Around And About The Sports Circuit

By Tom Beasley

MAKING THE ROUNDS—Lack of speed on the court, and playing against a man-for-man defense, kept Weldon Bigony well in check last night during the first half of the Steer-Midland basketball game, but Weldon found a few openings late in the game and managed to run up the tally with his one-handed shots from the side of the court. . . . Poe also contributed some flashy work. . . . An ankle injury forced Howard out of the game. . . . Dan Harston, TCU's star of a couple year's back, referred the game. . . . ATTENTION: Gene Gardner, junior high school basketball coach, is anxious to arrange some games. His calves have been "idle" for more than a week. . . . Dave Wofford, stellar member of the championship Midland football team, is only a junior. But Dave will not be eligible for football next fall. The age limit will get him. . . . Midland has a rangy ball team, and a rough one, too. . . . Steer basketball record: Steers 26, M-W 23. Steers 27, Westbrook 24. Steers 15, Colorado 20. Steers 20, Fortson 31. Steers 24, Ira 21. Steers 28, Midland 20. Totals: Steers 150, opponents 139.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN University football followers already are pointing to two youngsters who may step into Sam Baugh's shoes. Baugh will be graduated this year, after three years of Southwest conference competition. First in line for his job as quarterback is David O'Brien, sophomore from Dallas, whose passing average last season was almost as good as Baugh's. O'Brien tossed 33 passes, completed 18 for 302 yards and two touchdowns, in the six games he played as a substitute for Baugh. O'Brien's principal handicap is his weight, 147 pounds. Coaches and fans are placing much confidence in E. D. (Spud) Taylor, former all-state quarterback from Breckenridge who promises to excel as a passer and to out-do Baugh as a running back. On the TCU freshman team Taylor led his mates through a season that included only one defeat—to the Southern Methodist university freshmen. THE BUFFALOES of Fortson high school go to Meadow tonight for a two-game basketball series. THREE ENTRIES have been received for the junior basketball tournament here January 22-23—Moore, Midland and Colorado.

TRADE WINDS STIR INTEREST DURING OFF SEASON. Many Track And Field Marks Due To Topple During Year

THREE BIG DEALS ARE EXPECTED

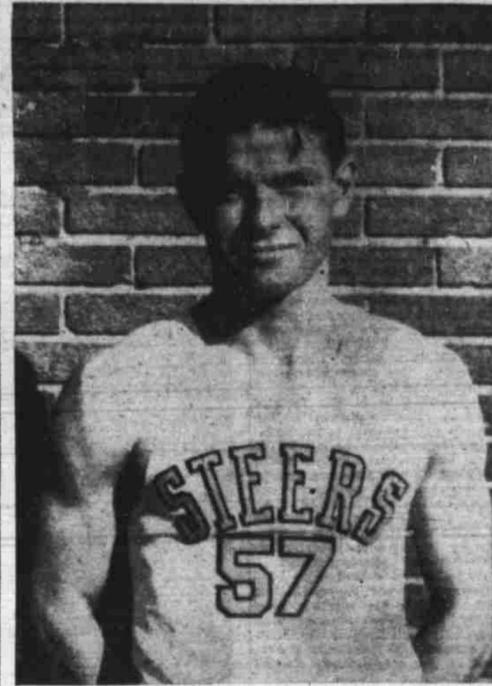

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Reports of three possible baseball player deals went the rounds today, thereby saving this especially dull hot stove league season from taking a dive into its own crater barrel for "want of something to talk about. The trade talk, such as it is, revived speculations that: 1. Van Lingle Mungo will go from the Brooklyn Dodgers to the Chicago Cubs. 2. Back Newsum is headed from Washington toward Detroit. 3. The Giants will land a catcher from Cincinnati. For a while it looked as if the Boston Red Sox might lure Moose Solters from St. Louis or Joe Voelk from Cleveland. However, Tom Yawkey put the damper on such goings-on yesterday by explaining he has learned the "for sale" sign was definitely in mothballs so far as these two are concerned. The Mungo-to-Chicago rumors have been turned on and off like a faucet. Recently there was talk the Cubs would get him, Brooklyn's classed third baseman Joe Stripp, and Pitcher Paul Derringer of the Reds in some sort of three-cornered trade. Ever since Newsum let off steam against the Senators in the public prints some weeks ago, he is said to be persona non grata with Washington big-wigs. That was the starting point for reports he would do his pitching somewhere else this year. The Giants are in dire need of another catcher. They can't expect Gus Mancuso to do again the workhorse act of last season. The Reds have a corper on the catching market at the moment, with Ernie Lombardi, Spud Davis and Gilly Campbell on hand. Bill Terry has been buzzing around Cincinnati like a bee around honey, but the Reds want more than he will put up.

HARRY COOPER FAVORITE IN OAKLAND OPEN OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 14 (AP)—Gold's professional leagues gathered here today for final practice preparatory to the start tomorrow of the 72-hole medal play $5,000 Oakland Open tournament. RIP RETURNS TWO CONTRACTS ENID, Okla., Jan. 14 (AP)—Rip Radcliff, slugging outfielder for the White Sox baseball club of the American league, revealed today he had returned unsigned two contracts for the 1937 season and was contemplating returning a third. "So far, we're seeing pretty much eye to eye on one thing—that I need a raise," said Radcliff at his winter home here. "We just can't seem to agree on how much. The first contract was better than last year, and the other upped my mind about the third one, but I'm pretty sure I'm going to send it back, too."

