School Dedication, New Officers Named During Homecoming Events

Roy G. Hobbs, Congressman Beau Boulter and Ronald Cummings.

by Lila Meador

In a brief address Saturday afternoon, Congressman Beau Boulter of Amarillo and Washington dedicated the new Motley County School facility.

Boulter stated that Motley County should be very proud of the fine job they have done by sticking together and building a fine school. Boulter stated that in his opinion the small communities are "where it's at." This building replaced the former structure which was destroyed in the May 1, 1984 tornado.

The meeting of Ex-students and Ex-teachers was called to order by Ricky Lawrence, president of the association, who welcomed the assembly. Invocation was by Loyd Latimer of Lubbock, class of 1940. Superintendent Ron Cummings gave a resume of the tornado disaster and cited those on the school board at the time, then introduced the Congressman.

Roy Hobbs, president of the school board presented a plaque to former Superintendent Charlie Johnson in appreciation of his 30 years with the school system, serving as teacher, coach, principal and superintendent. This feature of the program came as a complete surprise to an emotionally overcome Johnson, who gave others credit for his successful administration.

The memorial list was read by Sybil Scaff Barton.

Other features of the program included recognition of the student who traveled the farthest - Jo Eda Berryman Harcrow, 1500 miles from Hughson, Calif.; youngest graduate, Shelly Palmer, class of 1982; earliest graduate, Clarence Jenkins, 1914 and only survivor of that class; earliest teachers, Lorene Fryar Calhoun of Plainview and Virgie Sparks Hunter of Slaton; and election of Homecoming Queen with two nominated candidates, Rose Donovan Pierce, class of 1957 and Jo Eda Berryman Harcrow, class of 1937, who was elected. Charlie Johnson was nominated and elected Homecoming King.

Two husband and wife couples, introduced by Frances Martin Brandon, presented vocal selections. They were Terree and Billy Donaldson and Pennie and Kelly Keltz. Mrs. Brandon paid tribute to the Constitution of the United States, expressing thanks for the document and to schools and teachers of the nation.

Ruth Garnett was named President of the Ex-Students and Teachers Association, with Darla Dempsey, vice president and Olivia Campbell Barton and Hazel Walton Donovan as co-secretaries. Directors are James Bearden, Judy Cook Perryman, Ed D. Smith, Nelda Wilson Tomison, Debra Garrison Scott and Ricky Lawrence.

The association extended its thanks with a standing ovation, to Hazel Donovan for her work through the years, for which she was - in her words - appreciative and humbled.

Since the supper Saturday night, appreciation has been expressed to James Stanley and Forrest Campbell for filling in at the cashier's desk until the arrival of those designated for that duty.

School Board Hires New School Employees

The Motley County ISD Board of Trustees met Wednesday, October 14, in the Boardroom at the School. Those attending were trustees: Guy Campbell, Randy Barton, Coy Franks, Roy G. Stephens, and James Palmer. Others attending were Superintendent Ron Cummings; Principals, Don Ewing and Michael Patrick. Bobby Williams and Donnie Cruse were absent.

The reading of the minutes of the September meeting first on the agenda and approved as read.

Cummings instructed the board as to future Schoolboard training, until they get their 20 hours and that there would be a two hour session on the Ti-In Network Satellite on the following Monday night at 6:00 p.m.

Cummings read changes in the budget for the general operating and for the Rolling Plains Special Ed Co-op. They were approved.

The bills were approved to be paid.

Cummings explained and asked the Board to approve the Teacher Appraisers, Ronald Cummings, Don Ewing, Michael Patrick and Haden Moore and the Appraisal dates for this year. Appraisals are made each year of the teachers to comply with state regulations. The dates are set for November 1 through December 15 and February 1 through March 15.

Cummings stated that they needed to hire a counselor for two days a week to do all the testing and evaluating of SAT, ACT, etc and had suggested Wilburn Martin. Betty Stevens was suggested to be hired as the secretarial assistant in the main office. These were accepted.

