

Liquor Sale Proposal Is Voted Down

House Rejects Plan To Legalize Sales By The Drink

NEW REGULATION BILL IS DRAFTED

Drys Contend Constitutional Provision Bars 'Open Saloon'

AUSTIN, April 19 (AP)—The house today killed a proposal to legalize sale of hard liquors by the drink in communities desiring such sale.

Members from Galveston, Seguin and other overwhelmingly wet centers contended the drys should not attempt to control liquor regulatory provisions in wet sections while those on the other side argued sale by the drink would violate the constitutional prohibition against the open saloon.

The proposal was offered by Rep. R. Emmett Morse of Houston as an amendment to a voluminous bill rewriting the liquor control act. It would have permitted local option on sale of mixed drinks in bona fide eating places.

The regulatory bill still was pending at the noon recess. Morse and other members from wet centers contended the present law prohibiting sale of mixed drinks was openly flaunted in Houston, Galveston, San Antonio, Jefferson county and other places because it was not backed by public sentiment. He expressed the opinion that not more than "ten or twelve" counties would vote for sales by the drink.

Reps. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene and others maintained sale by the drink would violate the constitutional provision against the "open saloon." They said that when the electorate two years ago voted to prohibit the open saloon it was understood such sales would not be permitted.

With the normal 12-day period of general session more than three-fourths completed, Governor James V. Alfred intimated strongly there might be a special session to consider repeal of the race horse wagering law unless a repeal bill already passed by the house and pending in the senate was acted on.

Governors To Oppose Cut In Relief Funds

Want Federal Agencies Continued On Two-Billion-A-Year Scale; Few Want Burden Back On States

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—In advance of President Roosevelt's expected relief message to congress this week, state governors presented an almost solid front today against reduction of the federal program—if it meant placing a greater burden on the states.

Their views, obtained by the Associated Press in a national survey, showed sentiment strongly favoring continuation of the work progress administration, the civilian conservation corps and other federal employment agencies on the present $2,000,000,000 a year scale.

Only two governors—one a democrat and the other a republican—declared the time had come for the states to lift the relief load from the government's shoulders. Several contended there should be a loosening, rather than a tightening, of Washington purse strings.

Arguments that higher taxes and "bankruptcy" would follow a national relief budget cut were advanced by many of the chief executives.

The president's tentative budget estimates in January listed $1,500,000,000 as the contemplated federal relief outlay for the fiscal year to begin July 1, a 25 per cent cut. Since the utterances of Mr. Roosevelt and his aides have placed even stronger emphasis on retrenchment.

Opposition leaders here have insisted they had a solid block of 43 votes against the bill—and that no measure could pass the senate with that many fighting opponents.

The senate judiciary committee resumed hearing testimony today under an agreement to continue for a week or ten days. The opposition presented Alan Linburg, New York lawyer.

Linburg told the committee the Roosevelt program was a "great blunder" leading toward dictatorship. Asserting the supreme court was the base of American democracy, Linburg said "if we are to continue as a democracy we must keep the basis of that democracy solid."

Compromise Court Plan Might Win

Foes Of Change Concede Two-Justice Addition Would Carry

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—A leader of the senate opposition to the Roosevelt court bill said today the measure would pass if the president would accept two, instead of a potential six, additional supreme court justices.

First Concession The senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said a modification would win over enough democrats who want to "get right" with their party leader and their constituents to pass the bill.

It was the first time any of the leading opponents of the hotly contested measure had agreed it could be enacted with a provision for any increase in the size of the supreme court.

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—A high labor source predicted confidently today that the American Federation of Labor executive council, in session here, would move immediately toward expulsion of unions in John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

Special Convention The first step toward expulsion of the C.I.O. unions, now under suspension, would be for the council to call a special convention of the A. F. of L. labor authority, who asked that his name not be used, said the council would make that move during a three-day session, which started this morning.

As the council convened, Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, met with members of the United Automobile Workers of America executive board to decide upon future policy in the organization of automobile workers.

Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, was especially interested in advice on proposed organization of employees of the Ford Motor company. He also planned to discuss with his associates of the board policies to be pursued in connection with the General Motors strike in Canada.

Charge Against Ford Martin announced the U.A.W. has filed charges of "discrimination and intimidation" against Henry Ford with the national labor relations board.

Martin said the charges were filed at the board's Detroit office. "We already have drawn up plans for organization of Ford workers," Martin said, "probably the only thing we will vote on is a sympathy strike at General Motors plants in this country."

Mayor Alex Hall (above) of Oshawa, Ont., ponders over the next step in the attempts to aid settlement of a strike at the General Motors plant, where 3,700 workers remain idle. GUNMEN HELD AFTER G-MAN DIES OF WOUNDS IN TOPEKA SHOOTING

TOPEKA, Kas., April 19 (AP)—The government made ready today to charge two New York gunmen with murder—and demand the death penalty—while the father of a young federal agent who was shot down by bullets in the postoffice here Friday, prepared to return his son's body to their Arizona home.

United States District Attorney S. S. Alexander said he planned to issue warrants charging Alfred Power and Robert Suhay, accused New York bank robbers, with the murder of Wimberly W. Baker, 27 federal bureau of investigation agent.

Baker was shot in the back as he participated in an attempt by G-men to arrest the two men when they called for mail at the postoffice.

Grand Jurors Begin Work As Court Opens

DOCKET FOR NEW TERM TO BE CALLED BY JUDGE TOMORROW

With the charging of the grand jury, 70th district court got underway for its April term here Monday at 10 a. m., with Judges Charles L. Klapproth presiding.

After calling the jury's attention to some 20 to 25 criminal complaints to be presented, Judge Klapproth administered a routine charge and sent the body to work. He gave the jurors no special instructions, charging them to look into any and all types of law violations they believed warranted investigation.

W. W. Inkman was appointed foreman of the grand jury by the court. R. F. Harris, Sr., W. D. Lipscomb, Ross Hill and N. G. Hoover were sworn in as bailiffs.

Rebels To Renew Attack On Bilbao

INTERNATIONAL PATROL OF WAR COUNTRY BY OTHER NATIONS SOON IN EFFECT

By the Associated Press Insurgent besiegers of Bilbao drew their lines today for renewal of their offensive after warning the Basque government that 500 artillery pieces were lined up to shell the city's defenses.

Although communiques from headquarters of Insurgent General Emilio Mola reported preparations to close the 20-mile gap which separates this army from the besieged, blockaded and near-starving city, Basques declared the interruption means the drive was "permanently halted."

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons today that the government was investigating reports that poison gas had been shipped from Hamburg, Germany, to Spain.

Speaking a few hours before the scheduled launching of a unique international patrol of Spain by 27 member nations of the non-intervention committee, Eden also disclosed that Insurgent General Francisco Franco had notified London his forces would "intensify" their mine laying at certain Bay of Biscay points.

War Scare In Scandinavia

AIR AND NAVAL MANEUVERS CAUSE CONCERN IN NORTHERN NATIONS

OSLO, April 19 (AP)—Reports of "phantom fliers" in the far north of Norway, Sweden and Finland and secret naval maneuvers off their strategic coasts brought a wave of "war scare" rumors to Scandinavia today.

The stories of mysterious airplanes flying over little inhabited regions of the north and of giant foreign warships offshore pointed the opinion of military experts that the area was in direct danger of becoming a theatre of war in the event of a conflict between Russia and Germany.

Military authorities at Bergen, Norway, announced yesterday their investigations have established that fleet of four warships, one aircraft carrier, one submarine and one air-transporter of unidentified nationality maneuvered close to the Norwegian coast April 5.