Teddy Yarosz Next In Line After Risko Babe Pinelli Gives Advice To Rookies Rule No. One Is To Avoid Reputation Of Being Umpire Fighter

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Out of a merry-go-round muddle came the middleweight division's battle lines today, with a pair of ex-champions, Babe Risko and Teddy Yarosz, as ranking challengers for Freddy Steele's crown. Risko, who lost the title to the Tacoma slugger last year, already has been given the number one shot. Yarosz, comebacking after an operation which straightened out his trick knee, took rank just behind the Syracuse puncher last night by decisively whipping New York's Solly Krieger in a ten-rounder at the Hippodrome. As plans were laid today, Risko will meet the champion in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden Feb. 19. The winner will, in all probability, tangle with Yarosz either before the indoor season winds up or early in the outdoor campaign. The Pittsburgh puncher, showing no signs of the ailing leg that slowed him up when he dropped his championship to Risko, used a

Perry, Vines To Tour Texas In February Pro Netters Definitely Booked For Matches In Ft. Worth And Dallas

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT DALLAS, Jan. 14 (AP)—Pro netters Fred Perry and Ellsworth Vines bring their tennis feud into Texas in mid-February. . . . Definitely booked into Fort Worth on February 12, the troupe probably will play Dallas the following night. . . . Promoter Bill O'Brien's net carnival carries its own collapsible rubber floor, nets and all necessary equipment to assure normal playing conditions. Rumors says Herman Clark, the North Side high coach of Fort Worth, will get the Amarillo job if Blair Cherry pulls out for collegiate atmosphere. Waco's Jinx Tucker, however, wants to be on record as saying he believes Carroll Wood of Cameron will land the post. Quoting Vin Burke, of Beaumont's Enterprise: "Said Hank Greenberg to Jack Zeller in Detroit recently: 'You fellows quit touting Rudy York for my job, with me moving to the outfield. . . I want to play first base. . . I had to fight for my job; let York fight for his.' Youthful Adolph Kiefer, University of Texas swimmer who holds world's backstroke records in all but one event, tries for that one at the university's swimming carnival tomorrow night. . . . It's the 440 and he's been training to crack it. Critics say Frank Carswell, the clever Jeff Davis forward of Houston, has the "deadest" eye in high school basketball. . . . He recently fired 15 times at the mesh in a San Antonio tourney and looped nine baskets. . . . All his shots are from lengthy distances. . . . He is small and wiry and hard to guard—because he shoots from the center of the court and makes them! Sad note. . . . Carswell will be ineligible after mid-term because of the eight-semester rule. A. H. Kiskewy of Waco has been appointed Texas commissioner of semi-pro baseball for 1937 by High Commissioner Honus Wagner, the old Pittsburgh Pirate coach. . . . The 1937 semi-pro tourney will be held at Waco in mid-July. . . . Mount Pleasant won the title last year. For the sake of accuracy: Beaumont never heard of one Johnny Saxon, recently advertised as the "clouting Beaumont, Texas, boy" matched against world's shotput record holder Jack Torrance in his second pro ring career. . . . They say Charley Hill, Wichita Falls' "adestepin" quarterback, will twist his hips for Louisiana State and Quarterback Garland Terrell of Childress will carry on at Rice Institute.

ALONG THE SPORTS FRONT By EDDIE BRIETZ NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—If anybody in New York has more friends than Eddie Brannick, secretary of the Giants, it'll take Sherlock Holmes himself to find out. . . . At the dinner the baseball writers tossed for Brannick the other night, Jimmy Durante turned proceedings into something of a riot by reading this wire, supposedly from F.D.R.: "Congratulations. . . Glad you didn't run on republican ticket last fall." Jinx fans would rather read about Bill Terry buying catchers than cows. . . . Red Grange is telling the boys on the coast Los Angeles may get a franchise in the National Football league next season. The Phillies seem to have grabbed off one of those jack-of-all-trades in William Andrus, rookie from Little Rock. . . . He can pitch, catch and play the infield and outfield. . . . So Manager Jimmy Wilson will just park him on the bench and wait for something to happen. . . . Since giving old King Levinsky a good going over on the coast the other night, Maxie Rosenbloom wants to be known as a "Jewish heavyweight champion of the world." The Detroit Tigers have ordered Hank Greenberg to lay off handball. . . . Frank G. Menke has decided not to issue his entertaining all-sports record book this year. . . . Friends are trying to persuade Tony Canzoneri to forget that comeback stuff, but no dice yet. . . . The big gun behind the Joe Louis retirement talk is Mrs. J. L. . . . Freddie Steele is the first coast born fighter to hold a ring title since Jim Corbett's day.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT TO AAU HEAD

(Note: This is the eighth of a series written for the Associated Press by outstanding sports leaders. They deal with 1936 developments and 1937 prospects.)

By DANIEL J. FERRIS Secretary-Treasurer Amateur Athletic Union NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Man's ultimate in sport, especially in track and field where marks are measurable, still remains a matter of conjecture. The magnificent accomplishments of the past year where records were toppled with astonishing frequency demonstrated that perfection of technique and other factors still bring forth incredible performances. During 1937 the improvement in the caliber of our athletes, it seems, will be steady. New stars are developing in greater numbers today than in years gone by. The recent performance of Wayne Rideout, of Texas, when he defeated Donald Lash, the world's two-mile record holder, in the second fastest time ever made outdoors in the United States, is a splendid illustration of how athletes develop overnight. Wayne and his twin brother, Blaine, have been competing in college meets for three or four years. Until last fall they confined their efforts to middle distance races without much success. Henceforth, no two-mile race will be complete without one or both. Archie San Romani, of Kansas State Teachers college of Emporia, may prove the sensation of this year in the mile races. He surprised himself and his friends by winning a place on the Olympic team last July and before he returned home had firmly established himself as one of the world's finest milers. "The races between the quarter and mile will have plenty of fine material to draw from but the sprint fields will be weaker than usual unless Eulace Peacock and Ben Johnson, who broke down just before the Olympic tryouts last summer, return to their 1935 form and Sam Stoller of Michigan changes his mind about retiring. It is not definitely known whether Ralph Metcalfe will race this season. The pole vault and high jump will present practically the same fields as last year and the weight events will have all except Jack Torrance, who has joined the ranks of professional boxers. More major track meets than usual will appear on this year's schedule, both indoors and out. Following the meet in the United States, the A.A.U. will again send teams to Europe for meets in France and Germany and possibly England and the Scandinavian countries. HASTE HASTENS LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 14 (AP)—Who's in a name? A track record of 2:03.25 for the mile and one-quarter was set by Haste in winning the 1926 Fairmount derby. The Widener star also won three other large stakes. The 1936 juvenile stakes winners, Marph, Soper and Tucker, and Lady Day and the '36 2-year-old winners, Quick Vene, Handle Cross, Hasty Wire, Four Eleven, Spicy, Sally Quick and Scrooge—all are sons and daughters of Haste. Marquette coach, won the first game of the series for Wisconsin, in 1918, when he tossed in the basket that made the final count 15-14.

