Reception To Honor Johnsons

Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Johnson will be honored with a reception to be held Sunday, June 29th, 1986 at the First United Methodist Church in Matador from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m.

Charley Johnson graduated from Hedley High School in 1946. He graduated from Clarendon Junior College in 1948 and then enrolled at Texas Technological College. He graduated from TTC in 1950 with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education with a teaching major in Physical Education. After 2 years in the Military Service in the Engineering Corp., he returned to begin his teaching career at Sunray High School in November, 1952. He received his Masters Degree in Education from West Texas State College in 1957.

Opal Johnson graduated from Stratford High School in 1949. She attended West Texas State College receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1952 with specialization in English. She began her teaching career at Sunray in 1953.

Charley and Opal married on March 12, 1954 in Stratford. They have three children, Charlotte, Grant, and Cindy.

Charlotte lives in Bryan, Texas, with her husband, Bill Robertson, and their son, Clay Neal, 22 months. Charlotte works as payroll clerk for the athletic department at Texas A & M while Bill is attending A & M working on his masters degree.

Grant lives in Canyon, Texas, and works for the United States Department of Agriculture at Bushland.

Cindy lives in Vernon, Texas, with her husband, Mike Riggins, who is a farmer-rancher. She teaches math in Vernon Middle School.

Charley assumed his first teaching position at Matador High School as principal and assistant coach in August of 1956.

During 9 years of coaching, his teams won Regional honors four times. He has also been actively involved in community service. Charley is an active member of the First United Methodist Church, having served as President of the Board of Trustees and teaching in the Older Couples Class. He was very active in the building of the rural home of Rodney Long on June 12, left him severely burned. Long was repairing a filler hose that was used to fill a tractor tank. A pin was lost out of the handle causing liquid propane to shoot out under high pressure. The hose whipped around in a 20-30 foot area, striking a concrete slab and sparking which then ignited. This freak accident caused fire to blow out of the end of the hose, exploding and shooting out toward the house and hitting the air-conditioner and catching the house on fire from sparks of the air conditioner. The windows were blown out and 35 feet of roof edge.

Andy Anson of Roaring Springs had been visiting at the Long's, ran out of the path of flames and ran behind the car. Looking towards the fiery scene, he noticed Long's arm through a sea of fire and ran back towards Long and pulled him away from the fire.

Long's clothes were on fire and Anson quickly rolled him in the dirt to quell the flames. According to one source, Anson's quick action most likely saved Long's life.

Anson then sped to Roaring Springs to get help. Roaring Springs Volunteer Fire Department member, Mark Guerrero was working at Jack Davis' Station where Anson went to call the fire department and ambulance. Guerrero was on the scene at Long's within five minutes and proceeding to contain the fire. Flames were directly showering the butane tank. Guerrero sprayed the tank to keep it cool and potentially exploding. At that point he noted the fire on the roof and began alternately spraying both to contain the balze. Speculation is great that without Guerrero's vigorous action, the fire would have consumed great portions of the house. As it was the roof and windows of the house sustained damage as well as Long's car.

Motley County EMS arrived on the scene and transported Long to the nearest hospital, Caprock Hospital in Floydada, and then transferred to Lubbock General Hospital's Burn Center with a critical condition status. He reportedly suffered second and third degree burns over 80% of his body. At this writing, his condition has been upgraded to serious. He will possibly be hospitalized for months.

An account has been set up at First State Bank to help cover expenses for this family's tragedy.

Matador City Council

The Matador City Council met June 12 at City Hall. Present were Mayor Gary Lancaster, Councilmen L.B. Campbell, John Briscoe and Doyle Rose; also present were city water manager and city secretary Nell Berryman. The bills were read and approved.

The city will ask for bids to make street improvements.

Councilmen acknowledged a thank-you note from Mrs. L.B. Campbell and Mrs. Roy Hobbs for the city's help and cooperation during the Folk Life Festival.

The city plans to sell the old tractor shredder, not usable anymore. The new tractor has worked well.

A motion was made and passed to pay Bobby Jameson and Morris Burkes who loaned trucks and equipment to the city for the theatre clean up.

A resident who is building a new home on Commanche St. has inquired about connecting city sewer to the home.

Councilmen discussed the ramifications of procuring a sewer grant for the city which will help such problems.

City Councilmen have been concerned that no report from the 4-H Club on the progress of renovating the Bakery Building. The stipulation the city had made to the 4-H Club when the building was given to the club was that restorative work would begin as soon as possible - otherwise the city would implement other plans for it. Councilmen discussed the possibility that after an unspecified length of time, the building will be put up for bids with a time restriction on renovation work. The City Secretary contacted Ronnie Vandiver to update Council men on the status of the 4-H project. He informed them that the school had given them tin to use. The Club has bids out on new material for roof and plans have been made to fix up the front part of the building as a meeting room. Councilman Campbell informed Vandiver that by the next City Council meeting, the council wanted to know their decision by that time.

