Homecoming royalty

Ashlee Green, a Motley County High School Junior, was crowned the 2004 Homecoming Queen during halftime of the football game last Friday night. Ashlee was escorted by Kenny Johannes, a Senior. Ashlee is the daughter of Billy and Cindy Green of Matador.

2004 Homecoming celebration brings ex-students home

The 2004 Matador/Motley County Homecoming celebration was a big success. Although the celebration started off with a little disappointment, due to the fact that Thursday night's Bonfire was rained out, spirits were not dampened.

Exes coming home for the celebration had no doubt they were in Matador country when they entered Motley County ISD on Friday, as students had the halls full of red and black decorations in honor of their 2004 Homecoming celebration. The Pep Rally held that afternoon proved to be the right motivation for the Matadors, when they came out the victors for their Homecoming game. In spite of an electrical problem which left the football pitch dark during half time, the Matadors glowed when they were successful for a big win over Benjamin, 74-88.

Ashlee Green, a Motley County High School Junior, was crowned Homecoming Queen. She was escorted by Kenny Johannes, a Senior. Ashlee is the daughter of Billy and Cindy Green of Matador. Kenny is the son of Cindy Johannes of Matador.

Saturday events started off with coffee, pastries and visiting at the school that morning. A delicious brisket lunch was catered by the Motley County Senior Citizens Association at noon.

The traditional Homecoming program was held at the school Saturday afternoon with Judge Ed D. Smith as the Master of Ceremonies. Exes Association President, Clint Burns (Class of 1960) introduced the 2004 officers as follows: Debra Stockton Spray (class of '70) Vice President; Jim Watson (class of '55) Past President; Cora Bostick Smallwood (class of '53) Treasurer; and Directors, Geraldine Wayborn Key (class of '49), Barbara Bird Armstrong (class of '63), Colleen Rose Baxter (class of '82), Kim Fletcher (class of '78), Dana Dillard Graham (class of '77), and Pat Smith (class of '77).

Also announced were the names of the Exes Scholarship recipients. Chasity Holman was the 2003 recipient and Stachia Baxter and Sam Stapelton were the 2004 recipients. Each student receives $100 if they attend college. The money is made possible from donations by the exes.

Cora Smallwood read the memorial list of those ex students deceased October 2002 through September 2004, as follows:

Grace Moore Guy; Charlie Keith; Frances Lancaster Finch; Curtiss Baker; Irene Bourland Brown; Opal Dean Johnston; Lottie Carter Stotts; Lorene Fryar Calhoun; Lucille

Meador Woolery; Ruth Simpson Noel; Sylvia Day Fogerson; Inez Pharis Roe; Delores Markham Medley; Zona Ruth Cammack; Justine Rattan Mullins; James "Tootie" Meador; Elwanda Martin McCaghren; Lorilla Tooke Harmon; Richard Baker; Ruth Marie Stanley; Carroll Wayne Cooper; LaReese Lawrence Estes; Gale Stafford; John Lynn

Two more cases of West Nile Virus confirmed in area

Two more cases of West Nile Virus have been confirmed in the area. Kim Gleghorn of Matador is now back at work at the First State Bank in Matador, after suffering with the illness for about a month. Mrs. Gleghorn said she felt bad for about a month with flu like symptoms, which later developed into a rash and joint aches with severe headaches. After two trips to the emergency room, a spinal tap was administered which revealed that she, in fact, had West Nile Virus. Mrs. Gleghorn was not hospitalized and recovered at home.

Don Baxter, Sr., of Afton was also diagnosed with the disease. Mr. Baxter said he started feeling bad with flu like symptoms about a month ago. He was treated for a sinus infection with antibiotics for 2 1/2 weeks, before blood tests revealed that he, too, had West Nile Virus. Usually blood tests are not conclusive in diagnosis of the disease, and requires a spinal tap, but in Mr. Baxter's case, the blood test were conclusive.