Cummings had old school board minutes which stated that in 1962, the Northfield School and property was donated to the County by the Matador ISD, but there was no deed to be found, as of yet. The board decided that the next action was to have the county do further research to see who really owned it.

The board had decided to look into the Overstreet house in Dougherty to be moved for a teacherage. They were also waiting on the county to clear the lot where the house had been torn down next to Charlie Johnson.

The board discussed that the playground was looking much better and what to do in finishing underneath the fence so it would be easy to keep weeds down. No decision was made.

Cummings read a letter that had been written to the Texas Education Agency (TEA) about the accreditation monitoring in 86/87. He explained the weak areas and how they were improving these areas. The grades that are tested each year are 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11 and then the next year the teachers were able to look at these and see where to help a specific child or group of students.

Patrick explained how this had to be done to comply with State regulations but it could be used to our advantage. Even though the testing said Motley County was in the lower 25% of the schools in Texas, Patrick had called two other principals and compared us with them and we were right in line with those that graded above that 25%, except in writing skills, and this was already being corrected. Mr. Haden Moore is helping the teachers devise a plan to improve this area.

Patrick also stated that 5 out of 7 teachers had voluntarily attended some of the Ti-In Programs to help teacher development. The board was impressed and glad to see the Ti-In being used so much, and that it would definitely pay for itself like this.

Campbell asked who had gotten Beau Boulter to come for Homecoming. Cummings explained that it was the consensus of the faculty to ask him since he had instigated getting the financial support from the U.S. Department of Education, along with U.S. Senator Phil Gramm.

Next discussion was about the State funds from TEA being delayed, due to the fact that the First State Bank didn't have an electronic transfer number. The Bank assured Cummings that this was being taken care of.

Cummings read a letter from the 110th Judicial Court, Judge David Cave and Judge Billy J. Whitaker, stating that the Commissioners

Courtroom at the Courthouse was place A for juvenile probation hearings and detention or for interrogation purposes. The letter asked if the Motley County ISD Superintendent Office could be considered for Place B. After a lengthy discussion, the board voted 5-0 to ask the Court to make every effort to have this location somewhere other than the school. The Board felt this would cause interruptions at the school that should be avoided.

Meeting was adjourned.

Lions Club Presented Program On Local Health Care Facilities

The Matador Lions Club met Tuesday, October 20 for their regular bi-monthly meeting at the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. A delicious meal was served by Lion Walter Jones to 23 Lions and 2 guests, Gerry Jones and Barbara Jameson.

Boss Lion Ray Minkley opened the meeting by reporting on the directors breakfast. They had decided to invite Santa Clause this year to attend the Old Fashioned Christmas and give away candy to the children. They also elected to sell chances for a $100 gift certificate to help defray costs.

They decided to sponsor the Christmas lighting contest again this year.

Boss Lion announced that the first meeting in November (3) will have the Lions Governor Duane Howell to be the guest and speaker and he urged all lions to attend.

Lion Larry Hoyle introduced the program, Gerry Jones, Nurse Practitioner of the Motley County Clinic.

Mrs. Jones explained what a Nurse Practitioner is and how the Clinic was under the Motley County Hospital Board and South Plains Health Providers Organization (SPHPO) of Plainview. The Clinic offers primary health care, they treat primary health needs locally and refer the patient on to a specialist when necessary. They also work with the EMS, which she is very pleased with their excellent capabilities. The Clinic does some lab work locally. Some tests they do and send off and receive the report back at the Clinic within 24 hours to 3 days, depending on the tests.

Mrs. Jones offers foot care service one day a week.

The Clinic offers family planning services. The Clinic is hooked to a doctor in Reno, Nevada who can read an electrocardiograph immediately.

Mrs. Jones stated that we should be very proud of the clinic and facilities here in Motley County that they were as good or better than other communities, and that she was very proud to be a part of it.

