Barbara's Bylines and The Foothill Country News

Recently I was reading the Paducah Post and read the following article under Jimmye Taylor's Just Ramblin. I thought our readers might enjoy reading it.

RULES FOR BEING HUMAN

1. You will receive a body. You may like it, or hate it, but it will be yours for the entire period this time around.

2. You will learn lessons. You are enrolled in a full-time informal school called life. Each day in this school you will have the opportunity to learn lessons. You may like the lessons or think them irrelevant or stupid.

3. There are no mistakes, only lessons. Growth is a process of trial and error, experimentation. The "failed" experiments are as much a part of the process as the experiment that ultimately "works".

4. A lesson is repeated until it is learned. A lesson will be presented to you in various forms until you have learned it. When you have learned it, you can then go on to the next lesson.

5. Learning lessons does not end. There is no part of life that does not contain its lessons. If you are alive, there are lessons to be learned.

6. "There" is no better than "here". When your "there" has become a "here", you will simply obtain another "there" that will again look better than "here."

7. Others are merely mirrors of you. You cannot love or hate something about another person unless it reflects to you something you love or hate about yourself.

Protect Yourself From Storms

In the United States more people are killed every year by lightning than tornadoes and hurricanes combined.

Protect yourself from the dangers of lightning during severe weather season. If you are outside and see lightning go inside a substantial shelter. Avoid using electrical appliances or the telephone unless there is an emergency. Lightning can strike near a building and travel through power lines into the building.

If you must be outside during lightning activity stay away from metal surfaces and objects, water, large trees standing alone, and sheds in open areas.

Just before lightning strikes your hair may begin to stand on end. Immediately drop to your knees and make your body into a ball allowing minimal contact with the ground. Do not lie down; the wet ground can conduct lightning.

BE AWARE

Thunderstorms and spring and summer showers contribute annually to the growth of beautiful Texas wildflowers. While appreciating the benefits of thunderstorms be aware of possible severe weather resulting from thunderstorm activity.

Thunderstorms create lightning, as well as the potential for tornadoes, flooding, and flash flooding.

The safest place during a thunderstorm is in a substantial building. Avoid using electrical appliances or the telephone. Lightning can strike near a building and travel through power lines into the building.

During a thunderstorm, remember, keep alert to changing weather conditions and listen to National Weather Service Bulletins for weather information.

TALKING TO CHILDREN ABOUT A TRAGEDY

When a natural disaster strikes -- whether it's a mad gunman on a shooting spree, an airplane crash or a terrorist bombing innocent victims -- everyone is affected.

During such a time, attention must be sure to pay close attention to children, especially if there are young victims involved. Young children who see images of disasters on television will need to be reassured that they are safe.

The National Association for the Education of Young Children offers these suggestions for parents and early childhood teachers to help children adjust:

— Do not expose young children to television or radio broadcasts about the disaster. But don't say, "I don't want you to watch this," which only creates anxiety. Instead, provide alternative activities. If children do see televised images of the disaster, reassure them that it happened far from where they live.

— Convey stability and calm. Children react strongly to the feelings of the adults around them, particularly parents and teachers. Even very young children pick up adults' uncertainty, anxiety, and grief. Since denying our distress only makes children anxious, parents and teacher should acknowledge that they are feeling sad and upset but the tragedy is over. Children have a different perception of a disaster. By turning in to the general distress of trusted adults, they may experience a feeling of not being safe, a fear that their parents might leave them.

— Adults should not talk about the disaster among themselves in the presence of children. Scariest of all is seeing adults huddle together, obviously talking about something (or watching something) that they don't want children to hear or see.

— Take cues from children to understand their particular needs in certain situations. Don't initiate discussions with the children about the event. Many may not be aware of the disaster at all. Watch them at play. Young children are more likely to let us know what they have seen or heard and how they feel it through play and words. If you think that they are trying to deal with the event, ask questions in a low-key manner. Ask what they know, what they have seen or heard, and respond accordingly. For instance, if a child has seen TV images of injured, bloody people, focus on how the doctors can help the people, just as our doctor helps us. The child who has heard about a bomb, perhaps from older siblings, needs to hear that the person who set the bomb is going to be caught and taken to jail. Keep to the child's own concerns.