In Oslo, the newspaper Aftenposten openly stated Germany had sent warships to look for possible bases for air and naval operations in the Arctic ocean, while such a conservative journal as the Stockholm Svenska Dagbladet emphasized the possibility of Sweden's becoming a battleground in advocating better defense measures.

N. Y. Violinist Is Found Beaten To Death With Hammer

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—A theatrical booking agent was taken into custody today for questioning as police tried to solve another of New York's spectacular homicides, a hammer murder in a rehearsal hall within earshot of the bright light district.

The victim, who used the name of Tania Lee Lova, was of the theater, and it was in theater atmosphere that she was found fatally bludgeoned yesterday.

Upstate, Mich. Ross, 36, was found at the home of his father-in-law, a former police chief. Apprehended at Mountain Dale by a state trooper, Ross was being brought to New York for questioning by Inspector Michael F. Dermott.

A concert violinist, Miss Lova, legally Julia Nussenbaum, 25, of Bridgeport, Conn., was found unconscious in a West 43rd street rehearsal room, her head bloody from hammer blows. Near her was the instrument by which she died.

THE SPORTS CIRCUIT - West Texas League Season Opens May 4

BY TOM BEANLEY REPRESENTATIVES of the six teams in the West Texas-New Mexico Class D baseball league met in Hobbs Sunday, and during a five-hour session adopted a 124-game schedule starting on Wednesday, May 4 and closing September 6.

The opening games are Hobbs at Roswell, N. M.; Wink at Monahan and Odessa at Midland. The group adopted a salary limit of $1,500 a month for each club and provided that home clubs shall guarantee visiting teams on scheduled days. Receipts from holiday games will be pooled.

The meeting was remarkably free from squabbles, but considerable time was wasted in reading the constitution and by-laws and straightening out a few tangles in the Hobbs set-up.

The Hobbs fans on hand for the confab stated that they had raised $1,000 under the impression that Hobbs was to be a farm for Oklahoma City of the Texas League. However, they finally agreed to operate independently of any hook-up with teams of higher classification and met all requirements for league play, posting the guarantee, National Baseball Association membership fee, etc.

WITH ORGANIZER Joe Fate in the thick of umpiring duties in the Texas League, the National Baseball Association appointed Jim Payne as a sort of "League Guardian" and Jim has done a good job. All of the managers seemed pleased with the work Payne had done in getting the league ready, and each manager predicted that his team would be near the top of the heap. The bluntness play-off was approved.

Payne, by the way, has his players in Roswell and will start workouts tomorrow, and the Midland club will be training in Midland by the latter part of this week, according to Manager Wray Query.

With the major league clubs at the barrier, the question of the moment seems to be: Which National League contender will face the New York Yankees in the 1937 world series? The St. Louis Cardinals have caught the eyes of most experts just as they did last spring. The pennant-winning New York Giants are figured to do no better than runner-up. Some even rate the Chicago Cubs to third behind Chicago. Pittsburgh appears to have a fight on its hands to stay in the first division. Charlie Dressen has whipped his Cincinnati Reds into a formidable machine. Some optimists think the Reds will make trouble for the leaders. But that's largely because of the showing the Red Balcers made in training hills when they played "keepy" - spikes riding high and everything.

In the American league, the Yankees figure to repeat, all reports that the Detroit Tigers are certain to cause trouble now that Manager Mickey Cochrane and Hank Greenberg are back on the firing line notwithstanding. The Yankees' Murderer's Row has shown no disposition to ease up. If anything the lead in Yankee suits seem to be having the time of their lives trying to out do each other in a healthy competition that could hardly lead one to suspect them of over-confidence.

THE "GATE IS DOWN" all around the WT-NM circuit as competing clubs are preparing to get into the thick of the fight.

About 25 candidates hailing from far and near have reported to the veteran Monahan manager, Paul Trammell, who is conducting a baseball school.

Among those answering the call of the diamond are Fred Craig, veteran third sacker with playing experience in the East Texas, West Texas and Texas Leagues; Ralph Fielder, a shortstop from Salt Lake City; Eddie Guynes, shortstop, a product of the Dallas Landlads for the past four years; Williams, a catcher prospect from Midland; "Red" Black, second baseman from Colorado; and a galaxy of pitchers—Henry Hexter, a left hander; Wingo, another southpaw; Glover, a right handed hurler from Parnell, Oklahoma. Also on hand are players from Breckenridge and Albany.

Ned Pettigrew, former manager of the Oklahoma City Indians and for the last two years a scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League, will pilot the Hobbs entry on the field.

THE MONAHANS baseball team will be known as the Trojans. The tentative fan submitting the name was awarded a season pass.

Wallace Fugler, who does a bit of first basing for the Coahoma Bulldogs, managed a team at Plevian, La., last year. Wallace is a left hander and his size is his only handicap.

TOP RUNG CROWDED AT START

By SID FEDER NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—The first divisions on both sides of the big league fence are going to be awfully crowded when they post the final standings next September, if you take the word of most of the managers directing the show.

Making their pre-battle statements a few hours before the curtain lifted on the 1937 season today in Washington and Boston, the pilots, with a few exceptions, figured their respective clubs couldn't miss.

Even those old feudists, Burleigh Grimes and Chuck Dressen, were carrying the torch for their Brooklyn and Cincinnati outfits. And Rogers Hornsby, straggling off the hopeless outlook of the "experts," saw his St. Louis Browns even as high as fourth.

"Cincinnati may surprise and crash through to the top," said Dressen, without so much as a backward glance at the Giants, Cardinals, Pirates or Cubs, who are regarded as pretty good this year.

"With the breaks, the Brooklyn may be right up there—and you can tell Dressen I said so," was the last minute "feed-box special" from Grimes.

Generally, however, the Yanks, Indians and Tigers, with either Washington, Boston or Chicago as the fourth outfit, were figured to cut the American league share of the series medal next fall, while the usual quartet of New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh and St. Louis was augmented by Dressen's vote for his Reds in the National league dog fight.

Bucky Harris made no bones about it—"From the time President Roosevelt throws out the first ball here, you can look for us to be a real contender," Connie Mack, with a somewhat hapless looking collection of A's, even indicated his youngsters might pull up out of the cellar.

In Boston, both Bill McKeechie of the Bees and Jimmy Wilson of the Phillies, rival managers in the morning and afternoon patriots' day which comprise the curtailed opening National league card, refused to go out on the limb with any predictions. But each was certain his outfit was improved.

From New York, where the curtain doesn't lift until tomorrow's seven-game program throws all but the Bees and Phils into action, the championship pilots—Yankee Joe McCarthy and Gio. A. Bill Terreroozed with confidence. You got the idea they wouldn't be satisfied with anything less than pennants.

Texas League Pace Is Set By Beaumont

Exporters On 3-Game Win Streak At Expense Of Galveston Bucs

By the Associated Press Beaumont's hustling Exporters, thanks to the steady hurling of Boots Poffenberger, continued to lead the Texas League today on the heels of a three-game winning streak at the expense of the Galveston Buccaneers.

Poffenberger won his second game of the young season yesterday when he held the Pirates to eight scattered hits: as his mates routed Cole in the third and hung up a 7-3 victory.

Houston and Fort Worth maintained the pace, the Bufts coming from behind to beat San Antonio 7-3, and the Cats downing the Dallas Steers 7-4, thus retaining a tie for second place.

San Antonio scored three runs in the first off Al Fisher, but in the last eight innings only five Missions reached first and only one went as far as second.

The Fort Worth Cats spotted Dallas three runs in the first but it was not enough for Fred Marberry, ex-big leaguer making his first start of the season. He allowed 11 hits and was relieved by Parker who gave up one in one inning. Ed Greer was pounded for eight hits in four innings.