"Son Beams"

By June Keltz

God, in Numbers 15:37, 41, instructed the Jewish men to make for themselves garments with white tassels, centered by a blue woven thread and placed on the corners of the garments. White is symbolic of God's righteousness, while blue is a royal color. When they wore these clothes, they were reminded of their responsibility to keep His commandments and of His promises. As they walked, the tassels swished across their feet urging them not to follow after their own eyes and hearts, but to be holy; to follow, follow God. He was the God who led them out of Egyptian bondage.

Years later, a woman who had been afflicted with a hemorrhage for twelve years, pressed through the crowd to touch Jesus' tasseled garment. She knew very well what she was doing. She was touching the righteous King - the one who would deliver her out of physical bondage. She was touching the one she had read about in Isaiah 5:5. As the silky tassel brushed against her hand she was reminded to be holy and always walk with God.

As I was meditating on these scriptures, I asked, "What tangible thing do we have today to quicken our memory of our responsibility to our Lord and to never forget His precious promises?" The answer came like a bolt of lightning - we see it everyday flying over our heads. The pure white background, the royal blue surrounding the stars and those wonderful red stripes, symbolic of the shed blood of Jesus. Our beautiful American flag is yet another tribute to the glory of the one who gave His life that man might never die. He delivered us out of spiritual bondage into a life of freedom. Praise His Holy Name!

BREAKFAST IS IMPORTANT

Every morning we are faced with a dilemma: do we eat a balanced breakfast, or feel sluggish and less alert as the day goes on? There doesn't seem to be much of a choice, yet many Americans skip breakfast, the most important meal of the day.

After eight to twelve hours without food, your body is low in blood sugar when you wake up. If it isn't replenished, your brain is less alert and you function less efficiently. Studies show that adults are the most common breakfast skippers. Only about half the people over the age of 20 eat breakfast everyday. Those between the ages of 12 and 17 aren't much better. One third of those kids skip breakfast at least once a week.

The old excuse "I don't have time" doesn't really hold up. A well-balanced breakfast doesn't take that long to prepare and pays itself off later in the morning, when you can function better than those who skipped this important meal.

A good breakfast should include something from three of the four major food groups. Simple things such as muffins, cereal, fruit, yogurt, milk, toast, eggs and cheese, in various combinations would supply enough nutrition to get your day off to a good start.

Senior Citizens Report

by Iris Bleyins

The mini bus went to Lubbock Monday with several people riding. Some had Doctor appointments and the rest of us went shopping and looking. I find it very interesting to see so many different inventions in the toy department. My children and grandchildren are all far to old for toys, but oh, these ten great grands that I have.

Tuesday was our regular second Tuesday luncheon day and business meeting of the month.

Ruth Baker, our new president, called the house to order at 11:45 and Happy Birthday was sang to Artie and Ivy. Our secretary Ruby Thompson, was called on to read the minutes of the past meeting. They were read and approved. Some had mentioned the charge on the building for family reunions being high. Since I have just been to my family reunion close to Buffalo Gap, held in "Whispering Oaks" church camp and it cost me $22.88 to stay one day and night. Their camp is nice, but nothing to compare with ours, so just feel like you are getting a bargain at $50.

The cabins at the camp were very clean and the grounds don't have even a chewing gum wrapper left on them. The stoves, kitchen and dining area are cleaned and mopped. Then you put the cup towels and potholders in the washing machine and then in the dryer, folded and counted. After you have done all this, then you may go home. I believe we are that deserving.

The meeting adjourned and Mrs. Baker called on Bill for table thanks and we all enjoyed a wonderful lunch and played 88, dominoes and several 42 games all afternoon.

We had twenty-six people present and we sent out two plate lunches to Harby and Bobby Taylor.

Thursday the mini-bus went to Plainview with 11 people riding. It was a very busy day for our driver, Mary Ann, you are a very patient and good driver.

Due to Homecoming this past weekend, we didn't have very many to come to the center, Friday evening for games. We had one table of 84 players. It was a very enjoyable evening. Everyone just relaxed and wanted to have fun, and that we did. I sometime wonder why more people don't enjoy their fellowman enough to go play games and visit with them. Our building is so nice and comfortable anyone should make a big effort to use it at every opportunity.