What children need most is to feel that the situation is under control. When adults are feeling anxiety, grief, and helplessness, they must struggle to keep focused on what can be done to make children feel safe.

Educational programs of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age, or national origin.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: A clever remark is one you don't make at the appropriate moment, but compose immediately after.

LIBRARY NOTES by Suzanne Abbott

It's an Arts and Crafts Celebration! July is Arts and Crafts month at the Library, and we are featuring our many books on art painting, and crafts of all kinds. We have crafts books for children as well as adults. You will be sure to find an art or craft project that you like in the arts and crafts section of the Library.

We wish to thank Grace Piper from Paducah for her donation to the Library in memory of Allie Hart. Mrs. Piper also donated to our horticulture section several copies of the Motley County School yearbook. We appreciate her thoughtfulness.

Thanks go, also, to Glenn Woodruff for his donation of a new book by Mike Blakely, Shortgrass Song. This novel presents a picture of pioneer life on the frontier of Texas. We appreciate Glenn's support of the Library.

What Is A Gospel Preacher?

A Gospel Preacher. "He is a man redeemed by grace through faith, standing in the stead of Christ, by His authority and under His command, proclaiming His gospel, making it plain and strong and urgent, in such a way that respectable men can accept it unto life or reject it unto death." (Walter Scott).

Much has been written and even more said of the preacher and his work. But basically Walter Scott summed up the preacher's work and responsibilities. One of the greatest preachers to ever live had this to say of his work: "And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto the testimony of God. For I determined not to know any thing among you save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified... And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God." (I Corinthians 2: 1, 2, 4-5).

Too often the common understanding of the preacher and his work misses the mark by a wide margin. Tradition and man made wisdom has taken its toll on the Biblical concept of the gospel preacher. Fortunately for us, the Biblical concept is not hard to find in the Scriptures nor is it difficult to convey. The gospel preacher's work in the pulpit as throughout this world is not that of quiet platitudes, but rather to proclaim and herald the message of heaven. That message to flesh-bound souls is: That without the blood of Jesus Christ, we are hopelessly lost in sin. Gospel preachers are those that preach the Cross!

Michael A. Guido
Metter, Georgia

A fellow said to a boy, "You'll never amount to much."
"But," said the boy, "I can do something you can't do."
"What's that?" he asked.
"I can talk without taking the name of the Lord in vain," he answered.

It's senseless to swear. You have a blowout, and you curse. But that doesn't patch the tire. You hurt yourself, and you curse. But that doesn't heal the wound. And it's sinful to swear. The Bible says, "The Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain."
Ask the Lord to give you a grateful heart for a hateful heart, and lips of praise for lips of profanity.

Social Security Tips

by Mary Jane Shanes
Social Security Manager, Plainview

LOOKING FOR A SUMMER JOB?

Are you a student in search of a summer job? Or, will you be graduating in June and looking for your first job? If so, here are several things you should know about Social Security that will make your job hunting a little easier.

First of all, you need a Social Security number -- it's one of the first things your prospective employer will request from you. You should take your Social Security card with you when you apply for work. If you don't have a number, or lost your card, call Social Security's toll free number, 1-800-772-1213, and you can get one within two weeks of completing the application process.

Secondly, while Social Security tax is automatically deducted from your earnings in most jobs, some types of summer jobs require special reporting. These include jobs where you earn tips, jobs where you work around someone's house, and jobs on a farm.

If you work at a job where you make $20 or more per month in cash tips, that income is covered by Social Security. That means you and your employer are required to pay Social Security and Medicare taxes on this income. And reporting tips and other income now will mean more Social Security benefits for you and your family later when you retire, or if you become disabled or die.

When you earn tips, you must keep a daily record of the tips you receive. This includes tips received in cash directly from customers or from other employees in cash directly from customers or from other employees and tips added to a credit card charge. If your tip income totals $20 or more in a month, you are required to report the amount to your employer. Your employer is responsible for reporting the correct tip and wage information to the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service.

