Rural Interstates Get 65-MPH Speed Limit

At one minute past midnight Friday night, a new 65-mph speed limit went into effect on rural interstate highways in Texas.

"The public is excited about this," said Byron Blaschke, deputy engineer-director of the highway department, "and we are doing all we can to make a smooth transition to the new speed limit."

Last Friday, the highway commission established the new maximum speed limit of 65 mph for cars and light trucks on rural interstate highways. In this context, "rural" means outside urban areas of 50,000 or more people.

The governor concurred Wednesday with the new speed limit which becomes effective at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, May 9, where signs are posted.

Some rural interstate sections will continue with speed limits posted lower than 65 mph for traffic and engineering reasons. These reduced speed zones existed before the 1974 federally mandated reduction to 55 mph. The department will examine each of these areas and determine the need to continue or discontinue the lower speeds.

Blaschke emphasized that the new limits apply only to rural highways with Interstate designation. The speed limit on all other roadways, including urban Interstate, remains 55 mph.

The speed limits will affect 2,441 miles of the 3,148-mile Interstate system in Texas, but only about 8 percent of the total vehicle miles traveled in the state.

The rural Interstates comprise only three percent of the total state-maintained system. "Texas has 71,000-plus miles on the state system where the 55-mph speed limit will be retained," Blaschke said.

Blaschke also pointed out that the current action does not change longstanding Texas law that sets maximum speeds. Under the law, the maximum speed for large trucks is 60 mph during the day and 55 mph at night, and these limits will once again be in effect May 9 on rural Interstates.

This speed limit change does not affect Motley County in anyway.

ROARING SPRINGS CITY COUNCIL HIRES CONSULTING FIRM

by Michelle Bearden

The Roaring Springs City Council met May 5 with Mayor Eugene Watson presiding. Councilmen Gene Brannon, Jean Adams, Joe Thacker and Charlie Long were present; Roy Hernandez was absent.

The minutes were read and approved.

Jean Adams informed the Council that Annette Barlow had withdrawn her application for city secretary.

The Council decided to put a screen door on the back door of City Hall.

The Council discussed putting a $50 deposit on all new water and sewer accounts, which after 24 months will be refundable.

Thacker reported on the status of the Planning Grant explaining that the state had changed the requirements of the grant application basically calling for re-submission of the proposal. Thacker informed the Council that the Brown Hudson is a consulting firm that works with small communities for grant proposals. The grant proposal needs to be a specific blueprint rather than a general plan which Brown Hudson is interested in working up. The Council voted to hire Brown Hudson to work on the planning grant.

Rodney Long met with the Council to check on his previously submitted application for a $2500 economic development loan to buy the city laundry. The council informed Long that there was no money at present but that there would be in July. The Council voted to approve Long's loan with the stipulation that the details be worked out with another previously processed loan.

HOSPITAL BOARD DECIDES AGAINST STANLEY BUILDING

By Barbara Jameson

The directors for the Motley County Hospital District met for their May meeting on the 8th at 6:30 a.m. at Billie Dean's Restaurant. Those attending were Larry Hoyle, President; J.M. (Buzz) Thacker, Lillie Crouch, Darrell Cruse and Caldwell Smith.

A discussion began about the spending of the county tax money saved for repairs and remodeling on the present clinic or the Stanley Hospital. They decided to forget the Stanley Hospital and use the money to repair the present clinic. Smith was put in charge of the project. Cruse said he would bring the survey papers that the High School Ag. Department and Mr. Jim Cooper did for them, so they could see where the water came from and where it goes.

Couch reported on the last South Plains Health Providers (SPHP) Board meeting in Plainview and that the board felt the problem between SPHPO and South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) was more of a communication problem than anything else.

Hoyle reported that the Motley County Clinic had a good support group, in Lubbock in April for the SPAG meeting concerning the recommendations for the funding of the 9 county clinics SPHPO, but the SPAG board did not change their voting.

They voted to pay the outstanding bills of approximately $4,822.45 leaving a current balance of $24,839.94.

No further business was discussed.

COMMISSIONERS FILE SUIT OVER ROAD IN FLOMOT

by Barbara Jameson

Monday, May 11, the Motley County Commissioners Court met for their monthly meeting with Judge Billy J. Whitaker, Commissioners J.M. (Sonny) Russell, Bill D. Washington, Joseph (Gid) Simpson, Fraiser Watson and County Clerk Lucretia Campbell.

Washington gave the invocation and the minutes were read and approved.