And now abideth faith, hope and love. These three, but the greatest of these is Love.

I Cor. 13:13

LIBRARY NOTES
BY JIMMIE HUNTER

I was afraid I would have to miss the first meeting of the Pre-School group at the Library when I had my sinus surgery October 1, and knew that it would go smoothly without me, but I'm so thankful that I was able to attend and hear Judge Whitaker tell the story of The Velveteen Rabbit to thirteen spell bound children. Judge Whitaker told me later that he had not realized just how young his audience would be until he saw them and had to scale his story down considerably right on the spot, but he did such a smooth job and made the story so interesting that one lucky child took the Library copy of The Velveteen Rabbit by Margerie Williams Bianco home to read after story-hour was over.

Mrs. Terry Boedeker then sat right down on the floor with the children, showed them how to sit cross-legged Indian style and taught them to pretend to ring a bell "Ding-dong" for "Library School". They sang other songs that had them imitate, "Put Your Hands In Your Pocket" and "Sunshine".

The "special" was a story-song with props featuring "Lazy Roger" who slept right through when someone planted an apple tree over his head and the East wind blew the apples off, woke up justlong enough to give the Old Lady a knock on the head when she came up picking up the apples, then went right back to sleep. When Mrs. Boedeker asked "What does it mean to be lazy?" one child replied "Your tired all the time." And I think it was Mrs. Pohl that I heard say, "Oh, that must be what's the matter with me."

A few of the children were timid and teary until the mother's joined in on the activities so next meeting there will be chairs for only the mothers holding very young children, so loosen up, Moms, and come prepared to march, sing, and dance the "hootchie-kootchie".

We are so fortunate to have such talented people as Mrs. Pohl and Mrs. Boedeker to teach music to our children and we could already spot some really good singers among the children, so if you missed this meeting, mark your calendar for 10:30-11:15, Tuesday, October 27, when we will have a movie before Music Time. Let's think of a name for our group so that I don't have to write Preschool Story-Music Hour every week. Bring a suggestion October 27.

Many thanks to Barbara Jameson for making the pictures that appeared in last weeks paper and to Joan Patton for taking more pictures and helping with all kinds of Hostess duties and to Bessie and Earline for their assistance and handling everything "up-front" so I could enjoy the program.

I'm so grateful to Mrs. C.T. Jenkins for loaning the copy of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights and several pictures and books to add to our celebration of the Constitution.

I missed the library table from in front of the card catalog and learned from Francis Finch when she came in Monday to keep the Library open from 2 to 5 p.m. that she had taken it and was struggling to remove that antique crackle varnish. It is no easy job, but I know it will look much better when she returns it to us. Thank you, Francis.

Darla Gwinn, who has done such an excellent job as securing volunteers for Monday afternoon and Tuesday evening has found it necessary to give up that job. We really appreciate all your help, Darla, and know we will still see you around the Library often. Mrs. Bailey Elliott has agreed to take on the task of securing volunteers and we know she will be very efficient and dependable in this capacity.

Many more thanks are due, but I've taken more than my allotted space and will try to catch up next week. I don't think I'll ever be caught up though, because people like Beverly Darsey keep donating books and Lee Peacock has used several of her reading hours in genealogy to convert soap boxes to catalog holders and to help organize the material for easy access. She really needs some of the small size soap boxes though. Does somebody use "regular" size instead of "giant" detergent powder? We would like some small, sturdy boxes.

It was hard to walk out Tuesday afternoon and leave Bessie Hibbetts and Earline Vaughn busily moving reference books to the new cases. They have done such a marvelous job of keeping things moving and they do all they can to see that I take care of myself. We really have a couple of jewels in these two faithful workers.