Tulsa and Oklahoma City remained in status quo by splitting a doubleheader, the Indians taking the first 9-3, and Tulsa grabbing the second 7-4.

Tony Governor led the Indian attack in the first, smashing out three hits, two of them doubles. Two pitchers teled for each team. In the second Ed Carnett, rookie Oiler southpaw making his Texas league debut, allowed but eight hits.

MAY RECONSIDER SEATTLE, April 19 (AP)—University of Washington officials indicated today they might reconsider their decision to send only two of the three Husky crews, all national champions in their divisions, to Poughkeepsie in June.

Washington enthusiasts, jubilant over the northerners convincing defeat of three California eighth Saturdays on the Oakland estuary, renewed the cry that all three crews must be sent east.

30,000 To Greet FDR At Opening Game

Roosevelt Tosses First Ball Today At Washington-Philadelphia Game

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—Franklin Roosevelt, a big right hander, warmed up today to start the American league on another baseball season.

He was free to put all he had on his first pitch, for he was to make only one. This was from the president's private box to the Washington and Philadelphia players, grouped near home plate.

A sellout two days before the game assured a capacity crowd of 30,000 to see the president in his annual 'pitching' chore. The season starts here a day ahead of the other major league cities.

Vice-President Gurner also has a preliminary duty—hoisting the flag in centerfield.

Once Mr. Roosevelt had thrown the first strike, Joe Casarella was to take over the pitching for Washington and Larry Kelley for the Athletics.

Both teams had changed line ups from last season.

The Senators had Al Simmons bought from Detroit, in left field and Ossie Bluege at shortstop, replacing the injured Cecil Travis. The A's newcomers are Bill Werber, from Boston, at third base and Bill Cissell, from Baltimore, a second.

Game time was 2 p. m. Central Standard Time.

The probable lineups: Washington—Chapman, cf; Lewis, 3b; Kuhel, 1b; Simmons, lf; Stone, rf; Myer, 2b; Bluege, ss; Hogan, c; and Casarella, p. Philadelphia—Finney, cf; Werber, 3b; Moses, rf; Johnson, lf; Dean, 1b; Hayes or Brucker, c; Newsome, ss; Parker or Cissell, 2b; Kelley, p.

Bees And Phillies Pry Off National Loop Lid

Experts Predict Small Opening Day Crowd

BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—Probably the smallest opening day crowd in major league baseball history will watch the 1937 National league curtain roll up this today when the Boston Bees and Phillies swing into action 29 hours ahead of their rivals.

This afternoon's half of this Patriots' Day double bill, however, is expected to draw a 40,000-crowd, despite the fact that the experts have doomed both clubs to the second division.

New Pitching Strength Both managers, Bill McKeechie of the Bees, and Jimmy Wilson of the Phillies, who appear to have obtained new pitching strength, predict their clubs will improve their 1936 showings.

McKeechie awarded the opening pitching assignment to veteran Danny MacFayden and will call upon Jim Turner, one of his impressive rookies, to start the afternoon game. Wilson's pitching selections were Bucky Walters, former Boston infielder, for the morning game and Wayne Lamaster, southpaw rookie, for the afternoon contest.

The Bees, who completed one of the most satisfactory—from a physical standpoint—spring seasons in many years, will introduce such newcomers as Vince DiMaggio, older brother of the Yankees' famous sophomore star, Deb Gernie, who appears capable of plugging the club's third base gap, and Elbie Fletcher, a hometown product, who has won the first basing job away from Baxter Jordan, the club's leading slugger last season.

REBELS DEFEAT SHOPPERS, 5-4

Co-Op's Rebels opened their home season in pleasing fashion here Sunday afternoon on the East Third diamond by scoring a 5-4 victory over Ralph La Londe's TP Shoppers in the first game of a twin bill, and Bert Cramer brought his Coahoma outfit into town for the nightcap and made away with a 4-3 decision despite great pitching by the local trio, Allen Wiggins, "Pug" Hagerman and Bill Cook.

The Rebels put on a performance in sharp contrast to their last Sunday show when they fell before the Coahaman 16-4 and had the visitors fighting all the way.

In the opener, Melvin Boatman, who flashed good form in his first start last week, had fair control. After a shaky first inning start in which the Shoppers scored all their runs, he steadied and did not allow a man to reach first base throughout the remaining seven innings. He whiffed four men and rode to victory when Clarence Eading sent a hard single to centerfield in the seventh frame, scoring Leonard Morgan from second base.

Vernon Whittington put the Rebels into the scoring column in the third frame when he lined out a one base blow with two men aboard.

In the second affair the Sinclair boys tallied their first two runs in the opening frame when Alvin Cook and Wallace Fugler came in on a bingle by Jack Riggs, but Cramer's offerings for a home run in the second stanza to make it 2-1 and Wiggins sided his own cause along with a hit that resulted in the tying run in the third frame. He came in on Redding's base

Yankees Show No Signs Of A Letdown

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—The New York Yankees, who won the American League pennant and then stamped the Giants in the world series last year, showed no signs of a let-down in their grapefruit league performances.

The Yankees wound up their exhibition schedule with 26 victories in 32 games for an .813 average and closed fast with two wins in the three-game city series with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics held second place with .685. Four other clubs, the Washington Senators, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Chicago White Sox, and the Brooklyn Dodgers, finished above .600.

CLARKE WINS GOLF TITLE SHREVEPORT, La., April 19 (AP) Victory in the fourth annual Ark-La-Tex invitation golf tournament went to Bill Clarke, Kilgore, former Texarkana champion.

He ended his campaign with a semi-final victory over Edwin Moore of Shreveport and a 2-1 final over Edwin Moore, also of Shreveport.

Texas Holding First Place In Southwest

By the Associated Press The Texas Longhorns paced the Southwest conference baseball race today but watched with wary eyes the drive of Baylor's embattled Bears.

As the teams neared the half-way mark in a turbulent campaign in which, past performances showed anything was liable to happen, the Bruins gave critics who picked them to win the title some justification after a disappointing start.

Eaylor smashed Rice in two games last week to take second place in the standing and shove the Owls into the second division with elimination staring them in the face. Rice showed much promise at the start of the season but hit the tobbogan the past two weeks. Rout of the Owls by Baylor 13-3 and 32-13 and their 6-1 defeat at the hands of Texas jarred their pennant aspirations to a whisper.

May Tie For Lead Baylor will have the opportunity this week to draw into a virtual tie with Texas for the top. The Bruins play the Longhorns at Waco Saturday and victory would give the Bears a .714 standing compared to .700 for Texas.

The Texas Aggies rest in third place. Defeat by Texas, 7-2, tumbled a notch last week. The past week was some consolation to Southern Methodist, which won its first game, trimming Texas Christian 10-8. The Christians took the first game of the series 2-1.

The Aggies play Southern Methodist at Dallas and Rice engages Texas Christian at Fort Worth Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Rice tangles with Southern Methodist.

LOCAL GOLFERS WIN 1ST SAND BELT CONTEST

All Sand Belt golf league teams were in action Sunday, and the defending champion Big Spring Linksmen scored a 22-18 victory over the Lamesa contingent on the country club course here to open the season.

Midland came through with a 32 to 8 win over Colorado on the Mitchell county course and Odessa routed Stanton 30-10 in the Stanton course. Feature of the matches at Stanton was the battle for low ball between Woodard and Powell of Odessa, won by the Stanton golfer on the 25th hole. Woodard, however, lost his individual match 2-3, and Powell was defeated, 3-2.

Doug Jones, No. 1 man on the Big Spring team, defeated George Norman of Lamesa 6-5, and Shirley Robbins coasted to a 7 and 6 win over Bill White. The locals won low ball, 4 and 3.