If you get a job doing farm work, you will need to earn at least $150 a year for work to be counted for Social Security purposes. Your employer should be taking money out of your wages each time you get paid and sending it to the federal government to cover your payment to Social Security.

If you work as a babysitter or do other work in another person's household (cutting grass, painting, gardening) you also need to earn a certain amount before your wages count for Social Security purposes. How much depends on how old you are. If you are under 18, your wages as a household worker are not covered under Social Security, so no tax would be deducted.

To make sure that you receive credit for all your earnings, you should request a free earnings statement from Social Security at least every three years. When you get your statement, check it to be sure it's right. If you find an error, call the special toll-free number listed on the form to get your record corrected.

To get a statement request form, all you have to do is contact the nearest Social Security office or call toll-free number: 1-800-772-1213. Ask for the Request For Personal Earnings And Benefit Estimate Statement (Form 7004)

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) has filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to offer a new service called Prepaid Calling Card (PCC) Service. A PCC would offer the customer the ability to place local and long distance (intraLATA, interLATA and international) calls from any telephone without the use of coins, credit cards, conventional calling cards, or operator assistance. A PCC would have a pre-established value, paid for in advance, that would decrease in value as calls were completed. This service would be similar to SWBT's current Calling Card Service in that SWBT would carry the local and intraLATA calls originating in its region. InterLATA and international calls would be carried by the Interexchange Carrier selected by the customer. Prepaid Calling Cards would be sold in varying denominations, such as $10.00, $20.00 and $50.00. The rate for local and intraLATA calls would be $0.40 per minute for all times of day. The rates for interLATA and international calls would be determined by the Interexchange Carrier that handles the call. First year revenues from PCC are estimated to be approximately $11 million. SWBT proposes that this application become effective on August 7, 1995.

Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by July 28, 1995. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf. Questions regarding this service may be directed to SWBT at 1-800-836-7928.

KEITHS CELEBRATE IN CALIFORNIA

Charles and Joan celebrated their 60th birthdays with family and friends in California. Their first stop was San Francisco where Joan attended a reunion of 450 AZA and BBG youth who had been active in community service during the 40's, 50's and 60's. They visited her sister Charlotte, who had book at the Gwinn home in Matador, Friday.

Visiting during the weekend in the Vesta Cooper home were Lynn Hanna and Darren Wilkerson of Abilene. Mrs. Vernell Hanna's grandson, Ryan Langer returned home with them to visit.

relocated back to their home town from Plainview, toured North Beach, and then drove to Los Angeles where they stayed with her daughter, Judi Levin. After a whirlwind week of being entertained every noon and night by friends and family, and attending the stage production of "Beauty and the Beast", Judi hosted a joyous celebration in her new condo for family and a few very close friends. Those traveling to the event included Joan's son and his wife, Marc and Arlene Levin of Colorado Springs, her sister and her husband, Marlene and Roy Verdery of Tucson, Charlotte from San Francisco, and niece Lori Larks and Yvonne Clearwater of San Matco. They also visited Viola's college roommate, Ruthe Keller who lives in Long Beach, and her son, Charles, who was visiting from Illinois.

They were surprised to learn from the builders that it will take at least two more years to repair the damage from last year's earthquake. Needless to say, after driving around the state for 10 days, with trucks passing right and left, they were grateful to be able to return to their new and peaceful home in Matador last Monday.

Frances Sherrord of Lubbock visited her brother, Grant Carlson, from Monday until Friday of last week. She also visited Elga and Rodger Evans.

Two old timers came to Matador Sunday, Mrs. A.S. Edmondson as guest of Mrs. Nelson McMahan and Mrs. Lamar Guthrie guest of Mrs. Frank Pohl where they attended the Methodist Church. After church the ladies were taken to Roaring Springs for the noon meal. The afternoon was spent visiting her sister, the L.H. Diricksens. Mrs. Edmondson resides in Altus, OK and Mrs. Guthrie in Hollis, OK.
