Seafood State. We are more health conscious now than ever before, evident in the per capita consumption figures recently released. Seafood is up to nearly 15 pounds annually.

Greenland Eskimos baffled scientists for years. Their traditional diet, mainly fish, seal, and whale meat, looked sear, and whale meat, looked like a prescription for heart disease. It was high in fat, high in protein and low in fruit, fiber and leafy green vegetables. Researchers found, instead of a history of heart disorders, little evidence of heart disease and even low blood cholesterol even low blood cholesterol levels. The key, researchers are concluding, lies in the highly unsaturated omega-3 oil found in fish and other marine animals. these people ate. Texas Historical Commission Approves Marker for Cottonwood Mott Line Camp

Cottonwood Mott Line Camp as it appeared when Matt Walker, on the left, one-time Matador Ranch Wagon Boss and later head of the ranch's Dakota Division, visited the line camp with his famous and effective coyote-chasing hounds. Identity of the others is not known at this time, but is solicited. (From the collection of J.M. Walker, Paducah.)

by Marisue Potts

The Research and Marker Committee of the Texas Historical Commission has approved the marker applica-tion for Cottonwood Mott Line Camp. Director Frances Rickard stated in a recent letter to owner Mrs. W.E. Burleson that the impressed with the history of the line camp, and although the architectural features of the house were not strong enough to warrant a marker for the house itself, a subject marker was recommended for that topic. Securing a marker for the site

Securing a marker for the site has been a joint project of member of The General James Smith Chapter of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas and the Motley County Historical Committee. Funding for this marker and partial funding for the proposed Texan-Santa Fe Expedition marker on the Quitaque River was provided by the efforts of participating volunteers and quests donations to HISTORY DAY AT THE RANCH, scheduled this year for October to HISTORY DAY AT THE KANCH, scheduled this year for October 18 and 25. This year's contributions are expected to aid in securing other historical markers, as well as help in establishing a permanent home for the Motley County Library.

I found a story that I have saved all these years and I think it needs to be reprinted for everyone to read again and remember that without God's word we would be nothing and could get nowhere. could get nowhere.

THE BIBLE'S DAY (Taken from Glen Shelton's "Hired Hand")

America's space scientists have discovered, via computers, that a day is missing in space in elapsed time is being circulated. The discovery verifies biblical text hitherto considered by many to be mythical.

The story is told by Harold Hill,
President of the Curtis Engine
Co. of Baltimore, Md., a consultant in the U.S. space consultant in the U.S. space program.

Space scientists at Green Belt, Md., according to the story were checking future positions of the sun, moon and planets so that launchings, 100 to 1,000 years from now, would not cross their orbits and meet with disaster.

They ran computer measurements back and forth, pinpointing positions of the various heavenly bodies as they were over the centuries.

various heavenly bodies as they were over the centuries.

At one point the computer stopped and flashed a red signal indicating something was wrong with information fed into it or with the machine itself.

Exhaustive tests showed that the information, as far as they knew, was correct, and that the was correct, and that the computer was working perfectly.

What was wrong? Well, we have found that there is a day missing in space in elapsed time,

It was at this juncture that one of the workers remembered that a Sunday school teacher once talked about the biblical reference to the day the sun stood still. Colleagues were skeptical, but they got a copy of the Bible and found a reference to the time when the Lord, on behalf of Joshua had ordered the sun to stand still for about an entire day.

The time missing in Joshua's day was 23 hours and 20 minutes not a full day. The other 40 minutes had to be accounted for or else the error would cau grave miscalculations in of future space efforts.

grave miscalculations in all future space efforts.

It was then that the same Sunday School-going scientist recalled mention in the Bible about the sun going backward. Though his fellow workers thought he was out of his mind, they checked throughout the Bible and found that in 2 Kings chapter 20, Hezekiah on his death bed was visited by the prophet Isaiah who assured Hezekiah that he would not die. Hezekiah wanted proof, whereupon Isaiah asked, "Do you want the sun to go ahead 10 degrees?" Hezekiah replied, "It's nothing for the sun to go ahead 10 degrees, but let the shadow turn backward 10 degrees."

shadow turn backward 10 degrees. That will be proof." Isaiah, according to the bibilical text, spoke to the Lord who brought the shadow 10 degrees

Ten degrees, the scientists found are exactly 40 minutes twenty three hours and 20 minutes were located in the book of Joshua, and 40 minutes in 2nd

And that is the incredible story of how America's space scientists discovered a missing day in time via computers to prove what was there all the time in the Holy