Frank Morgan, who lost the No. 1 position on the local team to Jones, had an off day in his Sand Belt match and was defeated by John Edmondson. Dave Watt lost to T. F. Vaughn, Lamesa's veteran golfer, on the 20th hole.

Obie Bristow took out A. G. Barnard 5-4 but Lee Hubby lost to L. E. Vaughn.

Tom Coffey lost to Darnell of Lamesa, but Theron Hicks managed to win his match from Hollingsworth.

The making of really attractive pieces of crochet is a fine art. But when you have such a lovely design as this to use, it is no task at all. For, in spite of the originality of the design, only simple combinations of stitches are used—so you need have no qualms about using the pattern, even if you are a beginner. The model was made up in No. 30 mercerized cotton, and so measures about 23 inches in diameter. The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand directions, also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

become so enlarged that it has passed the limit which the common man can easily encompass, and he is often forced to take the word of the specialist without question. Hence the oft-remembered phrase that anything is possible may be given an unwarranted stretch by the non-scientist. Hence, also, Dr. Rust's effort to re-align the minds of his readers. Poor Posture, Lack Of Exercise Results In Flabby Double Chin

DO THIS FIRST . . .
Cecilia Parker, movie actress, places both hands at the back of her neck and slowly turns her face from side to side.

THEN THIS (X)
Miss Parker then applies a facial cream and massages her neck and throat with a gentle but firm upward stroke.

Double chins are double sins. For a double chin is the result of two things: poor posture and lack of exercise.

If you're inclined to lean over typewriters or books—or even the dish-pans—you'll have to make up for it with exercise.

Flabby muscles are the cause of double chins. And the quickest way to cure flabby muscles, as everybody knows, is to exercise them.

Here are instructions for the two exercises illustrated above:

In the first an astringent is applied over the throat and neck and both hands are placed at the back slowly turned from side to side, the movement serving to strengthen the neck and throat muscles.

In the second the neck and throat are massaged with facial cream. This, beginning at the base of the neck and using a firm, gentle stroke, the flesh is slowly pushed upward.

Two minutes devoted to each of these exercises each day will work wonders over a reasonable period of time.

If you don't believe that try taking some candid camera "before and after shots" of yourself.

Melba Adams Honors Friends With Party

Celebrating the birthday anniversary of Clarence W. Jittington, Miss Melba Adams was hostess to a small group of friends at her home, 712 Douglas, Saturday evening for an informal affair.

Gifts were presented to the honored guest and a refreshment plate that had attractive sweet pea corsages was passed to Misses Helen Duley, Ruth Fincher, Geneva Whittington and Messrs. Evall Garrett, Vernon Whittington, Paul Bray, the honored guest and the hostess.

Buna Edwards Earns Honor Grades In Six Subjects

ABILENE, April 19 (Spl.)—Buna Edwards of Big Spring earned honor grades in home economics and was one of five Abilene Christian College students to make such grades in six subjects according to the reports from the registrar's office.

Two hundred and twelve students had at least one honor grade, nine had five highest grades, and 18 had four.

In addition to Miss Edwards six other subject students were Manera Crass, Gladewater; Sarah Lee McCaleb, Abilene; Christine Rutherford, Sweetwater; Luther Savage, Galveston; and O. H. Tallman of Fort Dalhousie, Ontario, Canada.

Young Mothers' Club Is Entertained At Hall's

STANTON, April 19 (Spl.)—Mrs. Morgan Hall was hostess to the Young Mothers' club in its regular program meeting recently.

Mrs. Ray Simpson, as program leader, discussed "Habits of Young Children" and led the round-table discussion which followed the talk.

Mrs. Gilbert Graves, club president, was in charge of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the tea hour to Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Graves, Mrs. Morris Zimmerman, Mrs. Dan Daniels, Mrs. Geo. Bond, Mrs. O. B. Bryan, and the hostess.

Catholic Group Has Outing At B. Scott Ranch Near Hyman

An enjoyable outing was given members of the Pelican club that includes members of the intermediate and senior catechism groups of the St. Thomas church, when they motored to the Bob Scott ranch near Hyman for a picnic Sunday.

Immediately after morning services the party departed for the ranch where they rode horse back and hiked and were served a picnic lunch on the banks of the creek.

Included in the party were Misses Kathleen, Mary Margaret and Rose Eleanor Williams, Mary Freeman, Louise Berger, Pauline and Virginia Tucker, Florence Jenkins, Rose Bernice Million and Leona Vines, and Lawrence and Frank Denison, Martin Dehlinger, Charles Berger, Walter McVallan, George Murdock and Robert Corcoran. They were accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Glenn Golden, Rev. Joseph Dwan, Mrs. Edmund Berger, Mrs. Anna Mae Luehring, Mrs. Martin Dehlinger and Mrs. Gertrude Murdock.

Party At Our Lady Of Mercy Academy

Dallas Childers, Jr. was honored guest at a party given in Our Lady of Mercy academy in Stanton Saturday afternoon when his mother arranged the affair to celebrate his birthday anniversary. Although the Childers reside in Foran, the entertainment was held at the academy where the sister of the honored guest is attending school.

The dining table was centered with a large white birthday cake topped with five lighted candles and slices of it were served with ice cream of four attractive colors. Twelve children were served that included the honored guest's two sisters, Nell and Millicent Anna. The group played a number of games and later posed for pictures. Afterward they were entertained by Mrs. Childers who played violin selections.

Assisting in the hospitalities were Miss Mildred Newell of this city and Sister Aloysius and Sister Mary Loides of the academy.

M. P. Stevens, Wilmington, Calif., is visiting for a few days with his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Herley. Stevens has been to Cameron, Texas, on business and is en route home.

Mrs. R. E. Webster, Eastland, is visiting here with her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Purser.

Don't Irritate Gas Bloating

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old potentia matter in the congested bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria.

If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses back and lumps, making life miserable. You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, greasy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adierka the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adierka rid you of gas and cleanses the bowels out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierka. "Gas rid of GAS." Adierka does not grip—is not habit forming.

ONE-HOUSE LEGISLATURE?

When this $500,000 session of the legislature wore along to where Gov. Allred saw there were not going to be any tax bills, where a vote on racing repeal was in doubt, where the chances for utility legislation were vanishing, he turned to the question:
How to get action?

He "is thinking about" the unicameral legislature, he disclosed.

All this is reported by a news observer of the Austin scene. This observer continues:
Gov. Allred has reached the conviction some changes are desirable.

So have many members of the legislature.
Gov. Allred found a situation that compares in several respects with the national administration's efforts to untie the supreme court situation.

Texas voters endorsed a candidate who stood for definite things in electing Allred. They voted for a policy of legislation and they defined the policy in the democratic state platform.

The legislature is failing to reach or to act on most of these things.

So far as the voters express the "sovereign will" that will be failing to find its way into public policy and the statutes.

It is not improbable that before he goes out of office Gov. Allred will champion an experiment with the one-chamber legislature, to the end of letting the people's will operate more promptly.

If he considers the governor's office hogtied in the failure of legislation, he will run into the second deadlock, in that the unicameral plan, or any other fundamental change, is restricted now to submission of the question by two-thirds majorities of each house of the legislature.

Unless the legislature votes to abolish itself, in present form, the voters will get no chance to express themselves. And the only way to get such a plan submitted will be the time-devouring course of getting a very large number of candidates to run on the issue and to be elected on pledges of submitting the plan.