The first order of business was Doyle Shannon asked what was the latest development on the road and fence problem in the Flomot community. The Commissioners and Howard Traweck stated that since letters had been sent out to the party concerned and in absence of response a suit would be filed in District Court that fences should be moved and a county road of more than 50 years would be returned to its original condition.

The commissioners then read the bills and approved them for the approximate amount of $20,909.43 The J.P. Court collected $3851.00 for April.

Justice of the Peace Gertrude Smith, entered to ask the instructions of the commissioners about two delinquent checks the court had received for fines. Lucretia Campbell advised her to send the out of state check for collection and the Court suggested she could send a warrant to collect the local check.

Sheriff Alton Marshall asked to set up a bond for prisoners so that if they skipped out, the county could receive payment for transporting the prisoners. As it is now, the county was responsible for all the expenses. The commissioners court gave him the okay to set this up.

Simpson said it had been brought to his attention that they needed to hire a magnetic truck to pick up the nails, etc., that had been scattered at the dumpground and that the county trucks had gotten flats everytime they had gone to the dump.

Also there needed to be something done about the trash that was scattered along the road on the way to the dumpground and the fact that people were not coming back and picking it up.

A discussion followed but no decision was made at this time.

Representatives of the Miller Enterprises were on hand to demonstrate the types of roofing they could do for the courthouse roof that is needed. After the questions and answers they were asked to send in bids.

Susie Neskorik of Paducah explained her insurance policy for Cancer and Dread Disease.

FROM PLAIN'S COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Cotton producers in the 25-county High Plains area represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, have enrolled 95.9 percent of their effective cotton bases in the 1987 acreage reduction program.

A preliminary report from the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service at College Station shows an aggregate effective base of 4,367,043 acres for the 25 counties, of which 4,188,422 acres have been signed into the program.

"Effective base" is a new term in this year's program, ASCS explains, used to indicate net acreage eligible for annual program participation, as opposed to "total base" which includes bases entered into the 10-year conservation reserve program. Total base for the Plains comes to about 4,708,759 acres, 341,716 acres greater than the effective base. An inexact total base for the area results from the state office not having a total base figure for Yoakum County. The absence of that figure made it necessary for PCG to use as an estimate the county's total base reported for 1986.

Also, county-by-county figures on effective base and acres enrolled make it obvious that some small revisions of the preliminary report will be required in final version. Five counties, for example, show more acres enrolled than were eligible for program participation.

Presumably this could occur when producers signed into the annual program early, then put some or all the enrolled acres into the 10-year conservation reserve during the February CRP bidding period. Thus the CRP acres would be deducted from a county's effective base but would still show as enrolled acres. However, PCG points out that revisions probably won't affect the final program participation figure for the area by more than a few thousand acres.

Producers signing into the program agree to plant no more than 75 percent of their effective bases in return for program benefits. Therefore if producers plant the maximum allowable, planted acreage on all participating farms would come to 3,141,317. However, current law permits producers to plant as little as 50 percent of deficiency payments. How many producers will go the 50-92 route and the percentage level of their plantings, PCG says, is anybody's guess.

Pushed for PCG's estimate of 1987 planted acres, executive officer Donald Johnson reveals that "for lack of a better figure, we're using three million, plus or minus 100,000."

The chart below shows each county's 1986 total base cotton acreage, the number of acres enrolled, total farms with cotton bases and the number of farms enrolled.

SPRING IS NIGH

Considering all of God's creatures, Their beauty and unusual features, The butterfly in its perfection Causes me much reflection. It has no voice with which to sing. Its loveliness is its gossamer wings. God mixed colors of every hue - Orange, yellow, purple and blue - Then sent the butterfly into the world So its magnificence could be unfurled. The magnitude of God's power Is seen as it flutters to a flower. Beautiful, beautiful butterfly, I know now that spring is nigh.