Mr. Baxter also suffered with severe headaches. He was not hospitalized and recovered at home.

Although Mr. Baxter and Mrs. Gleghorn are both feeling much better, they report continuing weakness and headaches.

Yancy Meredith was released from Covenant Medical Center in Lubbock, on Tuesday evening, after 4 1/2 weeks of hospitalization for treatment of West Nile Virus. Mr. Meredith's case was very severe and has left him with some paralysis and deafness in his right ear, which doctors hope is temporary. Although he is re-gaining strength he still needs assistance with a walker or wheel chair, but will

Local Fire Department observes Fire Prevention Week

In observance of National Fire Prevention Week, the Matador Volunteer Fire Department would like to let area citizens know that they are proud to serve this community.

Fire Chief Craig Turner announces that the Fire Department now owns a carbon monoxide tester which detects the level of unburned gases in a home. Also available is a chimney sweep for use during the upcoming winter season.

Chief Turner says, "Winter is a very dangerous season due to the use of heaters that are not properly vented and unclean chimneys within our homes." Mr. Turner stresses the importance of practicing fire safety. "If you feel that you have a faulty heater or are concerned about the level of carbon monoxide fumes feel free to contact the fire department," Mr. Turner concluded.

Members of the local department are Bobby Barton, Steve Barton, Alan Bingham, David Blanco, Shawn Elliott, Robert Fisk, James Gillespie, Pepe Gonzalez, Lee Jones, Brent Marshall, Brian Marshall, Randy Martin, Crawford Mason, Phillip Sharp, Craig Turner, Brandt Underwood, Tim Ward, Rodney Williams, Fred Parton and Les Woolsey.

In observance of National Fire Prevention Week, the local fire department would like to share these facts about the observance.

The history of National Fire Prevention Week has its roots in the Great Chicago Fire, which occurred on October 9, 1871. This tragic conflagration killed some 300 people, left 100,000 homeless and destroyed more than 17,000 structures. The origin of the fire has generated speculation since its occurrence, with the fact and fiction becoming blurred over the years. One popular legend has it that Mrs. O'Leary was milking her cow when the animal kicked over a lamp, setting the O'Leary barn on fire and starting the spectacular blaze. However the massive fire began, it swiftly took its toll, burning more than 2000 acres in 27 hours. The city of Chicago quickly rebuilt, however, and within a couple of years residents began celebrating their successful restoration to memo-

Signs of Autumn are pictured in Motley County

by Earlyne Jameson

Jack Frost has not yet begun nipping at noses in Motley County, but leaves are changing colors, the days are getting shorter and temperatures are dropping. These are sure signs that autumn is here. Bales of feed are seen in fields, planting of wheatland and we are thankful cotton crops have missed hailstorms this month.

Motley County National Weather Service Volunteers officially report rain totals for the month of September: Buzz Thacker, Roaring Springs, 0.98; Betty Simpson, Northfield, 0.29; Jim Stockton, Whiteflat, 1.40; Tommie Cruse, Flomot, 1.32; and Kelly Meyer, Matador, 0.41.