There is little doubt now that democratic voters would approve the one-house legislative plan, if they had a shot at it; not so much in condemnation of the course on any one bill, not alone in dissatisfaction with the legislature for refusing to levy more taxes or to change the pension system, but more in the feeling that the present system costs too much for the results it produces. That lawmakers largely are helpless under the present system to attain what even they consider needed by the state. And that lawmakers, like other officials, should be full-time public servants, rather than compelled to earn their livelihood in legal or other employment more often than not in conflict with their public duties.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Murray Korman thinks the current harvest of Park avenue deb's will have to hurry if they are to catch up, in romantic interest, with the coterie of biddies who roam Broadway. Over a kipped herring at Lindy's this famed White Line photographer put it this way:
"I don't know how it is, but the girls on Broadway get cuter each year. They're smarter, brainier, and they dress with more dash and style. Look at that girl there." He indicated an ingenue who had waltzed in on the arm of some local swain, and you caught at a glance just what Korman meant. She was a flash of restless color.

"What Park avenue needs," continued Herr Korman, appearing a crisp dorsal fin, "is a stage director and better lighting effects. Those kids haven't a chance against actresses and girls who dance in the night clubs—that is, in making impressions on the marriageable lads. They're trained, apt performers. They know stance, style, verve. They know how to pace a situation."

It didn't take much nosing about to know that he was led into these solemn cogitations by the recent uproar over pictures of Heloise Martin, the Drake college co-ed and ex-show girl, taken in a college shower and in the arms of a campus hero.

"The girl on the stage is following a script. When she steps off stage she keeps right on acting. She can do things a girl on Park avenue, or Catfish Row, doesn't know about. What if she does show a leg or reveal a tempting curve or so; she's just as modest, really, as girls of 10 or 15 years ago. As I get it, the difference is that she has acquired glamor. The girl on the other side of town knows only what the fashion books tell her."

Just on the odd chance you may think Master Korman doesn't know what he is talking about, be advised that he has photographed more than 300,000 women in some 15 years of steady camera-clicking. These have been girls from night clubs, lassies in cigaret ads, maids in lingerie,

"The girl on the stage is following a script. When she steps off stage she keeps right on acting. She can do things a girl on Park avenue, or Catfish Row, doesn't know about. What if she does show a leg or reveal a tempting curve or so; she's just as modest, really, as girls of 10 or 15 years ago. As I get it, the difference is that she has acquired glamor. The girl on the other side of town knows only what the fashion books tell her."

Just on the odd chance you may think Master Korman doesn't know what he is talking about, be advised that he has photographed more than 300,000 women in some 15 years of steady camera-clicking. These have been girls from night clubs, lassies in cigaret ads, maids in lingerie,

Confusion follows blocking of Roosevelt's aims.
Congress still lacks a legislative program.
New tax bill rumor is semi-officially denied.
Government reorganization plan in muddled state.

Mess—
WASHINGTON, April 19—The government is moving along daily with a dull spring air of assurance, but underneath there has rarely been such lack of order. Nearly everything seems to be involved in confusion. Price policy, budget, sit-downs, taxes, government finances, government reorganization, new NRA, new supreme court, hours and wages, arguments, and nearly anything you can mention.

Some of these conditions may clear up shortly; others may become more serious. But, for the present, there is little clarity of thought about action or detailed purposes in connection with anything.

For instance, there is no legislative program and has been none since congress started in January. Old hands cannot remember when a legislative program was lacking after three and a half months of congressional debate.

The reason is obvious. Congress cannot formulate a program when it does not know what legislation is to be marked "must." President Roosevelt has been blocked and delayed for one reason or another in working out his objectives.

What he does in the next three days may tell the tale for the next three years.

Taxes—
A very definite semi-official assurance is abroad in certain financial quarters that there will not be a tax bill.

The explanation for all this talk about one, they say, is treasury financing strategy. Experienced bond market men have noticed that whenever the treasury is confronted with a financing problem, as at present, a flurry of unofficial tax increase stories appear. After the financing is complete, the talk sometimes dies down.

This evidence, however, is not conclusive. There may or may not be a tax bill. You will know definitely in mid-May.

Reorganization—
The president's government reorganization plan is being severely joint congressional committee which is supposed to be formulating the legislation is so mixed up it has not held a meeting for the last two weeks.

In the end, the President proclaims. Committeemen seem to feel that if Mr. Roosevelt says he needs these new jobs, they cannot go behind his request. They are nowhere near as enthusiastic about creating the two new government departments (welfare for Ickes and public works for Hopkins) as their publisher words would indicate. They may grant it and they may not.

They are already determined not to give the president control over the budgets of several independent commissions.

Sentiment appears crystallizing against placing the interstate commerce commission and the federal communications commission under departmental control. It's better than a 50-50 bet that their present independent status will be maintained.

Present state of the legislation, however, is decidedly muddled. The outcome really depends upon whom you talk to.

Dropped—
The new ordainers have practically given up on disarmament. No public word has been spoken on the subject, but the various things which have been tried out on the inside are said to have been filed away.

Rewriting—
What they will do about the budget spending and the related subject of the government bond market is up to Mr. Roosevelt's message this week on relief and budget revision. Evidence is available that he tore up his original message, or at least abandoned his original idea. The new one may be more to the liking of the Eccles-Morgan school of curtailment and budget balancing, not merely on paper, but in fact.

The only really dangerous factor in the situation is prices. On this he still has his unannounced "plan," but no one knows what he will do with it. There will be legislation on this subject, and probably also on the new NRA and hours-wages, again no one knows what.

Nullification—
There will be no sit-down legislation, unless the current spread of small strikes breaks into big ones. The president himself gave an indication on this by amplifying his silence on the subject at his last two press conferences.

When first asked whether he had any comment on sit-downs, his reply was "What sit-downs?" The second time, in response to the same inquiry, he merely chuckled.

Human Angle—
Few authorities can recall a time when a president of the United States was beset with so many confusing problems in peace time. Even in the early days of the new deal, there were only one or two subjects hanging fire at a time, and the only problem was to work them problems pressing for solution and few acceptable solutions being suggested—that is, solutions acceptable from a presidential standpoint.

Some callers have believed the president shows as much sign of being nettled as he ever has, although, this, of course, does not mean he is worrying much more than usual. He has a faculty for taking things as they come.

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds
By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Games may come and games may go in Hollywood, but the indoor sport that has lasted nearly a year is film-casting for "Gone With the Wind."

Joining in, we'll string along with Miriam Hopkins for that vivid Scarlett O'Hara role. Of all the reigning film actresses suggested for the part, Miriam has the me as the girl most suited in every respect.

I seem to have a lot of company in that choice, for the fans—who have taken a hand in casting on this film more than on any other in years—have shown a decided preference for an O'Hara-Hopkins merger.

Looking back over the Hopkins screen accomplishments to date, you can see why the fans see her as Scarlett. Perhaps the principal reason for a Hopkins prejudice is what Miriam did with "Becky Sharp." More than one critic has suggested that Scarlett has in her something of the famous Becky, while Melanie, gentle soul, at times fairly cries her kinship to Amelia Sedley of the Thackeray novel.

Convincing Actress
I thought Miss Hopkins' Becky most creditable, and she has given, in that and other films, abundant proof of her claims as an actress.

In "Becky Sharp" our Scarlett nominee ran the well-known gamut. As flirt, coy vixen, dominant female, dejected victim of misfortune, she was equally convincing. I thought, Miss Hopkins can be hard and ruthless (as in "Becky Sharp") and Barbary Coast") and she can be utterly feminine and soft (as in "All of Me," portions of "Barbary Coast,"

Fans Want Gable
Another Hopkins vote-getter not to be discounted is her Georgia origin, which means not only that she knows first-hand what "Gone With the Wind" is about, but that she won't have to strive too hard to recapture her southern accent. (After hearing what Betty Davis did in the Cockney accent line, I'm not sure she couldn't do as well by 'suthen' talk too, but that would have to be demonstrated. And Betty probably couldn't be borrowed from Warner's anyway.)