Library Notes

BY JIMMIE HUNTER

My first week as Motley County Librarian has been very exciting and interesting. I have enjoyed renewing old friendships and meeting new people and really appreciate the patience of our patrons as I try to get acquainted with our library and learn to work the different machines. It is so nice to work with the members of our Library Board and our Green Thumb worker, Earline Vaughn. Sara Hurt has placed herself "on call" at anytime and hardly a day goes by that I don't send an S.O.S. for information. We would like to thank the following people for their donations to the library in memory of Givens Lawrence; John V. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Edwards, Vann and Sondra Francis, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Johnson. In memory of Josephine Barton given by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Edwards, Vann and Sondra Francis, John V. Stevens, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Johnson. In memory of John Barnhill given by Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Edwards, and a birthday memorial for Virginia Hoyle from Joyce Smith, Lillian Thacker, Freda Keahey, LaVoe Thacker and Ida Lee McInroe of Roaring Springs. We are grateful to Mrs. Mildred Crabtree Speer for donating a copy of her book, BOOKSTEPS: Poems of the West - Then and Now, to Motley County Library. Mrs. Speer and her husband, John E. Speer are natives of Dickens, Texas and have many friends in our area. BOOKSTEPS was illustrated by the late Eugene H. Brock, an uncle of the former Rosemary and Jelene Bloodworth. We welcome Rachel Patton as a new friend of the Library. A big "Thank you" to Grace Campbell and Winifred Lee for volunteer work at the Library last week, to Larry Markham for fixing our air conditioners, and to Keith Patton, Glenn Woodruff and Jess Couch for donations of magazines and bulletins. Anyone planning to vacation in Arizona might enjoy looking at the map and brochures about ARIZONA, America's Diamond In The Rough. I am grateful to Joan Patton for giving up part of her Garage Sale time on a Saturday morning to acquaint me with our film projector and to Beverly Darsey for the many helpful suggestions for the summer reading program. The theme for the reading program this summer is ANIMAL ANTICS, so if any of our readers have home movies, a good story to tell, or a trained animal, or unusual pet you would like to show to the children, contact me at the Library, 347-2717.

"Son Beams"

By June Keltz

A shield is one that protects or defends. The sun is the luminous celestial body around which the earth and other planets revolve, from which they receive heat and light. Ps. 84:11 tells us "the Lord is a SUN and SHIELD; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly."

When we are walking uprightly before the Lord it seems inevitable that trouble comes abundantly. We begin to look back at the enemy of our soul whispers in our ear, "You didn't have it this bad when you were living for me - drop this religious stuff and have fun again." Satan pays little attention to us when we are walking in rebellion against God, but once we turn to the Lord, he remembers what Jesus did to him at Calvary and his hate and contempt is then directed toward us in the form of sickness, persecution, poverty, etc. Should this cause us to retreat in fear? Heaven forbid! God, our Father, will go to battle for us, having already become our shield of protection and defense. Our faith in His word will stop those fiery darts. The blood of the Son will throw heat on the enemy. His light shines upon us, our energy comes from Him, He is the pivot around which our world turns.

"For thou, Lord, will bless the righteous; with favour wilt thou compass him as with a shield." (Ps. 5:12) How can we prove His power, strength, ability, comfort, protection and love unless we are tested? Only when we come to the end of our natural limitations are we willing to allow Him to be Lord of our lives. He is on our side in every battle, desiring to show us favor, standing ready to heap blessings on our head, eager to encourage us. Trouble, for the Christian, is not a time to retreat but a time to run into the arms of our saviour to receive His glory, grace and blessings. "But, thou, O Lord, art a shield for me; my glory and the lifter of mine head." Ps. 3:3

MAKING SUGARLESS JAMS AND JELLIES

Jams and jellies made without sugar are more like a gelatin product than true jam or jelly. But they can have an acceptable taste and help cut down on your sugar intake.

Gelling products now on the market contain a low methoxyl fruit pectin which doesn't require sugar to gel. However, the sugarless jam or jelly made this way will be somewhat cloudy, may weep after opening and during refrigeration and may become firmer and less spreadable after refrigeration.

The "mouth feel" of the sugarless products will be different and the flavor more tart.

Some brands of low methoxyl pectins give instructions for making jams and jellies without any additional sugar. With this method, use very ripe fruit which has a high concentration of natural sugars.

Instructions are also given for making jams and jellies with artificial sweeteners, a small amount of sugar or a combination of artificial sweetener and sugar. Some of the jams can be processed in a boiling water bath and stored at room temperature.

The advantage of making low-sugar jams and jellies is that they don't have to be stored in the refrigerator or freezer like the sugarless products.

I have free canning and freezing information available. Just call Carolyn Halsell at 817/552-9941 or write me at Box 2159, Vernon, TX 76384-2159.

CHANGING INDUSTRY OF RANCHING TO BE ADDRESSED AT CONFERENCE

Preston Smith, an editor of "Successful Farming" magazine in Iowa, has been invited to talk about the future of ranching at the 1987 International Ranchers Roundup August 24-27 in Kerrville.