TEAMS Exit Level Test To Be Given To Juniors

During the 1985-86 school year, the Texas Education Agency instituted the Texas Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) assessment program. This program, mandated by House Bill 72, passed by the Second Called Session of the 68th Texas Legislature in July 1984, measures minimum basic skills in the areas of mathematics, reading, and writing in Grades 1,3,5,7,9, and in mathematics and English language arts in Grades 11/12. The test given to eleventh and twelfth graders is an exit level examination and both the mathematics and English language arts sections of the test must be passed by students prior to their receiving a high school diploma.

graders will be tested for the first time and students who previously have not demonstrated mastery on both sections of the test will have the opportunity to retake the assessment instrument. The results will be aggregated by grade and subject and reported for each campus, school district, service center region, and for the state.

The exit level examination for mathematics will be given on Tuesday, October 27 at 8:00 p.m. in the high school agriculture classroom. The exit level examination for English language arts will be given on Wednesday, October 28 at 8:00 p.m. in the high school agriculture classroom.

Social Security Tips

by Terry J. Clements

Surviving dependents of a deceased worker should apply for Social Security benefits as soon as possible following the worker's death.

Applying promptly will allow benefits to start in the shortest possible time. In addition, some benefits cannot be paid more than a month before the application is filed.

Social Security benefits can be paid to these survivors:

- * Unmarried children under 18, or under 19 if a full-time high school student.
- * Unmarried children over 18 who were disabled before 22 and remain disabled.
- * A surviving widow or widower of any age caring for a child under 16 or disabled who gets benefits.
- * Widow or widower 60 or older.
- * Disabled widow or widower 50-

60.

* Dependent parent 62 or older. Benefits can also be paid to a surviving divorced spouse if the marriage to the deceased worker lasted 10 years or more. Grandchildren or great-grandchildren can get benefits on a grandparent's or great-grandparent's record under certain circumstances.

Before any benefits can be paid, the worker must have had credit for a certain amount of work covered by Social Security. In 1987, the amount ranges from 1 1/2 to 9 years depending on the worker's age at death.

More information about survivor's benefits can be obtained at the Social Security office at 1401-B West 5th street, or you may call us at 293-9623. Appointments can be arranged if desired.

The House Agriculture Committee in Washington October 15 reported what it considers an appropriations measure that fulfills the demands on agriculture to do its share in meeting requirements of the Gramm-Rudman deficit reduction law. The full House is expected to consider the committee's work within ten days, possibly in the week of October 19.

Congress is struggling to pass, either in sections or in one omnibus action, a budget reconciliation bill before November 20, a date many are referring to as "drop dead day." If the House and Senate fail to agree on a budget bill that's acceptable to the President before that time, the Gramm-Rudman law will force an automatic, across-the-board spending cut of about 8.7 percent.

Of the $23 billion total budget reduction required by Gramm-Rudman, agriculture is expected to come up with savings of just over $1.2 billion. To achieve that goal the Ag Committee is proposing five actions it calculates would save about $1.5 billion. Lawmakers reason the extra $300 million is needed as a cushion against loss of one or more of the committee's proposals in subsequent legislative procedures.

The committee bill seeks to reduce advance payments, tighten the application of payment limitations, institute a "0-92" program for wheat and feed grains, mandate the sale of a billion bushels of Commodity Credit Corporation corn for non-traditional uses, and authorize a referendum to expand funding under the Cotton Research and Promotion Act.

The latter action earlier was deemed germane to budget reconciliation by the Congressional Budget Office after the National Cotton Council provided data showing the additional funds would effect government savings of $3 million in 1989 and $5 million each subsequent year. The referendum would give cotton producers the opportunity to vote on amending current law to allow collection of the cotton research and promotion assessment on the cotton content of textile imports and to repeal the refund option for all assessments.

The committee proposal for savings under the $50,000 payment limitation would deny payments to foreign farm owners and to such federal and state agencies as universities and prison farms, refuse payments to persons not "actively engaged" in farming, and limit or stop payments to some units of farm reorganizations designed as devices to avoid the limit. Significantly, the Secretary would be authorized to waive application of the new rules to the 1988 crop if necessary to ensure an orderly transition.

Under the committee bill's 0-92 proposal, producers of corn and wheat could collect 92 percent of deficiency payments without planting any of their program acreage.