As for Rhett Butler, it looks like Clark Gable no matter what anyone can say or do about it. That is a sort of "by popular demand" vote.

And Melanie—there's nobody who could play Melanie like Helen Hayes, unless Heleneck turns up a surprise stunt like casting his

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals "Gashouse Gang" are the choices of the sports writers in major league cities to win the pennants this year.

In spite of the fact that they topped the National league in 1936, New York's Giants ran a bad second to the Cards in the annual Associated Press poll. There's no doubt about the Yanks, however, as the vote was more than 4 to 1 in their favor over all American league rivals combined.

EVE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDEMER

Chapter 18
GEORGE PROPOSES
Peter spoke gently behind Marylin, as Eve hesitated. "We love you whether you want us or not. After all, I don't know why you should want us."

Judge, always responsible, had heard the horn and was in the room by now, overcoated to go. He said nothing. Judge would never ask for anything. But his eyes, his whole hungry anxious little face, begged by its very intensity of effort not to ask anything.

Eve thought quickly. After all, as with Uncle Henry, it would only be till she rented. The house was big enough, certainly; the money would help out; but more than anything else, she couldn't let Judge down. It would mean everything in the world to the child—"like a dog on a chain," as George had said. The air of tension came of late hours and little fresh air would disappear with a country vacation.

"You understand I may rent in a fortnight, even," she said. "But I'd love to have you till then."

"Darling!" Marylin embraced her. "Even for a week it would give us a chance to get our breaths. And anyway, you mayn't rent for ages. The wanderers have a hazy."

Peter also hugged her. "And how that our crime is revealed, I'll go carry the suitcases up," he said. "As for Judge, who never kisses anybody, he came up and stood very still beside Eve."

"I'm obliged, Eve," he said. "Then he ran out of the room. Eve knew he was hunting for somewhere to cry without being seen."

Ellen, behind her, said nothing at all in a way that Eve well knew meant "disapproval."

"Ellen, what else could I do? And after all, I love a houseful, and it will help with expenses in the most wonderful way," she said, moving with Ellen to the other end of the room and speaking in a low voice.

"Why, yes, dear, if you're glad I am," Ellen said. "Shall I come up and help you hunt them up bedding or did they bring it?"

Since everybody knew that for years the Featherstones had told everyone that they were through being slaves to things, and had reduced life to four suitcases, Eve wondered if Ellen was being sarcastic. But it wasn't like Ellen; and seeing her sweet little pointed face, so anxious always to be kind, Eve was ashamed of herself for thinking so.

"No, you wouldn't know where the sheets are," she said. "I'll get them when the rest have gone."

But Ellen slipped out of the room.

Kilian had vanished somewhere; Dillard had stolen out of the darkness, shamefaced, but not sufficiently so to walk to the station. Denny came close and took her hand. He bent and kissed her forehead. The presence of Marylin never counted; Marylin kissed everybody. The rest were at the car.

"My own darling, I've scarcely had a minute alone with you, I'll be out next weekend if it's humanly possible," Denny whispered before he went.

"Oh," Marylin cried suddenly, "Florence Wallets' handbag! I promised she should have it back yesterday—she's sailing tomorrow. Where did I put it?" Denny, Denny, tell Jean to wait!"

Eve remembered where it was. She ran upstairs to get it from the middle of the bed in the front room. She found it, shook out its contents on the counterpane and turned to look back with it.

Jack Kilian was coming into the room, his impudent bright eyes on hers.

"Here, take it down," she said, waving it. She felt that kindness toward him which one feels for parting guests because they are parting.

"No hurry," said Jack, with a smile. He slid the inevitable arm around her.

"Oh, don't," Eve said as casually as she could for the shiver of repulsion she felt. She would have been sharper, but for remembering how she had let him kiss her for Denny to see. "Must you do that sort of thing?"

"Oh, say, why make an exception of me?"

This wasn't funny. He was grabbing her again, and he was stronger than she was.

"Stop! And go away!" She sounded to herself like a frightened small girl. She struggled to get loose.

"I really would stop, Kilian," said George's unhurried beritone behind her. "I don't think she likes it."

Jack Kilian released his grip, looked foolish, then recovered himself and mumbled a grin. "Always butting in, Cleveland. Eve and I didn't want you."

"Better take this down with you," said George, handing his friend the handbag Eve had come for. And Kilian, so matter-of-factly was George, actually went.

"See you soon!" he said to Eve. He tried to be jaunty, but his eye was rather crestfallen.

"Thank you," Eve said, scarlet. Then, "I hate your friend. He's horrible."

"Not my friend!" said George. "Here, sit down, you poor child." He was talking rather faster than usual, and more angrily. "I happened to go to Groton with him; and he came prancing and dragging up to me when Mother dragged me to Mrs. Power's; that's all. And Miss's tried to team us ever since. I know her's a bouncer. Thank heaven, I came up for the bag to look a long breath. Things were less important, suddenly, at his steady coolness. She stood, forgetting to move or speak, leaning against the door. Downstairs the front door slammed. The party was gone but the Featherstones, a man and a woman, sat down over old house. There was no sound except the normal country one of a sleepy hen remarking that she laid an excellent egg the evening before outside the window in winter.

Eve sat down on the bed, did not know how, although usually she looked up at Governor why he suddenly came stood over her with his hands luted behind him, and said, "—" and stopped, and then "Eve—" again. He said it a time, and then:

"I can't stand it any longer. You're so sweet and beautiful plucky and alone, with not a lock after you. I meant to quiet for a long time, but I can't quiet like that being able jump at you, because they're you have nobody to fight them—"

She stared up at him, unable to believe what she heard. She was too tired to move, put her hands flat on each side her and leaned on them and ended helplessly.

"Please don't look frightened," George said desperately, sat down opposite her on a stiff chair. "I won't rush. There's nothing to do about it a month, if you like. I try prepare you a little yesterday what I thought I'd be saying in a month or two—about my life in, and the sort of life it would have. . . . I thought understood a little. I know what I want out of life, modestly. I don't act like a look like I, I know, but it's like I am about everything, profession. Getting this Seyr house. My university. I know that first night Miss Power's god me over to your party, and I didn't at all want to come know when I saw you and to you, that I wanted you for wife."

He stopped talking. He had blushed, but aside from that, seemed perfectly collected, waited to hear what she would say, as if he had been asking to go for a walk.

Her Inevitable Answer
Eve continued to sit on the edge of the spare-room bed. She too astonished to answer. She immediately. He was by no means the first man who had wanted marry her, but he was the who had ever surprised her. He said so. There he sat, motionless in the little chair he had pulled up before his steady bright blue eyes on her; his lips were shut. She felt afraid, suddenly, of strength she sensed behind his seemingly unemotional way. And she realized suddenly, of a sinking heart, what she had evitable answer might mean; much, in spite of short-lived, she had come to depend this strength and kindness. Men were friends if they once wanted to be lovers. And Eve wanted him for a friend!

Nevertheless, she spoke. "I can't, George."

"Not even mean now. I mean think about it."

"I can't even think that," she said. "So long as there isn't any else, you might want me awhile. If I worked hard at don't think you liked me when met me; I think you do now, might-care for me—enough marry me—after awhile."

She shook her head. "George, I can't."

"Not ever."

"Not ever," he said firmly. "You don't know that. And so long as there anybody else, I'm going on the way you will. Except," he naively, "that I'm crazy over you so dearly know each other. His eyes never wavered, but saw that his hands, those strong hands laid flat on his knees were trembling.

Friendship survives for George and Eve, tomorrow.