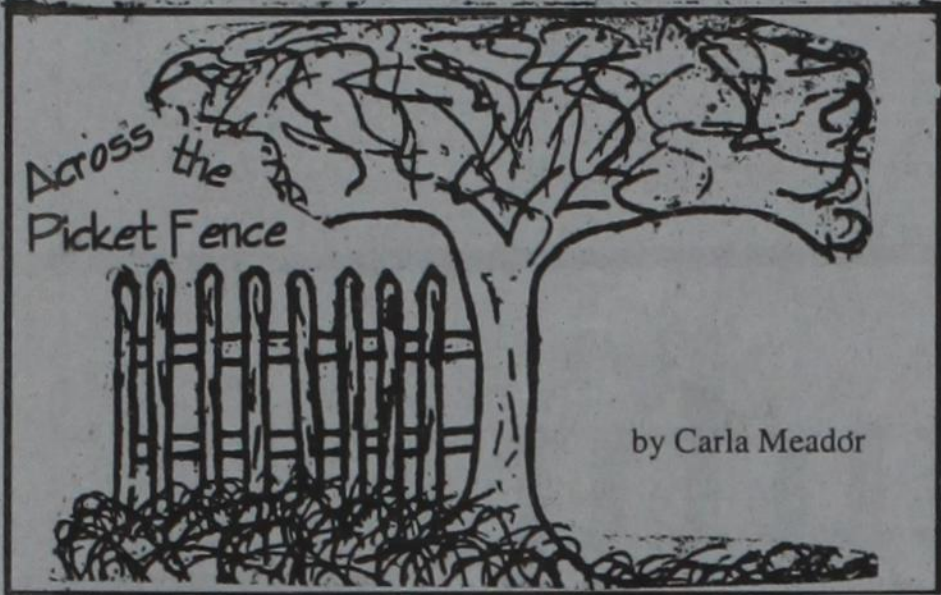

USDA Rural Development will announce funding at public meeting

Bryan Daniel, State Director, USDA Rural Development, Temple, Texas; Linda Brakebill, Area Director, USDA Rural Development, Lubbock, Texas; James H. Short, Rural Development Manager, USDA Rural Development, Lubbock; Seab Washington, President, Hackberry Creek Care Center, Inc., Matador, will be on hand to make the official announcement of funding for the Hackberry Creek Care Center, Inc., to be constructed in Matador.

The announcement will be made at the Motley County Senior Citizens Building, 625 Stewart Street, Matador, at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, October 13.

The community facilities loan and grant for $4,550,000 is to construct a 50-bed health care facility.

The public is invited to attend.

My grandchildren were here this weekend. We always have so much fun. Jim and I even climb trees! Talk about a energy jolt, grandkids can really make you feel energetic and young. Here are some other tips for feeling like a kid again.

- Find a wall and some finger paint. Seriously. Don't feel silly. Reports say there's even a whole field of psychology devoted to this kind of activity — play therapy! Plan enhances feelings of control, inspires imagination, and reduces stress.
- Buy a hula hoop. Go ahead, embarrass your kids. Ask for a pogo stick, hula hoop, or Chinese jump rope for your next birthday. It's great exercise.

— Bang that drum. If you've always wanted to play the drums, craft a clay pot, write poetry, or paint landscapes, it's never too late. Remember Grandma Moses didn't start painting until her senior years.

- Red Rover, Red Rover, invite your friends over. Get out in the yard and play those old fun games like Red Rover, Freeze Tag, Ghost in the Graveyard, etc.
- Dance the age away. Try taking dance lessons, or just turn on some loud music and jump around.
- Go to a waterpark. They're not just for kids. Gather your 'adult' friends and head to an amusement park, zoo, game room or waterpark. Use your imagination!

The program ended with the singing of the school song led by Debra Spray.

Two more cases of West Nile Virus from page 1 continue physical therapy in Plainview. A full recovery is hoped for.

According to Mr. Meredith's doctors there are different strains of the disease. Some people may have the disease and not know it, some will experience only flu-like symptoms and some sickness, some will experience the more severe cases. The disease has resulted in death for some.

Although there is no real treatment for West Nile, supportive care in a hospital to help the body fight the illness with intravenous fluids, respirator support if needed and prevention of secondary infections, such as pneumonia or urinary tract infection is usually required.

Researchers from the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and the U.S. Army are trying to develop a vaccine for humans that prevents West Nile virus.

NOTE OF THANKS

I want to take the time to say thank you to this community. There have been so many times I've wished to live closer to family, but I am so blessed to live here. Thank you so much for the prayers and all of the food that is still coming. One of my biggest concerns throughout this was taking care of my girls. Cathy and Denise - thank you for keeping them in Church and the bath tub. Amy, thank you for helping with the girls, also. Tammy, thank you for making them feel special. The love that we have been shown through this time is unbelievable and I feel truly blessed to live around "family" and caring people in this community. Frances Hobbs, thank you for the pep talks when I had let fear set in! Rev. Boggs, you have a very special group of people at your Church and I'm sure your very thankful to have them. Thank you to my church family at Full Gospel Church for the prayers and food. May God bless you all.