While it is well known the Secretary of Agriculture doesn't intend to make advance deficiency payments in 1988, the committee proposal would require that 30 percent of grain and 20 percent of cotton payments be made in advance. Advance payments in 1987 were 40 percent for grain and 30 percent for cotton.

FREE SLEEP TIPS

Here's an eye-opening fact about sleep: If you've been feeling grumpy and tired during the day, it may not be a therapist you need—but a visit to a local bedding retailer. The Better Sleep Council recommends an annual bed check, particularly when your bed reaches the eight-to-ten-year-old range. Is the mattress firm? Is the foundation sound? A bed that's puckering, worn out, sagging and uncomfortable can keep anyone from getting a good night's sleep. A brand-new bed may help you feel better—night and day.

Lacey Parks, 2nd Vice President, introduced Kristy Patrick and Dana Mullins of the Dickens County 4-H Club. They presented a very interesting program on Cinch Making.

The meeting was adjourned at 6:30 p.m. Games were played with Thiry in charge of recreation. Refreshments of cupcakes and kool-aid were prepared and served by Danny and Scott Sailsbury.

Leaders present were Ray Minkley, Nona Long, Barbara Parks, Vickie Pierce and Club Manager Dorothy Lefevre.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO LOWER FIXED FUEL FACTOR

Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. ("Brazos") hereby publishes NOTICE that it has filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas a Petition to Lower Fixed Fuel Factor pursuant to the provisions of Article 1446c, Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes and the Commission's Substantive Rules. Brazos is seeking an interim order to make the lower fixed fuel factor effective with Brazos' next billing cycle. All customers of Brazos, which serves only at wholesale, are affected.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. Remember When

By Annie B. Cloyd
Box 22
Flomot, TX 79234

Hello Neighbors, it's good to visit with you again. The nice weather makes us all feel good about the crops this year. But as Leon says, "We'll know after it's in the bale just how fine a crop we do have."

My story about forgetting brought a lot of other tales about how we can forget things and one is a story that you need to hear so you can be in sympathy with the "forgotten one."

Seems like this lady had been pretty sick for a week - I mean the kind of "sick" where you can't eat anything and you get weaker as the days go by. Then after about four or five days you feel like you may be able to eat something like ice cream. Your husband goes to town just to get you the cream and tells you he won't be gone long and there you are waiting and waiting and waiting for him and the ice cream and he is a long time coming. After an hour or so you get up and fix some cream of potato soup and before you get to eat it you hear him coming. Now you have waited so long til you just know that the ice cream will be so good that you push the soup back on the stove and get set for a bowl of cream.

Well, he comes in and she asked, "Where is the cream?" Here he comes with this story about how come him to forget what she sent him after in the first place. He stops in a place or two to visit an old friend and gets involved in helping them and then sees someone else and so he visits them awhile and after all this the cream has left his mind completely.

By this time she is so tired and weak till she goes back to bed and he tells her he'll go right then and get the ice cream and he will not stop anywhere else. She says that is fine but she is so mad at him till she could wring his neck for forgetting in the first place. So she tells him to forget it and she goes back to bed still very mad and upset with him.

Now he is in the kitchen for awhile and then he leaves to get the cream. She tells herself, "I'll just go and eat the soup because I do need something to give me strength." Well, she gets up and goes to get the soup and finds it gone - not only did her husband forget her ice cream - he ate her soup too.

I can understand that she was mad at him, can't you? That is a sad story and from all accounts she made him remember that for a long time. I bet he won't forget next time.

I better stop and do some things around here before I forget a thing or two. See you later and "Remember When" with you again.

DPS Urges Safety For Halloween

On Saturday, October 31st, children every where will be celebrating one of their favorite holidays, Halloween. As soon as it becomes dark, thousands of miniature "Goblins and Monsters" will invade our neighborhoods with the familiar cry of "Trick or Treat."

Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, suggest a few safety precautions for motorists and parents that could keep this a safe evening for everyone. If your children go trick or treating, one of the parents should go along to insure their safety. Have your child wear make-up, rather than a mask that could restrict their vision. Children should cross the street except at an intersection and should carry a flashlight in order to see and be seen. Motorists should be especially wear a light colored costume that can be see easily by motorists. Children should not be allowed to cautious when driving in the residential areas. Because Halloween falls on a Saturday, there will be more traffic than normal and in some areas the high schools may be having a football game.

Major Cawthon stated, "If parents and motorists join together, this can be a safe and enjoyable Halloween for us, as well as the children."

Mike Porter Band To Open Concert

The Lubbock-based Mike Porter Band will open a concert headlined by B.J. Thomas on Friday at the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth.

The Mike Porter Band also opened for Lynn Anderson on October 11 at SMU's Moody Coliseum.

Mike Porter and some of the band members are former Afton and Dickens residents and are known by many in this area.

(This information from William D. Kerns' Entertainment notes in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal)

If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

FRANK COLLISON

Part II

At the time Frank Collison wrote that article, he was an old, old man living in El Paso, Texas. So old that his life had mellowed and his mind largely dwelt on past memories.

Anyway, the view of his last buffalo kill was one of the most pathetic and touching outlines I have ever read. He told about killing those mother cows while their little baby tots stood around watching while their mothers were skinned. They then followed the wagons to camp. Very probably, because they could smell their mother's hide. About the only thing they had ever lived long enough to identify in a new and strange world to them. Not just one little baby, but dozens of them. Standing around hungry and bleating, sadly lost and bewildered and wondering why their mother's had forsaken their babies, and refused to answer their pitiful pleadings for company and a little warm milk.

As I recall, Frank Collison said, "By the next morning they were gone, wandered away to starve to death, or to be eaten by hungry wolves!" I chance to think that hunger drove them back to the last place their mothers had nourished them, for a buffalo had the instinct of a homing pigeon that never got lost. So the baby tots went back, knowing their mothers would return too. Provided! Provided! Yes! Provided she was still alive.

Frank Collison was a young man then, thoughtless and coldly indifferent; and never once thought it would have been a charitable act of mercy, to put those helpless little tots out of their misery, since he had deprived them of their mothers. No!

Frank never once thought, but it preyed on his conscience, and he never forgot. The thoughtless cruelty and desecration lingered in his mind and he wrote touchingly of it many years later, when his life was almost spent.

Frank Collison was in and out of this section many times after I came here, but our paths didn't seem to meet. His name even cropped up in land titles at Pecan Springs on the head of Duck Creek, school lands that he possibly filed on under the Seven Section Act that was in vogue back about 1880, but Frank Collison didn't stay to make his final proof. So the land reverted back to Public Domain, set aside for free school purposes to help educate our children.

In 1886, Frank Collison was still a partner in part with Coggins in the ownership of "Pot-hook" or "Straddle Bug" brand of cattle, as I think, in Brown County, Texas. They, or maybe it was only Frank Collison who sold out in 1892. Collison went to El Paso to live and died there in 1943. I believe that he was buried in the Clarendon Cemetery in Clarendon, Texas.

To his dying day, Frank Collison remembered with an ache in his heart, and a piteous regret in his mind, those helpless little buffalo calves he had orphaned and deprived of a mother's protecting care. He could never have written with such feeling, had the scene not laid scars in his mind, that could never be forgotten by him, and perchance in his subconscious moments near the end, he heard their pitiful bleats as hunger closed their eyes forever.

Pathos! Pathos! My dear reader, that sweep through the halls of memory, to keep them from becoming too soiled and tarnished.

Letter To The Editor

LET'S BUILD A BETTER TEXAS

A hundred years ago, prosperity in Texas came from the cotton fields and cattle pastures. Towns and cities filled with smiths and merchants who traded in the necessities of agrarian life.

The discovery of vast oil reserves brought wealth and full employment to the state. By the late 1970's, Texas was the envy of the nation. People flocked here, drawn by the promise of an economy built on the lifeblood of the modern world. The construction crane was the most prominent feature of our metropolitan skylines.