Albert M. Fisher left Saturday for New York, where he was the interest of the Albert M. Fisher department store to buy handbags. He will also visit in Chicago and other middle western cities before returning to Spring in about ten days.

Shakespeare Play At Ritz Tomorrow

The much heralded Max Reinhardt production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," the greatest of Shakespeare's comedies and which has been hailed as one of the most noteworthy films made, will play Tuesday at the Ritz theatre.

The production has been presented in larger cities at road-show prices, but is being offered now at the usual theatre schedule. The Ritz has announced a special matinee for school children Tuesday afternoon. Children under 12 will be admitted from 1 to 5 p. m. at 10 cents, students over 12 for 20 cents. Regular prices will prevail after 5 o'clock.

"A Midsummer Night's dream" as produced by Reinhardt is a mighty epic of the screen. It was directed by himself and William Dieterle. The dances were staged by Bronislawa Nijinska and Nini Theilade and set to the beautiful music of Mendelssohn, as arranged by Erich Wolfgang Korngold.

There is an all star cast which includes James Cagney, Joe E. Brown, Dick Powell, Jean Muir, Victor Jory, Verree Teasdale, Anita Louise, Hugh Herbert, Frank McHugh and scores of others. The screen play is by Charles Kenyon and Mary McCall, Jr. Costumes are by Max Ree.

an urge to become a quarterback and to make a dash with the ball of a quarter of a mile or so.

"Be that as it may," he continued, "we of the Associated Press have believed that we had a right to select the employees through whom we must act in collecting, uncolored, impartial news report upon which the 1,300 members of the organization insist as the foundation rock of a free press in America."

AP's Labor Record

"The men who go out to collect our news and edit it after collection are, and must be, a body of trusted men. In their hands rests our honor. In full recognition of this I think I may say that inspection of the employer-employee relations in the Associated Press by anyone will show rather an enviable record. Indeed, without prompting from the outside or the inside, the Associated Press almost 40 years ago began giving vacations with pay. Almost 20 years ago it granted sick benefits to its employees. Almost 20 years ago it granted insurance and at the same time put into effect a pension plan.

"Almost three years ago it tried the establishment of the five-day week and after temporarily suspending it because it was not sufficiently inclusive, it has established the five-day, 40-hour week generally among its news employees."

The annual luncheon of the Associated Press, with Secretary Roper of the commerce department, as guest speaker, followed.

The report of Kent Cooper, the general manager, scheduled to be presented to the membership, reflected the expansion in the last year of both the news report and the photo service.

same day the treasury began a new borrowing operation, opening bids on $50,000,000 of discount bills issued in anticipation of third-quarter income tax receipts in mid-September.

Weekly Borrowing

Secretary Morgenthau said the weekly $50,000,000 borrowing would continue indefinitely. The plan presented to the membership, federal financial authorities as to whether further bond issues would be necessary in June when $300,000,000 of discount bills come due, coincident with June 15 tax receipts.

Last week the chief executive called attention to the falling off in anticipated tax receipts and asked all departments to economize in spending during the remainder of this fiscal year to prevent a large deficit.

Receipts Below Estimates

Fiscal experts said the major factors of uncertainty were the savings to result from the president's order for sharp economy by all departments for the remainder of the year and the figure to be fixed as necessary for relief.

Many officials saw little hope the budget could be balanced by the beginning of the 1938 fiscal year as Mr. Roosevelt predicted last January.

Tax receipts were $100,000,000 below estimates in March, indicating total receipts for the period possibly will be as much as $500,000,000 below the estimates on which the president's prediction was based.

The American Federation of Labor came 6 years ago over the question of craft unions or industrial unions. The federation's policy has been to organize each craft separately. Lewis contended all workers in a major industry should be in one union, regardless of their craft.

Impatient with the A. F. of L. policy, Lewis formed the Committee for Industrial Organization with the United Mine Workers as its key union. Nine other big unions joined him. All were suspended by the federation.

SURETY FOR WOMAN ASKS HIS RELEASE

DALLAS, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Justice)—H. G. Tankersley, surety on bail bonds for Mrs. Lillian Knox, filed an affidavit today asking release as surety. Mrs. Knox, faced with five charges alleging forgery, had been lodged in county jail.

Mrs. Knox said she had no interest in a hearing set for tomorrow on a suit contesting the will of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Knox, who was found slain March 1. She was the widow of a wealthy lumberman, Hiram Knox and William Knox, sons of Mrs. Lillian Knox, filed the suit, which contains bequests to religious institutions.

Following the death of Mrs. Mary Knox, Mrs. Lillian Knox was held in city jail several days on forgery complaints.

CONSIDER QUOTA ON GOLD IMPORTS

WASHINGTON, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Treasury)—Government financial experts are studying the possibility of placing a quota on gold imports, some congressmen heard today, to help check the inflow of foreign capital.

Several legislators who keep abreast of monetary developments said, however, they doubted the practicability of such a restriction.

Rep. Dies (D-Tex), co-author of the 1934 silver purchase act, proposed instead that President Roosevelt call an international monetary conference to try to work out a definite ratio of exchange among foreign currencies, and a program for redistributing the gold accumulating in the United States.

MECHANICS STRIKE AT HOUSTON GOES ON

HOUSTON, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Labor)—Splicemen for garage operators and automobile dealers affected by a strike of mechanics said today the employers would "make no more overtures." Representatives of the strikers said they were ready to negotiate individually or collectively. Picketing continued at the 42 affected shops.

GYPSY ROSE NOT TO DISROBE BEFORE THE MOVIE CAMERA

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Justice)—Gypsy Rose Lee, New York queen of the strip-tease, unpacked today the 12 trunks of clothes she will wear in her first motion picture.

Gypsy's figure beautiful for several years had been delicately unveiled to soft music, dimming lights and the gazing admiration of burlesque fans.

"Miss Lee positively will do no disrobing in front of the camera," she is here to act in a film production titled, "You Can't Have Everything."

CARTER ROYALS, REFINERY TEAM CLASH TONIGHT

The 1937 season of the Big Spring Football Association will open at 7:30 tonight on the Mundy diamond when the Carter Royals and Cadden's Higher Octanes clash in the inaugural game.

Red Cunningham is expected to be on the bill for the Royals while Manager Matt Harrington's twirling selection will be between righthander Roland Swatzy and Southpaw Horace Wallin.

The Higher Octanes are defending champions of the loop and have retained most of the crew that carried them to the state meet in Fort Worth last year. The Carteries are new to softball wars.

MEETINGS SLATED BY HOME AGENT

Schedule of the week's meetings released by Miss Lora Farnsworth, county home demonstration agent, included meetings Tuesday at Elbow, Wednesday at Chalk, and Thursday at Vincent.

The Thursday meeting is to be a double affair, including a session with both women's and girls' units.

Friday the agent will hold conferences with demonstrators for girls clubs.

Sheep Lose Wool While On Tour

SALT LAKE CITY, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Agriculture)—Three million sheep will lose their woolen overcoats when they cross the railroad tracks this spring at the start of their summer "vacations."

In most of the western states sheep are shorn each spring at home-ranch shearing corrals, but in Utah and parts of Idaho and Wyoming, because of a geographic curiosity, they part with their winter clothing literally "on tour."

Typical is the case of western Utah sheep, summered in the Wasatch mountains that follow the north-south center length of the state. They winter-graze in the western Utah sage desert.

There are more than 50 so-called public shearing plants along the Union Pacific railroad in Utah alone.

"It's hard to say just how many sheep are shorn at these public stations and how much wool is produced," one rail official said.

"But Utah last year sheared 2,240,000 sheep of 19,488,000 pounds of wool.

"Idaho sheared 2,000,000 of 17,000,000 pounds, and Wyoming 3,120,000 of 29,522,000 pounds. It is safe to predict at least 3,000,000 sheep will be shorn this spring."

