

Deanie Edwards submitted the following poem. I thought it was very fitting for July 4th. Have a happy and safe celebration.

Are You For Me or Against Me? Asked the Flag As It Went By (Author Unknown)

"Are you for me or against me?" Asked the Flag as it went by.
"We are for you; we are for you," Said the people in reply.
"We are ready when you need us, We will follow where you lead us,
We have pledged our heart's devotion," Said the people in reply.

"Are you for us, or against us?" Came the question of the stars.
"By the war clouds dark above us, By our old wounds and our scars,
We are for you now and ever; Bonds of love no foe can sever Hold us fast and bind us to you!" Said the people to the stars.

"Are you for us or against us?" Asked the white stripes and the red.
"By the great hearts of our heroes, By the blood that they have shed,
We are for you! Doubt it never! We are for you now and ever
And our gold and strength and service
All are yours!" the people said.

"I shall take your heart's desire, And your wealth of gold and land;
I shall take your soul's ambition, And your work of heart and hand;
I shall take away your dearest, Your best beloved and nearest;
"God be with you; we are for you!" Said the people in reply.

Motley County Chamber of Commerce News & Views

by Annette Hollingsworth, President

Hi. This will be much different from your usual Chamber article. Maria has gone on a much coveted vacation to Germany. We wish we could be with her. The board members are going to try to fill her shoes while she has fun. I get the dubious honor of being the first.

You should have received your Chamber membership letters by now. We hope you enjoyed reading about the things that the Chamber did last year. We are really trying to come up with new ideas to help the community and the businesses or people with new business prospects. Please feel free to contact any Chamber member to let us know what we are doing right or wrong. To get back to the letters you received, thanks to those of you who have already sent in your dues for the year and to everyone else (me included as I haven't even paid my dues yet), please help us out by sending in your contributions. We really do appreciate the surveys that are coming in. Hopefully, there will be lots of good suggestions. If you haven't attended a Chamber meeting, please feel free to come. We are having the meetings the third Thursday of the month at the Library at 5:30 p.m. I usually try to keep the meetings short as I know we are all very busy.

Be sure to call me at 347-2388 or come by New to You if you need anything or just to talk. Thanks!

Strength is Found in Faith

Faith identifies one as a child of God. In that identity comes conflict with the enemies of the Almighty. There will be times of trial. In times of trial, those of faith experience a very unique comfort from God.

Faith that is tried and proven rejoices in its strength. As men and women of our Military rejoice after having completed strenuous tests and rigors of training. So the Christian can rejoice when faith has led them to overcome trials. Christians must be prepared and trained in the use of the whole armor of God, as Paul speaks of it in Ephesians 6: 11-17.

Christians understand that there is a daily struggle that is won through our faith. Christian people know that the successful endurance through trials comes through close contact with the Word of God. Why is that? Because "faith comes by hearing and hearing by the word of God. (Romans 10:17). We find our strength in our faith and that brings glory to our God." Through our faith comes our confidence and "blessed assurance."

Proof of the Truth
by Tom Edwards

A Conceptual Overview "BEHIND THE CONSTITUTION"

Before considering what the Constitution actually says on matters of religion, it might be helpful to review some prevailing concepts at the time.

Most of the framers were Biblical scholars and well aware of the Psalms: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord," and "the nations that forget God shall be turned into hell." (9:17, 33:12). The Declaration of Independence was actually a double-declaration; of independence from Britain and of dependence on God (Obviating any need to restate it in the Constitution).

The idea of 3 branches of government, executive, legislative and judicial, came directly from the Bible (Isa. 33:22).

There was to be dual sovereignty between a federal government of limited and enumerated powers and the several states retaining all other powers.

To prevent the abuse of power, it was separated between separate but equal branches of government, with a system of checks and balances upon each. The ultimate rein upon the Supreme Court was to be impeachment, not just for lawbreaking, but as broad as was necessary, including for "judicial high-handedness!"

At the federal level, the prevailing philosophy on religion was non-establishmentarianism (providing for the non-establishment of a favored national church). This is understandable, given the Old World experiences of religious persecution, and the fact that many of the States already had state-favored Christian church denominations - they would simply keep the federal government of limited powers out of religion (or so they thought). The states already had and continued to make law on religions.