Relationships

There are always at least two parties involved in any relationship. Each one involved must contribute something to the relationship in order for it to work. This is found to be true in business, friendship, families and marriage relationships. This truth also will apply to the relationship that we have with God.

In our relationship with God there are two parties involved. God will do His part and we must do our part in order for the relationship to survive. We ask ourselves, "What is my part?" Or, "How can I insure that the relationship I have with God will survive?"

Our answers are found in God's Word. In the Bible, every area of our lives is addressed. We allow God's Word to be our authority for any relationship. We study and as we study we learn. This learning allows the Word to dwell in our lives and to be a real force for wisdom to face any situation of any relationship.

There is no greater way to live life on this earth than to live it in the right relationship with God and man. In our relationship with God lie tremendous blessings and privileges.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Carla,

I have been reading the note in the paper about Roaring Springs needing funds to help keep up their cemetery. May I get on the "band wagon" also. I am sure there is not a cemetery in our county that could not use more help with donations. There are mowers to buy, chemicals to purchase that have to be applied by someone, and mowing to be paid for if you are lucky enough to find someone to help.

All of us have loved ones in our cemeteries. We all need to donate annually. Every dollar helps. I feel like if more people knew how much a gallon of Roundup cost, or how much a sack of Treflan costs (this helps with the grassburrs), they would be more willing to help. For all of you that do not go help clean up the cemeteries, the chemicals mean you don't have to use the hoes and rakes so much.

Let me finish with saying that everyone please support your cemeteries with your donations.

Thanks,
Betty Simpson

Circle of friends gather for 60th MHS class reunion

by Earlyne Jameson

There was a circle of friends with a circle of memories of a different time and place when life was sweet and the days slow and easy when the 1944 MHS Class celebrated their 60th class reunion, October 1-2, 2004.

These senior citizens fondly remembered friendships that have lasted a lifetime. Those that gathered for the Homecoming reunion were Don Paul Keith and wife, Jean, Mrs. Ruby Burton Davis and daughter, Mrs. Sandy Ellis of Lubbock; Mrs. Dorothy Nelson Melton and husband, Tom of Odessa; Brown "Bill" Morris and wife, Dorothy of El Paso; Mrs. Juanita Cartwright Wood of Big Spring; Mrs. Paula Patton Son of San Antonio; Herbert Smallwood of Iowa Park and H.R. "Skeet" Jameson and wife, Earlyne of Matador. Those joining class members at the Senior Citizens luncheon Friday, but did not attend Saturday's reunion were Charles Price of Lubbock and Vance Campbell of Dougherty.

The former classmates and students of Mrs. Mary Meason visited in her home Friday and Saturday afternoon.

On a sad note, of the thirty 1944 graduating seniors, a quiet prayer was held for the twelve that have passed away: Math Barkley 1966; Leon Smallwood

1978; Frances Seigler Folmar 1983; Billy Wason 1993; Bernice Ruth Patton Schweitzer 1995;

George Doss 1995; Barbara Springer Zimmerman 1997; Dorothy Jean Casey Risner

1999; Glenda Nelson Brock 2001; Frances Williamson Ward 2002; Donald Reeves 2003; Billy Jean Dirickson Lyles 2004.

Motley County I.S.D.

A Note from the Office ...

by Marilyn Hicks, Principal

We got our official notice this week that Motley County ISD is a TEA Recognized School. The students have worked hard to make this happen. In order to be Recognized, a system must have high scores in each subject and within each subgroup of students. Attendance is also taken into account. I am so proud of our students. I also know that parents have been instrumental in each child's success. Thank you for encouraging your child, and sometimes prodding them, so this could be achieved.