Handicapped Parking: Don't

Not a parking place in sight, you're in a hurry, and it looks like it might rain. Wait. There's an empty spot right in front of the supermarket. You pull into it, run into the store, take care of your business, and you're back in your car as the first raindrops hit your

You look into your rearview rror as you get ready to back it of your parking spot, and out or your parking spot, and you notice someone starting the trek from the far corner of the parking lot in a wheelchair. This prompts you to check. And, sure enough, there's a sign with one of those little wheelchair wheelchair in the control of the second of the se symbols right in front of the parking place you used. Embarrassed, you pull out quickly and drive away. magining the person in the wheelchair struggling back across the lot in the rain with a bag or two or groceries, you feel like the biggest heel in the world.

You make up your mind you'll never use a "handicapped-only" parking place again in your life. After that humbling experience, you probably won't...unless, someday, you need handicapped parking yourself.

Most people who don't need handicapped parking places-but occasionally use them anyway - have never had an experience like this. Perhaps they don't even understand why handicapped people require special places to park their cars. There are even a few odd souls There are even a few odd souls in this world who resent what they see as a "special privilege" for disabled people.

A handicapped parking place isn't a special privilege, though, for a disabled person. It's not even a convenience. It's a necessity.

Before I explain why that's so, let me stress that the Disabled American Veterans is not asking for sympathy. Handicapped people don't want or need any petphe doin want of little understanding about things like handicapped parking zones.

So, why are signs with that little wheelchair figure - the little wheelchair figure - the international access symbol used to reserve the best spots in many parking lots?

First of all, people whose disabilities make it tough for them to get around - who have "mobility impairments" - need to park close to where they want to got lt may be a pain in the peck go. It may be a pain in the neck for an able-bodied person to walk a much longer distance with a loaded shopping bag in each

But think about someone But think about someone carrying a heavy load over that same distance on artificial legs. that can cause serious pain, perhaps even bleeding. And a person wearing prosthetic legs is more susceptible to falling than an able-bodied person.

Second, people with wheelchairs, walkers, leg braces or artificial limbs need ramped curbs near their parking places so they can get to the sidewalk. Just as very few able-bodied people have the physical prowess of a football superstar, prowess of a football superstar, very few handicapped people are like the wheelchair athletes you've seen on television or read about in magazines.

They don't "pop wheelies" with their chairs, pole vault with their crutches, or skip over obstacles with their canes.

Third, you can't saueeze you

Third, you can't squeeze you car in right next to another car in a tight parking spot if you have to jiggle a wheelchair out of the back seat and set it up on the

and similar devices need that room too.

That's why handicapped parking places are set up with extra space on either side of the automobile. When someone parks too close to a wheelchairbound person's car the person bound person's car, the person in the wheelchair could be stuck in the wheelchair could be stuck until the other driver returns. The same holds true for those who use walkers, crutches, prosthetic legs, and other mobility aids. Fourth, there are safety considerations. People with mobility impairments cannot move as quirtly as phehodied move as quickly as ablebodied people. They can't just jump out of the paths of negligent parking lot drivers. Nor can they avoid other hazards as easily as ablebodied pedestrains.

Finally, mobility-impaired people are struck with their automobiles as their only form of transportation, and they have to get around just like everyone else. They have to go to the store. They need entertainment, social life, and everything else that all life, and everything else that all of us need.

They don't want to be prisoners in their own homes any more than you would want to be. but they can't just get up and walk any place they want to go. Further, nearly all bus and subway systems, regardless of the law, are not set up to accommodate people who can't walk up steps. walk up steps

PAGE 6, MOTLEY COUNTY TRIBUNE, THURSDAY OCTOBER 16, 1986 Program On Natural Resources Given For El Progresso Club

Texas is rich in natural resources, members of El Progresso Club were reminded Thursday by Mrs. Harold Campbell, Natural Resources Campbell, Natural Resources Chairman of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Campbell was program speaker at the October 9 meeting of the club, held at Summit Savings Community Room, with Mrs. Robert Dickson as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Douglas Meador. During a business session, a report of the TFWC Fall Board Meeting, Sept. IFWC Fall Board Meeting, Sept. 28-30: was given by Mrs. Campbell, who, with Mrs. Dickson attended. Mrs. Dickson is on the TFWC Historical Foundation, and trustee, representing Santa Rosa District.

Mrs. W.F. McCaghren was program leader, and in introducing the Conservation program, she read the yearbook quotation by C. Willard Fetter: quotation by C. Willard Fetter: "Spiritual maturity begins when we realize that we are God's guests in this world. We are not householders, but pilgrims; not landlords, but tenants; not owners, but guests."