Bigony Romps As Bovines Drub Midland Steers Get Going In Final Two Minutes Of Play To Win By Eight Points Weldon Bigony came to life in the last minute of play in a basketball game between the Big Spring Steers and the Midland Bulldogs Wednesday night to put a wide margin between the teams by looping in three long shots as the locals won out, 23-20. For 38 minutes the Longhorns could not boast of a lead of more than three points, and the rangy Midlanders were a constant threat anywhere past midcourt, but Weldon hit his stride, succeeding H. C. Burrus as the local threat, and "iced" the game with a trio of brilliant shots. Dave Wofford, giant center, and his equally large running mate, Woodrow Adams, kept the visitors in the game by consistently taking the ball of the Big Spring backboard and bringing it down into their own end of the court, but Adams fouled out in the third quarter and the Red devils were quick to take advantage of his absence. The locals, after having the score deadlocked at four-all at the end of the first period, had a 10-8 advantage at half-time and were on the long end of a 17-15 count as the third period whistle blew. First, Burrus slipped in a pair of field goals and made good two of three free tries offered him. Chuck Smith matched a goal by Wofford when he swished one in from mid-court and Wyatt Poe accounted for a pair before he left the game. Bigony garnered the last three of them from midcourt. The tall youngster made away with high point honors with his five field goals. The Steer defense was better after the first quarter, featuring Jack Wilson as the "rock." Breckenridge Opposes Any Loop Shuffle BRECKENRIDGE, Jan. 14 (Sp.) School representatives of Breckenridge, who will attend the meeting of the Oil Belt executive board at Abilene next Saturday will go opposing both any idea of a change in the state football set-up with reference to another classification of schools to form a Class AA loop, and the entry of Stephenville into the Oil Belt loop. With reference to the Oil Belt loop the opinion here as expressed was that it should be left as it is. There has been some talk of cutting that to schools with about 500 attendance, but that would cut out such towns as Cisco, Ranger and Eastland, and that is not desired in school circles here. It was said that some of the schools in this district, which may now be looked upon by some as lame ducks, or in some such a manner, may in a few years offer the best teams and greatest football enthusiasm. Reasons advanced for local opposition to the entry of Stephenville was offered as the distances being so great, the district already so large, and the fear that Stephenville as a football town would always be overshadowed by the college. Stephenville has not an immediate nor remote background, for football, one declared, and it was thought the school there would not like the situation. It was the opinion here that the state change in classification has little upon which to rest its case. TEN-STRIKE FOR BOWLING NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—New Jersey, with the American Bowling congress tourney scheduled March 8-April 2 in New York City, is going as crazy over bowling as Kansas is over basketball. Already $15 500 man teams from winners, Marph, Soper and Tucker, and Lady Day and the '36 2-year-old winners, Quick Vene, Handle Cross, Hasty Wire, Four Eleven, Spicy, Sally Quick and Scrooge—all are sons and daughters of Haste. Marquette coach, won the first game of the series for Wisconsin, in 1918, when he tossed in the basket that made the final count 15-14.

DEVILS ROMP OVER RESERVES

Ben Danie's Devils made it a clean sweep over the invading Midland teams Wednesday night by defeating the Bulldog reserves, 25-8, in a last half tally spree. Marvin House chalked up four field goals in the first half to take scoring honors for the evening. His shooting was enough to give the juniors a 14-6 advantage at the end of the first half and Jack Oliver's accurate placements in the final two quarters closed out the game for the Devils long before the final gun sounded. NO COMMENT ON COACHING JOB

AUSTIN, Jan. 14 (AP)—University of Texas athletic officials today steadfastly maintained their tomb-like silence over the football coaching situation but indicated an announcement might be forthcoming next week.

Dr. J. C. Dolley, chairman of the athletic council which recommends to the board of regents, denied Dana X. Bible of Nebraska would appear before the body for a conference.

Despite his statements, curbstoner gossip pointed to Bible as the most likely man to succeed Jack Chevigny, who stepped out at the close of the grid season.

Bible was in Austin and conferred with Dolley early last December. Officials have never denied he was under consideration. Sources close to the board and council have consistently named the successful Nebraska mentor as top man for the job.

These sources also said he would be hired at one of the highest salaries every paid a coach anywhere in the nation and his proposition called for a staggering salary appropriation for assistants plus a five to 10-year contract.

Other likely contenders for the job are: ...

Ten Bucks 'On The Nose' Brings Bing 800 Smacks

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14 (AP)—Crosby Bing Crosby was $800 richer today because he failed to take his own advice and placed a $10 bet "on the nose" of his racehorse, Fight On.

And because they took Bing's advice and failed to back the horse, his film friends are sore.

Fight On at Santa Anita yesterday came through to win the Little Boy Blue race for two-year olds and pay the season's record price of $160 for a $2 winning ticket.