No need to tell you the rest of the story. Most Texans can attest to the impact of the recession on our state. There is one clear lesson from the recent turn of events: we can no longer depend on oil and agriculture for our well being. We must attract new industry. And we must diversify.

Much of the legislation passed earlier this year was aimed at making Texas more competitive in attracting new industry and at making Texas a better breeding ground for new ideas. But when the session ended last summer, the job wasn't finished. It won't be finished until the Build Texas constitutional amendments are adopted on November 3rd.

The Build Texas program is aimed directly at making Texas a better competitor. Our quality of life and our attractiveness as a state depend directly on the quality of our highways, our water and wastewater systems, our airports, our libraries and our parks.

Amendments 7, 8, and 23 provide capital to construct prisons, repair and renovate mental hospitals and schools for the retarded. They provide money for local water distribution and wastewater projects. And they establish a state-local partnership that would give our cities and counties an incentive to construct much needed projects like jails, convention centers, airports, parks and other public facilities.

These are not make-work projects, although the creation of jobs when Texas unemployment is more than 700,000 is welcome. It has been estimated by Dallas economist Bernard Weinstein that these projects will provide over 50,000 jobs. These are projects with an established need.

Another question on the ballot is very important - Proposition 1 to keep the appointed State Board of Education. Our children and grandchildren will not have the future they deserve without the continuation of the changes in public education made in 1984. These changes were implemented by the appointed State Board. We will lose momentum if we return to an elected board.

There is no crisis without an opportunity. We must use this opportunity, this slack period to build the foundation of lasting prosperity.

These amendments will give us the tools we need to build a better Texas. Please support the Build Texas amendments and the appointed State Board of Education on November 3rd.

Bill Hobby
Lieutenant Governor

Barbara, Hi!

There is a lot of good that comes out of the homecomings and let me cite you an example -- a girl came up to see me on Saturday, whom I had not seen since she was 11 years old (that was 60 years ago) and she said, "Do you know who I am?" I had to say no. She was an A-1 student, she not only excelled in her studies, but also in all her school activities. She and her friend, Eudora Garrison Wright were pals and they both stood tall in their class and were on hand at my beckon call. She said, "I just wanted to tell you how much I loved you then how much I love you now." Not knowing a person really loved you and then find out 60 years later, that really makes life worth living. That little girl was Eunice Browning Perkins of Dallas. I was their teacher in the fifth grade at Whiteflat. (Love surely makes the world go round). Eunice, thank you for all your kindness and I'll be indebted to you forever, I am as you knew me then --

PUBLIC NOTICES

ATTENTION FORMER DE SAILORS

In the annals of naval history the destroyer escorts are acknowledged for winning "THE BATTLE OF THE ATLANTIC." Though many of these ships were recommissioned during the Korean conflict and used in reserve service, they are non-existent today.

Over ten years ago, a dedicated group of men formed the "DESTROYER ESCORT SAILORS ASSOCIATION" to honor those sailors who served on board the destroyer escorts. They believed that the destroyer escort sailor should not be lost to oblivion as most of their ships were. These ships were considered obsolete for our present day Navy and were sold for scrap iron or used as targets for torpedo/missile practice. Twelve of the ships were sold to foreign nations. The former USS HURST DE 250, now the MANUEL AZUETA A-06, used for cadet training in the Mexican Navy, made a port of call to Philadelphia for the 1986 DESA Convention.

If your interest is activated as a former destroyer escort sailor, we are having a reunion and convention for your shipmates in ST. LOUIS, SEPTEMBER 2-6, 1988. Anyone who served aboard these types of ships or knows of anyone who did, please contact:

Edward L. Lesniak

Niles, IL 60648

There is a chance that you may locate a lost "Old Buddy". DE SAILORS and DESA are special for: fellowship and communication recognition and reunion.

Do you know where your shipmates are today?

What they are doing?

How some "Ole" Buddies are trying to locate you?

DESA is there to renew that old camaraderie.

And now abideth faith, hope and love. These three, but the greatest of these is love. I Cor. 13:13