FmHA Announces Operation Assist For Farm Financing

The Farmers Home Administration office in Motley county will begin immediately to participate in "Operation Assist," Larry J. Clements County Supervisor, announced today.

Operation Assist is a new effort by FmHA to help farmers obtain guaranteed operating loans. County Supervisors for FmHA will take completed farm credit applications to local banks or other lenders, along with the farmer wishing to apply for a guaranteed loan.

"We will handcarry the applications, and personally introduce the applicants to our local lenders. We will present a complete loan package, including cash flows, financial statements, and appraisals. If necessary, we will make a commitment to work with the lender to do an interest buydown. We will do everything we can to help the lender, and the borrower, by committing to guarantee the loan at our maximum 90 percent."

While direct operating loan funds are used up in some areas, there is still nearly $800 million available for the guarantee program. County FmHA officials hope other lenders will make operating credit available under the guarantee, with most of the paperwork done beforehand by FmHA.

Borrowers and lenders interested in an FmHA guaranteed loan should contact the FmHA county office.

Barbara's Briefs

The Sesquicentennial excitement is dying down, everyone is looking now to something else.

We still haven't run the winners of the Queen's contest because we haven't received a picture yet that is printable. Parents, please be patient.

It has been brought to the attention of the editor, how clean and pretty our city of Matador is. Pride was taken during preparation for the Folklife Festival, lets keep up the good work of keeping our city clean.

Rusty Willmon and Tricia Palmer

Local 4-H Youths Win State

Congratulations are in order for Tricia Palmer, 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer of Matador, and Rusty Willmon, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Willmon of Afton, who competed at State 4-H Roundup, Wednesday, June 11, at College Station. Tricia and Rusty worked as a team in Method Demonstrations. Their category was Health and the demonstration title was "Treat or Trick". The demonstration focused on too much sugar in the diet.

The team had already won at District level in May and traveled down to Texas A&M this past week with parents and County Agent Ray Minkley. Competition was Wednesday morning against 25 other teams. Results were posted Wednesday afternoon and Tricia and Rusty were chosen as first with an exceptional demonstration having been given.

Activities for the group other than the competition included an opening assembly with an excellent motivational speaker and the presentation of $695,000.00 in 4-H scholarships. A dance was held each evening. Everyone reported a good time in Aggieland.

Tricia and Rusty have represented Matley County well and we are all especially proud of them for their hard work and accomplishment.

"Son Beams"

By June Keltz

Two little children were dashing through the door Sunday afternoon to go to church when one stopped in his tracks and said, "Wait, we don't have our 'jamies.'" Being more than a little puzzled, I questioned the necessity of taking pajamas to church. Their enthusiastic reply was "Our Friends might invite us to spend the night and if we don't have our 'jamies' we can't go."

Preparation is an important part of living and dying. God has already prepared for both where man is concerned. John 14: 2, 3 declares, "I go to prepare a place for you, and if I go and prepare a place for you I will come again and receive you to myself, that where I am there you may be also." The prerequisite for this promise is not only believing in God, but believing in Jesus and accepting Him as Lord and Savior.

On the other hand, He has prepared another place." Then He will also say to those on His left, "Depart from Me, accursed ones, into the eternal fire which has been prepared for the devil and his angels" - and these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous in to eternal life." (Matt. 25: 41, 46) Our Heavenly Father does not send anyone to hell - man makes the choice. Jesus payed a debt He didn't owe to make it possible for us all to make Heaven our home if we so choose.

Since the time of the Lord's coming is not known and because we can't be sure of the hour that we will be going, we must carry our spiritual "jamies" with us daily and be prepared.

Did you visit the Motley County Jail Museum on May 25 or 26? The ladies of the El Progreso Club knew they had a large crowd. But when they found approximately 1050 people from 13 states had signed their guest book, they were astounded.

These ladies have big plans for the future of this museum and they want you to be a part of it. They plan eventually to have a permanent museum. They hope to have "Treasure" days when you can display collections, heirlooms, etc.

This type program cannot be instituted until bars have been placed over the downstairs windows to assure the safety of items left. Of course, this takes money.

Donations can be made to the Motley County Jail Museum. You may want to honor a friend or give a memorial gift. These monies can be given to Lucretia Campbell at the Courthouse.

Let's get behind this El Progreso Club project and have a museum worthy of Motley County.

And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.
If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.
John 8:32, 36

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

Home Economically Speaking
By Carolyn Halsell

Whether you're a summer athlete or spectator, you'll probably reach for something cool and refreshing to relieve the heat and quench your thirst. But the best way to get relief is not with any commercial product.

Water is the thirst quencher you need to reach for! The body needs water during exercise, since water losses greater than 3 percent of your total body weight can result in decreased strength and endurance.

The American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) recommends water over drinks high in carbohydrates, like soft drinks as they delay the rate at which fluids leave the stomach, thus increasing absorption time. If you do drink a sweet soda, fresh fruit juice or commercially prepared athletic tonic, the best thing to do is to dilute it with water.