Interestingly, as concerns the separate but equal branches of government, there is not a shred of evidence that the Supreme Court was to have the "final" say on what is constitutional, as opposed to the executive or legislative branches.

Also, while Jefferson and Hamilton couldn't stand each other, they along with Washington, agreed that the biggest single organizational threat to the contemplated government was an out-of-control judiciary! Accordingly, the judicial branch was to be the weakest of the 3 branches of the federal government, and with only limited jurisdiction!

Today, the federal judicial branch is the most powerful, and the worst fears of Jefferson, Hamilton and Washington, have come true. The federal courts are, in fact, destroying the nation, as they rewrite by interpretation or ignore the Constitution (relativism in action).

Note: On Monday, June 27, the U.S. Supreme Court decided the Texas and Kentucky Ten Commandments cases. As earlier predicted, no matter how decided, the reasoning would be wrong, and it is actually incoherent - pure judicial insanity. By 5 to 4 ruling in each case, the monument in Austin, scattered among 17 others is okay, but having the Commandments inside a Kentucky courthouse is not! Go figure. They are on the ceiling of the Supreme Court chambers! Actually the Court had no jurisdictional power to even rule on either case. More later.

Project Graduation is a huge success

The Motley County High School All Night Party/Project Graduation was held May 28, 2005, at the school. Registration started at 10:30 p.m. and students and their guests were checked in by Cathey Turner and Sarah Hurt until 11:00 p.m.

Attending were 38 Motley County students and nine guests.

The students first enjoyed dancing and games in the cafeteria with Music to the Maxx from Lubbock. Misty Jones assisted with the dance. Also in the cafeteria was a buffet of sub-way sandwiches with all the works, fruit, cookies and drinks. Keeping the kitchen running were Judy Cooper, Andi Henzler, Brenda Osborn and Jessie Mae Sims.

Students not wanting to dance or listen to music could participate in games of dominoes, cards or foosball in the game room with Kyle Moore.

While all of this was taking place, many parents including Kay Bingham, Jim Cooper and Lee Jones were helping set up the inflatable activities. If you happened to drive by the school that night you could see that the playground flooded in light and as a 4-sided 28 foot mountain setting there, waiting to be climbed; and a water maze.

Chaperoning in the hallways were Jeannie Moore, Cindy Johannes, and Marsha Jeffcoat. At 1:00 a.m. all the kids were gathered in the hallway by D'anna Russell and given instructions about the activities that awaited them. All the adults were stationed outside at the water maze or mountain and the kids were led outside.

Each kid was given the opportunity to scale the mountain in climbing gear with adults supervising each side. There were many races to the top but very few were able to scale all the way up. At the water maze there were several who really took a soaking. About 2:00 a.m. the students were led back inside, where those who got soaked were allowed to dry off and then the fun began in the gymnasium with a 28 foot slide, an air jump, a bungee run, and a maze. Billy and Cindy Green, along with Alan Bingham, were on hand to witness several kids who tried to take on Kay Bingham at the bungee run but very few could out reach her before they were snapped back to be beginning by the bungee cord. Misty Jones was seen having a great time on the air bouncer. During this time the kids were also treated to ice cream sundaes in the cafeteria.

At 3:00 a.m. students were led to the multi-purpose room and given their instructions on how the Casino game room operated. All MC students were given 25 chips to start playing Blackjack, where they had to beat the dealers, Jimmy Don Hurt, Lee Jones and Alan Bingham. They could also shoot dice, where they were up against Billy Green; or golf with Misty Jones, washer pitch with D'anna Russell and ring toss with Kay Bingham. The students were checked out by Jeanne, Marsha, Judy and Ronda Miller. After about an hour, each child had won a real nice prize thanks to all the businesses and other donors to the All Night Party.

Cindy Green and Cindy Johannes ran the prize patrol. The seniors were called on down for the Price Is Right with D'anna (Let's Make a Deal) Russell, where they had a chance to win a microwave, dorm fridge, DVD, TV, or pots and pans with a set of dishes. The hottest item of the night were a pair of Trent Willmon tickets donated by the Spur Ex-Students Association. Austin Davis was the lucky winner.

At 4:30 a.m. everyone made their way to the cafeteria with their loot where they were served a delicious breakfast of fruit, donuts, milk and juice.