Last week we had our first Open House of the year. Parents came out to meet faculty members, pick up report cards, and hear some of our talented students read. One student from grades K-5 read the poem they will use to try out for UIL poetry reading. They did a wonderful job. By the time we have the meet on November 8th and 9th, they will be ready to earn points for the Motley team. The readers were Chloe Gleghorn for Kindergarten; Mattie Brooks for first grade; Tristan Tomlinson for second grade; Conner Mason for third grade; Austin Taylor for fourth grade; and Keyan Kautz for fifth grade. On October 11th there will be no school.

Homecoming was successful. The students decorated the building and the parents painted the streets. A downpour kept us from having the bonfire pep rally, but spirits nevertheless were high... And the best part of it all is that we beat Benjamin rather handily. Saturday morning the building was teeming with former students who were busy catching up on each other's lives.

October 7th there will be students from Texas Tech in town to look at the school and the town in general. They are interested in the culture of a small community. If you see them, be sure to give them a warm welcome.

Come by and see our aquarium.

Matadors mangle the Mustangs

by Annie Green

The Motley County Matadors mangled the Benjamin Mustangs Friday night for an enormous Homecoming victory. For those who attended Friday night's game, there was no disappointment in sight. The final score, 74-38, tells a story in itself.

Motley County Quarterback, Chance Bingham, completed eight passes for a total of 127 yards.

Bradley Brown rushed the ball for a total of 64 yards and two touchdowns. Seagram Sims gained 57 yards for one touchdown and Isiah Archer rushed for thirteen yards.

Colton Russell caught two touchdown passes, both of which helped push the Matadors towards their big win. Brown and Archer each caught one touchdown pass as well.

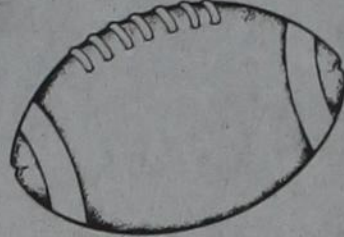

Leading scorers for Friday Night's game were Brown and Archer with a total of three touchdowns apiece. Russel contributed two touchdowns to the scoreboard, while Kenny Johannes and Seagram Sims gained one touchdown each.

Friday night was not only an exciting night for the Matadors, but for all who were there. The Matadors played hard and came out victorious. Come on out on Friday nights and help support this great group of guys. You don't know what you're missing, and I can guarantee you won't be disappointed.

News Around the County

MOTLEY COUNTY
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
NEWS & VIEWS
By: Mary-Louise Liebe-Harkort

Consider:

As a good friend always told me "Failing to plan is Planning for Failure."

-- Doctor Dinero

What do a banquet, a website, and an office have in common? They are all part of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce. And these and other seemingly divergent kinds of activities all make sense when you think about what the Chamber of Commerce is supposed to do.

The chamber is a community organization, and has as its goal the support and improvement of the community, particularly the commercial aspects of it.

The banquet is an event that reminds the community of individuals and business people who have made special contributions throughout the year and that promotes businesses through displays and the door prizes that the businesses donate. And of course it adds to the sense of community cohesion by simply bringing people together to have a good time.

The website presents the county and its businesses to the world at large, and lets people know what they can expect to find here. It encourages people to come visit the county, or to move here.

The office is a center that provides information to people who come or contact it with specific requests. It has brochures and other kinds of material for anyone interested, and can put people with questions in contact with people who might have answers.

The Chamber also supports various activities in the county -- the pre-Christmas late night shopping evening, the restoration of Bob's Oil Well, and the Hackberry Creek Care Center, the Motley County Bucks program. It provided the special "yellow pages" type of directory of business services in the county to its members and new residents, and many new residents have been presented with welcome baskets. And the Chamber put up the information signs featuring Pease River Pete that tell visitors and residents alike about upcoming events.