Alcohol may be a part of many summer sports activities, but it does nothing for quenching a real thirst. When it comes to restoring your body's water balance, an alcoholic drink does just the opposite. It's a diuretic, so it increases the amount of water the kidneys excrete. Thus the more alcohol you drink, the more fluid you lose.

What this all adds up to is that for quenching your thirst as an athlete or spectator - DRINK WATER to keep your system purified and energized.

Don't forget - sign up today for the "Mastering Money Management" mail out series starting in July by calling the county Extension office or writing Carolyn Halsell, Box 2159, Vernon, Texas 76384.

4-H Camp To Be Held

The annual 5-County 4-H Camp will be held this year, June 23 and 24 in Roaring Springs. Several new activities are being planned. If you would like to attend, please call the County Extension office at 347-2733.

One adult will need to come with each 5, 4-H'ers as a sponsor.

Remember When

by Annie B. Cloyd

Hi Neighbors, it's Annie B. here in Flomot, just looking back at the way things used to be. There have been so many changes in the way we all live and work till it's hard to believe anymore.

Remember when folks had "All day singing and dinner on the ground"? The kids sure had fun and the grown folks did too. Some would work in the cemetery and some worked to repair the church building and there was always somebody singing while someone played the old organ or the piano. My-my, the old gospel songs sure did sound good.

Everybody brought something good to eat and when dinner-time came they would spread all the pots and pans and bowls of food out on tables built of one-by-twelve planks, nailed up between the trees. Now I know food wasn't any better then, than it is now but it did seem like that was the best in the world. Sure was a lot of folks that turned out for something like that.

This brings back thoughts of the time I went to a little country school back in East Texas. I walked about 4 miles every day, when I was in the first and the second grades. The building was used for church on Sunday and school during the week. There was a cemetery just behind the school-grounds, a little road led off to it. Now, some of the bigger kids would dare us to go with them and play under a great big pine tree in the corner of the grave yard. This tree had some pretty low limbs and one had a fork out at the end that made it just right to sit on and swing up and down.

I remember one time a bunch of us kids were playing there under that old pine tree and we got into a lot of trouble because we left a little girl up there on that "swinging limb" and she couldn't get down. The school bell rang and we all just took off. See, someone tall had to jump and catch the limb and pull it down for us to get on and when they turned it loose-it would go up and down and it was a lot of fun. If you were heavy enough you could slide down to the end of the limb and it would go down enough so you could jump off. But this little girl was smaller than the rest of us-so she had to stay till we came back.

The teacher got us pretty good and sent us right back down there to get the girl down. We never did leave any one else up in that tree. How in the world we all got grown I'll never know. The good Lord must have watched over us real good and I'm thankful for that.

Better stop for this time but I'll come back and "Remember When" again.

Wedding Bows Exchanged

Holly Beth Hobbs became the bride of Jeffrey Mark Lee in an exchange of marriage vows at eight o'clock Saturday evening, June 14 at the First Baptist Church, Matador. Rev. Greer Willis, pastor of the church, presided at the double ring ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Hobbs of Matador and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lee of Plainview.

Pre-nuptial and wedding music was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Jon Johnson of Levelland. The couple sang "To Me," accompanied at the piano by their daughter, Elizabeth, and Mr. Johnson accompanied his wife as she sang, "Whither Thou Goest," and "The Lord's Prayer," at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Bridal decorations and flowers which were designed and made by the bride for her wedding and reception included a white lattice screen, extended the width of the altar to form the background for a large wicker basket containing silk flowers in white and the bride's colors of pink and burgundy, and candelabra at each side were decorated with leather leaf entwined with small pink flowers. Leather leaf tied with pink bows marked the bridal aisle.

Lighting the ivory tapers were Heather Hobbs, sister of the bride, and Kurt Wofford, cousin of the bridegroom of Plainview.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice was designed with long, pointed sleeves, and a Sabrina neckline, outlined in sequins and seed pearls. Her full skirt swept into a cathedral train. Her veil of illusion extended from a picture hat fashioned of seed pearls. She carried a country spray of burgundy, pink and white silk flowers, tied with ivory lace streamers and ribbons in the chosen colors.

For something old the bride wore her mother's wedding gown. Something new was her hat and veil; borrowed were a single strand of pearls and matching stud earrings belonging to her maid of honor; and blue was the blue garter worn by her mother at her wedding. She also wore an "Aggie" garter in burgundy, and a penny dated 1966, her birth year, in her shoe for luck.

Maid of honor was Miss Marie Hooper, the bride's roommate at Texas A & M University. Bridesmaids were Heather Hobbs, DeShawna Lee of Plainview, sister of the bridegroom, Deanna Durham and Renee' Renfro of Matador. They wore full length cotton dresses of burgundy, patterned with tiny white flowerets. Wide ruffles at the shoulders extended to a large bow at center back of the dropped waistline. Each carried a wicker basket containing silk flowers in the bride's colors, tied with pink bows and streamers.