"I didn't know he could run," Bing explained afterward. "The other horses looked a lot better. Honestly, I didn't know he was that good."

Bing's brother Everett held a $5 combination ticket, purely for sentimental reasons. He cashed in for $247. Comedian Oliver Hardy collected $629 on a $15 bet.

Crosby bought the colt at Saratoga last summer for $1600, just twice what it won for him on his $10 wager.

"Sniffing Derby" Entry Goes Over To Enemy Camp

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 14 (AP)—Old Boston was all set to meet Rocket in a state championship bloodhound "sniffing derby" today but Rocket went over to the enemy camp with his trainer.

Old Boston, six-year old king of the McAlester state penitentiary pack, was to wear the stripes of his alma mater in a nose contest across the cold city pavements at a state peace officers' convention here.

Rocket, rising young trained-forth-city bloodhound, carried the hopes of Granite reformatory.

But Fred Hunt, Granite reformatory warden, disclosed good-naturedly today that Rocket was now a member of the McAlester pack, where his friend, Jess Dunn, is warden, and his trainer was now the McAlester dog handler.

M. L. "Bloodhound" Smith, his owner, was lured away from Granite to McAlester. Hunt said, by a $25 monthly raise and a house rent free.

POINT-A-MINUTE LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 14 (AP)—Before the 1937 Big Ten race opened, the Purdue basketball squad averaged 47 points per game.

Running along at better than a "point-a-minute" gait, the Boiler-makers won by an average victory margin of 10 points.

The Purdue maple court-sters, boasted four players who usually scored three or more field goals per game. Jewell Young and Johnny Sines each made, on the average, nine points.

post were Benny Friedman, former Michigan All-American, pro-footballer and coach at the College of the City of New York; Ray Morrison of Vanderbilt, and Blair Cherry of the Amarillo state high school champions.

BEAUPRE TO GET BIG-TIME FIGHT

"Wee Dickie Griffin, fight promoter and close friend of Jack Dempsey, accompanied the six foot, four inch, 200-pounder on his first eastern invasion. Griffin said it was probable Dempsey and Max Baucus would be in Beaupre's corner the night of the fight.

Beaupre, Dallas butcher, just turned 22, has fought 26 professional fights. He dropped one to the veteran Tommy Loughran who remarked at the end of the fight: "Beaupre is the best young heavyweight in the country."

SEEKS TO GIVE STATE CONTROL OF ATHLETICS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 14 (AP)—The Colorado Springs Gazette says today a bill which Sen. John Nolan will introduce into the Colorado legislature would give a state commission dictatorial powers over athletic schedules of state-aided colleges and might block a break-up of the Rocky Mountain conference.

Nolan, the newspaper said, admitted the conference split, to start after next football season, was one of the factors which caused him to feel a need for such a commission.

Colorado college, one of the five small schools left out of the proposed "Big Seven" to be formed, is in Nolan's district.

The newspaper said Nolan's plan would embody a non-political non-salaried commission.

KANSAS "BABY" STAR LAWRENCE, Kas., Jan. 14 (AP)—Moy Holliday, 5-foot-10-inch 165-pounder is the smallest man on the university of Kansas cage team, and the scrappiest. He plays the key position on offense, starting the plays, because of his aggressiveness and excellent ball-handling. A substitute last year, Holliday has won a starting berth on the current quintet.

Grimaces Are Barred At Bridge —Here Are Some Other 'Don'ts'

By JOAN DURHAM

Long winter evenings mean bridge—and plenty of it—for lovers of America's favorite sit-down recreation. Many a newcomer in a locality has established himself socially by learning to play a good game of bridge. However, equally as many a newcomer has been barred from his neighbor's bridge table because, although he knows better than to trump his partner's ace, he doesn't know better than to call his bluff publicly.

One of the best-informed authorities in matters of bridge etiquette is Mrs. Ely Culbertson, who with her husband, forms the famous bridge team. When I asked Mrs. Culbertson what branches of bridge etiquette she thought were the most common she cited these six:

Don't Make Faces
Showing dissatisfaction, either by grimace or word, when your partner leads the wrong card or makes the wrong bid. Such an act is not only rude to your partner—it is unfair to your opponents, since your partner will know better than to repeat the "mistake" he has made.

Picking up your cards before the deal is completed. (That's unfair to the dealer, who is entitled to have as much time to examine his hand as anybody else has.)

Arrive Promptly
Other bridge players queried on the subject of bad bridge manners added the following "annoyances" to the list:
Failure to arrive promptly at a bridge party. (Although an emergency fourth may be provided by the hostess the game never really gets under way until all those who are to play have arrived.)
The habit of throwing cards down—without playing or a the hand—and saying, triumphantly, "The rest are all mine!"
Taking one's partner out of a bid—merely for the glory of playing the hand.
Snapping down cards—or waving a single card in mid-air in anticipation of the next play.

FRESHEN THAT WINTER WARDROBE A BIT BY ADDING A COUPLE OF BRIGHT ACCESSORIES

FIRST AID TO WARDROBES
One of fashion's favorite "little jackets" can do much to brighten your evening wardrobe for the next few months. A trim-fitted one in multicolored silk Persian brocade gives effective accent to this gown of leaf green silk taffeta and makes it wearable for many occasions.

Mrs. Glenn Quess Hostess To Idle Art Club At Freeman Home

Mrs. Glenn Quess was hostess for the Idle Art Club bridge club members and guests when they met at the L. L. Freeman home Wednesday evening.

Six guests of the evening were Mrs. Matt Harrington, Mrs. Lowdes Henshaw, Mrs. Henry Covert, Mrs. Henry Reynolds, Mrs. Dwight

By ADELAIDE KERR
NEW YORK (AP)—Want a "new" wardrobe to bridge the months until spring?—just add a few accessories. They provide the ways and means of lifting clothes you have worn all season out of the mid-winter blues and are often neither expensive nor hard to find. The recipe for chic from January to March is a liberal supply of imagination, plus careful shopping and a knowledge of yourself.