The topic of the seventh annual IRR is "Ranching, A Changing Industry - Your Success Requires Change."

The meeting will be held at the Y-O Hilton and the Inn of the Hills.

Smith will speak during the beef cattle session of the meeting and will discuss what type of farming and ranching operations are successful today.

The basic ingredient of successful ranching is adapting to change, said Dr. Tom Troxel, IRR coordinator, in announcing speakers for the program.

"The future is changing and ranchers must change to succeed," Troxel said.

"That change includes diversification of ranching enterprises and improving the marketing of agricultural products," he added.

Ross Wilson, Government Affairs Representative for the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, will address the impact of Washington, D.C. on ranching during the beef cattle session of the meeting.

"Washington policy affects ranching every day," Troxel noted.

Further information about obtaining an IRR program may be received by contacting local county Extension agents or by writing: IRR, P.O. Box 1849, Uvalde, TX 78802-1849.

Because of its nature in general, wine is a mocker and beer a brawler; whoever is led astray by them is not wise. Prov. 20:1 The Lord reigns; Let the earth rejoice, and let the earth be glad; The Lord reigns; Let the earth rejoice, and let the multitude of isles be glad! Psalm 97:1

TEXAS
Part II

The Indian Country was also the Buffalo range. Literally alive with antelope and deer, Mustang horses being more than plentiful, with wild turkeys and quail by the millions, some bear; and was infested with predatory animals that took first from the wild game and later trespassed on the cattle herds.

The annual loss from Lobo wolves and panthers could never be reckoned and the coyote wolf made many a feast on the baby calves hidden and left by their mothers while they hied away for water and a morsel to eat.

I believe it is generally conceded that the Buffalo was a migratory animal - that is, they shifted or moved their feeding grounds somewhat on the order of wild geese and ducks. A sort of latent instinct ruled them. Texas in the main was the winter range and each spring, as nature smiled and sent her gentle rains upon the earth and the grass began to green, the Buffalo herds were on their trek northward.

A slow daily movement, as they fed through, some say to the Arkansas River; while others say to the Black Hills and beyond. It makes little difference so far as this story goes. The point in question is, Texas was free or comparatively free of the Buffalo during the grass growing season and with just an average rainfall, produced a wonderful turf and an abundant growth of succulent grasses for the maintenance of millions of Buffalo on their southward migration in the fall.

Below the forts, the cattlemen ever found a crowded condition and naturally viewed from afar, the

This Trail known as the McKenzie Trail, could be easily followed years later by reason of the deep rutted paths. Possibly worn so, first by the government wagons hauling supplies to the troops. Then used by the Buffalo hunters and lastly by the chuck wagons and herds of cattle passing over the route.

Indian and Buffalo range, with a longing to possess.

That is a fair idea of things as they existed say to about 1870, when the United States government decided to round up the Indians or more correctly speaking, confined them more closely on reservations allotted them in the Indian Territory.

General Ronald McKenzie was placed in command and ordered to take the lead. In accordance, Fort Griffin was selected as the main base of operation and from there a route was established West and slightly North across the Clear Fork of the Brazos River, then crossing California Creek and on to the headwaters of Paint Creeek, passing not many miles North of where the city of Stamford now stands. Crossing the Double Mountain River, not distant from where the Wichita Valley railroad bridge is located, possibly a little above. Thence, westward and onto the divide, at the head of Tonk Creek, passed to the South of the head of Big Stinking Creek and just a few miles North of the Double Mountains and crossed the Salt Fork of the Brazos River at or near the mouth of ABC Creek. Then on between the river on the left and a sandy shinnery country on the right, to the confluence of Duck Creek, from there the route bore slightly more to the northwest, to the mouth of Blanco Canyon, if anyone knows just where the Canyon's mouth is located.

Recent Meeting Of Garden Club Is Held At Home of Mrs. Darsey

Matador Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Robert Darsey for its April 20th meeting and a miscellaneous program substituting one scheduled for that date with Mrs. Frances Craven of Abilene as speaker.

According to an announcement by the president, Mrs. Ted Elliott, the program by Mrs. Craven has been rescheduled for Monday, May 25, when the club will have its closing luncheon and meeting for the current year, at the home of Mrs. Alvin Stearns. Mrs. Craven will demonstrate flower arrangements for artistic display.

The April meeting went into session with Mrs. Elliott presiding. A round-table discussion by the members concerned new plants for the downtown planter boxes for the summer, with the announcement that replacements had already been made by several members. Also discussed was the problem of vandalism, as plants in the boxes had been pulled up on numerous occasions. Apparently nothing can be done about this situation, unless the culprits can be caught in the act.