In presenting Mrs. Campbell, a native of Motley County and longtime member of the club, the longtime member of the club, the leader called attention to her many achievements and leadership in church, club and community affairs, noting "Her greatest accomplishment is her knowledge of the Bible."

Although the program subject was Conservation, Mrs. Campbell asserted that "Natural Resources and Conservation are not synonymous terms although conservation done wisely complements natural resources. According to the dictionary, natural resources means material supplied by Nature, such as minerals, timber, land, water and wildlife."

such as minerals, timber, land, water and wildlife."

She handed out fact sheets showing a map of Texas with its many resources found in four physical regions: The Gulf Coastal Plains, North Central Plains, Staked Plains or Llano Estacada, and Trans-Pecos Region. Motley County is in the Staked Plains Region.

In discussing minerals, she disclosed that the state gem is the Blue Topaz, for which a person may dig in Mason County. The perfect gem has a star-shaped center, as shown on a poster which she displayed, with illustrations of natural resources found throughout the resources found throughout the

"When minerals are mentioned, many of us think only of oil and gas," Mrs. Campbell noted. "There is a variety of nonpetroleum minerals in Texas. They range from asbestos and assolute to volcanic ash and asphalt to volcanic ash and zinc." She referred the club to the Texas Almanac for these and other interesting facts about Texas.

For Inspirational Thought to conclude the program, Mrs. McCaghren read Psalm 121.

Mrs. Dickson served punch and cookies for refreshments when club was adjourned.

In the winter time he went it alone, moving and camping at his pleasure, for the varmints were thick and found most everywhere, and Ridge Greathouse knew how to get them. He usually sold his furs and beef hides whenever circumstances justified. He had little need for money, a few rough work clothes, strychnine, traps and the like covered his incidental expenses, leaving ample money for periodical syrees' to drown his troubled mind. Often some of the boy's hooked his wet goods and drank it themselves.

On one such occasion, as Ridge Greathouse was sobering up a bit while reading poetry, he laid his book aside and said, "If the gentleman that stole my whiskey, will step out and make acknowledgement of the fact, I will fill him so full of lead, he

As the country settled up, Ridge Greathouse became a "thorn in the flesh" to all lovers and owners of dogs, because much of the poison he scattered over his wolf drags was left behind to kill the dogs that found it. Indirectly, Ridge got a good many. He guessed a thousand and said, "The owners always claimed they were worth, at least, a hundred dollars apiece." If the number and price was If the number and price was correct, Uncles Ridge had killed one hundred thousand dollars worth of dogs, and he didn't claim to be much of a dog killer either, but he got about as many wolves through the years here, as any man that ever followed the calling.

RAH! RAH! FOR CHEERLEADERS

by Noilene Bowden

Almost 100 years ago, students at Ivy League campuses wanted to find a way to cheer their teams. They came up with the idea of offering simple yells, such as "rah, rah, rah, sis boom bah." The idea worked. The teams responded and the concept of cheerleading was born. play. Matt Washington was injured in the first half, but should be back for this week's game against Crowell.

Motley County will host the Crowell Junior High this Thursday with a 6:00 p.m. kickoff. The Mavericks will be aut to avenge an early season 12-8 loss to Crowell. All Motley County fans are urged to come out and cheer the Mavericks onto victory.

New Nurse Practitioner At Motley County Clinic

South Plains Health Provider has placed Gerry Jones R.N., Nurse Practitioner in to Motley County Clinic in Matador. Mrs. Jones has eleven years experience in Family Nurse Practice dealing particularly with well-child, well-baby, geriatric and chronic disease management. She has also had on-the-job training under a podiatrist and plans to set up a Foot Clinic in the near future.

Mrs. Jones, a native of Michigan, has spent the last nine years working in the Appalachia years working in the Appalachia of Kentucky as a nurse practitioner. She is a widow with two grown children and a three year old grandson. Her son lives near Huntsville, Texas providing good incentive for Gerry to relocate in Texas.

Coming to Matador, she loves the big wide streets and country atmosphere she's found here.

Gerry admits to being a country girl at heart and enjoys country life in general.

Mrs. Jones will continue with Thursday late clinics, 5-8 p.m. The clinic will close at noon on Fridays. She states, "It's the people's clinic and I hope they'll utilize it as they need it." She feels Matador will offer further professional growth for her. She is convinced that preventive health care is the key to helping people stay healthy and out of the hospital. Welcome to Motley County, Gerry Jones!