Here are a few hints:
Get a half dozen chiffon handkerchiefs in as many different colors—some with your initial applique in velvet. Add a drop of your favorite perfume and carry them with your soubert clothes.

Wear a pair of jeweled clips on the lapels of your dark suit instead of the boutonniere that has been so long in vogue as a mid-season brightener.

Beige and natural tones are being much discussed for spring. Add beige suede gloves and beige stockings as a smart touch to your midwinter black.

Try a new hat. It can do wonders for your midseason morale and appearance. One of the new harem hats—a trim pillbox with a long attached scarf of colored chiffon which swaths about the throat—or a bright draped turban of green or royal blue silk can make a "new woman" of you.

Buy a new scarf—a colorful wool or Paisley silk—and wear it under your coat.

Get a new bag to replace the old Smith and Miss Lennah Rose Black.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Queen and Mrs. Harrington for high and second high scores, and to Mrs. Tommy Neel for bridge.

At the refreshment hour refreshments were served to the guests and to the members that included Mrs. Seary Whaley, Mrs. Neel, Mrs. Robert Rigel, Mrs. Harold Lytle, Miss Imogene Runyan and the hostess.

Recent Bride Is Honoree For Shower

Mrs. Dave Foreman Is Complimented By Stanton Friends

STANTON, Jan. 14 (Sp1)—Mrs. Dave Foreman, who was Mrs. Tommie Shelburne before her marriage on New Year's Day, was honoree at one of the largest parties of the winter season Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. J. H. Kelly entertained with a miscellaneous shower at her home south of town. She was assisted by Mrs. Dale Kelly as co-hostess.

A color scheme of pink and green was employed in appointments for the afternoon.

As they entered, guests registered in a pink-and-green bride's book, presided over by Miss Edelle Smith of Big Spring, intimate friend of the honoree. The registry table was laid with lace over the "check" colors and was decked with a cluster of fern and pink rosebuds.

In the dining room, guests were served by Miss Sallie Ruth Cox and by Mrs. Foreman's cousin, Miss Mittell Thompson.

The refreshment table repeated the party colors with its ecru lace cloth laid over pink and green and its centerpiece of a potted pink cyclamen and lace fern.

Mrs. George Blocker entertained with piano selections during the arrival of the guests. The strains of the wedding march signaled the entrance of the honoree, Mrs. Foreman, accompanied by her moter, Mrs. George Shelburne, and Mrs. Henry Ort.

The march continued as little Patry Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kelly, and Frances Edward Kennedy, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Hall Kennedy, entered. A bridal veil and pink taffeta dress transformed Patry into a miniature bride, while her little companion was attired as a bridegroom. The couple presented the honoree with small gifts with the statement, "Here's your shower, Tommie."

In the laughter which followed they left the room to return, drawing a child's wagon, gay with ruffings of pink and green crepe paper, on which stood a large box of the same colors piled with ribboned gifts wrapped in vari-colored tissues. When the box had been emptied, the children brought in another wagon load and so on until all the gifts had been presented to the bride.

Later Mrs. Foreman expressed her appreciation and that of her husband for the gifts which ranged from furniture to linens and china.

More than 50 guests attended, while more than 80 others who were unable to be present sent gifts.

Mrs. Foreman, who has been reared in Stanton and is a graduate of the Stanton high school had been honored at two previous showers.

She and her husband, also a graduate of the high school here, are well known in Stanton. They are making their home at Lenora where Mr. Foreman is proprietor of a general store.

Fix Your Heels

Have the heels of your shoes repaired so that every one is straight as a die. Well kept heels give the smoothly-shod appearance that is one of the first essentials of chic.

Add a jacket of brocade or sparkling sequins to the dinner dress that is beginning to bore you a bit, and wear it to the theater.

Bank a cluster of new spring blooms at the neckline of your evening gown in which you have danced so many times this winter.

Perch a new flower at the top of your evening crepe or a pair of gem studded wings on either side of it.

Wear twin clips studded with brilliant stones at the base of the tight puffed sleeves of your dinner frock.

Rim the high neckline of your black afternoon frock with a band of white pique.

Try a New Blouse

Get one of the new bracelets—massive gold studded with big stones or a metal serpent that coils up your arm.

Invest in a new blouse for your dark suit—one of the glamorous Paisley silks or a colorful tucked chiffon shirtwaist.

Try a new cuffure with your hair clipped a little shorter and curled softly about your face.

Last, but not least, change your face—your makeup at least. If you can't go south for a sunbath, achieving its equivalent by blending a little darker powder with your own and using lipstick which has a tawny cast.

Dressy Crocheted Blouse

By EUTH ORR
Pattern No. 418

If your wardrobe is beginning to give indications of hard usage, here's a simple suggestion to remedy it. A charming little blouse like this, worked up in a gay color combination, will make your friends completely forget that you're worn that same skirt for months. And, if you use angora yarn for the trimming color, as the instructions suggest, the blouse will be dressy enough for any afternoon engagement.

The main part of the blouse is crocheted, with rows of single and double crochet alternating; the stripes are woven in later. The ribbing and collar are knitted, with two kinds of yarn worked together, producing a very attractive effect.

The instructions are written for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20, so you won't have to spend time planning your own size.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, with diagrams to aid you; also what needles and crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 418 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address Big Spring Herald, Needlework Dept., P. O. Box 200, Station D, New York, N. Y.

ARMY FLIER LANDS FAR OFF COURSE

RINGGOLD, Montague County, Jan. 14. (AP)—Lieut. Marion Huggins, who cruised nearly five hours through dense fog with the gasoline supply in his army plane steadily diminishing, landed safely in a pasture near here last night.