Robin Moore, cousin of the bride, of Panhandle presided at the guest register and her younger sisters, Jenny and Becky Moore distributed rice bags at the reception. They wore tea length dresses similar to the bridesmaids' but trimmed with ivory ribbon, and lace. The rice bags were carried in wicker baskets trimmed with old fashioned lace.

Walker Brooks of Floydada was best man. Groomsmen were Kurt Wofford, Aaron Lee, brother of the bridegroom, and Jimmy Boedeker, all of Plainview, and Steve Olson of Lubbock. Ushers were Cris Gwinn, of Matador and Pat Marse of Plainview.

Guests registered at the church at a round table, covered with an ivory skirt under a burgundy cloth. A picture of the bridal couple, and a pair of love birds decorated the table with the wedding book.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Senior Citizens' Building. The bride's table was covered with an ivory lace cloth over a cotton skirt. Centerpiece was of silk flowers in burgundy and pink, surrounding a white mail box containing the couple's name and their College Station address. Crystal and silver appointments held punch and love mints. The three-tiered bride's cake was covered with confection scrolls, decorated with rosebuds in her chosen colors. Flowers in the colors topped the cake, and beneath the top tier was a miniature ceramic bridal couple and arch.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. Robert Moore of Panhandle, aunt of the bride, who served the cake, and Mrs. Gordon Lee of Lewisville, aunt of the bridegroom, who poured the punch.

The bridegroom's table was covered with an ivory linen cloth over a cotton skirt. His was a German chocolate cake decorated with the A&M emblem and his and the bride's given names and their wedding date. Burgundy roses and bluebonnets of silk decorated the table, with a ceramic bull and rider and the groom's spurs. Presiding at a silver coffee service was his aunt, Mrs. Jerry Wofford of Plainview. Another aunt, Mrs. Troy Neeley of Plainview served the cake. Others assisting with hospitalities were Mrs. Lanny Carthel, and Mrs. Jackie Seago, both of Plainview, and Kaci Wofford of Lubbock, cousins of the bridegroom.

Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Campbell, Mrs. Charles Gwinn and Mrs. James C. Renfro.

Guests were registered from Lubbock, Plainview, Hale Center, Amarillo, Andrews, Floydada, College Station, Lewisville, Panhandle, Half Wat, Dumont, Stephenville, Canyon, Levelland, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Hobbs, N.M.

Special guests were

The couple, their bridal party and relatives were guests at the rehearsal dinner, given by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lee and his sister DeShawna, and brother, Aaron Lee, Friday night at the Senior Citizens' Building in Matador, where a barbecue meal was catered by Walter Jones.

For door prizes - Louise received a pocket flashlight; Dorothy, an album (she says to use for baby pictures), Geneva, a hot-pot and Loys a golf shoe bag.

Their lunch was catered from Post.

The Spur ladies are proud of their new club house. Pooled their money and bought a house from the Spur Experiment Station -- which had been closed down. Everything was donated to fix the building for club use; floors were carpeted and walls paneled.

Players reported the golf course in real good shape-making for enjoyable playing.

Accent On Health

A "golden tan" may be fashionable, but if the price of having one is premature aging and wrinkling, and possibly cancer, perhaps it is time for styles to change, according to the Texas Department of Health.

Some 400,000 new cases of skin cancer, the most common form of human cancer, will be diagnosed this year in the United States. And most of them, recent studies conclude, will be the result of repeated overexposure to the sun.

Dr. Cliff Price, TDH Associate Commissioner for Personal Health Services, said, "Many people fail to realize that overexposure is more damaging than just the pain and peeling associated with a sunburn. The fact is that the temporary discomfort of a sunburn may not be as serious as the permanent radiation damage that goes unnoticed, sometimes for years."

Dr Price warned that ill effects from the sun are cumulative. "It is as if each person has an individual tolerance for how much of the sun's ultraviolet light he or she can stand in a lifetime. Children and older people, and persons with light skin, especially those who are fair-haired, generally have a lower tolerance to overexposure than those with dark skin. But even dark-skinned people have their limits."

Dr. Price added that Texans, particularly those who spend much time outdoors at work or play, are more at risk than persons living outside the Sun Belt.

People should become more alert to the warning signs of skin cancer as they grow older, since the risk of having skin cancer increases with age, he said. Warning signs include a sore that does not heal or any unusual skin condition, such as a change in size or color of a mole or birthmark.

Dr. Price recommended a monthly skin self-examination. Use a full-length mirror and hand mirror to study the whole skin carefully for over-all condition and tiny changes, including the skin of the scalp and between the toes. Any noticeable change warrants a physician's attention.

To reduce the risk of overexposure to the sun, Dr. Price advised Texans to:

- * Wear protective clothing, including hats, long sleeves, even gloves.

- * Choose, and use sunscreens which are best suited to skin sensitivity. Apply a sunscreen at least an hour before going into the sun and reapply after swimming or heavy perspiration.