WELFARE ASSN. IN NEW OFFICE TUESDAY

Howard County Welfare association today planned to re-open its offices in the Wanderers' Inn building Tuesday after approximately two weeks operation in the hallway outside the district relief offices in the Ellis building.

Workers Monday afternoon had made sufficient progress on repairing the Wanderers' Inn, which was moved recently from the end of South Main street to the corner of Goidard and E. 1st, to permit the association records being moved in.

City Manager E. V. Spence said that other repairs were to be made. The building belongs to the city.

Howard County Welfare association is the central charity administration unit for the city and county. The city furnishes quarters and a case worker, while the county subscribes $200 per month to the organization.

TURMAN IS HELD IN CONTEMPT, GETS A 3-DAY SENTENCE

FORT WORTH, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Justice)—Luther C. Turman, former Fort Worth oil man, was held in contempt of court by District Judge Culver today and sentenced to three days in jail, with the further provision that he remain in custody until L. C. Turman, Jr., and Tommy Turman, 12, are returned to their mother, Mrs. Beryl Turman, divorced wife of the oil man.

Culver said he was not fining Turman "because $100 is the maximum that he could be fined and that would be mere chicken feed for him."

The oil man was arrested here Saturday night as he prepared to leave for Corpus Christi, where he and his wife and their baby and the two boys now live.

Miss Gertrude Wilkerson has returned to her home at 205 Benton street, after receiving treatment at the hospital for pneumonia.

C. E. Faulkner, employe of the Shell Petroleum company, with headquarters in McCamey, underwent a major operation April 15th, and is doing nicely.

J. R. Copeland, who was in the hospital for treatment of an eye, has returned to his home.

Explosion Fatal To 8 In Family

MUSKEGO, Wis., April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Justice)—The death early today of a 17-year-old girl brought to eight the number of persons of one family who were killed when an explosive substance stored in the basement of their farm home near here blew up.

Neighbors joined the grief-stricken father in a search of the ruins for the body of another child.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Waszak, 54, and seven children were seated around the family radio last night when the explosion demolished their home.

Louise Waszak succumbed to injuries in a hospital today.

The body of Raymond Waszak, 3, has not been recovered.

Coroner Martin Fromm said evidence indicated that 50 pounds of dynamite, used for blasting stumps, had caused the explosion.

Beach-Pool Assn. Meet This Weekend

Texas Beach and Pool association will hold its annual meeting in joint session with national and state parks officials at Bastrop April 24-25, E. V. Spence, city manager and president of the association, announced Monday.

Spence will preside over the sessions of the association Saturday, opening the convention at 9 a. m. on April 24 at the Bastrop state park.

Outstanding feature of the two-day program will be the dedication of the state park at Bastrop to the citizens of Texas by Pat M. Neff, chairman of the state parks board, and the receiving of the park on behalf of the citizens of Texas by Governor James V. Allred.

Spence was made president of the association last year in its meeting at Belton. The next meeting was to have gone to Kerrville, but that city relinquished its claim in favor of Bastrop on the occasion of the dedication of the park.

Option To Explore Read Lands Will Expire Thursday

Short term option granted to the Grace Mining company for development of the aluvial deposit, containing flour gold, will expire Thursday, H. Clay Read, owner of the land east of Big Spring, said Monday.

The company, he said, had thus far not exercised its option. A small group of workers, headed by O. P. Gresham, came here about the middle of March and launched an investigation of the deposit.

After starting a shaft, the party returned to workings on Sandy Creek near Llano and did not return.

Read has continued sinking the shaft, and now has it past 51 feet and is still in the sand formation. Last assay on the material, taken at 34 feet, showed $5.25 gold per ton. Read is sending samples from every 10 feet. Highest assay from the deposit was $8.25.

Monday Read said that he had inquiries from 15 companies concerning the deposit which he discovered in 1929 to contain some placer gold.

LIVESTOCK BOARD MEMBERS RENAMED

AUSTIN, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Agriculture)—Governor Allred today announced reappointment of members of the Livestock sanitary commission and designated their terms under the new law making them overlapping.

Louis J. Wardlaw of Fort Worth, chairman, was appointed for a 6-year term. Robert Martin of Del Rio was named for the four-year term and Roy Jackson of Laredo for the two-year period.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Favorable report was received today on the condition of Mrs. J. F. Kennedy, who underwent a major operation in a hospital at Galveston Saturday.

OFFICIALS HERE

Robert Edwards, sheriff of Callahan county and Judge B. L. Russell, Baird, were here Monday morning for a short visit.

HELEN WILLS LOVE STARTS PEN TERM

LOS ANGELES, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Justice)—Helen Wills Love, whose seven-day coma once delayed her sentence for slaying her husband, today went to the women's prison at Tehachas to begin serving seven years to life.

Mrs. Love seemed almost cheerful as she left the county jail. But she almost fainted as she entered an elevator, called for water, and soon revived.

Although she once declared she would never go to prison, and that she could "will" herself into lasting sleep, Mrs. Love seemed reconciled to her fate.

ALLRED WILL CARRY ON REPEAL FIGHT

AUSTIN, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Justice)—Gov. James V. Allred said today he was "prepared for an all summer's fight if necessary" to repeal the horse race betting law.

His remarks lent added weight to previous indications he would call a special legislative session unless the senate voted on repeal at the current session.

Senate advocates so far have been unable to obtain floor consideration of the repeal proposal, which was approved by the house by a large majority.

"If repeal isn't voted before the end of this session," Allred said, "it will be the result of what I consider one of the rarest filibusters the state has ever known. I do not intend to have the will of the people thwarted in such a manner."

PHILADELPHIA WINS SEASON'S OPENER

BOSTON, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Justice)—The Philadelphia Nationals defeated the Boston Bees, 2 to 1, in 11 innings today in a morning Patriot's Day game. A crowd of 10,000 watched the season's opener which ended when Norris Arnovich dropped a home run into the left field bleachers.

Tomorrow Last Day For Signing Water Contracts

Tuesday is to be the last day for signing for special summer irrigation water rates, city officials said today.

Monday morning 446 had signed for the special rate which gives the first 10,000 gallons to consumers for $3.50.

Last year, 625 took advantage of the special rate which went further than the 1937 schedule and offered reductions on the next two 10,000 gallon consumption. This year the regular rate of 40 per thousand excess applies to all water consumed over the 10,000-gallon limit.

Regular rates of $1.50 for the first 2,000 gallons and 40 cents per excess thousand will apply to all users who do not sign summer irrigation contracts. Consumers may arrange for the special rate at the water office in the city hall.

SEEK SLAYER OF KANSAS CITY MAN

HARRISONVILLE, Mo., April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Justice)—State highway patrolmen intensified search today for the slayer of Russell Shore, 28-year-old Kansas City credit adjuster, who bullet-pierced body was found Sunday in a drainage ditch near Archie, Mo., 11 miles south of here.

Col. B. Marvin Casteel, patrol superintendent, said Shore probably had been robbed, as he had made several collections of money March 30, the day he disappeared, and no money was found in the slain man's clothing.

PLAY TO BE STAGED TOMORROW NIGHT

"Poor Married Man," three act comedy farce sponsored by the Elvemonnet class of the First Christian church, will be presented Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Members of the class today said that final arrangements had been completed and that all character roles made several collections of money. Rehearsal is slated for this evening. Special between the act performances will be offered.

OIL MAN DIES

KANSAS CITY, April 19 (U. S. Dept. of Justice)—T. Dawson, who hospital authorities said was a Tulsa, Okla., oil man, died here today. Dawson, 57, had been in the hospital since April 1.