"It was the only spot in North Texas not covered by fog," the army aviator told a filling station attendant.

Lieut. Huggins took off with five other ships at Houston for Hensley Field, Dallas. He became separated from the others over Mexico when he climbed above the clouds.

Four hours later he radioed Hensley Field he was lost and looking for an emergency landing field.

He said he had only 15 minutes

Reading And Writing

By John Selby

The complications of the Irish fight against the English have so far left this omnivorous reader rather cold. It seems pretty evident that there has been more stupidity on both sides than anything else, and the record of stupidity is not inspiring. Usually it is not even funny.

So that all the fuss about Charles Stewart Parnell hasn't made a deep impression either. When finally he whipped himself into action against the English, he ran true to type in the main, and that is that. Now, however, Joan Haslip has written a new biography (called tersely "Parnell") and she has brought the man to life. She has done it less by her story of his career than by her introductory chapters, where she goes rather deeply into Parnell's family background, and into the psychological state of the man at the time he decided to enter politics.

The Parnells as a family are more interesting than any one of the individuals. There were 12 Parnell children, and on one side their heritage was that of the Irish landowner-gentry, except for a streak of madness. Some of Charles Stewart Parnell's close relatives were either confined, or should have been. Some of his brothers and sisters showed definitely the vein of insanity; Charles himself was moody, intense, capable of dangerous emotional storms. He also was delicate, so much so that as a child he was sent to a girls' school for a time. And he had a very bad inferiority complex.

All this complicated personality did not come to Parnell from his father's line. His mother was an American, daughter of Commodore Stewart of the American navy. She was mad in her own way; she gave birth to a dozen children without losing her beauty or her intensity, and she spent her time scandalizing her relatives by marriage, entangling herself with the Fenians, living wastefully in Ireland, England and France by turns. She was what the French call an "original."

Which fact, with all the others adduced by Miss Haslip, seem to explain Charles Stewart Parnell rather well. In the body of the book there is a mass of material on the Irish home rule question which could, I suppose, be skipped by a reader interested in Parnell the man exclusively. At any rate, I skipped a lot of it.

"Parnell," by Joan Haslip (Stokes).

EATS HIS SPINACH
TOKYO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Doctor Kakujii Yoshida, setting an example for the little boys of the world, announced today he had eaten 8,280 pounds of spinach in the last supply of gasoline.

The flier ordered gasoline and planned to continue to Dallas today.

six years. That is more than three pounds a day. Yoshida said it had made him "robust and youthful."

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Sam Houston Beakrats remained undefeated today after a 48 to 21 triumph over the West Texas Teachers quintet last night. Butler, West Texas guard, topped the scores with 12 points. An airtight Beakrat defense limited the Buffs to three field goals in the first half.

WRECKED AIRLINERS IN MEXICO FOUND
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14 (AP)—Two missing Mexican airliners were reported found today, wrecked in mountainous country.

Municipal authorities of San Cristobal Las Casas said one plane, piloted by Roberto Navarro with two physicians as passengers, had been found with its three occupants dead.

Reports of the other plane, however, with a crew of three and six passengers aboard, were not confirmed. It was believed to have been forced down Monday near Minatitlan, Vera Cruz, on a flight from Mexico City. Hope was virtually abandoned that any of its occupants could be found alive.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Crocote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the infected membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Beechwood Crocote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Crocote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of Beechwood Crocote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creomulsion in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creomulsion top because in this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Crocote so emulsified that it goes to the very spot of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creomulsion right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

THE PRESSING FARM PROBLEM

I have never seen among the peasantry of Europe poverty so abject as that which exists in the great cotton states from Arkansas on to the East Coast. These are strong words, but they are the carefully considered statement of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

In a recent article in the New York Times Magazine Wallace has this pertinent paragraph: "I have been asked, 'Is there danger of a peasant group in the United States?'"

The problem is acute and tragic. Partisan politics should not be allowed to enter into the administration of this great effort to help the tenant farmer.

Farm tenancy exists in every state in the union, although it is more acute and more dramatic in the deep South.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—Here is a sad note that provides ample argument against being too impulsively generous.

During the holidays so many gifts of a liquescent nature were delivered to the desk of a New York columnist that he finally was compelled to hire a cab and transport them to his hotel.

Next day there arrived belatedly a package of three bottles. Thinking some of the boys in the office might like a little scotch or rye, he doled out two quarts and carried the remaining one home.

Several weeks before the Yule, Jane Froman received a letter that had been carried on the first flight of the China Clipper. Being an ardent collector of stamps, she was fascinated by the varied cancellations on the envelope.

That golden cloud you noticed on the horizon was just the French Casino sending out canary birds for Xmas. I have named mine "La Belle Boulin Rouge."

Paul Whiteman gave Billy Rose a marvelous cigarette case of solid gold and priceless jewels, and there was this inscription inside: "To Billy Rose, with deep affection, from Paul Whiteman."

Which reminds me that the Bergin County, N. J., operative of this bureau forwards the tale of the lady whose dog has the most voracious appetite in the world.

BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLOTT

Copyright, 1936, By Paul Mallott

Reorganization plan leaves congress leaders speechless. Opposition group plans passive resistance.

Only half of scheme held likely to be enacted. Defeat expected for proposed accounting system.

Fattening

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—There will be no denying that President Roosevelt's reorganization plan kicked his congressional leaders approximately speechless.

The proper explanation was offered by a demagogue senator, who could qualify for one of Mr. Roosevelt's proposed six leg-man assistants, as he expressed a passion for anonymity. Said he:

"I recall that a W. S. Gilbert ship was once becalmed, and as the crew had no food, they ate each other. The cook finally survived and announced, with a knowledge of what was within him: 'I am the cook, and the captain bold and mate of the Nancy brig, and a bouon tight and a midshipmate and the crew of the captain's gig.'"