- * Avoid sun exposure between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., when the sun's ultraviolet rays are most intense.

- * Do not use sun lamps, tanning parlors, or tanning pills.

- * Be especially cautious of sunlight when using prescribed drugs, since some tend to increase the skin's light sensitivity.

"By taking these precautions seriously and using common sense, most people will not have to worry about skin cancer. And if they do develop skin cancer, they will discover the condition early. The majority of cases can be completely cured if discovered in their first stages," Dr. Price said.

Buy Texas-Grown Produce

COLLEGE STATION--"Getting fresh" with Texas vegetables appears to be outdoing last year's "Fresh approach" scheme to inform Texans of good produce buys. Make your's "TexFresh" produce.

Consumer choices of good buys include onions and cabbages. The new 1015Y Super Sweet onion developed at Texas A&M University is producing jumbo-sized onions this year. These colossal-sized, sliced sweet onions hanging over the edges of a hamburger bun go real good with some cole-slaw.

"Ask for vegetables and fruits grown in Texas," suggests Tom Longbrake, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "You'll be supporting Texans who earn their livelihood from growing your groceries."

Currently Texas ranks behind California and Florida in total U.S. vegetable production, notes Longbrake.

Cantaloupes, honeydew melons, cucumbers, bell peppers and watermelons are being sold now by Texas producers.

"Nutritionally, you'll reduce calorie intake by substituting vegetables for traditional snacks," says Longbrake. For instance, one raw onion, 2 1/4 inches in diameter, has only 38 calories while cucumbers contain calcium, phosphorus, vitamin A, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin and ascorbic acid.

Squash and tomatoes will soon be available along with watermelon, okra and blackeyed peas, all traditional Texas sesquicentennials. And these are all low-calorie, too, says the horticulturist.

Tomatoes are the most popular vegetable bought at roadside markets followed by watermelons, squash, cantaloupes, southern peas, cucumbers and okra.

"If you're in the cost-cutting mood, consider buying fresh produce by the bushel for canning for freezing at home," suggests Longbrake.

Either way, you can "Get fresh" with "TexFresh" produce.

Farmers Exempted From Land Deedback Taxes

COLLEGE STATION--Farmers forced to transfer assets to creditors to satisfy debts no longer have to pay alternative minimum taxes on recognized capital gains.

"This was a serious tax liability that was forcing many farmers into bankruptcy to reduce their tax liabilities," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist and attorney with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. President Reagan signed the special exemption bill into law in late April. Since it's retroactive to Dec. 31, 1981, some farmers may have a tax refund coming.

Regarding the liability faced by farmers in forced transfers of assets, Hayenga cites a typical situation. A farmer who bought most of his 500 acres in the 1960s and 1970s for an average of $300 per acre was forced to borrow heavily on it in the early 1980s because of operating losses. He owes $1,300 per acre and can't meet debt obligations with current farm income. His lender agrees to accept the land in lieu of foreclosure.

This triggers capital gains of $1,000 per acre -- or $500,000.

Of this amount, 40 percent or $200,000, is taxable as ordinary income. A farmer may have losses to carry forward and other deductions to offset this ordinary income. However, the other 60 percent of the gain which was excluded -- $300,000 in this case (less a $40,000 deductible exemption)--becomes a "tax preference item" subject to an alternative minimum tax of 20 percent.

"This rule was designed to impose at least some tax on the wealthy," Hayenga points out. "Inadvertently, it traps farmers who've been forced out of business."

According to Hayenga, the forced-out farmer in this example would be subject to a 20 percent tax on $260,000 ($300,000 gain minus the $40,000 exemption).

That's a tax bill of $52,000. If the farmer deeds back the property and then is forced into bankruptcy, subsequent bankruptcy will not erase the tax bill.

"So the special exemption for farmers will relieve this tax burden and possibly keep some from bankruptcy," says Hayenga.

Organ Donors Needed

Aaron needs a liver...soon. Unlike kidneys disease, there are no alternatives to end stage renal disease. There is no mechanical replacement for keeping children with sick livers alive.

So if Aaron does not get a liver, he will eventually die.

Over 200 children died last year because of liver failure who were waiting on a liver. The primary qualification for a liver donor is to match in size. It is that simple.

A child that has died can give life to another child.

Unfortunately, that is Aaron's only hope.

Only months old, Aaron had been diagnosed as having biliary atresia, a liver disease which blocks or destroys the bile ducts.

"We put our dream, our answer to our prayers, in the arms of a surgeon...After about two hours, a nurse came out to tell us it was confirmed. Aaron did have biliary atresia, said Charlotte Hoffman, mother.

Aaron had many, many surgeries thereafter, to try and improve his problems, but soon the doctors were mentioning transplant.

"The word (transplant) seemed foreign, unreal, impossible. My husband, Bill, and I entered a world we knew nothing about," said Charlotte.