Mrs. Stearns was program leader, and members answered roll call with a poem or quote about flowers. Mrs. Edgar Lee handed out a schedule of rules for artistic division of a flower show that had been suggested in the past, which the club could use for future consideration. Mrs. Douglas Meador gave a paper describing the Lubbock Memorial Arboretum at K.N. Clapp Park, the only arboretum between Dallas and Albuquerque, and of the Llano Estacado Audubon Society Nature Trail near Buffalo Springs Lake in the Lubbock area.

An article on "Trees Across America," from the Lone Star Gardener magazine, by the leader concluded the program. Rachel Patton, Mrs. W.D. Lipscomb and Mrs. W.N. Pipkin were other members present.

Mrs. Darsey served delicious refreshments of pound cake with whipped topping and strawberries, coffee and hot punch.

Local Piano Students Honored

Several local piano students were honored recently when presented in recital by their teacher, Mrs. Dell Gray, of Floydada.

For overall achievement during the previous year Tonya Hoyle tied for second place and Laurie Hoyle received honorable mention. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hoyle.

Amy Pipkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald, received the Henry Slaughter award for achievement in hymn playing.

Selections from "The Sound of Music" were a featured part of the program, and included "Sixteen Going On Seventeen" by Tonya Hoyle and "Edelweiss" by Kobbi Rissler.

Twenty students were presented in the recital, held at the First United Methodist Church, Floydada, and included: Laurie Hoyle, "Rushing Soldiers", and "Serenade in G"; Leigh Ann Pipkin, "Halloween Fable" and "Little Etude"; Amy Pipkin, "Minuet in G" (Bach) and "Nicholas and Alexandra"; Kobbi Rissler, "Ecosaisis" (Beethoven); and Tonya Hoyle, "Rondo in C Major" (Mozart).

Remember When

By Annie B. Cloyd
Box 22
Flomot, TX 79234

Hello Folks, it's just me again, here in Flomot, and I'm thanking the good Lord for the beautiful weather and for the fact that we are all able to get out and enjoy it.

When Leon quit farming I quit raising a garden and on days like these I miss it -- even with all the work it took to make it. I was thinking about how hungry a lot of folks got back during the "29's and 30's". There are folks hungry now also but it seemed worse back then. We were lucky because we had a little farm and raised a lot of peas and beans and tomatoes. Daddy planted potatoes too -- Irish and sweet potatoes. Had a patch of peanuts too --

He always had a good garden and I guess that is the reason that I think we ought to have one going about now. But times change for everyone somehow and we have to try and change with it but it's hard for old folks to get around to changing.

Mother's day is over for this year but I think when you have a child or children, most every day is Mother's day. At least it was for me. We waited a long time before the good Lord saw fit for us to find Dickie and adopt him and he has been a blessing for us all this time. I know that his teen years were trying but all our prayers have paid off and now we have a little grandson to love and thank God for. God knew best when He gave the babies to the younger folks because when we get older our patience run thin, don't you think? And you need plenty of patience and prayers to go with kids.

Kids know so much more nowdays than we did when we were little but we hear of them getting out of school not knowing how to read and that is bad. I think we need to get our thinking straight about what part we parents have to play in the teaching of our kids. We had to stay on our son all the time to study. There was always football or basketball practice and that was well and good but -- that is not a thing to base your life on because so very few ever make it well enough to get in the Pro-athletic field. There are so many other things that are more important in life than sports.

I had better stop - I don't know how I got off on these things today but anyway it gives us something to think about until I come back and we "Remember When" again.

Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

Garden Tips Prize-Winning Roses

by Sam Barnes

World Champion Gardener America's favorite flower? Every one knows it's the rose! Roses thrive in many different kinds of soil and climate. Here are some tips that will help you grow them successfully:

1. Start with top quality bushes. You'll find an excellent selection in your local garden stores.
2. Roses like full sun, but they also do well with moderate afternoon shade.
3. Roses like frequent feedings. You may get bigger, more beautiful blooms if you feed them with a fertilizer specially made for roses. Try Miracle-Gro for Roses every 7 to 14 days through the growing season.
4. For real rose perfume, old stand-bys like "Sutter's Gold" and "Fragrant Cloud" are still champions.
5. A deep rich loam is usually best for roses but they will do well in sandy or gravelly soil also. Soil must be well drained as roses do not like wet feet. Remember, the poorer the soil the more they need Miracle-Gro.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

The management and staff of Matador Cattle Company would like to thank the people of Motley County for the time and effort that was put into the recent court case of SPS vs MCC. Southwestern Public Service Company condemned approximately twenty miles of right of way across the Matador Ranch, forcing the resolution of the matter in court.