Conflict

The confidence of the passionate anonymity was probably premature. A peculiar inner situation has developed. Certain democratic leaders appear to be banding to conduct a wholly inside fight against the program by passive resistance.

At the same time, others started creating machinery to ram it through the house. Instead of letting the house select a standing committee to consider the matter, they arranged to have the speaker arrange in order that none excepting legal administration men would be appointed.

In a situation like this, it is impossible to tell how much of the presidential program will survive. The consensus is that about fifty per cent eventually will be approved by congress six months hence.

Probabilities

Best advance guess is that this is what will emerge: Mr. Roosevelt will undoubtedly get his six new confidential agents. These jobs will be of superior importance. Six presidential chancellors able to control the roads to the president's mind from the government departments may develop more power than cabinet members.

The proposed presidential accounting system will be dropped into the first handy congressional waste basket and a substitute plan composed. Congress will not permit the attorney general to write legal authorizations for presidential expenditures and the treasury secretary to audit them.

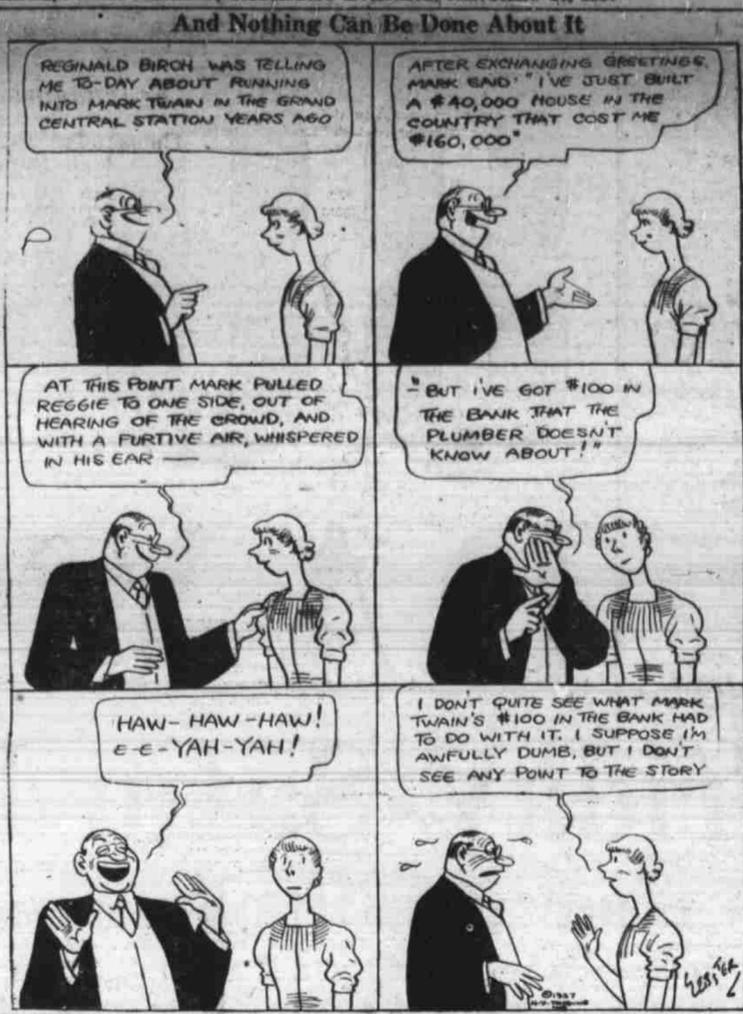

Not all congressmen take the majority view outlined above. Possibly 25 per cent seem to feel that congress will never compose a satisfactory government reorganization of its own and that the president must do it, if it is to be done.

Suppression

One other thing the president will not get is a central information bureau to "coordinate" and "coordinate" the information bureau of the various government departments. Newsmen here generally fear the suggestion as another encroachment on their news-gathering rights.

News-gathering here has always been more or less of a game, in which both sides, the government and the press, are bound by unwritten rules of fairness. Government officials try to suppress all information detrimental to themselves or their causes.

The machinery instituted by the recently enlarged press agent system had the effect of reining news-gatherers further from sources of government news, except those officially selected.

Geisha Girls Going Western, Singing In 'Swing Time'

TOKYO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Japan's geisha girls sing their songs in swing time here, and they even, too. Important statistics on moving pictures and phonograph records from the United States disclosed today the spread of occidental styles in the ancient, oriental calling of the geisha girls.

Now they have learned from American phonograph records and sound films how to croon American blues. Some have taken up the rumba. Most of the 7,000 geisha girls who take an eight-year course in entertaining now include Bing Crosby and Josephine Baker types in the repertory.

Wings For Sally

by BAILEY WOLFE

Chapter 31
"SOMEBODY'S AFTER ME!"
 Sally stood as if in a dream as Philip crossed the room to her and took both her hands in his. "If you know," he said, "how desolate that house of mine was when I came back to it tonight. Always before I've been able to look across the street and see your light. There was always a chance that you'd be sitting in that chair under the magnolia in my garden—the way you were when I first saw you. But tonight I knew you were huddled away in that huge rock pile Morris calls home. I had a sudden, horrible premonition that you had changed."

"Changed—in three days?" Sally laughed tremulously to cover her confusion. Philip was still holding her hands in a tight grip.

"But you're not changed," said Philip.

At that moment there was a timid knock on the office door. Philip dropped his hands. He drew a deep breath, like a man who wakes from a day dream, and walked across the room to the door. It was one of the men from the outer office with a message that someone who claimed he had an appointment was waiting to see Philip.

"Send him in," said Philip. He turned to Sally. "That's McDonald now."

"Shall I wait outside?" asked Sally.

"No. Sit in the corner over there. McDonald will scarcely know you're here if you keep quiet. I'd like you to get what he says in shorthand."