These are but some of the activities of the Chamber, and there are plans for more. If you have suggestions, contact the Chamber.

Combs reminds cattle owners to test herds for TB

Austin -- Texas Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs reminds cattle producers to have their herds tested for cattle tuberculosis by Dec. 31, the first step towards regaining Texas' TB-free status.

Texas' TB plan, developed in 2002 by a joint industry and regulatory working group, originally called for testing at least 2,400 purebred beef and seed stock herds by the end of August, 2004. The U.S. Department of Agriculture recently announced that it was extending the testing deadline until Dec. 31, 2004, to allow for more tests to be completed. If the 2,400 herds are not tested by the end of December, the USDA could revoke a temporary waiver that allows shipments of feeder cattle to go out of the state without restrictions.

"Testing these herds is a vital step towards our long term goal of regaining TB-free status for the Texas cattle industry," said Combs. "Since the deadline does not fall until the end of December, not only can cattle owners test their herds for free, they can take advantage of cooler fall months to work their cattle."

"We need the support of dairy and purebred beef producers to find any possible remaining TB infection, to prevent further spread of disease and to regain our ability to move breeding cattle across state lines without a TB test," said Dr. Bob Hillman, head of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC), the state's regulatory agency for livestock and poultry health. "Allowing cattle TB to gain a 'hoof-hold' would be extremely costly, in terms of credibility with consumers, and in our ability to trade freely with out interstate and international trading partners."

Since 1983, cattle TB has been detected in 19 Texas dairies and eight purebred beef herds. In 2000, Texas attained the TB-free status under the National Tuberculosis Eradication Program, but lost it in 2002, after two newly-infected herds were detected.

A joint industry and regulatory working group developed the Texas TB plan in 2002, agreeing to test 2,400 herds in return for a USDA temporary waiver allowing feeder cattle to move interstate without a test or official identifications.

Some beef producers are concerned that restrictions on their herd would be enforced due to false positive results. But new follow-up blood tests have shown to be effective in eliminating needless culling or loss of genetics. To test a herd, producers should contact an accredited, private veterinary practitioner and make an appointment. Testing is free. The Texas Animal Health Commission maintains lists of veterinarians who can conduct the test, and can be contacted at (800) 550-8242 or www.tahc.state.tx.us for more information.

TFU members attend Washington Fly-In

Waco -- Texas Farmers Union (TFU) President, Wes Sims, and 190 other Farmers Union members recently walked the halls of Congress on behalf of rural America. During National Farmers Union's legislative fly-in, September 20-22, farmers and ranchers from across the country asked Congress to implement mandatory country-of-origin food labeling, pass agricultural disaster aid, enact fairer trade deals and pass House Resolution 595.

"We delivered our concerns straight to our members of Congress and the administration during personal office visits," Sims explained. "This was an opportunity for us to put real, personal stories behind the natural disasters, import surges and unfair trade negotiations that impact farmers' and ranchers' livelihoods."

Fly-in participants asked Congress, again, to uphold the mandatory country-of-origin labeling (COOL) law and oppose all efforts to weaken it. "Congress needs to keep COOL," Sims said. "Mandatory Cool is a marketing opportunity for me as a producer, and it's also an informational tool for me as a consumer."

Days before the farmers came to Washington; the U.S. Senate approved $3 billion in emergency disaster aid for farmers and ranchers suffering weather-related losses in 2003 or 2004. The group urged their representatives to expeditiously enact the relief package to help those dealing with hurricanes, premature frost, drought, flooding and other natural disasters in many regions of the country.

Sims and others also spoke out against faulty free trade deals that have resulted in rising imports and dwindling agricultural exports. Farmers Union members encouraged U.S. trade negotiators to, instead, ratify trade deals that are profitable for domestic producers.

Also, the group voiced their support for HR594, which would correct the injustice of school teachers, firemen, policemen, and government employees not being eligible for social security that they have paid for. This bill has 300 co-sponsors (218 is the majority) but the House leader will not bring it up for a vote. There is a discharge petition which would bring HR594 to the floor for a vote but still needs approximately 25 signers to reach the necessary 213 signatures.

realize the anniversary of the fire with festivities.