All the kids were released to go home at 5:00 a.m., with much thanks to everyone for what they did to make the night one of the best and one they would remember.

NASHVILLE RECORDING ARTIST, TRENT WILLMON.

Nashville recording artist will come home for Spur performance

Columbia Nashville recording artist, Trent Willmon, a native of Dickens County and Patton Springs High School graduate, will return to his "roots" on Saturday, August 20, as he performs a live concert in Swenson Park in Spur, at 7:00 p.m. The outdoor concert, sponsored by the Spur Ex-Student Association, is guaranteed to be a good time for the young and old.

Willmon's self-titled debut Columbia Record album is infectious with fun. His hit single, "Beer Man" shows one side of this singer-songwriter's personality. If you have listened to the radio much lately and have heard the song about the "Dixie Dog" and "Making the Drag," well "The Good Life" is about Spur. The rocker of small-town life "Dixie Rose Deluxe" contrasts markedly with the waltzing, wistful nostalgia of "Medina Daydreaming."

Trent has performed with Texas honky-tonkers and western swingers. He even served a stint as a bluegrass bass player, but he realized that if he were ever to evolve as a songwriter, the move to Nashville was inevitable. He packed everything he owned and drove to Music City in 1995.

This hometown country boy's concert is going to be a real treat. Bring your lawn chairs, blanket and family to enjoy what a Saturday night in Texas is all about — country music, barbecue concessions and hot summer nights. For more information regarding the concert or for ticket information call toll free 1-877-271-3149.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I want to say thank you to the Motley County community for making my second homecoming so special. The surprise party and cookout at the home of Linda and Lester Mullins on April 16th was much appreciated.

Roaring Springs, the birthplace of my brother, Ted, and I, has always been home to us, even though we were moved to Oklahoma at a young age for 9 years.

Our first homecoming was in 1955, when I returned as a Sophomore and Ted as a Senior at Roaring Springs High School. We were at odds on where we were going to live, and our cousin, Odessa Mullins, said, "you're going home with us, (meaning, L.A., Lester and Bobby Mullins). I can't count, since then until she left us, how many kids she had helped. Last count I think it was 28.

As we made our way through life far from home; first it was a 4-year hitch in the Navy for both of us, followed by a music career backing up various artists and bands in Key West, Florida and Nashville, Tennessee.

But now, after Ted's death in August, 2003, and my recent retirement, I'm home to my roots in the best laid back, caring community in Texas.

Thank you again for your thoughtfulness, the homecoming gifts and the terrific party at Linda and Lester's home.

Motley County folks are the best. Thanks from Ted and me.

Sincerely,
Harley Wayne Alsup

PS. I am not running for Mayor!

Dear Editor,

June 18, 2005, was a special day for many people as they visited with classmates of Roaring Springs School System.

This could not have happened without many local people taking part in all phases of putting this reunion together.

For those that gave of their time, efforts, planning, and arranging this School Reunion, deserve a SPECIAL THANKS and hopefully I speak for many of the Ex Students.

So each of those involved - YOU ARE APPRECIATED.

Flomot residents reminisce about early day automobiles

Hewitt Dry Good Store in Flomot, date unknown.

by Earlyne Jameson

People have enjoyed automobiles since the earliest of days. Boys would carry toy cars around with them and spend many hours traveling over make believe roads and through mud holes after a rain.

As we reflect on early car memories, there were no seat belts, no air bags or no child restraint system. We remember stepping up and standing on running boards. Most cars had them. When a friend would be driving slowly down a street, it was nothing uncommon for a boy to jump on the running board and then jump off when he had reached his destination. Back then, cars had chrome bumpers you could tell were bumpers, not just a sculpted part at the front or rear of the car.

When it rained, the vacuum operated windshield wipers would almost stop when driving up a steep hill. When you let off the gas, the wipers came back to a slapping speed.

Quick now, what was the last year that American cars had a foot operated "Click-click" when the left foot dimmed the lights? If you just ran to the Internet to find out, chances are good you never owned one!

When we used to look into engine compartments, you could actually see the major parts: carburetor, starter, generator, spark plugs, radiator and etc. In today's sophisticated cars, we can hardly see down into the engine compartment! The pleasure of a good, well maintained car continues today.

During World War II rationing stamps at gas stations were used and we were always concerned about being able to get tires.