Philip held Sally's hand tightly. "I had a sudden fear that you had changed," he said.

"If somebody's after you, running away may not help," said Philip.

"I ain't running away," said McDonald. "But I got my wife and kids to take care of."

"Tell me about it," said Philip.

"About two weeks before the fire," said McDonald, "I knowed for sure they wouldn't take me back at the factory, so I looked me up a job and got one at the Five Points garage. A day or so after that, some of the fellows at the factory held a meeting at my house. They'd made up their minds to fight it out with old Joe Morris till he give them a raise and fixed their houses. I told 'em I'd help 'em organize all I could."

"And then you lost your garage job," said Philip.

"You knowed that?" McDonald was astonished. Philip nodded. McDonald went on. "I was fired three days after that meeting, but they never give me a reason for firing me. About that time, May was took sick and I tramped all over town, hunting work. It was about a week before the big fire when this fellow come to see me."

"Who?" questioned Philip.

"Didn't know him. Fellow said he'd heard I was looking for work. Said he was at the garage when I was fired out of there. He told me to wait for him at the Palace theater Tuesday night and he'd take me to see somebody that wanted to hire a good mechanic. I waited for him two hours. I reckon, but he never showed up."

"You didn't see him again?" McDonald shook his head. "The next week, the day of the fire, I got a letter telling me the same thing. Said the fellow had been called out of town that night, but he wanted me to meet him the next night at the back side of the Palace. He said he had to work at the Palace, but told me when he got off, and said he'd meet me.

"Find That Man," "Why didn't you tell me this before?" asked Philip sharply. "I never thought nothing of it," said McDonald. "Except that this fellow had played me a dirty trick, having me wait for him and never showing up. Never thought they was trying to frame me till my house four days ago and wanted me to own up to setting the Palace on fire. Said he had witnesses that seen me hanging around the Palace."

"What was the lawyer's name?" asked Philip.

"Benton he said his name was," McDonald swallowed and cleared his throat. "I wouldn't own to nothing, but I knowed somebody was trying to get me. That's why I got to get out of town soon as May gets over her sickness."

"It's too late to get away now," said Philip grimly. "The thing we've got to do is find this man who asked you to meet him at the Palace theater. That's your job, McDonald. Go out and scour the town. Don't stop till you locate your man. We'll need him before they get out a warrant for you."

"They can't do nothing to me," said McDonald, and his blue eyes had a fighting glint. "They can't prove nothing on me because they ain't nothing to prove."

"The fact that they're gone to so much trouble already proves that they don't need facts to frame you," said Philip. "They'll manufacture their own facts."

McDonald stood up. He was no longer awkward or frightened. Everything about him bespoke determination.

"I'm a-going right now to find that fellow," he said. "If he's still in town, I'll find him."

"Good," said Philip. "Keep in touch with me and let me know if anything turns up. Remember, we're behind you here."

The two men shook hands and McDonald went out.

SELF-GOVERNING BAR MEASURE OFFERED

AUSTIN, Jan. 14 (AP)—The self-governing bar bill, subject of controversy in several previous legislative sessions, was offered in the house today by Rep. Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg.

The bill would permit the state supreme court to promulgate rules under which lawyers might be suspended from practice or disbarred for actions considered unethical. It also would empower the supreme court to formulate rules of civil court procedure.

The Inauguration Show Must Go On

Thousands Who Gather Will See Spectacle Regardless Of Weather

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—There's a tradition about inauguration parades—like the U. S. mail, football games and shows they "must go on."

So the thousands who gather in Washington Wednesday for President Roosevelt's second inauguration may reasonably expect to see the full spectacle despite possible rain, snow or sub-zero weather.

There will be about 10,000 persons in the big display and it will take them approximately two hours to pass in review before President Roosevelt.

Chiefly military, with Annapolis mid-shipmen and West Point cadets as well as army, navy and marine units, the parade nevertheless will have a fair scattering of civilian participants. Each governor will be allowed three automobiles for himself and his aides and friends. In addition there will be 400 CCC boys and 300 boy and girl beneficiaries of the National Youth Administration.

Historians disagree but some say the tall, freckled and democratic Thomas Jefferson would have inaugurated the first typical "great American spectacle." The crack "National Greys" came all the way from Philadelphia to march for

'Great Ziegfeld' To Be Feature At The Lyric Next Week

Thousands Who Gather Will See Spectacle Regardless Of Weather

One of Hollywood's most stupendous productions of the past year, "The Great Ziegfeld," headlines the program at the Lyric theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. A large cast, many of whose members depict famed entertainers who played under Ziegfeld, is headed by William Powell as the great showman, Myrna Loy as Billie Burke; and Louise Rainer as Anna Held. Others featured are Frank Morgan, Fannie Brice, Virginia Bruce, Reginald Owen, Ray Bolger, Ernest Comart, Joseph Cawthorne, Nat Pendleton and Harriet Hoctor.

In addition, many of the noted performers of Ziegfeld shows are portrayed by other actors and actresses.

The story itself dramatizes the life of the great showman, starting in 1883 when Ziegfeld became the manager of Sandow, the strong man. Events carry Ziegfeld up the ladder of fame, showing his triumphs and disappointments, and telling how he achieved fame with New York productions, only to lose his fortunes in the crash of 1929.

"The Great Ziegfeld" has many

Reemployment Office Here Ready To Help In Placing Workers On Jobs

Task of hiring workers, whether for a large or small enterprise, is to be made less difficult by using the facilities of the National Reemployment office at 311 Secury street.

Each applicant to the service is given a private interview with a staff member who specializes in finding jobs for people in a related group of occupations. All available information about the applicant's work history is recorded and kept on file.

When an employer notifies the office of an opening, this file is consulted for the best qualified registrants.