Three years and worlds later, Charlotte accumulated much, much knowledge on organ transplants and today is a strong proponent and volunteer for the public information committee on Organ Donor Awareness.

"Organ donation is a decision that needs to be made by family members after reviewing accurate information," said Charlotte. Charlotte stressed that public education is the only answer to finding Aaron a liver in time.

"Now is the time to educate and discuss and decide—not in the untimely event of a death," said Charlotte. "We pray that nothing would ever happen to our precious children, but in the event of a tragic, untimely death, we can still turn it into a victory of life for another child."

She suggested contacting the Center for Organ Retrieval and Transplantation at 743-1000 or the American Liver Foundation (800) 223-0179 in New Jersey.

Since the opening of the Center for Organ Retrieval and Transplantation at Lubbock General Hospital and the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center in January, 1986, public interest has greatly increased, according to Neal Glass, M.D., director of the center. "We want everyone to become aware of the need for organ donors," he said.

Since the center's opening, nine kidney transplants have been performed with four more scheduled to take place over the next two months. Kidney, corneas and bones are being transplanted currently.

Persons who desire to become an organ donor can sign the back of their driver's license and inform their family of their intentions. For additional information, call the Center for Organ Retrieval and Transplantation at (806)-743-1000.

Praise the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises unto his name: for it is pleasant.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Barbara,

Barbara, your paper edition of May 22 was very interesting and special, and the Sesquicentennial Edition was really super. I commend you and your staff. You did a great job!

The people of the entire community deserve a big "Thank You" for the excellent Sesquicentennial Wagon Train Celebration. I know how hard all worked and with what dedication to make the celebration very special and excellent. Thanks all of you!

Sincerely,
Mrs. D.R. (Mary Echols) West

Dear Barbara,

There was a time I struggled with myself in deciding if I should continue to subscribe to the Tribune.

Now, I may have to add another room to my house because each week I hurry, with excitement to read all of the paper and decide if it's an issue once again that I must keep! It's hard to believe you have such an invigorating, versatile paper. Matador and the Tribune readers across the country are truly blessed to be able to read the outstanding articles different individuals - all so obviously talented - have taken of their time to write and share. They are an uplifting force in my life and my week is so much happier because of the sentimental journey I take as I read and remember them. I remember Lee and Virginia Burns with such a soft place in my heart and when she wrote regarding Coy Franks, she did a superior job of saying what I feel, for you see, tears came to my eyes when I read that article about Coy and reflected on having met him at birth when he was blessed with very special parents, the Calvin Franks. From a mother's eyes, I realized, how pleased, they would be if they could see their son's accomplishments and his beautiful family. This old world could use more people like the Franks family.

The race isn't always won by the swiftest. All too often we hear gossip and believe it. When I was in high school, Wilson and Sybil Barton were taking me home after the movie one Saturday night and I remarked, "someone said", to which Wilson asked me if I knew who "Someone said" was. I replied that I didn't know and he said, "the biggest liar that ever was." I seldom hear that phrase spoken that I don't realize more and more, as I mature that I should "tip my hat" to Wilson for giving me advice I could remember and use for all of my life.

One of the most grievous things a person can do, in my opinion, is to take information and slant it to make a whole new story. My mother, Mrs. Ima Rattan is 83 and she too, told me a story I always remember. When she was in grade school, the teacher whispered a couple of sentences to a child and had each child in the room repeat it. Needless to say, when the last child repeated it, it was a new story.

I am grateful to have grown up in the most wonderful community in Texas and for each and every person who taught me, by their examples, not their words, of what is right and what is wrong. I somehow think I am a better person because of all the folks who taught me so much by their examples and showing their love and concern for me.

I am sorry my children had to grow up in a city, away from the good country folks.

When I go home I look down each dirt road and remember all those wonderful people who knew so much about how to live, love, laugh and be happy. Why who could have afforded to miss having known the Carlisle's, F.M. Casey's, Frank and Maybelle, the Malcolm Jameson's, Keltz's (who all can remember the unique wave of Ben, besides myself?)

L.A. Carlisle and F.M. Casey sang duets for funerals so beautifully, it could make a family feel better, somehow.

Well, each road holds memories of many special, loving, giving people. Sometimes I think all of the "good, old fashioned" people, have died and then I hear where farmers have gathered a crop or the support received when the tornado struck Matador and I realize our loved ones who have left Motley County and gone to their Heavenly Home, still live on because their offspring carry on with more heart warming good deeds.

Thanks for such a worthwhile newspaper.

Nuclear Waste Site Challenged

Governor Mark White made the following statement today in response to an announcement by the White House that President Reagan had selected Deaf Smith County as one of three sites for detailed site characterization for a nuclear waste repository:

"Today's announcement makes it apparent that this administration and the Department of Energy continue to ignore the concerns we have raised about the geotechnical suitability of the Deaf Smith site for licensing, as well as the obvious risks a nuclear waste repository would pose to the Ogallala Aquifer and the agricultural economy of the Texas Panhandle.