We would like for all those citizens called for jury duty, and especially those who sat on the jury, and the courthouse staff to know that we sincerely appreciate your time, effort and patience. Matador is proud to be a part of Motley County.

Sincerely,
Larry Angell, President

Memo to: The Editor

In view of the following, I feel that I am very LUCKY to having experienced "Successive 'FRIDAY, the 13th's,' nine (9) times. (All were Feb. & March) in the past. In 1942, I distinctly remember - also the most recent one, I shall distinctly remember. Provided my 'research' is correct, during this century, the notable event has happened in:

1903, 1914, 1925, 1931, 1953, 1959, 1970, 1981, & 1987.

The next times, only 1998, in the current century, (I'm going to try to make it). After that during the years of 2009, 2015, 2026, 2037, 2043, 2054, 2065, 2071, 2082, 2093, & 2099.

In the event the above figures are wrong, may I blame it on the typewriter!!!

Sincerely,
Callaway
'A Senior Citizen'

Dear Editor:

I am contacting your newspaper because since childhood I have suffered from a rare, debilitating and potentially fatal disease called scleroderma. Not only did I feel frustrated and alone growing up, but to complicate matters, my mother recently came down with this devastating disease.

In our search for answers and support we eventually located the United Scleroderma Foundation. Not only did we receive information, we received a renewed "hope" that we were no longer alone. We learned that this disease affects some 700,000 people and that President Ronald Reagan declared the second week of June as National Scleroderma Awareness Week.

I'm so thrilled to no longer feel isolated that I want to shout from the rooftops so others won't have to suffer alone as I did these last 40 years.

Please make your readers aware of the USF, Inc., P.O. Box 350, Watsonville, CA 95077. Their toll free number says it all, 800-722-HOPE. They have information and answers I never believed existed. In California call (408) 728-2202.

Thank you for your assistance.

West Texas Utilities To Open New Power Station

West Texas Utilities Company will open its new coal-fired Oklaunion Power Station to the public on Saturday May 16, with an open house from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m.

"We're inviting everyone interested in seeing this new plant to come out and take a tour," said Glen D. Churchill of Abilene president and chief executive officer of WTU.

"We've had many requests from people who've seen the plant from a distance and we know there are many others wanting a close-up view of one of the largest electric generating units in the state," Churchill said.

Both walking and riding tours will be available during the five-hour open house period. Refreshments will be served and souvenirs will be handed out to all visitors, with special favors for children.

Plant Manager Chuck Adami said plenty of parking space will be available and that members of his staff will serve as tour guides.

"We're proud of the plant and we're hoping for a large crowd on May 16," Adami said. He urged visitors to wear casual attire, including comfortable walking shoes.

The Oklaunion Power Station is the largest in WTU's system and the first to burn coal as boiler fuel. The coal comes by train from Wyoming. The plant is situated about eight miles southeast of Vernon and has become a landmark visible from all major highways in the area.

Construction began in May 1982 and the plant was completed and placed in service in December 1986. WTU, a member of the Central and South West System, owns 54 percent of the plant and is the operating company. The remaining ownership is shared by Public Service Co. of Oklahoma and Central Power and Light Co., both CSW companies; Oklahoma Municipal Power Authority and the City of Brownsville.

Garden Tips

How To Start A Vegetable Garden
by Nelson Hope
World Champion Gardener

Here are some tips that may save you time and money as you plan your vegetable garden.

Before you decide which variety of vegetables to plant ask your local garden center or talk to a neighbor.

Hope

Good gardeners like to give advice. Also, you'll find excellent information on the back of seed packets. Nursery catalogs are also a good source of information.

Locate your vegetable plot where it will get at least six hours of sunshine daily. If possible, arrange your garden in rows running east and west to get full sun. Plan your garden so that tall-growing plants don't shade low-growing plants. Choose a level area to avoid water runoff. And don't bite off more than you can comfortably handle. Begin with a sensibly small plot.

When you feed your garden, use a complete fertilizer such as Miracle-Gro Plant Food. It supplies the major nutrients and micro-nutrients for stronger, faster plant growth. Feed your garden once a week when plants are experiencing maximum growth.