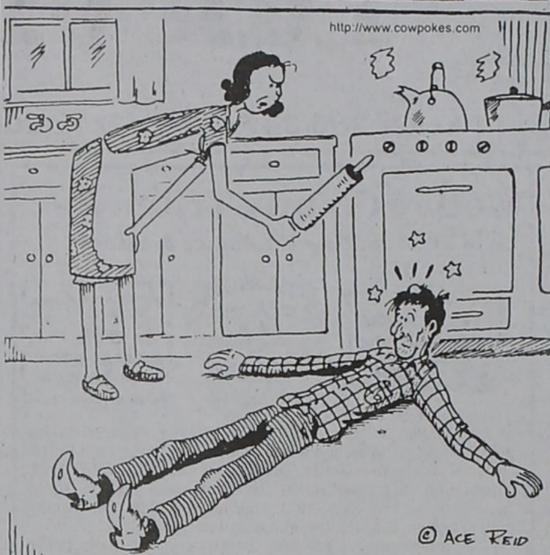

Remembering gas stations that are long gone were Gulf and Penzoil. Also, long forgotten car names, Packard, Studebaker, Hudson, Whippet, Willy's Plymouth and Nash. Though there are still some around, Oldsmobiles soon will be unknown to many in the next generation.

Pickups of every size and model and SUVs are a popular choice of vehicles today. However, if gasoline prices keep increasing, smaller cars with good gas mileage will be seen on highways.

The thrill and unexpected expense of owning a new vehicle is among the few things we can think of that has not changed.

We invite you to get behind the steering wheel of your car and come to the Tri-Annual Flomot Homecoming Saturday, July 2, 2005, at the Flomot Community Center.

FARM SERVICE AGENCY NEWS

By John Bird, Motley County CED

Generic Roundup

If you've planted roundup ready cotton, you may think twice before you spray it with brands of generic roundup. These have in some instances killed the roundup ready cotton. The seed company may not refund the seed money, and this is not an eligible cause of loss for insurance.

Acreage Reporting

Filing an accurate and timely report for all crops and land uses, including failed acreage, can prevent loss of benefits for a number of programs, including Direct and Counter-cyclical Program, Conservation Reserve program, Non-insured Crop Disaster Assistance Program and marketing assistance loans and loan deficiency payments.

Producers are required to file FSA-578 by the applicable final reporting date July 15. To be considered timely filed, acreage reports for:

- Prevented planted acreage are required to be submitted no later than 15 calendar days after the final reporting date for the applicable crop; failed acreage shall be filed before the disposition of the crop.

Preventing Fraud, Waste

The Farm Service Agency has joined with the Risk Management Agency to prevent fraud, waste and abuse in the Federal Crop Insurance Program. FSA has been, and will continue to, assist RMA and insurance providers by monitoring crop conditions throughout the growing season. In addition, FSA will refer all suspected cases of fraud, waste and abuse to RMA.

Producers can report suspected cases to the county office staff, RMA office, or the Office of the Inspector General.

Selling Land?

Landowners planning to sell farmland should know there may be some program consequences you should be aware of. For example, if you're planning to sell land that's enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program, the buyer must agree to continue the enrollment. If the buyer doesn't want to continue the CRP contract, the current landowner may have to refund all of the payments received to date.

Please consider discussing possible program consequences with the county office before selling any land.

Planting Reminders

Under the Direct and Counter-Cyclical Program (DCP), there are no set-asides and no acreage restrictions for crops including corn, soybeans, oats or hay. The only exceptions are fruits and vegetables. Those crops cannot be planted on DCP base acres without penalty. Producers with a history of planting fruits or vegetables may use that history to plant the specific fruit or vegetable on base acres without violating the program. However, for each fruit or vegetable acre planted on contract acres, the farm's payments are reduced by an acre.

COC Nominations

Please don't forget to come by and nominate someone from the south LAA (LAA3) for County Committee.

A Note of Thanks

Once again, we say how blessed we are to be in Motley County, a community where the folks express sympathy with love and food, and flowers and donations. Jerry Green's family is indebted to each person who contributed to and participated in his funeral procession and memorial service. We are, indeed, grateful to be a part of this county, state, and nation.

Thank you from, PK, Michelle and Stuart, and Carmen