"Since August 1983 we have repeatedly asked the Department of Energy to consult with us on this issue and have been consistently denied participation in developing the site ranking process. We have reviewed the methodology used by the Department and question its validity. DOE has insufficient data to differentiate among the sites being considered, much less to make a technically sound decision about the potential safety of any of the sites.

"Today I have asked Attorney General Jim Mattox to file a lawsuit in the US District Court of Appeals in Washington D.C. challenging DOE's recommendation of the Texas site. We have already filed two suits challenging DOE's site selection standards and method of documentation. Those standards and the Environmental Protection Agency's regulations for a repository seem to have been crafted to preserve the sites favored by DOE.

"The Department has ignored the fact that the Ogallala Aquifer, the largest and most economically important in the nation, supplies water from Texas north to the Dakotas. It has refused to acknowledge that the viability of agriculture in the Texas Panhandle rests on the availability of water from the aquifer. And, it has glossed over the very real threat that salt, excavated to create the repository, would pose to the region.

"The Department itself estimates that excavating the repository would leave 6.3 million tons of salt on the surface, enough to cover one square mile of land with a salt pile 100 feet high.

"We have just seen a terrible tragedy in Russia. The Soviet Union experienced a bitter mistake because it didn't make the right technological choice. This administration today made the same terrible mistake, choosing to ignore both scientific evidence and common sense in making a site selection for high level nuclear waste."

Bethards Go To Washington

By Mrs. M.G. Bethard

Mrs. M.G. Bethard attended the Ninety-fifth Continental Congress, of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, April 14 through April 18. She was a delegate for the Buffalo Grass Chapter, NSDAR, of Floydada, Texas. Over four thousand delegates and members attended the Continental Congress.

Mrs. Bethard was accompanied to Washington D.C. by Mr. Bethard. On the trip they stopped in Lexington, Virginia where they went to Washington and Lee University to Lee's Chapel, afterwards visiting with Mrs. Dewey Tilson.

To accompany a DAR to the National Congress, creates a problem for the husband, (or a non-delegate), as there are a few days of unplanned activities. Mr. Bethard found that was the case. However those days were not entirely boring. He visited the Smithsonian Museum, the History of Air and Space Technology Museum, the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Monument. He attended several of the business meetings with Mrs. Bethard.

Mr. Bethard toured the Washington Monument. It was the first day that there were threats of the bombing of the Capitol, and the White House. He was detained for 30 minutes waiting for security clearance. Watching the security at work was very interesting. The Minute Men were all carrying their guns in position to fire.

Saturday morning, the Bethards, with their two granddaughters, Millie and Myra, visited the Washington Cathedral. Monday morning with VIP passes from Congressman Beau Boulter, the Bethards had a VIP tour of the Whitehouse. Tuesday they had a VIP tour of the Capitol. The Senate and the House of Representatives. Both the Senate and the Congress were in session at the time. After attending the Senate and Congress sessions the Bethards then visited Senator Gramm's office and Representative Boulter's office. Rep. Boulter took time to meet with the Bethards and discuss a few of the bills that he will present to Congress.

After leaving the Congressional Building, the Bethards visited the office of the Spotlight Newspaper and with the Assistant Editor.

Upon leaving Washington the Bethards went to Manassas, Virginia where they had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tilson, and children Charles and Sarah. They then continued on to Newport News, Va., where they were guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bachmurski, military friends. There they had a reunion with other military friends that they had not seen for 20 years. While there they went to the Pottery Place, well known world wide, and ate dinner at Captain George Restaurant, a famous eating place at Williamsburg. Leaving Newport News they went to Williamsburg, Jamestown, and across the ferry to the mainland, and on down through North Carolina to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. They enjoyed the beach for a while, then went on to Charleston, where Mrs. Bethard did some Genealogy work on the Richardson side of her family.

From Charleston, they went to Augusta, Georgia, where they visited with their son, Myron Bethard Jr., Myron Jr. is helping to establish a school for Outer Space Computer Technology. He will be there until the end of May at which time he will return to Ft. Hauchucca, Ariz. Leaving Georgia, the Bethards continued on their trip home, stopping at Tyler, Texas where they visited with Miss Ruth Butterfield, Aunt of Mrs. Bethard. Leaving Tyler they arrived at Grand Prairie, where they stayed over night with their daughter Stephanie and family. Arriving back to Roaring Springs, on April 30, 1986.

For the first time in 40 years the Bethards traveled without someone with them. It was a wonderful trip.

D.P.S. Offers Travel Hints

Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "Texans are lucky, because they have better highways on which to travel to more enjoyable places. The Department would like to emphasize that vacation driving during the summer months is far more enjoyable when traffic laws are obeyed." Major Cawthon added, "It is much easier and less expensive to drive within the law."

When it is hot and the highways are crowded, fatigue and lack of alertness is a serious problem on long vacation trips. The motorist should stop every two hours to rest and never drive more than 10 hours a day.