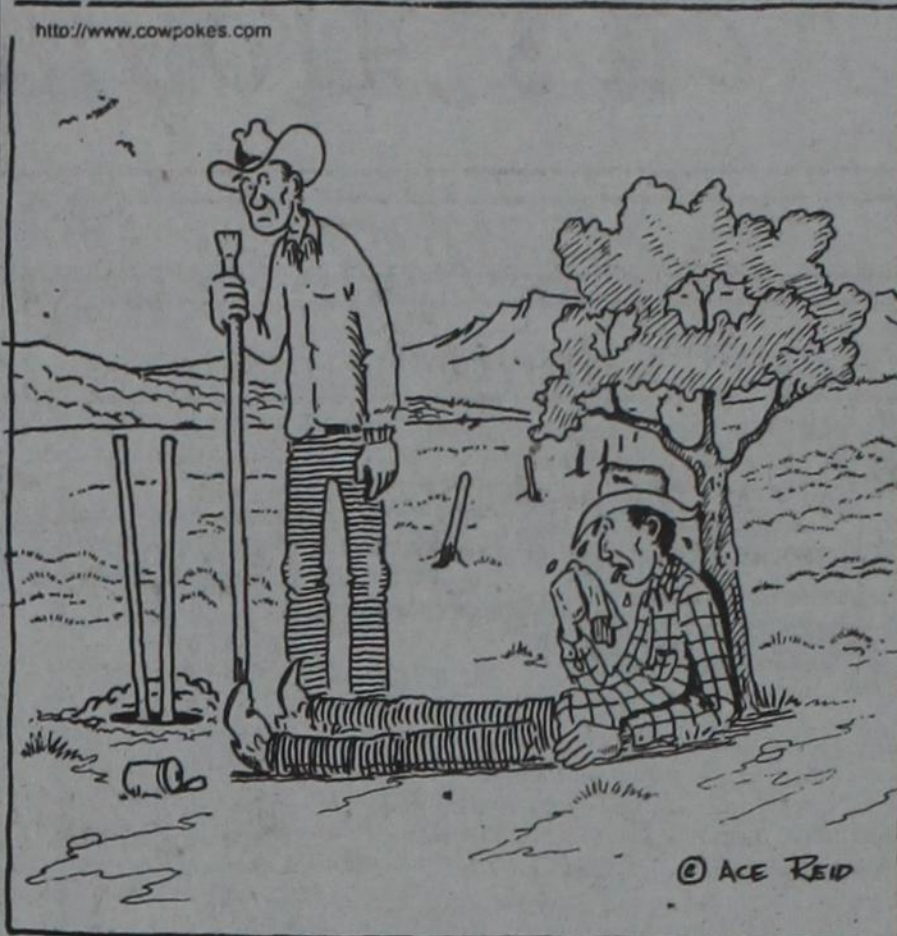

Intending to observe the fire's anniversary with a more serious commemoration, the Fire Marshals Association of North America (FMANA), the oldest membership section of the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), decided that the 40th anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire should be observed not with festivities, but in a way that would keep the public informed about the importance of fire prevention.

When President Calvin Coolidge proclaimed the first National Fire Prevention Week, October 4-10, 1925, he noted that in the previous year some 15,000 lives were lost to fire in the United States. Calling the loss

"startling", President Coolidge's proclamation stated, "This waste results from the conditions which justify a sense of shame and horror, for the greater part of it could and ought to be prevented... It is highly desirable that every effort be made to reform the conditions which have made possible so vast a destruction of the national wealth."

NFPA continues today to make National Fire Prevention Week a priority and counts on the participation and efforts of tens of thousands of fire and safety professionals, emergency volunteers, and other individuals working to reduce the risk of fire and the toll it takes on our society.