During the hot summer months alcohol consumption will be on the increase. Traffic increases with added tourism and our highways can become more dangerous.

This year could be the greatest tourist season Texas has ever had; for the state visitor industry, you could call it a billion-dollar summer!

The Major reminds the Texas motorist to be alert, buckle up, and drive within the 55 mph speed limit. Plan your trip so that you have plenty of time to reach your destination and return in comfort and safety.

In My Opinion

by Jo Ann Dickson

My husband and I recently attended the Texas Hospital Association Convention in San Antonio. My husband is a retired hospital administrator and a member of the American College of Hospital Executives and I am a retired nursing home administrator. The theme for this year was "Managing Transition."

If any segment of society is in transition, it is the medical field. With all the regulations and restrictions, largely due to Medicare and Medicaid, this field is in upheaval. It is taking more people to do the same jobs that half the number of people did years ago. When we met a few of the "old-timers" we used to know, they agreed that everyone wants to start at the "top" rather than work "up" as we did in the "olden" days.

However, this is not to say that opportunity is not at our doorstep in this transition. There are more agencies and medical associations than ever before to help a community such as ours to improve our health care situation. It is time that we stop depending on the federal government for our health needs and seek a solution to our health care in Motley County.

There is no stability with just having a nurse practitioner who only keeps clinic hours and a doctor who comes only one or two days a week. Also the turnover in doctors gives no assurance to patients.

Motley County can support a doctor. Motley County could secure a doctor if the effort was made. The Texas Hospital Association, The Texas Medical Society and the American Hospital Association can and will help in securing a physician.

It is high time our Hospital Board began "Managing Transition" and make an effort to give us more stable health care. We need more than an ambulance ride after 5 p.m. and weekends.

We need medical facilities within our own county. (This in no way reflects on our ambulance personnel and service. They are dedicated and do an efficient job.) But Motley County deserves more than it is getting!!

Social Security Tips

by Terry J. Clements

If you are a young person about to take a summer job, there are some important things to know about Social Security.

First, you probably need a social security card because most jobs today are covered by the program. If you do not have a card, apply for one at any social security office at least two weeks before starting work. Bring with you proof of age, identity, and U.S. citizenship (or immigrant status).

A little over 7 cents from each dollar earned (up to $42,000 for 1986) will be deducted from your pay for social security. Your employer matches this amount. These taxes help to finance monthly benefits for about 37 million Americans of all ages, as well as medicare hospital insurance for most older people and some with long-term disabilities.

Some day benefits also may be paid to you and any dependents if you have worked long enough under Social Security. Monthly payments partially replace income that is lost or reduced because of disability, death, or retirement.

When you work, the amount of your wages or self-employment income is recorded on a lifetime earnings record under your name and social security number. You earn credits that will be needed before benefits can be paid.

In 1986, you are credited with one-fourth year of work (called a "quarter of coverage") for each $440 earned, up to a maximum of four credits for the year.

As a young worker, you build protection fast. In some cases, monthly benefits may be payable with as little as 1-1/1 years of work if you become unable to work for at least a year due to disability, or if you should die and leave a spouse and surviving children.

About every 3 years you should request a statement of your earnings record to make sure all earnings have been properly reported. You can get a request form at the social security office.

If you have any questions you may contact us at 1401-B West 5th street, or call us at 293-9623.

Beef's Fat, Cholesterol Discussed--A lot of information--as well as misinformation--is going around regarding the nutritive value of beef and its fat and cholesterol content. There is much confusion, for instance, about the effects of saturated fat and cholesterol on human health and on which meats contain these products, says a livestock marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. The really high cholesterol foods are chicken livers, eggs, beef liver and shrimp. When comparing a large egg with a rib steak, shrimp with ground beef, roast chicken (light meat, skinned) with canned tuna, crab meat with ground beef, and extra lean ground beef with roast chicken (dark meat with skin), the first food listed is higher in cholesterol but the second item has more saturated fats.

Dear Former Student, Friend, and Associate of Charley Johnson,

After 30 years in the Motley County school system as teacher, coach, principal, and superintendent, Mr. Charles M. Johnson is retiring at the end of this school year. Mrs. Opal Johnson has served as Motley County's "stepping stone" in areas where she was most needed for 14 years and is also retiring. A reception and informal get together has been planned on June 29, 1986, from 2:30 p.m. until 4:00 p.m. at the Methodist Church. There will be a short program and if you can possibly attend to honor this outstanding Motley County couple, please plan to do so.

Charley and Opal have made Motley County, its children, its schools, and its people the core around which their lives have revolved for 30 years. They have influenced our children, supported our town, led in our activities, taught our students, and most importantly, cared about us all. The successes of this couple cannot be counted, but each of us who has had contact with them know and care deeply for them. We are all stronger and better individuals because of them.

We are looking forward to your helping us close one chapter and begin a new one in their lives. We are looking forward to seeing you June 29.
